JUDICIAL CONFERENCE OF THE UNITED STATES
28 U.S.C. 331

§ 331 Judicial Conference of the United States

The Chief Justice of the United States shall summon annually the chief judge of each judicial circuit, the chief judge of the Court of International Trade, and a district judge from each judicial circuit to a conference at such time and place in the United States as he may designate. He shall preside at such conference which shall be known as the Judicial Conference of the United States. Special sessions of the conference may be called by the Chief Justice at such times and places as he may designate.

The district judge to be summoned from each judicial circuit shall be chosen by the circuit and district judges of the circuit at the annual judicial conference of the circuit held pursuant to section 333 of this title and shall serve as a member of the conference for three successive years, except that in the year following the enactment of this amended section the judges in the first, fourth, seventh, and tenth circuits shall choose a district judge to serve for one year, the judges in the second, fifth, and eighth circuits shall choose a district judge to serve for two years and the judges in the third, sixth, ninth, and District of Columbia circuits shall choose a district judge to serve for three years.

If the chief judge of any circuit, the chief judge of the Court of International Trade, or the district judge chosen by judges of the circuit is unable to attend, the Chief Justice may summon any other circuit or district judge from such circuit or any other judge of the Court of International Trade, as the case may be. Every judge summoned shall attend and, unless excused by the Chief Justice, shall remain throughout the sessions of the conference and advise as to the needs of his circuit or court and as to any matters in respect of which the administration of justice in the courts of the United States may be improved.

The Conference shall make a comprehensive survey of the condition of business in the courts of the United States and prepare plans for assignment of judges to or from circuits or districts where necessary. It shall also submit suggestions and recommendations to the various courts to promote uniformity of management procedures and the expeditious conduct of court business. The Conference is authorized to exercise the authority provided in section 372(c) of this title as the Conference, or through a standing committee. If the Conference elects to establish a standing committee, it shall be appointed by the Chief Justice and all petitions for review shall be reviewed by that committee. The Conference or standing committee may hold hearings, take sworn testimony, issue subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum, and make necessary and appropriate orders in the exercise of its authority. Subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum shall be issued by the clerk of the Supreme Court or by the clerk of any court of appeals, at the direction of the Chief Justice or his designee and under the seal of the court, and shall be served in the manner provided in rule 45(c) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure for subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum issued on behalf of the United States or an officer or any agency thereof. The Conference may also prescribe and modify rules for the exercise of the authority provided in section 372(c) of this title. All judicial officers and employees of the United States shall promptly carry into effect all orders of the Judicial Conference or the standing committee established pursuant to this section.

The Conference shall also carry on a continuous study of the operation and effect of the general rules of practice and procedure now or hereafter in use as prescribed by the Supreme Court for the other courts of the United States pursuant to law. Such changes in and additions to those rules as the Conference may deem desirable to promote simplicity in procedure, fairness in administration, the just determination of litigation, and the elimination of unjustifiable expense and delay shall be recommended by the Conference from time to time to the Supreme Court for its consideration and adoption, modification or rejection, in accordance with law.

The Attorney General shall, upon request of the Chief Justice, report to such conference on matters relating to the business of the several courts of the United States, with particular reference to cases to which the United States is a party.

The Chief Justice shall submit to Congress an annual report of the proceedings of the Judicial Conference and its recommendations for legislation.

REPORT OF THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE JUDICIAL CONFERENCE OF THE UNITED STATES

March 13, 1990

The Judicial Conference of the United States convened on March 13, 1990, pursuant to the call of the Chief Justice of the United States issued under 28 U.S.C. 331. The Chief Justice presided and the following members of the Conference were present:

Boadwine (Eighth Circuit), Gregory B. Walters (Ninth Circuit), Eugene J. Murret (Tenth Circuit), Norman E. Zolier (Eleventh Circuit), and Linda Finkelstein (District of Columbia Circuit) were also present.

Congressman Robert Kastenmeier, Chairman of the House Judiciary Subcommittee on Courts, Intellectual Property, and the Administration of Justice, attended the Conference briefly and spoke on matters pending in the Congress of interest to the judiciary. The Attorney General of the United States, Dick Thornburgh, addressed the Conference on matters of mutual interest to the Department of Justice and the Conference.

L. Ralph Mecham, Director of the Administrative Office of the United States Courts, attended the sessions of the Conference, as did James E. Macklin, Jr., Deputy Director; William R. Burchill, Jr., General Counsel; Robert E. Feidler, Legislative and Public Affairs Officer; Karen K. Siegel, Chief, Office of the Judicial Conference Secretariat; and David A. Sellers, Public Information Officer. Judge John C. Godbold, Director of the Federal Judicial Center, also attended the sessions of the Conference, as did Lawrence H. Averill, Jr., Administrative Assistant to the Chief Justice; Charles W. Nihan, Deputy Director of the Judicial Center; and Judicial Fellows Robert George, Kevin Jones, and Linda Mullenix.

The Director of the Federal Judicial Center, Judge Godbold, presented a report on the activities of the Center.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE OF THE UNITED STATES COURTS

The Director of the Administrative Office of the United States Courts, Mr. Mecham, submitted a brief report summarizing the workload of the federal judiciary during the calendar year 1989.

JUDICIAL BUSINESS OF THE COURTS

Mr. Mecham reported that filings in the 12 regional courts of appeals rose more than three percent during 1989, to a record high of 40,266. The overall increase in appeals resulted from a substantial jump in criminal appeals from the district courts. These appeals climbed 27 percent due to sentencing appeals and increases in the drug-related criminal caseload of the district courts. There were 1,556 appeals in 1989 involving only sentences, 18 percent of all criminal appeals. Drug-related cases appealed to the courts of appeals continued their dramatic rise this year, up 36 percent over 1988, and accounted for 56 percent of all criminal appeals filed. Appeals from rulings of the district courts on state and federal prisoner petitions also rose this year, by three percent. With the exception of original proceedings, all other appeals categories (civil, bankruptcy, and administrative) were lower compared to a year ago. During the year, dispositions in the regional courts of appeals reached an all-time high of 37,604, an increase of more than two percent from 1988. Despite this increase in terminations, the pending caseload rose nine percent, to 31,836 on December 31, 1989.

Filings in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit rose nearly eight percent, from 1,303 in 1988 to 1,407 in 1989. The largest increases were in appeals from the U.S. district courts and from the Patent and Trademark Office. Although appeals from the Merit Systems Protection Board (MSPB) remained relatively constant (up one percent), MSPB appeals continued to account for more than 40 percent of the court's total workload. The court's dispositions also increased this year, rising eight percent to 1,419. The overall increase in terminations resulted from significant rises in dispositions of appeals from the MSPB and the district courts. Since terminations outnumbered filings, the pending caseload dropped slightly (less than two percent), to 632 on December 31, 1989.

Civil filings in district courts fell seven percent this year, to 223,113 cases. Filings involving the United States declined by 11 percent, and private cases declined by six percent. Despite the overall decline in civil filings, increases were reported in several categories, most notably U.S. actions to recover defaulted student loans and prisoner civil rights petitions. Throughout most of the past decade, the changes in the volume of civil filings have been determined by the number of cases involving the U.S. in two areas: actions by the U.S. to recover overpayment of veterans' benefits (VA cases) and actions against the U.S. regarding social security disability insurance benefits. These actions were again major factors during 1989. Filings of VA cases declined almost 6,000 during the year, down from 12,124 in 1988; as recently as 1985, filings of VA cases totaled more than 45,000. Social security disability insurance cases declined almost 3,000 in 1989, down to 6,374; at the peak of activity in 1983, more than 22,000 of these cases were filed.

While the case types noted above have been the primary factors in the decline in civil filings in the past, a new factor was introduced this year. In May, 1989, the jurisdictional amount in diversity cases increased from $10,000 to $50,000. As a result, diversity cases declined 14 percent in 1989, to 60,183 cases, the lowest level since 1984. Diversity filings during the last six months of 1989 totaled 27,267, down more than 20 percent from the 34,362 such cases filed during the same period in 1988, and more than 17 percent below the 32,916 filed during the first six months of 1989. The number of civil cases closed was also lower, falling six percent to 224,514. Even with the decline, terminations outnumbered filings, resulting in a slight reduction in the pending caseload. The civil pending caseload, which has remained relatively steady throughout most of the 1980s, declined less than one percent, to 244,198 cases.

Criminal cases filed in the district courts continued to increase this year to 47,779 cases, up seven percent over the 44,761 cases filed in 1988. There were several offense categories with increased levels of prosecutions. The most significant increase was for drug offenses, where case filings rose from 10,904 last year, to 12,782 in 1989, an increase of 17 percent. Over the last five years, criminal case filings overall have grown by 17 percent, while drug filings alone have increased by 75 percent. Drug cases have accounted for 80 percent of the overall increase in case filings during that time, and now represent 27 percent of all criminal cases. The number of criminal cases closed also increased this year by seven percent to 44,068 cases, up from 41,136 cases last year. With filings still exceeding closings, however, the pending caseload rose by 12 percent. On December 31, 1989, there were 33,586 pending criminal cases, involving 49,914 defendants.

During 1989, there were 679,980 bankruptcy petitions filed in the bankruptcy courts, an increase of 11 percent over 1988. The overall increase in filings this year was the result of a 12 percent increase in non-business filings, with increases of ten percent in Chapter 7 liquidations and 18 percent in Chapter 13 debt adjustments. Filings under Chapter 11, which represent only a fraction of the non-business total, declined for the third straight year. Overall, there was a small decrease (one percent) in business filings. This resulted from a three percent drop in Chapter 7 filings. Despite the overall decline in business filings, Chapter 11 business reorganizations rose five percent to 16,303, the first increase since 1986. Chapter 13 business debt adjustments also increased in 1989, up six percent. Filings of family farmer business debt adjustments under Chapter 12, which was initiated in 1986, continued to decline. Only 1,440 petitions were filed under Chapter 12 in 1989, down almost 30 percent from the 2,037 filed in 1988, and down more than 70 percent from the high in 1987. The number of terminations in 1989 increased to 594,237, up more than two percent from a year ago. As a result of the large volume of new filings, the pending caseload reached an all-time high of 927,437 petitions as of December 31, 1989, more than ten percent above the 841,694 petitions pending last year. The rate of increase in the pending caseload is up substantially from the four percent rate reported in 1988.

Mr. Mecham also reported that as of March 13, 1990, there were 18 vacancies among the 168 judgeship positions authorized for the United States courts of appeals, 45 vacancies among the 575 positions authorized for the United States district courts, and one vacancy on the United States Court of International Trade.

FEDERAL HABEAS CORPUS IN CAPITAL CASES

In June, 1988, the Chief Justice appointed an Ad Hoc Committee on Federal Habeas Corpus in Capital Cases, to inquire into "the necessity and desirability of legislation directed toward avoiding delay and the lack of finality" in capital cases in which the prisoner had or had been offered counsel. Retired Associate Justice Lewis F. Powell, Jr., chaired the Committee, which also included Judges Charles Clark, Paul H. Roney, William Terrell Hodges, and Barefoot Sanders.

In September, 1989 (Conf. Rpt., pp. 83-84), the Judicial Conference received the report of its Ad Hoc Committee, which proposed draft legislation to revise the existing habeas corpus statutory procedure with respect to those states that establish a system for the appointment and compensation of competent counsel throughout all stages of state post-conviction review. The draft bill recommended by the Ad Hoc Committee would limit the period within which a federal habeas petition must be filed; establish an automatic stay of execution until federal habeas proceedings are completed; and preclude relief or further stays of execution if prisoners file successive petitions for habeas corpus in federal court after they have had one full course of federal collateral review, absent extraordinary circumstances and a colorable showing of factual innocence. The Conference determined at that time to release the report to the public, discharge the Ad Hoc Committee from further service, and postpone additional consideration of its report until the current meeting.

The Conference revised the recommendations of the Ad Hoc Committee report, together with five proposals for modification submitted by Conference members. After renewed consideration, the Conference endorsed the objectives of the Ad Hoc Committee report (1) to eliminate piecemeal appeals; (2) to provide an automatic stay in capital cases in order to obviate successful petitions for stay; and (3) to provide competent counsel on state post-conviction cases. It further endorsed the recommendations of the Ad Hoc Committee report with the following modifications:

1. Specific mandatory standards similar to those set forth in the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 should be required with respect to the appointment and compensation of counsel for capital defendants at all stages of the state and federal capital punishment litigation.
2. A federal court should entertain a second or successive petition for habeas corpus relief if (a) the request for relief is based on a claim not previously presented by the prisoner in the state and federal courts and the failure to raise the claim is the result of state action in violation of the Constitution or laws of the United States, the result of Supreme Court recognition of a new federal right that is retroactively applicable, or based on a factual predicate that could not have been discovered through the exercise of reasonable diligence; and (b) the facts underlying the claim would be sufficient, if proven, to undermine the court's confidence in the jury's determination of guilt on the offense or offenses for which the death penalty was imposed, or in the appropriateness of the sentence of death.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

CIVIL JUSTICE REFORM ACT

S. 2027 and H.R. 3898 (101st Congress), the proposed Civil Justice Reform Act, would, inter alia, require all federal district courts to adopt "civil justice expense and delay reduction plans" within one year of enactment. The bills are based on the recommendations of a Brookings Institution task force report entitled, "Justice for All, Reducing Costs and Delay in Civil Litigation".

In recognition of the substantial impact this legislation would have on the federal courts if enacted, and of the proposed "fast track" for enactment, the Executive Committee appointed a subcommittee composed of District Judges Robert F. Peckham (chairman), Sarah Evans Barker, John F. Nangle, and Aubrey E. Robinson, Jr., to develop a strategy for consideration and appropriate Conference action.

Between February 28 and March 9, 1990, the Executive Committee held four teleconferences to discuss this matter, and agreed to recommend that, at its March 13 session, the Judicial Conference oppose this legislation in its present form; approve a description and analysis of the bills; reaffirm its long-standing commitment to case management by adopting a "Statement on Case Management"; and authorize the Secretary of the Conference to disseminate the Conference's position to all judicial officers and to others in the judicial community.

On March 13, 1990, the Judicial Conference unanimously approved these recommendations.

* * * * *

The Executive Committee also reported that, since the last session of the Conference in September, 1989, it had addressed the following matters on the Conference's behalf:

APPROPRIATIONS FOR THE FISCAL YEAR 1990

On December 18, 1989, the Executive Committee approved spending plans for the "Salaries and Expenses" and "Court Security" appropriations for the fiscal year 1990. In the aftermath of the tragic death of Judge Robert Vance, $5,000,000 withheld in the "Court Security" spending plan was restored by the Committee on February 14, 1990.

ADDITIONAL JUDGESHIPS

The Executive Committee agreed to revise the 1988 Judgeship Survey to include five additional judgeships for the Sixth Circuit, and one additional judgeship for the Northern District of Texas.

TRAVEL REGULATIONS FOR JUSTICES AND JUDGES

Effective January 1, 1990, the Committee amended the travel regulations for justices and judges to raise the alternative maximum actual subsistence expense allowance to $175 per day.¹

SENIOR JUDGE LEGISLATION

Section 705 of the Ethics Reform Act of 1989 (Public Law 101-194) enacted new section 371(f) of title 28, creating a new work certification requirement for senior judges. With respect to work performed after January 1, 1990, in order to continue receiving the full salary of the office including increases of a non-routine nature, senior judges must be certified by the chief judge of the circuit as having met one of five specified work requirements. Rules and standards for meeting the work requirements are to be promulgated by the Judicial Conference.

¹ Effective March 13, 1990, the Conference in plenary session raised the $175 alternative maximum subsistence rate to $225 daily, with annual increases to account for inflation. See "Travel Regulations for Justices and Judges", infra p. 22.

On February 14, 1990, the Executive Committee promulgated interim rules for senior judge workload certifications for the calendar year 1990. See also "Senior Judge Legislation", infra p. 20.

FEDERAL COURTS STUDY COMMITTEE

Title I of Public Law 100-702, the Federal Courts Study Act, established within the Judicial Conference a Federal Courts Study Committee on the future of the federal judiciary. No later than April 2, 1990, the Committee is required to file its final report with the Conference, the President, the Congress, and others.

In a draft dated December 22, 1989, the Study Committee circulated recommendations for public comment and, on the Conference's behalf, the Executive Committee agreed that comment on two matters would be appropriate. The Executive Committee advised the Study Committee of its support for the establishment of a long-range strategic planning committee for the judiciary, to be placed under the Executive Committee of the Conference, with staffing of the function to be determined by the Executive Committee. The Executive Committee also endorsed a recommendation to the Study Committee to retain in the Administrative Office responsibility for developing judicial impact statements.

The Study Committee's final recommendations will be circulated to all Conference committees for further comment and subsequent action by the Executive Committee.

MISCELLANEOUS ACTIONS

The Executive Committee declined to take a position on Title II of H.R. 1620, 101st Congress, which would create a National Commission on Judicial Impeachment; directed that an incentive award be conferred upon the Director of the Administrative Office; approved the convening of a sentencing institute in September, 1990, for the judges of the Fifth and Eleventh Circuits; authorized the Ninth Circuit to grant special awards to court employees who displayed exemplary dedication following the recent earthquake, and extended the same opportunity to the First, Third, and Fourth Circuits for similar actions during and following Hurricane Hugo (see also, "Resolution", infra p. 26); approved technical amendments to the bankruptcy court miscellaneous fee schedule; directed the Administrative Office to draft amendments to improve the Judicial Survivors' Annuities System (JSAS); and approved amendments to the "computer-assisted legal research in chambers" program.

COMMITTEE ON THE ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE

The Committee on the Administrative Office reported on briefings and tours of the agency, held in November, 1989. The Committee concluded that, overall, the Administrative Office is functioning appropriately. The Director, advised of areas of concern, agreed to address those areas.

COMMITTEE ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE BANKRUPTCY SYSTEM

ADDITIONAL JUDGESHIPS

In order to respond to sharp and steady increases in bankruptcy filings, the Conference voted to recommend that Congress authorize one additional bankruptcy judgeship each for the District of Colorado, the District of Maryland, the District of Puerto Rico, the Southern District of Florida, the Eastern District of Virginia to be stationed at Norfolk, and two additional judgeships for the Middle District of Florida to be stationed at Orlando and Tampa.

BANKRUPTCY ADMINISTRATOR PROGRAM

The Bankruptcy Judges, United States Trustees, and Family Farmer Bankruptcy Act of 1986 (Public Law 99-554), which provided for the expansion of the United States trustee program nationwide, excepted the judicial districts in Alabama and North Carolina until October 1, 1992 (or the election by a district to be included in the U.S. trustee system).

The Federal Judicial Center is studying the operation of the bankruptcy administrator program. In an interim report, the Judicial Center has concluded that, although bankruptcy administrators are not statutorily afforded standing to raise issues and be heard in court, the program appears to be accomplishing its statutory tasks.

The Conference agreed to recommend that Congress enact legislation (a) continuing the bankruptcy administrator program; (b) granting bankruptcy administrators status similar to United States trustees; and (c) permitting judicial districts to opt out of the U.S. trustee system and into the bankruptcy administrator program.

ADDITIONAL DUTY STATIONS AND PLACES OF HOLDING COURT FOR BANKRUPTCY JUDGES

The Conference changed the official duty station of a bankruptcy judge from Spokane to Yakima, Washington, and designated Phoenix, Arizona, as the official duty station for the additional judgeship for the District of Arizona authorized by Public Law 100-587.

NOTICING GUIDELINES

In order to conform the Conference's bankruptcy noticing guidelines with recent changes in the schedule of miscellaneous fees to be charged in the bankruptcy courts, the Conference amended Guideline 5 to read as follows:

5. Fee for Noticing by Clerks. For all notices generated in cases filed under title 11 of the United States Code, 50 cents each. Notices dated prior to January 1, 1987, should be charged at the rate of 25 cents for each notice in excess of fifty notices per set. Notice fees are payable only from the estate and only to the extent there is an estate.

COMMITTEE ON THE BICENTENNIAL OF THE CONSTITUTION

The Committee on the Bicentennial of the Constitution reported on its participation in the Bicentennial effort. The Committee has been active in promoting and funding Bicentennial activities, including the International Appellate Judges Conference. See infra, p. 20.

COMMITTEE ON THE BUDGET

ASSET FORFEITURE FUND AMENDMENTS

In the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 (Public Law 100-690), Congress authorized reimbursement to the judicial branch from the Crime Victims Fund for the judiciary's administrative costs of monitoring and collection. Observing that reimbursement from the Asset Forfeiture Fund is indistinguishable in principle from reimbursement from the Crime Victims Fund, the Budget and Criminal Law and Probation Administration Committees recommended that 28 U.S.C. 524(c) be amended to authorize such reimbursement for adjudication and home detention costs. The Conference agreed, voting to seek such an amendment from the Congress.

COMMITTEE ON THE CODES OF CONDUCT

FEDERAL ETHICS LAW REFORM

Among other things, the Ethics Reform Act of 1989 (Public Law 101-194) imposed new statutory rules for officers and employees in the judiciary governing the receipt of gifts and honoraria, outside earned income, and other outside activities. The Act authorizes the Judicial Conference to issue regulations with respect to the judicial branch under Titles III (relating to gifts to federal employees) and VI (relating to limitations on outside earned income, outside employment, and honoraria). This gives the Judicial Conference a supervisory and regulatory role over the Supreme Court and the Federal Judicial Center, two entities over which the Conference has heretofore had no jurisdiction.

The Judicial Conference authorized the Executive Committee to adopt and implement regulations under these titles, and the Committee on Codes of Conduct to issue advisory opinions interpreting these titles, for all officers and employees of the judicial branch except those of the Supreme Court and the Federal Judicial Center. The Conference also authorized the Executive Committee to amend the Code of Conduct for United States Judges and the comparable canons for other members of the judicial branch to conform, where appropriate, to the regulations adopted under Titles III and VI. With respect to adopting and implementing regulations for officers and employees of the Supreme Court and the Judicial Center, the Conference delegated its authority to the Chief Justice of the United States and the Judicial Center Board, respectively.

JUDICIAL DISCIPLINE AND IMPEACHMENT

S.J. Res. 11, 232, and 233 (101st Congress) propose constitutional amendments concerning the impeachment of judges. The Conference voted to oppose all three measures as unnecessary, unwise, and threatening to judicial independence.

COMMITTEE ON THE COURT SECURITY

PARTICIPATION ON LOCAL COURT SECURITY COMMITTEES

In March, 1989 (Conf. Rpt., p. 13), in order to improve the security of the courts, the Judicial Conference approved expanding the membership of district court security committees to include a representative of the bankruptcy court and, where there is a court of appeals within the district, a representative of that court. At this session, noting that United States magistrates are often the first line of the judiciary in criminal proceedings, the Conference approved expanding the membership of district court security committees to include a magistrate.

OFF-SITE SECURITY OF JUDICIAL OFFICERS AND THEIR FAMILIES

The Conference approved the following resolution declaring a state of emergency as to the off-site security of judicial officers and their families, and requesting that the Attorney General address the situation immediately:

The death of District Judge Richard J. Daronco at his home two years ago, the recent death of Circuit Judge Robert S. Vance at his home in Birmingham, the bomb intercepted at the courthouse in Atlanta, the public threats against all federal judges in the Eleventh Circuit, and the bombs mailed to offices of persons engaged in Civil Rights activities, convince the Judicial Conference that a state of emergency exists as to the off-site security of judicial officers and their families, and the Judicial Conference requests that the Attorney General of the United States immediately address the situation.

COMMITTEE ON CRIMINAL LAW AND PROBATION ADMINISTRATION

MANDATORY MINIMUM SENTENCES

Observing that the Third, Eighth, Ninth, and Tenth Circuits had passed resolutions in opposition to mandatory minimum sentences, the Judicial Conference voted to urge the Congress to reconsider the wisdom of mandatory minimum sentence statutes and to restructure such statutes so that the U.S. Sentencing Commission may uniformly establish guidelines for all criminal statutes to avoid unwarranted disparities from the scheme of the Sentencing Reform Act (Title II of the Comprehensive Crime Control Act of 1984, Public Law 98-473).

PRETRIAL DETENTION CRISIS

Noting that the average number of defendants in pretrial detention has more than doubled in the past four years, and that many of these defendants must be detained at great distance from places of trial, the Conference adopted a resolution recognizing this pretrial detention crisis, and recommending that the Congress provide adequate funding to the Bureau of Prisons, the U. S. Marshals Service, and U. S. pretrial services officers to provide for adequate custody and supervision of pretrial detainees. The Conference also supported the development of alternatives to incarceration for some offenders, and broader experimentation with remedies such as video access to prisoners at remote facilities by attorneys and other court officers.

MANDATORY DETENTION FOR OFFENDERS CONVICTED OF SERIOUS CRIMES ACT

S. 1259 (101st Congress) would amend 18 U.S.C. 3143 to require the detention of any person found guilty of a violent offense or serious drug offenses, pending sentence or appeal. Since courts have ample legal authority to detain convicted defendants when circumstances warrant, the Conference voted to oppose the bill.

PRETRIAL SERVICES REPORTS

In order to increase local flexibility, the Conference agreed to recommend that Congress amend 18 U.S.C. 3154 to remove the requirement for pretrial services reports in Class A misdemeanor cases.

COMMITTEE ON DEFENDER SERVICES

APPOINTMENTS AND PAYMENTS

The Defender Services Committee reported that, during the fiscal year 1989, approximately 69,954 persons were represented under the Criminal Justice Act, compared to 65,507 persons during the fiscal year 1988, an increase of 6.8 percent. Of the 69,954 persons represented, approximately 36,000, or 51.5 percent, were represented by federal public and community defender organizations.

BUDGET AND GRANT REQUESTS - FEDERAL PUBLIC AND COMMUNITY DEFENDER ORGANIZATIONS

The Committee approved a request from the Federal Public Defender Organization for the Southern District of West Virginia for an increase in its allocation of $56,500, to support the employment of an automation specialist to provide field support for national automation efforts. The Committee also approved a sustaining grant for the fiscal year 1991 for a sixteenth death penalty resource center, for the Northern and Southern Districts of Ohio, in the amount of $960,047, contingent upon the organization's securing the requisite amount of non-CJA funds, and further contingent upon the approval of amendments to the CJA plans for the districts to be served.

REDUCTION OF CJA VOUCHERS

The Judicial Conference declined to replace the language in Paragraph 2.22(D) of the Guidelines for the Administration of the Criminal Justice Act with language advising judicial officers to provide appointed counsel with the opportunity to respond to proposed reductions in vouchers. The Conference also declined to approve the transmittal of a recommendation to the circuit councils that they adopt local procedures providing that presiding judicial officers shall afford counsel an opportunity to respond to a proposed fee reduction.

COMMITTEE ON FEDERAL-STATE JURISDICTION

STATE-FEDERAL JUDICIAL COUNCIL

The Judicial Conference approved in principle creation of a National State-Federal Judicial Council, as suggested by the Conference of [State] Chief Justices. A specific proposal will be presented to the Conference in September, 1990.

PORNOGRAPHY VICTIMS' COMPENSATION ACT

The Conference voted to oppose H.R. 3785 (101st Congress), the proposed Pornography Victims' Compensation Act, insofar as it would create a private right of action in the federal courts by victims of violent crime against producers and distributors of sexually explicit materials in certain circumstances. The subject matter of the legislation falls within the traditional scope of state law, and there is no need for actions in the federal court to vindicate federal interests or policies.

INTERSTATE GREYHOUND RACING ACT

Since enforcement of state regulatory schemes relating to matters such as off-track betting on greyhound racing is a matter traditionally left to the states, the Conference opposed S. 1745 (101st Congress), the proposed Interstate Greyhound Racing Act of 1989, insofar as it would create a private right of action in federal courts for damages resulting from the making of interstate off-track wagers on greyhound races.

CIVIL PRIORITIES

The appropriations act for the Department of the Interior for the fiscal year 1990 establishes a priority for federal court actions challenging timber sales in forests with the northern spotted owl, and also requires that final decisions in such matters must be rendered within 45 days. Establishing civil priorities, and imposing time limits on the judicial decision-making process, are inimical to effective civil case management and unduly hamper exercise of the necessary discretion in the performance of judicial functions. Accordingly, the Conference voted to oppose reenactment of these provisions.

COMMERCE IN INDIAN-PRODUCED GOODS

The Conference opposed H.R. 2006 (101st Congress), insofar as the bill would provide a private right of action in the federal courts for damages for false representations that goods are Indian-produced.

TRAVEL REGULATIONS FOR JUSTICES AND JUDGES

The Conference resolved that a joint meeting of the Conference of Chief Justices and the Judicial Conference of the United States in Washington, D.C., on September 10, 1990, shall be considered a "Judicial Conference Committee meeting" for purposes of section D.1.a(5) of the travel regulations for justices and judges. See also "Travel Regulations for Justices and Judges", infra p. 20.

COMMITTEE ON INTERCIRCUIT ASSIGNMENTS

The Committee on Intercircuit Assignments reported that during the period August 15, 1989, through January 30, 1990, the Committee had recommended 89 intercircuit assignments to be undertaken by 72 judges. Of this number, 18 were senior circuit judges, three were active circuit judges, 27 were senior district judges, 18 were active district judges, two were senior judges of the Court of International Trade, and four were active judges of the Court of International Trade.

Of the 89 assignments approved, 46 judges undertook 58 assignments to the courts of appeals, and 28 judges undertook 31 assignments to the district courts.

TRAVEL REGULATIONS FOR JUSTICES AND JUDGES

The Conference resolved that the International Appellate Judges Conference shall be considered a "Judicial Conference Committee meeting" for purposes of section D.1.a(5) of the travel regulations for justices and judges. See also "Travel Regulations for Justices and Judges", supra p. 19.

COMMITTEE ON THE JUDICIAL BRANCH

SENIOR JUDGE LEGISLATION

As noted supra pp. 10-11, on February 14, 1990, the Executive Committee promulgated interim rules for senior judge workload certifications for the calendar year 1990.

On March 13, 1990, the Conference in plenary session approved a two-step procedure for promulgating permanent rules for certification of senior judges under 28 U.S.C. 371(f): first, the interim rules would be distributed to all Article III judges for notice and comment; and second, after comments had been taken into account, permanent rules for calendar year 1991 and thereafter would be presented to the Judicial Conference in September, 1990.

COMMITTEE ON JUDICIAL ETHICS

The Committee on Judicial Ethics reported that as of January, 1990, the Committee had received 2,509 financial disclosure reports and certifications for the calendar year 1988, including 1,024 reports and certifications from judicial officers and 1,485 reports and certifications from judicial employees.

COMMITTEE ON JUDICIAL IMPROVEMENTS

AUTOMATION

The Judicial Conference approved the 1990 update to the Long Range Plan for Automation in the United States Courts. The Conference declined to delegate authority to the Judicial Improvements Committee to approve the annual updates of the Plan on the Conference's behalf.

MISCELLANEOUS FEES

The Conference amended the schedules of fees to be charged in the district and bankruptcy courts to establish the following rates for electronic access to court data on the PACER system, barring congressional objection. PACER allows a law firm, or other organization or individual, to use a personal computer to access a court's computer and extract public data in the form of docket sheets, calendars, and other records.

Yearly Subscription Rate:

Commercial - $60 per court
Non-profit - $30 per court

Per Minute Charge:

Commercial - $1.00
Non-profit - $0.50

Under language included in the judiciary's appropriations act for the fiscal year 1990 (Public Law 101-162), the judiciary will be entitled to retain the fees collected for PACER services in the bankruptcy courts. The Conference agreed to seek similar legislative language to permit the judiciary to retain the fees collected for district court PACER services.

COURT-ANNEXED ARBITRATION

Title IX of the Judicial Improvements and Access to Justice Act (Public Law 100-702) provided statutory authorization for the current ten-district court-annexed arbitration program. It also authorized ten additional courts to establish programs of arbitration by consent of the parties.

The Judicial Conference approved for inclusion in the consensual arbitration program the Northern and Western Districts of New York, the Western District of Pennsylvania, the Eastern District of Texas, the Western District of Kentucky, the bankruptcy court of the Southern District of Indiana, the Eastern District of Washington, the District of Utah, and the Middle District of Georgia. The Conference delegated authority to the Committee to authorize a tenth court for future inclusion in the consensual arbitration program, and to replace any court that might withdraw.

TRAVEL REGULATIONS FOR JUSTICES AND JUDGES

As noted supra p. 10, the Executive Committee amended the travel regulations for justices and judges to raise the alternative maximum actual subsistence expense allowance to $175 per day. Effective March 13, 1990, the Conference in plenary session further increased the $175 maximum to $225 per day, with annual increases authorized to account for future inflation.

In addition, observing that it would be appropriate for judges to receive local subsistence at irregular and special conferences such as meetings of Judicial Conference committees or circuit judicial conferences, the Conference voted to seek amendments to 28 U.S.C. 456(a) and 604(a)(7) to authorize payment of subsistence and local travel expenses to judicial officers when conducting official business (not ordinarily performed in the daily conduct of official duties) at their official stations.

COMPUTER-ASSISTED LEGAL RESEARCH

Computer-assisted legal research (CALR) is now widely used by the bench, bar, and public. Accordingly, the Conference agreed to adopt a policy encouraging courts to allow the use of parallel electronic citations to federal court opinions.

NATURALIZATION PROCEEDINGS

Both the House and Senate in the 101st Congress have passed separate bills (Title II of S. 358; H.R. 1630) that would shift the substantial administrative responsibilities of the courts in the current naturalization process to the Immigration and Naturalization Service, including the oath ceremony (unless the alien asks for a court oath ceremony).

At the Committee's direction, a survey was conducted of the chief judges and clerks of court of the fourteen districts in which two-thirds of the total petitions for naturalization are filed. After obtaining comments, the Committee recommended that the Judicial Conference support these bills in principle, and also propose:

1. an amendment to relieve clerks of additional routine record-keeping responsibilities;
2. an amendment to provide a period of 45 days after certification by the INS to a court of the eligibility of an alien for citizenship, during which the court would have exclusive jurisdiction to conduct the naturalization ceremony, all or part of such period to be subject to waiver by the court on an individual, group, or across-the-board basis as provided by local rule or otherwise; and
3. that the legislative history of the bills emphasize the fundamental interest in a dignified, citizenship-oriented ceremony similar to current judicial ceremonies, and encourage the Immigration and Naturalization Service to develop a model plan that would include coordination with, and participation of, federal judges interested in enhancing the effectiveness of the administrative naturalization ceremony.

The Conference voted to support the recommendations.

COMMITTEE ON JUDICIAL RESOURCES

JUDICIARY SALARY PLAN MODIFICATIONS

On recommendation of the Committee on Judicial Resources, the Judicial Conference approved the following modifications to the Judiciary Salary Plan (JSP):

1. Establishing an organizational structure for a JSP-15 chief deputy position (JSP-16 if meeting criteria for consolidated courts) and up to two JSP-14 mid-managerial positions, exclusive of appropriately classified deputy-in-charge positions, in courts where the clerk of court or chief probation officer position warrants a grade JSP-17 classification.
2. Deleting from the jury administrator classification standard the requirements that courts must have five or more judicial officers and hold 50 or more jury trials to be authorized a JSP-10 position.
3. Eliminating the "career" designation requirement for appointment or promotion of law clerks and staff attorneys to JSP-13 and JSP-14. For retirement purposes only, the Conference reaffirmed its March, 1987 resolution (Conf. Rpt., p. 11), that an individual hired in one of these positions for a period understood to be less than four years shall be appointed as a "term" employee and subject only to contributions for social security, not federal retirement.

4. Establishing the position of deputy circuit executive, grade JSP-15, in each circuit executive's office, with no additional personnel to be assigned for this purpose, or additional promotions authorized where an administrative assistant to the circuit executive currently holds the JSP-15 grade.
5. Reclassifying circuit librarian positions from JSP-14 to JSP-15.
6. Establishing four automation-related position classifications to support personal computer-based automation efforts: supervisor, JSP-12; PC system administrator, JSP-11; automation support specialist, JSP-9; and depot maintenance technician, JSP-9.

EMPLOYEE RECOGNITION PLAN

Section 604(a)(22) of title 28 authorizes the Director of the Administrative Office, under the supervision of the Judicial Conference, to establish an Employee Recognition Program for judicial branch employees. On the Committee's recommendation, the Conference approved an Employee Recognition Plan, including special service awards, quality step increases, and the recently-approved longevity bonus program (see September 1989 session, Conf. Rpt., p. 72).

"SAVED GRADE AND SAVED PAY" POLICY

On March 14, 1989 (Conf. Rpt., p. 21), the Judicial Conference approved a "saved grade and saved pay" policy for judiciary employees whose positions are abolished and who are qualified for, and selected for, lower graded positions in the judiciary. At this session, the Conference amended the policy to apply prospectively only, from the date the policy was enacted in March, 1989.

BANKRUPTCY WORK MEASUREMENT FORMULA

The Conference endorsed two modifications of the bankruptcy work measurement formula, to revise the credit given for divisional offices and to increase the credit for Chapter 13 cases.

RESOLUTION

The Conference passed the following resolution in recognition of extraordinary performance by court employees to ensure quick return of normal operations in courts affected by Hurricane Hugo:

The Judicial Conference of the United States notes the extraordinary performance and exemplary dedication to the federal court system of all the court employees in those courts that were affected by Hurricane Hugo. The Conference expresses special thanks to the employees of the federal courts in the United States Virgin Islands, Old San Juan and Hato Rey, Puerto Rico, and Charleston, South Carolina, where the devastating effects of the hurricane were felt most directly. The courage and hard work of the court employees in those locations helped to ensure the quick return of those courts to normal operations.

By this resolution, the Conference recognizes the fine efforts of all employees involved and expresses its deepest appreciation.

See also "Miscellaneous Actions" of the Executive Committee, supra p. 12.

SALARIES OF PART-TIME MAGISTRATES

In accordance with the Ethics Reform Act of 1989 (Public Law 101-194), full-time U.S. magistrates received a 7.9 percent cost-of-living adjustment, effective February 1, 1990. By Judicial Conference resolution of March, 1988 (Conf. Rpt., pp. 34-35), part-time magistrates are authorized the same cost-of-living adjustments granted to full-time magistrates, effective upon the same date as the adjustments for full-time magistrates. As part of the transition to the 1988 salary structure, the salaries of certain part-time magistrates in the pre-1988 structure were maintained at existing levels until further specific action of the Conference.

As approved, effective February 1, 1990, the new salary structure is as follows:

Level	Amount
2	$ 4,444
3	$ 6,665
4	$ 8,887
5	$11,109
6	$13,331
7	$15,553
8	$17,774
9	$22,218
10	$26,662
11	$31,105
12	$35,549
14	$44,436

The Conference withheld the 7.9 percent cost-of-living adjustments from magistrate positions compensated at frozen pay levels $3,265, $4,354, $7,740, and $21,650 in the pre-1988 structure, except that, retroactive to February 1, 1990:

- (a) the salaries of the following part-time magistrate positions, previously frozen at $4,354 per annum, were increased to $4,444 per annum:

Cape Girardeau, Missouri
Vancouver, Washington
Bellingham, Washington
Dublin (or Statesboro), Georgia; and

- (b) the salaries of the following part-time magistrate positions, previously frozen at $21,650 per annum, were increased to $22,218 per annum:

Erie, Pennsylvania
Midland (or Odessa), Texas
Hot Springs, Arkansas
Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.²

CHANGES IN MAGISTRATE POSITIONS

After consideration of the report of the Committee and the recommendations of the Director of the Administrative Office, the district courts, and the judicial councils of the circuits, the Conference approved the following changes in salaries and arrangements for full-time and part-time magistrate positions. Unless otherwise indicated, these changes are to be effective when appropriated funds are available.

FIRST CIRCUIT

Massachusetts:

Increased the salary of the part-time magistrate position at Cape Cod National Seashore from $4,354 per annum to $4,444 per annum, retroactive to February 1, 1990.

Rhode Island:

1. Established a part-time magistrate position at Providence at a salary of $31,105 per annum, in lieu of the clerk/magistrate position; and
2. Continued the authority of the clerk of court to perform magistrate duties for an additional four-year term, but discontinued such authority upon appointment of the part-time magistrate.

² The part-time magistrate position at Jackson, Tennessee, was erroneously included by the Judicial Conference in this category. However, in March, 1989 (Conf. Rpt., p. 28), the Judicial Conference increased the salary of this position to level 10 of the part-time magistrate structure. In accordance with the new salary structure (see above), the salary of that position is currently $26,662.

SECOND CIRCUIT

New York, Northern:

1. Converted the part-time magistrate position at Watertown to a full-time position at that location;
2. Authorized a part-time magistrate position to serve the court at Syracuse or Utica at a salary of $44,436 per annum; and
3. Continued the part-time magistrate position at Plattsburgh for an additional four-year term and increased the salary of the position from $4,354 per annum to $6,665 per annum.

New York, Southern:

Authorized an additional full-time magistrate position to serve the court at New York City.

New York, Western:

Authorized an additional full-time magistrate position to serve the court at Buffalo (or Rochester).

THIRD CIRCUIT

Pennsylvania, Middle:

1. Continued the part-time magistrate position at Stroudsburg for an additional four-year term at the currently authorized salary of $17,774 per annum; and
2. Continued the part-time magistrate position at Williamsport for an additional four-year term and increased the salary from $4,354 per annum to $4,444 per annum, retroactive to February 1, 1990.

Pennsylvania, Western:

Continued the part-time magistrate position at Erie for an additional four-year term but deferred action on any change in the salary of the position for the new term.

Virgin Islands:

FOURTH CIRCUIT

Maryland:

Increased the salary of the part-time magistrate position at Salisbury (and Assateague Island National Seashore) from $4,354 per annum to $4,444 per annum, retroactive to February 1, 1990.

West Virginia, Southern: .

FIFTH CIRCUIT

Louisiana, Western:

1. Continued the full-time magistrate position at Lafayette (or Opelousas) for an additional eight-year term; and
2. Made no change in the status of the part-time magistrate position at Lafayette (or Opelousas).

Texas, Northern:

1. Continued the full-time magistrate position at Fort Worth for an additional eight-year term;

2. Continued the part-time magistrate position at San Angelo for an additional four-year term and increased the salary from $2,264 per annum to $6,665 per annum; and
3. Continued the part-time magistrate position at Abilene for an additional four-year term and increased the salary from $2,264 per annum to $6,665 per annum.

Texas, Western:

1. Continued the full-time magistrate position at El Paso which is due to expire on January 25, 1991, for an additional eight-year term;
2. Continued the full-time magistrate position at Del Rio for an additional eight-year term; and
3. Increased the salary of the part-time magistrate position at Big Bend National Park from $16,468 per annum to $26,662 per annum.

SIXTH CIRCUIT

Kentucky, Eastern:

Continued the part-time magistrate position at Covington for an additional four-year term and increased the salary from $12,351 per annum to $35,549 per annum.

Tennessee, Eastern:

1. Authorized an additional full-time magistrate position to serve the court at Knoxville (or Chattanooga); and
2. Discontinued the part-time magistrate position at Sevierville (or Gatlinburg), effective upon the appointment of the new full-time magistrate.

Tennessee, Western:

Converted the part-time magistrate position at Jackson to a full-time position to serve the court at Jackson or Memphis.

SEVENTH CIRCUIT

Wisconsin, Eastern:

1. Continued the full-time magistrate position at Milwaukee which is due to expire on December 29, 1991, for an additional eight-year term; and
2. Continued the part-time magistrate position at Green Bay for an additional four-year term but decreased the salary from $4,354 per annum to $2,444 per annum, effective upon commencement of the new term.

EIGHTH CIRCUIT

Arkansas, Eastern:

Authorized a fourth full-time magistrate position to serve the court at Little Rock.

Arkansas, Western:

1. Continued the part-time magistrate position at El Dorado for an additional four-year term and increased the salary from $2,264 per annum to $4,444 per annum; and
2. Continued the part-time magistrate position at Harrison for an additional four-year term and increased the salary from $4,354 per annum to $4,444 per annum, retroactive to February 1, 1990.

Iowa, Northern:

Maintained the salary of the part-time magistrate position at Sioux City at the current level of $3,265 per annum until further specific action on the position.

Iowa, Southern:

Increased the salary of the part-time magistrate position at Burlington from $4,354 per annum to $4,444 per annum, retroactive to February 1, 1990.

Minnesota:

Continued the part-time magistrate position at Bemidji for an additional four-year term at the currently authorized salary of $2,444 per annum.

Nebraska:

Continued the part-time magistrate position at North Platte for an additional four-year term at the currently authorized salary of $2,444 per annum.

South Dakota:

Continued the part-time magistrate position at Aberdeen for an additional four-year term and increased the salary from $3,265 per annum to $4,444 per annum.

NINTH CIRCUIT

Alaska:

Increased the salary of the part-time magistrate position at Kodiak from $3,265 per annum to $4,444 per annum.

Arizona:

1. Authorized a full-time magistrate position at Flagstaff;
2. Discontinued the part-time magistrate position at Flagstaff upon the appointment of the full-time magistrate at that location;

3. Discontinued the part-time magistrate position at Grand Canyon National Park upon the expiration of the current term or upon the appointment of the full-time magistrate at Flagstaff, whichever is later;
4. Discontinued the part-time magistrate position at Window Rock (or Holbrook) upon the expiration of the current term; and
5. Discontinued the part-time magistrate position at Kingman.

California, Northern:

Continued the part-time magistrate position at Eureka for an additional four-year term and increased the salary of the position from $4,354 per annum to $4,444 per annum, retroactive to February 1, 1990.

California, Eastern:

1. Continued the part-time magistrate position at Yreka for an additional four-year term and increased the salary from $3,265 per annum to $4,444 per annum; and
2. Increased the salary of the part-time magistrate position at Susanville from $3,265 per annum to $15,553 per annum for a four-month period commencing April 1, 1990, with a reduction to $6,665 per annum thereafter.

California, Central:

Continued the part-time magistrate position at Palm Springs (or Twentynine Palms) for an additional four-year term and increased the salary from $4,354 per annum to $4,444 per annum, retroactive to February 1, 1990.

Montana:

1. Continued the part-time magistrate position at Helena for an additional four-year term and increased the salary from $4,354 per annum to $6,665 per annum;

2. Increased the salary of the part-time magistrate position at Missoula from $3,265 per annum to $4,444 per annum; and
3. Continued the part-time magistrate position at Cut Bank for an additional four-year term at the currently authorized salary of $2,444 per annum.

Oregon:

1. Increased the salary of the part-time magistrate position at Bend from $3,265 per annum to $4,444 per annum; and
2. Increased the salary of the part-time magistrate position at Pendleton from $4,354 per annum to $4,444 per annum, retroactive to February 1, 1990.

Washington, Eastern:

Continued the part-time magistrate position at Yakima for an additional four-year term at the currently authorized salary of $26,662 per annum.

TENTH CIRCUIT

Colorado:

Continued the part-time magistrate position at Colorado Springs for an additional four-year term at the currently authorized salary of $44,436 per annum.

New Mexico:

1. Increased the salary of the part-time magistrate position at Alamogordo from $3,265 per annum to $6,665 per annum;
2. Increased the salary of the part-time magistrate position at Santa Fe from $4,354 per annum to $4,444 per annum, retroactive to February 1, 1990; and

COMMITTEE ON PACIFIC TERRITORIES

The Committee on Pacific Territories reported on legal developments in the Pacific Islands and progress on pending legislation of interest to the Committee.

COMMITTEE ON RULES OF PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE

CRIMINAL RULES

The Committee on Rules of Practice and Procedure submitted to the Conference proposed amendments to Rules 5 ("Initial Appearance Before the Magistrate"), 41(a) ("Search and Seizure"), and 54 ("Application and Exception"), and new Rule 58 ("Procedure for Misdemeanors and Other Petty Offenses") of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, together with Committee notes explaining their purpose and intent. The Conference approved them for transmission to the Supreme Court for consideration, with the recommendation that they be approved by the Court and transmitted to the Congress pursuant to law.

In addition, the Conference was informed that Congress is considering, as part of S. 1171, 101st Congress, an amendment to Rule 24(b) of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure to equalize the number of peremptory challenges available to the defense and the prosecution. The Conference agreed to advise the Congress that, in its view, the Rules Enabling Act is the appropriate vehicle for amendment of Rule 24(b). The Congress will also be advised that a similar amendment has already been circulated to the bench and bar for comment by the Advisory Committee on the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure.

COMMITTEE ON SPACE AND FACILITIES

RESOLUTIONS

On recommendation of the Committee on Space and Facilities, the Judicial Conference approved the following resolution conveying the sympathy of the judiciary to Mrs. Helen Vance on the recent and tragic death of Judge Robert S. Vance, chairman:

The Judicial Conference notes with sadness the death of the Honorable Robert S. Vance

on December 16, 1989, in Birmingham, Alabama.

Judge Vance served with distinction as a United States Circuit Judge. He also served the judiciary as the first Chairman of the Judicial Conference Committee on Space and Facilities. During his tenure as Chairman, Judge Vance was responsible for initiating a review and examination of court space standards, gaining endorsement by the Judicial Conference of legislation which would provide the judiciary with independent real property authorities, and initiating a program which will provide a standard method for projecting the judiciary's space needs.

The members of the Judicial Conference and the Committee on Space and Facilities convey their deepest sympathies to Judge Vance's family and request that this resolution be sent to his widow, Helen Vance, as a sign of their affection and respect.

The Conference also resolved to request that Congress enact legislation designating the United States Courthouse at 1800 Fifth Avenue North, in Birmingham, Alabama, as the Robert Smith Vance United States Courthouse.

AD HOC COMMITTEE ON CAMERAS IN THE COURTROOM

The Ad Hoc Committee on Cameras in the Courtroom reported on its progress in reviewing the current rules governing cameras in federal courtrooms. The Committee will receive presentations from media representatives later this spring, and transmit final recommendations for Conference action in September, 1990.

FUNDING

All of the foregoing recommendations which require the expenditure of funds for implementation were approved by the Conference subject to the availability of funds, and subject to whatever priorities the Conference might establish for the use of available resources.

RESOLUTIONS

On behalf of the Judicial Conference, the Executive Committee adopted the following resolutions in appreciation of Judge John C. Godbold and Chief Judge Levin H. Campbell, as follows:

The Judicial Conference of the United States recognizes with appreciation, respect and admiration, the

Honorable John C. Godbold,

Director of the Federal Judicial Center from August 1, 1987 to March 24, 1990.

Judge Godbold has made innumerable contributions to the judiciary and the Nation as a Judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit from 1966 to 1981, serving as its Chief Judge for seven months prior to becoming Chief Judge of the new Eleventh Circuit on October 1, 1981. He thus began his service as a member of the Judicial Conference as the Chief Judge of the Fifth Circuit in 1981, and completed his Conference membership as the Chief Judge of the Eleventh Circuit in 1986. He was appointed as the Director of the Federal Judicial Center in 1987, and his substantial contributions continued throughout his two and one-half years as the Director of the Federal Judicial Center.

By his appointment as the Director of the Federal Judicial Center, Chief Justice Rehnquist and the Center's Board of Directors clearly demonstrated their respect for and confidence in Judge Godbold's leadership abilities. He brought a rich understanding of the federal courts and the judicial process, drawing not only on his career as one of the country's leading jurists, but also on his prior experience as a member of the Board of the Center from 1976 to 1981. He carried on the tradition of excellence established by his four predecessors at the Center with skillful and distinguished leadership.

While we will miss his friendship and counsel at Judicial Conference sessions, we are proud to acknowledge his dedicated service to the judiciary in this capacity, and we extend our sincere gratitude and esteem to Judge and Mrs. Godbold as they return to the Eleventh Circuit. We hope and anticipate that they will both continue their association with the Judicial Conference and the Federal Judicial Center in the years to come.

* * * * *

The Judicial Conference of the United States recognizes with appreciation, respect and admiration, the Honorable Levin H. Campbell,

Chief Judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the First Circuit, and a member of this Conference from March 31, 1983, until he completes his term on March 31, 1990.

During his career on the federal bench, Judge Campbell has served the Conference in many capacities, including membership on the Committees on Court Administration and the Bicentennial of the Declaration of Independence. He chaired the Subcommittee on Supporting Personnel for three years just prior to becoming the Chief Judge of the First Circuit and a member of the Judicial Conference. Former Chief Justice Burger, recognizing Judge Campbell's wise counsel and stewardship, appointed him to the Executive Committee of the Conference in 1985. Chief Justice Rehnquist extended his appointment on the Executive Committee in 1987. He also called on Judge Campbell to serve on the Committee to Study the Judicial Conference in 1986, and on the congressionally-mandated Federal Courts Study Committee in 1988. Recently, Chief Justice Rehnquist has asked Judge Campbell to serve further, as a member of the Committee to Review Circuit Council Conduct and Disability Orders.

Judge Campbell has carried out his responsibilities to the Conference, the Executive Committee, and the First Circuit with great skill and distinction. His numerous appointments clearly demonstrate that he has earned the confidence and respect of two Chief Justices, as well as his many colleagues and friends on the Conference and its committees. While we will miss his wisdom and friendship during the sessions of the Judicial Conference, we congratulate him on a successful and rewarding career as a member of the Conference and as the Chief Judge of the First Circuit.

We extend our sincere gratitude and esteem to Judge and Mrs. Campbell, and we will look forward to their association with the Judicial Conference in the years to come.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS

Noting the deaths of Judges Clement F. Haynsworth, Jr., Jean Galloway Bissell, and Philip Nichols, Jr., the Conference adopted the following resolutions:

The Judicial Conference of the United States notes with deep sadness the death of the

on November 22, 1989, in Greenville, South Carolina.

Judge Haynsworth was a summa cum laude graduate of Furman University and a graduate of the Harvard Law School. He practiced law in one of the leading firms of South Carolina in which he was of the fifth generation to bear his family name. He served as a circuit judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit since 1957, as its Chief Judge for 17 years, and as a member of this Conference for 17 years. He knew each of his brothers on the Fourth Circuit intimately and had the qualities of mind and of character that ensured a collegial bench. As his successor, former Chief Judge Harrison L. Winter stated, his brothers thought of Judge Clement Haynsworth as "the judge first in our hearts". Judge Haynsworth was truly a sensitive, highly intelligent person who conducted himself throughout his life with great dignity and courage.

The members of the Judicial Conference convey their sympathies to Judge Haynsworth's widow, Dorothy Haynsworth, and to his family, and ask that this Resolution be sent to them as a token of their profound respect and affection for Judge Haynsworth.

* * * * *

The Judicial Conference of the United States notes with sadness the death of the

on February 4, 1990, in Washington, D.C.

Judge Bissell served with distinction as a United States Circuit Judge on the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit from September 4, 1984, until her untimely death. She was greatly loved by her colleagues, and her indelible contributions to the collegiality of that court will long survive her passing.

Judge Bissell brought to the court broad experience gained in the private practice of law, in the teaching of law, and in the leadership of a major banking corporation. She was an extremely productive appellate judge, and her opinions reflected both her exemplary judicial temperament and her comprehensive knowledge of legal and commercial matters.

Judge Bissell also served on the Committee on the Judicial Branch, where she made important contributions toward the restoration of judicial compensation to its rightful place in the hierarchy of constitutional values.

The members of the Judicial Conference convey their deepest sympathies to Judge Bissell's family and request that this Resolution be sent to her widower, Gregg C. Bissell, as a sign of their affection and respect.

* * * * *

on January 26, 1990, in Washington, D.C.

Judge Nichols served with distinction as a United States Circuit Judge on the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit from its founding until his death, when he was serving as a senior judge. His distinguished judicial career spanned more than 25 years, and included service as a Judge of the United States Customs Court and as a Judge of the United States Court of Claims. He is remembered by his colleagues as the kindest of men and the most patient of judges.

Judge Nichols's long and rewarding career also included the private practice of law in Boston, Massachusetts, military service as a Naval officer during World War II, and extensive service in the Executive Branch culminating as the Commissioner of Customs.

The members of the Judicial Conference convey their deepest sympathies to Judge Nichols's family and request that this Resolution be sent to his widow, Dorothy Jackson Nichols, as a sign of their affection and respect.

RELEASE OF CONFERENCE ACTION

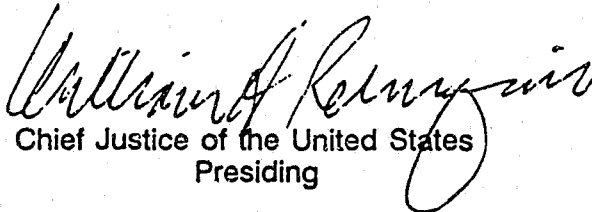

The Conference authorized the immediate release of matters considered at this session where necessary for legislative or administrative action.

Circuit Judges Richard S. Arnold, Edward R. Becker, Joseph W. Hatchett, Stephanie K. Seymour, and Deanell Reece Tacha; Senior Circuit Judges Thomas M. Reavley and Joseph F. Weis, Jr.; District Judges Richard M. Bilby, Morey L. Sear, and Juan M. Perez-Gimenez; and Senior District Judges Walter T. McGovern and Robert F. Peckham attended all or some of the sessions of the Conference. Circuit Executives Vincent Flanagan (First Circuit), Steven Flanders (Second Circuit), John P. Hehman (Third Circuit), Samuel W. Phillips (Fourth Circuit), Lydia Comberrel (Fifth Circuit), James A. Higgins (Sixth Circuit), Collins T. Fitzpatrick (Seventh Circuit), June L. Boadwine (Eighth Circuit), Gregory B. Walters (Ninth Circuit), Norman E. Zoller (Eleventh Circuit), and Linda Finkelstein (District of Columbia Circuit), and Assistant Circuit Executive Teri Campbell (Tenth Circuit), were also present.

The Attorney General of the United States, Dick Thornburgh, and Solicitor General Kenneth W. Starr addressed the Conference on matters of mutual interest to the Department of Justice and the Conference.

L. Ralph Mecham, Director of the Administrative Office of the United States Courts, attended the sessions of the Conference, as did James E. Macklin, Jr., Deputy Director; William R. Burchill, Jr., General Counsel;

Robert E. Feidler, Legislative and Public Affairs Officer; Karen K. Siegel, Chief, and Wendy Jennis, Deputy Chief, Office of the Judicial Conference Secretariat; and David A. Sellers, Public Information Officer. Judge William W. Schwarzer and Charles W. Nihan, Director and Deputy Director of the Federal Judicial Center, also attended the sessions of the Conference, as did Lawrence H. Averill, Jr., Administrative Assistant to the Chief Justice.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE OF THE UNITED STATES COURTS

The Director of the Administrative Office of the United States Courts, L. Ralph Mecham, submitted to the Conference the Annual Report of the Director for the year ended June 30, 1990. The Conference authorized the Director to release the Annual Report immediately in preliminary form and to revise and supplement the final printed edition.

JUDICIAL BUSINESS OF THE COURTS

Mr. Mecham reported that during the year ended June 30, 1990, the number of cases appealed to the 12 regional courts of appeals rose three percent to 40,898, due to a significant increase of almost 1,500 appeals of criminal cases. The new sentencing guidelines, which allow for appeal of the sentence itself, accounted for a portion of this rise in filings; this year, 1,745 appeals concerned sentences only. Dispositions increased three percent this year to 38,520, but remained below the level of filings, resulting in an eight percent increase in the pending caseload by year's end. Filings in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit climbed three percent to 1,466, primarily due to an increase in appeals from the Merit Systems Protection Board. Terminations were three percent lower this year, resulting in an 11 percent increase in the pending caseload.

In the U.S. district courts, the number of civil filings declined seven percent during 1990, to 217,879 cases. A change in the jurisdictional amount from $10,000 to $50,000 resulted in a 15 percent decrease in diversity cases. Cases involving the U.S. also decreased significantly; U.S. plaintiff filings were down 10 percent and cases in which the U.S. was a defendant were down eight percent. Civil cases terminated fell nine percent to 213,922 in 1990, the lowest total since 1982; since filings slightly outnumbered terminations, the pending caseload increased two percent to 242,346.

Criminal case filings rose more than six percent in 1990, following more moderate increases of three percent in the two previous years. The 48,904 criminal filings represent 85 cases per judgeship, up from 80 per judgeship last year. The increase in criminal filings is directly attributable to the focus on drug related crimes. Although actual drug cases increased only six percent, related criminal offenses, specifically weapons and firearms and immigration violations, increased 23 percent. While criminal case terminations increased almost four percent in 1990 to 44,295, filings greatly outnumbered terminations, resulting in a 15 percent increase in criminal cases pending as of June 30, 1990.

Bankruptcy filings continued to increase to record levels in 1990, up 13 percent to 725,484 petitions this year. The increase was primarily in non-business cases, up 14 percent over last year and comprising 91 percent of the total filings. Although dispositions were up over seven percent, the pending caseload rose 12 percent to 974,593.

Mr. Mecham also reported that as of September 1, 1990, there were 10 vacancies among the 168 judgeship positions authorized for the United States courts of appeals, 33 vacancies among the 575 positions authorized for the United States district courts, and one vacancy on the United States Court of International Trade.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF THE FEDERAL JUDICIAL CENTER

The Director of the Federal Judicial Center, Judge William W Schwarzer, reported to the Conference on fiscal year 1990 Judicial Center activities.

During the fiscal year 1990, the Center designed and conducted 85 workshops and seminars for over 4,000 judicial officers, court managers, and other court personnel. In addition, 300 programs were conducted in local court settings by Center-trained instructional teams and by court training coordinators working with Center support and consultation.

Important Judicial Center research projects include, among many others, studies of court-annexed arbitration, litigation flow, bankruptcy estate administration, and district court and bankruptcy court time studies. The Center is working with the Administrative Office, judges and others to develop a deskbook on litigation management to provide judges with practical assistance in confronting management problems.

The Center has made it a top priority to offer case management education and support to judicial branch personnel; to offer programs that will assist judges and supporting personnel to meet growing responsibilities and perform increasingly complex and demanding tasks; to complete evaluation of new technology; to complete research that will provide information needed for effective reform and assess fairly the impact of innovation on the operations of the courts; and to further understanding of case management as the path to the "just, speedy, and inexpensive determination" of litigation.

RESOLUTION

In recognition of the substantial contributions made by outgoing chairmen of committees of the Judicial Conference,² the Executive Committee recommended and the Conference approved, adoption of the following resolution:

The Judicial Conference of the United States recognizes with appreciation, respect and admiration the following judicial officers:

Honorable Harlington Wood, Jr.

Honorable Morey L. Sear
Committee on Administration of the Bankruptcy System

Honorable Juan Perez-Gimenez
Committee on Court Security

Honorable Edward R. Becker
Committee on Criminal Law and Probation Administration

Honorable Stephanie K. Seymour
Committee on Defender Services

Honorable William W. Schwarzer

Honorable Thomas A. Flannery

Honorable Frank Coffin

Honorable John H. Pratt

Honorable Richard M. Bilby
Committee on Judicial Improvements

Honorable Walter T. McGovern

Honorable Joseph W. Hatchett
Committee on Administration of the Magistrates System

Honorable Joseph F. Weis
Committee on Rules of Practice and Procedure

Honorable Jon O. Newman
Advisory Committee on Appellate Rules

Honorable Lloyd D. George
Advisory Committee on Bankruptcy Rules

Honorable John F. Grady
Advisory Committee on Civil Rules

Honorable Leland C. Nielsen
Advisory Committee on Criminal Rules

Appointed as committee chairmen by Chief Justice Rehnquist, these distinguished jurists have played a vital role in the administration of the federal court system. These judges served as leaders of their Judicial Conference committees while, at the same time, continuing to perform in their regular capacities as judges in their own courts. They have set a standard of skilled leadership and earned our deep respect and sincere gratitude for their innumerable contributions. We acknowledge with appreciation their commitment to the federal judiciary as shown by their dedicated service to the Judicial Conference and the judiciary as a whole.

* * * * *

The Executive Committee reported that, since the last session of the Conference in March, 1990, it had addressed the following matters on the Conference's behalf:

CIVIL JUSTICE REFORM ACT

Subsequent to the March 1990 session (JCUS-MAR 90, p. 9), the Executive Committee, and its Subcommittee on Civil Justice Reform chaired by Judge Robert F. Peckham, devoted considerable attention to the proposed Civil Justice Reform Act, S. 2648³ and H.R. 3898, 101st Congress. The Committee recommended, and the Conference approved by vote of 20 to one, a 14 point "Program to Address the Problems of Cost and Delay in Civil Litigation and to Improve Case Management"; authorized the Administrative Office to discuss with congressional staff legislation not inconsistent with the Program; approved a proposal for implementation of the Program, to include creation of a new Conference Committee on Court Administration and Case Management, effective September 13, 1990; and approved testimony for presentation before the Senate Judiciary Committee on Title I of S. 2648.

ADDITIONAL JUDGESHIPS

The results of the biennial survey of judgeship needs are traditionally presented for approval to the September session of the Judicial Conference in even-numbered years. E.g., JCUS-SEP 88, pp. 85-89. However, in order to have the most current judgeship needs presented to Congress in connection with its analysis of civil justice reform legislation, the Executive Committee approved the acceleration of Judicial Conference consideration of this matter. The Judicial Resources Committee accordingly expedited its review, and the Executive Committee agreed to poll the Judicial Conference on the results.

³Successor to S. 2027, 101st Congress, which was unanimously opposed by the Judicial Conference in March, 1990.

On June 1, 1990, the Conference voted to recommend the creation of 20 additional judgeships in the United States courts of appeals, and 47 additional permanent judgeships and 29 additional temporary judgeships in the United States district courts. The Conference also recommended that one temporary district judgeship be extended for an additional five years, that six temporary positions be converted to permanent, and that four roving judgeships be converted to a single district only. Finally, the Conference agreed to recommend the creation of an additional temporary judgeship for any district court or court of appeals in which an active judge has been selected as Director of the Federal Judicial Center.

The Conference voted to recommend the creation of additional judgeship positions in the following United States courts of appeals:

First Circuit	1
Third Circuit	4
Fourth Circuit	4
Fifth Circuit	1
Sixth Circuit	5
Eighth Circuit	2
Tenth Circuit	3
TOTAL	20

The Conference also voted to recommend the creation of additional permanent and temporary judgeships in the following United States district courts:

First Circuit:

Massachusetts 1 t/p⁴ + 1 temp.

Second Circuit:

Connecticut	2
New York (N)	1 temp.
New York (E)	3

TOTAL	47
	+29 temps.
	+ 6 temps. to be permanent
	+ 1 temp. extended
	+ 4 rovers redesignated

⁵"R/single district" refers to existing roving positions between judicial districts to be redesignated.

If the Congress were to eliminate diversity of citizenship jurisdiction, the request for district judgeships would be reduced from 76 (47 permanent and 29 temporary) to 19 (6 permanent and 13 temporary).

FEDERAL COURTS STUDY COMMITTEE

Title I of Public Law 100-702 established within the Judicial Conference a Federal Courts Study Committee (FCSC) on the future of the federal judiciary. As required, the FCSC filed its final report with the Judicial Conference on April 2, 1990.

The Conference was advised that certain FCSC recommendations might be included in an "omnibus court reform" title of the civil justice reform package being considered by the 101st Congress and, consequently, that expedited review of the recommendations would be advisable. The various recommendations were referred to the committees having jurisdiction of each and the responses presented to the Executive Committee, which identified those appropriate for inclusion in non-controversial legislation and left the remainder for consideration by the Conference in plenary session. The latter category of items appears throughout these proceedings.

A. In May, 1990, the Executive Committee approved the following FCSC proposals for inclusion in comprehensive court reform legislation:

- Concerning diversity jurisdiction,⁶ to specify that the jurisdictional floor does not include non-economic damages, and to raise the jurisdictional minimum from $50,000 to $75,000 and index the new floor amount.
- To amend 42 U.S.C. § 1997e to require exhaustion of state institutional remedies in prisoner suits brought under 42 U.S.C. § 1983.

⁶The Judicial Conference has previously supported abolition of diversity jurisdiction (e.g., JCUS-MAR 77, p. 8), elimination of in-state plaintiff access to diversity jurisdiction (e.g., JCUS-MAR 77, p. 9), and amendment of 28 U.S.C. § 1332(c) to deem corporations to be citizens of every state in which they are licensed to do business (JCUS-MAR 88, p. 23).

- To extend the life of the United States Parole Commission, or create a successor agency, to conduct parole revocation hearings for "old law" prisoners. The Executive Committee opposed transferring jurisdiction to the Parole Commission or a successor agency over supervised release revocation proceedings for "new law" prisoners. See also "Revocation of Supervised Release", infra p. 71.
- To abolish the Temporary Emergency Court of Appeals and vest its remaining caseload in the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.
- To amend 28 U.S.C. § 158 to authorize small circuits to create multi-circuit bankruptcy appellate panels.
- To reconstitute United States trustees as independent statutory officers in the judicial branch.
- To amend 28 U.S.C. § 636(c)(2) to allow judges and magistrates to remind parties of the possibilities of consent to civil trials before magistrates.
- To broaden statutory authorization for local rules for alternative and supplementary procedures in civil litigation, including rules for cost and fee incentives.
- To authorize and fund sustained experimentation with alternative and supplementary dispute resolution techniques.
- To support consideration by Congress of a "checklist" for legislative staff to use in reviewing proposed legislation for technical problems.
- To create limitations periods for major congressionally-created federal claims that presently lack such periods, and to adopt fallback limitations periods for federal claims not explicitly created by Congress.

- To clarify 28 U.S.C. § 1391(a) and (b), the general venue statute, and to provide that in federal question cases, there should be venue in a district in which any defendant may be found if there is no district in which the action may otherwise be brought.
- To amend 29 U.S.C. § 160 to provide that National Labor Relations Board orders be self-enforcing and to give jurisdiction over contempts and executions to the district courts.
- To increase juror and witness fees.
- To repeal mandatory minimum sentence provisions, whereupon the United States Sentencing Commission should reconsider the guidelines applicable to the affected offenses.
- To amend 28 U.S.C. § 133 to authorize temporary judgeships for the court of any active judge selected to assume a full-time office of national federal judicial administration.
- To amend 28 U.S.C. § 601 to authorize the Chief Justice, after consultation with the Judicial Conference, to appoint the director and deputy director of the Administrative Office.
- To create a personnel system for the Administrative Office independent of the Office of Personnel Management.
- To repeal or suspend the statutory requirement for specific authorization for cost-of-living judicial salary adjustments.⁷

The Executive Committee also made a number of study assignments of FCSC recommendations. To the Committee on Federal-State Jurisdiction, the Executive Committee assigned studies of minimal diversity jurisdiction; mass litigation procedure; proposals concerning the Anti-Injunction Act, abstention, and ⁷An additional item identified as non-controversial was a proposal to amend 28 U.S.C. § 331 to recognize the authority of the Judicial Conference to issue administrative rules. After a Conference member suggested that this matter was not without controversy, a three-judge subcommittee, chaired by Judge Sarah Barker, was appointed to study the issue and recommend Conference action. At its September 1990 plenary session, the Conference postponed consideration, pending further review by the Barker Subcommittee.

removal; and restructuring of the courts of appeals. The Committee on Judicial Improvements, and its successor Committee on Court Administration and Case Management, were assigned studies of sanctions for litigation misconduct, attorney fee awards, and chief judge selection. The Committee on Criminal Law and Probation Administration was asked to study discovery in criminal cases, and the Defender Services Committee was tasked with a comprehensive review of the 1964 Criminal Justice Act, as amended. Finally, the Executive Committee requested that the Rules Committee study whether Congress should delegate to the Supreme Court the authority to define what constitutes a final decision for purposes of 28 U.S.C. § 1291, and the circumstances in which orders and actions of district courts not otherwise subject to appeal under acts of Congress may be appealed to the courts of appeals.

The Executive Committee also agreed to request that the Federal Judicial Center study how courts handle scientific and technological complexity in litigation.

B. In August, 1990, the Executive Committee was informed that the long-awaited omnibus court reform measure (to be attached to civil justice reform legislation) had been introduced by Congressman Kastenmeier as H.R. 5381 (101st Congress). Also circulating was a similar, although somewhat narrower, proposal by Senator Grassley.⁸ In light of a scheduled hearing prior to the Conference's September 12, 1990, plenary session, the Executive Committee acted on the various committee recommendations with regard to the following items on the Conference's behalf:

1. Agreed to take no position on § 106 of H.R. 5381 ("Budget Estimates of Courts").
2. Supported § 110 of H.R. 5381 ("Removal of Separate and Independent Claims").
3. Supported the establishment of a separate, enhanced retirement system for judges of the United States Claims Court, such as the system included in § 113 of H.R. 5381 ("Retirement Program for Claims Court Judges").

⁸Both Congressman Kastenmeier and Senator Grassley were members of the FCSC. All references are to H.R. 5381, because no bill was ever formally introduced by Senator Grassley.

4. Supported § 114 of H.R. 5381 ("Parties' Consent to Determination by Bankruptcy Court").

5. Supported § 116 of H.R. 5381 ("Appeal of Certain Determinations Relating to Bankruptcy Cases").

6. Agreed to recommend three amendments to § 120 of H.R. 5381 ("Supplemental Jurisdiction").

7. Supported a "rule of 87" contained in § 204 of H.R. 5381 ("Retirement Age of Certain Federal Judges"), but also reaffirmed support for the "rule of 80".

8. Supported § 205 of H.R. 5381 ("Qualification of Chief Judge of Court of International Trade"), with a two-year "grandfather" of the incumbent chief judge.

9. Opposed any formal name change for United States magistrates (§ 206 of H.R. 5381, "Change of Name of United States Magistrates").

10. Opposed any change to 28 U.S.C. § 636(e) related to contempt power of magistrates (§ 207 of H.R. 5381, "[Contempt] Authority of Assistant United States District Judges").

11. Supported § 208 of H.R. 5381 ("Length of Service Required for Eligibility under the Judicial Survivors' Annuities Act").

12. Supported a technical amendment (§ 209(b) of H.R. 5381) to allow magistrates and bankruptcy judges to draw both annuities under 28 U.S.C. § 377 and military retired pay.

The Committee also agreed to recommend the inclusion of an amendment to 28 U.S.C. § 332 to impose equal representation of district and circuit judges as members of circuit judicial councils, in addition to the chief judge of the circuit as council chairman.

FEDERAL ETHICS LAW REFORM

The Executive Committee approved regulations under Title III of the Ethics Reform Act of 1989, Public Law No. 101-194, concerning gifts, and under Title VI, concerning outside earned income, honoraria, and outside employment.

ADDITIONAL BANKRUPTCY JUDGESHIPS

In order to respond to sharp and steady increases in bankruptcy filings, the Executive Committee voted to recommend that Congress authorize four additional bankruptcy judgeships, two in the District of Arizona, one in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, and one in the Northern District of Georgia.

STATE-FEDERAL JUDICIAL COUNCIL

In March, 1990 (JCUS-MAR 90, p. 18), the Judicial Conference approved in principle creation of a National State-Federal Judicial Council. On the Conference's behalf, the Executive Committee approved a recommendation of the Committee on Federal-State Jurisdiction that the Chief Justice appoint four sitting federal judges to represent the federal judiciary on the Council, whose purposes will be "to consider matters referred to it by either the Judicial Conference of the United States or the Conference of Chief Justices relating to issues of mutual concern to the state and federal courts, to advise the Judicial Conference and the Conference of Chief Justices on improving the relationship between the two systems, and to seek methods to enhance operations of the local State-Federal Councils." The Council will propose a plan for carrying out its functions to be submitted for further approval by the Judicial Conference and the Conference of Chief Justices.

VOIR DIRE

The Executive Committee declined to object to proposals contained in S. 591 and S. 592 (101st Congress), establishing a four-year demonstration program in four districts to permit attorney participation in the voir dire examination of prospective jurors.

MISCELLANEOUS ACTIONS

The Executive Committee requested all judicial officers and employees who were previously required to file financial disclosure reports to prepare and file such reports for the calendar year 1989, notwithstanding Congress' inadvertent repeal of the statutory requirement for filing;⁹ restricted relocation reimbursement to situations involving employees grade JSP-12 or higher, except in cases of heads of offices or divisions, pending a comprehensive policy review of employee relocation allowances by the Committee on Judicial Resources; strongly opposed § 103(a) of S. 1972 (101st Congress), which would create a so-called "Federal Day", whereby all cases involving persons arrested on a designated day each month for felony drug violations that would otherwise be prosecuted in state or local courts would be presented to a federal grand jury (see also "'Federal Day' Legislation", infra p. 72); opposed S. 2104 and H.R. 4000 (101st Congress) insofar as the bills effectuate retrospective application of amendments to the Civil Rights Act of 1964 by requiring courts, upon a request for relief within specified periods, to vacate orders inconsistent with the amendments even in cases that have reached final judgment prior to enactment; approved a resolution in appreciation of Chief Judge Howard T. Markey (see "Resolution", infra p. 105); agreed to the expenditure of an additional $5,000 to reward Ninth Circuit employees who demonstrated exemplary service during the earthquake of October 17, 1989, and its aftermath; approved a memorandum entitled, "Role of Committees of the Judicial Conference of the United States, Committee Chairmen and the Conference Secretary"; amended the spending plan for the "Salaries and Expenses" appropriation for the fiscal year 1990 to approve the expenditure of $5,500,000 for urgent space alterations, furnishing of new space, electronic sound equipment, and clerks' travel, and also to make available $1,700,000 from the no-year fund for new judges' requirements to provide for judges' needs in space alterations and furnishings (both subject to congressional approval of reprogramming requests); agreed that there should be full disclosure of Conference actions on individual votes, unless otherwise determined by the Conference; and increased the salary of the part-time magistrate position at Lander, Wyoming, from $4,444 to $26,662 per annum, effective September 1, 1990 and subject to the availability of funds.

⁹P.L. 101-280 reinstated the reporting requirement.

COMMITTEE ON THE ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE

The Committee on the Administrative Office reported that it had considered issues concerning general organization, management, and administration of the courts in light of continued growth and increasing decentralization of functions, and referred several items to other committees of the Judicial Conference. The Committee also reported that it had reviewed the issue of delegations of administrative authority made from the Director of the Administrative Office to the courts and determined that the Administrative Office should develop a proposed delegation policy for consideration by the Committee on the Administrative Office and the Committee on Court Administration and Case Management.

REGULATIONS GOVERNING RECALL OF RETIRED BANKRUPTCY JUDGES

In order to implement the Judicial Conference policy of maintaining parity between bankruptcy judges and U.S. magistrates, the Conference approved revisions to Section 2 of the Regulations Governing the Recall of Retired Bankruptcy Judges which mirror the changes in the magistrates recall regulations also approved by the Conference this session (see "Recall Regulations", infra p. 94). These revisions eliminate administrative problems in computing pay and add needed cross-references to new retirement legislation enacted since the regulations were promulgated by the Conference.

UNITED STATES TRUSTEES

The failure of many United States trustees to perform fully their supervisory responsibilities of auditing case trustee reports and fee requests and verifying the disposition of all assets of the estate has caused concern that improprieties may occur in the bankruptcy system. The Judicial Conference reaffirmed its position that the United States trustees should assume the full range of their responsibilities as contemplated by statute and that staff of the clerks' offices should not be used routinely to perform or duplicate the United States trustees' responsibilities.

TRUSTEE COMPENSATION

The Judicial Conference took no position on an increase in compensation for trustees proposed by the Department of Justice. Further, the Conference opposed Department of Justice-proposed legislation that would eliminate statutory authority of bankruptcy judges to fix the level of compensation for trustees, due to concerns that the proposal for mandatory compensation would diminish the incentive of trustees to perform their statutory duties and would inequitably benefit trustees who had administered uncomplicated estates.

BANKRUPTCY APPELLATE PANELS

The Judicial Conference opposed an FCSC recommendation that Congress enact legislation to require each circuit to establish bankruptcy appellate panels, with an opt-out provision for litigants. Under the current system, each circuit may exercise its discretion to establish a bankruptcy appellate panel and to adopt implied consent procedures (28 U.S.C. § 158(b)).

COMMITTEE ON THE BICENTENNIAL OF THE CONSTITUTION

December 15, 1991, marks the two-hundredth anniversary of the ratification of the Bill of Rights. On recommendation of the Committee on the Bicentennial of the Constitution, the Judicial Conference agreed to encourage all circuit judicial conferences in 1991 to include an event in celebration of this bicentennial.

COMMITTEE ON THE BUDGET

ALTERNATIVE BUDGET REQUEST FOR THE FISCAL YEAR 1992

Anticipating the need to ensure that the judiciary's FY 1992 budget request is consistent with national budgetary constraints in a period of large federal deficits, the Committee on the Budget, after consulting with the chairs of the Conference committees whose program responsibilities directly affect the budget request, proposed budget estimates on balance lower than the full funding requests of the Conference committees. The Judicial Conference approved these alternative, or lower, budget estimates for the fiscal year 1992, subject to amendments necessary as a result of new legislation, actions of the Judicial Conference, or any other reason the Director of the Administrative Office considers necessary and appropriate.

COMMITTEE ON THE CODES OF CONDUCT

The Committee on Codes of Conduct reported that it is continuing to monitor legislation on judicial discipline and impeachment. The Committee also reported it would undertake a study of the new revisions to the American Bar Association (ABA) Model Code of Judicial Conduct to determine whether the Judicial Conference should adopt the substantive changes and, if so, how to do so appropriately for the federal judicial system.

LEGISLATION TO AUTHORIZE JUDICIAL OFFICERS TO CARRY FIREARMS

The Judicial Conference approved a legislative proposal of the Committee on Court Security that would authorize federal judicial officers to carry firearms. The proposed legislation would overcome what are often varied and conflicting provisions of state law on firearm possession, so as to allow all judicial officers who so desire to carry firearms to enhance their personal security.

SENTENCING GUIDELINES REVISION - RECOMMENDATIONS TO THE SENTENCING COMMISSION

The Judicial Conference authorized the Committee on Criminal Law and Probation Administration to act with regard to submission from time to time to the Sentencing Commission of proposed amendments to the Sentencing Guidelines, including proposals that would increase the flexibility of the Guidelines. The Conference also approved submission to the Commission of the following specific proposals:

1. Change the minimum imprisonment requirement of §§ 5C1.1(c)(3) and 5C1.1(d)(2) from "at least one-half of the minimum term" to "at least 1 month", to allow the sentencing court to determine the appropriate mix of imprisonment and confinement conditions when imposing a "split sentence."
2. Modify §§ 5B1.1(a)(2) and 5C1.1(c), and eliminate § 5C1.1(d), to permit probation with confinement/home detention conditions as a within-guidelines sentence in the ten guideline cells (those with minimum terms of from seven to ten months) for which a "split sentence" is the only current alternative to imprisonment for the full guideline term.
3. Permit probation without confinement/home detention conditions at two additional offense levels (seven and eight) for Category I offenders by changing the ranges in the cells to zero to six months.

4. Modify § 5H1.1 to permit greater flexibility to consider age as a basis for departure or the use of sentencing options.
5. Modify Chapter 5, Part H by adding an application note clarifying that offender characteristics that are not ordinarily relevant to sentencing may be considered if, alone or in combination, they are present to an unusual degree.
6. Promulgate a two-part policy statement to replace the current § 4A1.3, to clarify that departures due to the inadequacy of the criminal history score may be based on either degree of risk or type of risk.
7. Rewrite the relevant conduct guideline (§ 1B1.3), and accompanying commentary, to clarify that judges have flexibility to individualize the offense level according to the harm for which the defendant was personally culpable.
8. Reconsider the acceptance of responsibility guideline (§ 3E1.1) with particular attention as to whether the two offense level adjustment should be increased, whether a greater adjustment should be available for higher offense levels than for lower offense levels, and whether a range of adjustments (rather than a fixed two offense level adjustment) should be made available.

FEDERAL COURTS STUDY COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATIONS

On recommendation of the Committee, and also of the Committee on Defender Services, the Judicial Conference supported the following FCSC recommendations:

1. Initiatives should be taken that would coordinate prosecution efforts with local authorities in seeking to limit federal drug prosecutions to charges that cannot or should not be prosecuted in state courts.
2. The Attorney General should convene a conference on the problems of complex criminal trials.

The Conference took no action on the following FCSC recommendations:

1. The Congress should enact a comprehensive recodification of the federal criminal laws.
2. Serious consideration should be given to proposals that "(1) the guidelines issued pursuant to the Sentencing Reform Act not be treated as compulsory rules, but, rather, as general standards that identify the presumptive sentence, and (2) the guidelines, and if necessary the Sentencing Reform Act, be amended to permit consideration of an offender's age and personal history."
3. The Judicial Conference should create a standing committee to study proposed and actual guidelines and provide advice on them to the Sentencing Commission, the federal judiciary, and the Congress.¹⁰
4. The Congress should reevaluate the process by which Commission-promulgated guidelines become law.

REVOCATION OF SUPERVISED RELEASE

As noted, supra p. 61, on May 18, 1990, the Executive Committee approved the portion of an FCSC recommendation that supported the extension of the United States Parole Commission, or the creation of a successor agency, to conduct parole revocation hearings for "old law" prisoners and opposed the portion of the same recommendation which provided that jurisdiction over supervised release revocation proceedings for "new law" prisoners should be transferred to the Parole Commission or a successor agency. At this session, the Judicial Conference agreed to recommend to Congress that any determination with respect to revocation of supervised release be made by the district court, and that magistrates be permitted to conduct supervised release revocation proceedings and make reports and recommendations to the district court relating to the final determination.

¹⁰This item was also recommended by the Defender Services Committee.

"FEDERAL DAY" LEGISLATION

The Judicial Conference reaffirmed opposition to the concept of a "Federal Day" in federal courts, whereby local drug arrests would be prosecuted in federal courts. See also "Miscellaneous Actions", supra p. 66.

SUPERVISION OF OFFENDERS FOUND NOT GUILTY BY REASON OF INSANITY

Some offenders who have been found not guilty by reason of insanity are thereafter released to the community and often require a variety of social, psychiatric, and psychological services. Although the probation offices are often asked to become involved with such cases, there is no statutory authority for officers to perform services for such persons. On recommendation of the Committee, the Conference endorsed legislation to amend 18 U.S.C. § 3154 and § 3603 to provide authority for probation and pretrial services officers to supervise offenders found not guilty by reason of insanity but required by court order to receive community supervision services.

APPOINTMENTS AND PAYMENTS

The Defender Services Committee reported that, during the first half of the fiscal year 1990, approximately 33,000 persons were represented under the Criminal Justice Act, compared to 31,500 persons for the first half of the fiscal year 1989, an increase of 4.8 percent. Of the 33,000 persons represented, approximately 54.2 percent (17,900) were represented by federal public and community defender organizations.

BUDGET AND GRANT REQUESTS - FEDERAL PUBLIC AND COMMUNITY DEFENDER ORGANIZATIONS

Under its delegated authority from the Judicial Conference (JCUS-MAR 89, p. 16), the Committee reviewed and approved funding requests from federal public defender organizations, traditional community defender organizations, and death penalty resource centers, as follows:

FEDERAL COURTS STUDY COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATIONS

The Judicial Conference agreed to implement an FCSC recommendation to establish a special committee to conduct a comprehensive review of the Criminal Justice Act. The Committee would consider such issues as adequacy of representation furnished by CJA panel attorneys; training of CJA panel attorneys; appropriate assignment of responsibility for the administration of the CJA panel; maintenance of independence of CJA panel attorneys in districts with no defender organization; selection, term, and compensation of federal public defenders; relationship of federal defenders to the Administrative Office and the judiciary; early appointment of counsel; procedures to assure prompt payment of CJA attorney compensation vouchers; review of determinations of compensation for CJA attorneys; and any other issues which warrant consideration.

The Conference endorsed a recommendation of the FCSC that Congress provide increased resources to house incarcerated defendants near federal courthouses.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE ACT COMPENSATION

Consistent with a resolution of the Committee opposing reliance upon mandatory pro bono representation and supporting adequate compensation of CJA attorneys, the Conference took the following actions:

1. The CJA revision of 1986 amended 18 U.S.C. 3006A(d)(1) to authorize the Judicial Conference to increase the specified attorney compensation rates ($60 and $40 per hour for time spent in/out of court, respectively, and a $75 per hour maximum alternative rate) by amounts not to exceed the aggregate of the federal pay comparability adjustments authorized since the effective date of the revision. To implement this authority, the Judicial Conference approved an amendment to paragraph 2.22 A(2)(d)(3) of the Guidelines for the Administration of the Criminal Justice Act (CJA Guidelines) to provide for automatic annual increases in maximum hourly attorney compensation rates, contingent upon the implementation of a federal pay comparability adjustment and the availability of sufficient funds in the Defender Services appropriation.

2. The Judicial Conference also (a) approved the extension of alternative hourly attorney compensation rates which are currently applicable only at specific court locations within a district to all places of holding court within the district; and (b) agreed to establish an alternative attorney compensation rate of $75 per hour for in-and out-of-court time for all of the districts in the Seventh Circuit, subject to the availability of funds.

NOMINATION, APPOINTMENT AND EVALUATION OF FEDERAL PUBLIC DEFENDERS

Under paragraph 4.02 A of the CJA Guidelines, federal public defender nominees are subject to "full-field" background investigations similar to those conducted for candidates for the position of U.S. Attorneys. These are more costly and time-consuming than FBI "name checks" and IRS "records checks", which appear to be effective in revealing unfavorable information. Accordingly, the Judicial Conference approved a recommendation by the Defender Services Committee to amend paragraph 4.02 A of the CJA Guidelines to give courts of appeals discretion with regard to the employment of background investigations for federal public defender nominees.

The Conference approved an additional amendment to paragraph 4.02 A of the CJA Guidelines to establish procedures for the appointment and evaluation of federal public defenders. Among other things, the amendment gives the courts of appeals discretion with respect to whether judicial officers may serve on committees to assess performance of federal public defender candidates or incumbents.

DECENTRALIZATION OF CJA VOUCHER PROCESSING

Under a current Administrative Office program, the processing of payments to attorneys providing services under the Criminal Justice Act is decentralized in 61 district courts and six courts of appeals participating in the program on a voluntary basis. Due to the success of the program and the need to continue to improve the efficiency of the CJA payment system, the Judicial Conference approved the Committee's recommendation that the decentralized processing of the CJA Form 20, "Appointment of and Authority to Pay Court Appointed Counsel", and CJA Form 21, "Authorization and Voucher for Expert and Other Services", be made mandatory for all courts.

CIVIL PRIORITIES

In response to recent legislative efforts to impose litigation priorities and time limits in certain classes of cases, the Judicial Conference (a) reiterated its strong opposition to legislative provisions imposing statutory litigation priority, expediting, or time limitation rules on specified classes of civil cases brought in the federal courts beyond those currently specified in 28 U.S.C. § 1657 (e.g., JCUS-MAR 80, p. 19; JCUS-SEP 81, p. 68); and (b) strongly opposed any attempt to impose statutory time limits for disposition of specified cases in the district courts, the courts of appeals or the Supreme Court. In addition, the Conference specifically opposed provisions relating to judicial case management of habeas corpus actions in capital cases and civil actions for certain violations involving financial depository institutions contained in the Senate-passed version of S. 1970 (101st Congress), the omnibus crime bill.

FEDERAL QUESTION CITIZEN SUITS

Responding to an increasing number of bills in Congress which would create private federal causes of action in areas of only marginal federal interest, the Judicial Conference adopted the following standards and criteria for evaluating and determining the appropriate position for the judiciary to take with respect to legislative proposals to create new private federal causes of action or to create standing to bring "citizen suits" in the federal courts:

A. General Principles to be considered.

1. Proliferation of new private rights to sue in federal courts should not be encouraged.
2. New private rights to sue in federal courts should be established only to further a clear federal interest.
3. Especially strong federal interest should be shown before invading areas that traditionally have been left to state courts.
4. New federal rights should be narrowly drawn to encompass only the matters of specific federal interest.
5. The legislative history should clearly set forth the federal interests Congress believes justify the creation of federal question jurisdiction in a particular area.
6. Congress should provide the judicial resources necessary to meet caseload increases resulting from new federal claims.

B. Factors to be considered in determining whether it is appropriate to enact a proposal for enforcing federal rights by private litigation.

1. Whether private suits for injunctive or other relief are needed to supplement inadequate public enforcement resources.
2. Whether the subject matter is one traditionally within the realm of state law, such as ordinary fraud, domestic relations, or child custody.
3. Whether the subject matter involves an important widespread activity conducted on an interstate basis that creates peculiar difficulties in bringing civil actions in state courts, such as large scale boiler room telemarketing operations across state lines involving large amounts of money.

4. Whether other dispute resolution mechanisms are adequate or more appropriate, such as federal or state government administrative enforcement action or arbitration programs.

The Conference postponed consideration of S. 2754, a bill to create federal question jurisdiction for a victim of any rape, sexual assault, or abusive sexual contact motivated by gender-based animus to recover compensatory and punitive damages.

PATENT INFRINGEMENT DISPUTES

In response to the United States Trade Representative's request for comment on alternative solutions to discriminatory procedures in resolving international patent infringement disputes, the Judicial Conference opposed the creation of a specialized Article III Patent Court or the creation of a specialized patent division within the Article III Court of International Trade. The Conference has consistently opposed the establishment of specialized courts in the judicial branch (e.g., JCUS-SEP 86, p. 60; JCUS-SEP 62, p. 54). The Conference took no position, until a specific legislative proposal is advanced, on permitting the transfer of international patent infringement cases to the district courts.

FEDERAL COURTS STUDY COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATIONS

The Judicial Conference supported FCSC recommendations which:

1. Endorse legislation to provide that Employee Retirement Income Security Act cases involving less than $10,000 not be removed from state to federal courts [provided that all claims brought under 29 U.S.C. § 1132(a)(1)(B) not be removable].
2. Endorse legislation to authorize pendent-party jurisdiction with discretion in the district court to dismiss or remand the pendent-party claims if state claims predominate, if they present novel or complex questions of state law, or if dismissal is warranted by considerations of fairness or economy.
3. Support the repeal of the Federal Employers' Liability Act and the Jones Act.

The Conference opposed an FCSC recommendation to:

Create an Article III Tax Court.¹⁴ [However, if such a proposal were to be enacted, the legislation should be drafted to spell out the relationship of the new court to the Judicial Conference and the Administrative Office.]

The Judicial Conference took no position on the following FCSC recommendations:

1. Congress should prohibit the so-called policy of "non-acquiescence in judicial decisions" under the Social Security Act.
2. Congress should establish a small claims procedure (under $10,000) for claims under the Federal Tort Claims Act (see also "Small Claims Procedures", infra p. 94).

The Conference referred the following FCSC recommendations back to the Committee on Federal-State Jurisdiction for further study:

1. Congress should create a new structure for adjudicating disability claims under the Social Security Act with hearings before administrative law judges whose decisions could be appealed to a new Article I Court of Disability Claims, with Article III review in the geographic courts of appeals limited to constitutional claims and statutory construction.
2. Congress should authorize a five-year test program to allow the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to arbitrate employment discrimination cases with the consent of both parties.

¹⁴Although the Judicial Conference in 1979 approved in principle a separate Court of Tax Appeals (JCUS-SEP 79, p.64), it opposes this proposal on the ground that no exception should be made to the Conference policy of general opposition to specialized Article III courts (e.g., JCUS-SEP 86, p. 60; JCUS-SEP 62, p. 54).

COMMITTEE ON INTERCIRCUIT ASSIGNMENTS

The Committee on Intercircuit Assignments reported that during the period February 1, 1990, through August 1, 1990, the Committee had recommended 64 intercircuit assignments to be undertaken by 48 judges. Of this number, seven were senior circuit judges, nine were active circuit judges, 19 were senior district judges, seven were active district judges, one was a senior judge of the Court of International Trade, and five were active judges of the Court of International Trade.

INTERCIRCUIT ASSIGNMENTS FOR EDUCATIONAL PURPOSES

The Judicial Conference endorsed a recommendation of the FCSC to expand intercircuit assignments of circuit judges by recommending to Congress an amendment to 28 U.S.C. § 291 which would provide for the intercircuit assignment of circuit judges to sit on other courts of appeals from time to time on an exchange basis, as a means of promoting education in court administration.

COMMITTEE ON THE INTERNATIONAL APPELLATE JUDGES CONFERENCE OF 1990

The Committee on the International Appellate Judges Conference of 1990 will file a final report with the Judicial Conference in March, 1991, on the International Appellate Judges Conference, held in Washington, D.C., September 10 - 14, 1990.

COMMITTEE ON THE JUDICIAL BRANCH

SENIOR JUDGE CERTIFICATION

The Judicial Conference approved permanent Rules for Certification of Senior Judges, effective January 1, 1991. The Judicial Conference also approved the Committee's recommendation to seek two legislative revisions to the existing senior judge certification law in order to minimize disincentives to senior judge service as recommended by the FCSC. These revisions would permit senior judges (a) to make up lapses in annual certifications; and (b) to aggregate administrative duties with judicial duties for work certification purposes.

JUDICIAL SURVIVORS' ANNUITIES SYSTEM

The Conference agreed to seek legislation allowing survivors of judicial officers to continue Federal Employee Health Benefits enrollment whether or not the judicial officer participated in the Judicial Survivors' Annuities System.

COMMITTEE ON JUDICIAL ETHICS

The Judicial Ethics Committee reported that as of July, 1990, it had received 2,319 financial disclosure reports and certifications for the calendar year 1989, including 995 reports and certifications from judicial officers and 1,324 reports and certifications from judicial employees.

ETHICS REFORM ACT

Upon recommendation of the Committee, the Judicial Conference delegated its authorities under Title II and its authority for monitoring compliance with Titles III and VI of the Ethics Reform Act of 1989 (Pub. L. No. 101-194) to the Committee on Judicial Ethics.

COMMITTEE ON JUDICIAL IMPROVEMENTS

MISCELLANEOUS FEE SCHEDULE

To implement the fundamental judicial policy of encouraging settlement and compromise, the Judicial Conference amended Item 21 of the bankruptcy miscellaneous fee schedule to eliminate the application of the fee to motions for approval of an agreement or stipulation to the termination, annulment, modification or condition of the automatic stay. Effective October 1, 1990, the amended Item 21 reads as follows (language to be omitted is lined through):

21. For filing a motion to terminate, annul, modify, or condition the automatic stay provided under § 362(a) of title 11, a motion to compel abandonment of property of the estate pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 6007(b), or a motion to withdraw the reference of a case under 28 U.S.C. § 157(d), $60. ~~The fee shall be paid also upon the filing of a motion for approval of an agreement or stipulation to the termination, annulment, modification, or condition of the automatic stay, unless a motion requesting the relief has been filed previously and a fee paid therefor.~~

In order to clarify the responsibilities of a debtor in possession with regard to the payment of the $120 fee for the filing of a complaint, the Judicial Conference approved the following amendment to Item 6 of the bankruptcy miscellaneous fee schedule (new language is underlined):

6. For filing a complaint, a fee should be collected in the same amount as the filing fee prescribed in 28 U.S.C. § 1914(a) for instituting any civil action other than a writ of habeas corpus. If the United States, other than a United States Trustee acting as a trustee in a case under Title 11, or a debtor is the plaintiff, no fee is required. If a trustee or debtor in possession is the plaintiff, the fee should be payable only from the estate and to the extent there is any estate realized.

JURY MATTERS

On recommendation of the Committee on Judicial Improvements, the Judicial Conference agreed to seek legislation to amend the Jury Selection and Service Act to permit travel by aircraft within the contiguous 48 states by grand jurors when weather conditions warrant, after certification of the Chief Judge and subject to guidelines set by the Conference.

ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE RESOLUTION

Under 28 U.S.C. § 657(a), a district court is authorized to establish and pay arbitrators' compensation, if any, for services rendered in each case, subject to compensation limits set by the Judicial Conference. Upon the recommendation of the Committee, the Conference established limitations of arbitrators' compensation at $250 per day or per case for a single arbitrator and $100 per day or per case per panel member. The Conference delegated authority to the new Committee on Court Administration and Case Management to approve exceptions. The Conference also agreed to allow arbitrators to apply for awards of excess fees for protracted hearings or cases involving excessive preparation time, not to exceed hourly rates authorized under the Criminal Justice Act (18 U.S.C. § 3006A(d)). Higher rates may be paid by the parties upon agreement.

Funding was approved for compensation of mediators for a pilot mediation program in the Bankruptcy Court for the Middle District of Florida. The Judicial Conference authorized the funding, not to exceed $36,000 in the fiscal year 1991, provided that no negative reaction is received from congressional committees.

CELLULAR TELEPHONE PILOT

Due to the growing interest in the use of cellular telephones as a means of improving the efficiency of court operations, the Committee on Judicial Improvements readdressed the issue of the purchase of such telephones, and determined that there may be good reasons for the utilization of cellular phones in probation and pretrial services offices. Following the Committee's recommendation, the Judicial Conference approved a pilot test of cellular telephone technology in four or more probation and/or pretrial services offices, two rural and two urban, to determine the effectiveness of cellular telephones in improving their operations.

PLACES OF HOLDING COURT

Upon request from the District Court for the District of Nevada and the Ninth Circuit Judicial Council, the Judicial Conference agreed to recommend that 28 U.S.C. § 108 be amended to include Ely and Lovelock as places of holding court in the District of Nevada.

FEDERAL COURTS STUDY COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATIONS

The Judicial Conference agreed to support the following FCSC recommendations:

1. District judges should take greater advantage of their authority to use oral findings of fact and conclusions of law in bench trials.
2. Federal courts should continue to use protective orders to preserve the confidentiality of sensitive materials.
3. The Administrative Office should regularly collect and report data concerning pro se litigation for use by a Conference committee, so that it may conduct an in-depth evaluation of the costs of pro se litigation to the litigants and the courts, and recommend to the Conference methods to reduce those costs and improve the efficiency of dispensing justice in those cases.

4. The courts should consider the impact on courts and litigants before adopting technological innovations designed to save costs in court reporting [provided that this does not constitute a retrenchment to old technology].
5. Each circuit [and district court] should designate the circuit executive or another person as the media contact person, with training for the contact person and the chief judges in media relations.
6. Courts should hold "press days" to facilitate communication between the courts and the media.
7. The courts should continue and expand publications programs to explain court operations to the public.
8. The federal judiciary should expand efforts to educate judges and supporting personnel about the existence and dangers of racial, ethnic, and gender discrimination and bias.

The Conference opposed the following FCSC recommendations:

1. When a court of appeals reviews a case raising an issue already decided in another circuit, it should accord considerable respect to that earlier decision; a panel contemplating disagreement with the panel of another circuit should circulate its draft opinion among the remaining judges of the court for their comments.
2. A representative ad hoc committee under the auspices of the Judicial Conference should review policy on unpublished court opinions in light of increasing ease and decreasing cost of database access.
3. The judicial councils should consider establishing grievance procedures for complaints by members of the public of inappropriate treatment by judicial branch personnel, including allegations of racial, ethnic, religious, or gender bias.
4. Congress should authorize a five-year experimental pilot project to resolve some intercircuit conflicts, during which the Supreme Court could refer selected cases to an en banc court of appeals for disposition and creation of national precedent on the conflict issue. A properly staffed committee of the Judicial Conference should monitor the project and recommend after four years whether the experiment should be continued, modified or discontinued.

The Judicial Conference took no position on the following FCSC recommendations:

1. Congress should allow each court of appeals to perform its en banc functions by such number of the members of its en banc courts as may be prescribed by rule of the court of appeals, except that the number should not be less than nine unless the court has fewer than nine authorized judgeships.
2. The Judicial Conference should conduct an intercircuit study, perhaps under the aegis of the Federal Judicial Center, of the most effective appellate case management techniques, and provide a means for the courts regularly to exchange case management information, experience and ideas.

COMMITTEE ON JUDICIAL RESOURCES

FISCAL YEAR 1992 BUDGET REQUESTS FOR SUPPORTING PERSONNEL

The Judicial Conference reviewed requests for fiscal year 1992 positions for supporting personnel, and approved the following additional positions (subject to the availability of resources):

1. Three JSP-13 estate analysts, four JSP-11 administrative analysts, and 2.5 JSP-8 estate administration clerks in the six Bankruptcy Administrator Offices.
2. Twelve JSP-11 deputy clerks for the Automation Training Centers.
3. Twenty-five JSP-12 probation officers and fifteen JSP-7 probation clerks.
4. Two JSP-14 court interpreters for Texas (Southern) and one JSP-14 interpreter for Texas (Western).

5. Fifty-eight JSP-8 electronic court recorder operators.
6. Forty-two JSP-14 supervisory staff attorneys, thirty-four staff attorneys with a target grade of JSP-14, and eleven secretaries at JSP-7.

ADDITIONAL COURT REPORTERS

The Conference approved four additional court reporter positions, one each in the Eastern District of Arkansas, the Northern District of Florida, and the Districts of Montana and Oregon.

JUDICIARY SALARY PLAN MODIFICATIONS

On recommendation of the Committee on Judicial Resources, the Judicial Conference took the following actions regarding position classifications to be effective immediately but subject, as always, to the availability of funds and also subject to revision following completion of the ongoing comprehensive review of the Judiciary Salary Plan:

1. Approved the creation of two new benchmark standards: probation/pretrial services officer assistant I, JSP-5/6/7; and probation/pretrial services officer assistant II, JSP-7/8/9.
2. Reaffirmed its position on a ratio of one senior probation or pretrial services specialist position for every four line officer positions; approved a replacement benchmark standard for the JSP-13 senior probation/pretrial services specialist position; and adopted revised qualification and entry age standards for probation and pretrial services officer positions.
3. Approved a certification process for the classification of courtroom deputies to full-time magistrates, and approved the reclassification of eighty-one courtroom deputy clerks (magistrate) from JSP-9 to JSP-10 and ninety-one courtroom deputy clerks (magistrate) to JSP-11.
4. Approved the creation of a new JSP-12 user support specialist (Training Center) benchmark standard.

5. Authorized circuit chief judges to appoint an assistant secretary at the JSP-11 level when the judge maintains geographically separate offices and when one secretary is permanently assigned to a duty station in each location.
6. Approved an increase in the target grade of law clerks to federal judges, bankruptcy judges or magistrates, to allow individuals to progress to JSP-16 upon completion of certain experience requirements.
7. Amended the benchmark standard for deputies-in-charge of divisional offices.
8. Approved modifications to the qualification standards for librarians and librarian technician positions to ease recruitment difficulties.

EXECUTIVE PAY IN THE JUDICIARY

In order to remain competitive with the executive branch, which anticipates an increase in pay for senior executives in January, 1991, the Judicial Conference approved a one-grade pay increase, if requested by the appointing official, for clerks of the courts of appeals, district court clerks, bankruptcy court clerks, the Clerk of the Court of International Trade, the Clerk of the Claims Court, chief probation officers, chief pretrial services officers, senior staff attorneys, chief preargument attorneys, bankruptcy administrators, district court executives, and circuit librarians. The Conference authorized exceptions to normal promotion and time-in-grade requirements to be made to allow incumbents to be promoted to the next higher grade at the step held at the time of the promotion, and required that no position other than the court unit executives cited be increased in grade by virtue of this change. These increases are to take effect no earlier than January 1, 1991.

BASIC ADMINISTRATIVE WORK SCHEDULE FOR COURT EMPLOYEES

The Committee on Judicial Resources determined that the lack of an established work schedule has the potential to jeopardize a full-time court employee's entitlement to retirement and leave benefits, both of which are tied by statute to work schedules. Pursuant to the Committee's recommendation, the Judicial Conference adopted an 80-hour biweekly administrative work schedule for full-time court employees.

COURT REPORTERS

The Judicial Conference approved a Committee recommendation that an official court reporter receive credit for time spent serving in a federal court as a contract or per diem reporter for the purpose of calculating the ten-year waiting period for the five percent longevity salary increase available to court reporters (see JCUS-SEP 77, p. 55). Such credit would be calculated on a daily basis reflecting time spent recording federal court proceedings, and would not include transcript preparation time.

COURT REPORTERS' TRANSCRIPT RATES

When the Judicial Conference increased transcript rates in 1986 (on a temporary basis, JCUS-SEP 86, p. 61) and 1988 (on a permanent basis, JCUS-SEP 87, p. 64), it excluded government-paid transcripts from the increases. Recognizing the hardship this imposed on court reporters, the Judicial Conference at this session increased the rates for government-paid transcripts to the same levels as those for non-government-paid transcripts. Implementation of this increase is subject to the availability of funds.

AUTOMATION STAFFING

On recommendation of the Judicial Resources Committee, the Conference approved portions of the report entitled Staffing for Decentralized Automation: Support for PC-Based Systems, as follows:

1. Added 305 positions to the FY 1992 budget for automation support;
2. Added the position of administrative assistant to the circuit executive for automation to each circuit executive's office;
3. In each circuit executive's office, extended and made permanent a personal computer coordinator position; and
4. Authorized staff attorney offices to reprogram vacant clerical positions to appropriate automation positions, provided that the ratio of non-attorney to attorney positions adheres to Judicial Conference policy.

FEDERAL COURTS STUDY COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATIONS

The Judicial Conference took the following actions on FCSC proposals considered by the Committee on Judicial Resources:

1. Agreed to support the concept of maintaining a relatively small Article III judiciary through limitations on the jurisdiction and caseload of the courts, but opposed any efforts to set a maximum limit on the number of Article III judgeships.
2. Agreed to support a proposal that the Federal Judicial Center be requested, in cooperation with the Administrative Office, to develop alternative approaches for evaluating judgeship needs in the courts of appeals. Alternatives should include, but not be limited to, a weighted caseload approach.
3. Opposed a recommendation that the courts should have discretion in assigning a title to the chief administrative officer of the court.

PART-TIME MAGISTRATES

On recommendation of the Committee on the Administration of the Federal Magistrates System, the Judicial Conference reaffirmed its preference for a system of full-time United States magistrates. See also 28 U.S.C. § 633(a)(3). It also endorsed the plans of the Committee to review each part-time position on an individual basis with a view toward eliminating most of the part-time positions either by abolishing them, combining them, or converting them to full-time positions.

In keeping with this preference for full-time magistrate positions, the Conference approved a cost-of-living adjustment for part-time magistrates in the same percentage as is granted by the Congress to federal employees generally in 1991, provided that no cost-of-living adjustment will be granted unless full-time magistrates receive a cost-of-living adjustment or a salary increase in 1991, equal to or above the adjustment granted to federal employees generally. The cost-of-living adjustment for part-time magistrates will become effective on the same date as any salary adjustment for full-time magistrates becomes effective.

SMALL CLAIMS PROCEDURES

The FCSC had proposed as one alternative to improve disposition of federal tort claims that the judiciary establish "divisions in the district court administered by magistrates" to handle claims below $10,000. Pursuant to a recommendation by the Magistrates Committee, the Judicial Conference objected to this FCSC recommendation which would vest magistrates with authority to decide certain Federal Tort Claims Act cases automatically. The Conference also reaffirmed disapproval of legislation "which mandates that a district court automatically refer particular types of cases to magistrates." See, e.g., JCUS-MAR 80, p. 34; see also "Federal Courts Study Committee Recommendations", supra p. 83.

RECALL REGULATIONS

The Judicial Conference approved an amendment to the regulations governing the recall of retired magistrates to clear up confusion concerning the calculation of pay for recalled magistrates. See also "Regulations Governing Recall of Retired Bankruptcy Judges", infra p. 67. The Conference also approved minor revisions to the regulations to include cross-references to the new retirement act for bankruptcy judges and magistrates (28 U.S.C. § 377).

DESIGNATION OF NEW FULL-TIME MAGISTRATE POSITIONS FOR ACCELERATED FUNDING

In order to provide prompt magistrate assistance to judicial districts which are seriously affected by drug filings, the Judicial Conference approved the Committee's recommendation to accelerate the funding for three new full-time magistrate positions authorized at this session. Magistrate positions at San Diego, California, Portland, Oregon, and Las Cruces, New Mexico were designated for accelerated funding in the fiscal year 1991.

CHANGES IN MAGISTRATE POSITIONS

After consideration of the report of the Committee and the recommendations of the Director of the Administrative Office, the district courts, and the judicial councils of the circuits, the Conference approved the following changes in salaries and arrangements for full-time and part-time magistrate positions. Unless otherwise indicated, these changes are to be effective when appropriated funds are available.

D.C. CIRCUIT

District of Columbia

Continued the full-time magistrate position which is due to expire on June 1, 1991, for an additional eight-year term.

Connecticut

Continued the full-time magistrate position at Hartford which is due to expire on October 31, 1991, for an additional eight-year term.

New York, Northern

Rescinded the action taken in March, 1990, converting the part-time magistrate position at Watertown to a full-time position and establishing a part-time magistrate position to serve at Syracuse (or Utica) at a salary of $44,436 per annum, and instead:

1. Authorized a full-time magistrate position to serve the court at Syracuse (or Utica); and
2. Continued the part-time magistrate position at Watertown for an additional four-year term at the currently authorized salary of $44,436 per annum.

New York, Eastern

Continued the part-time magistrate position at Patchogue for an additional four-year term at the currently authorized salary of $6,665 per annum.

Continued the part-time magistrate position at Monroe for an additional four-year term but deferred action on any change in the salary of the position.

Mississippi, Northern

1. Continued the full-time magistrate position at Greenville for an additional eight-year term; and
2. Continued the full-time magistrate position at Aberdeen (or Oxford) for an additional eight-year term.

Texas, Western

1. Increased the salary of the part-time magistrate position at Big Bend National Park from $26,662 per annum to $44,436 per annum for a three-month period commencing October 1, 1990, with a return to the $26,662 per annum salary thereafter; and
2. Increased the salary of the part-time magistrate position at Midland from $22,218 per annum to $39,992 per annum for a two-month period commencing October 1, 1990, with a return to the $22,218 per annum salary thereafter.

SIXTH CIRCUIT

Kentucky, Western

1. Converted the part-time magistrate position at Hopkinsville to a full-time magistrate position designated to serve the court at Hopkinsville or Bowling Green;

2. Continued the part-time magistrate position at Hopkinsville for an additional four-year term or until the full-time magistrate is appointed; and
3. Continued the part-time magistrate position at Bowling Green for an additional four-year term, or until a full-time magistrate is appointed at Hopkinsville or Bowling Green, whichever comes first; the position to be discontinued thereafter.

Michigan, Eastern

1. Continued the full-time magistrate position at Detroit which is due to expire on November 13, 1991, for an additional eight-year term, and redesignated the position as Flint (or Detroit); and
2. Continued the full-time magistrate position at Detroit which is due to expire on December 1, 1991, for an additional eight-year term, and redesignated the position as Ann Arbor (or Detroit).

SEVENTH CIRCUIT

Wisconsin, Western

Discontinued the part-time magistrate position at Eau Claire at the expiration of the current term in July, 1991.

EIGHTH CIRCUIT

Iowa, Southern

Increased the salary of the part-time magistrate position at Council Bluffs from $7,740 per annum to $8,887 per annum.

Nebraska

1. Authorized an additional full-time magistrate position to serve the court at Omaha; and
2. Discontinued the part-time magistrate position at North Platte upon appointment of the new full-time magistrate at Omaha.

NINTH CIRCUIT

California, Eastern

1. Continued the full-time magistrate position at Yosemite National Park for an additional eight-year term at the currently authorized salary of 70% ($62,210 per annum) of the maximum salary payable to a full-time magistrate;
2. Continued the part-time magistrate position at Sequoia-Kings Canyon National Parks for an additional four-year term at the currently authorized salary of $13,331 per annum; and
3. Continued the part-time magistrate position at South Lake Tahoe for an additional four-year term and increased the salary from $7,740 to $11,109 per annum.

California, Central

1. Continued the salary of the part-time magistrate position at San Luis Obispo at the current level of $26,662 per annum for the term commencing March 31, 1991;
2. Increased the salary of the part-time magistrate position at San Bernardino from $22,218 to $26,662 per annum for the term commencing January 18, 1991;
3. Continued the part-time magistrate position at Long Beach for an additional four-year term at the currently authorized salary of $13,331 per annum; and
4. Increased the salary of the part-time magistrate position at Barstow (or Victorville) from $8,887 to $11,109 per annum.

California, Southern

1. Authorized an additional full-time magistrate position to serve the court at San Diego;
2. Continued the full-time magistrate position at San Diego which is due to expire on April 9, 1992, for an additional eight-year term; and

3. Continued the full-time magistrate position at San Diego which is due to expire on March 29, 1991, for an additional eight-year term.

Hawaii

1. Continued the part-time magistrate position at Wailuku for an additional four-year term and increased the salary from $2,444 to $4,444 per annum; and
2. Continued the part-time magistrate position at Hilo for an additional four-year term at the currently authorized salary of $6,665 per annum.

Oregon

Colorado

1. Continued the full-time magistrate position at Denver which is due to expire on October 5, 1991, for an additional eight-year term;
2. Continued the full-time magistrate position at Denver which is due to expire on September 30, 1992, for an additional eight-year term; and
3. Decreased the salary of the part-time magistrate position at Grand Junction from $44,436 to $22,218 per annum, effective immediately.

New Mexico

ELEVENTH CIRCUIT

Florida, Middle

Continued the full-time magistrate position at Jacksonville which is due to expire on August 28, 1991, for an additional eight-year term.

Georgia, Middle

Continued the part-time magistrate position at Columbus for an additional four-year term at the currently authorized salary of $39,992 per annum.

Georgia, Southern

1. Continued the part-time magistrate position at Brunswick (or Waycross) for an additional four-year term at the currently authorized salary of $44,436 per annum; and
2. Discontinued the part-time magistrate position at Dublin (or Statesboro), effective immediately.

COMMITTEE ON PACIFIC TERRITORIES

The Committee on Pacific Territories reported on the status of pending legislation concerning Ninth Circuit review of judgments of local courts of American Samoa (H.R. 3438, 101st Congress) and a comprehensive proposal dealing with the Territory of Guam which could affect judicial relations between the federal courts and the territory (H.R. 98, 101st Congress).

COMMITTEE ON RULES OF PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE

APPELLATE RULES

The Committee on Rules of Practice and Procedure submitted to the Conference proposed amendments to Rules 4(a) ("Appeal as of Right - When Taken"), 25(a) ("Filing and Service"), 28(a), (b), and (h) ("Briefs"), 30(b) ("Appendix to the Briefs"), and 34(d) ("Oral Argument"), as well as amendments to correct typographical errors in Rules 6, 10(c), 26(a), 26.1, and 28(a) of the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure. The proposed amendments were accompanied by Committee notes explaining their purpose and intent. The Conference approved the amendments for transmission to the Supreme Court for consideration, with the recommendation that they be approved by the Court and transmitted to Congress pursuant to law.

The Conference also agreed to recommend that Congress amend 28 U.S.C. § 2107 to conform to the proposed amendment to Rule 4(a) of the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure and to eliminate the inconsistency between that section and the current version of Appellate Rule 4.

CIVIL RULES

The Committee on Rules of Practice and Procedure submitted to the Conference a proposed new Civil Rule 4.1, as well as amendments to Civil Rules 4 ("Process"), 5 ("Service and Filings of Pleadings and Other Papers"), 12 ("Defenses and Objections--When and How Presented--By Pleading or Motion--Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings"), 15 ("Amended and Supplemental Pleadings"), 16 ("Pretrial Conferences; Scheduling; Management"), 24 ("Intervention"), 26 ("General Provisions Governing Discovery"), 28 ("Persons Before Whom Depositions May Be Taken"), 30 ("Depositions Upon Oral Examination"), 34 ("Production of Documents and Things and Entering Upon Land for Inspection and Other Purposes"), 35 ("Physical and Mental Examination of Persons"), 41 ("Dismissal of Actions"), 44 ("Proof of Official Record"), 45 ("Subpoena"), 47 ("Jurors"), 48 ("Juries of Less than Twelve--Majority Verdict"), 50 ("Motion for a Directed Verdict and for Judgment Notwithstanding the Verdict"), 52 ("Findings by the Court"), 53 ("Masters"), 63 ("Disability of a Judge"), 71A ("Condemnation of Property"), 72 ("Magistrates, Pretrial Matters"), and 77 ("District Courts and Clerks"). The Committee also submitted new chapter headings VIII and IX and amendments to the Appendix of Forms to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, as well as amendments to Rules C and E of the Supplemental Rules for Certain Admiralty and Maritime Claims. Advisory notes and a report explaining the purpose and intent of all the amendments were transmitted with the proposals. The Conference approved these amendments and authorized their transmittal to the Supreme Court for consideration with the recommendation that they be approved by the Court and transmitted to Congress pursuant to law.

BANKRUPTCY RULES

The Committee submitted to the Conference substantial amendments to the Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, most of which were necessary to effect the provisions of the Bankruptcy Judges, United States Trustees, and Family Farmer Bankruptcy Act of 1986 (P.L. 99-554) and the Retiree Benefits Bankruptcy Protection Act of 1988 (P.L. 100-334). These amendments were approved by the Conference, which authorized their transmittal to the Supreme Court for consideration with the recommendations that (a) they be approved by the Court and transmitted to Congress pursuant to law; and (b) they should become effective as soon as possible without regard to the effective dates of the amendments to the Rules of Appellate and Civil Procedure.

The Committee also proposed a number of amendments to the Official Bankruptcy Forms to conform with the proposed changes to the Bankruptcy Rules or to accommodate the development of automation in the bankruptcy courts. The Judicial Conference approved these amendments to take effect on the effective date of the amended Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure.

PROCEDURES OF THE RULES COMMITTEES

The Judicial Conference approved amendments to paragraphs 6(b) and 9(b) of the Procedures for the Conduct of Business by the Judicial Conference Committees on Rules of Practice and Procedure. These amendments would require retention of the records of the Committees at the Administrative Office for two years instead of the current five years, before they are forwarded to a Government Records Center.

COMMITTEE ON SPACE AND FACILITIES

The Committee on Space and Facilities reported that, in recognition of the urgent need for issuing revised space standards, it has accelerated the schedule for submitting to the Judicial Conference the revised space standards contained in the United States Court Design Guide. The Committee anticipates submitting the revised Design Guide for consideration at the Conference's March 1991 session.

AD HOC COMMITTEE ON CAMERAS IN THE COURTROOM

The Ad Hoc Committee on Cameras in the Courtroom was established in October, 1988, "to review recommendations from other Conference committees on the introduction of cameras in the courtroom, and to take into account the American Bar Association's ongoing review of Canon 3A(7) of its Code of Judicial Conduct, dealing with the subject." At earlier sessions, the Committee reported its initial reaction that the current language of Canon 3A(7) of the Code of Conduct for United States Judges, in effect for almost forty years, was unduly restrictive and that a more flexible approach was in order. E.g., JCUS-MAR 89, p. 34.

After careful consideration of the views expressed by numerous judges in the system and media representatives, and of the state experiences in this area, the Ad Hoc Committee recommended, and the Conference agreed, to (a) strike Canon 3A(7) from the Code of Conduct for United States Judges and henceforth include policy on cameras in the courtroom in the Guide to Judiciary Policies and Procedures; and (b) adopt a policy statement and commentary on cameras in the courtroom, extending their permissible uses. Under the revised policy, cameras will be permitted in the courtroom during ceremonial proceedings for any purpose. For non-ceremonial proceedings, their utilization will be broadened from "presentation of evidence" and "perpetuation of the record" (as contained in former Canon 3A(7)), to include "security purposes" and for other purposes of "judicial administration."

In the view of both the Committee and the Conference, lifting all restrictions on camera coverage in federal courthouses would not be an appropriate move reflective of the current sentiment of most federal judges. However, the Committee believed that controlled experimentation on a voluntary basis would offer federal judges the opportunity to observe first-hand the effect of camera coverage and broadcasting of proceedings in federal court. Consequently, the Committee proposed, and the Conference authorized, a three-year experiment in up to two courts of appeals and up to six district courts, permitting photographing, recording, and broadcasting of civil proceedings, in accordance with guidelines, also approved by the Conference, which participating courts would have to adopt and which give presiding judicial officers the discretion, at any time, to refuse, limit, or terminate media coverage for any reason "considered necessary or appropriate by the presiding judicial officer." The Federal Judicial Center has agreed to monitor and evaluate the pilot, which will commence July 1, 1991, and "sunset" June 30, 1994.

The Ad Hoc Committee was designated by the Conference to select the participating courts. Upon completion of the selection process, the Ad Hoc Committee is discharged from further service, and oversight of the pilot is then assigned to the Committee on Court Administration and Case Management.

RESOLUTION

On behalf of the Judicial Conference, the Executive Committee adopted the following resolution in appreciation of Judge Howard T. Markey of the Federal Circuit, as follows:

Judge Markey was the first Chief Judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, last Chief Judge of the United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, and member of this Conference from 1972 to 1990.

Chief Judge Markey served with distinction as a member of the Conference. The confidence and respect he earned during his tenure as a member of the Judicial Conference have been clearly demonstrated through his numerous committee appointments by two Chief Justices. He served as a member of the Executive Committee from 1982 to 1987, the Committee on Court Administration from 1979 to 1987, the Subcommittee on Judicial Improvements from 1975 to 1979, and as Co-Chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee on Cameras in the Courtroom from 1983 to 1984. He served as the Coordinator for the Committee on the Bicentennial of the Declaration of Independence from 1975 to 1981, and was later appointed to serve as Chairman of the Committee on the Bicentennial of the Constitution from 1985 to 1987. His leadership and skill were further demonstrated in his chairing of the Committee on the International Appellate Judges Conference from 1987 to 1988, and the Advisory Committee on the Codes of Conduct from 1979 to 1987. He was elected to the Board of Certification for Circuit Executives in 1973, and remained on the Board until 1985.

Of his many contributions to the administration of justice, three deserve special recognition:

The emergence of the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit - Chief Judge Markey presided over the emergence of the first new federal court to be established under Article III in more than 70 years. That its two predecessor courts, the Court of Claims and the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, were respectfully consigned to history and replaced by a national court of appeals ready, willing and able from the first moment of its existence to execute the mandate of Congress was the handiwork of its first chief judge, Howard T. Markey. While his preeminent judicial leadership forged the bonds of judicial collegiality, his unparalleled administrative abilities were creative of the institutional framework through which the old became the new without pause or hesitation. He has left a legacy that will guide all who follow.

The Codes of Conduct - Chief Judge Markey served for almost a decade as the first chairman of the Judicial Conference's Advisory Committee on the Codes of Conduct. No element of our society has been as free of unethical conduct as the federal judiciary. In our time, no single person has been so responsible for this vital aspect of the administration of justice as Chief Judge Howard T. Markey. Countless numbers of federal judges sought and received his advice on virtually every matter in their personal lives that impinged on their service as judges. Under his leadership of this vital committee, our judges received the clear, sound guidance needed to insure the integrity of their public lives and the sanctity of the judicial proceedings they preside over.

The American Inns of Court - While many in our society are cynical about the future of the administration of justice, the young movement known as the American Inns of Court holds the hope that lawyers and judges working together can vastly improve the quality of courtroom and lawyering skills in our overly litigious times. Chief Judge Markey has been a driving force in this movement, having served in many capacities, including chairman of the initial board of trustees of the American Inns of Court Foundation.

In summary, when the improvements in the administration of justice in these times are enumerated, they will have a common element, the energizing influence of a most remarkable jurist, Howard T. Markey. To create new institutions for the administration of justice, to keep the conscience of the judiciary during times of ethical scrutiny and change, and to participate in the renewal of the legal profession and the judiciary, these represent the very highest service to the cause of justice.

While we will miss his friendship and wise counsel at Judicial Conference sessions, we are proud to acknowledge his many contributions to the federal judiciary and the nation, and extend our esteem and gratitude.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS

Noting the deaths of Judge Harrison L. Winter and Mr. William E. Foley, the Conference adopted the following resolutions:

on April 10, 1990, in Baltimore, Maryland.

Judge Winter was a life-long Baltimore resident, a graduate of Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland Law School where he was a member of the Order of the Coif. He served as a United States District Judge from 1961 until his appointment to the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals in 1966 where he served as its Chief Judge from 1981 until 1989, and was a member of this Conference for eight years.

Judge Winter believed in the Constitution and the rights of citizens and had a life-long dedication to civil rights and fairness to all citizens. He will be remembered as a superb administrator and an exceptional judge and lawyer. Judge Murnaghan of the Fourth Circuit said of Judge Winter that he was "one of those with the happy faculty of making up his mind easily after reflection."

The members of the Judicial Conference convey their sympathies to Judge Winter's widow, Gladys Winter, and to his family and ask that this Resolution be sent to them as a token of their respect and affection for Judge Winter.

The Judicial Conference of the United States notes with great sadness the death of

on August 11, 1990, in Washington, D.C. Mr. Foley served as Deputy Director of the Administrative Office of the United States Courts from 1964 to 1977 and served as Director from 1977 until his retirement in 1985. At the time of his retirement, the Conference noted the respect and admiration Mr. Foley had earned from the members of the Conference and federal judges throughout the nation. We echo those sentiments today and ask that this resolution be sent to Mrs. Foley as an expression of our deepest sympathies and as a token of our respect and esteem.

PRETERMISSION OF TERMS OF THE COURTS OF APPEALS

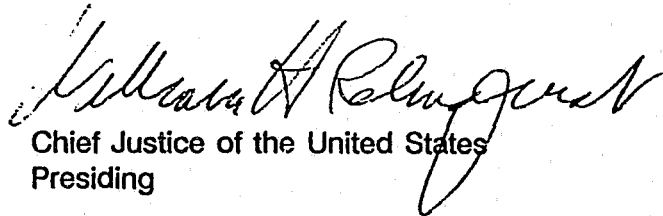

Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 48, the Conference approved the pretermission of terms of the following United States Courts of Appeals during the calendar year 1991: the Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit at Asheville, North Carolina; the Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit at Los Angeles, California; and the Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit at Wichita, Kansas, and Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

FUNDING

All of the foregoing recommendations which require the expenditure of funds for implementation were approved by the Conference subject to the availability of funds, and subject to whatever priorities the Conference might establish for the use of available resources.

RELEASE OF CONFERENCE ACTION

The Conference authorized the immediate release of matters considered at this session where necessary for legislative or administrative action.

1990 Annual Report of the Director

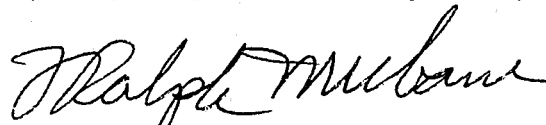

SECTION I

PREFACE

I am pleased to present the 1990 Annual Report of the Director of the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts. The following pages contain a detailed summary of the business of the Federal courts and the activities of the Administrative Office for the last year. Highlights of the changes in the business of the courts are provided below and a brief summary of the workload indicators is provided on the following page.

We welcome any comments or suggestions you may have for improving the content and format of this report.

L. Ralph Mecham, Director

WORKLOAD HIGHLIGHTS

Appeals

- In regional courts of appeals, filings were up 3 percent over 1989.
- Criminal appeals rose 18 percent, with drug appeals accounting for 60 percent of all criminal appeals. Appeals involving only a sentence under the Sentencing Guidelines accounted for 18 percent of all criminal appeals. Appeals of prisoner petitions rose 4 percent; all other civil appeals dropped less than 2 percent in 1990.
- Total pending appeals rose by 8 percent in 1990 with pending criminal appeals up 29 percent.

Civil

- Civil cases filed declined 7 percent to 217,879 cases.
- Filings less recovery and social security cases fell only 4 percent. Due to the increase in jurisdictional amount from $10,000 to $50,000 in May of 1989, diversity filings decreased 10,000 cases, or 15 percent. Asbestos personal injury product liability filings increased 66 percent in 1990.
- The pending civil caseload rose 2 percent to 242,346; the number of 3 year old pending civil cases increased 13 percent to 25,207.

Criminal

- Criminal filings rose more than 6 percent in 1990. Drug cases continued to be a major factor in the increase, rising 6 percent after increases of more than 15 percent in each of the past two years. Cases charging immigration and weapons violations, many related to drug activity, rose more than 23 percent each. Fraud filings jumped 10 percent.
- More than 37 percent of all pending criminal cases involve drug offenses.

Bankruptcy

- Filings were up 13 percent from last year, continuing a long term increase. Filings in all chapters increased except Chapter 12. Non-business filings comprise 91 percent of total filings in 1990. The pending caseload grew to over 970,000 cases.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE OF THE UNITED STATES COURTS
1990

TO: The Chief Justice of the United States, Chairman, and Members of the Judicial Conference of the United States

This report was prepared in accordance with Title 28, U.S. Code Section 604(a)(3). It summarizes the business of the Federal courts and the activities of the Administrative Office of the United States Courts for the twelve-month period ended June 30, 1990. The report is divided into two sections. The first covers the business of the courts, judicial appropriations and financial reports, personnel, and a legislative summary. The second covers the activities of the Administrative Office. All references to "year" in this report apply to the twelve-month period ended June 30 unless stated otherwise.

JUDICIAL BUSINESS

U.S. Courts of Appeals

Filings in the 12 regional courts of appeals continued a steady increase in 1990, up 1,164 cases (3 percent) to 40,898 appeals. This represents 787 filings per authorized three-judge panel, compared to 722 only two years ago. All but four of the courts of appeals showed increases in filings. Summary data on activity in the courts of appeals are contained in Tables 1, 2 and 3. Detailed data on activity in each of the courts of appeals are provided in the B series of the Appendix Tables and Supplemental Tables S-1 through S-3.

While total appeals filed increased moderately, appeals of criminal cases rose by 18 percent this year. Civil appeals from the U.S. district courts remained relatively stable compared to 1989, increasing less than 1 percent, while appeals from the U.S. bankruptcy courts, and original proceedings decreased more than 3 percent from 1989. Administrative agency cases, after a drop of 3 percent last year, decreased 13 percent in 1990.

Criminal appeals arising from the district courts had increased at a moderate pace until November 1987 when the Sentencing Guidelines became effective in the U.S. district courts. Criminal appeals rose rapidly each subsequent year, up 14 percent in 1988, 33 percent in 1989 and 18 percent this year. Specifically, criminal appeals increased 1,473 cases to 9,493 this year, up from 8,020 in 1989. The authorizing legislation for the Sentencing Guidelines provided for the first time for appeals of sentences imposed in the U.S. district courts. Of the 9,493 criminal appeals filed this year, 1,745 (18 percent) were appeals of a sentence only, and 3,641 were appeals of both sentence and conviction. Summary data on Guideline appeals are contained in Table 3.

In addition to the Sentencing Guidelines, drug related cases have had a dramatic influence on the workload of the courts of appeals. In 1988, appeals of drug cases accounted for 2,977 filings, 50 percent of the total criminal appeals filed. This year, appeals of drug related cases totaled 5,658 and comprised 60 percent of the total criminal appeals filed. In just the last year, appeals of drug cases have grown by 29 percent.

During the year, the courts of appeals disposed of 38,520 cases, an increase of 3 percent from a year ago. Dispositions per authorized three-judge panel rose to 741 in 1990 compared to only 604 in 1985. Six of the 12 courts of appeals reported higher terminations this year, while the remaining courts had decreases of more than 1 percent each. As with filings, criminal appeals accounted for 19 percent of the terminations. The courts of appeals closed 7,509 criminal appeals during 1990, up 19 percent (or 1,212). Terminations of both U.S. and state prisoner petitions rose

U.S. Courts of Appeals Filings 1980-1990

8 percent from 8,821 in 1989 to 9,548 in 1990. In contrast, private civil appeals closings decreased 4 percent from 13,429 to 12,870; while administrative agency appeals dropped 11 percent or 332 cases.

Reversing a two-year downward trend, cases terminated on the merits increased 9 percent to 21,006 compared to 19,322 in 1989. Terminations on the merits accounted for 55 percent of all appeals closed this year. Cases disposed of on the merits after oral hearing declined for the third straight year. In 1990, only 45 percent of the dispositions on the merits were after oral hearing, compared to 50 percent in 1989. The percentage of appeals terminated on the merits ranged from a high of 67 percent by the Eighth Circuit to a low of 38 percent by the Second Circuit. Nationally, 12 percent of all cases terminated on the merits were reversed and remanded to the U.S. district courts for further action. See Supplemental Table S-1 for more data on appeals terminated on the merits.

Data on case participations in appeals terminated on the merits are provided in Supplemental Table S-2. Of the 63,828 case participations reported during 1990, 82 percent were recorded by resident active circuit judges and 11 percent by senior judges. Senior judges are a valuable resource for the courts of appeals.

Forty-nine percent (or 10,196) of all opinions or orders filed in cases which were terminated on the merits in 1990 were written, unsigned and reasoned. Reasoned opinions expound on the law as applied to the facts of an individual case and explain the rationale upon which the final judgment is based. Written opinions signed by an individual judge accounted for 40 percent of all opinions. Supplemental Table S-3 provides a summary, by circuit, of the types of opinions or orders filed in cases closed during 1990.

Reversing a two-year upward trend, appeals terminated procedurally decreased 6 percent from 15,342 in 1989 to 14,359 this year. Procedural terminations by judges decreased 10 percent, while procedural terminations by court staff declined only 3 percent.

Since more appeals were filed than disposed of, the number of appeals pending rose to 32,396 on June 30, 1990. This is an increase of 8 percent over 1989 and more than 60 percent above the number pending 10 years ago. The largest increase was in pending criminal cases, which rose 29 percent to 8,760. Pending drug appeals rose 39 percent over 1989 levels and now represent 61 percent of the total pending criminal appeals. Pending prisoner appeals totaled 6,187 this year, up 393 (7 percent) from a year ago and now comprise 19 percent of the pending caseload.

Cases Under Submission

Judges of the 13 courts of appeals and the Temporary Emergency Court of Appeals reported 1,274 cases under submission over 90 days for the quarter ended June 30, 1990. This was a 22 percent increase from the 1,041 cases reported for the same quarter in 1989. Cases awaiting additional memoranda, briefs, or an opinion in another case are not included in this report. Included are cases in which the proposed opinion is being circulated to panel members for comment, or a concurring or dissenting opinion is being written. The Ninth Circuit had the largest number of cases under submission with 276 cases. Eleven circuits reported increases in the number of cases held under submission at the end of June 1990 compared to eight circuits the previous year. In contrast, the Fourth and Fifth Circuits and the Temporary Emergency Court of Appeals reported a decrease. Table 4 provides additional information on appeals under submission for 1989 and 1990.

U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit

Filings in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit increased 3 percent (49 cases) this year to 1,466 reaching the highest total since 1985. Although the total increase is modest, appeals from several agencies showed significant increases. The largest increase was in appeals from the Merit Systems Protection Board (MSPB) which rose by 97 cases; MSPB appeals continue to represent a significant portion (47 percent) of the court's caseload. There was also a significant increase of 54 percent (or 60 cases) in appeals from the U.S. Claims Court, after a 22 percent decrease last year. These increases were offset by decreases in appeals from the Court of International Trade, down 43 percent (or 29 cases) and the Patent and Trademark Office, down 13 percent (or 20 cases). Filings of appeals from decisions of both these agencies had increased in each of the previous two years.

During the year, the court disposed of 1,393 appeals, 3 percent (or 47 cases) lower than the 1,440 cases closed in 1989. This decline was primarily in appeals terminated by judges which were down 4 percent from 876 in 1989 to 842 this year. Despite the decrease, appeals terminated by judges still accounted for 60 percent of all terminations. With the combined effects of a slight increase in filings and fewer cases terminated, the pending caseload increased by 11 percent (or 72 cases). Appendix Table G-2 contains summary data on the activity of the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.

U.S. District Courts

Civil Workload

Civil cases filed in the U.S. district courts declined 7 percent from 233,529 cases in 1989 to 217,879 in 1990. Filings per judgeship fell from 406 to 379, the lowest total since 1981. Tables 5 and 6 provide summary data on the civil workload since 1980. The C series of Appendix Tables contain more detailed data on the civil workload including information for each U.S. district court. Additional summary data are provided in Appendix Tables X-4, X-5 and Supplemental Tables S-4 through S-8.

Since 1980, the predominant trends in the civil workload in the U.S. district courts have been in actions filed by the United States to recover overpayment of veterans' benefits and defaulted student loans (referred to as recovery cases), and actions filed against the United States regarding social security benefits. Filings of recovery cases have declined each year since 1986, and Social Security filings have decreased since 1985, with the exception of a 14 percent increase from 1987 to 1988. These two types of cases have had such a dramatic effect on the change in total civil filings from year to year that the direction and rate of change has been dependent on the number of recovery and social security cases filed. Exclusive of these two categories, civil filings increased each year during the 1980's. In 1990, however, civil filings exclusive of recovery and social security cases declined by 4 percent to 199,562 cases. This resulted from a substantial drop in diversity of citizenship cases which is discussed in more detail later in this section.

Civil filings involving the United States decreased 9 percent to 56,300 cases in 1990. U.S. plaintiff cases decreased from 35,165 to 31,763 in the past year, a decline of 10 percent. The most significant decrease was in cases where the U.S. government attempted to recover benefit overpayments or defaulted loans. Recovery of overpayment of veterans' benefits fell 45 percent from 9,060 to 4,963 filings while recovery of defaulted student loans declined by 19 percent from 6,621 to 5,357 cases. The decrease in recovery of overpayment of veterans' benefits and defaulted student loans can be attributed to a combination of factors. In the early part of the decade, there was a large backlog of recovery cases to be litigated; once the backlog was reduced, however, the number of recovery cases fell naturally to a lower level of filings. A reduced effort by the Federal government to recover these loans and recent budget restrictions on agencies involved in these actions are the most important ingredients in their continued decline.

Data collected since July 1989 on drug related seizures of property indicates that these cases will have an increasing impact on U.S. plaintiff filings in the next few years. These cases are a byproduct of the Federal government's increased emphasis on illegal drug activities. In only 12 months, drug related seizures of property already make up 5 percent of total U.S. plaintiff filings (1,714 cases).

Cases filed against the United States in 1990 declined by 8 percent, from 26,741 to 24,537. The most significant decrease was in Social Security cases which fell from 10,080 cases in 1989 to 7,355 in 1990, a decline of 27 percent. This decrease was concentrated in Disability Insurance and Supplemental Security Income cases which declined 30 percent and 20 percent respectively. The downward trend in Social Security cases began in 1985 after a dramatic rise in 1983 and 1984 resulting from numerous beneficiaries being ruled ineligible for disability benefits by the Disability Determination Services.

Among private cases, federal question litigation was essentially unchanged this year. The most significant change in private civil filings occurred in diversity of citizenship cases. Often, when citizens of different states bring a dispute to court, they choose the Federal courts as providing an impartial forum rather than state court; the amount in dispute must exceed a certain limit for the Federal courts to have jurisdiction. Diversity filings declined by 15 percent (more than 10,000 cases) to 57,183 cases as a result of the increase in the jurisdictional amount from $10,000 to $50,000 in May 1989. The drop in diversity filings was the most important factor in the 7 percent decrease in all civil cases and the 4 percent decrease in total civil filings less recovery and social security cases. The drop in diversity cases would have been even more dramatic were it not for a substantial increase in asbestos personal injury product liability filings. Asbestos filings increased by 66 percent from 7,718 in 1989 to 12,822 cases in 1990. A large portion of this increase was concentrated in three districts. Asbestos filings rose from 1,550 to 3,396 in Ohio, Northern; from 159 to 1,089 cases in Virginia, Eastern; and from 569 to 1,031 cases in Texas, Eastern. The marked increase in asbestos filings was the result of numerous plaintiffs filing against a single defendant. In Texas, Eastern, 663 of the 1,031 asbestos filings were reopened cases, and in Ohio, Northern, 2,778 of the 3,396 filings were removals from state court in a situation where the plaintiffs in the original 45 state court cases were required to file individually in federal court. If asbestos filings had remained at 1989 levels, the drop in diversity cases resulting from the new jurisdictional dollar amount would have been in excess of 15,000 cases.

Civil cases terminated in the U.S. district courts fell 9 percent to 213,922 in 1990, the lowest total since 1982. The median time from filing to disposition (excluding land condemnation cases, prisoner petitions, and deportation reviews), remained constant at 8 months from 1989 to 1990. Since filings slightly outnumbered terminations, the pending caseload increased 2 percent to 242,346 cases as of June 30, 1990. The number of civil cases pending three years or more rose 13 percent to 25,207 cases. Much of the increase in cases pending for three years or more can be attributed to asbestos cases which increased 37 percent from 5,515 to 7,549 cases as of June 30, 1990. The number of asbestos cases pending for three years or more is likely to increase over the next two years as there are 7,068 cases that have been pending for 2 to 3 years and 6,988 cases that have been pending for 1 to 2 years as of June 30, 1990.

Arbitration

Public Law 100-702 created the court-annexed arbitration program in May of 1989. The program was created to serve as an alternative for settling civil disputes without resorting to trial. Cases can be referred to arbitration if both parties consent (voluntary), or the court can require arbitration in cases where money damages sought are $100,000 or less (mandatory). The decision of the arbitrator is not binding and parties can file for a trial within 30 days after the ruling. In this situation, the case is then treated as though it never went to arbitration. The following district courts were authorized to participate in arbitration during the first year of its implementation: the Northern District of California, the Middle District of Florida, the Western District of Michigan, the Western District of Missouri, New Jersey, the Eastern District of New York, the Middle District of North Carolina, the Western District of Oklahoma, the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, and the Western District of Texas. An additional 10 courts have been authorized to participate in this program during 1991. Table 7 provides additional data on the number of arbitration cases filed, terminated and pending during 1990.

During 1990, the first year of reporting, a total of 3,970 cases were referred to arbitration in the 10 participating districts, which was 10 percent of total civil filings in these courts. Over 46 percent (1,828 cases) of the arbitration cases were contract actions, and another 38 percent (1,499 cases) dealt with tort actions. Other types of actions in which a significant number of cases were referred to arbitration were labor suits (161 cases), civil rights actions (103 cases), and Federal Employers' Liability Act litigation (87 cases). A total of 4,476 arbitration cases were terminated in 1990. Of all arbitration cases terminated, 4,041 (90 percent) were mandatory, compared with 199 (4 percent) voluntary terminations. A total of 236 (5 percent) of the cases terminated were withdrawn from the program. The number of arbitration cases pending in these 10 courts declined 11 percent from 4,447 in 1989 to 3,941 as of June 30, 1990.

Criminal Workload

Criminal case filings in the district courts continued to increase during 1990, rising 6 percent to 48,904, including transfers. During each of the previous two years, the rate of growth was a more moderate 3 percent. The number of criminal filings per authorized judgeship rose to 85 from 80 last year. Criminal case terminations were also up in 1990 by almost 4 percent to 44,295. Last year, terminations increased less than 2 percent, and in 1988 they declined slightly. As a result of the heavy increase in filings, the upward spiral in pending criminal cases continued. By year's end, the number of pending cases reached 35,519, which was 15 percent above last year's total. Pending criminal cases have climbed 141 percent since 1980, when they numbered 14,759. Table 8 presents figures on the criminal workload for 1980 through 1990. Detailed data on criminal workload are provided in the D series of Appendix Tables.

New drug cases continued to lead the increase in criminal filings as Congress and the Department of Justice (DOJ) have focused resources on illegal drug activity. The Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force coordinates efforts within DOJ to stem the tide of drug-related crimes. The Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 added 70 inspectors and 435 border patrol agents for the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) and 244 agents for the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (ATF). The latter agency has grown by 700 agents since 1985. These increases concentrated more personnel on drug investigations and a variety of related crimes. In addition, enhanced penalties for many drug offenses have encouraged prosecutors to center their emphasis on illicit drugs.

As a result of these new resources, drug cases rose 6 percent overall in 1990 to 12,810 (including transfers), although the rate of increase was substantially less than the 15 percent increase reported last year. Excluding transfers, marijuana cases were up 10 percent to 4,002 while narcotics filings climbed 7 percent to 7,522. The Anti-Drug Abuse Act not only increased enforcement personnel in INS and ATF, it designated drug offenses as "crimes of violence." This important change enabled the government to use weapons and immigration laws to help in the fight against drugs. As a result, even though drug cases did not increase at the rate of previous years, weapons and firearms cases and immigration cases each rose substantially (23 percent) this year. These two offenses accounted for 2,713 and 2,390 cases, respectively, nearly 1,000 more than were filed for the same offenses last year. See Appendix Table D-2.

Fraud cases also climbed significantly, up 10 percent this year after a 6 percent decline in 1989. The 7,552 fraud cases filed in 1990 were the most ever reported. Renewed emphasis in this area, spurred by the savings and loan scandal, contributed to an 11 percent rise in fraud offenses involving lending institutions, as well as a 16 percent increase in cases charging false claims and statements. DOJ has reported the prosecution of 329 officials for fraud in 243 savings and loan failures since October 1988, and even more of these cases are yet to be prosecuted. Drunk driving and traffic cases continued to increase, up 4 percent in 1990 to 8,538 after a rise of 7 percent last year. Nearly three-fourths of all traffic cases were confined to five districts with large areas of military or Federal park jurisdiction.

A trend that was reversed this year was the moderate two-year decline in new cases filed by indictment. As more than 600 additional Federal prosecutors authorized since 1988 have been appointed and trained, they have enabled U.S. Attorneys to pursue more investigations. In 1990, cases filed by indictment rose 9 percent to 25,571. The number of defendants indicted grew to 41,286, an increase of 6 percent.

DOJ has been authorized 640 more deputy U.S. attorney positions under the Emergency Drug Funding of the Department of Transportation Appropriations Act of November 1989; further increases in indictments filed are expected. The total number of defendants charged in 1990, including those charged by information and other types of proceedings, climbed 5 percent to 65,359. Because drug offenses tend to involve broad enterprises with many participants, drug cases continued to comprise a large portion of cases filed with more than one defendant. The average number of defendants charged in each drug case was 1.8, while the average for non-drug offenses was 1.2.

During 1990, the district courts concluded cases involving 56,519 defendants. This was 3 percent (or nearly 1,900 defendants) more than last year. Table 9 shows the number of defendants convicted rose to 46,725, and accounted for 83 percent of all dispositions. This compares with 81 percent in 1989. Convictions obtained by guilty pleas rose 5 percent while defendants found guilty by juries increased 13 percent. In contrast, the number of defendants found guilty after court trials fell 13 percent and the number dismissed dropped 3 percent. This latter decline is notable because of the large increase in total dispositions. Defendants acquitted after court and jury trials were also down this year.

Almost 3,000 more defendants were sentenced to prison in 1990 than in 1989. Defendants sentenced to regular terms of imprisonment, which includes sentences imposed under 18 U.S.C. Section 4205(a) with parole eligibility, Federal Juvenile Delinquency Act sentences, and sentences imposed under the Sentencing Guidelines, climbed even more sharply from 21,485 in 1989 to 25,768. This accounted for 55 percent of all sentences imposed. Last year, regular terms of imprisonment comprised 48 percent of all sentences. Split sentences (6 months or less in jail followed by probation) fell 36 percent to 1,716 following a drop of one-third last year. Indeterminate sentences also dropped, down 56 percent to 312. Both types of sentences are proscribed by the new Sentencing Guidelines so these numbers will continue to fall as the number of pre-guidelines cases declines.

The increase in prison sentences resulted, in part, from more than 2,000 additional defendants convicted of drug offenses. There were 16,188 defendants sentenced for drug convictions this year, with 83 percent receiving regular imprisonment sentences. Last year, there were 14,139 defendants convicted for drugs, with 77 percent receiving regular imprisonment sentences. More drug offenders are being sentenced to prison due to legislation mandating prison as the penalty for drug offenses. The Sentencing Guidelines also affect this increase by directing imprisonment in all but the lowest levels of drug convictions. Significantly more offenders were also sentenced to regular terms of imprisonment following convictions for weapons and firearms, and immigration violations. Appendix Tables D-4 and D-5 provide summary totals of defendant dispositions and sentences imposed for each type of offense.

The Sentencing Guidelines also affected the average length of prison term imposed. The average term of imprisonment rose slightly to 59 months this year, but remained 7 months below the average regular term imposed in 1988.

The reduction from the 1988 average term imposed results from the fact that the Guidelines more often call for short prison terms where probation may have been imposed previously. As an example, 2,528 defendants were convicted of immigration violations this year, compared to 2,028 in 1988. Two-thirds (1,663) of these offenders received regular terms of imprisonment in 1990, of which 1,322 were in the range of 1 to 12 months. In 1988, there were only 936 regular imprisonment terms imposed (46 percent) with 497 in the range of 1 to 12 months. The overall total of defendants sentenced to regular prison terms of 1 to 12 months in 1990 climbed to 6,701 from 5,057 last year. In 1988, the total was only 3,070.

While there has been a reduction in the overall average prison term imposed, the average prison term served is almost certain to rise. Prior to the Sentencing Guidelines, regular terms of imprisonment allowed for parole after as little as one-third of the sentence was served in prison. But the Sentencing Reform Act of 1984, which promulgated the Guidelines System of Sentencing, eliminated parole for offenders committed to Federal institutions. The only reduction in prison terms imposed under the Guidelines is 54 days per year that can be awarded for good behavior. A defendant sentenced to 5 years imprisonment under the Guidelines, for example, must serve approximately 51 months in prison, while the same offender might have been considered for release after only 20 months prior to the Guidelines. As a result, while the full length of prison terms dictated by the Guidelines is sometimes less than the terms under old laws, the effect is longer periods of incarceration. During 1990, well over one-half of all sentences imposed were under the Guidelines.

Even with more defendants convicted this year, the number sentenced to probation declined 5 percent to 14,196. Only 30 percent of all defendants sentenced this year received probation, compared to 37 percent in 1988. The number of sentences imposed consisting of a fine only remained stable at 4,176.

Two-thirds of the 15 percent increase in pending cases was in cases involving offenses other than drugs. While the number of pending cases involving drugs climbed by 1,524 to 13,092 in 1990, the number of non-drug cases pending rose 3,088 to 22,427. Even so, drug cases continued to comprise 37 percent of all cases pending, the same as last year. There were increases in pending cases involving fraud (up 732 cases to 5,504), weapons and firearms (up 440 to 2,048), immigration (up 242 to 1,818) and traffic (up 493 to 1,940), concurrent with augmented numbers of filings for each of these offenses.

Appendix Table D-10 shows the status of defendants in cases pending at year's end. Of the 52,568 defendants whose cases were pending on June 30, 1990, slightly more than one-third (17,824) were fugitives. Fugitives who fled prior to trial increased 5 percent from 16,176 in 1989 to 17,022, while the number who became fugitives after conviction climbed 9 percent to 802. Another 21 percent (10,892) of defendants in pending cases had already been tried and were awaiting sentencing only. This was an increase of 2,327 (27 percent) and reflects the longer times required for sentencing under the Sentencing Guidelines. There were 23,127 defendants pending on June 30 who were triable. Nearly one-third (7,428 or 32 percent) of these defendants were facing narcotics charges and another 2,359 (10 percent) were charged with marihuana offenses. The overall total of 10,621 defendants pending on drug charges was 11 percent more than the 9,579 pending in drug cases at the end of last year.

Case Disposition Times and Speedy Trial Compliance

Appendix Table D-6 shows median time intervals from filing to disposition of criminal defendants during 1990. The median time from filing of an indictment or information to disposition (including imposition of sentence when convicted) for defendants disposed of this year was 4.5 months. This was up from 4.1 months in 1989. The median has risen steadily since 1985, when it stood at 3.0 months. Part of this increase is due to the longer times being reported for the period from conviction to imposition of sentence. The increasing drug caseload, however, has also affected the average length of time for disposing of criminal cases. The median time from filing to disposition for drug defendants this year was 5.9 months overall, but it was only 3.7 months for defendants accused of all other types of offenses. Drug cases often are linked, with defendants in one case also involved in other cases. Sometimes one defendant's testimony against a defendant in another case will be part of a plea bargain. Until this testimony is assured, U.S. attorneys will continue one or more cases that eventually end in a plea to lesser charges or dismissal. In addition, scheduling of these events causes its own delays in processing drug cases. As a result, the median time from filing to disposition in dismissed drug cases was 4.6 months compared to 2.7 months in other cases. For defendants pleading guilty, the median disposition time was 5.7 months in drug cases versus 3.7 months in other cases.

The Speedy Trial Act of 1974, as amended, mandates that defendants be indicted within 30 days of their arrest (Interval I), and brought to trial within 70 days (Interval II), not counting excludable delays granted by the court. If the government does not proceed within these time limits, the case can be dismissed upon application of the defendant. Such dismissal can be with prejudice, meaning the government cannot refile in the same case, or without prejudice, meaning this option is still available. Of 18,629 defendants for whom Interval I applied during 1990, 95 percent were indicted within 30 days. Also, 95 percent of the 54,991 defendants to whom Interval II applied were brought to trial within 70 days. (See Appendix Table D-11.)

Table 10 shows districts with defendants whose cases were dismissed during the past two years because the local U.S. attorneys did not meet the constraints of the Speedy Trial Act. This year, 9 districts reported such cases, resulting in the dismissal of 13 defendants. Last year, seven defendants were dismissed in four districts as a result of speedy trial sanctions. This year, two cases were dismissed with prejudice during the second interval. In one of these cases, the judge cited the fact that this was not the first case in which the U.S. attorney's office had been admonished for failing to follow the mandates of the Speedy Trial Act. In the cases dismissed without prejudice, judges cited defects in processing such as typographical errors by the clerk's office that caused the government to miss its deadlines. The courtroom was closed on the date one case was initially scheduled for trial due to a breakdown in the air conditioning unit, and the case was not re-scheduled until after the 70-day time period had expired. These errors were not found to have harmed the defendants' chances in any retrials, so these cases were dismissed without prejudice.

Interval III in the processing of each criminal case is the time between conviction and sentence. Although the Speedy Trial Act does not sanction this interval, the Judicial Conference Committee on the Administration of the Criminal Law has recommended a 45-day time limit for sentencing. Appendix Table D-12 provides the median times by district from conviction to sentence for defendants convicted during the past year and the number sentenced within 45 days. In 1982, more than 73 percent of all convicted defendants were sentenced within 45 days. The percentage has fallen every year since then. During 1990, less than 28 percent (13,058) of 46,912 convicted defendants were sentenced within 45 days, down from 34 percent in 1989.

The Sentencing Reform Act of 1984 contributed to this change in the time between conviction and sentence. Along with requiring the use of Sentencing Guidelines, it allows defendants to challenge their presentence reports at the sentencing hearings by presenting evidence to refute certain statements concerning their prior record or the circumstances of their offenses. As a result, probation officers spend more time on presentence reports and judges must allow more time for sentencing hearings as well, which can cause scheduling problems. The median time from conviction to sentence for defendants sentenced more than 45 days after their convictions has risen from 65 days in 1987 to 79 days during 1990.

Trials

During 1990, judges in U.S. district courts completed 20,433 trials, including those resulting in a verdict or judgment as well as other contested hearings where evidence was presented. Appendix Table C-7 shows the number of civil and criminal trials completed in each district. The total was 2 percent more than the 20,102 trials reported last year, but only 3 percent more than the total reported 10 years ago when there were 19,825 trials completed. Jury trials numbered 9,826 this year, up 2 percent from 1989.

The number of jury trials has increased one-third since 1980 when there were 7,355. Non-jury trials totaled 10,607 in 1990, 2 percent more than last year. In 1980, there were 12,470 non-jury trials. Thus, while the overall number of trials completed has not increased significantly in the past 10 years, the proportion of trials with juries rose from 37 percent in 1980 to 48 percent in 1990. Non-jury trials include both hearings on motions and other matters that did not result in a final judgment and full trials where the jury was waived by the defendant and the final judgment or verdict was rendered by the judge.

Criminal jury trials reached a record 5,061 in 1990, up 13 percent from last year. For the first time, they accounted for 52 percent of all jury trials. Criminal jury and non-jury trials in 1990 increased to 8,931, or 11 percent over last year's total.

Civil jury and non-jury trials fell nearly 5 percent in 1990 to 11,502. This is the lowest total in the past ten years. Civil jury trials were down 8 percent from last year to their lowest level since 1982 at 4,765. Appendix Table C-10 shows that for the tenth straight year, the median time from issue to trial for all civil cases was 14 months in 1990. The median time for completion of civil jury trials, however, increased from 14 months last year to 15 months.

Although there is a tendency to focus on trials, they do not encompass all work performed by judges. Many more cases are settled prior to trial only through extensive amounts of judicial involvement. For example, Appendix Table C-5 shows that judges closed 119,048 civil cases before or during pretrial proceedings. In addition, they spent time on land condemnation cases, prisoner petitions and deportation reviews that are not included in this figure. In the criminal area, judges accepted pleas from 31,500 defendants convicted without trials and held violation hearings for revocation of probation terms. They ruled on thousands of motions and held other non-contested hearings in both civil and criminal cases and maintained final authority on many of the nearly 345,000 matters handled by U.S. magistrates but not falling under magistrate trial jurisdiction.

Judges also spent more time this year on sentencing hearings. Under the Sentencing Guidelines, defendants may contest the circumstances presented on their offenses or their criminal histories at these hearings, since these determinations directly affect the sentences to be imposed. In 1990, there were 2,458 contested sentencing hearings that are not included in the appendix tables or the numbers reported above. This is about double the number reported for 1989. Judges also conducted non-contested sentencing hearings for more than 34,000 defendants in 1990.

Appendix Table C-8 shows the length of all trials completed by district judges during 1990. Because these figures include hearings and motions, 44 percent of all trials were completed in a single day, up from 42 percent in 1989. In contrast, nearly 5,000 trials (24 percent of the total) lasted 4 days or more during 1990, about the same percent as last year. Appendix Table C-9 lists the trials that lasted 20 days or more. In Massachusetts, a criminal trial for an alleged offense of sedition lasted 167 days, making it the longest trial in 1990. The longest civil trial was 122 days for a trademark suit filed in the Middle District of North Carolina.

Service of Visiting Judges

Appendix Tables V-1 and V-2 provide summary numbers for case dispositions by visiting judges in the U.S. district courts and in the U.S. courts of appeals. The term "visiting judge" includes both active and senior judges who perform service in courts other than their own. Judges will be asked to assist another court if all judges must recuse themselves from a particular case, when death or illness of a court's judges creates a backlog of cases, or in order to give district judges experience in the procedures of the courts of appeals. During 1990, visiting judges accounted for a total of 696 civil and criminal case dispositions in the U.S. district courts. They conducted trials for 315 of these cases. Visiting judges also provided 4,759 case participations as members of panels that disposed of cases in the courts of appeals. More than two-thirds of these participations were in cases disposed of after oral hearings.

Cases and Motions Under Advisement

For the quarter ended June 30, 1990, U.S. district court judges reported a total of 2,916 cases and motions under advisement over 60 days. This figure is 8 percent below the number reported for the same quarter in 1989. Matters awaiting additional memoranda or briefs or cases assigned to a special master are not included in this total. This quarter, 705 judges (including 182 senior judges) reported, 1 percent less than the number of judges reporting for the same quarter last year. Forty-six percent of the reporting judges had cases and motions under advisement over 60 days for an average of 9 per judge.

The circuits with the largest numbers of cases and motions under advisement were the Sixth (590), the Eleventh (477) and the Fifth (429). Supplemental Table S-9 shows the number of judges reporting and the number of matters under advisement in each circuit.

Weighted Filings Per Authorized Judgeship

Recognizing that each case filed does not require equal judicial attention, the district courts have participated in studies that have led to the development of case weights. A typical case has a weight of 1.0; a more complex case receives a higher weight (e.g. asbestos personal injury with a weight of 1.5) and a case that demands little work by a judge, like student loan cases (weight of 0.03), will have a lower than average weight.

Although raw filings decreased 5 percent to 436 per judgeship in 1990, weighted filings decreased only 4 percent to 448 per judgeship. Individual districts ranged from a low of 227 weighted filings per judgeship in South Dakota to a high of 876 in Ohio, Northern. Asbestos personal injury product liability cases accounted for 60 percent of Ohio, Northern's civil weighted filings. While criminal weighted filings increased 5 percent to 58 per judgeship in 1990, it was not enough to offset a 5 percent decrease in civil weighted filings to 390 per judgeship. The reduction in civil weighted filings was in part the result of a decline in diversity of citizenship cases due to the increase in the jurisdictional amount from $10,000 to $50,000 in May of 1989.

Appendix Table X-1A (excludes misdemeanor cases) provides, by district, weighted and unweighted filings per authorized judgeship in 1990. For a further discussion of the weighted caseload and its history in the Federal courts, see the 1980 Annual Report of the Director.

Petit Jury Activity

Table 11 provides data on the number of citizens called to serve on petit juries from 1985 through 1990. Petit juries served a total of 45,844 trial days throughout the 94 district courts in 1990, which was 2 percent more than were reported last year. The sum of individual days served by all petit jurors (including days serving on trials, selection days, and travel) rose 3 percent to 825,020. A change in the number and percentage of juror days devoted to criminal trials, which require larger juries, contributed to the overall increase in juror days. This year, more than half of all petit juror service was dedicated to criminal cases. The percentage of petit jury trial days devoted to criminal cases has increased gradually since 1984 when only 42 percent of trial days were criminal.

The increased activity in criminal trials resulted in more jurors being summoned for service this year. The total present for voir dire was 403,674; this was 2 percent more than appeared last year. Of this total, 149,651 or 37 percent were removed from service by peremptory challenges of the attorneys or dismissed for cause by the judges. The total selected was 115,877 or nearly 29 percent, compared to 28 percent in 1989. The number of juries selected this year grew 2 percent to a new record of 11,253 after a slight decline last year. The average number of jurors present for jury selection remained stable at 36, which is 3 more than were summoned per jury selected in 1988. Many districts continue to report significant numbers of highly publicized cases involving public figures and provocative issues. These cases normally require the summoning of larger pools of potential jurors in anticipation that many of them will be disqualified because of their familiarity with the circumstances surrounding the case.

The percentage of jurors not selected or challenged dropped nearly 2 percent to just over 34 percent in 1990, reversing a 2 percent increase in 1989. The decrease is a result of efforts in many courts to pool jurors more frequently and use multiple voir dire (select more than one jury at one session for trials scheduled in the future). More courts, too, are eliminating the practice of summoning jurors for orientation only. Appendix Table J-2 provides additional data on petit jury selection by district during 1990.

Grand Jury Activity

There were 752 grand juries serving in 1990, down from 776 last year. The number of sessions convened fell 4 percent to 10,134. This is the fewest sessions convened since 1979, and is more than 1,600 below the high of 11,804 reported in 1984. The number of juror days in grand jury sessions declined 3 percent to 200,588, the lowest in eleven years and 14 percent below the number of jurors who served in 1984. The number of hours in session also declined by nearly 5 percent to 54,476. Continuing improvements by U.S. Attorneys in the use of grand jury time have been a major factor in the declines in sessions, hours, and jurors used.

Despite these decreases in grand jury activity, the number of indictments returned rose 9 percent in 1990, to 25,571 cases. The number of defendants named in returned indictments increased 6 percent in 1990 to 41,286. This large increase in defendants indicted coupled with the drop in sessions convened resulted in a record high rate of defendants indicted per session. This year, the rate rose to 4.07 from 3.70 in 1989. By comparison, in 1980 the average was only 2.5 defendants indicted per session. Grand jury statistics are summarized in Table 12. Appendix Table J-1 shows grand juror service in each district for 1990.

Three-Judge Court Hearings

During the year ended June 30, 1990, a total of 9 three-judge court hearings were reported by 7 districts, up slightly from 8 hearings in 1989, the second year in a row that there were less than 10 hearings. While there was a slight increase in 1990, the number of three-judge district court hearings held under provisions of Title 28 U.S.C. Section 2284 has declined significantly, down from 208 hearings in 1976. This 14-year downward trend can be attributed to Public Law 94-381 signed on August 12, 1976, which abolished the general requirements of three-judge courts and specified when these courts could be convened. In 1990, 7 of the 9 hearings involved voting rights issues such as injunctive relief from changing voting procedures or challenging the method of election of legislators. The two remaining hearings concerned education discrimination and welfare injunctive relief against certain statutes and practices affecting abortion facilities, services and information. Supplemental Table S-10 illustrates the total number of three-judge court hearings held over a six year period.

Passport and Naturalization

With the exception of 1989, passport applications processed by the U.S. district courts have been declining for more than 10 years. This trend continued this year when only 647 passport applications were processed, a decrease of 37 percent from the 1,032 reported last year. Eight district courts processed applications in 1989, but only six district courts processed applications this year. The Western District of Michigan continues to process the greatest number of applications, with 497 or 77 percent of the total.

All U.S. district courts are designated as naturalization courts and are empowered to award U.S. citizenship. In 1990, 281,254 petitions for naturalization were filed and 266,578 aliens were naturalized. Compared to last year, the number of petitions for naturalization has declined by 4,170 petitions or 1 percent. The number of aliens naturalized has increased by 30,107 or 13 percent. Appendix Table P-1 summarizes passport applications, petitions for naturalization and aliens naturalized during the twelve-month period ended June 30, 1990.

Other Federal Courts

Temporary Emergency Court of Appeals

The Temporary Emergency Court of Appeals (TECA) began operating on December 22, 1971. This court litigates all appeals from the U.S. district courts in cases arising under Section 4(e) of the Economic Stabilization Act of 1971, the Emergency Petroleum Allocation Act of 1973, the Energy Policy and Conservation Act of 1975, and the Emergency Natural Gas Act of 1977.

TECA's workload remained light in 1990 with only 9 appeals filed, substantially lower than the 16 appeals filed in 1989. Terminations increased by 1 from 17 in 1989 to 18 in 1990. With terminations outnumbering filings by 2 to 1, the pending caseload was reduced from 15 to 6 as of June 30, 1990.

Special Court Established Under the Regional Rail Reorganization Act of 1973

The Special Court was established by the Regional Rail Reorganization Act of 1973 (Rail Act). Under the Rail Act, the court's primary role is to determine the value of properties transferred by seven principal bankrupt railroads and numerous other transferor railroads in the Northeast and Midwest regions. The Rail Act also provides exclusive jurisdiction over certain civil actions enumerated in Section 209(e).

In August 1981, the Northeast Rail Service Act of 1981 (NRSA) was enacted as Subtitle E of Title XI of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981. Section 1152(a) of NRSA provides additional exclusive jurisdiction in the Special Court. A considerable amount of litigation quickly arose and, in May 1982, pursuant to Section 1152(d) of NRSA, the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation assigned three additional judges to the Special Court to handle litigation under NRSA. In October 1986, the Conrail Privatization Act was enacted as Subtitle A of Title IV of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1986. Subsections 4025(b) and 4033(c)(1)(A) provide additional exclusive jurisdiction in the Special Court. The Court is presently divided into two panels of three judges each, with one member of the Court sitting on both panels. The General Panel exercises jurisdiction found in the Rail Act, while the Section 1152 Panel exercises jurisdiction over the cases arising under NRSA and under the Conrail Privatization Act.

In proceedings arising under its original and exclusive jurisdiction, the Special Court reported 2 cases filed and 1 case terminated during the year, leaving 15 civil actions and 8 miscellaneous matters pending as of June 30, 1990. Of the 2 new civil actions filed, 1 case is based on jurisdiction found in section 209(e) of the Rail Act and 1 case arises under section 1152(a) of NRSA.

Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation

The Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation was created in 1968. Its mission is to coordinate or consolidate pretrial proceedings in civil actions involving common questions in different districts. The Panel, consisting of seven circuit and district judges designated by the Chief Justice of the United States, approves all transfers of actions involved in the consolidations, and later remands the cases to the original districts. The Panel is also empowered to remand transferred actions before their conclusion for action on specific counter-claims, cross-claims, and third-party claims.

At the beginning of 1990, there were 260 actions pending before the Panel. The Panel acted upon 512 civil actions pursuant to 28 U.S.C. 1407 during the twelve-month period ended June 30, 1990. The Panel transferred 252 cases originally filed in 53 U.S. district courts to 22 transferee districts for inclusion in coordinated or consolidated pretrial proceedings. The Panel denied transfer of 119 actions.

Since creation of the Panel in 1968, there have been 17,918 civil actions centralized for pretrial proceedings. Out of a total of 16,048 actions during 1990, 2,763 actions were remanded for trial, 165 were reassigned within transferee districts, and 13,120 actions were terminated in transferee courts. There were 1,870 actions pending on June 30, 1990 throughout 35 transferee district courts.

Supplemental Table S-11 provides statistics on the number of cases transferred since the Panel was created, and the flow of cases into and out of the districts during the current year and cumulative since 1968. Information on specific cases may be obtained from the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation.

U. S. Court of International Trade

During the year ended September 30, 1990, there were 720 cases filed in the U.S. Court of International Trade, down 16 percent from the 858 that were filed during the year ended September 30, 1989. The Customs Courts Act of 1970, as implemented by the rules of the U.S. Court of International Trade, permits an importer to consolidate into a single civil action any number of denied protests involving the same category of merchandise and presenting a common issue. Of 650 new civil actions filed in fiscal year 1990, 537 were 1581 (a) or (b) actions which included approximately 4,535 denied protests covering 16,769 entries of merchandise.

The Court terminated 1,727 cases, also 18 percent fewer than last year because of a drop in cases closed by dismissal (down 42 percent). The number of decisions rendered, however, climbed 44 percent from 440 last year to 635 this year. The increase was in decisions rendered in cases submitted on agreed statements of facts. Decisions after trials dropped to 68 this year from 98 in 1989. With terminations greatly exceeding new filings, the number of cases pending fell 22 percent during the year to stand at 3,473 on September 30, 1990.

U. S. Claims Court

During the year ended September 30, 1990, the U.S. Claims Court received 787 complaints, which was an increase of 10 percent over the number of cases filed last year. Most cases brought to the Court involved multiple defendants in a single action. There were 12,534 plaintiffs in cases filed this year, up nearly 23 percent from 1989. In some cases, attorneys will consolidate cases from various districts into single cases to be presented at the Claims Court, which has national jurisdiction. Such consolidations accounted for a rise in filings concerning civilian pay from 29 last year to 78 in 1990. These complaints represented more than half (6,413) of all plaintiffs for whom cases were filed. There was also an increase of 13 percent in tax complaints filed this year, which rose to 192 and involved 4,224 plaintiffs.

The number of cases terminated by the Court rose 15 percent from 691 to 793 this year. Although this was a substantial increase in terminations, it was only six more than the number of filings for the year. The pending caseload, therefore, remained stable at 1,933 complaints as of September 30, 1990.

The total dollar amount claimed in cases terminated during 1990 exceeded $1.5 billion, excluding cases in which no given amounts were claimed. This is down from $2.7 billion claimed last year, partly because the dollar amounts in certain cases ending in settlements were not fully represented. The Claims Court rendered judgments for claimants in the sum of $304 million, of which $188 million carried interest. A number of these judgments were based on settlements between the parties. The Court rendered judgments for the U.S. on counterclaims or offsets of more than $7 million. Under its non-monetary jurisdiction, it also disposed of 2 tax exempt and 15 contract cases seeking injunctive or declaratory relief. Appendix Tables G-3A and G-3B provide the numbers and types of complaints filed and terminated during the year and the claims awarded.

The Claims Court is also responsible for cases emanating from the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program, which became effective on October 1, 1988. Vaccine cases are referred to the Office of Special Masters. As a result of amendments to the program, these appointed masters now have decision authority in vaccine cases, with appeal to the Claims Court. The program was originally scheduled to expire on September 30, 1990. While there were only 172 cases filed last year, the Court reported 1,492 vaccine compensation claims filed this year — the vast majority during the month of September as the deadline approached. The Act was extended until January 31 at the request of the Court because so many claimants came forth in the last days of September that the court could not accommodate all of the filings. Only 136 vaccine cases were disposed of this year, so more than 1,500 vaccine claims were pending on September 30, 1990, or ten times the number that were pending on the same date last year.

Criminal Justice Act Appointments

During 1990, there were approximately 71,853 appointments of counsel under the Criminal Justice Act (CJA), an increase of 1,144 appointments from the 70,709 appointments in 1989. The CJA provides for the funding of representation in Federal criminal proceedings of individuals with limited financial resources. Each district has a plan for furnishing representation by private attorneys or Federal public or community defender offices. Appointments of private attorneys increased 3 percent this year from 33,952 in 1989 to 35,000.

Total representations (including appeals, habeas corpus, revocations, criminal, etc.) by the 42 Federal defender organizations increased only 1 percent this year to 36,853. Criminal representations by Federal defender organizations continued a trend of moderate increases, rising 2 percent to 24,569. Representations in drug cases accounted for 24 percent (5,930) of the criminal cases opened in 1990. In contrast, representations in other matters including appeals, probation/parole revocations, and motions to correct or reduce sentence declined slightly for the second year, down less than 1 percent. The Middle District of Florida reported the largest increase in case openings with 209 cases more than last year, an increase of 23 percent. Although case openings in California, Southern continued to decrease, it remains the largest Federal defender organization, with 18 percent of the total workload.

Total defender representations in cases closed rose modestly to 35,682 in 1990, of which 66 percent were criminal cases. Total cases pending in Federal defender organizations rose to 13,750 on September 30, 1990, up 9 percent from the 1989 level. Pending criminal cases increased 10 percent to 8,598 and accounted for 63 percent of all cases pending. Supplemental Table S-14 provides a summary of Federal defender appointments under the CJA for the past five years. Appendix Table K-1 provides information on the representations handled by each Federal public and community defender organization during the year.

U.S. Bankruptcy Courts

The growth in bankruptcy filings in the U.S. bankruptcy courts in recent years continued during 1990. Petitions filed increased to 725,484 in 1990, up 13 percent from a year ago and up 22 percent from 1988.

The increase in filings was primarily in non-business cases which increased 14 percent over last year's level. In 1985, non-business filings represented 82 percent of the total filings; by 1990, they had grown to 91 percent of the total. After declining for the past 2 years, business filings showed a modest increase of 3 percent in 1990.

Filings under all chapters of the Bankruptcy Code, except Chapter 12, increased in 1990. Chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code allows individuals to discharge most debts and get a fresh start financially. Chapter 7 also provides for orderly liquidation of debtor business assets. Petitions filed under Chapter 7 increased 11 percent over 1989 to 505,332. Chapter 7 filings continue to make up the greatest proportion of total filings; they comprised 70 percent in 1990, about the same as last year. Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code allows a business or certain individuals to reorganize their debts and continue to function. Filings under this chapter had been falling in the past 3 years; however, this year filings increased 12 percent to 19,591. Chapter 12, the most recent addition to the Bankruptcy Code, was enacted in 1986 to give relief to family farmers. Filings under Chapter 12 have declined each year since 1987 and, in 1990, with only 1,351 filings, they represent only 79 percent of their level of one year ago. The decrease may be due in part to farm banks coming to agreements with financially troubled farmers outside of the courts. Chapter 13 of the Bankruptcy Code allows individuals with regular income up to five years to pay off debts in installments under a court approved plan while collection actions by creditors are curtailed. Filings under this Chapter amounted to 199,186, up 20 percent over their level last year.

Although terminations of bankruptcy petitions decreased last year, they showed an increase of 7 percent to 620,649 in 1990. This, however, has not curtailed the growth in the pending caseload. Terminations continue to fall short of filings on a national level. These conditions account for the growth of 12 percent in the pend-

Ninth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellate Panel (BAP)

Bankruptcy Appellate Panels were authorized initially by the Bankruptcy Reform Act of 1978. Although the First Circuit had a BAP between 1980 and 1982, the only BAP operating at present is in the Ninth Circuit. In 1979, the Ninth Circuit Judicial Council authorized formation of a BAP to hear cases arising in the Central District of California and the District of Arizona. The BAP heard its first case in April 1980, and by 1982 its jurisdiction had been expanded to cover all districts of the Ninth Circuit.

Seven bankruptcy judges serve on this court, with groups of three judges assigned to hear and decide initial appeals from decisions of the bankruptcy courts in the Ninth Circuit. The following chart sets forth the workload of the Ninth Circuit BAP during the year ended June 30, 1990.

Total BAP Cases Closed	580

Total BAP Cases Pending June 30, 1990	1,043

The Bankruptcy Amendments and Federal Judgeship Act of 1984 limited the jurisdiction of Bankruptcy Appellate Panels to cases where the parties consented to its jurisdiction, resulting in very few referrals to the Ninth Circuit BAP. In 1985, the Ninth Circuit altered the consent requirement to assume that consent is given unless the litigants "opt out" of BAP jurisdiction within a 21-day timeframe. This step greatly increased the proportion of bankruptcy appeals being handled by the BAP. The following table shows the number of cases filed with the BAP and the number and percentage of these cases in which the litigants have opted out for the past four years.

U.S. Magistrates

U.S. magistrates handle a variety of duties in district courts, as demonstrated by Table 15 and the accompanying chart. In 1990, they disposed of 450,565 matters, a rise of 4 percent from last year. The increase was centered in preliminary proceedings and additional duties in felony cases, and in adjudication of petty offense cases. Additional data on the workload of magistrates by district are provided in the M series of Appendix Tables.

The growth in felony prosecutions nationwide, especially drug-related offenses, continued to affect directly and significantly the workload of U.S. magistrates. In particular, the number of detention hearings grew nearly 9 percent to 17,191, complementing a similar growth in the issuance of 20,672 search warrants this year. Increases in other felony duties during 1990 were reported also, but the growth in the performance of these duties over the past five years demonstrates more vividly the upward trend. Magistrates handled 313 percent more detention hearings in 1990 than in 1985, 111 percent more search warrants, 45 percent more preliminary examinations, 44 percent more arrest warrants, and 38 percent more arraignments. There were increases in the past year of 24 percent and 16 percent, respectively, in non-case-dispositive motions (22,340) and case-dispositive motions

Data not separately available.

Revised. Also, some differences between 1990 and 1989 under "Additional Duties" are attributable changes in reporting procedures. Reporting rate for 1989 was 94 percent; for 1990, 96 percent.

(4,169) in which magistrates submitted proposed findings and recommendations to judges pursuant to Title 28 U.S.C. Section 636 (b)(1)(B). Magistrates also completed 3,684 "other" additional duties in felony cases, up 9 percent over last year, which included final probation revocation hearings, calendar calls, and the issuance of writs.

In Gomez v. United States, 109 S. Ct. 2237 (1989), the Supreme Court held that the Federal Magistrates Act did not authorize magistrates to conduct voir dire in felony trials. The immediate effect on the workloads of magistrates is modest since magistrates conducted only 97 voir dire proceedings in 1990 and 154 in 1989. The ultimate impact may be significant, however, because the Gomez decision may eventually implicate other duties presently handled by magistrates.

U.S. magistrates disposed of 100,930 misdemeanor cases this year, a 9 percent increase from 1989. Those cases resulted in 66,352 convictions and 34,578 dismissals or acquittals. A total of 16,916 misdemeanor trials were completed, including 618 jury trials. The misdemeanor caseload included 87,682 petty offense cases and 13,248 misdemeanor cases above the level of petty offense.

The need for magistrates to concentrate their efforts on criminal matters has interrupted a general upward trend since 1981 in their involvement in civil cases. The decline in the number of social security appeals reviewed by magistrates during 1990 was especially steep, dropping from 6,805 in 1989 to 5,112. This drop, however, merely reflects the general decrease in social security cases filed in recent years. Declines in other areas included civil consent cases (down 11 percent), civil pretrial conferences (down 4 percent) and prisoner cases (down less than 1 percent). Even with these decreases, U.S. magistrates were involved at various levels in nearly 145,000 civil and prisoner matters in 1990.

Probation/Pretrial

Federal Probation System

In 1990, the number of persons received for supervision by the Federal Probation System rose 4 percent (excluding transfers) to 39,799. This follows a 1 percent increase in 1989. The number of persons received for supervision upon release from prison (which includes parole, mandatory release, military parole, special parole, and supervised release) increased to 46 percent of all persons received, up from 41 percent in 1989. Nearly all of the increase is a result of the dramatic rise in the number of persons sentenced to a prison term with a subsequent term of supervised release. Persons received under terms of supervised release nearly quadrupled, increasing 299 percent to 4,797 persons. Conversely, the number received for supervision from probation imposed by judges continued a steady downward trend falling 10 percent to 12,870 persons. This decrease follows a 10 percent decline in 1989 and a 6 percent decline in 1988.

DUTIES PERFORMED BY U.S. MAGISTRATES

Both the rapid increase in terms of supervised release and the downward trend in judge imposed probation can be attributed to the Sentencing Guidelines established in November of 1987. As a result of the Guidelines, judges must now sentence defendants to prison terms in many situations where only a term of probation was imposed in the past, resulting in fewer defendants sentenced by judges to terms of probation. In particular, the number of defendants sentenced to 37 months probation or more declined 17 percent (931 persons) in 1990, indicating that some defendants who may have received long terms of probation in the past are now being sent to prison. In addition, the Guidelines often call for a prison sentence to be followed by a term of supervised release. This has resulted in sharp increases in this category as a greater percentage of those sentenced under the auspices of the Guidelines complete their prison terms and begin their terms of supervised release. Tables 16 and 17 provide summary data on the activity of the Federal Probation System.

The number of persons removed from supervision (excluding transfers) increased 2 percent in 1990 to 37,159 persons, continuing a trend of steady increases in persons removed each year since 1984. Appendix Table E-7 shows that the number of persons removed from supervision without violations increased 2 percent in 1990 to 25,070 (76 percent of all persons removed). A total of 19,917 persons served their full period of supervision, and another 4,822 were released from supervision early because of good behavior. Persons removed because they violated the conditions of their supervision also increased 2 percent in 1990 to 7,849. A total of 5,473 persons (17 percent of all persons removed) were removed for technical violations such as failing to report to the probation officer regularly or failing a periodic test for drug use. An additional 1,802 (5 percent) committed major violations, including felonies and serious misdemeanors; and 574 (2 percent) committed minor violations such as drunk driving, disorderly conduct, or petty theft.

By far, the highest violation rate occurred among persons removed from terms of supervised release where 67 percent (430 persons) were removed because they violated the conditions of their release. Only 148 persons completed full terms of supervised release this year, as the vast majority of persons under this type of supervision were sentenced in either 1989 or 1990, and their terms of supervision (which normally run from 3 to 5 years) have not yet expired. This high violation rate should fall as terms of supervised release expire and more people successfully complete them.

The total number of persons removed did not keep pace with the number of persons received, resulting in 79,848 persons under supervision on June 30, 1990, an increase of 3 percent over 1989. Persons under supervision increased in each area except for probationers serving terms imposed by judges; the number of these probationers fell almost 5 percent from 1989 after falling 2 percent last year. Despite the decline, probationers serving terms imposed by judges still account for 51 percent of all persons under supervision. Included in these figures are a number of persons who are under electronic monitoring. Although an exact number is not available at this time, approximately 85 persons are under electronic monitoring in the two districts which have been provided with funds for this purpose - California, Central and Florida, Southern. The E series of the Appendix Tables contains more detailed data on the Federal Probation System.

Investigative Reports

Probation offices prepared 151,176 investigative reports this year (twelve months ending March 31, 1990) up 2 percent from a year ago. The most significant increases were in presentence reports (up 8 percent) and alleged violation reports (up 9 percent). The largest decline was in furlough and work release reports, which dropped 19 percent to 5,231 this year. Table 18 contains summary data on investigative reports filed during 1989 and 1990.

Pretrial Services

Pretrial Services Officers (PSO) assist judicial officers in making bail decisions by providing information on defendants who have been interviewed and investigated before the initial hearing. During 1990, PSO's activated cases for 46,101 defendants in U.S. district courts, an 11 percent increase over 1989. This rise in cases activated can be attributed mainly to the 11 percent increase in the number of reports prepared for defendants charged by complaint before U.S. magistrates. In addition, cases activated as a result of charges of indictment or information were up to 20,660 compared to 18,295 cases in 1989. Even though the number of cases were up substantially this year, there are still defendants who are not interviewed prior to the bail hearing. In some cases, there is insufficient time between arrest and the bail hearing; in others there is no pretrial or probation officer in the location; and others simply are missed by the system. Appendix Table H-1 provides data on the number and types of cases activated in U.S. district courts for the twelve-month period ended June 30, 1990.

Much of the workload in pretrial services involves report writing. A minimum requirement of one report per case activated is necessary to process a client. Pretrial service officers prepared 46,101 reports this year, an increase of 11 percent over last year. The number of prebail reports (39,490) was up 12 percent over 1989 levels and the number of postbail reports (4,098) rose 5 percent over last year. (See Table 19.) Appendix Table H-2 provides data on PSA interviews and the type of bail reports filed for the twelve-month period ended June 30, 1990.

The number of pretrial diversion cases (the conditions agreed to by the defendant and the U.S. government prior to or at the initial hearing) continued to increase during 1990. There were 2,475 pretrial diversion cases activated, a 3 percent increase from 1989. Approximately 83 percent of the total pretrial diversion cases involved agreements reached before defendants were formally charged in court. Probation and pretrial officials see this trend as an indication that they are successfully identifying the appropriate can-

Substance Abuse Identification and Treatment Services

Contract treatment services have been provided to drug dependent Federal offenders since October 1, 1979. From that time, the number of offenders receiving both contract and non-contract drug treatment has increased dramatically. From September 1985 to March 1990, the number has more than doubled. Treatment services are provided to Federal offenders by contract with local agencies, or on a non-contract basis when the probation office can provide the service. Also, there are free local services, or the individual can pay for his own treatment. Table 20 reflects the rapid growth in drug aftercare clients during the past six years. Table 21 reflects the number of alcohol dependent clients treated during 1988, 1989, and 1990.

REPORT OF COMPLAINTS AND ACTION
U.S.C. SECTION 372(c)

Any person alleging that a Federal judge or magistrate has engaged in conduct prejudicial to the effective and expeditious administration of the business of the courts, or that such officer cannot discharge all the duties of the office because of physical or mental disability, may file a complaint with the clerk of the appropriate court of appeals or national court (Title 28 U.S.C. Section 372 (c)). Such complaints are initially reviewed by the chief judge of the court, who may dismiss the complaint if it is not in compliance with the filing provisions of Section 372(c); is directly related to the merits of a judicial decision; or is frivolous. Chief judges may also conclude the proceeding if corrective action has been taken. Otherwise, they shall appoint a special committee to investigate the allegations in the complaint on behalf of the judicial council. The judicial councils or national courts are granted power to take appropriate action, except that in no circumstances may they order the removal from office of a judge appointed to serve during good behavior under Article III of the Constitution.

The disposition of complaints is not judicially reviewable on appeal (as provided by Section 372(c)(10)). The complainant or the judicial officer may, however, petition the judicial council for review of any order of a chief judge dismissing a complaint. Petition may also be made to the Judicial Conference for review of judicial council orders issued after a special committee investigation. The Conference is permitted to act on such petitions directly or to establish a standing committee to take final action on its behalf. Pursuant to this authority, the Chief Justice has appointed the Judicial Conference Committee to Review Circuit Council Conduct and Disability Orders, consisting of three judges, who act for the Conference in its review responsibility under Section 372(c)(10).

The number of complaints filed against judicial officers remained at a stable level of 310, only four less than the 314 complaints filed in 1989. Only the Second, Fifth and Eighth Circuits reported more complaints filed. The other circuits either had no change or showed a decrease in complaints filed. The Second Circuit reported the highest number of complaints (56) this year, primarily due to the filing of multiple complaints by

CC - U.S. Claims Court
CIT - Court of International Trade

* Revised.

Each complaint may involve multiple allegations against numerous judicial officers.

individual complainants. Although the Ninth Circuit reported fewer complaints this year, it had the second highest number (49) of complaints filed, in part, because that circuit has the largest number of judicial officers. In contrast, no complaints were filed with the Court of International Trade. Table 22 summarizes judicial complaint activity from 1985 through 1990.

Each individual complaint may involve multiple allegations against numerous judicial officers. The allegation cited most often (in 134 complaints) was that judicial officers abused their judicial powers. Ninety-four complaints alleged judicial officers were prejudiced or biased, while 75 complaints identified "other" conduct that was detrimental to the effective and expeditious administration of justice. Almost all of these "other" allegations, however, were outside the jurisdiction of Title 28 U.S.C. Section 372(c) because they were found to be directly related to the merits of the court's decision in the original case. Table 23 provides judicial complaint activity by circuit during 1990.

While the number of complaints filed remained stable, the number of complaints concluded increased for the second consecutive year. Compared to 1989, the number of complaints concluded increased 17 percent to 311. Consequently, the number of complaints pending dropped less than 1 percent from 91 in 1989 to 90 in 1990.

As in prior years, the overwhelming majority of complaints (204 or 66 percent) were concluded by the chief judges. They dismissed 195 of the complaints, ruling that 153 were directly related to the merits of the original case, 19 were not in conformance with the statute, and 23 were frivolous. In five, appropriate action had already been taken and, in the other four, complaints were withdrawn by the complainant.

The other 107 complaints were acted upon by the judicial council of the circuits. All complaints came to the circuit councils by way of a petition for review by the complainant or judicial officer; none were forwarded by special committees. The judicial councils dismissed all 107 complaints.

REPORT OF FEES AND EXPENSES AWARDED UNDER THE EQUAL ACCESS TO JUSTICE ACT

The Equal Access To Justice Act

The Equal Access to Justice Act (EAJA) lessens the financial burden on private parties who prevail against the U.S. Government in agency adversary adjudications or non-tort civil actions, by authorizing the award of attorney fees and expert witness fees. The EAJA also covers outlays for any study, analysis, engineering report, test, or project necessary in building a case. To be eligible for such an award, the party must prevail and meet certain financial requirements of the statute. Even when the private party prevails against the U.S. Government and is determined to be financially eligible, the attorney fees and other expenses requested can be denied if the U.S. can demonstrate that its position was "substantially justified." Applications for fees may also be denied if the court finds that the private litigant used delaying tactics or if special circumstances exist which would make an award unjust. This is the ninth report submitted by the Director in accordance with Title 28, U.S.C. Section 2412(d)(5).

Amendment To The 1989 Report

After the 1989 Report was published, information was received on 17 additional fee determinations made prior to June 30, 1989. Sixteen of the applications involved the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). These cases raised the total number of equal access applications terminated during 1989 to 520 as shown in Table 24. The federal courts granted 428 (82 percent) of the applications and awarded a total of $1,884,578 to the successful applicants.

Summary and Analysis of 1990 Data

During 1990, the level of equal access activity in the Federal courts dropped dramatically. There were 412 dispositions in 1990, 21 percent below the 520 dispositions in 1989. Approximately 93 percent (383) of the applications were decided in the U.S. district courts. Four districts (New Jersey (53); Iowa, Northern (44); New York, Western (33) and Louisiana, Western (25)) accounted for 40 percent of all dispositions. The U.S. courts of appeals terminated 16 equal access applications while the U.S. Claims Court disposed of 10 applications. Three applications were decided in the U.S. Court of International Trade. Table 25 summarizes equal access activity during 1990.

The U.S. Supreme Court did not dispose of any equal access applications this year; however, the court did grant certiorari in Commissioner I.N.S. v. Jean, 110 S.Ct. 2316 (1990). In this case, there was substantial litigation over the fees themselves. The U.S. contended that the court may award attorney fees for time and expenses incurred during the fee litigation only if the government's position in the fee litigation itself was not substantially justified. The Supreme Court held that a "second" substantial justification finding is not required. Once the court determines that the U.S. position on the merits of the case is not substantially justified, the Federal courts have discretion to award attorney fees for all phases of the litigation. This is in accord with EAJA's purpose which is to eliminate the average person's financial disincentive to challenge unreasonable government actions.

The overall decline in equal access applications during 1990 was due primarily to a 16 percent drop (down 72 applications) in applications against HHS. Despite this drop, applications involving HHS accounted for the vast majority (385 or 93 percent) of all equal access applications. Once again, nearly all of these cases concerned the determination of disability benefits under the Social Security Act. The number of disputes over disability benefits has been on the decline since 1985, so the number of applications for EAJA awards against HHS is likely to follow the same course. Sixteen other agencies were involved in at least 1 equal access decision in 1990.

As in prior years, most of the actions concluded this year (343 applications or 83 percent) were original applications under Title 28 U.S.C. Section 2412(d)(1)(A), after judgment against the U.S. Government in a civil case. Another 16 percent (66 applications) were original applications under Title 28 U.S.C. Section 2412(d)(3) after the court reviewed an agency decision.

Three applications involved an appeal of a lower court decision. The appellate court affirmed the lower court's decision in its entirety in one case. In a second case, the appellate court reversed a lower court decision and granted an increase in the amount awarded. In the other case, the appellate court affirmed the granting of an award but reduced the amount awarded. Cases remanded to the lower court for further proceedings are not included in this report.

In 1990, Federal courts granted 371 (90 percent) requests for attorney fees and other expenses, awarding a total of $2,179,350. This is not the amount actually received by successful applicants, however, because many awards are appealed. Again, the vast majority (98 percent) of the total amount awarded was for attorney fees. The courts also awarded $36,400 for other expenses such as travel and photocopying costs and $3,827 for preparation of reports.

Despite the 13 percent drop in the number of awards this year, there was a 16 percent increase in the total amount awarded. During 1990, awards in the amount of $1,171,075 were granted against HHS by the U.S. district courts and courts of appeals compared to $1,166,115 awarded during 1989.

Of the 41 applications in which fees were denied, more than half (26 applications) were denied because the court found the U.S. position "substantially justified" as reasonable in law and fact. Seven were denied because the applicant was not the prevailing party; four because the application was not filed in a timely fashion; two because special circumstances made an award unjust; one because the court did not have jurisdiction to hear the request; and one because the original award was deemed sufficient.

JUDICIAL APPROPRIATIONS AND FINANCE

Budget Authority for Fiscal Year 1990

The Judiciary Appropriations Act (Public Law 101-162) and the Emergency Drug Funding of the Department of Transportation Appropriations Act, Title IV (Public Law 101-164), both approved on November 21, 1989, provided fiscal year 1990 appropriations for the Judiciary. Budget authority for 1990, after the sequestration, was $1,643,317,000 (exclusive of the Supreme Court and the U. S. Sentencing Commission). In addition, $27,500,000 in unobligated balances were carried forward into 1990 and available for obligation, and $53,210,000 in fees are estimated to be collected or carried forward from 1989 and will be available to offset obligations.

The Dire Emergency Supplemental Appropriations Act (Public Law 101-302) for 1990 was subsequently signed into law on May 25, 1990. The Supplemental provided the Judiciary with an additional $30,003,000: $5,253,000 for the mandatory costs associated with the 1990 pay raise for Federal judges; $22,750,000 to offset shortfalls in fee collections; and $2,000,000 to cover a shortfall in the Drug Dependent Offenders Program. Of the total amount, $4,500,000 was authorized to be transferred from the Defender Services appropriation into Salaries and Expenses.

Table 26 displays the current availability and the distribution of supplemental funding by account for fiscal year 1990.

Budget Estimates for Fiscal Year 1991

On June 26, 1990, the House of Representatives voted on and approved the Judiciary's Appropriations Bill providing a total of $1,918,588,000 (exclusive of the Supreme Court and the United States Sentencing Commission). The Judiciary's request was reduced by $100,928,000. However, $28,750,000 of this reduction is being held in reserve for the Drug Dependent Offenders Program which has no authorizing legislation at present. Consequently, the effective reduction was $72,178,000. This results in a 15 percent increase over fiscal year 1990. An estimated $48,000,000 in civil filing fees, bankruptcy noticing fees and registry fund fees may be added to these numbers for total budget authority. The amounts shown in Table 27 for the House Allowance include the $28,750,000 for the Drug Dependent Offenders Program.

The Judiciary is appealing to the Senate for restoration of selected items amounting to $53,086,000. This includes $202,000 associated with the sequestration of funds from the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit and the United States Court of International Trade; $634,000 for the Federal Judicial Center; and restoration to the base of $22,300,000 relative to the fiscal year 1990 supplemental. The remainder is comprised of the $28,750,000 held in reserve for the Drug Dependent Offenders Program and a restoration of a base of $1,200,000 associated with the collection of immigration examination fees.

To date, no action has been taken by the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on the Judiciary's request.

Financial Losses and Irregularities

During the twelve-month period ending June 30, 1990, there were 9 losses totaling $13,221. All of the losses concerned the unexplained disappearance of cash and checks. Two of the losses were the result of discrepancies in deposits with the Federal Reserve Bank. In one of these losses, the court was able to recover the funds since the total amount of the deposit consisted of checks which were restrictively endorsed. In the second case, the FBI had been requested to investigate the loss. In addition to the losses at the Federal Reserve Bank, the clerks of court in two cases were held responsible for the losses, and the cashiers in two other cases were held responsible. The remaining three cases are pending a determination as to whether relief can be granted.

Registry Funds

Statement of Accounts

On March 31, 1990, there was a total of $919,576,522 in the registry accounts of the U.S. courts. There was $844,315,757 in the custody of the district courts (see Appendix Table R-1), and been collected through March 31, 1990. While a decline in interest rates on all funds held partially explains the lower than expected revenue, many courts have deferred deducting the fee until the case giving rise to the investment has been closed. This action delays receipt of the funds the Judiciary needs to operate. The revenue generated by the fee is made available to the courts to reimburse the Judiciary for its cost of operations.

When added to the balance in the Fund which was carried over from the prior fiscal year [$2,038,321], a total of $4,133,070 is currently available to reimburse the Judiciary for expenses of the Courts of Appeals, District Courts and Other Judicial Services, and the Administrative Office of the United States Courts.

PERSONNEL OF THE JUDICIARY

The total number of individuals on the payroll of the Federal Judiciary (exclusive of the Supreme Court) on June 30, 1990, was 22,399. This was roughly 5 percent above the number on June 30, 1989. With the work of probation and pretrial services offices on the rise, both in terms of caseload and responsibilities associated with Sentencing Guidelines, the number of personnel in these offices rose by approximately 10 percent over 1989 levels. The number of federal public defenders and assistants also rose significantly this year, by approximately 27 percent. Table 28 provides a detailed summary of the personnel in the Judiciary on June 30, 1989 and 1990.

Status of Article III Judgeships

On June 30, 1990, there were 10 vacancies among the 168 judgeships authorized for the U.S. courts of appeals. Three of these vacancies, one each in the Sixth, Eighth, and Ninth Circuits, have existed for more than 18 months. The vacancy in the Ninth Circuit is the longest at over two years. In the U.S. district courts, there were 34 vacancies among the 575 judgeships authorized on June 30, 1990. Nine of these vacancies have existed for 18 months or more. The two longest vacancies are in the Virgin Islands (vacant since December 1986) and the Eastern District of New York, (vacant since November 1987). In addition to the active judges, there were 63 senior court of appeals judges and 201 senior district judges providing service to the Judiciary on June 30, 1990. Table 29 provides the status of judgeship positions for 1985 through 1990.

Status of Bankruptcy Judge Appointments

A total of 291 fourteen-year bankruptcy judgeships are authorized by the Judicial Conference. As of June 30, 1990, there were four vacant positions. The Judicial Conference has recommended to the Congress the creation of 12 additional bankruptcy judge positions since the Congress last authorized bankruptcy judgeships in 1988.

Act of 1979 and the regulations promulgated by the Judicial Conference. During the year, 30 full-time magistrates were appointed, including 11 reappointments. Of the 19 new appointments, 9 were for newly created positions. During the same period, 19 individuals were appointed to part-time magistrate positions, including 13 reappointments. Of the 6 new appointments, 3 were newly created positions.

Among the new appointments made during the year, the average age of the full-time appointees was 44 and that of the part-time magistrates was 47. New full-time magistrates had been members of the bar for an average of 17 years; part-time magistrates averaged 22 years of bar membership. Of the new full-time magistrates, six had been in private practice, one had prior experience as a part-time magistrate, one had served as a superior court judge, three had served as administrative law judges, one had served as a deputy attorney general, one had served as an assistant district attorney, and six had served as assistant U.S. attorneys.

The Judicial Conference authorized 16 new full-time magistrate positions during the year, increasing the number of full-time positions from 307 to 323. The Conference decreased the number of part-time positions from 161 to 153. The number of combination clerk of court/magistrate positions decreased to 8. Five magistrates served as recalled magistrates pursuant to 28 U.S.C. 636(h). Table 30 provides a summary of the number of magistrate positions authorized by the Judicial Conference since 1973.

Judicial Survivors' Annuities System (JSAS)

Participation in the JSAS Program continues to increase which is reflected in Table 31. This is due to the inclusion of bankruptcy judges and magistrates under JSAS.

The investment holdings, par amounts, and interest rates are listed in Table 32. The JSAS undisbursed balance listed in Table 33 has increased through the years and annual reviews by outside parties continue to find it actuarially sound.

LEGISLATIVE SUMMARY

Ethics and Salary Legislation

On November 30, 1989, the President signed into law P.L. 101-194, the Ethics Reform Act of 1989. The bill included numerous provisions affecting all three branches of government in the areas of ethics and salary reform. For Article III judges, the bill provided for a substantial pay increase package: a 7.9 percent cost-of-living adjustment effective February 1, 1990, and a 25 percent pay increase effective January 1, 1991.

The ethics portion of the bill also had a substantial impact on the Judiciary. A cap was imposed on outside earned income totaling 15 percent of the salary of an Executive Level II officer (district judge). This would allow approximately $18,000 in outside income in 1991. Teaching income is not exempt from the cap. In addition, honoraria are banned and there are new rules about financial disclosure.

The bill also included an amendment by Congressman Robert Kastenmeier (D-WI) to require senior judges to handle at least 25 percent of the judicial workload of an active judge before they would be eligible to receive a pay increase. All senior judges, including inactive senior judges, would still be entitled to receive annual cost-of-living adjustments (COLAs) if such adjustments were given to general schedule employees.

Additional Judgeships

A number of bills adding judgeships at various levels of the Judiciary have been introduced. The two major bills adding judgeships were introduced by the Chairmen of the Senate and the House Committees on the Judiciary. Title II of S. 2648, introduced May 17, 1990, provides for 77 new judgeships — 65 district judgeships, 11 court of appeals judgeships, and 1 judgeship for the Virgin Islands. Hearings on the bill were held in late June 1990, and the bill was reported from the Senate Committee on the Judiciary on July 12, 1990. Judge Walter T. McGovern testified at the June 26, 1990 hearing. H.R. 5316 was introduced on July 19, 1990, and provides for 54 new judgeships — 45 at the district level and 9 at the courts of appeals level. Hearings were held on this bill on July 30, 1990. Judge McGovern testified at this hearing before the House Judiciary Subcommittee on Economic and Commercial Law. It is expected that final action on the bills will occur in the Fall of 1990. By transmittal of June 19, 1990, the Judicial Conference had requested a total of 96 new Federal judgeships, 20 for the courts of appeals and 76 for the district courts. Refer to Supplemental Tables S-12 and S-13 for additional judgeships authorized in 1990.

Civil Justice Reform

In January 1990, Senator Joseph Biden (D-DE) introduced S. 2027, the Civil Justice Reform Act. A companion bill, H.R. 3898, was introduced in the House by Congressman Jack Brooks (D-TX). The bills called for procedural reforms in the handling of civil cases which were designed to cut the expense and delay of litigation of these cases. The Judicial Conference at its March meeting, took a position of opposition to both bills. Judge Aubrey E. Robinson, Jr. testified on S. 2027 before the Senate Committee on the Judiciary on March 6, 1990. Senator Biden introduced a new bill, S. 2648, on May 17, 1990, reflecting a number of recommendations made by the Conference. Despite these changes, the Conference at hearings on June 26, took a position of "disfavoring" the bill and stated that it could not endorse Title I of S. 2648. Judge Robert Peckham testified on S. 2648 before the Senate Committee on the Judiciary on June 26, 1990. Subsequently, the bill was reported from the Committee on the Judiciary on July 12, 1990.

Voir Dire

Two bills, S. 591 and S. 592, giving additional rights to counsel in criminal and civil cases to conduct voir dire were introduced by Senator Howell Heflin (D-AL). It is expected that a modified version of these bills will be included in legislation taken up by the Congress in the Fall of 1990.

Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals Split

Bills were introduced in both the House and the Senate to split the Ninth Circuit. S. 948 was introduced by Senator Slade Gorton (R-WA) and H.R. 4900 by Congressman Sid Morrison (R-WA). Both bills were the subject of hearings but neither is expected to be enacted during the 101st Congress. Judge Alfred T. Goodwin testified in opposition to S. 948 before the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee on Courts and Administrative Practice on March 6, 1990 and Director L. Ralph Mecham testified against H.R. 4900 before the House Judiciary Subcommittee on Courts, Intellectual Property and the Administration of Justice on June 13, 1990.

Jurisdiction

H.R. 3406 introduced by Congressman Kastenmeier provides for Federal jurisdiction of certain multiparty, multiforum civil actions. Judge William W. Schwarzer testified at a hearing before the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee on Courts and Administrative Practice on November 15, 1989. The bill was approved by the House on June 5, 1990, and is expected to be adopted by the Senate in the Fall.

Impeachments and Discipline Issues

Two Federal judges were impeached during 1989. On October 20, 1989, the Senate found Judge Alcee Hastings of the Southern District of Florida guilty of eight impeachable offenses and ordered him removed from office. On November 3, 1989, the Senate found Judge Walter Nixon guilty of two impeachable offenses and ordered him removed from office.

H.R. 1620 was introduced by Congressman Kastenmeier to amend provisions of Title 28 relating to judicial tenure and discipline and also to establish a commission to study alternatives to the present impeachment process. The bill was passed by the House on June 5, 1990. Numerous other approaches to impeachment involving amendment of the Constitution have been introduced but are not expected to be acted on by Congress.

Criminal Law Legislation

Omnibus crime bills, with provisions of significant interest to the Judiciary sponsored by the Chairmen of the respective Committees on the Judiciary in both the House and the Senate, passed major hurdles in July 1990. Senator Biden's bill, S. 1970, was introduced on November 21, 1989, placed directly on the Senate calendar, and passed with amendments by the Senate 94 to 6 on July 11, 1990. Congressman Brooks' bill, H.R. 5269, was introduced on July 13, 1990, and ordered reported by the House Committee on the Judiciary on July 23, 1990. Subjects in the bills of particular interest to the Judiciary include special habeas corpus procedures in capital cases, mandatory minimum sentences, drug testing for all defendants on supervised release, extra funding for the courts for drug cases, and special litigation provisions relating to the savings and loan scandal. Several judges have testified before Congressional committees on various portions of criminal law legislation.

Space and Facilities Legislation

Companion bills to give the Judicial Branch a greater role in meeting its space and facilities needs were introduced. H.R. 4178 was introduced by Congressman Douglas Bosco (D-CA) in March, 1990, and S. 2837 was introduced by Senator Daniel Moynihan (D-NY) in July, 1990. Hearings were held on the Bosco bill in March and led to discussions between the General Services Administration and the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts on how to better meet the space needs of the courts. Fall hearings are expected in the Senate.

Personnel Legislation

Legislation to establish a comprehensive personnel system for employees of the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts is progressing in both houses of Congress. The Senate version, S. 2269 sponsored by Senator Joseph Lieberman (D-CT), was added to S. 2274, the pay reform bill and passed out of the Government Affairs Committee in July 1990. Similar legislation, H.R. 4174, was introduced by Congressman William Ford (D-MI) in March, 1990, and reported from that Committee in July, 1990.

Miscellaneous

Numerous other issues relating to the courts have been considered by the 101st Congress. Congressman Kastenmeier has introduced H.R. 5381, the Federal Courts Study Committee Implementation Act of 1990, containing issues adopted by the Federal Courts Study Committee and the Judicial Conference. Although the Conference has recommended that this bill include the repeal of Section 140 of P.L. 97-92 (95 Stat.1200), a provision which bars annual cost-of-living adjustments in pay for Federal judges except as specifically authorized by Congress, the bill does not at this time contain such repeal.

1990 Annual Report of the Director

SECTION II

Administrative Office Activities

ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE ACTIVITIES

Introduction

The Administrative Office of the United States Courts, under the direction of the Judicial Conference, provides support to the Judiciary. The mission of the Administrative Office continues to evolve in response to the changing needs and priorities of the Federal Judiciary. The Judiciary and the Administrative Office have changed dramatically over the past 50 years. At its creation in 1939, the Administrative Office was a simple organization which provided classic administrative support services such as procuring supplies and equipment, administering a personnel system and providing budget and financial control services. Today, in addition to these basic functions, the Administrative Office also provides complex legal services and program and policy advice and assistance to the courts.

HIGHLIGHTS OF 1990

GOALS

The Director has established six broad goals to guide the work of the agency:

- Secure adequate resources from the Congress for the Judiciary.
- Improve service performance and delivery.
- Modernize both the Administrative Office and court management systems and planning capabilities.
- Improve communications with judicial officers and staff.
- Eliminate internal and external regulatory impediments to effective Administrative Office and court management.
- Decentralize operating functions where appropriate.

In 1990, the Administrative Office made significant strides in many of these areas, although many challenges still remain. This was a year of tremendous activity. Some of the highlights of this year include:

- The Judiciary received 96 percent of its entire budget request despite the enacted sequestration;
- Ethics Reform legislation was passed which included a long overdue pay raise for judges;
- Legislation was introduced and advanced to provide the Judiciary with the statutory authority to control its own space and facilities program independent of the General Services Administration (GSA);

- Legislation was introduced and advanced to provide the Administrative Office with its own self-contained personnel system, independent of the Office of Personnel Management (OPM);
- Construction began on the new Judiciary administration office building;
- Administrative Office/Federal Judicial Center task forces were established to focus on the training needs of the Judiciary and automation and research activities;
- A comprehensive review of the Judicial Salary Plan was undertaken;
- An internship program for mid-level managers was established between the courts and the Administrative Office;
- Computer Assisted Legal Research (CALR) will be installed in every judge's chambers by year end;
- The Judiciary Automation Fund was established with funding of $71 million;
- Proposals were received to furnish the U.S. Courts Data Communication Network and an award is expected late in the year;
- The CIVIL electronic docketing system was installed in 25 district courts;
- Eighteen additional courts received the Bankruptcy Courts Automation Program (BANCAP) bringing the total BANCAP courts to 43;
- The Appellate Information Management System (NewAIMS) became fully operational in the Second and Third Circuits;
- Hardware for the Space Management Information System was acquired, tested, and configured, and data entry has begun;
- A complete review of judicial space standards was begun with proposed revisions prepared for judges' and magistrates' courtrooms and chambers, and space for supporting staff;
- A financial audit of the Administrative Office was completed;
- A task force of Administrative Office and court staff was established to plan for the expansion of budget decentralization, should the Judicial Conference approve nationwide expansion;
- The Central Accounting System was implemented, providing the Administrative Office with an accounting system that complies with OMB and GAO standards;
- The Contractor Audit Program was begun. It will allow for cyclical financial audits of the courts every two years rather than the current four-to-five year schedule;
- Procurement training for approximately 120 procurement clerks was provided;
- Procurement authority for substance abuse treatment contracts up to $100,000 was delegated to the courts and a detailed instruction manual was developed;
- A program manual for clerks of the bankruptcy courts was prepared and published;
- Three new Federal public defender organizations were established and two existing offices established new branches;
- An in-depth study of magistrate jurisdiction was undertaken at the recommendation of the Federal Courts Study Committee and the Magistrates Committee;
- A revised Pretrial Services Manual was issued;
- The electronic home confinement monitoring pilot project was expanded from 2 districts to an additional 12;
- Seven districts were trained in methods to bring about better supervision of probationers;
- A project to create an automated file of Judicial Conference policies was begun;

- A survey of staff attorneys offices was published and an allocation formula was developed relating the number of attorneys to the number of case terminations rather than to the number of circuit judges;
- A comprehensive review of administrative operations in 11 district courts was begun which will examine the state of services in the areas of automation, financial management, personnel, procurement, security, space management, and statistical reporting.

DECENTRALIZATION

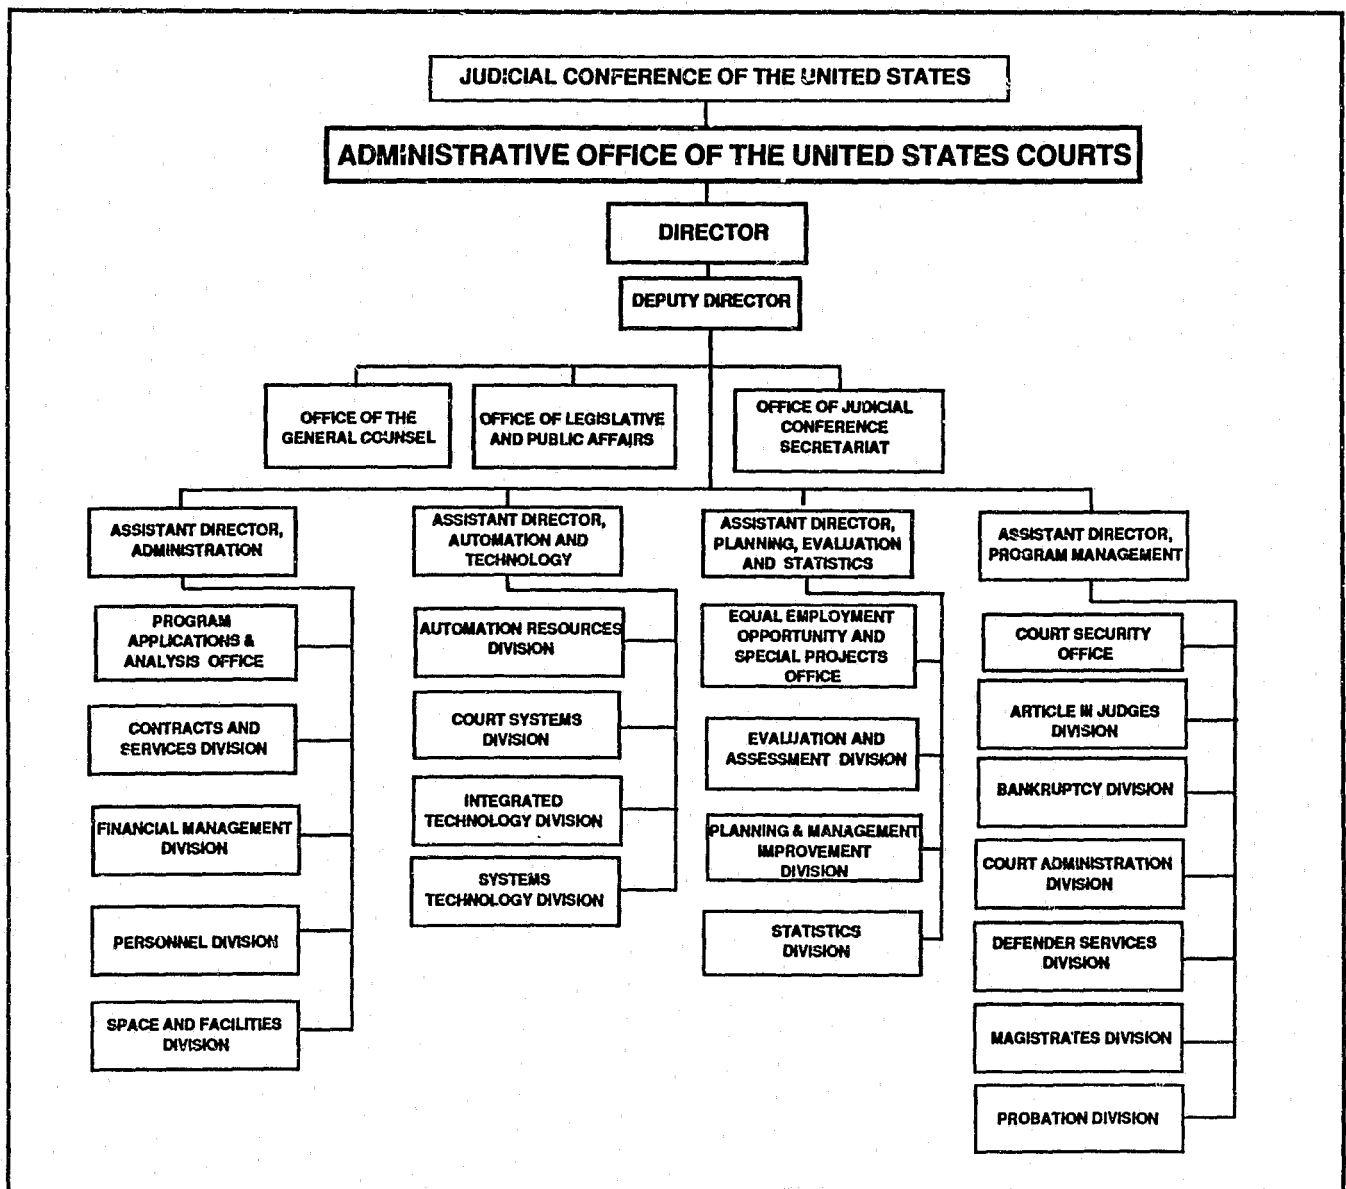

Decentralization of operating functions to the courts is one of the Director's primary goals and will be a major theme in the future, with continuing support from the courts. Major delegations of authority from the Administrative Office to the courts have occurred in the areas of fund management, contracting, procurement, processing and payment of vouchers, property disposal, and building management. The Administrative Office has delegated authority in 30 specific areas, with 15 pilot projects planned or underway. While not all these delegations involve the expenditure of dollars, control of some $264 million has been decentralized from the Administrative Office in fiscal year 1990.

Budget decentralization is moving forward under the guidance of the Committee on the Budget. Currently, all courts have authority to manage funds associated with nine controllable budget categories such as consumable supplies, office equipment, travel, and office automation, amounting to $52 million in fiscal year 1990. This is a large portion of funding available to the courts outside of salaries and space rental. In addition, there are five courts participating in a budget decentralization project where the courts have almost complete control of their budgets. Funding controlled by these five courts totals $72 million this year. Another budget pilot project is underway in the Eleventh Circuit, where funds may be shifted between courts within the circuit. In partnership with the courts, the Administrative Office will continue to look for additional opportunities for decentralization.

ORGANIZATIONAL CHANGES

There have been some significant changes in the structure of the Administrative Office this past year, as shown on the accompanying organization chart. These reflect some major developments that have occurred in overall judicial administration trends and priorities. The biggest change was the complete reorganization of the automation function. The growth of the Judiciary's automation program and the increase in funds through the Judiciary Automation Fund required a redeployment of staff and resources in this extremely critical and dynamic area. The statistical function was consolidated with the planning and evaluation functions so that valuable statistical information may be better utilized to facilitate strategic planning and analysis. In addition, an Article III Judges Division was created to serve as a nationwide focal point to provide advice and assistance to Article III judges.

ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE

The Administrative Office operates through the Offices of General Counsel, Legislative and Public Affairs, the Judicial Conference Secretariat, and through four principal Assistant Directors: Program Management; Automation and Technology; Administration; and Planning, Evaluation and Statistics.

- The Office of General Counsel provides legal services and counsel to Administrative Office staff, and to the Judicial Conference and its committees. The General Counsel also advises judges and court staff on legal issues arising in their day-to-day administration.

- The Office of Legislative and Public Affairs performs and coordinates activities involving the relationships of the Judiciary with the Congress and the Executive Branch, and relating to public affairs and information.
- The Office of the Judicial Conference Secretariat provides staff support to the Executive Committee of the Judicial Conference, and coordinates staff support to other Judicial Conference committees. The Office maintains the official files of the Judicial Conference, compiles the record of proceedings, monitors the agendas of the committees, and responds to judges and other court personnel regarding Conference activities.

- The Assistant Director for Program Management provides support to the Judiciary in the many areas of court administration, Article III judges, bankruptcy, magistrates, probation and pretrial services, defender services, and court security.
- The Assistant Director for Automation and Technology provides the courts with operational computer systems, office automation equipment, and telecommunications systems.
- The Assistant Director for Administration provides services to the Judiciary in the general administrative areas of procurement, facilities management, financial management and personnel.
- The Assistant Director for Planning, Evaluation and Statistics provides program planning, management improvement, and evaluation advice and assistance. The office collects, analyzes and reports Judiciary statistics; is responsible for the Judiciary's work measurement program; and oversees the audit and review functions. In addition, the Deputy Assistant Director for Equal Employment Opportunity and Special Projects develops and coordinates equal opportunity programs for the Judiciary.

1990 ACTIVITIES

JUDICIAL CONFERENCE SUPPORT

During the past year, the Judicial Conference Secretariat and the Executive Secretariat staff continued to provide staff support to the Judicial Conference and its 26 committees and advisory committees. There was additional activity in three areas of note.

In April 1990, after 15 months of study, the Federal Courts Study Committee filed its final report with the Judicial Conference. The report included a wide range of recommendations for improving the Federal judicial system. The Executive Committee, in order to ensure that each recommendation was reviewed, assigned each item to the appropriate Judicial Conference committee for comment. After receiving comments on the recommendations from the Conference committees, the Executive Committee considered the recommendations at its May 18, 1990, session and approved 20 items which might be immediately included in comprehensive court reform legislation. Other recommendations were assigned to Conference committees for further study. The remaining items will be brought before the full Judicial Conference in September 1990.

Another committee, established during this period as a Subcommittee of the Executive Committee, studied and analyzed the impact of the proposed Civil Justice Reform Act. This effort resulted in a 14-point program, approved by the Judicial Conference of the United States, to address the problems of cost and delay in civil litigation, and to improve case management. Among other things, the program split the Judicial Improvements Committee into two new committees, the Committee on Automation and Technology, and the Committee on Court Administration and Case Management.

Lastly, an ad hoc committee continued its comprehensive review of recommendations on the introduction of cameras in Federal courtrooms. The Committee is expected to make its recommendations to the Fall 1990 session of the Judicial Conference.

The Secretariat is creating an automated file of Judicial Conference policies. This will include a full-text database of the reports of the Committees of the Judicial Conference, from 1979 to the present, to supplement the existing database containing the reports of Judicial Conference proceedings. The new database will ease access to Conference materials, thus providing the Judiciary with enhanced capability in researching Judicial Conference policies.

LEGISLATIVE AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS

Public Affairs

The Office of Legislative and Public Affairs (LPA) took on a major new assignment beginning in 1990, the publication of The Third Branch, the newsletter of the Judiciary. With LPA's assumption of editorial responsibility for this publication came a number of beneficial changes to the format, style, and timeliness of its publication. On a day-to-day basis, the office continues to support the Judiciary by handling numerous inquiries from the public and media and advising the Administrative Office and the courts on media-related issues.

Judicial Impact Assessments

The Administrative Office has expanded its capacity to prepare judicial impact assessments on a regular basis to assess the resource impact of important Legislative and Executive Branch proposals on the Judiciary. These factors then are incorporated into the planning process. Impact statements also have been used to aid Judicial Conference committees in their deliberations on issues and in congressional testimony. Some examples of legislation on which judicial impact statements have been or will be prepared include: (1) compensation to victims of nuclear testing; (2) mandatory drug testing of defendants on post-conviction release; (3) indicting State and local drug offenders in Federal court one day a month; (4) establishing a right in Federal court for victims of foreign torture; (5) civil justice reform; (6) increased pay for probation and pretrial services officers; (7) requirements for Administrative Office studies on historical employment discrimination cases nationwide; (8) changes in asset forfeiture statutes; (9) thrift and bank fraud prosecution; (10) mandating voir dire by lawyers; and (11) changes in courts' naturalization responsibilities.

Legislative Liaison

A description of major legislation of importance to the Judiciary is contained in Section I of the Annual Report of the Director. Legislation providing the Administrative Office with independent real property authorities, and its own personnel system, are described later in the space and facilities and personnel sections of this report.

PLANNING, EVALUATION AND STATISTICS

Staffing Allocation Studies

The Administrative Office is continuing its review of all current staffing allocation formulas. The staffing formulas reflect the actual work performed in the courts. They provide an objective basis for determining the number of positions required in the circuit, district and bankruptcy clerks offices and in the probation and pretrial services offices. Complete and accurate formulas are critical in justifying the Judiciary's budget request to the Congress, and after the budget is approved, in allocating positions equitably among the courts. Approximately 14,000 positions in the courts are allocated based on formulas. The Planning and Management Improvement Division is coordinating the review with the assistance of the courts, the program divisions, and contractor assistance. New formulas for Probation and Pretrial Services should be completed in September. The study of District Clerks' offices is underway. Preliminary work on the Bankruptcy Clerks formula has begun and the Circuit Clerks study is scheduled to begin later this year.

Court Operations and Administration Survey

The Evaluation and Assessment Division is coordinating a comprehensive survey of the administrative operations in 11 district courts selected as representative of the system as a whole. Administrative Office staff responsible for the programs under review are conducting the surveys along with senior court managers. The purpose of the survey is to assess the state of services in the areas of automation, financial management, personnel, procurement, security, space management, and statistical reporting in the courts. In addition, the survey teams are assessing the readiness of the courts to take on additional decentralized administrative operations. The survey approach allows for general conclusions about whether Administrative Office programs designed to provide these services are meeting their objectives.

Planning Systems

The Director of the Administrative Office established a planning and management objectives system two years ago, administered by the Planning and Management Improvement Division. Under this system, the Director establishes broad goals for the agency. Each division and office identifies five year goals and establishes specific objectives for the year. Quarterly status reports and periodic meetings are held to evaluate progress. This system assists the Administrative Office in focusing its limited resources on the most important priorities. Some objectives for this year are:

- (1) move forward in decentralizing budget, procurement, and contract management in the courts;
- (2) modernize the courts' and the Administrative Office's personnel systems;
- (3) seek legislative authority for independent real property authorities for the Judiciary;
- (4) promote effective utilization of jurors — decrease the percentage of jurors called but not challenged or serving;
- (5) develop and implement a peer review system for public defenders;
- (6) implement the JURIST network which will be a gateway to information and publications and provide access for judges, court staff, and the public;
- (7) continue implementation of critical electronic docketing systems; and
- (8) provide probation and pretrial services offices with a case tracking system.

Administrative Office/Federal Judicial Center Task Forces

A liaison group composed of senior level Administrative Office and Federal Judicial Center staff has been formed to identify training requirements and the resources needed to meet them. Providing training for court staff, particularly training related to the assumption of decentralized activities, will be a major focus in the coming years. The Judiciary currently spends approximately $14.5 million training its personnel. In the fiscal year 1992 budget, the Judiciary will be requesting an additional $8 million to meet this increased need.

Similar liaison groups have been established for coordination of research and automation activities of the Administrative Office and the Federal Judicial Center.

Staff Attorney Work Measurement Formula

In December 1989, the Office of Planning, Evaluation and Statistics published the Survey of the Staff Attorneys' Offices of the United States Courts of Appeals which concluded that these offices were a major factor in enabling the courts to manage their steadily increasing workloads. After considering the report, the Judicial Resources Committee of the Judicial Conference suggested that the Administrative Office undertake to devise a work measurement formula for allocating this essential resource rather than continue to rely on the existing method of assigning staff attorneys based on the number of circuit judgeships. The Director established a committee of circuit judges and senior court administrators to carry out this task. With the assistance of the Evaluation and Assessment Division, a formula was developed which relates the amount of central legal work to the number of cases terminated over a twelve-month period. The committee concluded that additional central legal resources were urgently needed in the circuits to keep pace with the rapidly growing caseload, and recommended increases to the Judicial Resources Committee of the Judicial Conference.

Financial Audit of the Administrative Office

An assessment was made of the Judiciary financial accounts maintained by the Financial Management Division, with particular emphasis on the Administrative Office appropriation for the 1988 fiscal year. The review examined available documentation, reports and records; evaluated existing internal controls; and tracked the appropriation from the issuance of the Department of the Treasury warrant to the Administrative Office, through the year-end report to Treasury. This effort was supplemented by reviews in related areas such as disbursing, voucher processing, and travel policies and procedures. A report was issued in October 1989 to the Assistant Director for Administration.

Changes in the Statistical Reporting Process

The Administrative Office has been collecting statistics on the workload of the Federal courts from its inception in 1939. Until recently, however, most of the data were reported to the Administrative Office from the courts on paper copies of special statistical reporting forms. In recent years, automation has changed the nature of the data collection business. Most courts no longer need to prepare and submit paper statistical reports; instead, the reports are incorporated in the automated docketing and case management systems being installed in the courts, the PC-based systems developed for interim use, and in special reporting systems developed strictly for statistical reporting. Regardless of which system a court is using, automation has eliminated much of the work associated with statistical reporting.

As a part of the automation of statistical reports, the Statistics Division and the Court Systems Division have worked jointly to incorporate data edits in the case docketing systems which will eventually be installed in all courts. AIMS, SIRS, and CIVIL now have or will soon have complete data edits operating in local court systems. The CRIMINAL system will soon have the same capabilities. These refinements of the automated statistical process will eliminate the need for data edits at the Administrative Office and allow for the capture and correction of data at the source. As part of this process, the Administrative Office is also developing a means for direct transmission of all required statistical reports from court computers to the Administrative Office computer, thus eliminating the need for physical transfer of data through forms or computer tapes. As a result of all these efforts, the data collection process will become less burdensome for the courts and the Administrative Office, and the data files will contain more accurate information.

Increased Emphasis on Analysis

With the reorganization of the Statistics Division, the Administrative Office will be developing an enhanced capability to provide more detailed analyses of the data available on the workload and operations of the courts. The current data files contain a wealth of information used for a variety of purposes, but primarily to satisfy the statutory reporting responsibilities of the Director. In the future, the Statistics Division will develop special analyses interpreting the variations among the courts in such things as processing times, termination rates, and costs per case. These analyses will assist the courts in identifying practices that are most effective in managing their business.

AUTOMATION AND TECHNOLOGY

Automation Fund

In fiscal year 1990, the Judiciary, with major Congressional help, achieved a major breakthrough by obtaining a stable and flexible automation funding vehicle. Recognizing the importance of automation to the Judiciary's future, Congress created the Judiciary Automation Fund and appropriated $71 million to support the expansion, management, and use of automation throughout the Judiciary. An important feature of the Judiciary Automation Fund is its ability to operate without fiscal year limitation. This feature allows for effective long term planning. It provides an acquisition environment that will permit technologically complex procurements and multi-year contracts without the threat of losing automation funds at the end of the fiscal year. The creation of the Judiciary Automation Fund and the increased level of funding allows the Judiciary to accelerate the delivery of automation resources to the courts.

Long Range Plan

As of fiscal year 1989, the Judiciary had established a strong foundation in the three major components of the automation program: data processing, office automation, and telecommunications. With this strong foundation, the fiscal year 1990 update of the Long Range Plan for Automation in the U.S. Courts focuses on the integration of the three major components. The Long Range Plan, which has been approved by the Judicial Improvements Committee and the Judicial Conference, emphasizes a comprehensive approach to automation planning in order to realize the full benefits of automation for the Federal courts. In keeping with this approach, the Long Range Plan introduced the concept of an all-inclusive automation system known as the Judiciary Users Requirements for Integrated Systems Technology (JURIST). The operational goal of JURIST is to provide easy and reliable access to a fully integrated office automation, data processing, and data communications environment through a single workstation. The JURIST workstation will be the gateway to a host of applications for each of the major functional areas of the courts and will provide for the exchange of information throughout the Judiciary and between the Judiciary and the public.

Data Communications Network

On December 15, 1989, the Administrative Office received industry proposals on the U.S. Courts Data Communications Network. Several teams have been evaluating the configurations offered by prospective contractors. The MITRE Corporation is working with the Administrative Office during this process. An award is expected in late September 1990.

Voice Communications Network

The Judiciary Telephone Services Program provides telephone equipment, maintenance and services for the courts. It also provides for dedicated leased lines and intra-site wiring in support of computer systems installations and management of the FTS 2000 and Washington Interagency Telecommunications System (WITS) programs for the U.S. courts. Over 2,500 separate requests are processed annually, ranging from the replacement of individual telephones to the full replacement of telephone switches and systems. The Administrative Office works closely with the telephone coordinators in the courts to satisfy these requests. This coordination and the funding provided assure that the necessary systems and equipment are in place to meet the telephone requirements of the courts.

Office Automation Program

The Office Automation Program is a multi-year program with a goal to provide personal computers (PCs) to all court personnel who require them. Over the last twelve months, approximately $30 million was allotted to the courts to purchase personal computers and related hardware, software, training and supplies. This compares to $5 million allotted for this purpose in the preceding year. All judges, law clerks, staff attorneys and judicial secretaries have received funding to achieve a ratio of one PC system for every permanent, full-time staff member in chambers. Circuit and district court executives have received funding to achieve this same ratio. Clerks offices have received funding for one PC for every three permanent staff members. Additionally, many clerks have used other funds to fill additional office automation needs. Finally, librarians, bankruptcy administrators, and probation and pretrial services officers have received office automation funds based on automation plans developed by those individual organizations and their Administrative Office support personnel. It is estimated that approximately 10,000 PCs have been acquired by the courts for word processing, financial and correspondence control, the exchange of documents, and electronic mail.

District Court Automation

The CIVIL electronic docketing application software was installed in 25 district courts this year. With the assistance of the training centers in Arizona and the Western District of Texas, electronic docketing is now operational in 33 district courts. A case assignment application was developed and made available to the courts to assist in the random assignment of judges to cases. CRIMINAL docketing for 15 metropolitan courts continues to be supported on the centralized DEC-10 computer. Seventy-one courts receive Case/Party INDEX microfiche support. Criminal electronic docketing for UNIX based systems was developed and will be pilot tested next year. Eleven 386 UNIX based, micro-computer systems were ordered or installed, and some installed systems received upgrades. Eleven UNISYS mini-computer systems were installed and many other UNISYS systems received upgrades, including additional terminals and printers, memory augmentation, and other similar types of equipment upgrades.

Bankruptcy Court Automation

Eighteen additional bankruptcy courts received the Bankruptcy Courts Automation Program (BANCAP) system this year bringing the total BANCAP courts to 43. BANCAP is now available to smaller courts on a 386 UNIX based micro-computer. Work continues on the following: BANCAP-U.S. Trustee Interface; the development of Public Access to Court Electronic Records (PACER) in conjunction with the Federal Judicial Center; and the development of a program (referred to as a "bridge") which permits the Optical Character Reader to input data directly to the Bankruptcy Noticing System (BANS) and BANCAP without manual intervention. Projects planned for the coming year are the continued expansion of BANCAP to additional courts; implementation of PACER; expansion of the U. S. Trustee Interface program; enhancement of software; print center procurement activities; and support of the operational courts.

BANS continued operation in 15 bankruptcy courts. Nearly 16 million bankruptcy notices were produced and distributed from BANS this year. During the coming year, the Administrative Office will continue to operate BANS, and distribute the "bridge" software and hardware to those courts using both BANCAP and BANS.

Fourteen 386 UNIX based, micro-computer systems were installed in the Bankruptcy Courts. Fifteen UNISYS mini-computer systems were installed and many installed systems received equipment upgrades.

Appeals Court Automation

The Appellate Information Management System (New AIMS) electronic docketing application became fully operational in the Second and Third Circuit Courts this year, joining the five existing operational appeals courts: the Fourth, Sixth, Seventh, Ninth and Tenth Circuits. The Eighth Circuit is currently tailoring the application to conform to their local rules and procedures. The Appellate Case Management Branch is working with the District of Columbia and First Circuits on implementation planning and application training for NewAIMS. In close cooperation with the New AIMS courts and the Statistics Division, the Office of Automation and Technology has successfully established procedures by which statistical data is electronically transmitted from the appellate courts to the central statistical systems in Washington, D.C. This obviates the need for creation and shipping of tapes. Two UNISYS mini-computer systems were installed and some installed systems received equipment upgrades.

Probation Automated Case Tracking System

The Probation Automated Case Tracking System (PACTS) provides a number of case management functions at the district court level as well as an important on-line query capability. Operating on the court's computer, it has proven useful in replacing index card systems as a means to locate case files and in generating a number of reports which enhance overall case management. PACTS is being successfully tested in three districts: the Southern District of Florida, the Northern District of Ohio, and the Western District of Texas. Planning is underway for expansion to other districts in fiscal year 1991.

User Groups/Automation Program

User group meetings for the various court automation applications have been coordinated between the Court Administration Division and the Court Systems Division. These have included representatives of the circuit, district and bankruptcy courts and staff from the program and automation divisions in the Administrative Office. The groups have been instrumental in providing a forum for discussion among the users of the systems in the courts and the application designers and programmers in the Administrative Office.

ADMINISTRATION

Independent Real Property Legislation

The Judicial Conference, at its September 1989 session, endorsed legislation to provide the Judiciary with real property authorities independent of the Executive Branch. On March 6, 1990, Congressman Douglas Bosco (D-CA), chairman of the House Subcommittee on Public Buildings and Grounds, introduced this legislation as H.R. 4178, the Judicial Space and Facilities Management Improvement Act.

Under this proposal, the Judiciary would acquire the statutory authority and financial capability to provide and maintain court accommodations independent of the General Services Administration (GSA). The Judiciary could contract with GSA for these services, but the Judiciary would be in control of the project and the funding. On March 14, 1990, Judge Broomfield, acting Chairman of the Judicial Conference Committee on Space and Facilities, and Director Mechem testified before the House Subcommittee on Public Buildings and Grounds in support of this bill. The General Services Administration objected to several aspects of the bill. At the conclusion of the hearings, Subcommittee Chairman Bosco requested that the Judiciary and GSA work together to determine if a compromise can be developed that will better meet the space needs of the courts. As of August 1990, no alternative to the Conference endorsed position on this legislation has been proposed which is acceptable to the Judiciary. Efforts are underway to meet with staff of the House to discuss the legislation.

On July 11, 1990, comparable legislation, S. 2837, was introduced in the Senate by Senator Daniel Moynihan (D-NY). Senate hearings are expected in September 1990.

Space Management Information System

Significant progress has been made in developing and installing an automated system which tracks alteration projects and the Judiciary's real property inventory. During fiscal year 1990, the computer hardware required for implementation of the system was acquired, tested, and configured. Working with a contractor, user needs were assessed so that computer programs can be written for report generation. Data loading was initiated during July 1990. The data includes a profile of the space to be added to the Judiciary's space inventory; milestones and time schedules for completion of projects; and narrative descriptions of the projects. By the end of calendar year 1990, a report will be generated that will depict the current status of all prospectus levels and other major alteration projects in excess of $500,000 nationwide. Plans for fiscal year 1991 include loading data for projects below $500,000 and providing circuit executives' and district court clerks' offices with the capability to access the system.

Review of Judicial Space Standards

In conjunction with the National Institute of Building Sciences, a complete review of Judicial Space Standards is in progress. To date, standards for judges' and magistrates' courtrooms and chambers have been reviewed by the Judicial Conference Committee on Space and Facilities. Workshops were held in Washington, D.C. during the week of July 30, 1990, to apprise representatives from district, bankruptcy and circuit court support offices of proposed revisions to the space standards. Drafts of all proposed revisions were mailed to all chief judges in mid-July 1990 for comment. Revised space standards will be submitted to the Judicial Conference for its approval in March 1991.

Guidelines for Long Range Facility Planning

At this time, ten districts and one court of appeals have participated in the testing of long range facility planning using a handbook developed by the Administrative Office. The Judicial Conference has asked that each district develop a long range facilities plan.

Current plans call for completing the long range planning process in about two and one-half years. Priority will be given to:

- a. new judgeships;
- b. districts with large caseloads and increasing populations;
- c. districts where the initial space projections developed by the Administrative Office indicate space needs will exceed the capacity of current facilities in the next ten years; and
- d. districts where GSA is already planning major construction or alteration projects.

Each district and court of appeals will be provided the support it needs, either with contract or Administrative Office personnel, to complete plans in a timely manner. The plans will be used to develop estimates of the Judiciary's total space program requirements.

Judiciary Office Building

In April 1990, the Architect of the Capitol broke ground for the new Judiciary Office Building to be located adjacent to Union Station on Massachusetts Avenue, N.W. in Washington, D.C. The building will house the Administrative Office, Federal Judicial Center, United States Sentencing Commission, and the Judicial Panel on Multi-district Litigation. Space also will be provided for retired Supreme Court Justices. To ensure the building meets the Judiciary tenants' future space requirements, all Judiciary tenants actively participated with the Architect of the Capitol and Boston Properties, the building developer, in planning the new building. Construction is scheduled for completion in September 1992 with an anticipated occupancy for Judiciary tenants in Fall 1992.

FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT

Pilot Budget Decentralization Project

The Pilot Budget Decentralization Project is currently in its third and final year of the evaluation period. Preliminary reports from the National Academy of Public Administration indicate that the pilot is a success. The courts in the pilot program will continue operating under the current guidelines pending Judicial Conference action concerning national expansion.

A working group for the Budget Decentralization Expansion Project is doing the preliminary work necessary should national expansion be approved. Among the elements to be in place for expansion are Administrative Office and Court operating manuals and training, models of court organization under budget decentralization, an integrated information system, and the expansion schedule. Several committees within the working group have been established to address these elements and they have formulated milestones and target dates for completion. A draft implementation plan for national expansion was presented to the Committee on the Budget at its July 1990 meeting. The Committee will review a fully developed expansion proposal at its January 1991 meeting, when it will formulate its recommendation to the Judicial Conference.

Central Accounting System

The Central Accounting System (CAS), implemented on October 1, 1989, provides a comprehensive, integrated financial management system for the Judiciary. CAS accepts accounting transactions input manually at the Administrative Office and through an automated interface, accepts accounting transactions from the mini-computer based Court Financial System. CAS features on-line data entry and processing for all functions. CAS performs integrated funds control, incorporates the United States Standard General Ledger, and includes both purchasing and travel subsystems. The Judiciary now has an accounting system that complies with OMB requirements and GAO standards.

Automated Court Financial System

The Administrative Office continued with the implementation of the automated Court Financial System during the past year. As of June 30, 1990, 43 courts had been trained on how to use the system and are in various stages of implementation. Currently, 37 district courts are transmitting their financial data automatically to the Central Accounting System maintained at the Administrative Office. Enhancements completed during the past year include the creation of several additional types of reports and the ability to link cash drawers and slip printers to the system.

Report on Audit Operations

During the calendar year 1989, the Audit Branch issued 54 financial audit reports of the district, bankruptcy, and appeals courts. Of these 54 reports, approximately 22 reports or 38 percent were special audits requested by the courts. Recommendations in these audits addressed management controls, collections and deposits, disbursement of appropriated funds and non-appropriated funds. There were approximately 359 recommendations in the following areas: management control (165); collections and deposits (165); disbursements of appropriated funds (22); and non-appropriated funds (7).

Establishment of Contractor Audit Program

The Administrative Office, with participation and representation of court officials, awarded a contract for financial audits to Clifton, Gunderson, and Co. in February 1990. Clifton, Gunderson, & Co. is the fifteenth largest Certified Public Accounting firm in the country and has a great deal of experience in performing financial audits in the Government. The contractor has performed a sufficient number of audits to gain an understanding of financial management in the courts. The Audit Branch will continue to provide oversight to ensure that the quality of these audits meets applicable standards and will, itself, conduct an equal number of audits with its own teams. Full implementation of the contractor audit program will enable cyclical financial audits of the courts to be conducted once every two years by 1991, rather than the present four-to-five year schedule.

Decentralized Criminal Justice Act (CJA) Payment Program

As of June 30, 1990, 69 courts have volunteered to participate in the decentralized CJA payment program. The program to decentralize the payment process from the Administrative Office to the district courts began in November 1988, on a voluntary basis. The purpose of the program is to reduce the length of time between the submission of the CJA vouchers and receipt of payment by the attorneys and those who provide expert services. The program has been highly successful. Because over two-thirds of the district courts are now participating in the program, the Administrative Office, with the endorsement of the Committee on Defender Services and following the endorsement of the Judicial Conference, will complete the decentralization of the payment process to the remaining courts during the next twelve months.

PERSONNEL

Judicial Salary Plan Review

Under instructions from the Judicial Conference Committee on Judicial Resources, the Administrative Office has contracted for an extensive review of the Judiciary Salary Plan (JSP). The Federal Judiciary has grown rapidly over the last few years: it has doubled in size since 1980. The Administrative Office wants to ensure that the JSP continues to be a system that pays employees fairly according to their job responsibilities, that salaries are as market competitive as budget realities permit, and that the classification and compensation system is flexible enough to retain and motivate the highly capable people now on staff and attract a comparable Judiciary work force in the future. The Administrative Office is scheduled to present recommendations for any necessary changes to the Judiciary's existing classification, qualification and compensation systems at the Committee on Judicial Resources' June 1991 meeting, for consideration by the Judicial Conference the following September.

Executive Pay Study

The Ethics Reform Act of 1989 provides for 25 percent pay increases in 1991 for Members of Congress, judges, circuit executives, and certain Executive Branch officials and permits the President to increase salaries of 7,000 other Executive Branch employees by amounts ranging from 18 percent to 25 percent. Since the legislation does not address salaries of most court executives, the Administrative Office worked with representatives of the various court advisory committees in developing options for the Committee on Judicial Resources to consider.

Personnel Legislation

Legislation to establish a comprehensive personnel system for employees of the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts is progressing in both houses of Congress. The Senate version, S. 2269, sponsored by Senator Joseph Lieberman (D-CT), was added to S. 2274, the pay reform bill, and passed out of the Government Affairs Committee in July 1990. Similar legislation, H.R. 4174, was introduced by Congressman William Ford (D-MI) in March 1990, and reported from that Committee in July 1990.

On July 26, 1990, Judge Harlington Wood, Jr., Chairman of the Judicial Conference Committee on the Administrative Office, and Director Mechem testified in support of this legislation before the House Post Office and Civil Service's Subcommittee on the Civil Service. This legislation would free the Administrative Office from burdensome civil service rules and procedures and allow it to design a simple personnel system that would ensure the same principles of merit and employee protections within the specific needs of the Judiciary, and promote the interchange of employees between the Administrative Office and the courts.

PROCUREMENT

Training

General procurement training for approximately 120 procurement clerks and procurement liaison officers was provided during fiscal year 1990 in three workshops. This completes the first round (one person per court) of procurement training in support of the general delegation of authority to courts for procurements up to $25,000. Workshops will be repeated in future years to train a second person in larger courts, to train court personnel who are newly assigned to procurement duties, and to address technical issues frequently encountered by procurement specialists.

Procurement Bulletin

The Procurement Bulletin was resumed by court request. This periodical provides information on equipment evaluations, advice on dealing with GSA and private vendors, announcements of procurement and property policy changes, and other selective information.

PROGRAM MANAGEMENT

COURT ADMINISTRATION

Bankruptcy Clerks Manual

A program manual for clerks of the bankruptcy courts was prepared and published by the Court Administration Division at the request of the Judicial Conference's Advisory Committee on Bankruptcy Rules and the Committee on the Administration of the Bankruptcy System. The manual includes a comprehensive analysis of the pertinent statutory and rule provisions that affect clerks' offices, recommends effective procedures for clerks, and contains a collection of sample forms and local rules. The manual is designed to serve as a basic research tool and training guide for newly-appointed clerks and as a convenient reference work for more experienced clerks and for judges.

Intern Program

The Court Administration Division has established an intern program for mid-level court managers. The purpose of the program is to train experientially those mid-level court employees with high management potential who are likely to assume future roles as court managers. Interns participating in the program learn to examine issues, policies, and procedures from a nationwide perspective primarily through the use of "hands-on" activities. The Court Administration Division has placed four court employee interns in the various branches of the Division: a chief deputy from the Arizona District Court, a telecommunications coordinator from the Seventh Circuit Executive's Office, an administrative analyst from the Eastern District of Arkansas District Court, and a courtroom deputy from the New Mexico Bankruptcy Court. These interns have been assigned to a variety of projects intended to increase their awareness and understanding of the functions and missions of the courts and the Administrative Office, and broaden their perspective and expand their management skills by applying locally developed expertise in the administration of national programs.

Fine Center

The Administrative Office is currently working with clerks of court, chief probation officers and the Department of Justice to develop plans to establish an automated national fine center that will provide current information on fine, assessment, and restitution payments in all cases except those processed by the Central Violation Bureaus. The current plan for development of the fine center provides for the establishment of a pilot program initially in one district court. The Eastern District of North Carolina has been designated as the pilot fine center. In addition to testing the procedures and software for posting and tracking fine, assessment, and restitution payments, the pilot will be used to develop a system for the electronic transfer of information to and from the fine center. The fine system will be designed at the outset to work in conjunction with the automated probation and pretrial services case tracking system (PACTS). The pilot will also test the feasibility of using a central lockbox arrangement to receive all payments directly from defendants, record and bank the payments, and send an electronic payment record to the fine center.

The judgment order form has been revised to meet the needs of the fine center, and automated judgment order software is being developed as an integral part of the fine system and will be tested in five district courts concurrently with the fine center pilot. When the pilot becomes operational, the courts testing the automated judgment software will begin to transmit electronically the necessary data to the center for the tracking of fines in those districts. During the pilot phase the feasibility of a transfer of fine center operations to a private contractor will be studied.

Computer Assisted Legal Research (CALR) Expansion

The CALR (LEXIS and WESTLAW) expansion continues with the software now being used in over 1,300 chambers of judicial officers. In addition, staff attorneys and pro se law clerks have been approved to use the system on their personal computer equipment. CALR access is still available on the 287 general purpose terminals placed in courthouses and libraries. In the next few years, many of these terminals will be replaced with personal computers capable of using the faster CALR software. During the two years of this program, over $1.6 million in lawbook subscriptions have been cancelled in exchange for CALR software.

Court Interpreting Program

In March and August 1989, the seventh round of Spanish/English written and oral examinations resulted in the addition of 81 new interpreters to the certified roster. Since the first examination was given in 1980, 388 Spanish/English interpreters have been certified for the Federal courts. Fifty certified interpreters now serve as employees of the district courts, while the remainder provide contract services to the courts. The next Spanish/English examination is scheduled for 1991. Examinations for Haitian Creole and Navajo interpreters will be completed in the 1990 calendar year.

BANKRUPTCY

Docket Management Procedures Manual

While docket management techniques have been developed and perfected in district courts over many years, purely local efforts have been made to develop efficient procedures for bankruptcy courts. For that reason, the Judicial Conference Committee on the Administration of the Bankruptcy System was prompted to study the bankruptcy system in the hope of developing better management procedures for courts that needed them. A Task Force to review existing practices employed by bankruptcy judges and to look for better ways to manage the courts' cases was established by the Bankruptcy Committee. The Task Force includes district and bankruptcy judges, district and bankruptcy clerks, and academicians. A prominent law school professor serves as the Task Force reporter.

Members of the Task Force and the reporter have been meeting in an effort to memorialize the docket management procedures in the form of a manual that can be distributed to all bankruptcy courts. The manual will cover pertinent subjects including procedures for administering cases under Chapters 7, 9, 11, 12 and 13 of the Code, the appropriate role and duties of trustees, management of adversary proceedings and contested matters, discovery and other pretrial matters, settlement, the conduct of trials, and the disposition of matters. It is anticipated that the manual will be completed next year.

Payment of Trustee Vouchers

Individuals who serve as bankruptcy trustees in Chapter 7 liquidation cases may be compensated for their services under two provisions of the Code. There is a statutory fee of $45 paid pursuant to 11 U.S.C. Section 330(b). This is all that will be received in approximately 90 percent of Chapter 7 cases where there are no assets to be distributed to creditors. However, where the trustee has the opportunity to liquidate nonexempt assets of the estate, the trustee may apply for additional compensation pursuant to 11 U.S.C. Section 326, which is paid from the estate.

The $45 statutory fee paid to the trustee comes from the filing fee paid by debtors when the case is commenced. The money is placed in an escrow account of the United States Treasury at the time of filing. When a case is closed, the bankruptcy clerk submits a voucher to the Administrative Office in Washington, D.C., and the money is then disbursed to the trustee. For a variety of administrative reasons the disbursement of these checks to trustees can be delayed.

In order to ensure the expeditious payment of these statutory fees the Administrative Office has taken two recent actions. A formula comparing case filings to pending case load has been developed in an attempt to predict the stage at which a court becomes too burdened to close cases and submit vouchers in a timely fashion. From this formula a monitoring system was developed to detect the existence of problems and identify the need for assistance.

Another project which should greatly expedite the payment of fees is to transfer the disbursement function from the Administrative Office to the local courts. This will eliminate the processing time presently incurred in sending a voucher to Washington and awaiting the receipt of a disbursement check. On January 1, 1990, the Bankruptcy Court for the Western District of Missouri began a pilot program to test the effectiveness of this approach. Reports of operations to date have been favorable and it is anticipated the pilot will be expanded to a number of additional courts.

Bankruptcy Administrator Program

One of the basic legislative objectives of Congress in enacting the Bankruptcy Reform Act of 1978 was to separate judicial functions from administrative functions in bankruptcy cases. This was accomplished by removing administrative responsibilities, such as the appointment and supervision of trustees, from the bankruptcy judges. In 18 judicial districts these administrative responsibilities were assigned to United States trustees as a pilot program.

The Bankruptcy Judges, United States Trustees, and Family Farmer Bankruptcy Act of 1986 established the United States trustee program on a permanent, nationwide basis. The program is now operational in all but six of the 90 districts. In those six judicial districts for the states of Alabama and North Carolina, the Judiciary-based Bankruptcy Administrator Program performs similar estate administration oversight functions.

Reports on the operation of the Bankruptcy Administrator Program received from bankruptcy judges, bankruptcy clerks, practitioners, and litigants have been uniformly positive. All six bankruptcy administrators have established a reputation for effective and responsive administration of bankruptcy estates.

Both systems of bankruptcy estate administration were reviewed during the past year. The Federal Courts Study Committee recommended that Congress should reconstitute United States trustees as independent statutory officers in the Judicial Branch. The Judicial Conference recommended that Congress should (1) continue the Bankruptcy Administrator Program, (2) grant bankruptcy administrators status similar to United States trustees, and (3) permit other judicial districts to be served by the Bankruptcy Administrator Program. The Administrative Office will pursue legislation to accomplish these recommendations.

DEFENDER SERVICES

Death Penalty Resource Centers

The Defender Services Division provided administrative support in connection with the establishment and operation of death penalty resource center/community defender organizations. The concept of death penalty resource centers, jointly funded through grants under the Criminal Justice Act (CJA), 18 U.S.C. Section 3006A, and non-CJA sources, is an outgrowth of circuit task force studies which began in 1986 to address the problem of the large increase in the number of death penalty cases entering the Federal system.

Resource centers, which are designated as community defender organizations under subsection (g)(2)(B) of the CJA, monitor the status of death penalty cases pending in the districts they serve, recruit attorneys to represent death-sentenced Federal habeas petitioners, and provide assistance and expert advice to counsel appointed in death penalty cases. Each center also represents a number of death-sentenced petitioners directly. During fiscal year 1989, death penalty resource centers provided direct representation in 55 Federal proceedings and provided consulting services in 258 Federal proceedings, exclusive of writs of certiorari to the United States Supreme Court from State court judgments. The centers also maintain brief banks and serve as clearinghouses of information on death penalty issues. In providing these services, resource centers facilitate the ability of Federal courts to locate attorneys willing and able to provide CJA representation in death penalty cases, foster continuity of representation, and improve the quality and cost-effectiveness of death penalty representation.

In the past year, the Division assisted in establishing operational resource centers in Illinois and Missouri. In addition, Division representatives attended meetings and consulted with the Ninth Circuit, Nevada, and Pennsylvania Death Penalty Task Forces. The efforts in Pennsylvania resulted in the decision by the three Pennsylvania judicial districts to establish a resource center, and the approval of funds for its operation by the Committee on Defender Services. The Committee also approved funding for a new resource center in Ohio. Additional Division activities relating to death penalty resource centers include the development of an alternative grant distribution procedure for the death penalty resource center in California and continuing efforts to improve procedures for monitoring the operation of resource centers.

Establishment of New Federal Defender Offices

During the past year, the Defender Services Division provided administrative support in connection with the establishment of three new Federal public defender organizations and two branch offices of existing organizations. Of the new organizations, the one serving the Northern District of Texas became operational in January 1990, and the one serving the District of Columbia is expected to be operational by the close of fiscal year 1990. The District of Alaska will be served by its own organization effective October 1, 1990. Currently, Alaska is served by an Anchorage branch of the Federal Public Defender Organization for the Western District of Washington. The Federal Public Defender Organization for the Middle District of Florida opened a branch office in Fort Myers, Florida in August 1989, and the New York Legal Aid Society (community defender organization) established a branch office in Uniondale, New York in October 1989.

At its June 1990 meeting, the Committee on Defender Services approved fiscal year 1991 funding to support the creation of a Federal Public Defender Organization for the Eastern District of Washington, and a Wilmington, Delaware office to serve the District of Delaware as a branch of the Federal Public Defender Organization for the District of New Jersey. Both actions are awaiting Congressional funding. The Committee also approved fiscal year 1991 funding for three additional Federal public defender organization branch offices. A branch of the Western District of Pennsylvania organization will be situated in Erie, Pennsylvania, and two new branches of the District of South Carolina organization will be located in Charleston and Greenville, South Carolina. Finally, the Committee approved fiscal year 1992 funding to support the establishment of an office in Williamsport, Pennsylvania to serve as a branch of the Federal Public Defender Organization for the Middle District of Pennsylvania. The Williamsport branch office will serve both the Williamsport and Lewisburg court locations.

Federal defender organizations provide a cost-efficient alternative to Criminal Justice Act private panel representation and consistently furnish high quality representation to CJA defendants. The Defender Services Division plans to conduct studies to evaluate the feasibility of establishing defender organizations in all judicial districts which satisfy the statutory requirement of 200 CJA appointments per year. Feasibility studies for the following districts were initiated and/or completed during the past year: Southern District of Indiana, Montana, Western District of New York, Eastern District of Tennessee, Eastern District of Texas, Utah, Eastern District of Virginia, and Wyoming.

MAGISTRATES

Study of the Jurisdiction of Magistrates

Upon the request of the Magistrates Committee, the Magistrates Division conducted an in-depth study of the Supreme Court's opinion in Gomez v. United States, 490 U.S. ____, 109 S.Ct. 2237 (1989), which held that magistrates could not preside over jury selection in a felony trial pursuant to 28 U.S.C. Section 636(b)(3) where the defendant objected to the magistrate's involvement. The issues raised in Gomez touch upon basic questions of magistrate jurisdiction under the Magistrates Act and the Constitution. The study analyzed both the reasoning underlying the Gomez decision and the impact of the decision upon subsequent cases from various circuit courts. The Division is presently following developments in United States v. France, 886 F.2d 223 (9th Cir. 1989), cert. granted, 495 U.S. ____, 110 S. Ct. 1921 (1990), in which the Supreme Court will address issues raised by the Gomez decision. Other appellate decisions interpreting Gomez are also being tracked.

In its final report, the Federal Courts Study Committee recommended that an in-depth study of magistrate jurisdiction be undertaken. The Magistrates Committee endorsed this recommendation at its recent meeting and authorized the Magistrates Division to begin such a study. Building upon its work concerning the Gomez decision, the Division has commenced a broader study of magistrate jurisdiction under the Magistrates Act and the Constitution. This study will involve a detailed examination of the legislative history of the Magistrates Act and the parameters of magistrate authority under Article III of the Constitution, as well as surveying the spectrum of case law dealing with magistrate jurisdiction.

Magistrates Statistical Reporting System

The Administrative Office is assigned the statutory responsibility of collecting statistical data on the workload of the U.S. magistrates. In 1988, the Division of Magistrates developed a micro computer system to collect and maintain this data. During the past year, the system has been simplified by converting eight different tables into one. A program has been developed for the data entry portion of the system. It is undergoing local testing to determine its utility for data entry by field offices. The goal is to facilitate the transmission of data directly to the Division's computer. A pilot program will be established in late summer of this year with a number of selected courts. Implementation of the system is planned to start July 1, 1991, at the beginning of Statistical Year 1992.

PROBATION

The Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988

The eight-district drug pilot testing demonstration project completed its first year. The program was mandated by Congress to examine the need to test criminal defendants for substance abuse at the pretrial stage and during post-conviction supervision (Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988). A review of the results of this project leads to a number of preliminary conclusions: cocaine is currently the drug of choice among criminal defendants in the Federal courts; criminal defendants overwhelmingly cooperate with court officials in providing urine samples prior to initial court appearances; there have been no formal challenges to the constitutionality of pretrial drug testing in the Federal system; and pretrial testing prior to the initial appearance identifies 33 percent of all tested defendants in the eight pilot districts as drug users. A final report is due to Congress in 1991.

Decentralized Substance Abuse Contracting

Substance abuse treatment is provided to persons under supervision of the Federal Probation System by various local treatment agencies under contract with the Administrative Office. Services run the gamut of periodic urinalysis to extended inpatient treatment services. Contracting for services has in the past been a centralized process, whereby the Probation Division, with the assistance of the Contracts and Services Division, operated as the reviewer and overseer of the complex contracting cycle.

The Administrative Office is decentralizing this process for all contracts under $100,000 in order to permit probation offices to contract locally rather than submit the paperwork for final approval to the Administrative Office. In addition, the billing examinations and payment process will be decentralized. This should result in greater accountability and efficiency in managing these contracts and will allow the Probation Division to provide enhanced technical assistance in drug treatment matters. In June 1990, in preparation for the first phase of decentralization, the Probation and Contracts and Services Divisions provided training on the decentralized substance abuse contracting process for 52 participants, including 35 chief probation officers. A detailed manual of instruction has also been developed. A second training session is scheduled for September 1990.

Pretrial Services and Probation Procedures Manuals

In October 1989, a revised pretrial services manual was issued to district offices. The 136-page manual includes chapters on pretrial release status; confidentiality; investigations, reports, and hearings; case management; supervision; support services/resources; pretrial diversion; and forms.

In February 1990, 12 of 15 chapters of the revised probation procedures manual were distributed to field probation and pretrial services offices. Topics addressed in this initial distribution included: organization and administration; sentencing options; supervision services; probation and supervised release supervision; institutional procedures and community corrections centers; parole release and supervision; juvenile procedures; military parole; substance abuse treatment; mental health treatment; legal issues; and reference materials. The three remaining chapters (including topics on presentence services, contracting services, and sample forms) are expected to be distributed by the end of the year.

Community Control Project

Authorized by the 1988 Anti-Drug Abuse Act (Section 7305) as an alternative to incarceration for convicted Federal offenders, home confinement requires an individual to remain at home except when engaged in approved activities. Individuals are monitored either electronically or by probation/pretrial services staff randomly contacting the home to verify the individual's presence at home.

At the request of the Bureau of Prisons and the Parole Commission, the Committee on Criminal Law and Probation Administration approved expansion of an electronic monitoring pilot project instituted last year. The Bureau of Prisons is funding this project. The program has been expanded from the original two districts (Central California and Florida Southern) to the following 12 additional districts: Northern District of Georgia, Eastern District of New York, Maryland, District of Columbia, South Carolina, Northern District of Ohio, Eastern District of Michigan, Northern District of Texas, Southern District of Texas, Nebraska, Colorado, and Idaho. The Bureau of Prisons also agreed to provide staff to 10 of the 12 new districts participating.

Community Supervision

A Supervision Task Force was formed at the direction of the Committee on Criminal Law and Probation Administration for the purpose of evaluating existing practices in supervising offenders and developing improved standards. In March 1990, the Federal Judicial Center, in concert with the Supervision Task Force, trained six pilot districts with methods intended to bring about better supervision techniques. Those districts are the Northern District of Illinois, the Northern District of Georgia, the Northern District of Texas, the Southern District of Texas, the District of South Carolina, and the Western District of Washington. Additionally, the District of Colorado was trained in June 1990.

Eight additional districts have been approved for training on the new model by the Committee in August 1990. Those districts include the District of Arizona, the Southern District of Georgia, the District of Hawaii, the Northern District of Indiana, the District of Massachusetts, the Western District of Michigan, the Eastern District of New York, and the District of North Dakota. The effectiveness of these new standards will be analyzed in the fall of 1990 and recommendations will be made to the Committee on Criminal Law and Probation Administration regarding further expansion.

Presentence Format Standards

Since the Sentencing Reform Act of 1984 became effective in November of 1987, numerous comments have been received from field personnel suggesting that the presentence report would be more efficient with minor changes. To address these concerns, the Probation Division formed a workgroup of field personnel to review the format of the presentence report. The task force will draft a revised presentence format which will be submitted to the Committee on Criminal Law and Probation Administration in December of 1990.

CONCLUSION

This report gives a sense of the breadth and scope of Administrative Office activities. The past year was highly productive and the coming year will present new challenges. As we move into the 1990's, the Administrative Office will be focussing on providing essential policy and program assistance to the Judiciary, while delegating operational authorities, where appropriate, to the courts. As court managers become increasingly able and eager to assume more responsibilities in the administration of their courts, and support systems are put in place, the Administrative Office will assume the role of providing assistance, coordination and guidance, rather than performing many of the operational jobs that are best performed at the local level. The administration of the courts is a true partnership between the Administrative Office and the courts.

Appendix II
Payments Under the Criminal Justice Act for Fiscal Year 1989

TO THE CHAIRMAN AND MEMBERS OF THE JUDICIAL CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON DEFENDER SERVICES

The Criminal Justice Act

The following is a summary report of activities relating to the Criminal Justice Act (CJA) during fiscal year 1989 (FY 89) which ended September 30, 1989.

Status of Appropriations

The FY 89 appropriation for the implementation of the CJA was $66,245,000. This amount, plus an unobligated balance of $60,255,000 carried forward from FY 88 was available to cover obligations incurred during FY 89, pursuant to a change in accounting procedure authorized by the Dire Emergency Supplemental Appropriation of 1989. Beginning in FY 89, under the new procedure, panel attorney and expert services payments were reflected as expenditures against the current year appropriation, regardless of when the appointment was made and the obligation incurred. It is estimated that $104,500,000 will be required in FY 89 to meet projected obligations, leaving an unobligated balance of $22,000,000 which will be available for use in FY 90. The distribution of FY 89 projected obligations is as follows:

Federal Defender Organizations (FDO) ¹	$41,792,000
CJA Panel Attorneys	53,260,000
Investigative, Expert & Other Services	5,162,000 ²
Transcripts	4,086,000
General Administrative Expense	200,000
TOTAL	$104,500,000

² This amount includes FDO expenses of $1,117,000 for investigative, expert and other services which are not included in the FDO total above.

Legislation

Establishment of Guideline Range for Attorney Compensation in Federal Death Penalty Representation

The Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988, 102 Stat. 4181 (1988), included a provision which effectively repealed the CJA attorney compensation rates and maximums which would otherwise apply in federal capital prosecutions and death penalty federal habeas corpus cases. In response to concerns regarding the resulting lack of guidance to presiding judicial officers in determining compensation for appointed counsel in federal capital prosecutions and death penalty federal habeas corpus proceedings, the potential for wide disparity in such determinations, and the need to reasonably project resources needed to implement the law, the Judicial Conference, at its September 1989 proceedings, established a guideline range of $75 to $125 per hour for compensation of attorneys appointed under the CJA in federal capital prosecutions and death penalty federal habeas corpus cases.

Supreme Court Opinions

The Supreme Court opinions in U.S. v. Monsanto, ___ U.S. ___, 109 S. Ct. 2657 (1989), and Caplin & Drysdale v. U.S., U.S., ___, 109 S. Ct. 2646 (1989), are expected to have a substantial impact on the Defender Services program.

The Comprehensive Forfeiture Act of 1984 (CFA), 98 Stat. 2040 (1984), authorized pretrial restraint and forfeiture to the government of property constituting or derived from proceeds obtained through illicit racketeering (RICO) or continuing criminal enterprise (CCE) activities. See Stat. 2040-2057, as amended. In companion opinions, the Supreme Court in Monsanto and Caplin & Drysdale held that the CFA applies to assets a defendant would otherwise use to compensate retained counsel, and further, that applying the CFA to such assets does not violate the Fifth Amendment due process rights or the Sixth Amendment right to counsel of choice.

As a result of the Supreme Court opinions in Monsanto and Caplin & Drysdale, it is expected that a substantial number of defendants charged with RICO or CCE offenses who would otherwise retain counsel will require appointment of counsel under the CJA. This increased need for CJA counsel may cause a significant drain on the Defender Services appropriation.

Representation in Federal Courts

During FY 89, approximately 69,954 persons were represented in the United States courts pursuant to the provisions of the CJA. This compares with 65,507 appointments in FY 88 and 62,283 appointments in FY 87. The number of appointments in FY 89 was thus 6.8 percent greater than those in FY 88 and 12.3 percent greater than in FY 87.

The following table compares appointments of counsel, and distribution of CJA funds, between panel attorneys and Federal Defenders for fiscal years 1987, 1988 and 1989.

Judiciary caseload data reflected that during the twelve month period ending June 30, 1989, a total of 45,995 criminal cases were filed, an increase of 3.2 percent from the statistical year 1988 level of 44,585. The pending criminal caseload as of June 30, 1989 was 30,910 cases, an increase of 11.5 percent over 1988, its highest level ever.

The increase in the criminal caseload related primarily to the implementation of the Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Act (DAPCA). Case filings under DAPCA rose from a 1988 total of 10,292 to a 1989 total of 11,858, an increase of 15.2 percent. Prosecutions for narcotics rose by 18.1 percent, while filings for marijuana and controlled substance violations increased by 9.4 percent and 17.2 percent, respectively. DAPCA cases now account for 27.7 percent of all criminal filings and approximately 36.1 percent of all criminal defendants.

Major Federal Drug-Related Law Enforcement Activities

Between fiscal years 1982 and 1989, Federal Defender organization appointments in drug cases have risen from 1,980 to 6,702, an increase of 238.5 percent. Similarly, during this same period, in-court hours for Federal Defender drug related cases rose from 8,219 to 20,828, a 153.4 percent increase. These increases correspond to expanded activities in federal drug control programs. A brief description of the major drug control programs follows:

Strike Forces

The Organized Crime and Racketeering Section of the Department of Justice (DOJ) maintains strike forces and field offices nationwide to support its efforts to combat organized crime. These strike forces take an active role in the prosecution of organized crime figures for drug-related activities, an effort which absorbs 20 percent of total strike force resources.

⁴ Excludes inmate requests from the US Medical Center, Springfield, MO: 1,528 in FY 87; 1,453 in FY 88; and 755 in FY 89.

Operation Greenback

Operation Greenback is an anti-money laundering initiative based in Miami (since 1980), Puerto Rico (since 1984), San Antonio and San Francisco (since 1988). Operation Greenback is operated jointly by DOJ, the Treasury Department, Customs and the Internal Revenue Service, and has been responsible for the confiscation of more than $300 million in currency and property since 1980.

Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force Program

The Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force Program (OCDETF) is a multi-agency drug investigation and prosecution program aimed at the identification and prosecution of members of high-level drug trafficking organizations, many of which are international in scope. OCDETF task forces have existed nationwide since 1982 and coordinate the use of federal, state and local law enforcement resources in prosecution efforts.

During FY 1989, 500 Task Force cases were initiated throughout the country, resulting in 1,629 indictments against a total of 5,484 defendants. Of these defendants, 173 have been charged under the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations statute, while 193 defendants were charged under the Continuing Criminal Enterprise statute.

Operation Alliance

Operation Alliance is a special drug seizure operation involving federal, state and local law enforcement agencies located on the southwest border. Instituted in August 1986, this initiative covers the entire southwest border from Brownsville, Texas to San Diego, California and the adjoining Gulf and Pacific water areas. The number of arrests associated with drug seizures in the southwest border areas was 7,271 in FY 89. The "Zero Tolerance Program," begun in March 1988, provides for prosecution of drug possessors or traffickers regardless of the amount of illegal drugs seized. In August 1989, the Department of Defense implemented the Counter Narcotics Operations Division under the direction of the Joint Staff Operations Directorate. This initiative supports Operation Alliance and its objective is to detect and monitor drug trafficking and to facilitate data exchange between law enforcement agencies. The Federal Defender organizations in the southwest border areas have experienced a 346.9 percent increase in appointments in drug cases, from 591 in FY 86 to 2,641 cases in FY 89. A substantial proportion of this increase is believed to be attributable to Operation Alliance.

Payments in Excess of the Statutory Maximum

The CJA provides that the presiding judicial officer may approve attorney compensation up to a maximum of $3,500 for felonies, $2,500 for appeals, $1,000 for misdemeanors and $750 for other representations. In addition, the presiding judicial officer may approve payments to persons providing investigative, expert and other services up to a maximum of $1,000. The CJA also provides that, in extended or complex cases, attorneys may receive compensation in excess of these general case compensation maximums when the presiding judicial officer certifies that such excess payment is necessary to provide fair compensation and the payment is approved by the chief judge of the circuit or an active circuit judge to whom excess compensation approval authorization has been delegated. Similarly, compensation in excess of the general maximum may be paid to persons providing investigative, expert and other services if the presiding judicial officer determines that the amount is necessary to provide fair compensation for services of an unusual character or duration and the amount of the excess payment is approved by the chief judge of the circuit, or his or her delegate.

The number of payments in excess of the attorney case compensation maximums during FY 89 was 5,719, an increase of approximately 24.1 percent from the 4,608 total for FY 88. These claims include cases opened in prior fiscal years. The total amount paid through September 30, 1989, for services relating to these claims (including any interim payments made in prior fiscal years) was $43,648,625 compared to $32,035,325 for FY 88. Average payments by category of offense are discussed below.

The following is a summary of excess compensation claims paid during FY 89 for both attorneys and expert services:

(1) 4,194 excess payments were approved in felony cases and appeals. The largest of these payments amounted to $263,092 in a bank robbery/conspiracy case in the District of Connecticut. The average for all such payments was $9,117.

(2) 66 excess payments for extended or complex representation in misdemeanor cases were approved. The largest was $6,612 for a petty offense in the District of Alaska. The average for all such payments was $1,949.

(3) 735 claims were approved for other cases. The largest payment was $36,220 for a habeas petitioner in the Tenth Circuit. The average for all such matters was $2,706.

(4) 724 claims for compensation for expert and other services of an unusual character or duration were approved and paid. The largest single payment was $168,198 for transcription and translation services in the District of Connecticut. The average cost of services per case was $4,554.

Transcripts, Investigative, Expert and Other Services

As of September 30, 1989, $8,374,000 had been paid from the FY 89 Defender Services Appropriation for transcripts, investigative, expert and other services pursuant to the change in accounting procedure. It is estimated that, as later claims for transcripts attributable to FY 89 are approved and paid, the total for FY 89 will increase to $9,248,000.

Federal Defender Organizations

New Branch Offices

The Federal Public Defender Organization for the Middle District of Florida established a branch office in Fort Myers on August 7, 1989, and the Federal Public Defender Organization for the District of Maryland opened a branch office in Hyattsville on January 1, 1989. In addition, the Federal Defender Services Unit of the New York Legal Aid Society (Community Defender Organization) opened its Uniondale branch office in early October 1989.

New Federal Public Defender Organizations

The Federal Public Defender Organization for the Middle District of Pennsylvania was established October 1, 1988 with a headquarters in Harrisburg, and a branch office in Scranton. These offices were formerly organizational components of the Federal Public Defender Organization for the Western District of Pennsylvania.

At its March 1989 meeting, the Judicial Conference approved funding for the creation of a Federal Public Defender Organization for the District of Columbia. It is anticipated that this organization will be established during the second quarter of FY 90. On January 1, 1990, the Federal Public Defender Organization for the Northern District of Texas will open with a headquarters in Dallas and a branch office in Fort Worth.

Death Penalty Resource Center/Community Defender Organizations

Death penalty resource centers provide a variety of services, including the monitoring of the status of death penalty cases pending in the districts they serve, recruiting attorneys to represent death-sentenced federal habeas corpus petitioners, providing assistance and expert advice to such attorneys, and the direct representation of death-sentenced inmates. As of September 30, 1989, 14 centers were operational. Funding for a fifteenth center to serve Illinois was approved in September 1989. It is anticipated that a FY 90 request will be submitted to Congress, which, if approved, will allow for establishment of the Center.

Resource Centers provided direct representation to 55 death sentenced federal habeas corpus petitioners in FY 89 and provided assistance and expert advice to attorneys representing petitioners in 258 cases.

Federal Defender Statistics

Although a final accounting has not yet been completed, the cost of operating the Federal Defender Organizations during FY 89 is estimated to have been $42,909,000 or 13.7 percent less than the amount authorized. Approximately 78.5 percent of the cost of the operation of Federal Defender Organizations in FY 89 was expended for personnel compensation and benefits.

A total of 35,689 cases were opened by Federal Defenders (excluding representation by Death Penalty Resource Centers) in FY 89, and 34,005 were closed. Increases in caseload were realized by 73.2 percent of the reporting Defender Organizations during FY 89. The office experiencing the highest volume during this period was the Southern District of California with 6,790 openings. This organization closed 6,807 cases, 3,005 of which were immigration and petty offense cases.

Based upon original budget and grant submissions, as a group, Federal Defenders realized 96.5 percent of their projected caseloads. This compares with 105.0 percent and 105.6 percent for fiscal years 1988 and 1987, respectively.
