1987 DWI REARREST DATA

This annual report examines the nature and volume of rearrests occurring among active DWI probation cases in New York State in 1987. The arrest information in this report is obtained through the Probation Registrant System (PRS). As new arrests for fingerprintable offenses are reported to the New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services by arresting agencies, the PRS file is searched to determine if the arrestee is currently on probation. If the arrestee is on probation, a "hit" notice is sent to the local probation department and a record of the rearrest is maintained in the PRS system.

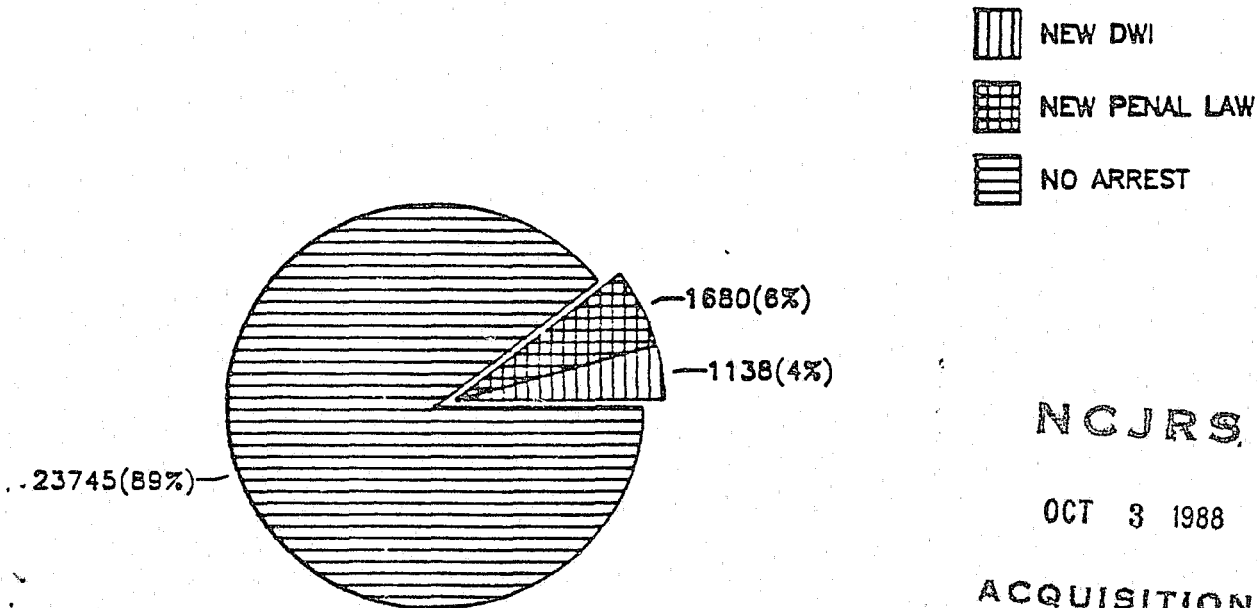

1987: Total DWI Caseload

The Driving While Intoxicated caseload for Probation in 1987 was 26,563 cases. This is a combined total of 18,536 active cases at the beginning of the year (January, 1987) and 8,027 cases sentenced to probation for DWI during the entire year.

1987: Total Rearrests on DWI Probation Cases

In 1987 there were 2,818 new arrests reported on active DWI cases (11%). These arrests for new, fingerprintable offenses involved 1,138 new DWI charges (4%) and 1,680 charges for a wide variety of other Penal Law and Vehicle and Traffic Law offenses (6%).

For each rearrest, if more than one charge is made, only the more serious charge is listed on PRS. The same individual may be involved in more than one instance of rearrest, as well. The statistics reported here are not convictions. All of the 2,818 hit notices are based on arrest charges.

A total of 2,283 individuals were arrested for these 2,818 new offenses (1,075 individuals were involved in 1,138 new DWI offenses and 1,367 individual DWI offenders were involved in 1,681 criminal arrests). 124 DWI's on probation were involved in both new DWI and new criminal behavior.

It is also interesting to note that separate PRS reports on all probationers in the State reveal an equivalent number of new DWI offenses by Non-DWI probationers during 1987 (N:1099). This suggests the need for attention to the alcohol abuse issue among non-DWI offenders.

Annual DWI Probation Rearrest Rates

DWI probation rearrest rates have been examined for the past six years. The total annual caseload of DWI probation cases increased by 151% in five years (from 10,588 in 1982 to 26,563 in 1987). The twelve-month rearrest rate, however, has remained consistent at 10-11% for the past five years, after declining from 12% in 1982 to 11% in 1983, and then to 10% in 1984.

Rearrests for continued DWI charges in 1985 and 1986 represented 4% of all DWI cases supervised. In 1987 charges of continued DWI activity were lodged in 1,138 instances, again representing 4% of all DWI cases under supervision.

Among those rearrested, it is noted that the percentage involved in continued DWI activity has declined over the six year period.
