Drug Data Sources

Under the Drug Use Forecasting program of the National Institute of Justice, cofunded by the Bureau of Justice Assistance, NCJRS coordinates the collection of recent drug use information. The program collects data and measures drug use among arrestees primarily charged with nondrug offenses in 22 cities across the country. Arrestees are charted by age, sex, race, type of drug use, frequency of use, and other diagnostic/demographic factors. Quarterly and annual reports are issued.

ANNOUNCING A NEW SINGLE PHONE NUMBER FOR ALL FEDERAL ALCOHOL AND DRUG CLEARINGHOUSES

As of August 15, 1991 anyone in the United States can call 1-800-788-2800 and immediately access any of seven Federal clearinghouse and information centers focusing on alcohol and other drugs. The Office of National Drug Control Policy in cooperation with the Department of Health and Human Services, the Department of Justice, the Department of Housing and Urban Development, and the U.S. Department of Education, has established the Federal Drug, Alcohol and Crime Clearinghouse Network. This network serves as a single point of entry for all Federal alcohol and drug clearinghouses. By dialing 1-800-788-2800 a caller can receive information and resource material from a wide array of Federal services. Some examples are:

A centralized source for the latest alcohol and other drug information and prevention materials (The National Clearinghouse for Alcohol and Drug Information--Department of Health and Human Services, U.S. Department of Education)

A comprehensive resource for information on drugs and crime (Drugs and Crime Data Center--Department of Justice)

Immediate information on where to find treatment for drug abuse, support groups and services (Drug Abuse Information and Referral Hotline--Department of Health and Human Services)

Detailed information on development and implementation of drug free workplace programs (Drug Free Workplace Helpline--Department of Health and Human Services)

The most current information available on national and community based programs on prevention and control of drug abuse in public and assisted housing (Drug Information Strategy Clearinghouse--Department of Housing and Urban Development)

Up to date information on AIDS, drug abuse and drug abuse prevention (National AIDS Clearinghouse--Department of Health and Human Services)

Comprehensive information on criminal justice issues on the national and international level (National Criminal Justice Reference Service--Department of Justice)

Remember, for a single point of entry to meet all of your information needs on demand reduction, the number is:

1-800-788-2800
