A Message From SECRETARY RICHARD L. DUGGER

With the challenge and achievements of last year as a frame of reference, I realized what we then considered a year of major challenges was but a prelude to the demands which evolved in FY 1988-89. Prison population continued to rise, fueled by increasing admissions of drug offenders. Cocaine related offenses alone accounted for 93.1% of all drug admissions this fiscal year and one of every three prison admissions was for drug offenses.

In response to spiraling prison admissions, the Department implemented a two year construction program funded by the 1987 special session of the Legislature. A total of 9,376 beds were to be built over the two year period. For fiscal year 1988-89, appropriations were received for 4,085 beds and 3,628 beds were completed during the year, bringing the two year total of beds constructed to 9,059 as of June 30, 1989. The beds constructed this fiscal year included four work camps, the completion of all six dormitories at Madison Correctional Institution and four of six dormitories at Liberty Correctional Institution. Additionally, two single-cell housing units were placed under construction at Okaloosa Correctional Institution.

During FY 1988-89 the Department's community supervision programs experienced steady increases. Regular probation supervision cases topped 70,300 at year's end. In addition, investigative efforts by correctional probation officers exceeded 160,000 completed nondiscretionary investigations during the year.

The Department successfully implemented a new form of community supervision, Provisional Release Supervision, beginning in October 1988. This post-incarceration program provides probation-type supervision for placement of released adult inmates who have been selected for early release under probation-type supervision after their release from prison. Electronic monitoring continues to offer an enhancement to personal contacts by correctional probation officers for offenders. Over 2,400 offenders in 17 judicial circuits were monitored during FY 1988-89. Technological advances in equipment are anticipated and needed to strengthen this aid to basic supervision. The use of this technology is still in its infancy and we will continue to evaluate its usefulness as a community supervision tool.

Quality management of health services was an important development during FY 1988-89. All major institutions were subjected to quality management surveys to determine where the Department's resources should be concentrated. The surveys, coupled with a utilization review of all community hospital services, assisted in reducing the rate of admissions to community hospitals by eight percent, helping to contain expensive hospital costs.

In FY 1988-89 an unprecedented substance abuse initiative in community supervision was funded in the form of a comprehensive program of drug testing, offender treatment and research and staff training of correctional probation officers. This community supervision based program provides for contracted community treatment services for which about 80% of the offenders themselves pay. Funding for treatment of indigent offenders is a key part of this early intervention effort that had been unavailable before.

The Department has shown steady progress in these and many other initiatives. This progress stands as a tribute to our dedicated employees, whose efforts are appreciated and whom I congratulate for jobs well done. Our tasks continue to grow, however, in size and complexity. For example, in the future the Department will be coordinating closely with the Control Release Authority to insure the inmate population remains below 97.5 percent of capacity. The Department also may expressly be required by the courts to collect restitution and other payments from supervised offenders and assess a four percent administrative fee to defray costs of operating.

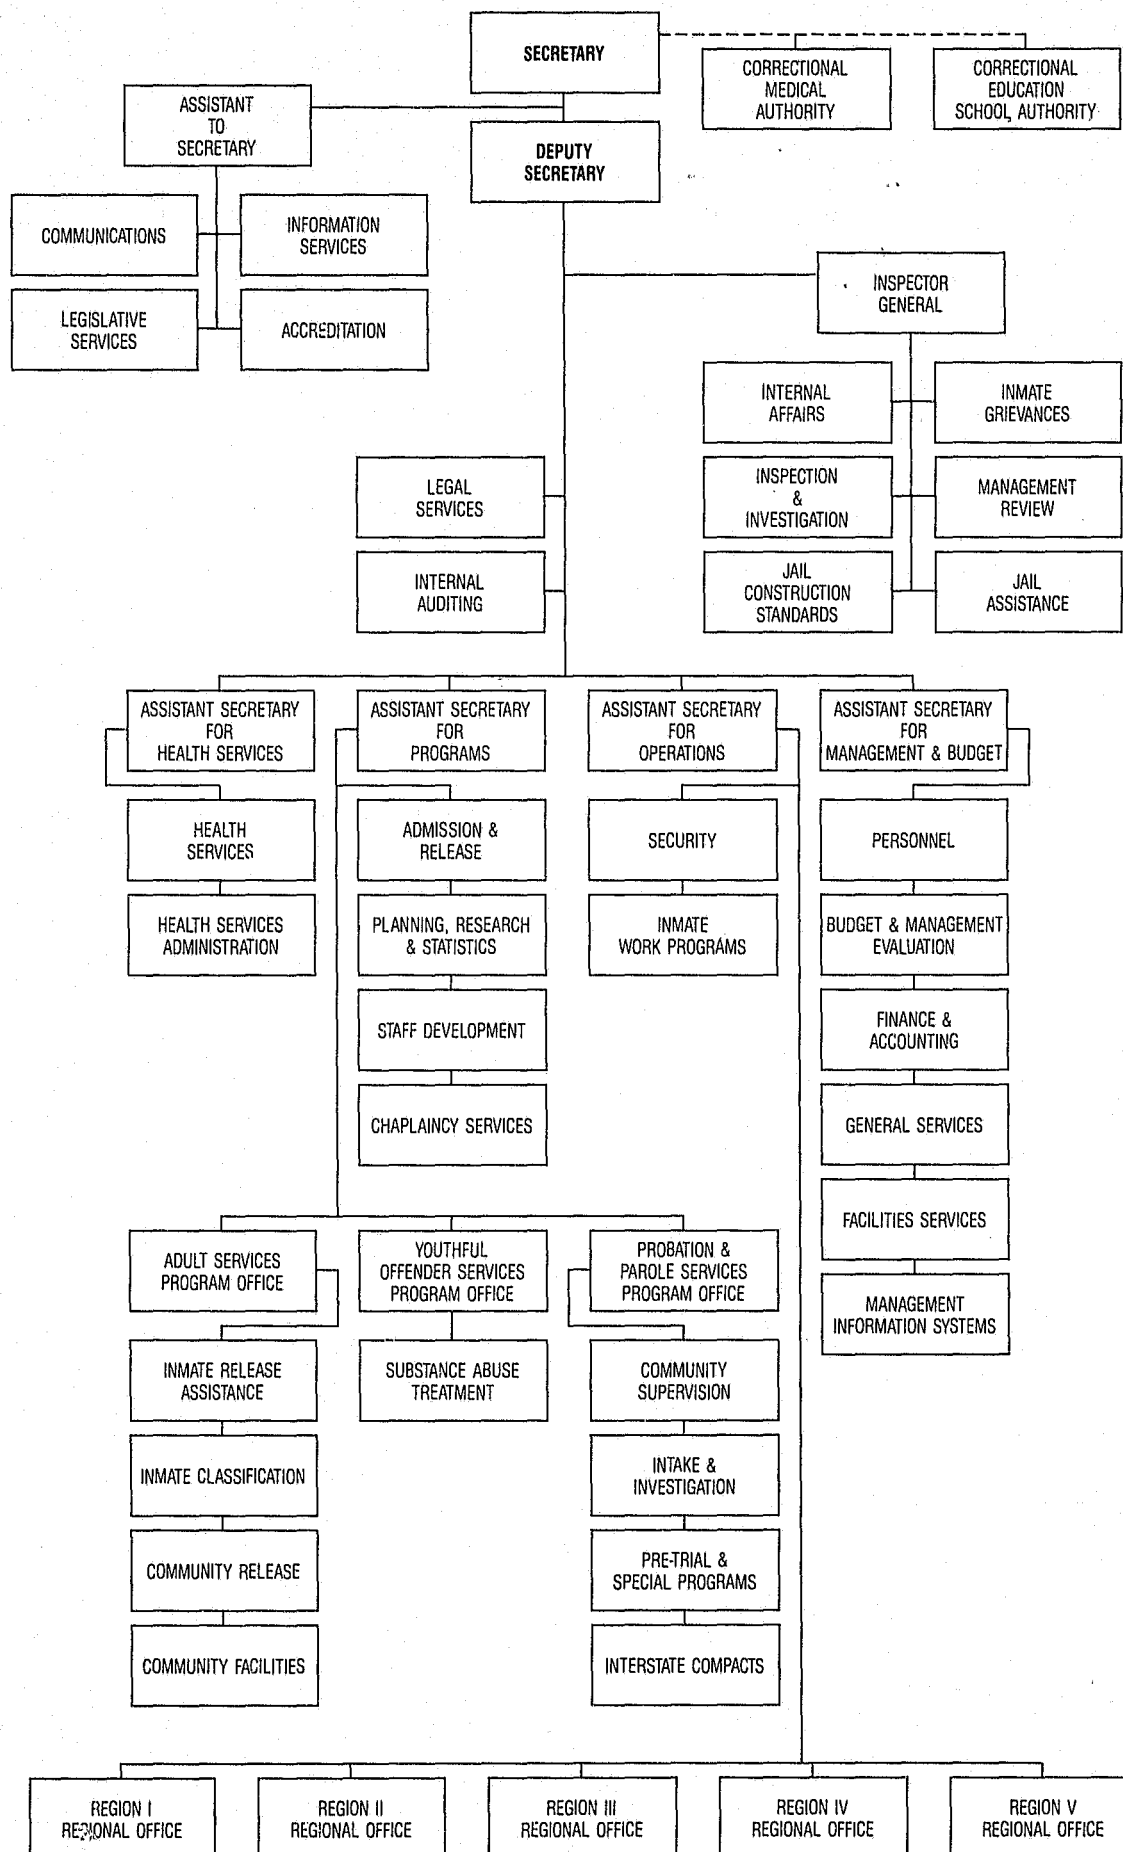

While the Department has been manually collecting and distributing restitution payments for some years, a legal mandate to do so would require an automated collection and disbursement system, including staff and equipment, to be on line in the near future.

Privatization of correctional facilities is a concept to be tested in the coming years. The 1989 legislature directed the Department of General Services to issue a Request for Proposal, for the construction and management of a 900 bed facility to be available by fall of 1991, if private bidders can meet cost-saving criteria of ten percent.

Planning for Department expansion over five years was required by legislation as well. The Comprehensive Correctional Master Plan will set forth necessary creative, innovative approaches to process and maintain custody and control of the projected influx of sentenced offenders committed to the Department. Major components of the plan will address decentralization and streamlining of the reception and classification process, vocational and educational training, treatment programs, health services, confinement of offenders sentenced to three years or less in special facilities, expansion of community based facilities and programs, and economic benefits for correctional officers. The Plan, which is to be updated annually, includes analysis of alternative methods to incarceration and incarceration rates of state and county systems. A projection of total operating and capital outlay costs for bed construction, to avoid awarding provisional credits, is also a part of the plan.

Meeting the demands of these and other developments in the correctional system in Florida will require steadfastness of purpose, informed planning, and decisive action. I am confident the Florida Department of Corrections has both the initiative and the ability to do what must be done.

REGIONAL ORGANIZATION

Correctional institutions, facilities and probation and parole offices are administered through five geographic regions. Each region is headed by a regional director who supervises the activities of the superintendent of each major institution, the superintendent of community facilities and the regional probation and parole administrator. The regional director is responsible for financial administration and personnel management within his region and for ensuring that department policies are carried out and standards are met. Regional organizations and functions are shown below.

TYPICAL ORGANIZATION

REGIONAL FUNCTIONS

Each regional office coordinates activities and solves problems at major institutions in accordance with standard Department diagnosis, evaluation, referral, classification and case management procedures.

The activities of all community correctional centers, road prisons, vocational training centers, work camps, forestry camps, and probation and restitution centers are also directed by the regional office in accordance with Central Office policies and directives.

The offices coordinate and direct all probation and parole services and activities in accordance with policy guidelines and program directives from the Central Office, to include supervision, investigation, intake and diversionary programs.

Each office performs personnel management activities, to include maintenance of personnel files and related records for personnel of community facilities, probation and parole offices and the regional office. In addition, regional officers maintain property accounting records, document all property transactions and maintain property management and control. The regional offices also prepare and submit regional budgets, monitor operating accounts and expenditures and supervise regional fund allocations and releases.

RECOMMENDATIONS

As required by ss. 20.315 (16), F.S., the Department of Corrections has developed recommendations for improving the delivery of correctional services in the State. The recommendations address views and requirements that have become apparent in the areas of policy needs, facilities necessary to remain ahead of inmate population growth and personnel requirements to ensure optimal effectiveness of Departmental staff. Based on the accomplishments of 1988-89 and assessments of requirements for further progress toward established Departmental goals and strategies as set forth in the Department's Agency Functional Plan and Comprehensive Correctional Master Plan, it is recommended that action be taken and/or resources be provided to accomplish the following:

- Favorable comparability in compensation and benefits between law enforcement officers and correctional officers.
- Application of state of the art electronic data processing to produce efficient classification and reception of inmates, especially those admitted with sentences of three years or less.
- Enhancement of correctional health services for inmates as set forth in the Correctional Health Services Plan.
- Expand Tier I, II and IV substance abuse treatment programs to correctional institutions and community correctional centers where appropriate and improve curriculum.
- Continued development of the Drug Abuse Treatment Resource Center (DATRC).
- Continued development and implementation of Tier V drug abuse treatment programs for probationers, parolees and offenders on community control.
- Increased availability of relapse prevention programs and aftercare services and coordination of the concept of linkage between treatment programs and community resources.
- Expansion of urinalysis testing policies to include all inmates/offenders.
- Continued substance abuse staff training.
- Use of a combination of free standing work camps, existing facilities and new construction for drug intervention centers for offenders sentenced to prison for three years or less.
- Enhance job finding assistance to offenders through expansion of Department of Labor and Employment Security (DLES) staff dedicated to this purpose.
- A period of community supervision after release from incarceration, possibly through encouragement of split-sentencing.
- Increase the effectiveness of probation as a primary community-based sanction through use of a risk and need assessment and specialized caseloads.
- Development of an intensive substance abuse offender supervision program for expanded community divisions.
- Staff institutions and facilities with adequate numbers of personnel to insure proper control and supervision of inmates.
- Secure and efficient transportation of inmates.

- Insuring staff to inmate ratios at existing institutions are comparable with staffing ratios authorized for new institutions.
- Adequate staffing of Death Row, including supervision for inmates on death watch.
- Establishment and maintenance of trained confrontation squads and emergency squads at each institution as necessary.
- Enhanced compensation and benefits for correctional employees assigned to designated high-risk assignments.
- Acquisition and use of drug testing kits and trained drug detection dogs to reduce instances of drug abuse in institutions and facilities.
- Enhanced statewide strategic planning for Information Resource Technology.
- Expansion of the Department's evaluation and planning capability.

ACTIVITIES SECTION

PROBATION AND PAROLE SERVICES

REGULAR PROBATION: Regular probation supervision continues to increase with 70,306 on probation as of June 30, 1989 up from 68,551 on June 30, 1988. New Correctional Probation Officers continue to receive 320 hours of basic training prior to assuming caseload and investigative duties full-time.

Investigation workload in this category of probation also is increasing. Over 2,000 Presentence Investigations are completed each month and over 5,400 Postsentence Investigations. Other investigations bring the total to 160,044 non-discretionary investigations completed during FY 88-89.

Managing the ever-increasing intake demands in Probation and Parole (P&P) Services is of primary importance. New intakes in FY 88-89 topped 92,248. Many transactions are necessary to activate supervision and ensure all offenders are accounted for and assigned to the responsibility of a Correctional Probation Officer. Office Automation expanded into 7 more circuits, for a total of 11 out of 20 circuits, and promises to be the key to reduction of manual record keeping of intakes and investigations ordered.

P&P Services historically has been concerned about victims of crime, particularly in this age of enhanced victim restitution. During last fiscal year officers manually collected $14,113,308 in restitution for victims without an automated accounting system. In addition $1,366,939 was collected in court costs, fines and public defender fees and paid into individual counties' coffers. Although probation caseloads for correctional probation officers average near 100, P&P Services collected $16,343,740 last year in monthly supervision fees to offset the costs of government.

Provisional Release Supervision (PRS): This is a program of post incarceration supervision, designed to provide supervision for early releases which began in October, 1988. Total PRS caseload had climbed to 1,554 by June 30, 1989. These offenders are supervised similarly to adult probationers under regular supervision for a short period of time after their release from prison.

Community Control: Community Control or "House Arrest", a diversionary alternative to prison, continues to increase with 9,052 offenders under supervision as of June 30, 1989. Since the program began on October 1, 1983 and as of June 30, 1989 there have been 47,812 intakes into the program. A recent study currently being done by the National Council on Crime and Delinquency and funded by the National Institute of Justice reported that 52.3% of those placed in community control would have gone to prison if the program did not exist. This represents a significant cost saving over prison incarceration.

Electronic Monitoring: During fiscal year 1988-89, Probation and Parole Services continued to utilize electronic monitoring devices to increase surveillance of offenders under "house arrest". Over 2,400 offenders in 17 judicial courts were monitored throughout the year. The Department has the capability to electronically monitor approximately 900 offenders on any given day.

Judge Jeffords D. Miller, Circuit 9, Orlando, listens to testimony from Correctional Probation Officer Katie Quintana; Probation Officer Landon Miller is assisting.

Correctional Probation Officers David Parker and James Winter, Circuit 14, Panama City, display the proper fitting of an electronic anklet.

A unique pilot project in the Panama City circuit entails offenders being monitored via telephone lines out of Cincinnati, Ohio. An officer is notified by either fax machine, pager or telephone of all unexcused absences. The Courts and the Department have been pleased with the initial results.

Voice verification is a new passive form of monitoring used this past year which supplemented personal contacts with offenders and proved cost effective in the Bradenton, Gainesville and St. Petersburg areas.

Substance Abuse Initiative: In the 1988-89 fiscal year for the first time Probation and Parole Services received appropriated funds amounting to $496,000 to develop drug testing, treatment, offender education, research, and staff training. An estimated average of over 4,000 drug tests were completed each month during the last half of the fiscal year. Offenders who were able to pay for their testing and treatment were required to do so. As a result approximately 80% of the offenders paid for the services, allowing 70% of the Department's drug services allocation to be spent on treatment. Treatment services are contracted with outside agencies or private companies, except for some offender drug education classes which are provided in-house by Correctional Probation Officers.

Assessments are completed on all new offenders placed in treatment. Treatment alternatives include out-patient, in-patient and detoxification. Most in-patient treatment programs include a work release component after the first 180 days with the offender reimbursing the Department for part of the cost.

Preliminary data shows that positive test results for drug usage decreased 15% due to enhanced testing and treatment provided. One system used allows urine samples to be collected on demand and to be processed in the probation office by Correctional Probation Officers in less than three minutes at a cost of less than $2.00. Many offenders confess to drug usage on the spot due to this type of testing. More extensive confirmation tests can be used in follow-up, if necessary.

Other drug testing systems include contractual services with private labs with pick-up and delivery of results within 24 hours. In Pensacola, in-house testing is done on a machine which allows for 10 urine sample screens for two drugs with immediate results in one half hour. Because of the low cost, $2.00, all new intakes in Pensacola are being tested.

COMPUTERIZED INTERACTIVE TRAINING VIDEOS

The concept of computer-based instruction was first introduced in the Bureau of Staff Development Master Training Plan in 1983 for the purpose of enhancing and expanding the training available to all employees. In 1985 the first equipment was purchased and a "Youthful Offender" pilot training module was developed. The Department's initial interactive learning/training videos were based upon the principle that a personal computer can control a video cassette player/recorder and offer alternate computer text and video simulations or scenarios to enhance and support the learning/training process. Nine video-tape based interactive training stations were piloted at nine major correctional institutions in 1988. Technology shifts and cost reductions have enabled the Department to reconfigure the training stations to encompass state-of-the-art computerized training by using an IBM Infowindow System in concert with a Pioneer 6000A laser disk player. The following seventeen units have been placed at major facilities in 1989.

The program gives a history of youthful offenders and provides the student with a series of interviews with inmates and staff regarding youthful offender issues.

HEALTH SERVICES ADVANCES

The Department continues to improve the delivery of health care to inmates who are serving active sentences. The following highlighted areas of accomplishment were implemented or expanded during FY 1988-89.

Quality Management Program: A Quality Management Program was implemented at all major institutions as of June 1989. All major institutions were subjected to a 2-4 day Quality Management Survey to determine where the major problems in health care delivery were and where to concentrate the Department's resources. Next a utilization review program was initiated which monitors all community hospital services. The program has assisted in reducing the rate of inmate admission to community hospitals by 8%. A credentialing system was also installed as part of the program. This enables the Department to avoid hiring non-licensed or non-certified persons, as well as those practitioners who have been shown to be inadequate.

Personnel: Additional nursing positions have been established to provide 24-hour registered nurse coverage at all institutional infirmaries. This has reduced the need for community hospital admissions, and extended hospital stays. Also, each region now has an administrator to oversee financial and other managerial activities. The medical administrative position at the institutions has been upgraded to provide a trained health services administrator.

Regional Utilization Review Nurse positions were established. This position is responsible for the pre-approval of all outside hospitalizations as well as retrospective review of costs incurred. This is a combined clinical and managerial function: deciding the appropriateness of a hospital for the clinical condition and determining the least expensive, yet most medically appropriate, way of providing that hospitalization.

Cost Containment Program: Contract auditing has been implemented to assure that all vendors are providing the services contracted and at the agreed costs. The utilization review program is being supported by claims review for all purchased health care services to include appropriateness of services provided and charges billed. These activities are expected to reduce the cost of health care services purchased in the community by 10% to 15%.

Levels of care have been established to determine the appropriate type of facility for the most cost effective and clinically appropriate hospitalization. Increased use of infirmaries when medically appropriate lowers cost significantly over similar services performed at community hospitals. Movement away from expensive tertiary care facilities to secondary care facilities once the patient is stable, further lowers costs per illness. Central Office and regional health services administrators conduct quarterly reviews of health care financial plans and expenditures. These reviews focus on implementing plans to contain costs and meet budget objectives.

Court Reporting: The Department has been involved in the Costello v. Dugger litigation since 1972. Among the major issues which this suit addresses is inadequate medical treatment. The documented improvements in the health care delivery system achieved in 1988-89 have been evidenced by reviews from the U.S. District Court and the Correctional Medical Authority.

Health Information System: Development and implementation of a computerized system for Health Services to monitor hospital inpatient days to reduce costs of hospital visits was accomplished in July 1988. This system has enabled Health Services to establish a data base of health related information on every inmate in custody.

Health Services also developed a statewide computer-based scheduling system for inmate health appointments in the institutions as well as all other routine health appointments with outside providers. Training of more than 200 health services staff in all regions and major institutions was completed in June 1989. Training for new personnel is provided twice monthly.

This on-line health information system was fully operational at all institutions in June, 1989 in accordance with the Health Services Administration 1988-89 Operational Plan.

CONSTRUCTION PROGRAMS

The construction of new beds consists of two separate approaches. One is construction contracts for single-cell prototype facilities, and the other is the use of inmate labor for the quick construction facility.

For Fiscal Year 1988-89, 4,085 beds were appropriated with 3,628 beds completed. The 3,628 beds include four work camps, additions to current facilities and the completion of all six dormitories at Madison Correctional Institution. Liberty Correctional Institution completed four of its six dorms in this period. Other beds under construction are two single-cell prototype housing units being built by contract at Okaloosa Correctional Institution.

Razor ribbon used for perimeter security.

An important aspect of the Department's successful construction program is the Legislature appropriating funds directly to the Department of Corrections. This allows the Department to select engineers, site contractors and procurement of materials within our established time-frame to meet our construction schedule.

The Department's construction program consists of four types of prototype facilities summarized as follows:

Work Camp: This is a 256 bed facility that is constructed by inmate labor and, for the most part, located adjacent to existing institutions. It is a self-contained facility that can be built remote from an institution.

Quick Construction Institution: For the upcoming fiscal period the construction program was modified. Quick construction facilities were expanded from six to seven dormitories. Additional beds were added at this type of facility by modifying the prototype plans for food service and gate house buildings.

Combination Institution: The Department developed a third type of prototype facility which combines two single-cell housing units with five open bay dormitories. This type of facility utilizes contracts to construct the two single-cell housing units, necessary support facilities and perimeter fence to allow the Department to house close-custody inmates.

Upon completion of the contract phase these close-custody inmates are utilized in construction of the five open bay dorms and completion of the remainder of the institution.

Inmates labor to erect and secure razor ribbon on the perimeter fences at newly constructed Madison C.I.

Single-Cell Institution: This facility is built mainly by contract due to the more complicated construction process associated with the larger, multilevel buildings required for this type of facility. After the facility is completed and occupied two open bay dormitories will be constructed by Force Account (inmate labor).

The Florida Department of Corrections leads the nation in the utilization of inmate labor and construction of new beds at the lowest cost per bed for comparable-type facilities.

Siting For New Correctional Facilities: To assist the Department in obtaining sites for new facilities, a brochure was developed and distributed to local government officials and Chambers of Commerce. This brochure provides information on basic site criteria, employment opportunities, facility descriptions and economic impact.

The economic benefits to the local community derived from a correctional facility have been the subject of articles appearing in periodicals and newspapers such as Florida Trend Magazine and The Gainesville Sun.

FISCAL MANAGEMENT

Budget And Personnel: The Bureau of Budget handled approximately $620 million in operating funds allocated to over 585 different disbursement accounts. Funds were provided to phase-in 5,200 new prison beds and funding for inmate health care was increased by almost 20% over 1987-88.

Development of newly formatted financial reports was begun, with monthly reports for Health Services being put in place during 1988-89.

Several Personnel classification studies were completed that included upgrading word processing staff in Probation and Parole Services, maintenance and construction superintendents at large institutions, and various health services classes.

The Department was successful in implementing a Competitive Area Differential (CAD) in Hendry County in the amount of $1,726 annually, and raising the CAD in Broward, Dade, Monroe, Palm Beach, Indian River and Martin Counties to $5,000 annually.

Bureau Of Finance And Accounting: Due to the significant increase in current and projected funding of fixed capital outlay for the expansion of the Department's capacity, a need was recognized for an enhanced accounting and management system to better monitor and control the utilization of construction funds. To address this need, the Bureau of Finance and Accounting, the Bureau of Facilities Services, and the Bureau of General Services developed and implemented a comprehensive Fixed Capital Outlay Operating Procedures Manual.

Food Service. The Department's Master Menu has been adjusted on a yearly basis for the past three years. The goal, of our Menu Committee's endeavors, is a menu that meets all Recommended Dietary Allowances, plus a reduction to no more than 30% fat content as recommended by the American Heart Association, and an increase in fiber to meet the recommendation of the American Cancer Society.

OFFICE AUTOMATION

Automated Investigations: During Fiscal Year 1988-89, the Department continued to expand on the highly successful project for automating the probation and parole investigation process. During the year, the Bureau of MIS, with funding from the Legislature, was able to expand the system into the additional probation and parole circuits.

The system automates much of the preparation, tracking and administration of the presentence investigation process which requires so much of a probation officer's time; it allows the officers to concentrate on supervising offenders and less on "paperwork."

Medical Information System: The Bureau of MIS completed Phase I of the development and implementation of a Medical Information System. The system is operational and available for use by the major institutions. The system provides medical profile information and tracks medical contacts and appointment scheduling.

Automated investigations at Jacksonville's Probation and Parole Circuit Office save time and improve efficiency.

CORRECTIONAL WORK PROGRAMS FOLLOW UP

One stage of copy preparation for offset printing includes keyboarding the text into the electronic typesetting equipment used by inmates at the Zephyrhills C.I. PRIDE printing Facility.

Image assembly, or stripping, is a pre-press function requiring a high level of awareness and skill. Here, the film negatives are stripped into precise position for burning of the image onto an offset-press plate.

Based upon available records, it is estimated that 1,308 inmate workers from the Prison Rehabilitative Industry Diversified Enterprises (PRIDE) were released during fiscal year 1988-89. Of these, 625 (47.8%) obtained jobs through the PRIDE employment agency.

This employment agency serves a variety of offenders including some under Probation and Parole supervision. During the past fiscal year, 1,014 persons applied for employment through the agency, and 905 were placed. This is a success rate of 89.3%. Earnings for the placed workers totaled approximately 9.5 million dollars, of which the state received 1.5 million in cost of supervision fees.

An extensive research project is currently being formulated in cooperation with the University of Florida to follow a selected group of inmates through incarceration into the post-release environment. This longitudinal monitoring, employing comparisons between PRIDE workers and other released inmates, will contribute to effective program evaluation.

Large, offset presses demand many hours of training. Inmates work hard to learn the necessary skills required to operate these highly sophisticated machines. PRIDE supervisors relate their experiences to the inmates to facilitate the learning process.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE TRENDS

The size of the inmate population and the probation and parole caseload of the Department of Corrections is the result of varying rates of admissions and releases. Several factors affect the rates of admission including population growth in Florida, crime rates, rates of arrest and prosecution, use of alternative programs, sentencing policies of the judiciary and statutes relating to sentencing. Factors affecting releases include the extent of mandatory sentencing, the existence of parole and other post release supervision programs, sentence length, and policies concerning the award of gain time.

TRENDS IN PRISON ADMISSIONS AND RELEASES

The number of new inmates admitted to prison (new court commitments and violators) has increased from 11,014 in fiscal year 1980-81 to 40,039 in 1988-89, a 264% increase over a nine year period. The Criminal Justice Estimating Conference has projected that admissions will increase another 153% in the next five years to an annual level of 101,188 in fiscal year 1994-95. Prison releases have increased from 7,591 in 1980-81 to 35,976 in 1988-89, a 374% rise. If special early release mechanisms are not used, the prison population is projected to increase to 156,023 inmates by the end of fiscal year 1994-95, a 310% increase from the present level of 38,059.

ACTUAL AND PROJECTED ADMISSIONS AND RELEASES: FY 1980-81 — 1994-95

RISE IN ADMISSIONS ASSOCIATED WITH DRUGS AND CRIME

The chart below suggests that increases in crime, especially drug arrests are closely associated with the rise in new prison commitments.

PERCENT CHANGES IN ADMISSIONS, CRIME AND POPULATION: 1979 — 1988**

* Index crimes include Murder, Rape, Robbery, Burglary, Aggravated Assault, Larceny, and Auto Theft. Crime Data is from calendar years 1979-1987.

Admissions and population data is from fiscal years 1979-80 — 1987-88.

**Crime Data for 1988 was not available for inclusion in this chart.

NEW COMMITMENTS AS A PERCENT OF GUILTY DISPOSITIONS UP SINCE 1979

The percent of guilty dispositions that are committed to prison as new commitments hit a low of 15% in 1984 after the implementation of sentencing guidelines. Since 1984, the percent of felony convictions resulting in a prison sentence has increased to record levels as high as 29% in December, 1987. New commitments as a percentage of guilty dispositions averaged 30% during the first three months of 1989.

PRISON ADMISSIONS BY NINE SENTENCING GUIDELINES CATEGORIES

Admissions to prison for drug offenses have risen an astounding 1,611% over the past ten years. Offenses involving theft have increased 746% while the violent offenses of murder, sexual offenses and robbery have increased at more moderate rates.

PERCENT CHANGE IN ADMISSIONS: 1979-80 to 1988-89

INDEX CRIMES IN FLORIDA INCREASED 8.2% DURING CALENDAR YEAR 1988*

The Uniform Crime Report provides a general indicator of criminal activity in the state. Crime report data historically has somewhat been related to prison admissions. This may be explained by the fact that the Uniform Crime Report counts crimes, not criminals. In addition, the index crimes reported include a significant number of misdemeanor offenses not resulting in prison admissions.

CORRECTIONAL STATISTICS

Our computerized data system has permitted inclusion of information on incarcerated inmates and offenders under community supervision for two time periods:

- Offenders admitted to custody or supervision of the Department of Corrections during FY 1988-89.
- Offenders in custody or supervision of the Department as of June 30, 1989.

Data in this section of the Annual Report are organized into two major subsections - incarcerated offenders, and offenders under community supervision.

In each subsection information comprises supervision data, dispositional data and offender demographics:

- Number of offenders; their origin by county; where housed or supervised.
- Criminal history; primary offense; length of commitment or supervision; class of felony.
- Age; education; length of residence; employment; alcohol/drug use.

It should be noted that some data are the result of self reporting and may be subject to error. Also a redistribution of the missing data will subject the tables to some rounding problems.

Data from previous reports are available upon specific request from the Bureau of Planning, Research and Statistics, 1311 Winewood Boulevard, Tallahassee, Florida 32399-2500, Telephone: (904) 488-8430, SunCom: 278-8430.

ADMITTED USE OF ILLEGAL DRUGS BY INMATES COMMITTED TO THE

1978-1989

DRUG OFFENDERS

Drug Admissions As A Percent of Total Admissions
(1980 - 89)

Drug admissions have risen steadily throughout the decade of the nineteen-eighties, accounting for nearly a third of the inmate admissions during the past fiscal year.

Despite a two year decline in the rate of growth for drug admissions, these admissions are still growing at more than twice the rate of non-drug admissions (see opposite page).

COMMUNITY SUPERVISION STATISTICS

The following pages contain statistics concerning offenders under community supervision in the Department of Corrections. The community supervision caseloads continue to increase. The Department continues its emphasis upon diversionary programs and these programs, hopefully, will reduce the number of institutional beds necessary in the future.

In the following tables, misdemeanor probation reflects cases originally filed in circuit court as felonies that were reduced to misdemeanors and subsequently placed on probation.
