PARKER EVATT. Commissioner

August 30, 1989

The Honorable Carroll A. Campbell Governor of South Carolina State House Post Office Box 11369 Columbia, South Carolina 29211

Dear Governor Campbell:

I am pleased to submit the Annual Report of the Board of Corrections and the Commissioner of the South Carolina Department of Corrections for the period July 1, 1988, to June 30, 1989.

As I begin my third year as Commissioner, it is a privilege to report to you that the level of professionalism at the Department of Corrections is outstanding, and the morale among the workforce is high. This Annual Report reflects the dedicated and conscientious effort made on behalf of the people of South Carolina by the 5,500 employees of the Department of Corrections during the past fiscal year. The Department, within the resources provided, successfully met the challenge to accommodate an ever increasing prison population and comply with statutory and judicial standards for a modern prison system. I am confident that, in the year ahead, both the employees and the leadership of the Department will be equal to these continuing tasks and the new challenges which face us.

The Annual Report contains information on the Department's statutory authority, history, correctional institutions, personnel, programs, and the inmate population (including extensive statistical data.) We hope the Report will be informative and useful to you, to Members of the General Assembly, and to others who require information about South Carolina's prison operations.

Very truly yours

Parker Evatt

South Carolina State Board of Corrections

In 1960, the General Assembly established a State Board of Corrections (to replace the Board of Directors of the Penitentiary) and charged them with governing the Department of Corrections. The Board is composed of seven members, six of whom are appointed by the Governor, one from each of the congressional districts of the State, upon the advice and consent of the Senate. The Governor is ex officio a member of the Board. Appointments by the Governor are for a term of six years, and the terms are staggered to promote continuity. (Reference: 24-1-40, Code of Laws of South Carolina, 1976.)

On June 30, 1989, the following distinguished citizens were serving on the Board of Corrections, with a total of 90 years of experience and service to the people of South Carolina in this capacity.

Congressional District	Name	Residence	Date of Initial Appointment
First	Betty M. Condon, Chairman	Mt. Pleasant	1972
Second	Norman Kirkland	Bamberg	1962
Third	Goetz B. Eaton, Secretary	Anderson	1981
Fourth	Charles C. Moore	Spartanburg	1968
Fifth	C. Lock McKinnon	Lancaster	1987
Sixth	Eugene N. Zeigler, Vice-Chairman	Florence	1974
Ex officio	Governor Carroll A. Campbell

The Board holds a regular meeting on the second Tuesday in each month, and special meetings may be called as necessary. The public and news media are entitled to attend regular meetings of the Board.

Pursuant to law, the Board employs a general Commissioner of the prison system who carries out the policy of the Board and has the authority to manage the affairs of the prison system.

The Commissioner

Parker Evatt was appointed Commissioner of the South Carolina Department of Corrections, effective September 1, 1987. Mr. Evatt is very familiar with the corrections field. He served from 1966 to 1987 as Executive Director of the Alston Wilkes Society, an organization dedicated to helping former prison inmates and their families establish new lives. During his 13 years as a member of the South Carolina House of Representatives, Mr. Evatt worked tirelessly for the betterment of the State's corrections system through provision of sufficient funding and appropriate legislation to deal with overcrowding, alternatives to prison sentences, and enabling legislation for various prison programs and services. In addition to a bachelor's degree from the University of South Carolina, Mr. Evatt earned his master's in Criminal Justice from USC's College of Criminal Justice.

Mission Statement

It is the mission of the South Carolina Department of Corrections to:

Protect the public by maintaining those persons remanded to its custody, in the least restrictive, most cost-effective environment consistent with public safety.

Provide humane supervision and conditions of confinement in accordance with the South Carolina Department of Corrections' constitutional and statutory mandates and with the American Correctional Association's Standards.

Provide programs and services which are intended to enhance the community reintegration, the emotional stability, and the economic self-sufficiency of those persons placed under the jurisdiction of the South Carolina Department of Corrections.

Promote efficiency and cost-effectiveness in correctional operations and administer all aspects of the Department in a fair and equitable manner, while providing for the safety and general welfare of employees and inmates.

Comply with legislative, judicial, and executive directives at all times, and ensure that the constitutional rights of those under custody or control of the South Carolina Department of Corrections are maintained.

Develop goals, objectives, and plans that implement the mission of the South Carolina Department of Corrections and review them annually.

Historical Perspective

Reaching the Modern Era

The modern era of corrections in South Carolina began in 1960 when the General Assembly established the Department of Corrections "to implement and carry out the policy of the State with respect to its prison system." The State Board of Corrections was established and empowered to employ a Commissioner of the prison system, "who shall possess qualifications and training which suit him to manage the affairs of a modern penal institution." That anticipated model penal system has come a long way in the last three decades. Changes since 1960 have far surpassed the corrections evolution experienced in the preceding 100 years.

The General Assembly, in 1866, recognized the unsuitable conditions prevailing under county supervision of convicts. Control of convicted and sentenced felons was transferred to the State and the State Penitentiary was established. For almost 100 years, the State continued to experiment - as other states were doing - with various corrections programs. Work, for example, was considered to be of a beneficial nature. It could help defray the cost of prison operations, keep inmates busy and out of trouble, and perhaps even teach them a trade which would stand them in good stead when their sentences were finished. Education was also looked upon favorably at times and programs were begun (and later terminated) to educate prisoners. Religious instruction was also authorized. Separate facilities for young boys, young girls, women, and physically and mentally ill inmates came into being.

As the decades rolled on, the forty-six counties throughout the State faced a need for labor for building and maintaining roads. The General Assembly frequently passed laws to accommodate the counties, and county supervisors had full authority to choose either to retain convicts for road construction or to transfer them to the State. By 1930, the local prison system, or what is more commonly known as the "chain gang," was in full swing, coexisting with the State system which was represented by the State Penitentiary. As in most other aspects of South Carolina life, county prison conditions depended heavily on the wealth of the county, and the skills and knowledge of county officials. Inevitably, unequal conditions resulted, and there was no uniformity in keeping abreast of changing correctional philosophy. Even with the establishment of the Department of Corrections in 1960, the dual-system of State and county prisons continued. Such critical problems as adequate planning and programming, efficient resource utilization and equitable distribution of rehabilitative services were not comprehensively addressed.

An Adult Corrections Study, completed in May, 1973, by the Office of Criminal Justice Programs in the Governor's Office, gave major impetus to coming to grips with South Carolina's corrections problems. The first major step was the closure of county prison operations. Legislation in 1974 gave the State jurisdiction over all adult offenders with sentences exceeding 90 days, and counties were required to transfer any such prisoners in their facilities to the State for custody. Along with the prisoners, some county prison facilities were transferred to the State; however, many of these proved unsatisfactory for long-term use. Assumption of the custody responsibility for county prisoners and the closing of many local prison systems worsened the over-crowded conditions in State facilities. The Department of Corrections began to plan for the regionalization of SCDC operations. In 1974, two Regional Correctional Administrators were appointed and plans proposed for a number of regional, community-based facilities. The 1977 Comprehensive Growth and Capital Improvements Plan laid the groundwork for the reality which exists in the late 1980s: three correctional regions, each with a number of community-based prisons and work centers assigned to them for administrative and operational oversight. (These are described in other parts of the Annual Report.)

Population Crisis

The movement to regionalization was a difficult one for many reasons, not the least of which was the unprecedented increase in crime in South Carolina, as elsewhere in the nation. Fiscal year 1975 was a key year; when it ended there was a fifty-three percent (53%) increase in the number of prisoners held in State institutions (5,658, up from 3,693 at the end of June, 1974). The increased crime rate, the transfer of county-held inmates to the State, and the legislative mandate for all long-term (over 90 days) prisoners to be under SCDC jurisdiction, literally pushed the State system to the breaking point. Although the population in State institutions has grown every year since 1975, the growth has been somewhat less dramatic until recently. On June 30, 1989, the in-custody population reached an all-time high of 13,818.

Prison overcrowding, or insufficient bedspaces to accommodate the incarcerated population has been a long-standing problem for the Department of Corrections, and, in effect, for the State of South Carolina. The problem existed even when the county-State dual prison system was in vogue. (The overcrowding problem is not unique to the Palmetto State, as the federal prison system and other states are experiencing a similar escalation in the growth of prisoners.)

Recent Developments

Several early release programs were developed in the late '70s and early '80s in an effort to reduce the prison overcrowding problem. An Extended Work Release Program authorized by the legislature in 1977 allows qualified offenders to live and work in the community under intensive supervision during the final phase of their sentences. A year later the Litter Control Act established an Earned Work Credit Program as a means of reducing the amount of time that had to be served by inmates engaged in productive work while in prison. In 1980, two "good-time" measures were consolidated and additional time off a sentence was allowed for inmates with clear disciplinary records while in prison.

In 1981, legislation creating an independent correctional school district for SCDC inmates was signed into law. The long-range goals were increased state funding on a per pupil basis (realized in fiscal year 1985), and enhancement of the quality and scope of educational services to inmates through improved standards and accreditation.

The year 1982 saw implementation of the Community Corrections Act which established the Supervised Furlough Program (permits carefully screened inmates to live and work in local communities under supervision), and reduced the time to be served before parole eligibility for non-violent offenders from one-third of the sentence to one-fourth. A year later, the Prison Overcrowding Powers Act authorized the Governor to declare a state of emergency when certain conditions of overcrowding existed and to order the sentences of qualified offenders reduced to effect the immediate release of some prisoners. Subsequent amendments to this Act, principally in the Omnibus Criminal Justice Improvement Act of 1986, changed the procedure to allow the release of a set number of prisoners, rather than advance the release date of all eligible prisoners.

The 1980s also brought increased public concern for the rights of victims of crime. In the mideighties, the General Assembly responded by passing laws which levied harsher penalties (particularly for repeat offenders of those who committed violent crimes), limiting parole eligibility for repeat and violent offenders, increasing the minimum sentence for certain crimes. Offenders convicted of burglary and murder were particularly singled out.

The Omnibus Criminal Justice Improvement Act revised several early release provisions. Eligibility for parole, supervised furlough and earned work credit programs were made more restrictive. An "enhancement" measure was added to the Code of Laws whereby anyone convicted of a violent crime who was in possession of a firearm or knife has an additional five years added to his sentence. This "flat-time" must be served without reduction of any sort.

The Act offered a way to reduce long-term incarceration prospects for some offenders. A ninety-day shock probation program was instituted for first-time youthful offenders, as were restitution centers. These programs came on-line during fiscal year 1987-88, under the jurisdiction of the Department of Probation, Parole, and Pardon Services but under the management and supervision of SCDC.

As can be seen from the foregoing, the modern era has been a mixture of: prison overcrowding, early release programs and mechanisms, increased crime rates in certain offenses, a tougher attitude toward criminals from the public and the legislature, and increased admissions and longer times served for some offenses. The net effect has been an exacerbation of the prison overcrowding problem, despite major steps to alleviate it.

The Department has opened seven new prisons since 1980, and has one near completion and scheduled to open in fiscal year 1989-90. Even with this new construction, South Carolina has come under increased pressure to do even more. The total design capacity at the end of fiscal year 1980 was 4,606; at the end of fiscal year 1989, the "safe and reasonable capacity" was 13,689. As fiscal year 1989 closed, the inmate population in SCDC facilities was approximately 101 percent of capacity.

Two suits filed in the federal courts in the last twelve years have centered on the overcrowding problem, which impacts on health care and inmate safety. Consent Decrees were signed in two significant suits, Mattison v. S.C. Board of Corrections, (filed in 1976, decree signed in 1978), and Nelson v. Leeke, (filed in 1982, decree signed in 1985). As a result of both decrees, the S.C. Department of Corrections, with support from the Governor's Office, the General Assembly, the State Budget and Control Board, and the State Attorney General's office, has made a concerted effort to comply with the terms of the agreements to eliminate overcrowding and made other improvements as agreed upon (e.g. employ more correctional officers, increase training for all employees, upgrade old facilities, develop and implement a modern classification system, establish procedures to hear and adjudicate inmate complaints).

At the end of fiscal year 1988, the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals ruled that the Department could house two prisoners in each general population cell at five new medium/maximum security prisons. For budgetary and security reasons, the Department was not able to fully double-cell any new medium security facility immediately, but by the end of fiscal year 1989, three of the five new institutions had been fully double-celled. Plans were made for a fourth institution to become fully double-celled by August, 1989.

The court's ruling negated the need to grant early releases to 700 non-violent offenders, and to alleviate the pressure to immediately build two new prisons - which would have been necessary to avoid non-compliance with single-celling provisions of the Nelson agreement. The ruling represented a total additional capacity of 2,056 inmates.

Department Organization

The South Carolina Department of Corrections is governed by the State Board of Corrections, a seven-member board, six of whom are appointed by the Governor, one from each of the six Congressional Districts of the State, upon the advice and consent of the Senate. The Governor is ex officio a member of the Board. The Board is responsible for setting overall policy.

The Department is headed by a commissioner, appointed by the Board of Corrections, who administers Board policy and manages the day-to-day affairs of a modern penal system.

The Department is organized into three primary functional offices, or areas of responsibility: administration, operations, and program services, each of which is headed by a Deputy Commissioner. Other specific staff functions are attached to the Commissioner's Office, as described below.

Office Of The Commissioner ·

Within the office of the Commissioner are the following specialized administrative staff support divisions/offices:

Division of Public Affairs

Responsible for all public information and public relations; it includes the crime prevention programs and the victim-witness liaison.

Executive Assistant for Legislative Affairs

Conducts liaison with governmental offices, the legislature, correctional institutions, and others as required. Keeps the Commissioner informed of significant and related legislation, programs and procedures.

Legal Advisor's Office

Provides legal advice to the Board, the Commissioner, and the Department, and it represents the Department in legal actions. The Office of Legal Settlements and Compliance is responsible for monitoring compliance with the terms of any court orders or consent decrees, in particular, the Nelson v. Leeke consent decree, under which the Department is currently operating.

Division of Management Services

Administers efforts to accredit individual prisons by the Commission on Accreditation and directs the policy-change process for the Department. Also directs SCDC's extensive Volunteer Program.

Division of Internal Affairs, Audits, and Inspections

Responsible for conducting annual inspections of all local detention facilities. In addition, the Division conducts internal investigations and audits, and investigates inmates' complaints.

Office Of The Deputy Commissioner For Administration

The Deputy Commissioner for Administration directs the budgeting, planning, industries, purchasing, food services, personnel, financial accounting, offender records management, computer operations, and training programs throughout the Department. These functions are carried out through six divisions:

Division of Budget and Planning

Prepares all budget requests for submission to the Budget and Control Board and Legislature, reconciles expenditures with appropriations, and prepares all capital improvement plans and requests for bond approval. The division also conducts monitoring, allocation and internal control of budgets.

Division of Industries

Manages prison industries, transportation and telephone communications. Its products and services include the state motor vehicle license tags, furniture refinishing and repair, vehicle repari, laundry, and milk and meat.

Division of Support Services

Directs purchasing, food services, and the operation of the commissary, canteens, and farms.

Division of Personnel Administration

Performs all the activities associated with recruiting and hiring new employees, maintaining personnel records, authorizing payrolls, and placing student interns.

Division of Resource and Information Management

Manages financial accounting; offender records; offender management information; statistical reporting and analysis; fiscal and personnel systems; and telecommunications.

Division of Training and Staff Development

Provides pre-employment and in-service training for all security and non-security employees.

Office Of The Deputy Commissioner For Operations

The Office of the Deputy Commissioner For Operations directs the management of all prison operations, security, construction, engineering, and facility and equipment maintenance throughout the prison system. Within the Office of the Deputy Commissioner for Operations are the three regional offices for prison operations (Appalachian, Midlands, and Coastal) and the following divisions and offices:

Division of Construction, Engineering and Maintenance

Manages certain phases of new construction, and acts as liaison with architects, engineers and contractors working on construction projects. Other activities include management and operation of the physical plants, i.e. institutions, other buildings and facilities. This Division has the primary responsibility for implementation of the capital improvements plan.

Division of Inmate Operations and Control

Oversees certain activities related to the movement, status, and number of inmates in SCDC facilities and in designated facilities and administers the Interstate Corrections Compact. This Division also contracts with counties for inmate work crews.

Office of Security

The Director of Security is responsible for the Department's readiness to respond to emergency situations such as riots or hostage-taking. This office ensures that the special response teams, e.g., Reserve Emergency Platoons, Situation Control Teams, and Corrections Emergency Response Teams, are properly trained. This office also conducts regular security audits of high security institutions.

Institutional Operations: Regional Offices

The state is divided into three geographical regions to facilitate management and operations. Each of the regions is headed by a regional administrator (the Midlands Region has two administrators) who directs prison operations within his region. The regions are: Appalachian, Midlands, and Coastal. Figure 2, page 16, outlines the counties which comprise each region.

Office Of The Deputy Commissioner For Program Services

The Office of the Deputy Commissioner for Program Services directs the classification, health, mental health, education, and community employment programs for inmates. Delivering a broad spectrum of program services under the supervision of this office during this fiscal year were the following divisions:

Division of Classification

Directs the classification of inmates for security and custody purposes. This Division is also responsible for all institutional services for inmates sentenced under the Youthful Offender Act.

Division of Human Services

Administers and provides a variety of programs and services directed at improving offenders' mental health, and emotional well being. The programs include: psychological assessment; social work services; substance abuse therapy; religious services and pastoral counseling; and athletic and other recreational activities.

Division of Health Services

Renders medical, dental and psychiatric care to the inmate population. Through this Division, the S.C. Department of Corrections operates 24-hour out-patient clinics at the large institutions, several infirmaries, and utilizes a floor at the Byrnes Clinical Center, Department of Mental Health, for general hospital care. The Department operates seven dental clinics. It has several Transitional Care Units for intermediate psychiatric care and the Gilliam Psychiatric Hospital for acute psychiatric care. The Department provides most of the health care services with in-house staff; however, it contracts for health care services at seven institutions.

Division of Educational Services

This Division is also known as "Palmetto Unified School District #1" and administers and provides academic, vocational, special and career education and library services to the inmate population at 16 institutions, with satellites at pre-release and work centers. The School District offers a variety of vocational programs, including auto mechanics, carpentry, plumbing, and heavy equipment operation and repair, and academic programs, including GED preparation.

Division of Community Services

This Division oversees the custody and supervision of certain offenders in community programs, namely, Work Release and Extended Work Release, monitors parole's supervision of offenders in Supervised Furlough and other early release programs, and provides SCDC's law enforcement liaison.

Institutions

The South Carolina Department of Corrections operated thirty correctional institutions as of June 30, 1989. These range in size from the largest (and oldest) Central Correctional Institution with an operating capacity of 1,364, to the smallest, Lower Savannah Work Center, with an operating capacity of 81. One institution, Allendale Correctional Institution, near Columbia, became operational in May, 1989.

The thirty institutions are spread over three Correctional Regions and include: twenty-seven prisons for male offenders, one for female offenders, one medical unit for male and female inmates*, and one (State Park Correctional Center) that has two units - one for male geriatric and handicapped prisoners and one for females on work release.

Eleven of the institutions are classified as minimum security, two as minimum/medium, eight as medium/maximum, and eight pre-release/work centers are also classified as minimum security. The medical unit houses inmates requiring minimum, medium and maximum security.

Each of the three Correctional Regions has a facility for intake processing, known as a Reception and Evaluation Center. These are adjacent to medium/maximum security institutions, i.e., Lieber, Perry, and Broad River Correctional Institutions.

Effective January 1, 1988, the institutional capacities for minimum and medium/maximum security institutions changed as agreed upon in the Plyler v. Evatt (originally Nelson v. Leeke) Consent Decree, which the Department and the State of South Carolina entered into in 1985. As of June 30, 1989, the Department's "safe and reasonable" operating capacity was set at 12,585. This capacity is subject to change as requirements of the Decree are met.

*(Located at the S.C. Department of Mental Health's James F. Byrnes Medical Center, Columbia, S.C.)

This capacity figure was "certified" by the Budget and Control Board at the beginning of the quarter (April 1, 1989); however, additional bedspaces were added during the quarter and by June 30, 1989, the Safe and Reasonable Capacity was actually 13,689. (This figure was certified by the B & C Board on July 1, 1989.)

Outstanding Employees

Annually the Department recognizes its most outstanding Correctional Officer of the Year and Employee of the Year. These programs are designed to promote efficiency and to show that the Department appreciates those who have demonstrated exceptional performance.

Nominations for Correctional Officer of the Year are limited to Correctional Officers I or II, while the Employee of the Year selection may be made from any employee except Correctional Officers I and II, Deputy Commissioners and the Commissioner. In both programs, outstanding job accomplishments, self-development and interpersonal relationships with fellow employees, inmates, and others are considered.

Rose M. Austin, Officer First Class at Lieber Correctional Institution, was chosen the Department's Correctional Officer of the Year for 1988-89. Officer Austin has been with the Department since May, 1984, and is a graduate of Alston High School in Summerville, S.C.

Other winners of this award in previous years include:

1988 Carmelita A. Streater	1978 Joseph P. Davis
1987 Joseph M. Cavanaugh	1977 Samuel Latta, III
1986 William F. Gault	1976 Godwin Quattlebaum
1985 Frank Taylor	1975 Benjamin Sweet
1984 Valerie W. Whitaker	1974 Eugene R. Grant

1983	Jack Belcher	1973 E	mma Strickland

1982	Gloria Woodruff	1972 Boyd R. Mullins

1979 George Coleman

The Employee of the Year for 1988-89 was Rickie Harrison, Warden, Manning Correctional Institution. Warden Harrison has been with the Department since 1978. He began his career as an Accounting Clerk II at Headquarters. Warden Harrison received a B.S. degree in Accounting from Benedict College. Earlier winners of this award include:

1988 Robert L. Foulks	 1985 Kyuzo Miyaishi (Frankie San)

1986 Kenneth D. McKellar

Significant Developments Fiscal Year 1988-89

During the fiscal year there was continued growth among volunteers with approximately 2,600 participants. All institutions have established a Volunteer Program and designated a staff person to serve as the institutional Volunteer Coordinator. The Coordinator at MacDougall Youth Correction Center received the 1988 Robin Burns Award, the highest state award for volunteerism. On June 8, 1989, Reverend William T. Plemmons was recognized by SCDC as the 1989 Volunteer of the Year for his extraordinary work with the inmate population at Northside Correctional Center, Spartanburg, South Carolina.

Housing, Care, Security, and Supervision

Cross Anchor Correctional Institution was nationally reaccredited with a compliance score of 99.8.

Livesay Work Center was successfully reaudited and Palmer Work Center and Lieber Correctional Institution were successfully audited by consultants for the American Correctional Association. Pending a successful accreditation hearing, Lieber becomes the first medium/maximum security institution to be accredited, as well as the first facility with a Reception and Evaluation Center.

Manning Correctional Institution's mandated population reduction to 450 inmates was completed on October 18, 1988, and its conversion to a minimum security facility was initiated in March, 1988, and completed June 30, 1989.

Trinity Bible Fellowship, the Outstanding Volunteer of the Year for Manning, was selected as the Department's Outstanding Volunteer Group of the Year.

Palmer Work Center continued to lead the Agency in Buck-A-Cup sales for the past four (4) years with a total contribution of $12,733.00 for 1989.

Personnel

The Department accepted a total of 17,111 applications and processed 1,715 new hires. There were approximately 364 vacancies at year end primarily in the Correctional Officer series.

The General Assembly funded salary increases for all classified positions in the amount of 2% effective July 1, 1989, and an additional 2% effective January 1, 1990, plus a one time bonus in December, 1989, of $143 for employees earning more than $20,000 and $286 for under $20,000. A 5% increase in the base salary for teachers was also implemented raising the current rate from $21,606 to $22,686.

Department of Corrections employees once again increased their generous spirit of giving to the United Way Compaign and Good Health Appeal Campaign by 58% over last year. During this fiscal year, contributions to United Way rose to $55,250 ($31,836 last year) and Good Health Appeal rose to $22,696 ($17,433 last year).

The Department reached an all-time high figure at the end of June, 1989, employing 5,466 across the state. Additional funding for authorized positions for the year reached 5,829. Fiscal Year 1989-90 saw 400 new position s authorized by the General Assembly in June, 1989, for a total of 6,229.

Due to efficient operation, the Agency received approval from the Budget and Control Board for an increase in delegated authority on the ability of the Agency to hire new employees up to the minimum of the pay grade with Agency approval only. The Agency may now internally reclassify nearly 30 positions which make up approximately 75% of the employee headcount.

The Department of Corrections was recognized by the South Carolina Human Affairs Commission by being ranked third of all state agencies (from fourth last year) in meeting Affirmative Action goals and objectives. This was an honor considering the size of the Agency and the magnitude of our hiring.

Prison Capacity Increases and Other Capital Improvements

McCormick Correctional Institution was formally dedicated on September 13, 1988, and Allendale Correctional Institution opened on May 9, 1989.

On November 30, 1988, the Budget and Control Board approved the release of twenty-four million dollars to begin construction of the Central Correctional Institution's replacement facility in Lee County. One hundred and ninety (190) acres of land were purchased in Lee County for the construction of the new facility.

The South Carolina Capital Punishment Facility was moved from the Central Correctional Institution to Broad River Correctional Institution on December 7, 1988.

The Tag Plant was moved from the Central Correctional Institution to the Broad River Correctional Institution during the week of August 15, 1988.

At the Greenwood Correctional Center, construction began in February, 1989, on a new 96-bed Work Camp which will house female residents.

The Women's Correctional Center was forced to utilize all available areas to house inmates due to the high number of inmates being received into the institution. On February 9, 1989, inmates were housed in the Dayroom Extension (television rooms) and on June 21, 1989, inmates were housed in the gymnasium.

New Initiatives

In October, 1988, SCDC signed a contract with the South Carolina Department of Probation, Parole, and Pardon Services to build and operate three Restitution Centers statewide. SCDC assumed operation of the already existing Midlands Restitution Center in Columbia on November 1, 1988. Each sixty (60) bed facility houses individuals on probation owing restitution, fines, child support, etc.

The Division of Community Services assumed responsibility for the Early Release Program on July 1, 1988, which has allowed inmates earlier release under EPA I, EPA II, and SF II. Also, on July 1, 1988, the Division assumed responsibility for monitoring the Alston Wilkes contract between SCDC and the Alston Wilkes Society. Contracted beds increased from 24 to 30 and are projected to increase to 40 beds per day in fiscal year 1989-90. Law enforcement liasion activities now operate from this Division.

Programs for Inmates

The Earned Work Credit Program assisted 73% of the 8,480 inmates released during Fiscal Year 1989 to shorten their time served through productive work. This program, and the related statistics for this fiscal year, are more fully explained and reported on in Appendix E.

Several community programs continued throughout the fiscal year. 2,325 inmates were assigned to the pre-release program, 2,008 inmates were assigned to community work release, and 345 inmates were assigned to the Extended Work Release Program. Another 883 inmates participated in the 72-Hour Furlough Program. (These programs are elaborated on in Table 26 and Appendix F.)

Inmates assigned to Work and Extended Work Release programs were paid $8,341,948 in gross wages. $1,587,789 was paid back to the Department for room and board; $950,412 was paid to dependents; $1,347,224 was paid in federal and state taxes and FICA; and $1,882,289 was disbursed to the employed inmates.

As mandated by state statute, inmates on work release contributed during the fiscal year $353,453 to the Victims' Assistance Fund administered through the Governor's Office.

The Industries Division employed an average of 1000 inmates and achieved $10 million in sales.

The Industries Division signed a contract with the private sector to assemble color televisions for a Korean Company at the Allendale Correctional Institution.

At Goodman Correctional Institution, a new chapel was built with inmate labor and private donations.

At the Greenwood Correctional Center, outside contracts for labor with the Highway Department, Emerald Center (Retardation Workshop), National Guard Armory, Lander College, Piedmont Technical College, Greenwood Civic Center, and the Town of Ninety Six, S.C., were continued. These develop good relationships in the local communities, as well as provide work for inmates and payments to the State of South Carolina.

Information Activities

The Operation Get Smart, Save the Children/Adult Enlightment and Speakers' Bureau programs enhanced considerably the public perception of the Department and the vital role it fulfills for the citizens of South Carolina. OGS teams visited 45 of 46 counties and travelled 57,595 miles to 462 engagements giving 1,182 presentations to 154,562 youths and 15,158 adults for an annual audience of 169,720. Fifty-five STC/AE sessions were held at the Women's Correctional Center and Central Correctional Institution serving 1,026 participants. SCDC speakers fulfilled 126 documented engagements and addressed audiences totalling approximately 6,710 people.

Employee Cost-Reduction Efforts

Annually the Department recognizes institutions or other organizational units for their outstanding leadership and good management practices in seven distinct areas of operation: cafeteria, canteen, commissary, purchasing, vehicle management, information and records management, and personnel. "Pacesetter Awards" were presented to:

For Excellence in Cafeteria Management: Palmer Work Center, Northside Correctional Center, MacDougall Youth Correctional Center, and Manning Correctional Institution.

For Excellence in Canteen Operations: Givens Youth Correctional Center, Cross Anchor Correctional Institution, and Lieber Correctional Institution.

For Excellence in Commissary Operations: Northside Correctional Center, Dutchman Correctional Institution, and Lieber Correctional Institution.

For Excellence in Purchasing Practices and Procedures: Greenwood Correctional Center, Aiken Youth Correctional Center, and Manning Correctional Institution.

For Excellence in Vehicle Management: Campbell Work Center, Cross Anchor Correctional Institution, and Lieber Correctional Institution.

For Excellence in Information and Records Management: Lieber Reception and Evaluation, Coastal Work Center, State Park Correctional Center, Walden Correctional Institution, and Lieber Correctional Institution.

For Excellence in Personnel Management: McCormick Correctional Institution, Women's Correctional Institution, and Campbell Work Center.

The S.C. State Employee Wellness Program encourages positive health habits and helps reduce health care costs. The program was extended from the Columbia, S.C., area to each institution throughout the state, and plans were made to incorporate employees' interests and needs into wellness promoting activities.

An Employee Suggestion Program was started this year and was so successful the Department received top awards in the state for dollars saved. For calendar year 1988, 112 employees received a total of $5,600 dollars in cash awards for suggestions implemented that saved the Department $333,938.

Plyler v. Evatt Highlights

(Originally Nelson v. Leeke)

In 1982, Gary Wayne Nelson, an inmate at CCI, filed a class action suit against the Department of Corrections. The suit stated that the SCDC, systemwide, was violating the 8th Amendment of the U.S. Constitution prohibiting cruel and unusual punishment. The lawsuit was filed on behalf of all inmates in the system at that time and any inmates entering the system thereafter.

The Department negotiated with Plaintiffs' Counsel for two years before coming to an agreement on January 8, 1985. The General Assembly found the Agreement to be "in the best interest of the State" and authorized the Department to enter into the proposed Consent Agreement. Further, the General Assembly agreed to provide "substantial additional funding ... for other remedies" to meet the terms of the settlement.

The Consent Decree stipulates that the Department will end overcrowding at medium security institutions by January 8, 1988, and at all other institutions by January 8, 1990. The bedspace capacities for existing institutions were established pursuant to agreed upon minimum square footage requirements for inmate housing. Due to the increased admissions to the Department in 1986 and 1987, however, the Department filed a "Motion for Modification of the Consent Decree" in order to allow for double-celling at new institutions not meeting the specified square footage requirements of the Decree. This motion was filed specifically to provide the Department with additional bedspace by which to attain compliance with Nelson capacities at existing medium security institutions. In April, 1988, a ruling was received from the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals stating that the Department be allowed to fully double-occupy general population cells at these institutions. The Department's capacity was thus increased by 2,044 beds, although most would not be filled immediately. The ruling raised the authorized capacity of Lieber and McCormick institutions by 504 beds each, Broad River by 444 beds, and Allendale and Evans institutions by 296 beds each.

Since the consent Decree was signed, the General Assembly has authorized funds for the construction of five (5) new prisons; funds for a unit at the Women's Correctional Center; and funds for five (5) 96-bed minimum security additions. Additionally, the General Assembly authorized funding to the Department during FY 88-89 for the following projects: 960 work camp beds; 50 male maximum security beds; 288 male minimum security beds; 288 male work release beds; and a 384-bed female institution. The additional bedspaces are necessary to accommodate the projected population growth to maintain compliance with the Consent Decree.

Although the primary focus is the elimination of overcrowding and inadequate staffing, the Consent Decree addresses many other issues affecting the operation of the institutions. The major issues include classification, staff training, health care services, fire and life safety, ar 'physical plant requirements.

Quarterly reports on the Department's compliance are submitted to the Plantiffs' Counsel, Court, the S.C. Budget and Control Board and to each institution. Should the Department be "out of compliance" with one or more of the issues contained in the Decree, Plantiff's Counsel may request relief from the Federal District Court. Recently, Plaintiff's counsel filed a "Petition for Supplemental Relief" relative to overcrowding in female institutions operated by the Department. A hearing on this matter was scheduled on May 8, 1989, and a final decision relative to what relief will be granted is not anticipated until September, 1989.

Classification System Progress

Effective July 1, 1988, the Division of Classification was established. Functions of the former Classification and Youthful Offender Branches were merged and four branches were created within the Division: the Assessment and Internal Classification Branch, the Monitoring and Evaluation Branch, the Case Management Branch, and the Youthful Offender Branch.

All institutional services for inmates sentenced under the Youthful Offender Act were retained by SCDC under the Division of Classification. The Division's responsibilities under the functions of the Youthful Offender Review Board are: determination of parole eligibility dates related to disciplinary actions, school suspensions, and other adjustment problems; and time to serve following revocation of parole. Supervision of casework services for Youthful Offenders in the institutions is under the supervision of the Youthful Offender Branch.

At the time of the reorganization, SCDC contracted with the Department of Probation, Parole, and Pardon Services (SCDPPPS) to conduct presentence evaluations and provide parole supervision for inmates sentenced under the Youthful Offender Act. The Division of Classification coordinated this transition throughout the fiscal year, and established joint procedures for operation.

The U.S. Department of Justice through the National Institute of Corrections awarded a $25,000 grant to the Division of Classification to develop a behavioral classification system for female offenders. The research was conducted throughout FY 1988-89 with the assistance of consultants, Drs. Herbert C. Quay and Craig T. Love.

Due to the significant increase in admissions of female offenders, the Division of Classification provided additional staff support to the Women's Correctional Center. As a result of the research and the growth in population, the Division is currently working toward the establishment of a Reception and Evaluation Unit at the Women's Correctional Center and the development of statewide assignment procedures for female offenders.

SCDC concluded its first full year under validated Phase II classification procedures. Those procedures were automated by the Division of Resource and Information Management to enhance consistency and reliability of classification actions statewide. The Division coordinated implementation, provided training and assistance to institutions and administrators, and monitored the classification actions. Several aspects of the classification review process were automated to reduce time required for gathering necessary information for completing classification actions to allow more time for caseworker-inmate interaction.

Classification policies were revised and published, the Classification Procedures and Training Manual was updated, a classification services brochure was developed, and initial and reclassification instructions were revised to include the new automated procedures.

The Intake Assessment Interview was revamped to improve the needs assessment, social history and background information for the collection of data on new inmates received by SCDC. This was done in conjunction with the transfer and automation by the Division of Resource and Information Management to the IDMS system. Testing procedures were evaluated.

Procedures for conducting the AIMS (Adult Internal Management System) evaluations were modified to reduce the workload of the Reception and Evaluation Centers. Two additional institutions were added, bringing the total number of institutions operating under AIMS to 15.

Legislation

Several pieces of legislation of significance to the Department were passed by the General Assembly and signed into law by the Governor this fiscal year. A synopsis of such legislation as it may affect the Department is provided below. For full details of the legislation, please refer to the Code of Laws of South Carolina, 1976, as amended.

Sentencing

(R148, H3040) provides that the defense of insanity is an affirmative defense which the defendant has the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence. It defines what constitutes legal insanity and provides that it cannot be proved solely by evidence of repeated criminality or antisocial conduct. Further, this act defines what constitutes the verdict or plea of "guilty but mentally ill" and requisites that must be met.

(R231, H3704) established the South Carolina Sentencing Guidelines Commission and provides powers, duties, functions, and responsibilities for its specified members.

Health Care

(R249, H3599) provides that confidences of a patient in treatment by a provider may not be used or revealed by the provider except upon certain delineated conditions.

(R212, S4057) defines the practice of nursing and nursing diagnosis, regulates the practice of registered nurses and established standards for the disciplining of licensees.

Attorneys

(R234, H3872) allows attorneys employed by state agencies to engage in pro bono representation under a program endorsed by the South Carolina Bar and provides policies and rules for practice.

Police Officers

(R187, H3807) applies to South Carolina police officers. This provides that the payment necessary to receive credit under the system for service in the South Carolina Retirement System is the accumulated contributions and interest in the South Carolina Retirement System and 5% of current salary for each year credited for periods less than a year.

Prisons

(R2, S2) directs the State Budget and Control Board and the Department of Corrections to design and construct a replacement facility in Lee County for the Central Correctional Institution and provides funding for such project as may be determined by the General Assembly and the State Treasurer.

Administration

(R198, S93) provides that furniture purchased to be used in any state office or reception area which is utilized by a type of agency director or in a board or conference room, must be reported, before its purchase, to the governing board of the respective agency when the cost exceeds $500.00.

Fiscal Information

(Special Note: This information is as of June 30, 1989, and was obtained in August, 1989, to meet the production schedule for this annual report. The data are subject to minor revision following year-end reconciliations which are completed late in each third quarter of 1989.)

Operating Expenditures (Excludes Capital Improvement Funds)

The Department of Corrections expended $183,732,201 in state appropriations, federal funds, special revenues, Prison Industries, and canteen funds in fiscal year 1988-89. Major expenditures included:

Salaries and fringe benefits of employees	69%
Supplies (e.g. food, uniforms, medical and office)	10%
Items for resale by Prison Industries and canteens	6%

Table 2, on the following page, enumerates the expenditures by state budget code.

Expenditures by Program (Excludes Capital Improvement Funds)

The Department's budget for this fiscal year identified six programs that define the departmental mission and provide performance indicators to measure effectiveness and cost. Based on the expenditure of state, federal, special revenues, Prison Industries, and canteen funds, the Department spent:

Administration (6.6%)$	12,116,779
Housing, Care, Security and Supervision (80.8%)$1	48,510,203

Publications and Documents Fiscal Year 1988-89

The Department of Corrections has a continuous need to communicate its policy, progress and programs to elected and judicial officials throughout the State of South Carolina, to employees and inmates, and to the interested general public. To accomplish this task the Department uses a variety of regular and special publications:

Regular Reports

Annual Report of the Board of Corrections and the Commissioner of the South Carolina Department of Corrections. (Issued annually following the close of the fiscal year. Copies are sent to depository libraries throughout the state.)

Monthly Report to the Board of Corrections. (Prepared monthly from input provided by all echelons of management throughout the Department.)

Inmate Guide. (A generalized guide prepared from formal official documents and policy, rules and regulations of the Department; each inmate receives a copy when he/she is admitted to the Department.)

Youthful Offender Act Services Information Guide. (Designed to acquaint Youthful Offenders, their families, SCDC and other criminal justice personnel, parole volunteers, and the general public with the Youthful Offender Act and the Department's implementation thereof.)

Defendants' Quarterly Report on Compliance. (Submitted to the United States District Court for the District of South Carolina pursuant to the 1985 negotiated Consent Decree in the matter of Plyler v. Evatt (originally Nelson v. Leeke). The reports outline the Department's compliance with the terms of the Agreement.

Quarterly Training Report for the Department of Corrections. (The Consent Decree mentioned above requires continuous monitoring of training of current and new employees. This report documents the progress made throughout the Department.)

Inmate and Personnel Statistics

This and the next page are a "data snapshot" of the inmates and employees of the Department of Corrections. Detailed inmate and personnel statistics are presented in the tables and figures which follow. The data include average population, admissions, and releases during the fiscal year, and select information regarding the FY 1989 admissions and the total inmate population as of the end of the fiscal year. Also included is information on the Department of Corrections' workforce. Where appropriate, the statistical data are also presented graphically.

This category of inmates does not take up bedspace in SCDC facilities and has increased in number as institutional diversionary programs are implemented.—Extended Work Release Program (in 1978), Supervised Furlough and Provisional Parole Program (in 1982). Special placements included those inmates assigned to the State Law Enforcement Division, the Commissioner's Home, hospital facilities, Alston Wilkes Half-way Houses, Interstate Compact, authorized absences, Extended Work Release, Supervised Furlough, Provisional Parole, Shock Probation, and Restitution.

² Suitable city, county and state facilities have been designated to house State inmates as a means of alleviating overcrowded conditions in SCDC facilities, and facilitating work at the facilities and in the community.

^{*} The jurisdiction count in this table does not include YOA parolees or inmates conditionally released under the Emergency Prison Overcrowding Powers Act (EPA) (S.C. Code of Laws, 1976, Section 24-3-1110) invoked in September, 1983, and EPA invoked in May, 1987. The average EPA counts were as follows: CY 1983 - 22; CY 1984 - 74; CY 1985 - 443; CY 1986 - 651; CY 1987 - 731 (EPA), 50 (EPA II); CY 1988 - 612 (EPA), 160 (EPAII); CY 1989 - 308 (EPA), 219 (EPAII).

Statutory Authority

The South Carolina Department of Corrections was created in 1960 (Title 24, Code of Laws of South Carolina 1976, as amended) as an administrative agency of the State government. The Department was charged to "implement and carry out the policy of the State with respect to its prison system...and the performance of such other duties and matters as may be delegated to it pursuant to law."

The State's policy is expressed in Section 24-1-20: "It shall be the policy of this State in the operation and management of the Department of Corrections to manage and conduct the Department in such a manner as will be consistent with the operation of a modern prison system, and with the view of making the system self-sustaining, and that those convicted of violating the law and sentenced to a term in the (Department of Corrections) shall have humane treatment, and be given opportunity, encouragement and training in the matter of reformation."

Title 24 also provides statutory authority for a Board of Corrections, employment of a general Commissioner, management and control of the prison system, fiscal and procurement activities, and such other matters as are essential to the operation of a modern state prison system.

Youthful Offender Act

In 1968, the General Assembly enacted legislation, commonly referred to as the "Youthful Offender Act," to prescribe for the correction and treatment of youthful offenders (Section 24-19-10 through 24-19-160, Code of Laws of South Carolina 1976.) The following is a summary of the act, with supplemental notes on the administration thereof.

A "youthful offender" is any male or female offender who is at least seventeen but less than twenty-five years of age at the time of conviction.

Within the Department of Corrections, there is a Youthful Offender Division which through the end of this fiscal year 1988 carried out three primary functions: presentence investigation services and recommendations to the sentencing court; institutional services and supervision of youthful offenders committed to the Department's care; and aftercare services, i.e., parole of youthful offenders and professional supervision of the parolee. (The Department of Corrections has contracted with the S.C. Department of Probation, Parole, and Pardon Services to perform the presentence, parole and aftercare services effective July 1, 1988.)

In the administration of the Act, the courts may release a youthful offender to the Department prior to sentencing for an observation and evaluation period of not more than 60 days. A thorough presentence investigation report is made to the court for use in adjudication and sentencing. The report is a factual and diagnostic case study, which includes a clinical interpretation of the offender's present attitude, feelings and emotional responses, together with an estimate of his prospects for change.

A youthful offender may be sentenced indefinitely (although the period may not exceed six years) to the custody of the Department. Upon sentencing, the youthful offender undergoes a series of interviews, a medical evaluation, psychological and educational testing, and is given an orientation on confinement within the Department. Youthful offenders are sent to minimum security institutions, and live in dormitories, wards, or rooms, depending on the institution. Work, education and counseling programs are prescribed, and it is the offender's progress in such programs which ultimately decides when or if he will be moved into pre-release work programs and eventually be paroled.

Parole of youthful offenders after they have served a portion of a court sentence is a conditional release of the offender. He remains under supervision, normally for a minimum of one year. Parole supervisors are responsible for providing constant, direct professional supervision of the youthful offender, as well as for organizing and developing the services of volunteers to assist in the aftercare program. Complaints against parolees are investigated and appropriate action taken when indicated. The Department may revoke an order of parole when the action is deemed necessary, and return the youthful offender parolee to a correctional institution for further treatment. A youthful offender is ultimately discharged unconditionally on or before six years from the date of his conviction.

The Act also provides that if the court finds the youthful offender will not derive benefit from treatment, the court may sentence the youthful offender under any other applicable penalty provision. Offenders so sentenced are also placed in the custody of the Department of Corrections.

Appendix D

Supervised Furlough

South Carolina enacted a Supervised Furlough Program in 1981, and the General Assembly modified the program in 1983, 1986, and 1987. Following is a summary of the program as provided for in Section 24-13-710, S.C. Code of Laws.

The Department of Corrections and the Department of Probation, Parole, and Pardon Services have developed a cooperative agreement for the operation of the Supervised Furlough Program. The program permits carefully screened and selected inmates who have served the mandatory minimum sentence as required by law or have not committed any one of certain specified crimes* to be released on furlough prior to parole eligibility under the supervision of the Department of Probation, Parole and Pardon Services. These inmates have the privilege of residing in an approved residence and continuing treatment, training, or employment in the community until parole eligibility or expiration of sentence, whichever is earlier.

The statute further provides that to be eligible for the program, an inmate must: (1) maintain a clear disciplinary record for at least six months prior to consideration; (2) demonstrate to Department of Corrections officials a general desire to become a law-abiding member of society; (3) satisfy any other reasonable requirements imposed upon him by the Department; (4) have an identifiable need for and willingness to participate in authorized community-based programs and rehabilitative services; and (5) have been committed to the Department of Corrections with a total sentence of five years or less as the first or second adult commitment for a criminal offense for which the inmate received a sentence of one year or more.

The Department of Corrections has established certain criteria which must be met by an otherwise eligible individual: no outstanding holds, wanteds, or detainers; must not have been removed from participation in a community program within six months of eligibility for supervised furlough; must not be released directly from a psychiatric unit; must not have escaped or been returned from escape within six months of eligibility; must not currently be a participant in the Extended Work Release Program; must have a residence in South Carolina verified and approved by the Department; must not have a pending disciplinary action that qualifies as a major institutional rules infraction; must have served at least six months of his sentence and be within six months of release; and must have served six months free of a major disciplinary infraction prior to eligibility date.

When placed in the Supervised Furlough Program, an inmate comes under the supervision of agents of the Department of Probation, Parole, and Pardon Services who insure the inmate's compliance with the rules, regulations, and conditions of the program, as well as monitoring the inmate's employment and participation in prescribed and authorized rehabilitative programs.

^{*(}Criminal sexual conduct in the third degree; or a lewd act upon a child under the age of fourteen; or a violent crime (i.e. murder, criminal sexual conduct in the first and second degree, assault and battery with intent to kill, kidnapping, voluntary manslaughter, armed robbery, drug trafficking, arson in the first degree, and burglary in the first and second degree).)

Appendix E

Earned Work Credit Program

The Earned Work Credit Program had its beginning in the Litter Control Program, Act 496, 1978, which substantially rewrote Section 24-13-230, Code of Laws of South Carolina, 1976. Currently, the SCDC Commissioner is authorized to allow a reduction of time served by inmates assigned to a productive duty assignment, or who are regularly enrolled in academic, technical, or vocational training programs.

The Earned Work Credit Program is considered a motivational program for inmates to help reduce their sentences, and is one strategy whereby the Department tries to stabilize inmate population, reduce overcrowding, and help control capital improvements and operating costs.

The Commissioner has determined the amount of credit to be earned for each duty classification or enrollment and published SCDC Policy 1700.1, which prescribes the guidelines and procedures for the management and administration of the program. At the end of the fiscal year, approximately 225 types of jobs in SCDC institutions were described and approved.

There are four job classification levels; Earned Work Credit is awarded on the basis of these classifications and work performed in the assigned job. An inmate must work at least five hours per day or at least 25 hours per week to be considered "full time" and awarded Earned Work Credits. The job classification levels are:

- Level 2: One Earned Work Credit for each two days worked.
- Level 3: One Earned Work Credit for each three days worked.
- Level 5: One Earned Work Credit for each five days worked.
- Level 7: One Earned Work Credit for each seven days worked.

Most of the jobs available to inmates fall into the following broad categories: cafeteria and food service, construction, driving vehicles, education and library, farm work, industrial jobs in prison industries, institutional maintenance, printers and photographers, public works projects, recreation, staff clerical support. Additionally, some inmates are in community placement (work release, extended work release and supervised furlough) and may be engaged in any one of hundreds of jobs found in their local community.

There are limitations on the Earned Work Credit Program; some of these are: anyone serving a life sentence for murder is prohibited from earning credits under the program; educational credits are not available to any individual convicted of a crime designated as violent in Section 16-1-60, Code of Laws of South Carolina, 1976; persons sentenced under the Shock Probation Program, Youthful Offender Act, serving sentences under the Interstate Corrections Compact in South Carolina, and inmates serving sentences for non-support/contempt of court are not eligible for EWC; the maximum annual credit for both work and educational credits is limited to 180 days.

During Fiscal Year 1989, an average of 12,025 inmates (82% of SCDC average daily population) were productively engaged and earned credits toward their time to serve. An additional 486 inmates, on the average, worked on jobs but due to their sentence category were not eligible for motivational work credits as specified in the Litter Control Program legislation.

Among those eligible for motivational work credit, a total of 1,190,482 credits were earned during the fiscal year for a productivity average of 99 credits per inmate. These credits ultimately will result in an earlier release date for each of these inmates at an average of 57 days per 100 credit days for those released with sentence served and 100 days per 100 credit days for those paroled. The distribution of credits earned and the type of release is presented in greater detail in Table 25.

The profile of inmates at each job classification level of productive work closest to the end of Fiscal Year 1989 was as follows:

Level	Full Time	Part Time	No. of Inmates
Two: One day credit for each two days worked.	4,535	4	4,539 (29.7%)
Three: One day credit for each three days worked.	3,165	13	3,178 (20.8%)
Five: One day credit for each five days worked.	2,277	62	2,339 (15.3%)
Seven: One day credit for each seven days worked.	1,142	199	1,341 (8.8%)
Unassigned/Not Earning Credit*.	3,861	0	3,861 (25.3%)
Total	14,980	278	15,258 (100.0%)

^{*}Inmates undergoing transfer, reception and evaluation processing, administrative disciplinary action, unassigned, or on Death Row.

Earned Work Credits have the effect of reducing the SCDC population level (by reducing the time served of released inmates) and operational costs. Between July 1, 1988, and June 30, 1989, a total of 8,480 inmates were released from SCDC. Of that number, 6,231 inmates (73%) had their time served reduced via the productive work provisions of the Litter Control Program.

Appendix F

Community Programs Defined

30-Day Pre-Release Program

Inmates who complete their sentences or are provisionally paroled, participate in this program. It offers participants a series of pre-release training sessions at the Watkins Pre-Release Center and the Blue Ridge Community Pre-Release Center. Inmates on the 30-Day Pre-Release Program do not work in the community.

Work and Educational Release and Federal Referral Programs

Inmates participating in the Short-Term Work Release, Regular Work Release, Educational Release, and Federal Referral Programs work in the community during the day and reside in SCDC work centers. These programs have similar selection criteria but differ in terms of the inmates' remaining time to serve before eligibility for parole or other forms of release. The Federal Bureau of Prisons refers to SCDC some of their inmates who are legal residents of South Carolina and meet all the criteria for the SCDC Regular Work Release Program.

Extended Work Release Program

This program allows the exceptional work release inmate to continue employment in the community and reside with an approved community sponsor. Program participants continue to be responsible to the work center assigned and are maintained as authorized absentees.

Furglough Program

"AA" custody inmates within the Department are eligible to apply for 72-hour home visit furloughs four times during the year: Easter, July 4th, Labor Day, and Christmas. After an inmate successfully completes four consecutive 72-hour furloughs, he/she may apply for one 48-hour optional furlough per calendar year.

Furloughs may be granted for inmates to attend the funeral of an immediate family member, visit a critically ill family member, obtain outside medical services not otherwise available within the Department, contact prospective employers, or secure a suitable residence for use upon release or parole, or participate in educational/training programs, in the community.

South Carolina's Ten Regional Councils (Planning Districts)

In 1971, local governments throughout the state formed regional councils - sometimes called planning districts - to act on their behalf. The councils provide a variety of services requested by their local governments, including grants administration, economic development assistance, and planning and management assistance. The services vary from region to region, depending on local needs and priorities. The councils do not pass legislation, enforce laws or levy taxes. Their goal is to work with local governments and public agencies to increase their efficiency and effectiveness.

Presently, the ten regional councils are composed of the following counties (SCDC correctional regions are noted for reference purposes.)

SCDC Appalachian Correctional Region

- 1. South Carolina Appalachian Council of Governments Anderson, Cherokee, Greenville, Oconee, Pickens, and Spartanburg.
- Upper Savannah Council of Governments Abbeville, Edgefield, Greenwood, Laurens, McCormick, and Saluda
- 3. Catawba Regional Planning Council Chester, Lancaster, York, and Union. (Chester and Lancaster counties are in the SCDC Midlands Correctional Region.)

SCDC Midlands Region

- Central Midlands Regional Planning Council Fairfield, Lexington, Newberry, and Richland.
- 5. Lower Savannah Council of Governments Aiken, Allendale, Bamberg, Barnwell, Calhoun, and Orangeburg. (Allendale County is in the SCDC Coastal Correctional Region.)
- 6. Santee-Lynches Council for Governments Clarendon, Kershaw, Lee, and Sumter.

Counties Comprising South Carolina Judicial Circuits

The General Assembly has divided the state into sixteen judicial circuits, and prescribed that one judge shall be elected from the first, second, sixth, twelfth, fourteenth, fifteenth, and sixteenth circuits, and two judges shall be elected from each of the others. These judges are elected by the General Assembly for a term of six years, as are six additional circuit judges without regard to county or circuit of residence. The Circuit Court is a general trial court with original jurisdiction in civil and criminal cases. Currently, the sixteen judicial circuits are composed of the following counties:
