The board shall have the authority to issue orders enforcing its rules and regulations after notice and hearing as provided by applicable law.

The board shall provide for and exercise control over the installation, operation and maintenance of data processing and data communication systems, hereinafter called the criminal offender record information system. Said system shall be designed to insure the prompt collection, exchange, dissemination and distribution of such criminal offender record information as may be necessary for the efficient administration and operation of criminal justice agencies, and to connect such systems directly or indirectly with similar systems in this or other states. The secretary of public safety shall appoint and fix the salary of an executive director, after reviewing final applicants with and securing the approval of the board. Such executive director shall not be subject to the provisions of chapter thirty-one or section nine A of chapter thirty. Upon the expiration of the term of any appointive member, his successor shall be appointed in a like manner for a term of three years.

The chairman shall hold regular meetings, one of which shall be an annual meeting and shall notify all board members of the time and place of all meetings. Special meetings may be called at any time by a majority of the board members and shall be called by the chairman upon written application of eight or more members. Members of the board shall receive no compensation, but shall receive their expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the discharge of their duties.

[The third paragraph is amended to read as follows:]

The board shall, with the approval of two-thirds of the board members or their designees present and voting, promulgate regulations regarding the collection, storage, access, dissemination, content, organization, and use of criminal offender record information. After consultation with the executive office of communities and development and subject to the provision of said chapter thirty A, the board shall promulgate further regulations governing the collection and use by local housing authorities of such criminal offender record information as they may lawfully receive; provided, however, that such regulations shall provide that the following information be available to housing authorities operating pursuant to chapter one hundred and twenty-one B, upon request, solely for the purpose of evaluating applicants to housing owned by such housing authorities, in order to further the protection and well-being of tenants of such housing authorities: conviction date; and arrest and other data regarding any pending criminal charge; provided, further, that any housing authority receiving such data shall not make, and shall prohibit, any dissemination of such information, for any purpose other than as set forth herein. The board shall have the authority to hear complaints alleging that criminal offender record information, evaluative information, or records of juvenile proceedings have been unlawfully disseminated or obtained, and to issue orders enforcing its rules and regulations, including the imposition of civil fines payable to the commonwealth not to exceed five hundred dollars for each willful violation thereof, after notice and hearing as provided by applicable law.

[No change in balance of section.]

§ 169. Repealed by St.1979, c. 702, § 5

St.1979, c. 702, § 5, an emergency act repealing this section, was approved Nov. 9, 1979.

§ 171. Regulations generally; continuing education program; evaluative information

The board shall promulgate regulations (a) creating a continuing program of data auditing and verification to assure the accuracy and completeness of criminal offender record information; (b) assuring the prompt and complete purging of criminal record information, insofar as such purging is required by any statute or administrative regulation, by the order of any court of competent jurisdiction, or to correct any errors shown to exist in such information; and (c) assuring the security of criminal offender record information from unauthorized disclosures at all levels of operation.

The board shall cause to be initiated for employees of all agencies that maintain, receive, or are eligible to maintain or receive criminal offender record information a continuing educational program in the proper use and control of such information.

The content and use of evaluative information, and the inspection, receipt of copies and challenge of such information by an individual shall not be governed by the provisions of this act except as provided in this paragraph. Each criminal justice agency holding evaluative information shall, pursuant to section two of chapter thirty A, promulgate regulations to govern the content and use of evaluative information, and to govern, limit or prohibit the inspection, receipt of copies and challenge of such information by an individual referred to therein. Such regulations shall, at a minimum, provide that an agency which generates evaluative information shall make such information available within a reasonable time period upon request to the individual referred to therein unless such information falls within such exemptions as the agency shall establish in said regulations. No agency shall establish an exemption for evaluative material unless disclosure of such information would pose a direct and articulable threat to the safety of any individual or the security of a correctional facility, and such threat shall have been detailed in a certificate which is kept with such evaluative information. An agency shall reply in writing, upon the request of an individual for the release of their evaluative information. Said writing shall include the agency's decision to release or withhold the evaluative information in whole or in part and a listing of all sources of origin for all evaluative information generated by the custodial agency. Any individual aggrieved by an agency's decision denying access to evaluative information may appeal the denial in writing within thirty days thereafter to the board or to a three member panel thereof, as the board may determine, and the board or such panel or any court under section one hundred and seventy-seven shall have access to any certificate. The adoption of such regulations by each criminal justice agency shall be subject to the approval of the board, and shall be promulgated within time limits set by the board. If any criminal justice agency holding evaluative information fails to promulgate such regulations, then the board shall promulgate such regulations with respect to that criminal justice agency. Evaluative information shall be subject to the provisions of section one hundred and seventy-two and section one hundred and seventy-eight, as if such information was criminal offender record information.

CRIMINAL OFFENDER RECORD INFORMATION SYSTEM

§ 172. Accessibility and Dissemination of Information; Listing of Agencies or Individuals Receiving Information.

Except as otherwise provided in this section and sections one hundred and seventy-three to one hundred and seventy-five, inclusive, criminal offender record information, and where present, evaluative information, shall be disseminated, whether directly or through any intermediary, only to (a) criminal justice agencies; (b) such other agencies and individuals required to have access to such information by statute including United States Armed Forces recruiting offices for the purpose of determining whether a person enlisting has been convicted of a felony as set forth in Title 10, section 504 of the United States Code, to the active or organized militia of the commonwealth for the purpose of determining whether a person enlisting has been convicted of a felony; and (c) any other agencies and individuals where it has been determined that the public interest in disseminating such information to these parties clearly outweighs the interest in security and privacy. The extent of such access shall be limited to that necessary for the actual performance of the criminal justice duties of criminal justice agencies under clause (a); to that necessary for the actual performance of the statutory duties of agencies and individuals granted access under clause (b); and to that necessary for the actual performance of the actions or duties sustaining the public interest as to agencies or individuals granted access under clause (c). Agencies or individuals granted access under clause (c) shall be eligible to receive criminal offender record information obtained through interstate systems if the board determines that such information is necessary for the performance of the actions or duties sustaining the public interest with respect to such agencies or individuals.

The board shall certify those agencies and individuals requesting access to criminal offender record information that qualify for such access under clauses (a) or (b) of this section, and shall specify for each such agency or individual certified, the extent of its access. The board shall make a finding in writing of eligibility, or noneligibility of each such agency or individual which requests such access. No such information shall be disseminated to any agency or individual prior to the board's determination of eligibility, or, in cases in which the board's decision is appealed, prior to the final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction that such agency or individual is so eligible.

No agency or individual shall have access to criminal offender record information under clause (c), unless the board, by a two-thirds majority of the members present and voting, determines and certifies that the public interest in disseminating such information to such party clearly outweighs the interest in security and privacy. The extent of access to such information under clause (c) shall also be determined by such a two-thirds majority vote of the board. Certification for access under clause (c) may be either access to information relating to a specific identifiable individual, or individuals, on a single occasion; or a general grant of access for a specified period of time not to exceed two years. A general grant of access need not relate to a request for access by the party or parties to be certified. Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph the procedure and requirements for certifying agencies and individuals under clause (c) shall be according to the provisions of the preceding paragraphs of this section.

Each agency holding or receiving criminal offender record information shall maintain, for such period as the board shall determine, a listing of the agencies or individuals to which it has released or communicated such information. Such listings, or reasonable samples thereof, may from time to time, be reviewed by the board or the council to determine whether any statutory provisions or regulations have been violated.

Dissemination of criminal offender record information shall, except as provided in this section and for purposes of research programs approved under section one hundred and seventy-four, be permitted only if the inquiry is based upon name, fingerprints, or other personal identifying characteristics. The board shall adopt rules to prevent dissemination of such information where inquiries are based upon categories of offense or data elements other than said characteristics; provided, however, that access by criminal justice agencies to criminal offender record information on the basis of data elements other than personal identifying characteristics, including but not limited to, categories of offense, mode of operation, photographs and physical descriptive data generally, shall be permissible, except as may be limited by the regulations of the board. Except as authorized by this chapter it shall be unlawful to request or require a person to provide a copy of his criminal offender record information. At the time of making any criminal record inquiry pursuant to clause (b) or (c) of the first paragraph of this section, the party certified to receive criminal offender record information shall submit to the board an acknowledgement that such inquiry will be undertaken, signed by the person who is the subject of such inquiry on a form prepared or approved by the board.

[Eff July 1, 1992] Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, the following information shall be available to any person upon request: (a) criminal offender record information consisting of conviction data; provided, however, that all requests for such conviction data shall be made to the board; and provided, further, that the board shall disclose only conviction data which it maintains in a standardized format in its automated criminal history file, and (b) information indicating custody status and placement within the correction system; provided, however, that no information shall be disclosed that identifies family members, friends, medical or psychological history, or any other personal information unless such information is directly relevant to such release or custody placement decision, and no information shall be provided if its release would violate any other provisions of state or federal law. The parole board, except as required by section one hundred and thirty of chapter one hundred and twenty-seven, the department of correction, a county correctional authority, or a probation department with the approval of a justice to the appropriate division of the trial court, may, in its discretion, make available a summary, which may include references to evaluative information, concerning a decision to release an individual on a permanent or temporary basis, to deny such release, or to change his custody status.

[Eff July 1, 1992] Information shall be provided or made available pursuant to the preceding paragraph only if the individual named in the request or summary has been convicted of a crime punishable by imprisonment for a term of five years or more, or has been convicted of any crime and sentenced to any term of imprisonment, and at the time of the request: is serving a sentence of probation or incarceration, or is under the custody of the parole board; or having been convicted of a misdemeanor, has been released from all custody or supervision for not more than one year; or having been convicted of a felony, has been released from all custody or supervision for not more than two years; or, having been sentenced to the custody of the department of correction, has finally been discharged therefrom, either having been denied release on parole or having been returned to penal custody for violation of parole, for not more than three years. In addition to the provisions of the preceding sentence, court records for all criminal cases shall be made available for public inspection for a period of one week following conviction and imposition of sentence.

Any individual or agency, public or private, that receives or obtains criminal offender record information, in violation of the provisions of this statute, whether directly or through any intermediary, shall not collect, store, disseminate, or use such criminal offender record information in any manner or for any purpose. Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, the dissemination of information relative to a person's conviction of automobile law violations as defined by section one of chapter ninety C, or information relative to a person's charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor which resulted in his assignment to a driver alcohol program as described in section twenty-four D of chapter ninety, shall not be prohibited where such dissemination is made, directly or indirectly, by the motor vehicle insurance merit rating board established pursuant to section one hundred and eighty-three of chapter six, to an insurance company doing motor vehicle insurance business within the commonwealth, or to such insurance company's agents, independent contractors or insurance policyholders to be used exclusively for motor vehicle insurance purposes. Notwithstanding the provisions of this section or chapter sixty-six A, the following shall be public records: (1) police daily logs, arrest registers, or other similar records compiled chronologically, provided that no alphabetical arrestee, suspect, or similar index is available to the public, directly or indirectly; (2) chronologically maintained court records of public judicial proceedings, provided that no alphabetical or similar index of criminal defendants is available to the public, directly or indirectly; (3) published records of public court or administrative proceedings, and of public judicial administrative or legislative proceedings; and (4) decisions of the parole board as provided in section one hundred and thirty of chapter one hundred and twenty-seven.

§ 172A. Information Request Fee.

The criminal history systems board shall assess a fee of twenty-five dollars for each request for criminal offender record information; provided, however, that such fees shall not be assessed for such requests from a victim of crime, witness, or family member of a homicide victim, all as defined by section one of chapter two hundred and fifty-eight B, from an individual seeking criminal offender record information pertaining to himself, from a governmental agency, or from such other person or group of persons as the board shall exempt. All such fees shall be deposited in the general fund.

History—
Added by 1990, 319, § 13, approved Dec 14, 1990, effective 90 days thereafter.

§ 172B. Release of Information for Purposes of Evaluating Adoptive or Foster Homes.

Notwithstanding any provision of section one hundred seventy-two of this chapter or of any other provision of law, the following information shall be available to the department of social services and the department of youth services, upon request, for the purpose of evaluating any and all foster homes and adoptive homes, whether with public or private agencies, in order to further the protection of children: conviction data, arrest data, sealed record data, and juvenile arrest or conviction data. The department of social services and the department of youth services shall not make, and shall prohibit, any dissemination of such information, for any purpose other than as set forth herein.

§ 173. Regulations for program research; monitoring; access restricted

The board shall promulgate regulations to govern the use of criminal offender record information for purposes of program research. Such regulations shall require preservation of the anonymity of the individuals to whom such information relates, shall require the completion of nondisclosure agreements by all participants in such programs, and shall impose such additional requirements and conditions as the board finds to be necessary to assure the protection of privacy and security interests.

The board may monitor any such programs to assure their effectiveness. The board may, if it determines that a program's continuance threatens privacy or security interests, prohibit access on behalf of any such program to criminal offender record information.

Added by St.1972, c. 805, § 1.

§ 174. Interstate system for exchange of record information; supervision of participation by state and local agencies; access limited; telecommunications access terminals

The board shall supervise the participation by all state and local agencies in any interstate system for the exchange of criminal offender record information, and shall be responsible to assure the consistency of such participation with the terms and purposes of sections one hundred and sixty-eight to section one hundred and seventy-eight, inclusive.

Direct access to any such system shall be limited to such criminal justice agencies as are expressly designated for that purpose by the board. Where any such system employs telecommunications access terminals, the board shall limit the number and placement of such terminals to those for which adequate security measures may be taken and as to which the board may impose appropriate supervisory regulations.

Added by St.1972, c. 805, § 1.

§ 175. Right of Individual to Inspect and Copy Record Information Concerning Self; Purge, Modification or Supplementation of Record.

[The first paragraph is amended to read as follows:]

Each individual shall have the right to inspect, and if practicable, copy, criminal offender record information which refers to him. If an individual believes such information to be inaccurate or incomplete, he shall request the agency having custody or control of the records to purge, modify or supplement them. If the agency declines to so act, or if the individual believes the agency's decision to be otherwise unsatisfactory, the individual may in writing request review by the board. The board shall in each case in which it finds prima facie basis for complaint, conduct a hearing at which the individual may appear with counsel, present evidence, and examine and cross-examine witnesses. Written findings shall be issued within sixty days of receipt by the board of the request for review. Failure to issue findings shall be deemed a decision of the board. If the record in question is found to be inaccurate, incomplete or misleading, the board shall order that the record be appropriately purged, modified, or supplemented by explanatory notation. Failure of the board to act shall be deemed a decision of the board.

Agencies at which criminal offender records are sought to be inspected shall prescribe reasonable hours and places of inspection, and shall impose such additional restrictions as may be approved by the board, including fingerprinting as are reasonably necessary both to assure the record's security and to verify the identities of those who seek to inspect them.

§ 176. Appeal by Aggrieved Persons or Agencies.

Any individual or agency aggrieved by any order or decision of the board may appeal such order or decision to the superior court in the county in which he is a resident or in which the board issued the order or decision from which the individual or agency appeals. The court shall in each such case conduct a de novo hearing, and may order such relief as it finds equitable.

§ 177. Violations; civil liability

Any aggrieved person may institute a civil action in superior court for damages or to restrain any violation of sections one hundred and sixty-eight to one hundred and seventy-five, inclusive. If it is found in any such action that there has occurred a willful violation, the violator shall not be entitled to claim any privilege absolute or qualified, and he shall in addition to any liability for such actual damages as may be shown, be liable for exemplary damages of not less than one hundred and not more than one thousand dollars for each violation, together with costs and reasonable attorneys' fees and disbursements incurred by the person bringing the action.

§ 178. Penalties.

Any person who willfully requests, obtains or seeks to obtain criminal offender record information under false pretenses, or who willfully communicates or seeks to communicate criminal offender record information to any agency or person except in accordance with the provisions of sections one hundred and sixty-eight to one hundred and seventy-five, inclusive, or any member, officer, employee or agency of the board or any participating agency, or any person connected with any authorized research program, who willfully falsifies criminal offender record information, or any records relating thereto, shall for each offense be fined not more than five thousand dollars, or imprisoned in a jail or house of correction for not more than one year, or both.

§ 178A. Release of Information to Certain Interested Persons.

A victim of crime, witness, or family member of a homicide victim, all as defined by section one of chapter two hundred and fifty-eight B, shall be certified by the board, upon request, to receive criminal offender record information, provided that the request for said information relates to the offense in which such person was involved. Criminal justice agencies may also disclose to such persons such additional information, including but not limited to evaluative information, as such agencies determine, in their discretion, is reasonably necessary for the security and well being of such persons.

History—
Added by 1990, 319, § 17, approved Dec 14, 1990, effective 90 days thereafter.

§ 178B. Restrictions on Dissemination to Terminate on Subject's Death.

The restrictions on the dissemination of criminal offender record information as provided in this chapter shall cease to exist at the death of the individual for whom a criminal justice agency has maintained criminal offender record information.

§ 34. Unlawful possession; particular controlled substances, including heroin and marihuana; prior convictions; criminal penalties; continuance; probation; dismissal; sealing of records

No person knowingly or intentionally shall possess a controlled substance unless such substance was obtained directly, or pursuant to a valid prescription or order, from a practitioner while acting in the course of his professional practice, or except as otherwise authorized by the provisions of this chapter. Except as hereinafter provided, any person who violates this section shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than one year or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any person who violates this section by possessing heroin shall for the first offense be punished by imprisonment in a house of correction for not more than two years or by a fine of not more than two thousand dollars, or both, and for a second or subsequent offense shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than two and one-half years nor more than five years or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars and imprisonment in a jail or house of correction for not more than two and one-half years. Any person who violates this section by possession of marihuana or a controlled substance in Class E of section thirty-one shall be punished by imprisonment in a house of correction for not more than six months or a fine of five hundred dollars, or both. Except for an offense involving a controlled substance in Class E of section thirty-one, whoever violates the provisions of this section after one or more convictions of a violation of this section or of a felony under any other provisions of this chapter, or of a corresponding provision of earlier law relating to the sale or manufacture of a narcotic drug as defined in said earlier law, shall be punished by imprisonment in a house of correction for not more than two years or by a fine of not more than two thousand dollars, or both.

If any person who is charged with a violation of this section has not previously been convicted of a violation of any provision of this chapter or other provision of prior law relative to narcotic drugs or harmful drugs as defined in said prior law, or of a felony under the laws of any state or of the United States relating to such drugs, has had his case continued without a finding to a certain date, or has been convicted and placed on probation, and if, during the period of said continuance or of said probation, such person does not violate any of the conditions of said continuance or said probation, then upon the expiration of such period the court may dismiss the proceedings against him, and may order sealed all official records relating to his arrest, indictment, conviction, probation, continuance or discharge pursuant to this section; provided, however, that departmental records which are not public records, maintained by police and other law enforcement agencies, shall not be sealed; and provided further, that such a record shall be maintained in a separate file by the department of probation solely for the purpose of use by the courts in determining whether or not in subsequent proceedings such person qualifies under this section. The record maintained by the department of probation shall contain only identifying information concerning the person and a statement that he has had his record sealed pursuant to the provisions of this section. Any conviction, the record of which has been sealed under this section, shall not be deemed a conviction for purposes of any disqualification or for any other purpose. No person as to whom such sealing has been ordered shall be held thereafter under any provision of any law to be guilty of perjury or otherwise giving a false statement by reason of his failure to recite or acknowledge such arrest, indictment, conviction, dismissal, continuance, sealing, or any other related proceeding, in response to any inquiry made of him for any purpose.

Notwithstanding any other penalty provision of this section, any person who is convicted for the first time under this section for the possession of marihuana or a controlled substance in Class E and who has not previously been convicted of any offense pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, or any provision of prior law relating to narcotic drugs or harmful drugs as defined in said prior law shall be placed on probation unless such person does not consent thereto, or unless the court files a written memorandum stating the reasons for not so doing. Upon successful completion of said probation, the case shall be dismissed and records shall be sealed.

Police officials shall co-operate with the commissioner and the probation officers in obtaining and reporting information concerning persons on probation. The information so obtained and recorded shall not be regarded as public records and shall not be open for public inspection but shall be accessible to the justices and probation officers of the courts, to the police commissioner for the city of Boston, to all chiefs of police and city marshals, and to such departments of the state and local governments as the commissioner may determine. Upon payment of a fee of three dollars for each search, such records shall be accessible to such departments of the federal government and to such educational and charitable corporations and institutions as the commissioner may determine. The commissioner of correction and the department of youth services shall at all times give to the commissioner and the probation officers such information as may be obtained from the records concerning prisoners under sentence or who have been released. The commissioner may use systems operated by the criminal history systems board, pursuant to sections one hundred sixty-seven to one hundred seventy-eight, inclusive, of chapter six, for any record-keeping lawfully required by him provided that such records remain subject to the regulations of said board. (Amended by 1969, 838, § 63, approved, with emergency preamble, August 28, 1969; by § 74 it takes effect on Oct. 1, 1969, or upon the qualification of the commissioner of youth services appointed under the provisions of § 1 of chapter 18A of the General Laws, whichever is the later; 1972, 805, § 8, approved July 19, 1972, effective 90 days thereafter; 1975, 534, approved August 21, 1975, effective 90 days thereafter.)

§ 100A. Sealing of Certain Criminal Record Files by Commissioner of Probation; Conditions; Exceptions; Effect.

Any person having a record of criminal court appearances and dispositions in the commonwealth on file with the office of the commissioner of probation may, on a form furnished by the commissioner and signed under the penalties of perjury, request that the commissioner seal such file. The commissioner shall comply with such request provided (1) that said person's court appearance and court disposition records, including termination of court supervision, probation or sentence for any misdemeanor occurred not less than ten years prior to said request; (2) that said person's court appearance and court disposition records, including termination of court supervision, probation or sentence for any felony occurred not less than fifteen years prior to said request; (3) that said person had not been found guilty of any criminal offense within the commonwealth in the ten years preceding such request, except motor vehicle offenses in which the penalty does not exceed a fine of fifty dollars; (4) said form includes a statement by the petitioner that he has not been convicted of any criminal offense in any other state, United States possession or in a court of federal jurisdiction, except such motor vehicle offenses, as aforesaid, and has not been imprisoned in any state or county within the preceding ten years; and (5) said person's record does not include convictions of offenses other than those to which this section applies. This section shall apply to court appearances and dispositions of all offenses provided, however, that this section shall not apply in case of convictions for violations of sections one hundred and twenty-one to one hundred and thirty-one H, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and forty or for violations of chapter two hundred and sixty-eight or chapter two hundred and sixty-eight A.

In carrying out the provisions of this section, notwithstanding any laws to the contrary:

1. Any recorded offense which was a felony when committed and has since become a misdemeanor shall be treated as a misdemeanor.

2. Any recorded offense which is no longer a crime shall be eligible for sealing forthwith, except in cases where the elements of the offense continue to be a crime under a different designation.

3. In determining the period for eligibility, any subsequently recorded offenses for which the dispositions are "not guilty", "dismissed for want of prosecution", "dismissed at request of complainant", "nol prossed", or "no bill" shall not be held to interrupt the running of the required period for eligibility.

4. If it cannot be ascertained that a recorded offense was a felony when committed said offense shall be treated as a misdemeanor.

When records of criminal appearances and criminal dispositions are sealed by the commissioner in his files, he shall notify forthwith the clerk and the probation officer of the courts in which the convictions or dispositions have occurred, or other entries have been made, of such sealing, and said clerks and probation officers likewise shall seal records of the same proceedings in their files.

Such sealed records shall not operate to disqualify a person in any examination, appointment or application for public service in the service of the commonwealth or of any political subdivision thereof; nor shall such sealed records be admissible in evidence or used in any way in any court proceedings or hearings before any boards or commissions, except in imposing sentence in subsequent criminal proceedings.

An application for employment used by an employer which seeks information concerning prior arrests or convictions of the applicant shall include the following statement: "An applicant for employment with a sealed record on file with the commissioner of probation may answer 'no record' with respect to an inquiry herein relative to prior arrests, criminal court appearances or convictions. An applicant for employment with a sealed record on file with the commissioner of probation may answer 'no record' to an inquiry herein relative to prior arrests or criminal court appearances. In addition, any applicant for employment may answer 'no record' with respect to any inquiry relative to prior arrests, court appearances and adjudications in all cases of delinquency or as a child in need of services which did not result in a complaint transferred to the superior court for criminal prosecution." The attorney general may enforce the provisions of this paragraph by a suit in equity commenced in the superior court.

The commissioner, in response to inquiries by authorized persons other than any law enforcement agency, any court, or any appointing authority, shall in the case of a sealed record or in the case of court appearances and adjudications in a case of delinquency or the case of a child in need of services which did not result in a complaint transferred to the superior court for criminal prosecution, report that no record exists. (1971, 686, § 1; 1973, 533, §§ 2, 3; 1973, 1102; 1974, 525; 278.)

§ 100B. Sealing of Certain Juvenile Record Files; Conditions; Effect.

Any person having a record of entries of a delinquency court appearance in the commonwealth on file in the office of the commissioner of probation may, on a form furnished by the commissioner, signed under the penalties of perjury, request that the commissioner seal such file. The commissioner shall comply with such request provided (1) that any court appearance or disposition including court supervision, probation, commitment or parole, the records for which are to be sealed, terminated not less than three years prior to said request; (2) that said person has not been adjudicated delinquent or found guilty of any criminal offense within the commonwealth in the three years preceding such request, except motor vehicle offenses in which the penalty does not exceed a fine of fifty dollars nor been imprisoned under sentence or committed as a delinquent within the commonwealth within the preceding three years; and (3) said form includes a statement by the petitioner that he has not been adjudicated delinquent or found guilty of any criminal offense in any other state, United States possession or in a court of federal jurisdiction, except such motor vehicle offenses as aforesaid, and has not been imprisoned under sentence or committed as a delinquent in any state or county within the preceding three years.

When records of delinquency appearances and delinquency dispositions are sealed by the commissioner in his files, the commissioner shall notify forthwith the clerk and the probation officer of the courts in which the adjudications or dispositions have occurred, or other entries have been made, and the department of youth services of such sealing, and said clerks, probation officers, and department of youth services likewise shall seal records of the same proceedings in their files.

Such sealed records of a person shall not operate to disqualify a person in any future examination, appointment or application for public service under the government of the commonwealth or of any political subdivision thereof; nor shall such sealed records be admissible in evidence or used in any way in any court proceedings or hearings before any boards of commissioners, except in imposing sentence for subsequent offenses in delinquency or criminal proceedings.

Notwithstanding any other provision to the contrary, the commissioner shall report such sealed delinquency record to inquiring police and court agencies only as "sealed delinquency record over three years old" and to other authorized persons who may inquire as "no record". The information contained in said sealed delinquency record shall be made available to a judge or probation officer who affirms that such person, whose record has been sealed, has been adjudicated a delinquent or has pleaded guilty or has been found guilty of and is awaiting sentence for a crime committed subsequent to sealing of such record. Said information shall be used only for the purpose of consideration in imposing sentence. (Added by 1972, 404, approved June 8, 1972, effective 90 days thereafter.)

§ 100C. Sealing of Certain Criminal Records; Effect.

In any criminal case wherein the defendant has been found not guilty by the court or jury, or a no bill has been returned by the grand jury, or a finding of no probable cause has been made by the court, the commissioner of probation shall seal said court appearance and disposition recorded in his files and the clerk and the probation officers of the courts in which the proceedings occurred or were initiated shall likewise seal the records of the proceedings in their files. The provisions of this paragraph shall not apply if the defendant makes a written request to the commissioner not to seal the records of the proceedings.

In any criminal case wherein a nolle prosequi has been entered, or a dismissal has been entered by the court, except in cases in which an order of probation has been terminated, and it appears to the court that substantial justice would best be served, the court shall direct the clerk to seal the records of the proceedings in his files. The clerk shall forthwith notify the commissioner of probation and the probation officer of the courts in which the proceedings occurred or were initiated who shall likewise seal the records of the proceedings in their files.

Such sealed records shall not operate to disqualify a person in any examination, appointment or application for public employment in the service of the commonwealth or of any political subdivision thereof.

An application for employment used by an employer which seeks information concerning prior arrests or convictions of the applicant shall include in addition to the statement required under section one hundred A the following statement: "An applicant for employment with a sealed record on file with the commissioner of probation may answer 'no record' with respect to an inquiry herein relative to prior arrests or criminal court appearances." The attorney general may enforce the provisions of this section by a suit in equity commenced in the superior court.

The commissioner, in response to inquiries by authorized persons other than any law enforcement agency or any court, shall in the case of a sealed record report that no record exists. After a finding or verdict of guilty on a subsequent offense such sealed record shall be made available to the probation officer and the same, with the exception of a not guilty, a no bill, or a no probable cause, shall be made available to the court. (Added by 1973, 322, § 1, approved May 29, 1973, effective 90 days thereafter.)

The court may order to be taken the photograph and the aforesaid description and finger prints of a person convicted of a felony who is not committed to a penal institution. All such photographs and identifying matter shall be transmitted forthwith to the commissioner of public safety.

Such rules and regulations shall also provide for the fingerprinting of all licensees. Every person so licensed shall be required to display and wear a badge containing a photograph. Such rules and regulations may also provide for the suspension and revocation of licenses so granted and for the imposition on persons so licensed of reasonable forfeitures and penalties for the violation of any rule or regulation prescribed by the commission and for the use of the proceeds of such penalties and forfeitures.

The commission shall have access to criminal offender record information of applicants for any license granted pursuant to this chapter, including officers, directors and beneficial owners of ten per cent or more of the stock of a corporation applying for such a license, and for applicants for employment by the commission. Such access shall be exercised in accordance with sections one hundred and sixty-seven to one hundred and seventy-eight, inclusive, of chapter six.

Amended by St.1972, c. 217.

Chapter 66

§ 10 Public inspection and copies of records; presumption; exception

(a) Every person having custody of any public record, as defined in clause Twenty-sixth of section seven of chapter four, shall, at reasonable times and without unreasonable delay, permit it, or any segregable portion of a record which is an independent public record, to be inspected and examined by any person, under his supervision, and shall furnish one copy thereof upon payment of a reasonable fee. Every person for whom a search of public records is made shall, at the direction of the person having custody of such records, pay the actual expense of such search. The following fees shall apply to any public record in the custody of the state police, the capitol police, the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority police, the metropolitan district commission police or any municipal police department or fire department: for preparing and mailing a motor vehicle accident report, five dollars for not more than six pages and fifty cents for each additional page; for preparing and mailing a fire insurance report, five dollars for not more than six pages plus fifty cents for each additional page; for preparing and mailing crime, incident or miscellaneous reports, one dollar per page; for furnishing any public record, in hand, to a person requesting such records, fifty cents per page. A page shall be defined as one side of an eight and one-half inch by eleven inch sheet of paper.

(b) A custodian of a public record shall, within ten days following receipt of a request for inspection or copy of a public record, comply with such request. Such request may be delivered in hand to the office of the custodian or mailed via first class mail. If the custodian refuses or fails to comply with such a request, the person making the request may petition the supervisor of records for a determination whether the record requested is public. Upon the determination by the supervisor of records that the record is public, he shall order the custodian of the public record to comply with the person's request. If the custodian refuses or fails to comply with any such order, the supervisor of records may notify the attorney general or the appropriate district attorney thereof who may take whatever measures he deems necessary to insure compliance with the provisions of this section. The administrative remedy provided by this section shall in no way limit the availability of the administrative remedies provided by the commissioner of administration and finance with respect to any officer or employee of any agency, executive office, department or board; nor shall the administrative remedy provided by this section in any way limit the availability of judicial remedies otherwise available to any person requesting a public record. If a custodian of a public record refuses or fails to comply with the request of any person for inspection or copy of a public record or with an administrative order under this section, the supreme judicial or superior court shall have jurisdiction to order compliance.

(c) In any court proceeding pursuant to paragraph (b) there shall be a presumption that the record sought is public, and the burden shall be upon the custodian to prove with specificity the exemption which applies.

The commissioner of public safety and his agents, servants, and attorneys including the keeper of the records of the firearms records bureau of said department, or any licensing authority, as defined by chapter one hundred and forty shall not disclose any records divulging or tending to divulge the names and addresses of persons who own or possess firearms, rifles, shotguns, machine guns and ammunition therefor, as defined in said chapter one hundred and forty and names and addresses of persons licensed to carry and/or possess the same to any person, firm, corporation, entity or agency except criminal justice agencies as defined in chapter six and except to the extent such information relates solely to the person making the request and is necessary to the official interests of the entity making the request.

(d) The clerk of every city or town shall post, in a conspicuous place in the city or town hall in the vicinity of the clerk's office, a brief printed statement that any citizen may, at his discretion, obtain copies of certain public records from local officials for a fee as provided for in this chapter.

The commissioner of public safety and his agents, servants, and attorneys including the keeper of the records of the firearms records bureau of said department, or any licensing authority, as defined by chapter one hundred and forty shall not disclose any records divulging or tending to divulge the names and addresses of persons who own or possess firearms, rifles, shotguns, machine guns and ammunition therefor, as defined in said chapter one hundred and forty and names and addresses of persons licensed to carry and/or possess the same to any person, firm, corporation, entity or agency except criminal justice agencies as defined in chapter six and except to the extent such information relates solely to the person making the request and is necessary to the official interests of the entity making the request.

CHAPTER 66A. FAIR INFORMATION PRACTICES [NEW]

Sec.
1. Definitions.
2. Holders maintaining personal data system; duties.
3. Rules and regulations.

Chapter 66A of the General Laws, consisting of sections 1 to 3, was added by St.1975, c. 776, § 1, approved December 17, 1975, and by section 5 made effective July 1, 1976.

Section 5 of St.1975, c. 776, was amended by St.1976, c. 249, § 3, an emergency act, approved July 16, 1976, to read: "This act shall take effect on July first, nineteen hundred and seventy-six; provided, however, that for nonemployee records maintained by any criminal justice agency this act shall take effect on July first, nineteen hundred and seventy-seven."

§ 1. Definitions

As used in this chapter, the following words shall have the following meanings unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:—

"Agency", any agency of the executive branch of the government, including but not limited to any constitutional or other office, executive office, department, division, bureau, board, commission or committee thereof; or any authority created by the general court to serve a public purpose, having either statewide or local jurisdiction.

"Automated personal data system", a personal data system in which personal data is stored, in whole or in part, in a computer or in electronically controlled or accessible files.

"Computer accessible", recorded on magnetic tape, magnetic film, magnetic disc, magnetic drum, punched card, or optically scannable paper or film.

"Criminal justice agency", an agency at any level of government which performs as its principal function activity relating to (a) the apprehension, prosecution, defense, adjudication, incarceration, or rehabilitation of criminal offenders; or (b) the collection, storage, dissemination, or usage of criminal offender record information.

"Data subject", an individual to whom personal data refers. This term shall not include corporations, corporate trusts, partnerships, limited partnerships, trusts or other similar entities.

"Holder", an agency which collects, uses, maintains or disseminates personal data or any person or entity which contracts or has an arrangement with an agency whereby it holds personal data as part or as a result of performing a governmental or public function or purpose. A holder which is not an agency is a holder, and subject to the provisions of this chapter, only with respect to personal data so held under contract or arrangement with an agency.

"Manual personal data system", a personal data system which is not an automated or other electronically accessible or controlled personal data system.

"Personal data", any information concerning an individual which, because of name, identifying number, mark or description can be readily associated with a particular individual; provided, however, that such information is not contained in a public record, as defined in clause Twenty-sixth of section seven of chapter four and shall not include intelligence information, evaluative information or criminal offender record information as defined in section one hundred and sixty-seven of chapter six.

"Personal data system", a system of records containing personal data, which system is organized such that the data are retrievable by use of the identity of the data subject.

Added by St.1975, c. 776, § 1. Amended by St.1976, c. 249, § 1; St.1977, c. 601, § 6.

§ 2. Holders maintaining personal data system; duties

Every holder maintaining personal data shall:—

(a) identify one individual immediately responsible for the personal data system who shall insure that the requirements of this chapter for preventing access to or dissemination of personal data are followed;

(b) inform each of its employees having any responsibility or function in the design, development, operation, or maintenance of the personal data system, or the use of any personal data contained therein, of each safeguard required by this chapter, of each rule and regulation promulgated pursuant to section three which pertains to the operation of the personal data system, and of the civil remedies described in section three B of chapter two hundred and fourteen available to individuals whose rights under chapter sixty-six A are allegedly violated;

(c) not allow any other agency or individual not employed by the holder to have access to personal data unless such access is authorized by statute or regulations which are consistent with the purposes of this chapter or is approved by the data subject whose personal data are sought if the data subject is entitled to access under clause (i). Medical or psychiatric data may be made available to a physician treating a data subject upon the request of said physician, if a medical or psychiatric emergency arises which precludes the data subject's giving approval for the release of such data, but the data subject shall be given notice of such access upon termination of the emergency. A holder shall provide lists of names and addresses of applicants for professional licenses and lists of professional licensees to associations or educational organizations recognized by the appropriate professional licensing or examination board. A holder shall comply with a data subject's request to disseminate his data to a third person if practicable and upon payment, if necessary, of a reasonable fee;

(d) take reasonable precautions to protect personal data from dangers of fire, theft, flood, natural disaster, or other physical threat;

(e) comply with the notice requirements set forth in section sixty-three of chapter thirty;.

(f) in the case of data held in automated personal data systems, and to the extent feasible with data held in manual personal data systems, maintain a complete and accurate record of every access to and every use of any personal data by persons or organizations outside of or other than the holder of the data, including the identity of all such persons and organizations which have gained access to the personal data and their intended use of such data and the holder need not record any such access of its employees acting within their official duties;

(g) to the extent that such material is maintained pursuant to this section, make available to a data subject upon his request in a form comprehensible to him, a list of the uses made of his personal data, including the identity of all persons and organizations which have gained access to the data;

(h) maintain personal data with such accuracy, completeness, timeliness, pertinance and relevance as is necessary to assure fair determination of a data subject's qualifications, character, rights, opportunities, or benefits when such determinations are based upon such data;

(i) inform in writing an individual, upon his request, whether he is a data subject, and if so, make such data fully available to him or his authorized representative, upon his request, in a form comprehensible to him, unless doing so is prohibited by this clause or any other statute. A holder may withhold from a data subject for the period hereinafter set forth, information which is currently the subject of an investigation and the disclosure of which would probably so prejudice the possibility of effective law enforcement that such disclosure would not be in the public interest, but this sentence is not intended in any way to derogate from any right or power of access the data subject might have under administrative or judicial discovery procedures. Such information may be withheld for the time it takes for the holder to complete its investigation and commence an administrative or judicial proceeding on its basis, or one year from the commencement of the investigation or whichever occurs first. In making any disclosure of information to a data subject pursuant to this chapter the holder may remove personal identifiers relating to a third person, except where such third person is an officer or employee of government acting as such and the data subject is not. No holder shall rely on any exception contained in clause Twenty-sixth of section seven of chapter four to withhold from any data subject personal data otherwise accessible to him under this chapter.

(j) establish procedures that (1) allow each data subject or his duly authorized representative to contest the accuracy, completeness, pertinence, timeliness, relevance or dissemination of his personal data or the denial of access to such data maintained in the personal data system and (2) permit personal data to be corrected or amended when the data subject or his duly authorized representative so requests and there is no disagreement concerning the change to be made or, when there is disagreement with the data subject as to whether a change should be made, assure that the data subject's claim is noted and included as part of the data subject's personal data and included in any subsequent disclosure or dissemination of the disputed data;

(k) maintain procedures to ensure that no personal data are made available in response to a demand for data made by means of compulsory legal process, unless the data subject has been notified of such demand in reasonable time that he may seek to have the process quashed;

(l) not collect or maintain more personal data than are reasonably necessary for the performance of the holder's statutory functions.

Added by St.1975, c. 776, § 1. Amended by St.1976, c. 240, § 2; St.1977, c. 691, §§ 7 to 12.

§ 3. Rules and regulations

The secretary of each executive office shall promulgate rules and regulations to carry out the purposes of this chapter which shall be applicable to all agencies, departments, boards, commissions, authorities, and instrumentalities within each of said executive offices subject to the approval of the commissioner of administration. The department of community affairs shall promulgate rules and regulations to carry out the purposes of this chapter which shall be applicable to local housing and redevelopment authorities of the cities and towns. Any agency not within any such executive office shall be subject to the regulations of the commissioner of administration. The attorney general, the state secretary, the state treasurer and the state auditor shall adopt applicable regulations for their respective departments.

Chapter 15

Public Officers and Employees
Freedom of Information Act

15.231 Short title; public policy.

Sec. 1. (1) This act shall be known and may be cited as the "freedom of information act".

(2) It is the public policy of this state that all persons are entitled to full and complete information regarding the affairs of government and the official acts of those who represent them as public officials and public employees, consistent with this act. The people shall be informed so that they may fully participate in the democratic process.

15.232 Definitions.

Sec. 2. As used in this act:

(a) "Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, firm, organization, or association.

(b) "Public body" means:

(i) A state officer, employee, agency, department, division, bureau, board, commission, council, authority, or other body in the executive branch of the state government, but does not include the governor or lieutenant governor, the executive office of the governor or lieutenant governor, or employees thereof.

(ii) An agency, board, commission, or council in the legislative branch of the state government.

(iii) A county, city, township, village, intercounty, intercity, or regional governing body, council, school district, special district, or municipal corporation, or a board, department, commission, council, or agency thereof.

(iv) Any other body which is created by state or local authority or which is primarily funded by or through state or local authority.

(v) The judiciary, including the office of the county clerk and employees thereof when acting in the capacity of clerk to the circuit court, is not included in the definition of public body.

(c) "Public record" means a writing prepared, owned, used, in the possession of, or retained by a public body in the performance of an official function, from the time it is created. This act separates public records into 2 classes: (i) those which are exempt from disclosure under section 13, and (ii) all others, which shall be subject to disclosure under this act.

(d) "Unusual circumstances" means any 1 or a combination of the following, but only to the extent necessary for the proper processing of a request:

(i) The need to search for, collect, or appropriately examine or review a voluminous amount of separate and distinct public records pursuant to a single request.

(ii) The need to collect the requested public records from numerous field offices, facilities, or other establishments which are located apart from the particular office receiving or processing the request.

(e) "Writing" means handwriting, typewriting, printing, photostating, photographing, photocopying, and every other means of recording, and includes letters, words, pictures, sounds, or symbols, or combinations thereof, and papers, maps, magnetic or paper tapes, photographic films or prints, microfilm, microfiche, magnetic or punched cards, discs, drums, or other means of recording or retaining meaningful content.

15.233 Public records; right to inspect, copy, or receive; subscriptions; inspection and examination; memoranda or abstracts; rules; compilation, summary, or report of information; creation of new public record; certified copies.

Sec. 3. (1) Upon an oral or written request which describes the public record sufficiently to enable the public body to find the public record, a person has a right to inspect, copy, or receive copies of a public record of a public body, except as otherwise expressly provided by section 13. A person has a right to subscribe to future issuances of public records which are created, issued, or disseminated on a regular basis. A subscription shall be valid for up to 6 months, at the request of the subscriber, and shall be renewable.

(2) A public body shall furnish a requesting person a reasonable opportunity for inspection and examination of its public records, and shall furnish reasonable facilities for making memoranda or abstracts from its public records during the usual business hours. A public body may make reasonable rules necessary to protect its public records and to prevent excessive and unreasonable interference with the discharge of its functions.

(3) This act does not require a public body to make a compilation, summary, or report of information, except as required in section 11.

This act does not require a public body to create a new public record, except as required in sections 5 and 11, and to the extent required by this act for the furnishing of copies, or edited copies pursuant to section 14(1), of an already existing public record.

(5) The custodian of a public record shall, upon request, furnish a requesting person a certified copy of a public record.

15.234 Fees; waiver or reduction; affidavit; deposit; calculation of costs; provisions inapplicable to certain public records; review by bipartisan joint committee; appointment of members.

Sec. 4. (1) A public body may charge a fee for providing a copy of a public record. Subject to subsection (3), the fee shall be limited to actual mailing costs, and to the actual incremental cost of duplication or publication including labor, the cost of search, examination, review, and the deletion and separation of exempt from nonexempt information as provided in section 14. Copies of public records may be furnished without charge or at a reduced charge if the public body determines that a waiver or reduction of the fee is in the public interest because furnishing copies of the public record can be considered as primarily benefiting the general public. A copy of a public record shall be furnished without charge for the first $20.00 of the fee for each request, to an individual who submits an affidavit stating that the individual is then receiving public assistance or, if not receiving public assistance, stating facts showing inability to pay the cost because of indigency.

(2) At the time the request is made, a public body may request a good faith deposit from the person requesting the public record or series of public records, if the fee provided in subsection (1) exceeds $50.00. The deposit shall not exceed ½ of the total fee.

(3) In calculating the costs under subsection (1), a public body may not attribute more than the hourly wage of the lowest paid, full-time, permanent clerical employee of the employing public body to the cost of labor incurred in duplication and mailing and to the cost of examination, review, separation, and deletion. A public body shall utilize the most economical means available for providing copies of public records. A fee shall not be charged for the cost of search, examination, review, and the deletion and separation of exempt from nonexempt information as provided in section 14 unless failure to charge a fee would result in unreasonably high costs to the public body because of the nature of the request in the particular instance, and the public body specifically identifies the nature of these unreasonably high costs. A public body shall establish and publish procedures, and guidelines to implement this subsection.

(4) This section does not apply to public records prepared under an act or statute specifically authorizing the sale of those public records to the public, or where the amount of the fee for providing a copy of the public record is otherwise specifically provided by an act or statute.

(5) Three years after the effective date of this act a bipartisan joint committee of 5 members of each house shall review the operation of this section and recommend appropriate changes. The members of the house of representatives shall be appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives. The members of the senate shall be appointed by the majority leader of the senate.

15.235 Request to inspect or receive copy of public record; response to request; failure to respond; court order to disclose or provide copies; damages; contents of notice denying request; signing notice of denial; notice extending period of response; grounds for commencement of action.

Sec. 5. (1) A person desiring to inspect or receive a copy of a public record may make an oral or written request for the public record to the public body.

(2) When a public body receives a request for a public record it shall immediately, but not more than 5 business days after the day the request is received unless otherwise agreed to in writing by the person making the request, respond to the request by 1 of the following:

(a) Grant the request.

(b) Issue a written notice to the requesting person denying the request.

(c) Grant the request in part and issue a written notice to the requesting person denying the request in part.

(d) Under unusual circumstances, issue a notice extending for not more than 10 business days the period during which the public body shall respond to the request. A public body shall not issue more than 1 notice of extension for a particular request.

(3) Failure to respond to a request as provided in subsection (2) constitutes a final decision by the public body to deny the request. If a circuit court, upon an action commenced pursuant to section 10, finds that a public body has failed to respond as provided in subsection (2), and if the court orders the public body to disclose or provide copies of the public record or a portion thereof, then the circuit court shall assess damages against the public body as provided in section 10(3).

(4) A written notice denying a request for a public record in whole or in part shall constitute a final determination by the public body to deny the request or portion thereof and shall contain:

(a) An explanation of the basis under this act or other statute for the determination that the public record, or the portion thereof, is exempt from disclosure, if that is the reason for denying the request or a portion thereof.

(b) A certificate that the public record does not exist under the name given by the requester or by another name reasonably known to the public body, if that is the reason for denying the request or a portion thereof.

(c) A description of a public record or information on a public record which is separated or deleted as provided in section 14, if a separation or deletion is made.

(d) A full explanation of the requesting person's right to seek judicial review under section 10. Notification of the right to judicial review shall include notification of the right to receive attorneys' fees and damages as provided in section 10.

(5) The individual designated in section 6 as responsible for the denial of the request shall sign the written notice of denial.

(6) If a public body issues a notice extending the period for a response to the request, the notice shall set forth the reasons for the extension and the date by which the public body shall do 1 of the following:

(a) Grant the request.

(b) Issue a written notice to the requesting person denying the request.

(c) Grant the request in part and issue a written notice to the requesting person denying the request in part.

(7) If a public body makes a final determination to deny in whole or in part a request to inspect or receive a copy of a public record or portion thereof, the requesting person may commence an action in circuit court, as provided in section 10.

15.236 Persons responsible for approving denial of request for public record.

Sec. 6. (1) For a public body which is a city, village, township, county, or state department, or under the control thereof, the chief administrative officer of that city, village, township, county, or state department, or an individual designated in writing by that chief administrative officer, shall be responsible for approving a denial under section 5(4) and (5). In a county not having an executive form of government, the chairperson of the county board of commissioners shall be considered the chief administrative officer for purposes of this subsection.

(2) For all other public bodies, the chief administrative officer of the respective public body, or an individual designated in writing by that chief administrative officer, shall be responsible for approving a denial under section 5(4) and (5).

15.240 Action to compel disclosure of public records; commencement; orders; jurisdiction; de novo proceeding; burden of proof; private view of public record; contempt; assignment of action or appeal for hearing, trial, or argument; attorneys' fees, costs, and disbursements; assessment of award; damages.

Sec. 10. (1) If a public body makes a final determination to deny a request or a portion thereof, the requesting person may commence an action in the circuit court to compel disclosure of the public records. If the court determines that the public records are not exempt from disclosure, the court shall order the public body to cease withholding or to produce a public record or a portion thereof wrongfully withheld, regardless of the location of the public record. The circuit court for the county in which the complainant resides or has his principal place of business, or the circuit court for the county in which the public record or an office of the public body is located shall have jurisdiction to issue the order. The court shall determine the matter de novo and the burden is on the public body to sustain its denial. The court, on its own motion, may view the public record in controversy in private before reaching a decision. Failure to comply with an order of the court may be punished as contempt of court.

(2) An action under this section arising from the denial of an oral request may not be commenced unless the requesting person confirms the oral request in writing not less than 5 days before commencement of the action.

(3) An action commenced pursuant to this section and appeals therefrom shall be assigned for hearing and trial or for argument at the earliest practicable date and expedited in every way.

(4) If a person asserting the right to inspect or to receive a copy of a public record or a portion thereof prevails in an action commenced pursuant to this section, the court shall award reasonable attorneys' fees, costs, and disbursements. If the person prevails in part, the court may in its discretion award reasonable attorneys' fees, costs, and disbursements or an appropriate portion thereof. The award shall be assessed against the public body liable for damages under subsection (5).

(5) In an action commenced pursuant to this section, if the circuit court finds that the public body has arbitrarily and capriciously violated this act by refusal or delay in disclosing or providing copies of a public record, the court shall, in addition to any actual or compensatory damages, award punitive damages in the amount of $500.00 to the person seeking the right to inspect or receive a copy of a public record. The damages shall not be assessed against an individual, but shall be assessed against the next succeeding public body, not an individual, pursuant to whose public function the public record was kept or maintained.

15.241 Matters required to be published and made available by state agencies; form of publications; effect on person of matter not published and made available; exception; action to compel compliance by state agency; order; attorneys' fees, costs, and disbursements; jurisdiction; definitions.

Sec. 11. (1) A state agency shall publish and make available to the public all of the following:

(a) Final orders or decisions in contested cases and the records on which they were made.

(b) Promulgated rules.

(c) Other written statements which implement or interpret laws, rules, or policy, including but not limited to guidelines, manuals, and forms with instructions, adopted or used by the agency in the discharge of its functions.

(2) Publications may be in pamphlet, loose-leaf, or other appropriate form in printed, mimeographed, or other written matter.

(3) Except to the extent that a person has actual and timely notice of the terms thereof, a person shall not in any manner be required to resort to, or be adversely affected by, a matter required to be published and made available, if the matter is not so published and made available.

(4) This section does not apply to public records which are exempt from disclosure under section 13.

(5) A person may commence an action in the circuit court to compel a state agency to comply with this section. If the court determines that the state agency has failed to comply, the court shall order the state agency to comply and shall award reasonable attorneys' fees, costs, and disbursements to the person commencing the action. The circuit court for the county in which the state agency is located shall have jurisdiction to issue the order.

(6) As used in this section, "state agency", "contested case", and "rules" shall have the same meanings as ascribed to those terms in Act No. 306 of the Public Acts of 1969, as amended, being sections 24.201 to 24.315 of the Michigan Compiled Laws.

15.243 Exemptions from disclosure; withholding of information.

Sec. 13. (1) A public body may exempt from disclosure as a public record under this act:

(a) Information of a personal nature where the public disclosure of the information would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of an individual's privacy.

(b) Investigating records compiled for law enforcement purposes, but only to the extent that disclosure as a public record would do any of the following:

(i) Interfere with law enforcement proceedings.

(ii) Deprive a person of the right to a fair trial or impartial administrative adjudication.

(iii) Constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

(iv) Disclose the identity of a confidential source, or if the record is compiled by a criminal law enforcement agency in the course of a criminal investigation, disclose confidential information furnished only by a confidential source.

(v) Disclose law enforcement investigative techniques or procedures.

(vi) Endanger the life or physical safety of law enforcement personnel.

(c) A public record which if disclosed would prejudice a public body's ability to maintain the physical security of custodial or penal institutions occupied by persons arrested or convicted of a crime or admitted because of a mental disability, unless the public interest in disclosure under this act outweighs the public interest in nondisclosure.

(d) Records or information specifically described and exempted from disclosure by statute.

(e) Information the release of which would prevent the public body from complying with 20 U.S.C. section 1232g.

(f) A public record or information described in this section which is furnished by the public body originally compiling, preparing, or receiving the record or information to a public officer or public body in connection with the performance of the duties of that public officer or public body, if the considerations originally giving rise to the exempt nature of the public record remain applicable.

(g) Trade secrets or commercial or financial information voluntarily provided to an agency for use in developing governmental policy if:

(i) The information is submitted upon a promise of confidentiality by the public body.

(ii) The promise of confidentiality is authorized by the chief administrative officer of the public body or by an elected official at the time the promise is made.

(iii) A description of the information is recorded by the public body within a reasonable time after it has been submitted, maintained in a central place within the public body, and made available to a person upon request. This subdivision shall not apply to information submitted as required by law or as a condition of receiving a governmental contract, license, or other benefit.

(h) Information or records subject to the attorney-client privilege.

(i) Information or records subject to the physician-patient, psychologist-patient, minister, priest or Christian science practitioner, or other privilege recognized by statute or court rule.

(j) A bid or proposal by a person to enter into a contract or agreement, until the time for the public opening of bids or proposals, or if a public opening is not to be conducted, until the time for the receipt of bids or proposals has expired.

(k) Appraisals of real property to be acquired by the public body until (i) an agreement is entered into; or (ii) 3 years has elapsed since the making of the appraisal, unless litigation relative to the acquisition has not yet terminated.

(l) Test questions and answers, scoring keys, and other examination instruments or data used to administer a license, public employment, or academic examination, unless the public interest in disclosure under this act outweighs the public interest in nondisclosure.

(m) Medical, counseling, or psychological facts or evaluations concerning an individual if the individual's identity would be revealed by a disclosure of those facts or evaluation.

(n) Communications and notes within a public body or between public bodies of an advisory nature to the extent that they cover other than purely factual materials and are preliminary to a final agency determination of policy or action. This exemption shall not apply unless the public body shows that in the particular instance the public interest in encouraging frank communications between officials and employees of public bodies clearly outweighs the public interest in disclosure. This exemption does not constitute an exemption under state law for purposes of section 8(h) of Act No. 267 of the Public Acts of 1976, being section 15.268 of the Michigan Compiled Laws. As used in this subdivision, "determination of policy or action" includes a determination relating to collective bargaining, unless the public record is otherwise required to be made available under Act No. 336 of the Public Acts of 1947, as amended, being sections 423.201 to 423.216 of the Michigan Compiled Laws.

(o) Records of law enforcement communication codes, or plans for deployment of law enforcement personnel, which if disclosed would prejudice a public body's ability to protect the public safety unless the public interest in disclosure under this act outweighs the public interest in nondisclosure in the particular instance.

(p) Information which would reveal the exact location of archeological sites. The secretary of state may promulgate rules pursuant to Act No. 306 of the Public Acts of 1969, as amended, being sections 24.201 to 24.315 of the Michigan Compiled Laws, to provide for the disclosure of the location of archeological sites for purposes relating to the preservation or scientific examination of sites.

(q) Testing data developed by a public body in determining whether bidders' products meet the specifications for purchase of those products by the public body, if disclosure of the data would reveal that only 1 bidder has met the specifications. This subdivision shall not apply after 1 year has elapsed from the time the public body completes the testing.

(r) Academic transcripts of an institution of higher education established under sections 5, 6 or 7 of article 8 of the state constitution of 1963, where the record pertains to a student who is delinquent in the payment of financial obligations to the institution.

(s) Records of any campaign committee including any committee that receives monies from a state campaign fund.

(t) Unless the public interest in disclosure outweighs the public interest in nondisclosure in the particular instance, public records of a police or sheriff's agency or department, the release of which would do any of the following:

(i) Identify or provide a means of identifying an informer.

(ii) Identify or provide a means of identifying a law enforcement undercover officer or agent or a plain clothes officer as a law enforcement officer or agent.

(iii) Disclose the personal address or telephone number of law enforcement officers or agents or any special skills that they may have.

(iv) Disclose the name, address, or telephone numbers of family members, relatives, children, or parents of law enforcement officers or agents.

(v) Disclose operational instructions for law enforcement officers or agents.

(vi) Reveal the contents of staff manuals provided for law enforcement officers or agents.

(vii) Endanger the life or safety of law enforcement officers or agents or their families, relatives, children, parents, or those who furnish information to law enforcement departments or agencies.

(viii) Identify or provide a means of identifying a person as a law enforcement officer, agent, or informer.

(ix) Disclose personnel records of law enforcement agencies.

(x) Identify or provide a means of identifying residences which law enforcement agencies are requested to check in the absence of their owners or tenants.

(2) This act shall not authorize the withholding of information otherwise required by law to be made available to the public, or to a party in a contested case under Act No. 306 of the Public Acts of 1969, as amended.

15.243a Salary records of employee or other official of institution of higher education, school district, intermediate school district, or community college available to public on request.

Sec. 13a. Notwithstanding section 13, an institution of higher education established under section 5, 6, or 7 of article 8 of the state constitution of 1963; a school district as defined in section 6 of Act No. 451 of the Public Acts of 1976, being section 380.6 of the Michigan Compiled Laws; an intermediate school district as defined in section 4 of Act No. 451 of the Public Acts of 1976, being section 380.4 of the Michigan Compiled Laws; or a community college established under Act No. 331 of the Public Acts of 1966, as amended, being sections 389.1 to 389.195 of the Michigan Compiled Laws shall upon request make available to the public the salary records of an employee or other official of the institution of higher education, school district, intermediate school district, or community college.

15.244 Separation of exempt and nonexempt material; design of public record; description of material exempted.

Sec. 14. (1) If a public record contains material which is not exempt under section 13, as well as material which is exempt from disclosure under section 13, the public body shall separate the exempt and nonexempt material and make the nonexempt material available for examination and copying.

(2) When designing a public record, a public body shall, to the extent practicable, facilitate a separation of exempt from nonexempt information. If the separation is readily apparent to a person requesting to inspect or receive copies of the form, the public body shall generally describe the material exempted unless that description would reveal the contents of the exempt information and thus defeat the purpose of the exemption.

15.245 Repeal of §§ 24.221, 24.222, and 24.223.

Sec. 15. Sections 21, 22 and 23 of Act No. 306 of the Public Acts of 1969, as amended, being sections 24.221, 24.222 and 24.223 of the Michigan Compiled Laws, are repealed.

15.246 Effective date.

Sec. 16. This act shall take effect 90 days after being signed by the governor.

Chapter 37

Sec. 205a. (1)[1] An employer, employment agency, or labor organization, other than a law enforcement agency of the state or a political subdivision of the state, shall not in connection with an application for employment, personnel, or membership, or in connection with the terms, conditions, or privileges or employment, personnel, or membership request, make, or maintain a record of information regarding an arrest, detention, or disposition of a violation of law in which a conviction did not result. A person shall not be held guilty of perjury or otherwise giving a false statement by failing to recite or acknowledge information the person has a civil right to withhold by this section. Chapter 333

Health - Public Health Code

Part 74. Offenses and Penalties

333.7411. Probation without judgment of guilt; violation of probation; discharge and dismissal; instruction or program on drug misuse

Sec. 7411. (1) When an individual who has not previously been convicted of an offense under this article or under any statute of the United States or of any state relating to narcotic drugs, coca leaves, marihuana, or stimulant, depressant, or hallucinogenic drugs, pleads guilty to or is found guilty of possession of a controlled substance under section 7403(2)(a)(iv), (b), (c), or (d),[1] or of use of a controlled substance under section 7404,[2] or possession or use of an imitation controlled substance under section 7341[3] for a second time, the court, without entering a judgment of guilt with the consent of the accused, may defer further proceedings and place the individual on probation upon terms and conditions. Upon violation of a term or condition, the court may enter an adjudication of guilt and proceed as otherwise provided. Upon fulfillment of the terms and conditions, the court shall discharge the individual and dismiss the proceedings. Discharge and dismissal under this section shall be without adjudication of guilt and is not a conviction for purposes of this section or for purposes of disqualifications or disabilities imposed by law upon conviction of a crime, including the additional penalties imposed for second or subsequent convictions under section 7413.[4] There may be only 1 discharge and dismissal under this section as to an individual. The records and identifications division of the department of state police shall retain a nonpublic record of an arrest and discharge or dismissal under this section. This record shall be furnished to a court or police agency upon request for the purpose of showing that a defendant in a criminal action involving the possession or use of a controlled substance, or an imitation controlled substance as defined in section 7341, covered in this article has already once utilized this section. For purposes of this section, a person subjected to a civil fine for a first violation of section 7341(4)[5] shall not be considered to have previously been convicted of an offense under this article.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (3), if an individual is convicted of a violation of this article, other than a violation of section 7401(2)(a)(i) to (iii) or section 7403(2)(a)(i) to (iii),[6] the court as part of the sentence, during the period of confinement or the period of probation, or both, may require the individual to attend a course of instruction or rehabilitation program approved by the department on the medical, psychological, and social effects of the misuse of drugs. The court may order the individual to pay a fee, as approved by the director, for the instruction or program. Failure to complete the instruction or program shall be considered a violation of the terms of probation.

(3) If an individual is convicted of a second violation of section 7341(4), before imposing sentence under subsection (1), the court shall order the person to undergo screening and assessment by a person or agency designated by the office of substance abuse services, to determine whether the person is likely to benefit from rehabilitative services, including alcohol or drug education and alcohol or drug treatment programs. As part of the sentence imposed under subsection (1), the court may order the person to participate in and successfully complete 1 or more appropriate rehabilitative programs. The person shall pay for the costs of the screening, assessment, and rehabilitative services. Failure to complete a program shall be considered a violation of the terms of the probation.

Amended by P.A.1984, No. 347, § 1, Eff. March 29, 1985.

750.350a Taking or retaining child by adoptive or natural parent; intent; violation as felony; penalty; restitution for financial expense; effect of pleading or being found guilty; probation; discharge and dismissal; nonpublic record; defense. [M.S.A. 28.582(1)]

Sec. 350a. (1) An adoptive or natural parent of a child shall not take that child, or retain that child for more than 24 hours, with the intent to detain or conceal the child from any other parent or legal guardian of the child who has custody or visitation rights pursuant to a lawful court order at the time of the taking or retention, or from the person or persons who have adopted the child, or from any other person having lawful charge of the child at the time of the taking or retention.

(2) A person who violates subsection (1) is guilty of a felony, punishable by imprisonment for not more than 1 year and 1 day, or a fine of not more than $2,000.00, or both.

(3) A person who violates this section, upon conviction, in addition to any other punishment, may be ordered to make restitution to the other parent, legal guardian, the person or persons who have adopted the child, or any other person having lawful charge of the child for any financial expense incurred as a result of attempting to locate and having the child returned.

Full convenience and comprehensive accessibility shall be allowed to researchers including historians, genealogists and other scholars to carry out extensive research and complete copying of all records containing government data except as otherwise expressly provided by law.

A responsible authority may designate one or more designees.

Subd. 4. Change in classification of data. The classification of data in the possession of an agency shall change if it is required to do so to comply with either judicial or administrative rules pertaining to the conduct of legal actions or with a

This requirement shall not apply when an individual is asked to supply investigative data to a law enforcement officer.

Subd. 3. Access to data by individual. Upon request to a responsible authority, an individual shall be informed whether he is the subject of stored data on individuals, and whether it is classified as public, private or confidential. Upon his further request, an individual who is the subject of stored private or public data on individuals shall be shown the data without any charge to him and, if he desires, shall be informed of the content and meaning of that data. After an individual has been shown the private data and informed of its meaning, the data need not be disclosed to him for six months thereafter unless a dispute or action pursuant to this section is pending or additional data on the individual has been collected or created. The responsible authority shall provide copies of the private or public data upon request by the individual subject of the data. The responsible authority may require the requesting person to pay the actual costs of making, certifying, and compiling the copies.

The responsible authority shall comply immediately, if possible, with any request made pursuant to this subdivision, or within five days of the date of the request, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays, if immediate compliance is not possible. The responsible authority shall within 30 days either: (a) correct the data found to be inaccurate or incomplete and attempt to notify past recipients of inaccurate or incomplete data, including recipients named by the individual; or (b) notify the individual that he believes the data to be correct. Data in dispute shall be disclosed only if the individual's statement of disagreement is included with the disclosed data.

The determination of the responsible authority may be appealed pursuant to the provisions of the administrative procedure act relating to contested cases.

13.05 DUTIES OF RESPONSIBLE AUTHORITY.

Subdivision 1. Public document of data categories. The responsible authority shall prepare a public document containing his name, title and address, and a description of each category of record, file, or process relating to private or confidential data on individuals maintained by his state agency, statewide system, or political subdivision. Forms used to collect private and confidential data shall be included in the public document. Beginning August 1, 1977 and annually thereafter, the responsible authority shall update the public document and make any changes necessary to maintain the accuracy of the document. The document shall be available from the responsible authority to the public in accordance with the provisions of sections 13.03 and 15.17.

Subd. 2. Copies to commissioner. The commissioner may require responsible authorities to submit copies of the public document required in subdivision 1, and may request additional information relevant to data collection practices, policies and procedures.

Subd. 3. General standards for collection and storage. Collection and storage of public, private or confidential data on individuals and use and dissemination of private and confidential data on individuals shall be limited to that necessary for the administration and management of programs specifically authorized by the legislature, local governing body or mandated by the federal government.

Subd. 4. Limitations on collection and use of data. Private or confidential data on an individual shall not be collected, stored, used or disseminated by political subdivisions, statewide systems or state agencies for any purposes other than those stated to the individual at the time of collection in accordance with section 13.04, except as provided in this subdivision.

(a) Data collected prior to August 1, 1975, and which have not been treated as public data, may be used, stored, and disseminated for the purposes for which the data was originally collected or for purposes which are specifically approved by the commissioner as necessary to public health, safety, or welfare.

(b) Private or confidential data may be used and disseminated to individuals or agencies specifically authorized access to that data by state, local, or federal law subsequent to the collection of the data.

(c) Private or confidential data may be used and disseminated to individuals or agencies subsequent to the collection of the data when the responsible authority maintaining the data has requested approval for a new or different use or dissemination of the data and that request has been specifically approved by the commissioner as necessary to carry out a function assigned by law.

(d) Private data may be used by and disseminated to any person or agency if the individual subject or subjects of the data have given their informed consent. Whether a data subject has given informed consent shall be determined by rules of the commissioner. Informed consent shall not be deemed to have been given by an individual subject of the data by the signing of any statement authorizing any person or agency to disclose information about him or her to an insurer or its authorized representative, unless the statement is:

(1) In plain language;

(2) Dated;

(3) Specific in designating the particular persons or agencies the data subject is authorizing to disclose information about him or her;

(4) Specific as to the nature of the information he or she is authorizing to be disclosed;

(5) Specific as to the persons or agencies to whom he or she is authorizing information to be disclosed;

(6) Specific as to the purpose or purposes for which the information may be used by any of the parties named in clause (5), both at the time of the disclosure and at any time in the future;

(7) Specific as to its expiration date which should be within a reasonable period of time, not to exceed one year except in the case of authorizations given in connection with applications for life insurance or noncancelable or guaranteed renewable health insurance and identified as such, two years after the date of the policy.

Subd. 5. Data protection. The responsible authority shall (1) establish procedures to assure that all data on individuals is accurate, complete, and current for the purposes for which it was collected; and (2) establish appropriate security safeguards for all records containing data on individuals.

Subd. 6. Contracts. Except as provided in section 13.46, subdivision 5, in any contract between a governmental unit subject to this chapter and any person, when the contract requires that data on individuals be made available to the contracting parties by the governmental unit, that data shall be administered consistent with this chapter. A contracting party shall maintain the data on individuals which it received according to the statutory provisions applicable to the data.

Subd. 7. Preparation of summary data. The use of summary data derived from private or confidential data on individuals under the jurisdiction of one or more responsible authorities shall be permitted. Unless classified pursuant to section 13.06, summary data is public. The responsible authority shall prepare summary data from private or confidential data on individuals upon the request of any person, provided that the request is in writing and the cost of preparing the summary data is borne by the requesting person. The responsible authority may delegate the power to prepare summary data (1) to the administrative officer responsible for any central repository of summary data; or (2) to a person outside of its agency if the person, in writing, sets forth his purpose and agrees not to disclose, and the agency reasonably determines that the access will not compromise private or confidential data on individuals.

Subd. 8. Publication of access procedures. The responsible authority shall prepare a public document setting forth in writing the rights of the data subject pursuant to section 13.04 and the specific procedures in effect in the state agency, statewide system or political subdivision for access by the data subject to public or private data on individuals.

Subd. 9. Intergovernmental access of data. A responsible authority shall allow another responsible authority access to data classified as not public only when the access is authorized or required by statute or federal law. An agency that supplies government data under this subdivision may require the requesting agency to pay the actual cost of supplying the data.

Data shall have the same classification in the hands of the agency receiving it as it had in the agency providing it.

Subd. 10. International dissemination prohibited. No state agency or political subdivision shall transfer or disseminate any private or confidential data on individuals to the private international organization known as Interpol.

13.06 TEMPORARY CLASSIFICATION.

Subdivision 1. Application to commissioner. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 13.03, the responsible authority of a state agency, political subdivision or statewide system may apply to the commissioner for permission to classify data or types of data on individuals as private or confidential, or data not on individuals as non-public or protected non-public, for its own use and for the use of other similar agencies, political subdivisions or statewide systems on a temporary basis until a proposed statute can be acted upon by the legislature. The application for temporary classification is public.

Upon the filing of an application for temporary classification, the data which is the subject of the application shall be deemed to be classified as set forth in the application for a period of 45 days, or until the application is disapproved or granted by the commissioner, whichever is earlier.

Subd. 2. Contents of application for private or confidential data. An application for temporary classification of data on individuals shall include and the applicant shall have the burden of clearly establishing that no statute currently exists which either allows or forbids classification as private or confidential; and either

(a) That data similar to that for which the temporary classification is sought has been treated as either private or confidential by other state agencies or political subdivisions, and by the public; or

(b) That a compelling need exists for immediate temporary classification, which if not granted could adversely affect the public interest or the health, safety, well being or reputation of the data subject.

Subd. 3. Contents of application for nonpublic or nonpublic protected data. An application for temporary classification of government data not on individuals shall include and the applicant shall have the burden of clearly establishing that no statute currently exists which either allows or forbids classification as nonpublic or protected nonpublic; and either

(a) That data similar to that for which the temporary classification is sought has been treated as nonpublic or protected nonpublic by other state agencies or political subdivisions, and by the public; or

(b) Public access to the data would render unworkable a program authorized by law; or

(c) That a compelling need exists for immediate temporary classification, which if not granted could adversely affect the health, safety or welfare of the public.

Subd. 4. Procedure when classification affects others. If the commissioner determines that an application for temporary classification involves data which would reasonably be classified in the same manner by all agencies, political subdivisions, or statewide systems similar to the one which made the application, the commissioner may approve or disapprove the classification for data of the kind which is the subject of the application for the use of all agencies, political subdivisions, or statewide systems similar to the applicant. If the commissioner deems this approach advisable, he shall provide notice of his intention by publication in the state register and by notification to the intergovernmental information systems advisory council, within ten days of receiving the application. Within 30 days after publication in the state register and notification to the council, an affected agency, political subdivision, the public, or statewide system may submit comments on the commissioner's proposal. The commissioner shall consider any comments received when granting or denying a classification for data of the kind which is the subject of the application, for the use of all agencies, political subdivisions, or statewide systems similar to the applicant. Within 45 days after the close of the period for submitting comment, the commissioner shall grant or disapprove the application. Applications processed under this subdivision shall be either approved or disapproved by the commissioner within 90 days of the receipt of the application. For purposes of subdivision 1, the data which is the subject of the classification shall be deemed to be classified as set forth in the application for a period of 90 days, or until the application is disapproved or granted by the commissioner, whichever is earlier. If requested in the application, or determined to be necessary by the commissioner, the data in the application shall be so classified for all agencies, political subdivisions, or statewide systems similar to the applicant until the application is disapproved or granted by the commissioner, whichever is earlier. Proceedings after the grant or disapproval shall be governed by the provisions of subdivision 5.

Subd. 5. Determination. The commissioner shall either grant or disapprove the application for temporary classification within 45 days after it is filed. If the commissioner disapproves the application, he shall set forth in detail his reasons for the disapproval, and shall include a statement of what classification he believes is appropriate for the data which is the subject of the application. Twenty days after the date of the commissioner's disapproval of an application, the data which is the subject of the application shall become public data, unless the responsible authority submits an amended application for temporary classification which requests the classification deemed appropriate by the commissioner in his statement of disapproval or which sets forth additional information relating to the original proposed classification. Upon the filing of an amended application, the data which is the subject of the amended application shall be deemed to be classified as set forth in the amended application for a period of 20 days or until the amended application is granted or disapproved by the commissioner, whichever is earlier. The commissioner shall either grant or disapprove the amended application within 20 days after it is filed. Five working days after the date of the commissioner's disapproval of the amended application, the data which is the subject of the application shall become public data. No more than one amended application may be submitted for any single file or system.

If the commissioner grants an application for temporary classification, it shall become effective immediately, and the complete record relating to the application shall be submitted to the attorney general, who shall review the classification as to form and legality. Within 25 days, the attorney general shall approve the classification, disapprove a classification as confidential but approve a classification as private, or disapprove the classification. If the attorney general disapproves a classification, the data which is the subject of the classification shall become public data five working days after the date of the attorney general's disapproval.

Subd. 6. Expiration of temporary classification. Emergency classifications granted before July 1, 1979 are redesignated as temporary classifications. All temporary classifications granted under this section prior to April 24, 1980 and still in effect, and all temporary classifications thereafter applied for and granted pursuant to this section shall expire on July 31, 1981 or 24 months after the classification is granted, whichever occurs later.

Subd. 7. Legislative consideration of temporary classifications. On or before January 15 of each year, the commissioner shall submit all temporary classifications in effect on January 1 in bill form to the legislature.

13.07 DUTIES OF THE COMMISSIONER.

The commissioner shall with the advice of the intergovernmental information services advisory council promulgate rules, in accordance with the rulemaking procedures in the administrative procedures act which shall apply to state agencies, statewide systems and political subdivisions to implement the enforcement and administration of this chapter. The rules shall not affect section 13.04, relating to rights of subjects of data. Prior to the adoption of rules authorized by this section the commissioner shall give notice to all state agencies and political subdivisions in the same manner and in addition to other parties as required by section 14.06 of the date and place of hearing, enclosing a copy of the rules and regulations to be adopted.

13.08 CIVIL REMEDIES.

Subdivision 1. Action for damages. Notwithstanding section 466.03, a political subdivision, responsible authority or state agency which violates any provision of this chapter is liable to a person who suffers any damage as a result of the violation, and the person damaged may bring an action against the political subdivision, responsible authority, statewide system or state agency to cover any damages sustained, plus costs and reasonable attorney fees. In the case of a willful violation, the political subdivision, statewide system or state agency shall, in addition, be liable to exemplary damages of not less than $100, nor more than $10,000 for each violation. The state is deemed to have waived any immunity to a cause of action brought under this chapter.

Subd. 2. Injunction. A political subdivision, responsible authority, statewide system or state agency which violates or proposes to violate this chapter may be enjoined by the district court. The court may make any order or judgment as may be necessary to prevent the use or employment by any person of any practices which violate this chapter.

Subd. 3. Venue. An action filed pursuant to this section may be commenced in the county in which the individual alleging damage or seeking relief resides, or in the county wherein the political subdivision exists, or, in the case of the state, any county.

Subd. 4. Action to compel compliance. In addition to the remedies provided in subdivisions 1 to 3 or any other law, any aggrieved person may bring an action in district court to compel compliance with this chapter and may recover costs and disbursements, including reasonable attorney's fees, as determined by the court. If the court determines that an action brought under this subdivision is frivolous and without merit and a basis in fact, it may award reasonable costs and attorney fees to the responsible authority. The matter shall be heard as soon as possible. In an action involving a request for government data under section 13.03 or 13.04, the court may inspect in camera the government data in dispute, but shall conduct its hearing in public and in a manner that protects the security of data classified as not public.

Any person who willfully violates the provisions of sections 13.02 to 13.09 or any lawful rules and regulations promulgated thereunder is guilty of a misdemeanor. Willful violation of sections 13.02 to 13.09 by any public employee constitutes just cause for suspension without pay or dismissal of the public employee.

(j) Response or incident report number.

Subd. 5. Data collection. Except for the data defined in subdivisions 2, 3 and 4, investigative data collected or created by a law enforcement agency in order to prepare a case against a person, whether known or unknown, for the commission of a crime or civil wrong is confidential or protected nonpublic while the investigation is active. Inactive investigative data is public unless the release of the data would jeopardize another ongoing investigation or would reveal the identity of individuals protected under subdivision 10. Photographs which are part of inactive investigative files and which are clearly offensive to common sensibilities are classified as private or nonpublic data, provided that the existence of the photographs shall be disclosed to any person requesting access to the inactive investigative file. An investigation becomes inactive upon the occurrence of any of the following events:

(a) a decision by the agency or appropriate prosecutorial authority not to pursue the case;

(b) expiration of the time to bring a charge or file a complaint under the applicable statute of limitations, or 30 years after the commission of the offense, whichever comes earliest; or

(c) exhaustion of or expiration of all rights of appeal by a person convicted on the basis of the investigative data.

Any investigative data presented as evidence in court shall be public. Data determined to be inactive under clause (a) may become active if the agency or appropriate prosecutorial authority decides to renew the investigation.

During the time when an investigation is active, any person may bring an action in the district court located in the county where the data is being maintained to authorize disclosure of investigative data. The court may order that all or part of the data relating to a particular investigation be released to the public or to the person bringing the action. In making the determination as to whether investigative data shall be disclosed, the court shall consider whether the benefit to the person bringing the action or to the public outweighs any harm to the public, to the agency or to any person identified in the data. The data in dispute shall be examined by the court in camera.

Subd. 6. Access to data for crime victims. The prosecuting authority shall release investigative data collected by a law enforcement agency to the victim of a criminal act or the victim's legal representative upon written request unless the prosecuting authority reasonably believes:

(a) That the release of that data will interfere with the investigation; or

(b) That the request is prompted by a desire on the part of the requester to engage in unlawful activities.

Subd. 7. Withholding public data. A law enforcement agency may temporarily withhold response or incident data from public access if the agency reasonably believes that public access would be likely to endanger the physical safety of an individual or cause a perpetrator to flee, evade detection or destroy evidence. In such instances, the agency shall, upon the request of any person, provide a statement which explains the necessity for its action. Any person may apply to a district court for an order requiring the agency to release the data being withheld. If the court determines that the agency's action is not reasonable, it shall order the release of the data and may award costs and attorney's fees to the person who sought the order. The data in dispute shall be examined by the court in camera.

Subd. 8. Public benefit data. Any law enforcement agency may make any data classified as confidential pursuant to subdivision 5 accessible to any person, agency or the public if the agency determines that the access will aid the law enforcement process, promote public safety or dispel widespread rumor or unrest.

Subd. 9. Public access. When data is classified as public under this section, a law enforcement agency shall not be required to make the actual physical data available to the public if it is not administratively feasible to segregate the public data from the confidential. However, the agency must make the information described as public data available to the public in a reasonable manner. When investigative data becomes inactive, as described in subdivision 5, the actual physical data associated with that investigation, including the public data, shall be available for public access.

Subd. 10. Protection of identities. A law enforcement agency may withhold public access to data on individuals to protect the identity of individuals in the following circumstances:

(a) When access to the data would reveal the identity of an undercover law enforcement officer;

(b) When access to the data would reveal the identity of a victim of criminal sexual conduct or intrafamilial sexual abuse or of a violation of section 617.246, subdivision 2;

(c) When access to the data would reveal the identity of a paid or unpaid informant being used by the agency if the agency reasonably determines that revealing the identity of the informant would threaten the personal safety of the informant; or

(d) When access to the data would reveal the identity of a victim of or witness to a crime if the victim or witness specifically requests not to be identified publicly, and the agency reasonably determines that revealing the identity of the victim or witness would threaten the personal safety or property of the individual.

Subd. 11. Data retention. Nothing in this section shall require law enforcement agencies to create, collect or maintain data which is not required to be created, collected or maintained by any other applicable rule or statute.

Subd. 12. Data in arrest warrant indices. Data in arrest warrant indices are classified as confidential data until the defendant has been taken into custody, served with a warrant, or appears before the court, except when the law enforcement agency determines that the public purpose is served by making the information public.

Subd. 13. Property data. Data that uniquely describe stolen, lost, confiscated, or recovered property or property described in pawn shop transaction records are classified as either private data on individuals or nonpublic data depending on the content of the not public data.

Subd. 14. Reward program data. To the extent that the release of program data would reveal the identity of an informant or adversely affect the integrity of the fund, financial records of a program that pays rewards to informants are protected nonpublic data in the case of data not on individuals or confidential data in the case of data on individuals.

Subd. 15. Exchanges of information. Nothing in this chapter prohibits the exchange of information by law enforcement agencies provided the exchanged information is pertinent and necessary to the requesting agency in initiating, furthering, or completing an investigation, except not public personnel data.

Subd. 16. Deliberative processes. Data that reflect deliberative processes or investigative techniques of law enforcement agencies are confidential data on individuals or protected nonpublic data; provided that information, reports, or memoranda that have been adopted as the final opinion or justification for a decision of a law enforcement agency are public data.

Amended by Laws 1984, c. 552, § 2; Laws 1985, c. 298, §§ 30 to 36, eff. June 5, 1985; Laws 1986, c. 444.

Subd. 5. Private data. All other medical examiner data on deceased individuals is private pursuant to section 13.02, subdivision 12, and shall not be disclosed except pursuant to the provisions of chapter 390, or any other general or local law on county coroners or medical examiners, or pursuant to a valid court order.

Subd. 7. Court review. Any person may petition the district court located in the county where medical examiner data is being maintained to authorize disclosure of private or confidential medical examiner data. The petitioner shall notify the medical examiner or coroner. The court may notify other interested persons and require their presence at a hearing. A hearing may be held immediately if the parties agree, and in any event shall be held as soon as practicable. After examining the data in camera, the court may order disclosure of the data if it determines that disclosure would be in the public interest.

Subd. 8. Access to private data. The data made private by this section shall be accessible to the legal representative of the decedent's estate or to the decedent's surviving spouse or next of kin or their legal representative.

Subd. 9. Change in classification. Notwithstanding section 13.10, data classified as private or confidential by this section shall be classified as public 30 years after the date of death of the decedent.

14.63. Application

Any person aggrieved by a final decision in a contested case is entitled to judicial review of the decision under the provisions of sections 14.63 to 14.68, but nothing in sections 14.63 to 14.68 shall be deemed to prevent resort to other means of review, redress, relief, or trial de novo provided by law. A petition for a writ of certiorari by an aggrieved person for judicial review under sections 14.63 to 14.68 must be filed with the court of appeals and served on the agency not more than 30 days after the party receives the final decision and order of the agency.

Amended by Laws 1983, c. 247, § 9, eff. Aug. 1, 1983.

14.64. Petition; service

Proceedings for review under sections 14.63 to 14.68 shall be instituted by serving a petition for a writ of certiorari personally or by certified mail upon the agency and by promptly filing the proof of service in the office of the clerk of the appellate courts and the matter shall proceed in the manner provided by the rules of civil appellate procedure.

If a request for reconsideration is made within ten days after the decision and order of the agency, the 30-day period provided in section 14.63 shall not begin to run until service of the order finally disposing of the application for reconsideration. Nothing herein shall be construed as requiring that an application for reconsideration be filed with and disposed of by the agency as a prerequisite to the institution of a review proceeding under sections 14.63 to 14.68.

Copies of the writ shall be served, personally or by certified mail, upon all parties to the proceeding before the agency in the proceeding in which the order sought to be reviewed was made. For the purpose of service, the agency upon request shall certify to the petitioner the names and addresses of all parties as disclosed by its records. The agency's certification shall be conclusive. The agency and all parties to the proceeding before it shall have the right to participate in the proceedings for review. A copy of the petition shall be provided to the attorney general at the time of service of the parties.

14.65. Stay of decision; stay of other appeals

The filing of the writ of certiorari shall not stay the enforcement of the agency decision; but the agency may do so, or the court of appeals may order a stay upon such terms as it deems proper. When review of or an appeal from a final decision is commenced under sections 14.63 to 14.68 in the court of appeals, any other later appeal under sections 14.63 to 14.68 from the final decision involving the same subject matter shall be stayed until final decision of the first appeal.

Amended by Laws 1983, c. 247, § 11, eff. Aug. 1, 1983.

14.66. Transmittal of record

Within 30 days after service of the writ of certiorari, or within any further time as the court allows, the agency shall transmit to the reviewing court the original or a certified copy of the entire record of the proceeding under review. By stipulation of all parties to the review proceeding, the record may be shortened. Any party unreasonably refusing to stipulate to limit the record may be taxed by the court for the additional costs. The court may require or permit subsequent corrections or additions to the record when deemed desirable.

14.67. New evidence, hearing by agency

If, before the date set for hearing, application is made to the court of appeals for leave to present additional evidence on the issues in the case, and it is shown to the satisfaction of the court that the additional evidence is material and that there were good reasons for failure to present it in the proceeding before the agency, the court may order that the additional evidence be taken before the agency upon such conditions as the court deems proper. The agency may modify its findings and decision by reason of the additional evidence and shall file with the reviewing court, to become a part of the record, the additional evidence, together with any modifications or new findings or decision.

14.68. Procedure on review

The review shall be confined to the record, except that in cases of alleged irregularities in procedure, not shown in the record, the court of appeals may transfer the case to the district court for the county in which the agency has its principal office or the county in which the contested case hearing was held. The district court shall have jurisdiction to take testimony and to hear and determine the alleged irregularities in procedure. Appeal from the district court determination may be taken to the court of appeals as in other civil cases.

14.69. Scope of judicial review

In a judicial review under sections 14.63 to 14.68, the court may affirm the decision of the agency or remand the case for further proceedings; or it may reverse or modify the decision if the substantial rights of the petitioners may have been prejudiced because the administrative finding, inferences, conclusion, or decisions are:

(a) In violation of constitutional provisions; or

(b) In excess of the statutory authority or jurisdiction of the agency; or

(c) Made upon unlawful procedure; or

(d) Affected by other error of law; or

(e) Unsupported by substantial evidence in view of the entire record as submitted; or

RULE 4. MANNER OF MAKING REQUEST

Subdivision 1. Custodian of Records. A request to inspect or to obtain copies of public records shall be made to the custodian of those records. The court administrator is the custodian of records of judicial proceedings within the court where the records are located, vital statistics records, and drivers license and permit application records. The judicial district administrator is the custodian of administrative records for the judicial district in which the records are located. The state court administrator is the custodian of records relating to overall administration of the courts of the State of Minnesota. The state law librarian is the custodian of the records of the State Law Library. The custodian of the records maintained by any board, commission, or committee shall be the individual designated by the board, commission, or committee. The custodian of the records of any other office shall be the individual designated by the appointing authority or, if the office is an elective office, the individual occupying the office.

Subd. 2. Designee. The custodian may appoint one or more designees to respond to inspection and copy requests.

Subd. 3. Form of Request.

(a) A request to inspect or obtain copies of public records shall be made in writing to the custodian of the records unless otherwise allowed by the custodian.

(b) A written request to inspect or obtain copies of administrative records shall include:

(i) the name, mailing address, and telephone number of the requesting person;

(ii) the specific documents which the person wishes to inspect or to have copied;

(c) A request to inspect or obtain copies of records other than administrative records shall be made in the manner designated by the custodian of the records.

RULE 5. RESPONSE

Subdivision 1. The custodian shall acknowledge the request orally or in writing no later than five working days after the request is made. The response shall indicate whether the records are public, and if so, when and where inspection may take place or copies may be obtained. The custodian must inform the requestor that the records will be available for inspection in no fewer than five working days.

Subd. 2. If the custodian determines the records can be made available for inspection or can be copied without unreasonable disruption to ongoing court or administrative activities, inspection or copying shall take place within five working days after the custodian receives the request.

Subd. 3. If the custodian determines the records cannot be made available for inspection or cannot be copied within five days after the custodian receives the request, the custodian shall notify the requestor of when and where inspection may take place or when and where copies will be provided, and shall inform the requestor of the reasons for the delay. Inspection must be permitted or copies provided within a reasonable time from the date of the request.

Subd. 4. If the records do not exist, the response shall so indicate.

Subd. 5. If the request does not provide sufficient information to locate the records, the request shall be returned, and the requestor notified.

Subd. 6. If access to the records is not permitted under these Rules, the response shall indicate the statute, federal law, or court or administrative rule that is the basis for denial of the inspection request.

Subd. 7. If either the court administrator or judicial district administrator, as custodian, cannot determine whether access to records of judicial proceedings or administrative records is permitted, the response shall state that the inspection request has been referred to the office of the state court administrator for determination. A response from the state court administrator shall be forwarded to the custodian or the person making the request no later than five working days after the state court administrator receives the referral.

Subd. 8. If the custodian determines that the number of records requested is so great that inspection or reproduction would create an unreasonable disruption to ongoing court or administrative activities, the custodian may require that the request be limited, or the custodian may limit the request.

Subd. 9. If the person making the request does not inspect or obtain the copies of the records during the time period permitted by the custodian, the request shall be deemed withdrawn, but may be renewed.

RULE 6. INSPECTION AND PHOTOCOPYING

Subdivision 1. Priority of Ongoing Court or Administrative Activities. Inspection and copying shall be conducted in a manner which will not disrupt ongoing court or administrative activities.

Subd. 2. Access to Original Records. The requesting person shall be allowed to inspect or to obtain copies of original versions of public records in the place where such records are normally kept, during regular working hours. However, if access to the original records would result in disclosure of information to which access is not permitted, jeopardize the security of the records, or prove otherwise impractical, copies, edited copies, reasonable facsimiles or other appropriate formats may be produced for inspection. Unless expressly allowed by the custodian, records shall not be removed from the area where they are normally kept.

Subd. 3. Fees. Before providing copies, the custodian may require payment of the copying fee established by law or court rule. When a request involves any person's receipt of public information that has commercial value and is an entire formula, pattern, compilation, program, device, method, technique, process, data base, or system developed with a significant expenditure of public funds by the judicial branch, the custodian may charge a reasonable fee for the information in addition to costs of making, certifying, and compiling the copies. The custodian may grant a person's request to permit the person to make copies, and may specify the condition under which this copying will be permitted.

RULE 7. APPEAL TO STATE COURT ADMINISTRATOR IN CERTAIN CASES

A denial of or limitation upon a request to inspect public administrative records or public records of judicial proceedings may be appealed in writing to the state court administrator, and a written response will be sent to the requesting person no later than five working days after the state court administrator receives the appeal.

152.18. Discharge and dismissal

Subdivision 1. If any person is found guilty of a violation of section 152.024, 152.025, or 152.027 for possession of a controlled substance, after trial or upon a plea of guilty, the court may, without entering a judgment of guilty and with the consent of such person, defer further proceedings and place the person on probation upon such reasonable conditions as it may require and for a period, not to exceed the maximum term of imprisonment provided for such violation. The court may give the person the opportunity to attend and participate in an appropriate program of education regarding the nature and effects of alcohol and drug abuse as a stipulation of probation. Upon violation of a condition of the probation, the court may enter an adjudication of guilt and proceed as otherwise provided. The court may, in its discretion, dismiss the proceedings against such person and discharge the person from probation before the expiration of the maximum period prescribed for such person's probation. If during the period of probation such person does not violate any of the conditions of the probation, then upon expiration of such period the court shall discharge such person and dismiss the proceedings against that person. Discharge and dismissal hereunder shall be without court adjudication of guilt, but a nonpublic record thereof shall be retained by the department of public safety solely for the purpose of use by the courts in determining the merits of subsequent proceedings against such person. The court shall forward a record of any discharge and dismissal hereunder to the department of public safety who shall make and maintain the nonpublic record thereof as hereinbefore provided. Such discharge or dismissal shall not be deemed a conviction for purposes of disqualifications or disabilities imposed by law upon conviction of a crime or for any other purpose.

Subd. 2. Upon the dismissal of such person and discharge of the proceedings against him pursuant to subdivision 1, such person may apply to the district court in which the trial was had for an order to expunge from all official records, other than the nonpublic record retained by the department of public safety pursuant to subdivision 1, all recordation relating to arrest, indictment or information, trial and dismissal and discharge pursuant to subdivision 1. If the court determines, after hearing, that such person was discharged and the proceedings against him dismissed, it shall enter such order. The effect of the order shall be to restore the person, in the contemplation of the law, to the status he occupied before such arrest or indictment or information. No person as to whom such an order has been entered shall be held thereafter under any provision of any law to be guilty of perjury or otherwise giving a false statement by reason of his failure to recite or acknowledge such arrest, or indictment or information, or trial in response to any inquiry made for him for any purpose.

Subd. 3. Any person who has been found guilty of a violation of section 152.09 with respect to a small amount of marijuana which violation occurred prior to April 11, 1976, and whose conviction would have been a petty misdemeanor under the provisions of section 152.15, subdivision 2, clause (5) in effect on April 11, 1978, but whose conviction was for an offense more serious than a petty misdemeanor under laws in effect prior to April 11, 1976, may petition the court in which he was convicted to expunge from all official records, other than the nonpublic record retained by the department of public safety pursuant to section 152.15, subdivision 2, clause (5), all recordation relating to his arrest, indictment or information, trial and conviction of an offense more serious than a petty misdemeanor. The court, upon being satisfied that a small amount was involved in the conviction, shall order all the recordation expunged. No person as to whom an order has been entered pursuant to this subdivision shall be held thereafter under any provision of any law to be guilty of perjury or otherwise giving a false statement by reason of his failure to recite or acknowledge conviction of an offense greater than a petty misdemeanor, unless possession of marijuana is material to a proceeding.

242.31 Restoration of civil rights

Subdivision 1. Whenever a person who has been committed to the commissioner of corrections upon conviction of a crime following reference for prosecution under the provisions of section 260.125 is finally discharged from his control by order of the Minnesota corrections board, that discharge shall restore that person to all civil rights and, if so ordered by the Minnesota corrections board, also shall have the effect of setting aside the conviction, nullifying the same and of purging that person thereof. The Minnesota corrections board shall file a copy of the order with the district court of the county in which the conviction occurred, whereupon the court shall order the conviction set aside.

Subd. 2. Whenever a person described in subdivision 1 has been placed on probation by the court pursuant to section 609.135 and, after satisfactory fulfillment thereof, is discharged from probation, the court shall issue an order of discharge pursuant to section 609.165. On application of the defendant or on its own motion and after notice to the county attorney, the court in its discretion may also order that the defendant's conviction be set aside with the same effect as such an order under subdivision 1.

These orders restore the defendant to his civil rights and purge and free the defendant from all penalties and disabilities arising from his conviction and it shall not thereafter be used against him, except in a criminal prosecution for a subsequent offense if otherwise admissible therein.

Subd. 3. The Minnesota corrections board shall file a copy thereof with the district court of the county in which the conviction occurred, whereupon the court shall order the conviction set aside and all records pertinent to the conviction sealed. These records shall only be reopened in the case of a judicial criminal proceeding thereafter instituted.

The term "records" shall include but is not limited to all matters, files, documents and papers incident to the arrest, indictment, information, complaint, trial, appeal, dismissal and discharge, which relate to the conviction for which the order was issued.

638.02. Pardons

Subdivision 1. The board of pardons may grant an absolute or a conditional pardon, but every conditional pardon shall state the terms and conditions on which it was granted. Subd. 2. Any person, convicted of crime in any court of this state, who has served the sentence imposed by the court and has been discharged of the sentence either by order of court or by operation of law, may petition the board of pardons for the granting of a pardon extraordinary. If the board of pardons shall determine that such person has been convicted of no criminal acts other than the act upon which such conviction was founded and is of good character and reputation, the board may, in its discretion, grant to such person a pardon extraordinary. Such pardon extraordinary, when granted, shall have the effect of restoring such person to all civil rights, and shall have the effect of setting aside the conviction and nullifying the same and of purging such person thereof and such person shall never thereafter be required to disclose the conviction at any time or place other than in a judicial proceeding thereafter instituted.

TITLE 45. PUBLIC SAFETY AND GOOD ORDER
Chapter 27. Mississippi Justice Information Center

§ 45-27-7 Duties and function of the justice information center.

(1) The Mississippi Justice Information Center shall:

(a) Develop, operate and maintain an information system which will support the collection, storage, retrieval and dissemination of all crime and offender data described in this chapter, consistent with those principles of scope, security and responsiveness prescribed by this chapter.

(b) Cooperate with all criminal justice agencies within the state in providing those forms, procedures, standards and related training assistance necessary for the uniform operation of the statewide center.

(c) Offer assistance and, when practicable, instruction to all local law enforcement agencies in establishing efficient local records systems.

(d) Make available, upon request, to all local and state criminal justice agencies, to all federal criminal justice agencies and to criminal justice agencies in other states any information in the files of the center which will aid such agencies in the performance of their official duties. For this purpose the center shall operate on a twenty-four (24) hour basis, seven (7) days a week. Such information, when authorized by the director of the center, may also be made available to any other agency of this state or any political subdivision thereof and to any federal agency, upon assurance by the agency concerned that the information is to be used for official purposes only in the prevention or detection of crime or the apprehension of criminal offenders.

(e) Cooperate with other agencies of this state, the crime information agencies of other states, and the national crime information center systems of the federal bureau of investigation in developing and conducting an interstate, national and international system of criminal identification and records.

(f) Institute necessary measures in the design, implementation and continued operation of the justice information system to ensure the privacy and security of the system. Such measures shall include establishing complete control over use of and access to the system and restricting its integral resources and facilities and those either possessed or procured and controlled by criminal justice agencies. Such security measures must meet standards developed by the center as well as those set by the nationally operated systems for interstate sharing of information.

(g) Provide data processing for files listing motor vehicle drivers' license numbers, motor vehicle registration numbers, wanted and stolen motor vehicles, outstanding warrants, identifiable stolen property and such other files as may be of general assistance to law enforcement agencies; provided, however, that the purchase, lease, rental or acquisition in any manner of "computer equipment or services," as defined in section 25-53-3, Mississippi Code of 1972, shall be subject to the approval of the state central data processing authority.

(h) Maintain a field coordination and support unit which shall have all the power conferred by law upon any peace officer of this state.

(2) The investigative division shall:

(a) Obtain and file fingerprints, descriptions, photographs and any other pertinent identifying data on persons who:

(i) Have been or are hereafter arrested or taken into custody in this state:

(A) For an offense which is a felony;

A record shall be maintained of the dissemination of each individual criminal history, including at least the date and recipient of such information.

(c) Provide the administrative mechanisms and procedures necessary to respond to those individuals who file requests to view their own records and cooperate in the correction of the central center records and those of contributing agencies when their accuracy has been successfully challenged either through the related contributing agencies or by court order issued on behalf of an individual.

§ 45-27-9. Submission of data to center by criminal justice agencies.

(1) All criminal justice agencies within the state shall submit to the center fingerprints, descriptions, photographs (when specifically requested), and other identifying data on persons who have been lawfully arrested or taken into custody in this state for all felonies and certain misdemeanors described in section 45-27-7(2)(a). It shall be the duty of all chiefs of police, sheriffs, district attorneys, courts, judges, parole and probation officers, wardens or other persons in charge of correctional institutions in this state to furnish the center with any other data deemed necessary by the center to carry out its responsibilities under this chapter.

(2) All persons in charge of law enforcement agencies shall obtain, or cause to be obtained, fingerprints according to the fingerprint system of identification established by the director of the federal bureau of investigation, full face and profile photographs (if equipment is available) and other available identifying data, of each person arrested or taken into custody for an offense of a type designated in subsection (1) of this section, of all persons arrested or taken into custody as fugitives from justice and of all unidentified human corpses in their jurisdictions, but photographs need not be taken if it is known that photographs of the type listed, taken within the previous year, are on file. Any record taken in connection with any person arrested or taken into custody and subsequently released without charge or cleared of the offense through court proceedings shall be purged from the files of the center and destroyed. All persons in charge of law enforcement agencies shall submit to the center detailed descriptions of arrests or takings into custody which result in release without charge or subsequent exoneration from criminal liability within twenty-four (24) hours of such release or exoneration.

(3) Fingerprints and other identifying data required to be taken under subsection (2) shall be forwarded within twenty-four (24) hours after taking for filing and classification, but the period of twenty-four (24) hours may be extended to cover any intervening holiday or weekend. Photographs taken shall be forwarded at the discretion of the agency concerned, but, if not forwarded, the fingerprint record shall be marked "Photo Available" and the photographs shall be forwarded subsequently if the center so requests.

(4) All persons in charge of law enforcement agencies shall submit to the center detailed descriptions of arrest warrants and related identifying data immediately upon determination of the fact that the warrant cannot be served for the reasons stated. If the warrant is subsequently served or withdrawn, the law enforcement agency concerned must immediately notify the center of such service or withdrawal. Also, the agency concerned must annually, no later than January 31 of each year and at other times if requested by the center, confirm all such arrest warrants which continue to be outstanding. The center shall purge and destroy files of all data relating to an offense when an individual is subsequently exonerated from criminal liability of that offense.

(5) All persons in charge of state correctional institutions shall obtain fingerprints, according to the fingerprint system of identification established by the director of the federal bureau of investigation or as otherwise directed by the center, and full face and profile photographs of all persons received on commitment to such institutions. The prints so taken shall be forwarded to the center, together with any other identifying data requested, within ten (10) days after the arrival at the institution of the person committed. At the time of release, the institution will again obtain fingerprints, as before, and forward them to the center within ten (10) days, along with any other related information requested by the center. The institution shall notify the center immediately upon the release of such person.

(6) All persons in charge of law enforcement agencies, all court clerks, all municipal justices where they have no clerks, all justice court judges and all persons in charge of state and county probation and parole offices, shall supply the center with the information described in subsections (4) and (10) of this section on the basis of the forms and instructions to be supplied by the center.

(7) All persons in charge of law enforcement agencies in this state shall furnish the center with any other identifying data required in accordance with guidelines established by the center. All law enforcement agencies and correctional institutions in this state having criminal identification files shall cooperate in providing the center with copies of such items in such files which will aid in establishing the nucleus of the state criminal identification file.

(8) All law enforcement agencies within the state shall report to the center, in a manner prescribed by the center, all persons wanted by and all vehicles and identifiable property stolen from their jurisdictions. The report shall be made as soon as is practical after the investigating department or agency either ascertains that a vehicle or identifiable property has been stolen or obtains a warrant for an individual's arrest or determines that there are reasonable grounds to believe that the individual has committed a crime. In no event shall this time exceed twelve (12) hours after the reporting department or agency determines that it has grounds to believe that a vehicle or property was stolen or that the wanted person should be arrested.

(9) All law enforcement agencies in the state shall immediately notify the center if at any time after making a report as required by subsection (8) of this section it is determined by the reporting department or agency that a person is no longer wanted or that a vehicle or property stolen has been recovered. Furthermore, if the agency making such apprehension or recovery is not the one which made the original report, then it shall immediately notify the originating agency of the full particulars relating to such apprehension or recovery.

(10) All law enforcement agencies in the state and clerks of the various courts shall promptly report to the center all instances where records of convictions of criminals are ordered expunged by courts of this state as now provided by law. The center shall promptly expunge from the files of the center and destroy all records pertaining to any convictions that are ordered expunged by the courts of this state as provided by law.

§ 45-27-11. Inspection of criminal offender records; correction of errors in records.

The center shall make a person's criminal records available for inspection by him or his attorney upon written application. Should such person or his attorney contest the accuracy of any portion of such records, the center shall make available to such person or his attorney a copy of the contested record upon written application identifying the portion of the record contested and showing the reason for the contest of accuracy. Forms, procedures, identification and other related aspects pertinent to such access may be prescribed by the center in making access available.

If an individual believes such information to be inaccurate or incomplete, he may request the original agency having custody or control of the records to purge, modify or supplement them and to so notify the center of such changes. Should the agency decline to so act or should the individual believe the agency's decision to be otherwise unsatisfactory, the individual or his attorney may within thirty (30) days of such decision enter an appeal to the county or circuit court of the county of his residence or to such court in the county where such agency exists. The court in each such case shall conduct a de novo hearing and may order such relief as it finds to be required by law. Such appeals shall be entered in the same manner as other appeals are entered.

Should the record in question be found to be inaccurate, incomplete or misleading, the court shall order it to be appropriately expunged, modified or supplemented by an explanatory notation. Each agency or individual in the state with custody, possession or control of any such record shall promptly cause each and every copy thereof in his custody, possession or control to be altered in accordance with the court's order. Notification of each such deletion, amendment and supplementary notation shall be promptly disseminated to any individuals or agencies to which the records in question have been communicated as well as to the individual whose records have been ordered so altered.

Agencies, including the center, at which criminal offender records are sought to be inspected may prescribe reasonable hours and places of inspection and may impose such additional procedures, fees or restrictions, including fingerprinting, as are reasonably necessary both to assure the record's security, to verify the identities of those who seek to inspect them and to maintain an orderly and efficient mechanism for such access.

§ 45-27-13. Penalties

(1) Any person who knowingly requests, obtains or attempts to obtain criminal history record information under false pretenses or who knowingly communicates or attempts to communicate criminal history record information to any agency or person except in accordance with this chapter, or any member, officer, employee or agency of the investigative division of the Mississippi Justice Information Center, the council or any participating agency who knowingly falsifies criminal history record information, or any records relating thereto, shall for each such offense be fined not more than one thousand dollars ($ 1,000.00) or be imprisoned for not more than six (6) months, or both.

(2) Any person who knowingly discloses or attempts to disclose the techniques or methods employed to ensure the security and privacy of information or data contained in criminal justice information systems, except in accordance with this chapter, shall for each such offense be fined not more than five thousand dollars ($ 5,000.00) or be imprisoned for not more than two (2) years, or both.

11 CSR 30-4.020 Agencies and Persons Required to Furnish CHRI

PURPOSE: To establish who is required to furnish CHRI to MCRR.

(1) All police agencies, prosecuting and circuit attorneys, court clerks and the Department of Corrections and Human Resources shall furnish CHRI to MCRR without undue delay.

11 CSR 30-4.030 Police Agency Procedures for Furnishing Descriptions on Persons and Their Charges to MCRR and Prosecuting or Circuit Attorneys

PURPOSE: To establish a system for each police agency to follow when furnishing a description of a person and his/her charges to MCRR and to prosecuting or circuit attorneys.

(1) A police agency shall be responsible for completing a fingerprint card/form set supplied by MCRR on reportable offenses as instructed in the following regulations. The form set consists of a card having blocks to be filled in on both sides, and two carbon copies having blocks to be filled in only on their front side. Normally the parts of the form set will not be separated until the front side has been filled in, including a complete set of fingerprints. In any event the officer or clerk making the entries on the front of the card shall verify that the same information is readable on the carbon copies. Listed below are procedures for police agencies to follow when taking a person into custody.

(A) Two (2) or more agencies/same offense - If peace officers from two (2) or more police agencies arrest a person for the same offense(s) the agency that will forward the information to the prosecutor or make application for warrant shall be responsible for completing the fingerprint card/form set and forward the appropriate forms to the prosecuting or circuit attorney.

(B) Single agency/prosecution - When an arresting officer releases a person he has arrested to a receiving officer who routinely reports to the same prosecuting or circuit attorney, the arresting officer should complete the fingerprint card/form set and forward the forms to the prosecuting or circuit attorney.

(C) Agency turned subject over to different jurisdiction - A police agency arresting a person, with or without a warrant, and will release the person to a police agency in a different prosecutory jurisdiction for prosecution shall be responsible for completing the fingerprint/disposition form and indicate in the final disposition block #19 as turned over to (TOT) or posted bond, name and address of police agency, date and warrant number if available. The forms should be destroyed.

(D) Agency receiving subject from different jurisdiction - A police agency taking custody of a person arrested by an officer who routinely reports to a different prosecuting or circuit attorney will be responsible for completing a fingerprint card/form set and forwarding the disposition forms to the prosecuting or circuit attorney.

(E) Municipality/multiple counties - When peace officers arrest a person in reference to one of their cases, regardless of the county of prosecution, they are responsible for completing the fingerprint card/form set and forwarding the forms to the prosecuting or circuit attorney. The agency who takes custody of the offender will not refingerprint the person.

1. Example: Kansas City Police officers arrest a person in Jackson County in reference to a Kansas City case in Clay County. Kansas City Police Department would be responsible for completing the fingerprint card/form set and the submitting the disposition form set to the prosecuting attorney of Clay County. When Clay County authorities take the offender into custody, no additional fingerprints should be taken.

(F) Probation violation subject printed on original charge - When a peace officer arrests an individual for a probation violation and the person has been fingerprinted on the original charge, no additional fingerprints will be required. The court has agreed to include the OCN number on the warrant. If it is unknown whether the person has been fingerprinted or if additional charges are listed in conjunction with the probation violation, the fingerprint card/form set is required and forms should be forwarded to the prosecuting or circuit attorney.

(G) Arrest without warrant - If a peace officer makes an arrest in his jurisdiction without a warrant, he will fingerprint the individual and submit the forms to the prosecuting or circuit attorney for his action. If a warrant is issued for the person, the OCN number will be listed on the warrant. If the person is released pending issuance of the warrant he need not be fingerprinted when the arrest warrant is served unless additional charges are included.

(2) A police agency shall be ordered by the court to fingerprint and be responsible for completing a fingerprint card/form set on persons for which the court has pronounced sentence, if the court determines that the person has not been previously fingerprinted for the same case. The police agency shall forward the fingerprint card to the MCRR.

(3) The form set should be forwarded to the appropriate personnel by the arresting officer under the following conditions:

(A) A peace officer reports a reportable offense to a prosecuting or circuit attorney; and

(B) When peace officers arrest a person in reference to one of their cases, regardless of the county of prosecution, the arresting officer should complete the fingerprint card/form set and submit the form set to the prosecuting attorney or circuit attorney.

(4) The form set shall be destroyed under the following conditions:

(A) Arrested subject released, information not referred to prosecuting attorney or circuit attorney; or

(B) If the person arrested is turned over to a peace officer or posted bond for prosecution in a different jurisdiction, with the exception of (3) (B).

(5) Each side of the fingerprint card is illustrated. Figure #1 represents the front side and Figure #2 represents the back side.

Those agencies planning to implement such a system should contact the Criminal Records Division of the Missouri State Highway Patrol. Arrangements will be made for your department's personnel and personnel from the Missouri State Highway Patrol's Information Systems Division to develop the necessary interface to allow for the reporting of the required data elements.

(2) All Systems developed for the reporting of CHRI electronically must be approved by the Criminal Records Advisory Committee.

11 CSR 30-4.090 Privacy and Security Requirements

PURPOSE: To Establish a rule governing the procedures for dissemination of criminal history record information and to assure that the privacy and security of individuals have not been violated.

(1) Criminal History Record Information (CHRI)

(A) CHRI means information collected by criminal justice agencies on individuals consisting of identifiable descriptions and notations of arrests, detentions, indictments, informations or other formal criminal charges, any disposition arising therefrom, sentencing, correctional supervision and release.

(B) The regulations do not apply to CHRI contained in -

1. Posters, announcements or lists for identifying or apprehending fugitives or wanted persons;

2. Original records of entry, such as police blotters maintained by criminal justice agencies, complied chronologically and required by law or longstanding custom to be made public, if records are organized on a chronological basis;

3. Court records of public judicial proceedings;

4. Published court or administrative opinions or public, judicial, administrative or legislative proceedings;

5. Records of traffic offenses maintained by state departments of transportation, motor vehicles or the equivalent thereof for regulating the issuance, suspension, revocation or renewal of drivers', pilots' or other operators' licenses; and

6. Announcements of executive clemency.

(2) Completeness and Accuracy

(A) To meet accuracy and completeness requirements, the Missouri State Highway Patrol's Criminal Records Division has been designated by state law as the central repository of CHRI for the state.

(B) For the purpose of maintaining complete and accurate criminal history record information, all police officers of this state, the clerk of each court, the Department of Corrections and Human Resources, the sheriff of each county, the chief law enforcement official of a city not within a county and the prosecuting attorney of each county or the circuit attorney of a city not within a county shall submit certain criminal arrest, charge and disposition information to the central repository for filing without undue delay (within 30 days) in the form and manner required by sections 43.500 to 43.530.

(3) Dissemination

(A) Criminal justice agencies shall receive complete CHRI for criminal justice purposes and criminal justice employment purposes.

(B) Criminal justice agencies shall receive the following CHRI for the issuance of concealable firearms permit:

1. All conviction data;

2. All charges for which an individual is currently under the jurisdiction of the criminal justice system; and

3. All charges resulting in an imposition of sentence being suspended (SIS) until such time as the case is finally terminated.

4. Information regarding an arrest, if it is within thirty (30) days of the arrest and no action has been taken by the prosecuting or circuit attorney.

(C) Noncriminal justice agencies or citizens shall receive the following CHRI for employment, licensing purposes or reasons stated in the request:

1. All conviction data;

2. All charges for which an individual is currently under the jurisdiction of the criminal justice system; and

3. All charges resulting in an imposition of sentence being suspended (SIS) until such time as the case is finally terminated.

4. Information regarding an arrest, if it is within thirty (30) days of the arrest and no action has been taken by the prosecuting or circuit attorney.

(D) Federal noncriminal justice agencies shall receive complete CHRI for such investigative purposes as authorized by law or presidential executive order.

(4) Agency Audit

(A) By federal regulation every state is required to conduct biennial audits of randomly selected criminal justice agencies to assure that privacy and security regulations are being followed.

(B) To make this audit possible, agencies are required to retain appropriate records. Agencies will need to account for each dissemination in a log so that the audit can be performed. The log should contain the name of the subject on whom the record is disseminated, the name of the recipient of the information, the agency he represents, whether the agency is criminal justice or not, the purpose for which the information is to be used, address of the agency, date and time.

(C) Criminal justice agencies may choose a manual or automated dissemination logging system. Agencies which are not automated and rely on other systems, such as the central repository for automated dissemination logging, must log all secondary dissemination. Secondary dissemination is defined as "The dissemination of any CHRI response to another criminal justice agency or to an individual within another criminal justice agency or to anyone legally entitled to receive such information who is outside the original agency." These logs shall be maintained for thirteen (13) months from the date of dissemination.

(D) The reporting of a criminal justice transaction to a state, local or federal repository is not a dissemination of information. Also agencies are not required to account for "no record" responses.

(5) Security of Criminal History Record Information

(A) Agencies providing security must be mindful of computer software and hardware, restriction of file access and safeguard policies regarding computer operation in the following areas: protection through proper storage; protection through computer programs; legitimate destruction of records; detection of unauthorized penetration of programs or files; protection of security and protection from destruction.

(B) Agencies must screen prospective employees who will have access to CHRI and be responsible for transferring or removing personnel in cases of violation.

(C) The agency must institute manual procedures for physical and data security, institute manual procedures to prevent file destruction and limit direct access to criminal history record information.

(D) Each employee working with or having access to criminal history record information shall be made familiar with the substance and intent of these regulations.

(6) Access and Review

(A) Any individual shall, upon satisfactory verification of his/her identity, be entitled to review without undue burden to either the criminal justice agency or the individual any CHRI maintained about himself/herself and obtain a copy thereof when necessary for challenge or review.

(B) Employees who process, access and review inquiries must be cautious when a person asks to see his/her CHRI. Positive identification is required. A drivers license with a photo may be sufficient; however, if identification is questionable fingerprints may be required.

(C) If a person has accessed and reviewed his/her CHRI and disagrees with the information, a challenge can follow. The challenge may be oral or written indicating that the record is inaccurate or incomplete and be accompanied by a corrected version.

(D) If it is determined that there is an error in the record the agency must make the necessary correction. At the individual's request the agency must give him/her the names of all non-criminal justice agencies to whom the data has been disseminated. Disseminations to criminal justice agencies will not be disclosed.

(E) The correcting agency shall notify all criminal justice recipients of the corrected information.

(F) The individual is not entitled to data contained in intelligence, investigatory or other related files and shall not be construed to include any other information than that defined as CHRI.

(G) When an error in a CHRI record has been detected and the correction has been made, the correcting agency shall forward corrected copies to the central repository including a copy for the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

(H) In the event an agreement cannot be reached between the individual and the agency being challenged, the individual may proceed with an administrative appeal to the Director of the Department of Public Safety, Truman Building, 8th Floor, Jefferson City, Missouri 65101.

(3) If the requested correction is denied by the head of the agency, the individual may present a challenge to the department of justice.

(4) If the agency in charge of the record in question can verify the accuracy of its record by communication with the originating criminal justice agency, it shall do so. If accuracy or completeness cannot be verified and the agency primarily originating the information containing the alleged error or omission is in the state, the individual shall address his challenge to that agency. If information necessary to verify the accuracy or completeness of the record cannot be obtained by the originating agency, it may rely on verified written documents or include the individual's allegation in its records in dissemination until there is a final disposition of the challenge.

(5) If the challenge is successful, the agency shall:

(a) supply to the individual, if requested, a list of those noncriminal justice agencies which have received copies of the criminal history record information about the individual; and

(b) immediately correct its records and notify all criminal justice agencies to which it has given erroneous or incomplete information of these changes.

However, the original documents are available to the public from the originating criminal justice agency.

(2) All public criminal justice information is available from the agency that is the source of the original documents and that is authorized to maintain the documents according to applicable law. These documents shall be open, subject to the restrictions in this section, during the normal business hours of the agency. COLONEL PAUL A. DOYON
DIRECTOR

State of New Hampshire

DEPARTMENT OF SAFETY
DIVISION OF STATE POLICE
HEADQUARTERS CONCORD, N.H. 03301

EFFECTIVE DATE	NUMBER

SUBJECT
NEW HAMPSHIRE STATE POLICE
BUREAU OF CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION

SOP

SOP State Police, Bureau of Criminal Identification

I. PURPOSE: The purpose of this SOP is to establish operating instructions for the Department of Safety, Division of State Police, State Bureau of Criminal Identification (hereinafter referred to as the BCI), which operates under the supervision of the Supervisor, Records and Reports Unit.

II. SCOPE: This SOP establishes the administrative and unique central repository requirements of the BCI.

1. Physical Security

A. The criminal history record information manual files are housed in the Bureau of Criminal Identification at the Department of Safety, Division of State Police. As such, they are under constant police supervision and control 24 hours a day. The records section is staffed during the day by the personnel actually working on the records. At night, at other times when the bureau is not staffed, the coded records, in locked filing cabinets, are monitored by Communications personnel in the next room.

B. The physically secure building housing the Department of Safety and the Department of Public Works and Highways is surrounded by perimeter lighting at night and manned at all times by a uniformed officer, utilizing television cameras and identification logs. The building itself is constructed with protective, non-combustible material, and is in compliance with both the Life Safety Code and the National Building Code. The actual location in the interior of the building precludes damage from acts of nature. A new office building being constructed for the Department of Safety with occupancy scheduled for January 1977, will provide security in excess of that enumerated above.

C. Access to our manual files are limited to personnel of the records section.

D. There are no back-up files.

2. Personnel Selection

A. The BCI is staffed by both uniformed and civilian members of the State Police. The over all responsibility for the administration of this operation falls to the Supervisor of the Records and Reports Unit - a uniformed officer. He is, in turn, responsible to the Commander of the Detective Bureau.

B. Civilian personnel who work with criminal records are employees of the State Police. These classified employees are hired by the Division after passing entrance examinations conducted by the Department of Personnel and after successful completion of an extensive background check designed to assess prior work habits, honesty, and suitability for this sensitive position. In actual practice, most employees in this section are prior employees of the Department of Safety who have transfered to the Division of State Police.

C. After hiring, personnel are further cautioned as to the critical nature of their functions and as to the sanctions applied for malfeasance, in addition to procedures for dismissal promulgated by the Department of Personnel. During the initial days of their employment, probationary clerks are closely monitored by the uniformed supervisor and a senior clerk. Throughout the remainder of their probation p (6 months), they are closely checked by the senior clerk.

D. All employees are required to sign a memorandum from the Director concerning the security and privacy of criminal history record information. This memorandum advises them of their responsibilities and requires compliance of the regulations designed to prevent intentional violations of this data. A copy of this memorandum is attached.

3. Limits on Dissemination

A. The BCI recognizes three classes of criminal history record information;

1. All data available at the Central repository including, but not limited to, raw arrest data, data containing not guilty and nol prossed findings, incomplete data, data regarding dispositions (supported or unsupported by arrest date), date regarding juvenile arrests and/or dispositions, and acknowledgement that a criminal record does not exist.

2. All of #1 above with the exception of juvenile date.

3. Data containing documented arrests with guilty dispositions, and data containing guilty dispositions only, as well as the acknowledgement that a record does not exist.

B. Dissemination of the above classes of data are limited to the following:

1. Police departments - class 2

2. Other criminal justice agencies - class 3

3. Non-criminal justice agencies with statutory requirements or an executive order allowing access - class 3.

4. Agencies approved by the Director, Division of State Police, under his statutory authority - class 3.

5. Individuals and agencies pursuant of a specific agreement with the State Police to provide services required for the adminstration of criminal justice pursuant to that agreement. The agreement specifically authorizes access to data, limits the use of data to purposes for which given, insures the security and confidentiality of the data consistent with these regulations and provides sanctions for violation thereof - class 1.

6. Individuals and agencies whether authorized by court order or court rule - class 1.

7. Individuals and agencies for the express purpose of research, evaluative, or statistical activities pursuant to an agreement with the SAC, said agreement similar to agreement under B5 above and conforming to section 524(a) of the act - class 1.

8. Any person, agency, or institution approved for dissemination by the Director under his statutory authority who has written authorization from the person whose record they are interested in obtaining - class 2.

9. Any individual may obtain his own record upon satisfactory identification - class 1.

C. Dissemination

1. Dissemination of criminal history record information to criminal justice agencies will require that the agencies have a certification form of file at the BCI. This certificate form will have to be on file before information can be given out. Once a form is on file, no further certification form will be required for these criminal justice agencies.

2. Non-criminal justice agencies approved for dissemination by the Director under his statutory authority, or those authorized by statute, will be required to complete a certification on a yearly basis.

3. Individuals, after executing a Right to Access form, will be allowed to view their record and receive a copy of that portion they desire to challenge.Completed access forms will be kept on file at the BCI.

a. When a copy is given to an individual, it will include the notation, "For review and challenge only and any other use thereof will be in violation of 42 USC, page 3771," or a similar warning.

4. Dissemination logs will be maintained on all copies of records given to qualified recipients. These logs will be kept in the individual jacket along with the individual master rap sheet.

5. All copies of records given out above, will include the notation to the effect that the information is given for a specified use only and that sanctions will be applied for misuse.

D. In order to insure that under no conditions will an annulled or expunrecord be disseminated, all such information will be destroyed by the Supervisor of the records and upon receipt of a court order to do same. In addition, all court orders sealed records will be carried out by the Supervisor.

4. Audit and Quality Control

A. In order to insure the accuracy of the criminal history record information at the BCI, the following source documents will be the only ones utilized as a vehicle to post information to an individual's rap sheet. (Specific clerical instructions will be promulgated by the Supervisor)

1. All notations of an arrest must be documented by a fingerprint card submitted by the arresting agency. These fingerprint cards must be classified or verified before entering the data onto the record.Fingerprint cards to support every arrest after the effective date of this SOP will be kept on file at the BCI. Only arrest records of misdemeanors and felonies of a criminal nature will be posted to an individual's criminal record.

2. All notations as to the disposition of an arrest must be supported by a court abstract. These abstracts will be cross matched, to the maximum extent feasible, to a corresponding arrest. All dispositions (guilty, not guilty, nol prossed, continued for sentence) will be entered. The Supervisor of the Records and Reports Unit will maintain an active list of those offenses not allowed on a rap sheet (e.g. intoxication, vagrancy, motor vehicle violations, Fish & Game violations, etc). All abstracts entered on a rap sheet will be maintained in the individual's jacket.

3. Strict adherence to the above requirements for posting and filing will insure the reliability of the audit trail.

B. The completeness of the criminal history record information will be insured by limiting the dissemination of arrests for which there is no disposition (class 1 and 2) to police agencies only. Arrests which show no disposition after 90 days will require a query to the police department or the corresponding court, if it appears that a disposition will be forthcoming, prior to the dissemination of this information.

5. Annual Audits

A. The BCI will undergo a yearly audit by the Security and Privacy Committee in order to insure compliance with this SOP and the New Hampshire State Security and Privacy Plan. All resources and files of the BCI will be open to the Security and Privacy Committee at this time.

B. The Supervisor of the Records and Reports Unit or his designated representative will conduct annual audits of a representative sample of local and county law enforcement agencies. Departments to be reviewed will be selected by the Security and Privacy Staff of the SAC. Areas of consideration for this annual audit will be those suggested by the S and P staff.

6. Certification with the BCI

A. Every agency or individual who maintains or receives criminal history record information will certify with the BCI that the information is secure and dissemination is limited to a need to know basis.

B. These certifications will be kept on permanent file at the BCI. If another CJA is in doubt as to the certification of an agency or individual, they may query the BCI for certification status.

C. Violations of security and privacy of criminal history record information will result in immediate removal from the certification list of agencies or individuals pending review of the Director.

7. Individual Review and Appeal

A. Upon the receipt of a Right to Access form, the Supervisor will verify the identity of the requester and allow him to view the rap sheet. A copy of challenged entries will be provided with the proper notations.

B. When the individual challenges an entry, the determination of whether or not to change the entry will be made by the Supervisor with the advice and consent of the Director.

C. Appeals from the BCI decision will be directed to the Security and Privacy Appeal Body.

D. Appeals from the decision of other criminal justice agencies will be given to the BCI who will investigate the complaint and forward a report to the Appeal Body.

Arrest Record Information Act

29-10-1. Short title.
29-10-2. Purpose of act.
29-10-3. Definitions.
29-10-4. Confidentiality of arrest records.
29-10-5. Exchange of information.
29-10-6. Access by individuals.
29-10-7. Application.
29-10-8. Review of arrest record information.

29-10-1. Short title.

This act [29-10-1 to 29-10-8 NMSA 1978] may be cited as the "Arrest Record Information Act."

29-10-2. Purpose of act.

The legislature finds and declares that the responsible exchange of complete and accurate information among law enforcement agencies is recognized as necessary and indispensable to effective law enforcement. Individual rights, however, may be infringed if information is inaccurate, incomplete or is disseminated irresponsibly. The Arrest Record Information Act [29-10-1 to 29-10-8 NMSA 1978] is for the purpose of protecting those rights.

29-10-3. Definitions.

As used in the Arrest Record Information Act [29-10-1 to 29-10-8 NMSA 1978]:

A. "arrest record information" means notations of the arrest or detention, or indictment or filing of information or other formal criminal charge against an individual made by a law enforcement agency which resulted in a negative disposition; and

B. "negative disposition" means that:

(1) criminal proceedings have been concluded and the defendant was found not guilty;

(2) a prosecutor has elected not to refer a matter for prosecution; or

(3) criminal proceedings have been indefinitely postponed, and includes but is not limited to acquittal, case continued without finding, charge dismissed, charge dismissed due to insanity or mental incompetence, charge still pending due to insanity or mental incompetence, nolle prosequi, deceased, deferred disposition, pardoned, extradition proceedings have been concluded and mistrial-defendant discharged.

29-10-4. Confidentiality of arrest records.

The arrest record information maintained by the state or any of its political subdivisions pertaining to any person charged with the commission of any crime shall be confidential and dissemination or the revealing the contents thereof, except as provided in the Arrest Record Information Act [29-10-1 to 29-10-8 NMSA 1978], is unlawful.

29-10-5. Exchange of information.

A law enforcement agency may disseminate arrest record information to a federal, state or local government law enforcement agency, provided that when the arrest record information is disseminated to a law enforcement agency situated outside this state, the information shall be accompanied by a statement substantially embodying the intent set forth in Section 29-10-4 NMSA 1078. Nothing in the Arrest Record Information Act [29-10-1 to 29-10-8 NMSA 1978] prohibits direct access by the attorney general, the district attorney, the crime victims reparation commission or the courts to such information where it is deemed necessary in the performance of their functions under law. Nothing in that act prohibits direct access by a law enforcement agency to automated wanted information pertaining to a person or to stolen property information.

29-10-6. Access by individuals.

A. Upon satisfactory verification of his identity, any individual may inspect, in person, through counsel or through his authorized agent, arrest record information maintained by [a] law enforcement agency concerning him.

B. Personnel assigned to contractual research for a state or federally approved criminal justice project shall be permitted access to arrest record information. Approval personnel shall not further disseminate such information except as statistical or analytical records or reports in which individuals are not identified and from which their identities are not ascertainable.

29-10-7. Application.

A. The provisions of the Arrest Record Information Act [29-10-1 to 29-10-8 NMSA 1978] do not apply to criminal history record information contained in:

(1) posters, announcements or lists for identifying or apprehending fugitives or wanted persons;

(2) original records of entry such as police blotters maintained by criminal justice agencies, compiled chronologically and required by law or long-standing custom to be made public, if such records are organized on a chronological basis;

(3) court records of public judicial proceedings;

(4) published court or administrative opinions or public judicial, administrative or legislative proceedings;

(5) records of traffic offenses and accident reports;

(6) announcements of executive clemency; and

(7) statistical or analytical records or reports in which individuals are not identified and from which their identities are not ascertainable.

B. Nothing in this act [29-10-1 to 29-10-8 NMSA 1978] prevents a law enforcement agency from disclosing to the public arrest record information related to the offense for which an adult individual is currently within the criminal justice system. Nor is a law enforcement agency prohibited from confirming prior arrest record information to members of the news media or any other person, upon specific inquiry as to whether a named individual was arrested, detained, indicted or whether an information or other formal charge was filed, on a specified date, if the arrest record information disclosed is based on data enumerated by Subsection A of this section.

29-10-8. Review of arrest record information.

A person who believes that arrest record information concerning him is inaccurate or incomplete shall, upon satisfactory verification of his identity, be entitled to review such information and obtain a copy of it for the purpose of challenge or correction. In the event a law enforcement agency refuses to correct challenged information to the satisfaction of the person to whom the inaccurate or incorrect information relates, the person shall be entitled to petition the district court to correct such information.

28-2-1. Short title.
28-2-2. Purpose of act.
28-2-3. Employment eligibility determination.
28-2-4. Power to refuse, renew, suspend or revoke public employment or license.
28-2-5. Nonapplicability to law enforcement agencies.
28-2-6. Applicability.

28-2-1. Short title.

Sections 1 through 6 [28-2-1 to 28-2-6 NMSA 1978] of this act may be cited as the "Criminal Offender Employment Act."

28-2-2. Purpose of act.

The legislature finds that the public is best protected when criminal offenders or ex-convicts are given the opportunity to secure employment or to engage in a lawful trade, occupation or profession and that barriers to such employment should be removed to make rehabilitation feasible.

28-2-3. Employment eligibility determination.

A. Subject to the provisions of Subsection B of this section and Sections 3 [4] and 4 [5] [28-2-4, 28-2-5 NMSA 1978] of the Criminal Offender Employment Act, in determining eligibility for employment with the state or any of its political subdivisions or for a license, permit, certificate or other authority to engage in any regulated trade, business or profession, the board or other department or agency having jurisdiction may take into consideration the conviction, but such conviction shall not operate as an automatic bar to obtaining public employment or license or other authority to practice the trade, business or profession.

B. The following criminal records shall not be used, distributed or disseminated in connection with an application for any public employment, license or other authority:

(1) records of arrest not followed by a valid conviction; and

(2) misdemeanor convictions not involving moral turpitude.

28-2-4. Power to refuse, renew, suspend or revoke public employment or license.

A. Any board or other agency having jurisdiction over employment by the state or any of its political subdivisions or the practice of any trade, business or profession may refuse to grant or renew, or may suspend or revoke, any public employment or license or other authority to engage in the public employment, trade, business or profession for any one or any combination of the following causes:

(1) where the applicant, employee or licensee has been convicted of a felony or a misdemeanor involving moral turpitude and the criminal conviction directly relates to the particular employment, trade, business or profession; or

(2) where the applicant, employee or licensee has been convicted of a felony or a misdemeanor involving moral turpitude and the criminal conviction does not directly relate to the particular employment, trade, business or profession, if the board or other agency determines, after investigation, that the person so convicted has not been sufficiently rehabilitated to warrant the public trust.

B. The board or other agency shall explicitly state in writing the reasons for a decision which prohibits the person from engaging in the employment, trade, business or profession, if the decision is based in whole or part on conviction of any crime described in Paragraph (1) of Subsection A of this section. Completion of probation or parole supervision, or of a period of three years after final discharge or release from any term of imprisonment without any subsequent conviction, shall create a presumption of sufficient rehabilitation for purposes of Paragraph (2) of Subsection A of this section.

28-2-5. Nonapplicability to law enforcement agencies.

The Criminal Offender Employment Act [28-2-1 to 28-2-6 NMSA 1978] is not applicable to any law enforcement agency; however, nothing herein shall be construed to preclude a law enforcement agency in its discretion from adopting the policy set forth herein.

28-2-6. Applicability.

The provisions of the Criminal Offender Employment Act [28-2-1 to 28-2-6 NMSA 1978] relating to any board or other agency which has jurisdiction over the practice of any trade, business or profession apply to authorities made subject to its coverage by law, or by any such authorities' rules or regulations if permitted by law.

v. disclosure of information of a personal nature reported in confidence to an agency and not relevant to the ordinary work of such agency.

(c) Unless otherwise provided by this article, disclosure shall not be construed to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this subdivision:

Upon payment of, or offer to pay, the fee prescribed therefor, the entity shall provide a copy of such record and certify to the correctness of such copy if so requested, or as the case may be, shall certify that it does not have possession of such record or that such record cannot be found after diligent search. Nothing in this article shall be construed to require any entity to prepare any record not possessed or maintained by such entity except the records specified in subdivision three of section eighty-seven and subdivision three of section eighty-eight.

5. (a)(1) A person acting pursuant to law or regulation who, subsequent to the effective date of this subdivision, submits any information to any state agency may, at the time of submission, request that the agency except such information from disclosure under paragraph (d) of subdivision two of section eighty-seven of this article. Where the request itself contains information which if disclosed would defeat the purpose for which the exception is sought, such information shall also be excepted from disclosure.

(2) The request for an exception shall be in writing and state the reasons why the information should be excepted from disclosure.

(3) Information submitted as provided in subparagraph one of this paragraph shall be excepted from disclosure and be maintained apart by the agency from all other records until fifteen days after the entitlement to such exception has been finally determined or such further time as ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction.

if any, requesting the record, the person who requested the exception, and the committee on public access to records.

(c) A denial of an exception from disclosure under paragraph (b) of this subdivision may be appealed by the person submitting the information and a denial of access to the record may be appealed by the person requesting the record in accordance with this subdivision:

(1) Within seven business days of receipt of written notice denying the request, the person may file a written appeal from the determination of the agency with the head of the agency, the chief executive officer or governing body or their designated representatives.

(2) The appeal shall be determined within ten business days of the receipt of the appeal. Written notice of the determination shall be served upon the person, if any, requesting the record, the person who requested the exception and the committee on public access to records. The notice shall contain a statement of the reasons for the determination.

(d) A proceeding to review an adverse determination pursuant to paragraph (c) of this subdivision may be commenced pursuant to article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules. Such proceeding must be commenced within fifteen days of the service of the written notice containing the adverse determination provided for in subparagraph two of paragraph (c) of this subdivision.

(e) The person requesting an exception from disclosure pursuant to this subdivision shall in all proceedings have the burden of proving entitlement to the exception.

(f) Where the agency denies access to a record pursuant to paragraph (d) of subdivision two of section eighty-seven of this article, the agency shall have the burden of proving that the record falls within the provisions of such exception.

(g) Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed to deny any person access, pursuant to the remaining provisions of this article, to any record or part excepted from disclosure upon the express written consent of the person who had requested the exception.

(h) As used in this subdivision the term "agency" or "state agency" means only a state department, board, bureau, division, council or office and any public corporation the majority of whose members are appointed by the governor.

6. Nothing in this article shall be construed to limit or abridge any otherwise available right of access at law or in equity of any party to records.

(b) After a motor carrier has completed the procedures set forth in paragraph (a) of this subdivision, it shall designate each new school bus driver as a conditional school bus driver as defined in section five hundred nine-h of this article, until the carrier is in receipt of information of the new school bus driver's qualification from the department and the required driving records from each appropriate state agency. If the information received indicates that there is a pending criminal offense or driving violation that would require disqualification of a school bus driver under this article, the motor carrier shall require the applicant to provide documentation evidencing the disposition of such offense or violation in accordance with regulations established by the commissioner. The department, upon notice of disqualification to an applicant, shall include in such notice information regarding the applicant's right to obtain, examine, inspect and copy any information used by the department in support of its determination of disqualification. In the event the applicant contests the existence of a criminal conviction in his or her name, such applicant may provide documentation evidencing the disposition of such offense or violation in accordance with regulations established by the commissioner.

(3) Each motor carrier shall retain the following records in each driver's file for a period of three years, in accordance with regulations established by the commissioner:

(i) a driver abstract of operating record provided by the department and the written information provided by the appropriate agency of another state for each twelve month period;

(4) Each motor carrier shall notify the commissioner on the form and in the manner established by regulation of the commissioner, within ten days, of the date on which a bus driver commences employment, leaves the carrier's employ or is disqualified. Such notification shall be provided in accordance with regulations established by the commissioner and shall include any information the motor carrier has relative to the bus drivers' disqualification, including any information regarding criminal charges pending against the driver for violations which would disqualify the driver if a conviction resulted.

New York State Vehicle and Traffic Law Section 509d

(5) Each motor carrier shall furnish the department, by October fifteenth, nineteen hundred eighty-five, a list of all bus drivers employed on September fourteenth, nineteen hundred eighty-five in accordance with regulations established by the commissioner.

(a) A person, upon satisfactory fingerprint identification, may review all the criminal history data maintained by the Division of Criminal Justice Services (DCJS) pertaining to such person, and may challenge the completeness or accuracy of such data.

(b) Review pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section may take place, during daytime business hours, at a DCJS facility or at such other places within the State as the Commissioner of DCJS may designate for that purpose.

(c) The criminal history data may be reviewed only by the subject in person or by the subject and his attorney, except that, for good cause, the commissioner may permit such review by the subject's attorney, duly authorized in writing, without requiring the presence of the subject person.

(d) A person or, where permitted pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section, a person's attorney may challenge the completeness or accuracy of criminal history data pertaining to such person by executing a "Statement of Challenge", on forms furnished by DCJS, indicating the precise nature of the alleged omission or error, and by filing such statement of challenge, by mail or otherwise, with DCJS. The challenger may submit any documentation he desires and must submit any relevant documentation required by DCJS, in support of the challenge. Upon the execution of a statement of challenge, the challenger or his attorney shall be entitled, upon request, to that portion of the criminal history record as relates to the data being challenged. Such data shall be furnished only on forms provided by DCJS and shall not be identifiable to the challenger.

(e) DCJS shall act upon challenges filed pursuant to subdivision (d) of this section within a reasonable time after receipt of all required documentation in support of the challenger's claim. If the challenge is found to be substantiated, DCJS shall immediately make the appropriate corrections in its records. Upon making such corrections or, upon determining that a challenge is unsubstantiated, as the case may be, DCJS shall immediately notify the subject person in writing accordingly.

(f) Upon making corrections in its files pursuant to a successful challenge, DCJS shall immediately notify every criminal justice agency known to it to which it has disseminated the subject data, of said corrections and shall direct such disseminees to conform their records to the corrected data. A person whose record has been corrected pursuant to subdivision (e) of this section shall be entitled to ascertain from DCJS the names of those non-criminal justice agencies known to it to which the erroneous data had previously been disseminated.

(g) Initial review of a challenge pursuant to subdivision (d) of this section shall be conducted by any deputy commissioner of DCJS or by his designees. A person whose challenge is rejected upon initial review may, upon written request, have such determination reviewed by the commissioner of DCJS. A request for review by the commissioner shall be acted upon within 15 working days of receipt of the request.

In all such cases it shall be the duty of the Department to keep such records as may be necessary and to prepare evidence in the cases investigated, for the use of enforcement officers and for the trial of causes. The services of the Director of the Bureau, and of his assistants, may be required by the Governor in connection with the investigation of any crime committed anywhere in the State when called upon by the enforcement officers of the State, and when, in the judgment of the Governor, such services may be rendered with advantage to the enforcement of the criminal law. The Bureau also is authorized at the request of the Governor to conduct a background investigation on a person that the Governor plans to nominate for a position that must be confirmed by the General Assembly, the Senate, or the House of Representatives. The background investigation of the proposed nominee shall be limited to an investigation of the person's criminal record, educational background, employment record, records concerning the listing and payment of taxes, and credit record, and to a requirement that the person provide the information contained in the statements of economic interest required to be filed by persons subject to Executive Order Number 1, filed on January 31, 1985, as contained on pages 1405 through 1419 of the 1985 Session Laws (First Session, 1985). (2) Verified affidavits of two persons who are not related to the petitioner or to each other by blood or marriage, that they know the character and reputation of the petitioner in the community in which he lives and that his character and reputation are good.

(3) A statement that the petition is a motion in the cause in the case wherein the petitioner was convicted.

(4) Affidavits of the clerk of superior court, chief of police, where appropriate, and sheriff of the county in which the petitioner was convicted and, if different, the county of which the petitioner is a resident, showing that the petitioner has not been convicted of a felony or misdemeanor other than a traffic violation under the laws of this State at any time prior to the conviction for the misdemeanor in question or during the two-year period following that conviction.

The petition shall be served upon the district attorney of the court wherein the case was tried resulting in conviction. The district attorney shall have 10 days thereafter in which to file any objection thereto and shall be duly notified as to the date of the hearing of the petition.

The judge to whom the petition is presented is authorized to call upon a probation officer for any additional investigation or verification of the petitioner's conduct during the two-year period that he deems desirable.

§ 15-224. Expunction of records when charges are dismissed or there are findings of not guilty.

Except as otherwise provided in G.S. 90-96, if any person is charged with a crime, either a misdemeanor or a felony, and the charge is dismissed, or a finding of not guilty is entered, that person may apply to the court of the county where the charge was brought for an order to expunge from all official records any entries relating to his apprehension or trial. The court shall hold a hearing on the application and, upon finding that at the time any of the proceedings against him occurred the person had not attained the age of 18 years and had not previously been convicted of any felony or misdemeanor other than a traffic violation under the laws of the United States, this State, or any other state, the court shall order the expunction. No person as to whom such an order has been entered shall be held thereafter under any provision of any law to be guilty of perjury, or to be guilty of otherwise giving a false statement or response to any inquiry made for any purpose, by reason of his failure to recite or acknowledge any expunged entries concerning apprehension or trial. The clerk shall send a copy of the expunction order to any public official known to be a custodian of such entries. (1979, c. 61.)

§ 90-96. Conditional discharge and expunction of records for first offense.

(a) Whenever any person who has not previously been convicted of any offense under this Article or under any statute of the United States or any state relating to those substances included in Article 5 or 5A of Chapter 90 or to that paraphernalia included in Article 5B of Chapter 90 pleads guilty to or is found guilty of a misdemeanor under this Article by possessing a controlled substance included within Schedules II through VI of this Article, or by possessing drug paraphernalia as prohibited by G.S. 90-113.21, the court may, without entering a judgment of guilt and with the consent of such person, defer further proceedings and place him on probation upon such reasonable terms and conditions as it may require. Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 15A-1342(c) or any other statute or law, probation may be imposed under this section for an offense under this Article for which the prescribed punishment includes only a fine. To fulfill the terms and conditions of probation the court may allow the defendant to participate in a drug education program approved for this purpose by the Department of Human Resources. Upon violation of a term or condition, the court may enter an adjudication of guilt and proceed as otherwise provided. Upon fulfillment of the terms and conditions, the court shall discharge such person and dismiss the proceedings against him. Discharge and dismissal under this section shall be without court adjudication of guilt and shall not be deemed a conviction for purposes of this section or for purposes of disqualifications or disabilities imposed by law upon conviction of a crime including the additional penalties imposed for second or subsequent convictions under this Article. Discharge and dismissal under this section or G.S. 90-113.14 may occur only once with respect to any person. Disposition of a case to determine discharge and dismissal under this section at the district court division of the General Court of Justice shall be final for the purpose of appeal. Prior to taking any action to discharge and dismiss under this section the court shall make a finding that the defendant has no record of previous convictions under the "North Carolina Controlled Substances Act", Article 5, Chapter 90, the "North Carolina Toxic Vapors Act", Article 5A, Chapter 90, or the "Drug Paraphernalia Act", Article 5B, Chapter 90.

(a1) Upon the first conviction only of any offense included in G.S. 90-95(a)(3), or G.S. 90-113.21 and subject to the provisions of this subsection (a1), the court may place defendant on probation under this section for an offense under this Article including an offense for which the prescribed punishment includes only a fine. The probation, if imposed, shall be for not less than one year and shall contain a minimum condition that the defendant who was found guilty or pleads guilty enroll in and successfully complete, within 150 days of the date of the imposition of said probation, the program of instruction at the drug education school approved by the Department of Human Resources pursuant to G.S. 90-96.01. The court may impose probation that does not contain a condition that defendant successfully complete the program of instruction at a drug education school if:

(1) There is no drug education school within a reasonable distance of the defendant's residence; or
(2) There are specific, extenuating circumstances which make it likely that defendant will not benefit from the program of instruction.

The court shall enter such specific findings in the record; provided that in the case of subdivision (2) above, such findings shall include the specific, extenuating circumstances which make it likely that the defendant will not benefit from the program of instruction.

For the purposes of determining whether the conviction is a first conviction or whether a person has already had discharge and dismissal, no prior offense occurring more than seven years before the date of the current offense shall be considered. In addition, convictions for violations of a provision of G.S. 90-95(a)(1) or 90-95(a)(2) or 90-95(a)(3), or 90-113.10, or 90-113.11, or 90-113.12, or 90-113.21 shall be considered previous convictions.

Failure to complete successfully an approved program of instruction at a drug education school shall constitute grounds to revoke probation and deny application for expunction of all recordation of defendant's arrest, indictment, or information, trial, finding of guilty, and dismissal and discharge pursuant to this section. For purposes of this subsection, the phrase "failure to complete successfully the prescribed program of instruction at a drug education school" includes failure to attend scheduled classes without a valid excuse, failure to complete the course within 150 days of imposition of probation, willful failure to pay the required fee for the course, or any other manner in which the person fails to complete the course successfully. The instructor of the course to which a person is assigned shall report any failure of a person to complete successfully the program of instruction to the court which imposed probation. Upon receipt of the instructor's report that the person failed to complete the program successfully, the court shall revoke probation and/or deny application for expunction of all recordation of defendant's arrest, indictment, or information, trial, finding of guilty, and dismissal and discharge pursuant to this section. A person may obtain a hearing before the court of original jurisdiction prior to revocation of probation or denial of application for expunction.

This subsection is supplemental and in addition to existing law and shall not be construed so as to repeal any existing provision contained in the General Statutes of North Carolina.

(b) Upon the dismissal of such person, and discharge of the proceedings against him under subsection (a) of this section, such person, if he were not over 21 years of age at the time of the offense, may apply to the court for an order to expunge from all official records (other than the confidential file to be retained by the Administrative Office of the Courts under subsection (c)) all recordation relating to his arrest, indictment or information, trial, finding of guilty, and dismissal and discharge pursuant to this section. The applicant shall attach to the application the following:

(1) An affidavit by the applicant that he has been of good behavior during the period of probation since the decision to defer further proceedings on the misdemeanor in question and has not been convicted of any felony, or misdemeanor, other than a traffic violation, under the laws of the United States or the laws of this State or any other state;

(2) Verified affidavits by two persons who are not related to the applicant or to each other by blood or marriage, that they know the character and reputation of the petitioner in the community in which he lives, and that his character and reputation are good;

(3) Affidavits of the clerk of superior court, chief of police, where appropriate, and sheriff of the county in which the petitioner was convicted, and, if different, the county of which the petitioner is a resident, showing that the applicant has not been convicted of a felony or misdemeanor other than a traffic violation under the laws of this State at any time prior to the conviction for the misdemeanor in question or during the period of probation following the decision to defer further proceedings on the misdemeanor in question.

The judge to whom the petition is presented is authorized to call upon a probation officer for any additional investigation or verification of the petitioner's conduct during the probationary period deemed desirable.

If the court determines, after hearing, that such person was dismissed and the proceedings against him discharged and that he was not over 21 years of age at the time of the offense, it shall enter such order. The effect of such order shall be to restore such person in the contemplation of the law to the status he occupied before such arrest or indictment or information. No person as to whom such order was entered shall be held thereafter under any provision of any law to be guilty of perjury or otherwise giving a false statement by reason of his failures to recite or acknowledge such arrest, or indictment or information, or trial in response to any inquiry made of him for any purpose.

The court shall also order that said conviction and the records relating thereto be expunged from the records of the court, and direct all law-enforcement agencies bearing records of the same to expunge their records of the conviction. The clerk shall forward a certified copy of the order to the sheriff, chief of police or other arresting agency, as appropriate, and the sheriff, chief of police or other arresting agency, as appropriate, shall forward such order to the State Bureau of Investigation with a form supplied by the State Bureau of Investigation. The State Bureau of Investigation shall forward the court order in like manner to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

(c) The clerk of superior court in each county in North Carolina shall, as soon as practicable after each term of court in his county, file with the Administrative Office of the Courts the names of those persons granted a conditional discharge under the provisions of this Article, and the Administrative Office of the Courts shall maintain a confidential file containing the names of persons granted conditional discharges. The information contained in the file shall be disclosed only to Judges of the General Court of Justice of North Carolina for the purpose of ascertaining whether any person charged with an offense under this Article has been previously granted a conditional discharge.

(d) Whenever any person is charged with a misdemeanor under this Article by possessing a controlled substance included within Schedules II through VI of this Article, upon dismissal by the State of the charges against him, upon entry of a nolle prosequi, or upon a finding of not guilty or other adjudication of innocence, such person may apply to the court for an order to expunge from all official records all recordation relating to his arrest, indictment or information, or trial. If the court determines, after hearing that such person was not over 21 years of age at the time any of the proceedings against him occurred, it shall enter such order. No person as to whom such order has been entered shall be held thereafter under any provision of any law to be guilty of perjury or otherwise giving a false statement by reason of his failures to recite or acknowledge such arrest, or indictment or information, or trial in response to any inquiry made of him for any purpose.

(e) Whenever any person who has not previously been convicted of an offense under this Article or under any statute of the United States or any state relating to controlled substances included in any schedule of this Article or to that paraphernalia included in Article 5B of Chapter 90 pleads guilty to or has been found guilty of a misdemeanor under this Article by possessing a controlled substance included within Schedules II through VI of this Article, or by possessing drug paraphernalia as prohibited by G.S. 90-113.21, the court may, upon application of the person not sooner than 12 months after conviction, order cancellation of the judgment of conviction and expunction of the records of his arrest, indictment, or information, trial and conviction. A conviction in which the judgment of conviction has been cancelled and the records expunged pursuant to this section shall not be thereafter deemed a conviction for purposes of this section or for purposes of disqualifications or liabilities imposed by law upon conviction of a crime including the additional penalties imposed for second or subsequent convictions of this Article. Cancellation and expunction under this section may occur only once with respect to any person. Disposition of a case under this section at the district court division of the General Court of Justice shall be final for the purpose of appeal.

The granting of an application filed under this section shall cause the issue of an order to expunge from all official records (other than the confidential file to be retained by the Administrative Office of the Courts under subsection (c)) all recordation relating to the petitioner's arrest, indictment, or information, trial, finding of guilty, judgment of conviction, cancellation of the judgment, and expunction of records pursuant to this section.

The judge to whom the petition is presented is authorized to call upon a probation officer for additional investigation or verification of the petitioner's conduct since conviction. If the court determines that the petitioner was convicted of a misdemeanor under this Article for possessing a controlled substance included within Schedules II through VI of this Article, or for possessing drug paraphernalia as prohibited in G.S. 90-113.21, that he was not over 21 years of age at the time of the offense, that he has been of good behavior since his conviction, that he has successfully completed a drug education program approved for this purpose by the Department of Human Resources, and that he has not been convicted of a felony or misdemeanor other than a traffic violation under the laws of this State at any time prior to or since the conviction for the misdemeanor in question, it shall enter an order of expunction of the petitioner's court record. The effect of such order shall be to restore the petitioner in the contemplation of the law to the status he occupied before arrest or indictment or information or conviction. No person as to whom such order was entered shall be held thereafter under any provision of any law to be guilty of perjury or otherwise giving a false statement by reason of his failures to recite or acknowledge such arrest, or indictment or information, or conviction, or trial in response to any inquiry made of him for any purpose. The judge may waive the condition that the petitioner attend the drug education school if the judge makes a specific finding that there was no drug education school within a reasonable distance of the defendant's residence or that there were specific extenuating circumstances which made it likely that the petitioner would not benefit from the program of instruction.

The court shall also order that all law-enforcement agencies bearing records of the conviction and records relating thereto to expunge their records of the conviction. The clerk shall forward a certified copy of the order to the sheriff, chief of police, or other arresting agency, as appropriate, and the arresting agency shall forward the order to the State Bureau of Investigation with a form supplied by the State Bureau of Investigation. The State Bureau of Investigation shall forward the court order in like manner to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The clerk of superior court in each county in North Carolina shall, as soon as practicable after each term of court in his county, file with the Administrative Office of the Courts the names of those persons whose judgments of convictions have been cancelled and expunged under the provisions of this Article, and the Administrative Office of the Courts shall maintain a confidential file containing the names of persons whose judgments of convictions have been cancelled and expunged. The information contained in the file shall be disclosed only to judges of the General Court of Justice of North Carolina for the purpose of ascertaining whether any person charged with an offense under this Article has been previously granted cancellation and expunction of a judgment of conviction pursuant to the terms of this Article. (1971, c. 919, s. 1; 1973, c. 654, s. 2; c. 1066; 1977, 2nd Sess., c. 1147, s. 11B; 1979, c. 431, ss. 3, 4; c. 550; 1981, c. 922, ss. 1-4.)

§ 90-113.14. Conditional discharge and expunction of records for first offenses.

(a) Whenever any person who has not previously been convicted of any offense under this Article or under any statute of the United States or any state relating to those substances included in Article 5 or 5A or 5B of Chapter 90 pleads guilty to or is found guilty of inhaling or possessing any substance having the property of releasing toxic vapors or fumes in violation of Article 5A of Chapter 90, the court may, without entering a judgment of guilt and with the consent of such person, defer further proceedings and place him on probation upon such reasonable terms and conditions as it may require. Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 15A-1342(c) or any other statute or law, probation may be imposed under this section for an offense under this Article for which the prescribed punishment includes only a fine. To fulfill the terms and conditions of probation the court may allow the defendant to participate in a drug education program approved for this purpose by the Department of Human Resources. Upon violation of a term or condition, the court may enter an adjudication of guilt and proceed as otherwise provided. Upon fulfillment of the terms and conditions, the court shall discharge such person and dismiss the proceedings against him. Discharge and dismissal under this section shall be without court adjudication of guilt and shall not be deemed a conviction for purposes of this section or for purposes of disqualifications or disabilities imposed by law upon conviction of a crime including the additional penalties imposed for second or subsequent convictions. Discharge and dismissal under this section or G.S. 90-96 may occur only once with respect to any person. Disposition of a case to determine discharge and dismissal under this section at the district court division of the General Court of Justice shall be final for the purpose of appeal. Prior to taking any action to discharge or dismiss under this section the court shall make a finding that the defendant has no record of previous convictions under the "North Carolina Toxic Vapors Act", Article 5A, Chapter 90, the "North Carolina Controlled Substances Act", Article 5, Chapter 90, or the "Drug Paraphernalia Act", Article 5B, Chapter 90.

(a1) Upon the first conviction only of any offense included in G.S. 90-113.10 or 90-113.11 and subject to the provisions of this subsection (a1), the court may place defendant on probation under this section for an offense under this Article including an offense for which the prescribed punishment includes only a fine. The probation, if imposed, shall be for not less than one year and shall contain a minimum condition that the defendant who was found guilty or pleads guilty enroll in and successfully complete, within 150 days of the date of the imposition of said probation, the program of instruction at the drug education school approved by the Department of Human Resources pursuant to G.S. 90-96.01. The court may impose probation that does not contain a condition that defendant successfully complete the program of instruction at a drug education school if:

(1) There is no drug education school within a reasonable distance of the defendant's residence; or
(2) There are specific, extenuating circumstances which make it likely that defendant will not benefit from the program of instruction.

The court shall enter such specific findings in the record; provided that in the case of subsection (2) above, such findings shall include the specific, extenuating circumstances which make it likely that the defendant will not benefit from the program of instruction.

For the purpose of determining whether the conviction is a first conviction or whether a person has already had discharge and dismissal, no prior offense occurring more than seven years before the date of the current offense shall be considered. In addition, convictions for violations of a provision of G.S. 90-95(a)(1) or 90-95(a)(2) or 90-95(a)(3), or 90-113.10, or 90-113.11, or 90-113.12, or 90-113.21 shall be considered previous convictions.

Failure to complete successfully an approved program of instruction at a drug education school shall constitute grounds to revoke probation and deny application for expunction of all recordation of defendant's arrest, indictment, or information, trial, finding of guilty, and dismissal and discharge pursuant to this section. For purposes of this subsection, the phrase "failure to complete successfully the prescribed program of instruction at a drug education school" includes failure to attend scheduled classes without a valid excuse, failure to complete the course within 150 days of imposition of probation, willful failure to pay the required fee for the course, or any other manner in which the person fails to complete the course successfully. The instructor of the course to which a person is assigned shall report any failure of a person to complete successfully the program of instruction to the court which imposed probation. Upon receipt of the instructor's report that the person failed to complete the program successfully, the court shall revoke probation and/or deny application for expunction of all recordation of defendant's arrest, indictment, or information, trial, finding of guilty, and dismissal and discharge pursuant to this section. A person may obtain a hearing before the court of original jurisdiction prior to revocation of probation or denial of application for expunction.

This subsection is supplemental and in addition to existing law and shall not be construed so as to repeal any existing provision contained in the General Statutes of North Carolina.

(b) Upon the dismissal of such person, and discharge of the proceedings against him under subsection (a) of this section, such person, if he were not over 21 years of age at the time of the offense, may apply to the court for an order to expunge from all official records (other than the confidential file to be retained by the Administrative Office of the Courts under subsection (c)) all recordation relating to his arrest, indictment or information, trial, finding of guilty, and dismissal and discharge pursuant to this section. The applicant shall attach to the application the following:

(1) An affidavit by the applicant that he has been of good behavior during the period of probation since the decision to defer further proceedings on the misdemeanor in question and has not been convicted of any felony, or misdemeanor, other than a traffic violation, under the laws of the United States or the laws of this State or any other state;

(2) Verified affidavits by two persons who are not related to the applicant or to each other by blood or marriage, that they know the character and reputation of the petitioner in the community in which he lives, and that his character and reputation are good;

(3) Affidavits of the clerk of superior court, chief of police, where appropriate, and sheriff of the county in which the petitioner was convicted, and, if different, the county of which the petitioner is a resident, showing that the applicant has not been convicted of a felony or misdemeanor other than a traffic violation under the laws of this State at any time prior to the conviction for the misdemeanor in question or during the period of probation following the decision to defer further proceedings on the misdemeanor in question.

The judge to whom the petition is presented is authorized to call upon a probation officer for any additional investigation or verification of the petitioner's conduct during the probationary period deemed desirable.

If the court determines, after hearing, that such person was dismissed and the proceedings against him discharged and that he was not over 21 years of age at the time of the offense, it shall enter such order. The effect of such order shall be to restore such person in the contemplation of the law to the status he occupied before such arrest or indictment or information. No person as to whom such order was entered shall be held thereafter under any provision of any law to be guilty of perjury or otherwise giving a false statement by reason of his failures to recite or acknowledge such arrest, or indictment or information, or trial in response to any inquiry made of him for any purpose.

The court shall also order that said conviction and the records relating thereto be expunged from the records of the court, and direct all law-enforcement agencies bearing records of the same to expunge their records of the conviction. The clerk shall forward a certified copy of the order to the sheriff, chief of police or other arresting agency, as appropriate, and the sheriff, chief of police or other arresting agency, as appropriate, shall forward such order to the State Bureau of Investigation with a form supplied by the State Bureau of Investigation. The State Bureau of Investigation shall forward the court order in like manner to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

(c) The clerk of superior court in each county in North Carolina shall, as soon as practicable after each term of court in his county, file with the Commission, the names of all persons convicted under such Articles, together with the offense or offenses of which such persons were convicted. The clerk shall also file with the Administrative Office of the Courts the names of those persons granted a conditional discharge under the provisions of this Article, and the Administrative Office of the Court shall maintain a confidential file containing the names of persons granted conditional discharges. The information contained in such file shall be disclosed only to judges of the General Court of Justice of North Carolina for the purpose of ascertaining whether any person charged with an offense under Article 5 or 5A has been previously granted a conditional discharge.

(d) Whenever any person is charged with a misdemeanor under this Article by possessing a controlled substance included within Schedules II through VI of this Article, or by possessing drug paraphernalia as prohibited by G.S. 90-113.21 upon dismissal by the State of the charges against him or upon entry of a nolle prosequi or upon a finding of not guilty or other adjudication of innocence, such person may apply to the court for an order to expunge from all official records all recordation relating to his arrest, indictment, or information, and trial. If the court determines, after hearing that such person was not over 21 years of age at the time any of the proceedings against him occurred, it shall enter such order. No person as to whom such order has been entered shall be held thereafter under any provision of any law to be guilty of perjury or otherwise giving a false statement by reason of his failures to recite or acknowledge such arrest, or indictment, or information, or trial in response to any inquiry made of him for any purpose.

(e) Whenever any person who has not previously been convicted of an offense under this Article or under any statute of the United States or any state relating to controlled substances included in any schedule of this Article or to that paraphernalia included in Article 5B of Chapter 90 pleads guilty to or has been found guilty of a misdemeanor under this Article by possessing a controlled substance included within Schedules II through VI of this Article, the court may, upon application of the person not sooner than 12 months after conviction, order cancellation of the judgment of conviction and expunction of the records of his arrest, indictment, or information, trial and conviction. A conviction in which the judgment of conviction has been cancelled and the records expunged pursuant to this section shall not be thereafter deemed a conviction for purposes of this section or for purposes of disqualifications or liabilities imposed by law upon conviction of a crime including the additional penalties imposed for second or subsequent convictions of this Article. Cancellation and expunction under this section may occur only once with respect to any person. Disposition of a case under this section at the district court division of the General Court of Justice shall be final for the purpose of appeal.

The granting of an application filed under this section shall cause the issue of an order to expunge from all official records (other than the confidential file to be retained by the Administrative Office of the Courts under subsection (c)) all recordation relating to his arrest, indictment, or information, trial, finding of guilty, judgment of conviction, cancellation of the judgment, and expunction of records pursuant to this section.

The judge to whom the petition is presented is authorized to call upon a probation officer for additional investigation or verification of the petitioner's conduct since conviction. If the court determines that the petitioner was convicted of a misdemeanor under this Article for possessing a controlled substance included within Schedules II through VI of this Article, or for possessing drug paraphernalia as prohibited by G.S. 90-113.21, that he was not over 21 years of age at the time of the offense, that he has been of good behavior since his conviction, that he has successfully completed a drug education program approved for this purpose by the Department of Human Resources, and that he has not been convicted of a felony or misdemeanor other than a traffic violation under the laws of this State at any time prior to or since the conviction for the misdemeanor in question, it shall enter an order of expunction of the petitioner's court record. The effect of such order shall be to restore the petitioner in the contemplation of the law to the status he occupied before such arrest or indictment or information or conviction. No person as to whom such order was entered shall be held thereafter under any provision of any law to be guilty of perjury or otherwise giving a false statement by reason of his failures to recite or acknowledge such arrest, or indictment or information, or conviction, or trial in response to any inquiry made of him for any purpose. The judge may waive the condition that the petitioner attend the drug education school if the judge makes a specific finding that there was no drug education school within a reasonable distance of the defendant's residence or that there were specific extenuating circumstances which made it likely that the petitioner would not benefit from the program of instruction.

The court shall also order that all law-enforcement agencies bearing records of the conviction and records relating thereto to expunge their records of the conviction. The clerk shall forward a certified copy of the order to the sheriff, chief of police, or other arresting agency, as appropriate, and the arresting agency shall forward the order to the State Bureau of Investigation with a form supplied by the State Bureau of Investigation. The State Bureau of Investigation shall forward the court order in like manner to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The clerk of superior court in each county in North Carolina shall, as soon as practicable after each term of court in his county, file with the Administrative Office of the Courts the names of those persons whose judgments of convictions have been cancelled and expunged under the provisions of this Article, and the Administrative Office of the Courts shall maintain a confidential file containing the names of persons whose judgments of convictions have been cancelled and expunged. The information contained in the file shall be disclosed only to judges of the General Court of Justice of North Carolina for the purpose of ascertaining whether any person charged with an offense under this Article has been previously granted cancellation and expunction of a judgment of conviction pursuant to the terms of this Article. Public Records

§ 132-1. "Public records" defined. — "Public record" or "public records" shall mean all documents, papers, letters, maps, books, photographs, films, sound recordings, magnetic or other tapes, electronic data-processing records, artifacts, or other documentary material, regardless of physical form or characteristics, made or received pursuant to law or ordinance in connection with the transaction of public business by any agency of North Carolina government or its subdivisions. Agency of North Carolina government or its subdivisions shall mean and include every public office, public officer or official (State or local, elected or appointed), institution, board, commission, bureau, council, department, authority or other unit of government of the State or of any county, unit, special district or other political subdivision of government. § 132-1.1. Confidential communications by legal counsel to public board or agency; not public records. — Public records, as defined in G.S. 132-1, shall not include written communications (and copies thereof) to any public board, council, commission or other governmental body of the State or of any county, municipality or other political subdivision or unit of government, made within the scope of the attorney-client relationship by any attorney-at-law serving any such governmental body, concerning any claim against or on behalf of the governmental body or the governmental entity for which such body acts, or concerning the prosecution, defense, settlement or litigation of any judicial action, or any administrative or other type of proceeding to which the governmental body is a party or by which it is or may be directly affected. Such written communication and copies thereof shall not be open to public inspection, examination or copying unless specifically made public by the governmental body receiving such written communications; provided, however, that such written communications and copies thereof shall become public records as defined in G.S. 132-1 three years from the date such communication was received by such public board, council, commission or other governmental body. (1975, c. 662.)

§ 132-5. Demanding custody. — Whoever is entitled to the custody of public records shall demand them from any person having illegal possession of them, who shall forthwith deliver the same to him. If the person who unlawfully possesses public records shall without just cause refuse or neglect for 10 days after a request made in writing by any citizen of the State to deliver such records to their lawful custodian, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction imprisoned for a term not exceeding two years or fined not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) or both. (1935, c. 265, s. 5; 1975, c. 696, s. 2.)

§ 132-5.1. The court may order such public records to be delivered to the petitioner upon finding that the materials in issue are public records and that such public records are in the possession of a person not authorized by the custodian of the public records or by law to possess such public records. If the order of delivery does not receive compliance, the petitioner may request that the court enforce such order through its contempt power and procedures.

(b) At any time after the filing of the petition set out in subsection (a) or contemporaneous with such filing, the public official seeking the return of the public records may by ex parte petition request the judge or the court in which the action was filed to grant one of the following provisional remedies:

(1) An order directed at the sheriff commanding him to seize the materials which are the subject of the action and deliver the same to the court under the circumstances hereinafter set forth; or

(2) A preliminary injunction preventing the sale, removal, disposal or destruction of or damage to such public records pending a final judgment by the court.

(c) The judge or court aforesaid shall issue an order of seizure or grant a preliminary injunction upon receipt of an affidavit from the petitioner which alleges that the materials at issue are public records and that unless one of said provisional remedies is granted, there is a danger that such materials shall be sold, secreted, removed out of the State or otherwise disposed of so as not to be forthcoming to answer the final judgment of the court respecting the same; or that such property may be destroyed or materially damaged or injured if not seized or if injunctive relief is not granted.

(d) The aforementioned order of seizure or preliminary injunction shall issue without notice to the respondent and without the posting of any bond or other security by the petitioner. (1975, c. 787, s. 2.)

§ 132-6. Inspection and examination of records. — Every person having custody of public records shall permit them to be inspected and examined at reasonable times and under his supervision by any person, and he shall furnish certified copies thereof on payment of fees as prescribed by law. § 132-7. Keeping records in safe places; copying or repairing; certified copies.—Insofar as possible, custodians of public records shall keep them in fireproof safes, vaults, or rooms fitted with noncombustible materials and in such arrangement as to be easily accessible for convenient use. All public records should be kept in the buildings in which they are ordinarily used. Record books should be copied or repaired, renovated or rebound if worn, mutilated, damaged or difficult to read. Whenever any State, county, or municipal records are in need of repair, restoration, or rebinding, the head of such State agency, department, board, or commission, the board of county commissioners of such county, or the governing body of such municipality may authorize that the records in need of repair, restoration, or rebinding be removed from the building or office in which such records are ordinarily kept, for the length of time required to repair, restore, or rebind them. Any public official who causes a record book to be copied shall attest it and shall certify on oath that it is an accurate copy of the original book. The copy shall then have the force of the original. (1935, c. 265, s. 7; 1951, c. 294.)

§ 109.51 Creation of bureau of criminal identification and investigation.

There is hereby created in the office of the attorney general, a bureau of criminal identification and investigation to be located at the site of the London correctional institution. The attorney general shall appoint a superintendent of said bureau. The superintendent shall appoint, with the approval of the attorney general, such assistants as are necessary to carry out the functions and duties of the bureau as contained in sections 109.51 to 109.63, inclusive, of the Revised Code.

§ 109.52 Operations of the bureau.

The bureau of criminal identification and investigation may operate and maintain a criminal analysis laboratory and mobile units thereof, create a staff of investigators and technicians skilled in the solution and control of crimes and criminal activity, keep statistics and other necessary data, assist in the prevention of crime, and engage in such other activities as will aid law enforcement officers in solving crimes and controlling criminal activity.

§ 109.55 Coordination of law enforcement activities.

The superintendent of the bureau of criminal identification and investigation shall recommend co-operative policies for the co-ordination of the law enforcement work and crime prevention activities of all state and local agencies and officials having law enforcement duties to promote co-operation between such agencies and officials, to secure effective and efficient law enforcement, to eliminate duplication of work, and to promote economy of operation in such agencies.

HISTORY: 130 v 16, § 1. EFF 9-24-63.

See provisions, § 2 of HB 283 (130 v 1670), following RC § 109.51.

The bureau of criminal identification and investigation shall, where practicable, assist in training local law enforcement officers in crime prevention, detection, and solution when requested by local authorities, and, where practicable, furnish instruction to sheriffs, chiefs of police, and other law officers in the establishment of efficient local bureaus of identification in their districts.

§ 109.57 Duties of the superintendent of the bureau.

(A) The superintendent of the bureau of criminal identification and investigation shall procure and file for record photographs, pictures, descriptions, fingerprints, measurements, and such other information as may be pertinent, of all persons who have been convicted of a felony or any crime constituting a misdemeanor on the first offense and a felony on subsequent offenses, within the state, and of all well known and habitual criminals, from wherever procurable. The person in charge of any state correctional institution and the person in charge of any state institution having custody of a person suspected of having committed a felony or any crime constituting a misdemeanor on the first offense and a felony on subsequent offenses, shall furnish such material to the superintendent of the bureau upon request. Fingerprints, photographs, or other descriptive information of a child under eighteen years of age shall not be procured by the superintendent or furnished by any person in charge of any state correctional institution, except as may be authorized in section 2151.313 [2151.31.3] of the Revised Code. Every court of record in this state shall send to the superintendent of the bureau a weekly report containing a summary of each case involving a felony or any crime constituting a misdemeanor on the first offense and a felony on subsequent offenses. Such summary shall include the style and number of the case, the dates of arrest, commencement of trial, and conviction, a statement of the offense and the conduct which constituted it, and the sentence or terms of probation imposed, or other disposition of the offender. The superintendent shall cooperate with and assist sheriffs, chiefs of police, and other law officers in the establishment of a complete system of criminal identification and in obtaining fingerprints and other means of identification of all persons arrested on charge of felony or any crime constituting a misdemeanor on the first offense and a felony on subsequent offenses. He shall also file for record the fingerprint impressions of all persons confined in any workhouse, jail, reformatory, or penitentiary, for the violation of state laws, and such other information as he may receive from law enforcement officials of the state and its subdivisions.

The superintendent shall carry out sections 2950.01 to 2950.08 of the Revised Code, in regard to the registration of habitual sex offenders.

(B) The superintendent shall prepare and furnish to every state penal and reformatory institution and to every court of record in this state standard forms for reporting the information required under division (A) of this section.

(C) The superintendent may operate a center for electronic, automated, or other data processing for the storage and retrieval of information, data, and statistics pertaining to criminals, criminal activity, crime prevention, law enforcement, and criminal justice, and may establish and operate a statewide communications network to gather and disseminate information, data, and statistics for the use of law enforcement agencies.

(D) The information and materials furnished to the superintendent pursuant to division (A) of this section are not public records under section 149.43 of the Revised Code.

(E) The attorney general shall adopt rules, in accordance with Chapter 119. of the Revised Code, setting forth the procedure by which a person may receive or release information gathered by the superintendent pursuant to division (A) of this section. A reasonable fee may be charged for this service.

[§ 109.57.1] § 109.571 [Law enforcement communications committee.]

(A) There is hereby created a law enforcement communications committee, consisting of the superintendent of the bureau of criminal identification and investigation as chairman, and four members appointed by the superintendent to serve at his pleasure, one each of whom shall be a representative of the office of budget and management, the division of state highway patrol, the county sheriffs, and the chiefs of police.

(B) The committee shall meet at least once every six months, or more often upon call of the superintendent or the written request of any two members. Committee members shall receive no compensation for their services as such, but are entitled to their actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of committee duties, as determined by the state employees compensation board.

(C) The committee shall aid and encourage coordination and cooperation among law enforcement agencies in the operation and utilization of data processing facilities and equipment, and a statewide law enforcement communications network.

§ 109.58 Superintendent shall prepare a standard fingerprint impression sheet.

The superintendent of the bureau of criminal identification and investigation shall prepare standard impression sheets on which fingerprints may be made in accordance with the fingerprint system of identification. Such sheets may provide for other descriptive matter which the superintendent may prescribe. Such sheets shall be furnished to each sheriff, chief of police, and person in charge of every workhouse, reformatory, or penitentiary within the state.

§ 109.59 Fingerprint impression and descriptive measurement records.

The sheriff, chief of police, or other person in charge of each prison, workhouse, reformatory, or penitentiary shall send to the bureau of criminal identification and investigation, on forms furnished by the superintendent of such bureau, such fingerprint impressions and other descriptive measurements which the superintendent may require. Such information shall be filed, classified, and preserved by the bureau.

§ 109.60 Duty of sheriffs and chiefs of police to take fingerprints; report.

The sheriffs of the several counties and the chiefs of police of cities shall immediately upon the arrest of any person for any felony, on suspicion of any felony, or for a crime constituting a misdemeanor on the first offense and a felony on subsequent offenses, take his fingerprints, or cause the same to be taken, according to the fingerprint system of identification on the forms furnished by the superintendent of the bureau of criminal identification and investigation, and forward them, together with such other descriptions as may be required and with the history of the offense committed, to the bureau to be classified and filed. Should any accused be found not guilty of the offense charged or a nolle prosequi entered in any case, then the fingerprints and description shall be given to the accused upon his request. The superintendent shall compare the descriptions received with those already on file in the bureau, and if he finds that the person arrested has a criminal record or is a fugitive from justice or wanted by any jurisdiction in this or any other state or the United States or a foreign country for any offense, he shall at once inform the arresting officer of such fact and give appropriate notice to the proper authorities in the jurisdiction in which such person is wanted, or, if such jurisdiction is a foreign country, give appropriate notice to federal authorities for transmission to such foreign country. The names, under which each person whose identification is thus filed is known, shall be alphabetically indexed by the superintendent.

This section does not apply to a violator of a city ordinance unless the officers have reason to believe that such person is a past offender, or the crime is one constituting a misdemeanor on the first offense and a felony on subsequent offenses, or unless it is advisable for the purpose of subsequent identification. This section does not apply to any child under eighteen years of age, except as provided in section 2151.313 [2151.31.3] of the Revised Code.

Each sheriff or chief of police shall furnish the bureau of criminal identification and investigation with descriptions, fingerprints, photographs, and measurements of:

(A) Persons arrested who in such police official's judgment are wanted for serious offenses, are fugitives from justice, or in whose possession at the time of arrest are found goods or property reasonably believed to have been stolen;

(B) All persons in whose possession are found burglar outfits, burglar tools, or burglar keys, or who have in their possession high power explosives reasonably believed to be intended to be used for unlawful purposes;

(C) Persons who are in possession of infernal machines or other contrivances in whole or in part and reasonably believed by said sheriffs or chiefs of police to be intended to be used for unlawful purposes;

(D) All persons carrying concealed firearms or other deadly weapons reasonably believed to be carried for unlawful purposes;

(E) All persons who have in their possession inks, dies, paper, or other articles necessary in the making of counterfeit bank notes, or in the alteration of bank notes, or dies, molds, or other articles necessary in the making of counterfeit money and reasonably believed to be intended to be used by them for such unlawful purposes.

HISTORY: 130 v 12, § 1. Eff 9-24-63.

§ 109.62 Interstate, national, and international cooperation.

The superintendent of the bureau of criminal identification and investigation shall co-operate with bureaus in other states and with the federal bureau of investigation to develop and carry on a complete interstate, national, and international system of criminal identification and investigation.

Expungement of Record

[§ 2951.04.1] § 2951.041 [Treatment in lieu of conviction.]

(A) If the court has reason to believe that an offender charged with a felony or misdemeanor is a drug dependent person or is in danger of becoming a drug dependent person, the court shall, prior to the entry of a plea, accept that offender's request for treatment in lieu of conviction. If the offender requests treatment in lieu of conviction, the court shall stay all criminal proceedings pending the outcome of the hearing to determine whether the offender is a person eligible for treatment in lieu of conviction. At the conclusion of the hearing, the court shall enter its findings and accept the offender's plea.

(B) The offender is eligible for treatment in lieu of conviction if the court finds that:

(1) The offender's drug dependence or danger of drug dependence was a factor leading to the criminal activity with which he is charged, and rehabilitation through treatment would substantially reduce the likelihood of additional criminal activity;

(2) The offender has been accepted into an appropriate drug treatment facility or program. An appropriate facility or program for rehabilitation or treatment includes a special facility established by the director of mental health pursuant to section 5122.49 of the Revised Code, a program licensed by the director pursuant to section 5122.50 of the Revised Code, a program certified by the director pursuant to division (C) of section 5122.51 of the Revised Code, a public or private hospital, the veterans administration or other agency of the federal government, or private care or treatment rendered by a physician or a psychologist licensed in the state;

(3) If the offender were convicted he would be eligible for probation under section 2951.02 of the Revised Code, except that a finding of any of the criteria listed in divisions (D) and (F) of that section shall cause the offender to be conclusively ineligible for treatment in lieu of conviction;

(4) The offender is not a "repeat offender" or "dangerous offender" as defined in section 2929.01 of the Revised Code;

(5) The offender is not charged with any offense defined in section 2925.02, 2925.03, or 2925.21 of the Revised Code.

Upon such a finding and where the offender enters a plea of guilty or no contest, the court may stay all criminal proceedings and order the offender to a period of rehabilitation. Where a plea of not guilty is entered, a trial shall precede further consideration of the offender's request for treatment in lieu of conviction.

(C) The offender and the prosecuting attorney shall be afforded the opportunity to present evidence to establish eligibility for treatment in lieu of conviction, and the prosecutor may make a recommendation to the court concerning whether or not the offender should receive treatment in lieu of conviction. Upon the request of the offender and to aid the offender in establishing his eligibility for treatment in lieu of conviction, the court may refer the offender for medical and psychiatric examination to the department of mental health or to a state facility designated by the department, to a psychiatric clinic approved by the department, or to a program or facility described in division (B)(2) of this section. However, the psychiatric portion of an examination pursuant to a referral under this division shall be performed only by a court appointed individual who has not previously treated the offender or a member of his immediate family.

(D) An offender found to be eligible for treatment in lieu of conviction and ordered to a period of rehabilitation shall be placed under the control and supervision of the county probation department or the adult parole authority as provided in Chapter 2951. of the Revised Code as if he were on probation. The court shall order a period of rehabilitation to continue for such period as the judge or magistrate determines which may be extended but the total period shall not exceed three years. The period of rehabilitation shall be conditioned upon the offender's voluntary entrance into an appropriate treatment facility or program, faithful submission to prescribed treatment, and upon such other conditions as the court orders.

(E) Treatment of a person ordered to a period of rehabilitation under this section may include hospitalization under close supervision or otherwise, release on an out-patient status under supervision, and such other treatment or after-care as the appropriate treatment facility or program considers necessary or desirable to rehabilitate such person. Persons released from hospitalization or treatment but still subject to the ordered term of rehabilitation may be rehospitalized or returned to treatment at any time it becomes necessary for their treatment and rehabilitation.

(F) If the treating facility or program reports to the probation officer that the offender has successfully completed treatment and is rehabilitated, the court may dismiss the charges pending against the offender. If the treating facility or program reports that the offender has successfully completed treatment and is rehabilitated or has obtained maximum benefits from the treatment program, and that the offender completes the period of rehabilitation and other conditions ordered by the court, the court shall dismiss the charges pending against the offender. If the treating facility or program reports that the offender has failed treatment, or if the offender does not satisfactorily complete the period of rehabilitation or the other conditions ordered by the court, the court may take such actions as it considers appropriate. Upon violation of the conditions of the period of rehabilitation, the court may enter an adjudication of guilt and proceed as otherwise provided. If at any time after treatment has commenced, the treating facility or program reports that the offender fails to submit to or follow the prescribed treatment, the offender shall be arrested as provided in section 2951.08 of the Revised Code and removed from the treatment program or facility. Such failure and removal shall be considered by the court as a violation of the conditions of the period of rehabilitation and dealt with according to law as in cases of probation violation. At any time and for any appropriate reason, the offender, his probation officer, the authority or department that has the duty to control and supervise the offender as provided for in section 2951.05 of the Revised Code, or the treating facility or program may petition the court to reconsider, suspend, or modify its order for treatment concerning that person.

(G) The treating facility or program shall report to the authority or department who has the duty to control and supervise the offender as provided for in section 2951.05 of the Revised Code, at any periodic reporting period the court requires and whenever the offender is changed from an inpatient to an outpatient, is transferred to another treatment facility or program, fails to submit to or follow the prescribed treatment, becomes a discipline problem, is rehabilitated, or obtains the maximum benefit of treatment.

(H) If, on the offender's motion, the court finds that the offender has successfully completed the period of rehabilitation ordered by the court, is rehabilitated, is no longer drug dependent or in danger of becoming drug dependent, and has completed all other conditions, the court shall dismiss the proceeding against him. Successful completion of a period of rehabilitation under this section shall be without adjudication of guilt and is not a criminal conviction for purposes of disqualifications or disabilities imposed by law and upon conviction of a crime, and the court may order the expungement of records in the manner provided in sections 2953.31 to 2953.36 of the Revised Code.

(I) An order denying treatment in lieu of conviction under this section shall not be construed to prevent conditional probation under section 2951.04 of the Revised Code.

(J) Any person ordered to treatment by the terms of this section shall be liable for expenses incurred during the course of treatment and if he is treated in a benevolent institution under the jurisdiction of the department of mental health, he is subject to the provisions of Chapter 5121. of the Revised Code.

(K) An offender charged with a drug abuse offense, other than a minor misdemeanor involving marihuana and otherwise eligible for treatment in lieu of conviction may request and may be ordered to a period of rehabilitation even though the findings required by divisions (B)(1) and (2) of this section are not made. An order to rehabilitation under this division shall be subject to such conditions as the court requires but shall not be conditioned upon entry into an appropriate treatment program or facility.

As used in sections 2953.31 to 2953.36 of the Revised Code:

(A) "First offender" means anyone who has been convicted of an offense in this state or any other jurisdiction, and who has not been previously or subsequently convicted of the same or a different offense in this state or any other jurisdiction. When two or more convictions result from or are connected with the same act, or result from offenses committed at the same time, they shall be counted as one conviction.

For purposes of, and except as otherwise provided in, this division, a conviction for a minor misdemeanor, a conviction for a violation of any section in Chapter 4511., 4513., or 4549. of the Revised Code, or a conviction for a violation of a municipal ordinance that is substantially similar to any section in those chapters, is not a previous or subsequent conviction. A conviction for a violation of section 4511.02, 4511.19, 4511.192 [4511.19.2], 4511.251 [4511.25.1], 4511.80, 4549.02, 4549.021 [4549.02.1], 4549.03, 4549.042 [4549.04.2], or 4549.07, or sections 4549.41 to 4549.46 of the Revised Code, or a conviction for a violation of a municipal ordinance that is substantially similar to any of those sections, shall be considered a previous or subsequent conviction.

(B) "Prosecutor" means the county prosecuting attorney, city director of law, village solicitor, or similar chief legal officer, who has the authority to prosecute a criminal case in the court in which the case is filed.

(C) "Bail forfeiture" means the forfeiture of bail by a defendant who is arrested for the commission of a misdemeanor, other than a defendant in a traffic case as defined in traffic rule 2, if the forfeiture is pursuant to an agreement with the court and prosecutor in the case.

§ 2953.32 Sealing of record of conviction or bail forfeiture.

(A)(1) Except as provided in section 2953.61 of the Revised Code, a first offender may apply to the sentencing court if convicted in this state, or to a court of common pleas if convicted in another state or in a federal court, for the sealing of the record of his conviction, at the expiration of three years after his final discharge if convicted of a felony, or at the expiration of one year after his final discharge if convicted of a misdemeanor.

(2) Any person who has been arrested for any misdemeanor offense and who has effected a bail forfeiture may apply to the court in which the misdemeanor criminal case was pending when bail was forfeited for the sealing of his record in the case. Except as provided in section 2953.61 of the Revised Code, the application may be filed at any time after the expiration of one year from the date on which the bail forfeiture was entered upon the minutes of the court or the journal, whichever entry occurs first.

(B) Upon the filing of an application under this section, the court shall set a date for a hearing and shall notify the prosecutor for the case of the hearing on the application. The prosecutor may object to the granting of the application by filing an objection with the court prior to the date set for the hearing. The prosecutor shall specify in the objection the reasons he believes justify a denial of the application. The court shall direct its regular probation officer, a state probation officer, or the department of probation of the county in which the applicant resides to make inquiries and written reports as the court requires concerning the applicant.

(C)(1) The court shall do each of the following:

(a) Determine whether the applicant is a first offender or whether the forfeiture of bail was agreed to by the applicant and the prosecutor in the case;

(b) Determine whether criminal proceedings are pending against the applicant;

(c) If the applicant is a first offender who applies pursuant to division (A)(1) of this section, determine whether the applicant has been rehabilitated to the satisfaction of the court;

(d) If the prosecutor has filed an objection in accordance with division (B) of this section, consider the reasons against granting the application specified by the prosecutor in the objection;

(e) Weigh the interests of the applicant in having the records pertaining to his conviction sealed against the legitimate needs, if any, of the government to maintain those records.

(2) If the court determines, after complying with division (C)(1) of this section, that the applicant is a first offender or the subject of a bail forfeiture, that no criminal proceeding is pending against him, and that the interests of the applicant in having the records pertaining to his conviction or bail forfeiture sealed are not outweighed by any legitimate governmental needs to maintain such records, and that the rehabilitation of an applicant who is a first offender applying pursuant to division (A)(1) of this section has been attained to the satisfaction of the court, the court shall order all official records pertaining to the case sealed and, except as provided in division (F) of this section, all index references to the case deleted and, in the case of bail forfeitures, shall dismiss the charges in the case. The proceedings in the case shall be deemed not to have occurred and the conviction or bail forfeiture of the person who is the subject of the proceedings shall be sealed, except that upon conviction of a subsequent offense, the sealed record of prior conviction or bail forfeiture may be considered by the court in determining the sentence or other appropriate disposition, including the relief provided for in sections 2953.31 to 2953.33 of the Revised Code.

(3) Upon the filing of an application under this section, the applicant, unless he is indigent, shall pay a fee of fifty dollars. The court shall pay thirty dollars of the fee into the state treasury. It shall pay twenty dollars of the fee into the county general revenue fund if the sealed conviction or bail forfeiture was pursuant to a state statute, or into the general revenue fund of the municipal corporation involved if the sealed conviction or bail forfeiture was pursuant to a municipal ordinance.

(D) Inspection of the sealed records included in the order may be made only by the following persons or for the following purposes:

(1) By any law enforcement officer or any prosecutor, or his assistants, to determine whether the nature and character of the offense with which a person is to be charged would be affected by virtue of the person's previously having been convicted of a crime;

(2) By the parole or probation officer of the person who is the subject of the records, for the exclusive use of the officer in supervising the person while he is on parole or probation and in making inquiries and written reports as requested by the court or adult parole authority;

(3) Upon application by the person who is the subject of the records, by the persons named in his application;

(4) By a law enforcement officer who was involved in the case, for use in the officer's defense of a civil action arising out of the officer's involvement in that case;

(5) By any prosecuting attorney or his assistants to determine a defendant's eligibility to enter a pretrial diversion program established pursuant to section 2935.36 of the Revised Code;

(6) By any law enforcement agency or any authorized employee of a law enforcement agency as part of a background investigation of a person who applies for employment with the agency as a law enforcement officer;

(7) By any law enforcement agency or any authorized employee of a law enforcement agency, for the purposes set forth in, and in the manner provided in, section 2953.321 [2953.32.1] of the Revised Code.

When the nature and character of the offense with which a person is to be charged would be affected by the information, it may be used for the purpose of charging the person with an offense.

(E) In any criminal proceeding, proof of any otherwise admissible prior conviction may be introduced and proved, notwithstanding the fact that for any such prior conviction an order of sealing previously was issued pursuant to sections 2953.31 to 2953.36 of the Revised Code.

(F) The person or governmental agency, office, or department that maintains sealed records pertaining to convictions or bail forfeitures that have been sealed pursuant to this section may maintain a manual or computerized index to the sealed records. The index shall contain only the name of, and alphanumeric identifiers that relate to, the persons who are the subject of the sealed records, the word "sealed," and the name of the person, agency, office, or department that has custody of the sealed records, and shall not contain the name of the crime committed. The index shall be made available by the person who has custody of the sealed records only for the purposes set forth in divisions (C), (D), and (E) of this section.

[§ 2953.32.1] § 2953.321 Disposition and use of investigatory work product.

(A) As used in this section, "investigatory work product" means any records or reports of a law enforcement officer or agency that are excepted from the definition of "official records" contained in section 2953.51 of the Revised Code and that pertain to a case the records of which have been ordered sealed pursuant to division (C)(2) of section 2953.32 of the Revised Code.

(B) Upon the issuance of an order by a court pursuant to division (C)(2) of section 2953.32 of the Revised Code directing that all official records pertaining to a case be sealed:

(1) Every law enforcement officer who possesses investigatory work product immediately shall deliver that work product to his employing law enforcement agency.

(2) Except as provided in division (B)(3) of this section, every law enforcement agency that possesses investigatory work product shall close that work product to all persons who are not directly employed by the law enforcement agency and shall treat that work product, in relation to all persons other than those who are directly employed by the law enforcement agency, as if it did not exist and never had existed.

(3) A law enforcement agency that possesses investigatory work product may permit another law enforcement agency to use that work product in the investigation of another offense if the facts incident to the offense being investigated by the other law enforcement agency and the facts incident to an offense that is the subject of the case are reasonably similar. The agency that permits the use of investigatory work product may provide the other agency with the name of the person who is the subject of the case if it believes that the name of the person is necessary to the conduct of the investigation by the other agency.

(C)(1) Except as provided in division (B)(3) of this section, no law enforcement officer or other person employed by a law enforcement agency shall knowingly release, disseminate, or otherwise make the investigatory work product or any information contained in that work product available to, or discuss any information contained in it with, any person not employed by the employing law enforcement agency.

(2) No law enforcement agency, or person employed by a law enforcement agency, that receives investigatory work product pursuant to division (B)(3) of this section shall use that work product for any purpose other than the investigation of the offense for which it was obtained from the other law enforcement agency, or disclose the name of the person who is the subject of the work product except when necessary for the conduct of the investigation of the offense, or the prosecution of the person for committing the offense, for which it was obtained from the other law enforcement agency.

(D) Whoever violates division (C)(1) or (2) of this section is guilty of divulging confidential investigatory work product, a misdemeanor of the fourth degree.

§ 2953.33 Rights and privileges restored; answering questions.

(3) If the court determines, after complying with division (B)(2) of this section, that the person was found not guilty in the case, that the complaint, indictment, or information in the case was dismissed, or that a no bill was returned in the case and that the appropriate period of time has expired from the date of the report to the court of the no bill by the foreman or deputy foreman of the grand jury; that no criminal proceedings are pending against the person; and the interests of the person in having the records pertaining to the case sealed are not outweighed by any legitimate governmental needs to maintain such records, the court shall issue an order directing that all official records pertaining to the case be sealed and that, except as provided in section 2953.53 of the Revised Code, the proceedings in the case be deemed not to have occurred.

§ 2953.53 Order to seal records; index to sealed records.

(A) The court shall send notice of any order to seal official records issued pursuant to section 2953.52 of the Revised Code to any public office or agency that the court knows or has reason to believe may have any record of the case, whether or not it is an official record, that is the subject of the order. The notice shall be sent by certified mail, return receipt requested.

(B) A person whose official records have been sealed pursuant to an order issued pursuant to section 2953.52 of the Revised Code may present a copy of that order and a written request to comply with it, to a public office or agency that has a record of the case that is the subject of the order.

(C) An order to seal official records issued pursuant to section 2953.52 of the Revised Code applies to every public office or agency that has a record of the case that is the subject of the order, regardless of whether it receives notice of the hearing on the application for the order to seal the official records or receives a copy of the order to seal the official records pursuant to division (A) or (B) of this section.

(D) Upon receiving a copy of an order to seal official records pursuant to division (A) or (B) of this section or upon otherwise becoming aware of an applicable order to seal official records issued pursuant to section 2953.52 of the Revised Code, a public office or agency shall comply with the order and, if applicable, with the provisions of section 2953.54 of the Revised Code, except that it may maintain a record of the case that is the subject of the order if the record is maintained for the purpose of compiling statistical data only and does not contain any reference to the person who is the subject of the case and the order.

A public office or agency also may maintain an index of sealed official records, in a form similar to that for sealed records of conviction as set forth in division (F) of section 2953.32 of the Revised Code, access to which may not be afforded to any person other than the person who has custody of the sealed official records. The sealed official records to which such an index pertains shall not be available to any person, except that the official records of a case that have been sealed may be made available to the following persons for the following purposes:

(1) To the person who is the subject of the records upon written application, and to any other person named in the application, for any purpose;

(2) To a law enforcement officer who was involved in the case, for use in the officer's defense of a civil action arising out of the officer's involvement in that case;

§ 2953.61 Sealing of records in cases of multiple charges.

When a person is charged with two or more offenses as a result of or in connection with the same act and at least one of the charges has a final disposition that is different than the final disposition of the other charges, the person may not apply to the court for the sealing of his record in any of the cases until such time as he would be able to apply to the court and have all of the records in all of the cases pertaining to those charges sealed pursuant to divisions (A)(1) and (2) of section 2953.32 and divisions (A)(1) and (2) of section 2953.52 of the Revised Code.

(D) If an individual who is authorized to inspect personal information that is maintained in a personal information system requests the state or local agency that maintains the system to provide a copy of any personal information that he is authorized to inspect, the agency shall provide a copy of the personal information to the individual. Each state and local agency may establish reasonable fees for the service of copying, upon request, personal information that is maintained by the agency.

(2) This section does not provide a person who is the subject of personal information maintained in a personal information system, his legal guardian, or an attorney authorized by the person, with a right to inspect or have copied, or require an agency that maintains a personal information system to permit the inspection of or to copy, a confidential law enforcement investigatory record or trial preparation record, as those terms are defined in divisions (A)(2) and (4) of section 149.43 of the Revised Code.

(F) This section does not apply to the papers, records, and books pertaining to an adoption, which under section 3107.17 of the Revised Code are subject to inspection only upon consent of the court.

(3) The agency shall include the statement or notation in any subsequent transfer, report, or dissemination of the disputed information and may include with the statement or notation of the disputant a statement by the agency that it has reasonable grounds to believe that the dispute is frivolous or irrelevant, and of the reasons for its belief.

(B) The presence of contradictory information in the disputant's file does not alone constitute reasonable grounds to believe that the dispute is frivolous or irrelevant.

An action under this division shall be brought within two years after the cause of action accrued or within six months after the wrongdoing is discovered, whichever is later; provided that no action shall be brought later than six years after the cause of action accrued. The cause of action accrues at the time that the wrongdoing occurs.

(B) Any person who, or any state or local agency that, violates or proposes to violate any provision of this chapter may be enjoined by any court of competent jurisdiction. [1] Section 1 et seq. of this title.

§ 19. Sealing and unsealing of records—Procedure

A. Any person qualified under Section 18 of Title 22 of the Oklahoma Statutes may petition the district court of the district in which the arrest information pertaining to him is located for the sealing of all or any part of said record, except basic identification information.

B. Upon the filing of a petition or entering of a court order, the court shall set a date for a hearing, which hearing may be closed at the court's discretion, and shall provide thirty (30) days of notice of the hearing to the district attorney, the arresting agency, the Oklahoma State Bureau of Investigation, and any other person or agency whom the court has reason to believe may have relevant information related to the sealing of such record.

C. Upon a finding that the harm to privacy of the person in interest or dangers of unwarranted adverse consequences outweigh the public interest in retaining the records, the court may order such records, or any part thereof except basic identification information, to be sealed. If the court finds that neither sealing of the records nor maintaining of the records unsealed by the agency would serve the ends of justice, the court may enter an appropriate order limiting access to such records.

Any order entered under this subsection shall specify those agencies to which such order shall apply.

D. Upon the entry of an order to seal the records, or any part thereof, the subject official actions shall be deemed never to have occurred, and the person in interest and all criminal justice agencies may properly reply, upon any inquiry in the matter, that no such action ever occurred and that no such record exists with respect to such person.

E. Inspection of the records included in the order may thereafter be permitted by the court only upon petition by the person in interest who is the subject of such records, the Attorney General, or by the district attorney and only to those persons and for such purposes named in such petition.

F. Employers, educational institutions, state and local government agencies, officials, and employees shall not, in any application or interview or otherwise, require an applicant to disclose any information contained in sealed records. An applicant need not, in answer to any question concerning arrest and criminal records provide information that has been sealed, including any reference to or information concerning such sealed information and may state that no such action has ever occurred. Such an application may not be denied solely because of the applicant's refusal to disclose arrest and criminal records information that has been sealed.

G. All arrest and criminal records information existing prior to the effective date of this section, except basic identification information, is also subject to sealing in accordance with subsection C of this section.

H. Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize the physical destruction of any criminal justice records.

I. For the purposes of this section, sealed materials which are recorded in the same document as unsealed material may be recorded in a separate document, and sealed, then obliterated in the original document.

J. For the purposes of this act,[1] district court index reference of sealed material shall be destroyed, removed or obliterated.

K. Any record ordered to be sealed pursuant to this act, if not unsealed within ten (10) years of the expungement order, may be obliterated or destroyed at the end of said ten-year period.

L. Subsequent to records being sealed as provided herein, the district attorney, the arresting agency, the Oklahoma State Bureau of Investigation, or other interested person or agency may petition the court for an order unsealing said records. Upon filing of a petition the court shall set a date for hearing, which hearing may be closed at the court's discretion, and shall provide thirty (30) days' notice to all interested parties. If, upon hearing, the court determines there has been a change of conditions or that there is a compelling reason to unseal the records, the court may order all or a portion of the records unsealed.

M. Nothing herein shall prohibit the introduction of evidence regarding actions sealed pursuant to the provisions of this section at any hearing or trial for purposes of impeaching the credibility of a witness or as evidence of character testimony pursuant to Section 2608 of Title 12 of the Oklahoma Statutes.

(2) The records of the department of crime reports to the department and of arrests made by the department, however, shall not be confidential and shall be available in the same manner as the records of arrest and reports of crimes of other law enforcement agencies under ORS 192.500 (1)(c). [1963 c.547 §7; 1973 c.794 §16; 1975 c.548 §7; 1979 c.518 §1; 1981 c.905 §3]

181.550 Reporting of crime statistics. (1) All law enforcement agencies shall report to the Executive Department statistics con-

(b) As otherwise directed by the Governor concerning general criminal categories of criminal activities but not individual criminal records.

(2) The Executive Department shall prepare:

(a) Quarterly and annual reports for the use of agencies reporting under subsection (1) of this section, and others having an interest therein; and

(b) Special reports as directed by the Governor. [1973 c.130 §2]

181.555 Establishment of procedures for access to criminal record information. The department shall adopt rules under ORS 183.310 to 183.550 establishing procedures:

(1) To provide access to criminal offender information by criminal justice agencies and by other state and local agencies.

(2) (a) To permit a person or agency not included in subsection (1) of this section to inquire as to whether the department has compiled criminal offender information on an individual.

(b) To provide that any person making an inquiry under paragraph (a) of this subsection furnish the department with such information known to the inquirer as will assist the department in identifying and notifying the individual about whom the information is sought. If the information is sought by an employer for employment purposes, the employer first shall have advised the employe or prospective employe that such information might be sought and shall state upon making the request that the individual has been so advised and the manner in which the individual was so advised.

(3) To provide each individual about whom criminal offender information has been compiled the right to inspect and challenge that criminal offender information.

(4) Providing for purging or updating of inaccurate or incomplete information. [1975 c.548 §8; 1981 c.905 §6]

181.560 Procedure when information requested by other than criminal justice agency. (1) When a person or agency, other than a criminal justice agency or a law enforcement agency, pursuant to ORS 181.555 (2), requests from the department criminal offender information regarding an individual, if the department's compiled criminal offender information on the individual contains records of any conviction, or of any arrest less than one year old on which there has been no acquittal or dismissal, the department shall respond to the request as follows:

(a) The department shall send prompt written notice of the request to the individual about whom the request has been made. The department shall address the notice to the individual's last address known to the department and to the individual's address, if any, supplied by the person making the request. However, the department has no obligation to insure that the addresses are current. The notice shall state that the department has received a request for information concerning the individual and shall identify the person or agency making the request. Notice to the individual about whom the request is made shall include:

(A) A copy of all information to be supplied to the person or agency making the request;

(B) Notice to the individual of the manner in which the individual may become informed of the procedures adopted under ORS 181.555 (3) for challenging inaccurate criminal offender information; and

(C) Notice to the individual of the manner in which the individual may become informed of rights, if any, under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, and notice that discrimination by an employer on the basis of arrest records alone may violate federal civil rights law and that the individual may obtain further information by contacting the Bureau of Labor and Industries.

(b) Fourteen days after sending notice to the individual about whom the request is made, the department shall deliver to the person or agency making the request the following information if held regarding any convictions and any arrests less than one year old on which the records show no acquittal or dismissal:

(A) Date of arrest.

(B) Offense for which arrest was made.

(C) Arresting agency.

(D) Court of origin.

(E) Disposition, including sentence imposed, date of parole if any and parole revocations if any.

(c) The department shall deliver only the data authorized under paragraph (b) of this subsection.

(d) The department shall inform the person or agency requesting the criminal offender information that the department's response is being furnished only on the basis of similarity of names and description and that identification is not confirmed by fingerprints.

(2) If the department holds no criminal offender information on an individual, or the department's compiled criminal offender information on the individual consists only of nonconviction data, the department shall respond to a request under this section that the individual has no criminal record and shall release no further information.

(3) The department shall keep a record of all persons and agencies making inquiries under ORS 181.555 (2) and shall keep a record of the names of the individuals about whom such persons or agencies are inquiring, regardless of whether the department has compiled any criminal offender information on the individuals. These records shall be public records and shall be available for inspection under ORS 192.410 to 192.500.

(4) Nothing in ORS 181.066, 181.540, 181.555 or this section is intended to prevent the department from charging a reasonable fee, pursuant to ORS 192.440, for responding to a criminal offender information inquiry or for making information available under ORS 181.555 or this section. [1981 c.905 §5]

181.575 Specific information not to be collected or maintained. No law enforcement agency, as defined in ORS 181.010, may collect or maintain information about the political, religious or social views, associations or activities of any individual, group, association, organization, corporation, business or partnership unless such information directly relates to an investigation of criminal activities, and there are reasonable grounds to suspect the subject of the information is or may be involved in criminal conduct. (2) A copy of the motion and a full set of the defendant's fingerprints shall be served upon the office of the prosecuting attorney who prosecuted the crime or violation and opportunity be given to contest the motion. The fingerprint card with the notation "motion for setting aside conviction" shall be forwarded to the bureau. Information resulting from the fingerprint search along with the fingerprint card shall be returned to the prosecuting attorney.

(3) Upon hearing the motion, the court may require the filing of such affidavits and may require the taking of such proofs as it deems proper. If the court determines that the circumstances and behavior of the applicant from the date of conviction to the date of the hearing on the motion warrant setting aside the conviction, it shall enter an appropriate order which shall state the original arrest charge and the conviction charge if different from the original, date of charge, submitting agency and disposition. The order shall further state that positive identification has been established by the bureau and further identified as to state bureau number or submitting agency number. Upon the entry of such an order, the applicant for purposes of the law shall be deemed not to have been previously convicted and the court shall issue an order sealing the record of conviction and other official records in the case, including the records of arrest resulting in the criminal proceeding.

(4) The clerk of the court shall forward a certified copy of the order to such agencies as directed by the court. A certified copy must be sent to the Corrections Division when the person has been in the custody of the Corrections Division. Upon entry of such an order, such conviction, arrest or other proceeding shall be deemed not to have occurred, and the applicant may answer accordingly any questions relating to their occurrence.

(5) The provisions of subsection (1) of this section apply to a conviction of:

(a) A Class C felony.

(b) The crime of possession of the narcotic drug marijuana when that crime was punishable as a felony only.

(e) A violation described in ORS 167.207, 167.217 or 167.222.

(f) An offense committed before January 1, 1972, which if committed after that date would be:

(C) A misdemeanor.

(D) A violation.

Chapter 192

Public Records

192.001 Policy concerning public records. (1) The Legislative Assembly finds that:

(a) The records of the state and its political subdivisions are so interrelated and interdependent, that the decision as to what records are retained or destroyed is a matter of state-wide public policy.

(b) The interest and concern of citizens in public records recognizes no jurisdictional boundaries, and extends to such records wherever they may be found in Oregon.

(c) As local programs become increasingly intergovernmental, the state and its political subdivisions have a responsibility to insure orderly retention and destruction of all public records, whether current or noncurrent, and to insure the preservation of public records of value for administrative, legal and research purposes.

(2) The purpose of ORS 192.005 to 192.170 and 357.805 to 357.895 is to provide direction for the retention or destruction of public records in Oregon, and to assure the retention of records essential to meet the needs of the Legislative Assembly, the state, its political subdivisions and its citizens, in so far as the records affect the administration of government, legal rights and responsibilities, and the accumulation of information of value for research purposes of all kinds. All records not included in types described in this subsection shall be destroyed in accordance with the rules adopted by the Secretary of State.

"Public records" includes correspondence, public records made by photocopying and public writings, but does not include:

(a) Records of the Legislative Assembly, its committees, officers and employes.

192.040 Making, filing and recording records by photocopying. A state agency or political subdivision making public records or receiving and filing or recording public records, may do such making or receiving and filing or recording by means of photocopying. Such photocopying shall, except for records which are treated as confidential pursuant to law, be made, assembled and indexed, in lieu of any other method provided by law, in such manner as the governing body of the state agency or political subdivision considers appropriate.

(1) "Public body" includes every state officer, agency, department, division, bureau, board and commission; every county and city governing body, school district, special district, municipal corporation, and any board, department, commission, council, or agency thereof; and any other public agency of this state.

(2) "State agency" includes every state officer, agency, department, division, bureau, board and commission.

(3) "Person" includes any natural person, corporation, partnership, firm or association.

(4) "Public record" includes any writing containing information relating to the conduct of the public's business, prepared, owned, used or retained by a public body regardless of physical form or characteristics.

192.420 Right to inspect public records. Every person has a right to inspect any public record of a public body in this state, except as otherwise expressly provided by ORS 192.500.
[1973 c.794 s.3]

192.440 Certified copies of public records; fees. (1) The custodian of any public record which a person has a right to inspect shall give him, on demand, a certified copy of it, if the record is of a nature permitting such copying, or shall furnish reasonable opportunity to inspect or copy.

(2) The public body may establish fees reasonably calculated to reimburse it for its actual cost in making such records available.

192.450 Petition to review denial of right to inspect state public record; appeal from decision of Attorney General denying inspection. (1) Subject to ORS 192.480, any person denied the right to inspect or to receive a copy of any public record of a state agency may petition the Attorney General to review the public record to determine if it may be withheld from public inspection. The burden is on the agency to sustain its action. The Attorney General shall issue his order denying or granting the petition, or denying it in part and granting it in part, within seven days from the day he receives the petition.

(2) If the Attorney General grants the petition and orders the state agency to disclose the record, or if he grants the petition in part and orders the state agency to disclose a portion of the record, the state agency shall comply with the order in full within seven days after issuance of the order, unless within the seven-day period it issues a notice of its intention to institute proceedings for injunctive or declaratory relief in the Circuit Court for Marion County. Copies of the notice shall be sent to the Attorney General and by certified mail to the petitioner at the address shown on the petition. The state agency shall institute the proceedings within seven days after it issues its notice of intention to do so. If the Attorney General denies the petition in whole or in part, or if the state agency continues to withhold the record or a part of it notwithstanding an order to disclose by the Attorney General, the person seeking disclosure may institute such proceedings.

(3) The Attorney General shall serve as counsel for the state agency in a suit filed under subsection (2) of this section if the suit arises out of a determination by him that the public record should not be disclosed, or that a part of the public record should not be disclosed if the state agency has fully complied with his order requiring disclosure of another part or parts of the public record, and in no other case. In any case in which the Attorney General is prohibited from serving as counsel for the state agency, the agency may retain special counsel.

192.460 Procedure to review denial of right to inspect other public records. ORS 192.450 is equally applicable to the case of a person denied the right to inspect or receive a copy of any public record of a public body other than a state agency, except that in such case the district attorney of the county in which the public body is located, or if it is located in more than one county the district attorney of the county in which the administrative offices of the public body are located, shall carry out the functions of the Attorney General, and any suit filed shall be filed in the circuit court for such county, and except that the district attorney shall not serve as counsel for the public body, in the cases permitted under subsection (3) of ORS 192.450, unless he ordinarily serves as counsel for it.

192.465 Effect of failure of Attorney General, district attorney or public official to take timely action on inspection petition. (1) The failure of the Attorney General or district attorney to issue an order under ORS 192.450 or 192.460 denying, granting, or denying in part and granting in part a petition to require disclosure within seven days from the day of receipt of the petition shall be treated as an order denying the petition for the purpose of determining whether a person may institute proceedings for injunctive or declaratory relief under ORS 192.450 or 192.460.

(2) The failure of an elected official to deny, grant, or deny in part and grant in part a request to inspect or receive a copy of a public record within seven days from the day of receipt of the request shall be treated as a denial of the request for the purpose of determining whether a person may institute proceedings for injunctive or declaratory relief under ORS 192.450 or 192.460.

192.470 Petition form; procedure when petition received. (1) A petition to the Attorney General or district attorney requesting him to order a public record to be made available for inspection or to be produced shall be in substantially the following form, or in a form containing the same information:

———— (date)

I (we), ———— (name(s)), the undersigned, request the Attorney General (or District Attorney of ———— County) to order ———— (name of governmental body) and its employes to (make available for inspection) (produce a copy or copies of) the following records:

1. ————
(Name or description of record)

2. ————
(Name or description of record)

I (we) asked to inspect and/or copy these records on ———— (date) at ———— (address). The request was denied by the following person(s):

1. ————
(Name of public officer or employe; title or position, if known)

2. ————
(Name of public officer or employe; title or position, if known)

This form should be delivered or mailed to the Attorney General's office in Salem, or the district attorney's office in the county courthouse.

(2) Promptly upon receipt of such a petition, the Attorney General or district attorney shall notify the public body involved. The public body shall thereupon transmit the public record disclosure of which is sought, or a copy, to the Attorney General, together with a statement of its reasons for believing that the public record should not be disclosed. In an appropriate case, with the consent of the Attorney General, the public body may instead disclose the nature or substance of the public record to the Attorney General.

192.480 Procedure to review denial by elected official of right to inspect public records. In any case in which a person is denied the right to inspect or to receive a copy of a public record in the custody of an elected official, or in the custody of any other person but as to which an elected official claims the right to withhold disclosure, no petition to require disclosure may be filed with the Attorney General or district attorney, or if a petition is filed it shall not be considered by the Attorney General or district attorney after a claim of right to withhold disclosure by an elected official. In such case a person denied the right to inspect or to receive a copy of a public record may institute proceedings for injunctive or declaratory relief in the appropriate circuit court, as specified in ORS 192.450 or 192.460, and the Attorney General or district attorney may upon request serve or decline to serve, in his discretion, as counsel in such suit for an elected official for which he ordinarily serves as counsel. Nothing in this section shall preclude an elected official from requesting advice from the Attorney General or a district attorney as to whether a public record should be disclosed.

192.490 Court authority in reviewing action denying right to inspect public

(2) The following public records are exempt from disclosure under ORS 192.410 to 192.500:

(a) Communications within a public body or between public bodies of an advisory nature to the extent that they cover other than purely factual materials and are preliminary to any final agency determination of policy or action. This exemption shall not apply unless the public body shows that in the particular instance the public interest in encouraging frank communication between officials and employes of public bodies clearly outweighs the public interest in disclosure;

(b) Information of a personal nature such as that kept in a personal, medical or similar file, if the public disclosure thereof would constitute an unreasonable invasion of privacy, unless the public interest by clear and convincing evidence requires disclosure in the particular instance. The party seeking disclosure shall have the burden of showing that public disclosure would not constitute an unreasonable invasion of privacy;

(c) Information submitted to a public body in confidence and not otherwise required by law to be submitted, where such information should reasonably be considered confidential, the public body has obliged itself in good faith not to disclose the information, and when the public interest would suffer by the disclosure;

(d) Information or records of the Corrections Division, including the State Board of Parole, to the extent that disclosure thereof would interfere with the rehabilitation of a person in custody of the division or substantially prejudice or prevent the carrying out of the functions of the division, if the public interest in confidentiality clearly outweighs the public interest in disclosure;

(e) Records, reports and other information received or compiled by the Superintendent of Banks in his administration of ORS chapters 723, 724, 725 and 726, not otherwise required by law to be made public, to the extent that the interests of lending institutions, their officers, employes and customers in preserving the confidentiality of such information outweighs the public interest in disclosure;

(f) Reports made to or filed with the court under ORS 137.075 or 137.530;

(g) Any public records or information the disclosure of which is prohibited by federal law or regulations;

(h) Public records or information the disclosure of which is prohibited or restricted or otherwise made confidential or privileged under ORS 1.440, 7.211, 7.215, 41.675, 44.040, 57.850, 135.155, 146.780, 173.230, 179.495, 181.540, 306.129, 308.290, 314.835, 314.840, 336.195, 341.290, 342.850, 344.600, 346.165, 346.167, 351.065, 411.320, 416.230, 418.135, 418.770, 419.567, 432.060, 432.120, 432.425, 432.430, 469.090, 474.160, 476.090, 483.610, 656.702, 657.665, 706.720, 706.730, 715.040, 722.414, 731.264 or 744.017;

(i) Public records or information described in this section, furnished by the public body originally compiling, preparing or receiving them to any other public officer or public body in connection with performance of the duties of the recipient, if the considerations originally giving rise to the confidential or exempt nature of the public records or information remain applicable; and

(j) Records of the Energy Facility Siting Council concerning the review or approval of security programs pursuant to subsection (3) of ORS 469.530.

(3) If any public record contains material which is not exempt under subsection (1), (2) or (4) of this section, as well as material which is exempt from disclosure, the public body shall separate the exempt and nonexempt material and make the nonexempt material available for examination.

(4) (a) Upon application of any public body prior to convening of the 1975 regular session of the Legislative Assembly, the Governor may exempt any class of public records, in addition to the classes specified in subsection (1) of this section, from disclosure under ORS 192.410 to 192.500 unless the public interest requires disclosure in the particular instance, if he finds that the class of public records for which exemption is sought is such that unlimited public access thereto would substantially prejudice or prevent the carrying out of any public function or purpose, so that the public interest in confidentiality of such records substantially outweighs the public interest in disclosure. Such exemption from disclosure shall be limited or conditioned to the extent the Govenor finds appropriate.

(b) Prior to the granting of any exemption under this subsection the Governor shall hold a public hearing after notice as provided by ORS 183.335, or he may designate the Attorney General to hold the required hearing.

(c) Any exemption granted under this subsection shall expire June 14, 1975.

192.500 Public records exempt from disclosure

(1) The following public records are exempt from disclosure under ORS 192.410 to 192.500 unless the public interest requires disclosure in the particular instance:

(a) Records of a public body pertaining to litigation to which the public body is a party if the complaint has been filed, or if the complaint has not been filed, if the public body shows that such litigation is reasonably likely to occur. This exemption does not apply to litigation which has been concluded, and nothing in this paragraph shall limit any right or opportunity granted by discovery or deposition statutes to a party to litigation or potential litigation;

(b) Trade secrets. "Trade secrets," as used in this section, may include, but are not limited to, any formula, plan, pattern, process, tool, mechanism, compound, procedure, production data, or compilation of information which is not patented, which is known only to certain individuals within a commercial concern who are using it to fabricate, produce, or compound an article of trade or a service or to locate minerals or other substances, having commercial value, and which gives its user an opportunity to obtain a business advantage over competitors who do not know or use it;

(c) Investigatory information compiled for criminal law purposes, except that the record of an arrest or the report of a crime shall not be confidential unless and only so long as there is a clear need in a particular case to delay disclosure in the course of a specific investigation. Nothing in this paragraph shall limit any right constitutionally guaranteed, or granted by statute, to disclosure or discovery in criminal cases. For purposes of this paragraph, the record of an arrest or the report of a crime includes, but is not limited to:

  (A) The arrested person's name, age, residence, employment, marital status and similar biographical information;

  (B) The offense with which the arrested person is charged;

  (C) The conditions of release pursuant to ORS 135.230 to 135.290;

  (D) The identity of and biographical information concerning both complaining party and victim;

  (E) The identity of the investigating and arresting agency and the length of the investigation;

  (F) The circumstances of arrest, including time, place, resistance, pursuit and weapons used; and

  (G) Such information as may be necessary to enlist public assistance in apprehending fugitives from justice;

(d) Test questions, scoring keys, and other examination data used to administer a licensing examination, examination for employment, or academic examination before the examination is given and if the examination is to be used again;
(e) Information consisting of production records, sale or purchase records or catch records, or similar business records of a private concern or enterprise, required by law to be submitted to or inspected by a governmental body to allow it to determine fees or assessments payable or to establish production quotas, and the amounts of such fees or assessments payable or paid, to the extent that such information is in a form which would permit identification of the individual concern or enterprise. This exemption does not include records submitted by long term care facilities as defined in ORS 442.015 to the state for purposes of reimbursement of expenses or determining fees for patient care. Nothing in this paragraph shall limit the use which can be made of such information for regulatory purposes or its admissibility in any enforcement proceeding;
(f) Information relating to the appraisal of real estate prior to its acquisition;
(g) The names and signatures of employes who sign authorization cards or petitions for the purpose of requesting representation or decertification elections;
(h) Investigatory information relating to any complaint filed under ORS 659.040 or 659.045, until such time as the complaint is resolved under ORS 659.050, or a final administrative determination is made under ORS 659.060;
(i) Investigatory information relating to any complaint or charge filed under ORS 243.676 and 663.180;
(j) The circulation records of a public library showing use of specific library materials by named persons;
(k) Records, reports and other information received or compiled by the director under ORS 697.732; and
(l) Information concerning the location of archaeological sites or objects as those terms are defined in ORS 358.905, except if the governing body of an Indian tribe requests the information and the need for the information is related to that Indian tribe's cultural or religious activities. This exemption does not include information relating to a site that is all or part of an existing, commonly known and publicized tourist facility or attraction.

(2) The following public records are exempt from disclosure under ORS 192.410 to 192.500:

(a) Communications within a public body or between public bodies of an advisory nature to the extent that they cover other than purely factual materials and are preliminary to any final agency determination of policy or action. This exemption shall not apply unless the public body shows that in the particular instance the public interest in encouraging frank communication between officials and employes of public bodies clearly outweighs the public interest in disclosure;

(b) Information of a personal nature such as but not limited to that kept in a personal, medical or similar file, if the public disclosure thereof would constitute an unreasonable invasion of privacy, unless the public interest by clear and convincing evidence requires disclosure in the particular instance. The party seeking disclosure shall have the burden of showing that public disclosure would not constitute an unreasonable invasion of privacy;

(c) Information submitted to a public body in confidence and not otherwise required by law to be submitted, where such information should reasonably be considered confidential, the public body has obliged itself in good faith not to disclose the information, and when the public interest would suffer by the disclosure;

(d) Information or records of the Corrections Division, including the State Board of Parole, to the extent that disclosure thereof would interfere with the rehabilitation of a person in custody of the division or substantially prejudice or prevent the carrying out of the functions of the division, if the public interest in confidentiality clearly outweighs the public interest in disclosure;

(e) Records, reports and other information received or compiled by the Superintendent of Banks in the administration of ORS chapters 723, 725 and 726, not otherwise required by law to be made public, to the extent that the interests of lending institutions, their officers, employes and customers in preserving the confidentiality of such information outweighs the public interest in disclosure;

(f) Reports made to or filed with the court under ORS 137.077 or 137.530;

(g) Any public records or information the disclosure of which is prohibited by federal law or regulations;

(h) Public records or information the disclosure of which is prohibited or restricted or otherwise made confidential or privileged under ORS 1.440, 7.211, 7.215, 9.545, 40.225 to 40.295, 41.675, 56.100, 57.850, 135.155, 146.780, 147.115, 173.230, 179.495, 181.540, 251.145, 308.290, 308.413, 314.835, 314.840, 336.195, 341.290, 342.850, 344.600, 346.165, 346.167, 351.065, 351.070, 410.150, 410.690, 411.320, 418.135, 418.770, 419.567, 441.113, 441.671, 469.090, 476.090, 482.141, 483.610, 656.702, 657.665, 671.550, 673.710, 677.425, 678.126, 679.280, 684.023, 684.100, 706.720, 706.730, 722.414, 731.264, 731.312,

734.650, 734.830, 744.017, 756.075, 760.140, 761.421, 767.644 or ORS chapter 432;

(i) Public records or information described in this section, furnished by the public body originally compiling, preparing or receiving them to any other public officer or public body in connection with performance of the duties of the recipient, if the considerations originally giving rise to the confidential or exempt nature of the public records or information remain applicable;

(j) Records of the Energy Facility Siting Council concerning the review or approval of security programs pursuant to ORS 469.530 (3); and

(k) Employe and retiree address, telephone number and other nonfinancial membership records maintained by the Public Employes' Retirement System pursuant to ORS 237.001 to 237.320.

(3) If any public record contains material which is not exempt under subsection (1) or (2) of this section, as well as material which is exempt from disclosure, the public body shall separate the exempt and nonexempt material and make the nonexempt material available for examination.

1. In General

Since public policy favors disclosure of public records, the statutory exemption to disclosure set forth in ORS 192.500(1)(h) is narrowly construed. The purpose of the exemption is fulfilled by authorizing that disclosure be denied to members of the public exclusive of those directly involved in an unlawful employment practice dispute under ORS Ch. 659. Thus, in a proceeding between the Commission of Labor and an employer accused of unlawful employment practices, the ordinary rules of discovery apply, and it was an error for the Commissioner to deny the employer the right to examine the Commissioner's investigatory file on the case against the employer. Ogden v Bureau of Labor, 68 Or App 235, 682 P2d 802 (1984).

It was not error to admit a witness's testimony about his opinion of the value of condemned property, even though the witness relied on information contained in an earlier appraisal report prepared by the witness's father. Even if the report were to be classed as information protected by the privilege contained in ORS 44.040(1)(e) (ORS 40.270), this privilege would not apply to bar the witness's testimony independent of the report, where there was no basis for concluding that the witness was a public official within the meaning of the privilege. City of Portland v Nudelman, 45 Or App 425, 608 P2d 1190 (1980).

The Public Records Act did not apply to a private taxpayer's business records, which the taxpayer sought to keep confidential from the Department of Revenue under the theory that disclosure would risk revealing sensitive information to business competitors. Eola Concrete Tile & Products Co. v State, 288 Or 241, 603 P2d 1181 (1979).

ORS 192.500 was not applicable to a case in which the facts occurred prior to the statute's effective date, regardless of which party misled the trial court into believing that the statute applied. Ayers v Lee Enterprises, Inc., 277 Or 527, 561 P2d 998 (1977).

ORS 192.500(1) indicates that the Legislature generally intended that secrecy of public documents would last only as long as there was a reason for secrecy. Jensen v Schiffman, 24 Or App 11, 544 P2d 1048 (1976).

Under ORS 192.490(1), the burden is on the public body denying access to public records to sustain its action. The effect of this statutory rule is to be interpreted as assigning a burden of pleading to public agencies, regardless of where the ultimate burden of proof might lie. Thus, it behooves an agency that is arguing for nondisclosure of public records to, in its pleading: (1) describe the records in question with as much particularity as possible, consistent with the claim of confidentiality; and (2) indicate, separately for each record, the exemption or exemptions under ORS 192.500 that it claims to be applicable. Turner v Reed, 22 Or App 177, 538 P2d 373 (1975).

For at least some categories of documents, the question of whether they are available for public inspection may be answered solely on the basis of the nature of the documents, without regard to the particular contents of the documents. Stated differently, in applying the exceptions to disclosure in ORS 192.500(1) and (2) there will be extremes at either end of a spectrum; certain categories of documents will always be available for public inspection, regardless of their contents, and other classes of documents will never be available for inspection, regardless of their contents. Between these extremes, decisions may have to be based, at least in part, on the contents of individual documents. Turner v Reed, 22 Or App 177, 538 P2d 373 (1975).

The testimony of a psychiatrist with experience in providing psychiatric reports to the Corrections Division, a District Parole and Probation Officer, and the Administrator of the Corrections Division was inadequate to establish that 46 documents relating to a convict's prison and parole records were exempt from disclosure under ORS 192.500, where the psychiatrist and the parole officer had neither written nor examined the documents, and the Administrator testified only that he was familiar "in general" with the convict's records, but did not testify specifically about any of the documents. Turner v Reed, 22 Or App 177, 538 P2d 373 (1975).

A professor was entitled to inspect a report made to university officials under the terms of former ORS 192.030, even if it could be assumed without deciding that ORS 44.040(1)(e) (ORS 40.270) was a limitation on ORS 192.030, where the Board of Higher Education had failed to show that the report was received in official confidence or that the public interest would be impaired by the disclosure of the report. Papadopoulos v State Board of Higher Education, 8 Or App 445, 494 P2d 260 (1972).

2. Under ORS 192.500(1)(a)

A probationary school teacher was informed by a school district that her contract would not be renewed. She sought disclosure of the minutes of a school board meeting, of which she had not been informed, during which the board had reached a consensus not to rehire her. She also sought disclosure of the hearing record of another probationary teacher. Both requests were denied. The Court of Appeals ruled that the records subject to disclosure under ORS 192.410, 192.420, and 192.490, and were not exempted from disclosure by ORS 192.500(1)(a) as records pertaining to litigation. Under ORS 192.420, it was irrelevant that the teacher did not state or have an adequate purpose to request the records. There was no evidence that her request was unduly burdensome to the district. Also, the fact that the teacher did receive the records before her trial on her writ of review seeking reinstatement was no reason for refusing to produce the records, since not all of the issues raised were resolved by turning over the records. Thus, the teacher's possession of the records did not justify the trial court in refusing to declare that they were public and subject to disclosure. Smith v School District No. 45, Clackamas County, 63 Or App 685, 666 P2d 1345 (1983), rev den 295 Or 731, 773, 670 P2d 1036 (1983).

Under ORS 192.500(1)(a), public records are exempt from disclosure only when the records contain information compiled or acquired by the public body for use in ongoing litigation, or, if a complaint has not been filed but the public body shows that such litigation is reasonably likely to occur. Thus, a substitute teacher roster and related documents were not exempted from disclosure by the statute, where there was no ongoing litigation against the district and no evidence that the records were compiled because litigation was likely to occur. Lane County School District No. 4J v Parks, 55 Or App 416, 637 P2d 1383 (1981), rev den 293 Or 103, 648 P2d 850 (1982).

3. Under ORS 192.500(1)(c)

The exemption from public disclosure of investigatory information compiled for criminal law purposes under ORS 192.500(1)(c) is not limited to literal investigations of crimes, but includes investigations to determine whether a crime has been comitted. Jensen v Schiffman, 24 Or App 11, 544 P2d 1048 (1976).

ORS 192.500(1)(c), providing exemption for public disclosure of investigatory information compiled for criminal law purposes, requires identification and balancing of the various reasons for secrecy. Thus, investigations connected with pending or contemplated proceedings will ordinarily remain secret because disclosure would likely interfere with enforcement proceedings, but investigations not connected with pending or contemplated proceedings will remain secret, generally speaking, only if the government establishes that disclosure would: (1) interfere with enforcement proceedings; (2) deprive a person of a right to a fair trial or an impartial adjudication; (3) constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy; (4) disclose the identity of a confidential source and, in the case of a record compiled by a criminal law enforcement authority in the course of a criminal investigation, or by an agency conducting a lawful national security intelligence investigation, confidential information furnished only by the confidential source; (5) disclose investigative techniques and procedures; or (6) endanger the life or physical safety of law enforcement personnel. Jensen v Schiffman, 24 Or App 11, 544 P2d 1048 (1976).

Prompted by various allegations of misconduct, a district attorney requested a county sheriff's department to investigate a city police department. The sheriff's department submitted a report to the district attorney. Disclosure of this report was sought by a private citizen under ORS 192.410 et seq. Based on an in camera inspection of the report, the Court of Appeals held that it was not exempt from disclosure under ORS 192.500(1)(c), where the district attorney stipulated that no prosecutions were contemplated as a result of the investigation, and the report dealt primarily with the conduct of public servants in the performance of their public duties. However, the case was remanded to permit the district attorney to reconsider his refusal to turn over the records in light of the Court of Appeals' opinion. Jensen v Schiffman, 24 Or App 11, 544 P2d 1048 (1976).

4. Under ORS 192.500(2)(a)

Subjective evaluations and recommendations to the Parole Board, including recommendations as to whether to grant, deny, or revoke parole, constitute material of an advisory nature preliminary to an agency determination of action. Such records are exempted from public disclosure by ORS 192.500(2)(a) because the public interest in encouraging frank communication with the Parole Board clearly outweighs the public interest in disclosure. However, purely factual data given to the Parole Board is subject to disclosure. Turner v Reed, 22 Or App 177, 538 P2d 373 (1975).

ORS 192.500(2)(a) did not exempt from public disclosure documents held by the Corrections Division that were, or might prove to be, embarassing to division officials. Public records that are per se available for public inspection include records where the only interest in confidentiality is to protect public officials from criticism for the way they have discharged their public duties. Such records included public speeches, legislative testimony, newspaper stories, and television appearances by a parolee that were critical of the corrections system. Turner v Reed, 22 Or App 171, 538 P2d 373 (1975).

5. Under ORS 192.500(2)(b)

The names and addresses of part-time instructors employed by a community college were not exempt from disclosure as public records by ORS 192.500(2)(b) as information of a personal nature. Such information is not of the type that "normally would not be shared with strangers." Addresses are commonly listed in telephone directories, printed on checks, provided to merchants, and appear on identification, such as drivers licenses, that is routinely shown to strangers. Kotulski v Mt. Hood Community College, 62 Or App 452, 660 P2d 1083 (1983).

The exemption to disclosure of public records set forth in ORS 192.500(2)(b) is to be narrowly construed. Also, construction of this provision does not depend on who requests the information or the circumstances existing at the time of the request. Morrison v School District No. 48, Washington County, 53 Or App 148, 631 P2d 784 (1981), rev den 291 Or 893, 642 P2d 309 (1981).

The phrase, "such as that kept in a personal, medical or similar file" used in ORS 192.500(2)(b) is illustrative, rather than limiting, since it uses words like "such as" and "similar." Also, the exemption in ORS 192.500(2)(b) does not turn on the existence of a "file." Morrison v School District No. 48, Washington County, 53 Or App 148, 631 P2d 784 (1981), rev den 291 Or 893, 642 P2d 309 (1981).

The phrase "information of a personal nature" as used in ORS 192.500(2)(b) means information that normally would not be shared with strangers. Morrison v School District No. 48, Washington County, 53 Or App 148, 631 P2d 784 (1981), rev den 291 Or 893, 642 P2d 309 (1981).

Under ORS 192.490(1), the public body seeking to deny access to public records under ORS 192.500(2)(b) has the general burden of sustaining its action in denying disclosure, even though the ultimate burden to prove that public disclosure outweighs the right to privacy may lie with the person making the request for disclosure. Morrison v School District No. 48, Washington County, 53 Or App 148, 631 P2d 784 (1981), rev den 291 Or 893, 642 P2d 309 (1981).

Whether information is of a personal nature under ORS 192.500(2)(b) does not depend on an inquiry into the unreasonableness of the invasion of privacy that would be occasioned by public disclosure. The last sentence of ORS 192.500(2)(b) expressly shifts the burden of proof to the party seeking disclosure to show that public disclosure would not constitute an unreasonable invasion of privacy. Morrison v School District No. 48, Washington County, 53 Or App 148, 631 P2d 784 (1981), rev den

The phrase "in the particular instance" as used in ORS 192.500(2)(b) acquires significance only if information sought to be exempted from public disclosure initially fits into the category, and if the invasion of privacy is not shown not to be unreasonable, but the public interest clearly requires disclosure "in the particular instance." Furthermore, the party seeking the information must show that "public disclosure" would not constitute an unreasonable invasion of privacy; the term "public" indicates that the focus is on the effect of disclosure in general, not disclosure to a particular person at a particular time. Morrison v School District No.48, Washington County, 53 Or App 148, 631 P2d 784 (1981), rev den 291 Or 893, 642 P2d 309 (1981).

The exemption from disclosure of public records under ORS 192.500(2)(b) is applicable if: (1) the information requested is within the category, the burden of proof being on the public body; and (2) public disclosure would constitute an unreasonable invasion of privacy, the burden of disproof being on the person requesting the information, unless; (3) the public interest is shown by clear and convincing evidence to require disclosure. Morrison v School District No. 48, Washington County, 53 Or App 148, 631 P2d 784 (1981), rev den 291 Or 893, 642 P2d 309 (1981).

Information not otherwise personal, but which may become personal by reason of the context of a particular request, does not fall within the exemption from disclosure of public records set forth in ORS 192.500(2)(b). Thus, a list of names of substitute teachers in a school district, which was requested by a teachers' union, was not exempted from disclosure by the statute. One's name or identity as a substitute teacher is not personal information, as it would be readily available to parents of students and other parties. Morrison v School District No. 48, Washington County, 53 Or App 148, 631 P2d 784 (1981), rev den 291 Or 893, 642 P2d 309 (1981).

6. Under ORS 192.500(2)(c)

The names and addresses of part-time faculty employed by a community college were not exempt from disclosure as public records by ORS 192.500(2)(c) as information submitted to a public body in confidence, where the addresses were provided by faculty members in their initial application forms and retained in files kept by the college, but the applicants were never informed that the information would be confidential. Kotulski v Mt. Hood Community College, 62 Or App 452, 660 P2d 1083 (1983).

A substitute teacher roster and related documents were not exempted from public disclosure by a school district under ORS 192.500(2)(c) as information submitted to a public body in confidence, where the records contained no information that the school district obliged itself not to disclose. Lane County School District No. 4J v Parks, 55 Or App 416, 637 P2d 1383 (1981), rev den 293 Or 103, 648 P2d 850 (1982).

To avail itself of the exemption for disclosure of public information in ORS 192.500(2)(c), the public body must establish that the information sought to be exempted was submitted to it in confidence at the outset. A list of the names and addresses of substitute teachers was not submitted in confidence to a school district under this statute, where there was no evidence that the substitute teachers had submitted their names in confidence. Morrison v School District No. 48, Washington County, 53 Or App 148, 631 P2d 784 (1981), rev den 291 Or 893, 642 P2d 309 (1981).

Under ORS 192.500(2)(c), communications to the Oregon State Bar relating to the professional conduct of an attorney were not exempt from public disclosure, where there was no evidence that they were submitted in confidence and it was clear that the bar could not oblige itself in good faith not to disclose the information. Sadler v Oregon State Bar, 275 Or 279, 550 P2d 1218 (1976).

7. Under ORS 192.500(2)(d)

Information about a convicted person's family life, including comments by his wife about their marriage, which is normally regarded as personal in nature, is exempted from public disclosure by ORS 192.500(2)(d). Factual information about a convicted person's family life, such as that he is married or a parent, would be subject to disclosure as information normally not considered personal or kept from strangers. Turner v Reed, 22 Or App 177, 538 P2d 373 (1975).

Disclosure of psychiatric examination reports that are part of the records of the Corrections Division would substantially prejudice the carrying out of the division's functions. Thus, the public interest in confidentiality clearly outweighs the public interest in disclosure of such reports, and they are exempt from disclosure under ORS 192.500(2)(d). This rule applies specifically to the literal findings of a psychiatrist or psychologist that are expressed in the professional's own words, but no decision is reached as to paraphrases or summaries of professional findings that are written by laypersons. Turner v Reed, 22 Or App 177, 538 P2d 373 (1975).

8. Under ORS 192.500(3)

ORS 192.500(3) only requires editing of documents when segregating exempt and nonexempt material is: (1) reasonably possible; and (2) can be done so as to genuinely preserve the confidentiality of exempt material. However, where editing of documents was neither impossible nor even difficult, a public agency should have been required to comply with ORS 192.500(3). Turner v Reed, 22 Or App 177, 538 P2d 373 (1975).

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINIONS

The Oregon Investment Council's technical reports, prepared by money managers and consultants, and written evaluations of money managers, prepared by financial consultants, can be kept confidential through an executive session if the conditions of ORS 192.500(2)(c) are met. 42 Op Att'y Gen 392, 402 (1982).

An executive session may be used to consider a public record if the record meets the requirements of ORS 192.500(2)(c) concerning information submitted in confidence. 42 Op Att'y Gen 392, 398 (1982).

Records of the juvenile court, made confidential by ORS 419.567, are exempt from public disclosure under the Public Records Act, ORS 192.500(1)(c). 42 Op Att'y Gen 17 (1981).

Under ORS 192.500(3), records partly disclosable and partly exempt from disclosure must be separated by the cognizant public body. 41 Op Att'y Gen 437 (1981).

Completed forms used to evaluate a district school superintendent, which do not include information of a personal nature, are not within the disclosure exemption found in ORS 192.500(2)(b), especially where there is a clear public interest in knowing how the superintendent is performing. 41 Op Att'y Gen 437 (1981).

Under ORS 192.500(2)(b), personal information on applications for public library cards or library privileges, and records showing use of specific material by named persons, are exempt from disclosure under ORS 192.410 to 192.500, to the extent that disclosure would be an unreasonable invasion of privacy. However, the information may still be disclosed if the public interest clearly and convincingly requires disclosure. 41 Op Att'y Gen 435 (1981).

Drafts of orders under consideration by the Land Use Board of Appeals, as well as drafts of the recommendations the Board will make to LCDC, are exempt from disclosure under ORS 192.500(2), which exempts communications of a "preliminary," advisory nature. Accordingly, the drafts are not subject to disclosure until the final order is issued or the Board's recommendation is transmitted to LCDC. 41 Op Att'y Gen 218 (1980).

ORS 192.500(2)(c) protects informants who submit information regarding the conditions found in a long-term health care facility where the information is outside the reporting requirements of Oregon Laws 1979, Ch. 770, § 9 relating to patient abuse. 40 Op Att'y Gen 155, 159 (1979).

The Board of Parole must disclose to prisoners, prior to parole, all information submitted pursuant to ORS 144.210 except for that material exempted from disclosure by ORS 192.500(2)(d). 38 Op Att'y Gen 1881 (1978).

Where a public body determines that the public interest in material within an ORS 192.500 exemption justifies a conditional disclosure of the material to the press, the body may give partial or conditional disclosure to the press. The only enforcement mechanism available if the stipulation is violated is a refusal to release other exempt material in the future. 38 Op Att'y Gen 1761 (1978).

Background materials regarding agency matters before city and county governing bodies, given to governing body members prior to public hearing, are public records under ORS 192.410 and are subject to disclosure unless exempted by ORS 192.500. 38 Op Att'y Gen 1761 (1978).

Student records at a state university fall within the definition of "public record" found in ORS 192.005(5). Student records are public records notwithstanding ORS 351.065(5). ORS 192.500 exempts certain records from disclosure, including student and faculty records covered by ORS 351.065, but does not change their status as public records. 38 Op Att'y Gen 945, 948 (1977).

The only criminal records subject to ORS 192.410 to ORS 192.500 are reports of crime and a record of arrest, although disclosure of both of those records may be delayed with cause. All other criminal investigatory material is exempt from disclosure by ORS 192.500(1)(c), unless the public interest requires disclosure in a particular instance. 37 Op Att'y Gen 126 (1974).

Notwithstanding ORS 311.280(1), which states that unrecorded deeds, contracts of sale, or other documents indicating a purchaser's interest filed with the county tax assessor do not constitute public records, those documents are public records under the provisions of the later enacted Public Records Law and are not within any of the exemptions to that law found in ORS 192.500. Accordingly, they must be made available for inspection upon request. 37 Op Att'y Gen 98 (1974).

Non-medical information contained in a confidential medical file may be disclosed unless it is of a "personal nature," in which case it is exempt from disclosure under ORS 192.500(2)(b). 36 Op Att'y Gen 1080, 1085 (1974).

ORS 192.500(1)(c) merely authorizes nondisclosure of investigatory information compiled for criminal law purposes; it does not prohibit such disclosure. 36 Op Att'y Gen 786 (1974).

A person's name, identity, and professional business address are not "information of a personal nature" for purposes of ORS 192.500(2)(b). 36 Op Att'y Gen 543 (1974).

OREGON CRIMINAL OFFENDER INFORMATION SYSTEM

Scope of System

257-10-010 Rules adopted herein relate solely to the Oregon Criminal Offender Information System as maintained by the Oregon State Police. The Rules do not affect in any way other agencies' original records of arrest, arrest logs, or reports of crimes available for inspection under terms of the Oregon Public Records Law (ORS 192.410 to 192.500).

Oregon Criminal Offender Information files contain information, contributed by Criminal Justice Agencies, on a person's record of arrests, the nature and disposition of criminal charges, sentencing, confinement, and release, plus identifying data only relating to fingerprints of applicants submitted under Oregon Law. These files shall not permanently contain information about the political, religious, or social views, associations, or activities of any individual, group, association, corporation, business, or partnership unless such information directly relates to an investigation of past or threatened criminal acts or activities and there are reasonable grounds to suspect the subject of the information is or may be involved in criminal acts or activities.

The Oregon CCH System is a computerization of essentially the same criminal offender information, and is maintained by the OSP under provisions of Oregon Law. Computerization of the manually accessed paper file is designed to provide faster access to criminal offender information for Oregon Criminal Justice Agencies.

38-2-5. Effect of chapter on broader agency publication — Existing rights — Judicial records and proceedings. — Nothing in this chapter shall be:

(a) construed as preventing any public body from opening its records concerning the administration of such body to public inspection; or

(b) construed as limiting the right of access as it existed prior to [July 1, 1979], of an individual who is the subject of a record to the information contained herein; or

Denial of access. — Any denial of the right to inspect or copy records provided for under this chapter shall be made to the person requesting such right by the public body official who has custody or control of the public record in writing giving the specific reasons for the denial within ten (10) business days of such request. Failure to comply with a request to so inspect or copy such public record within such ten (10) business day period, shall be deemed to be a denial. Except that for good cause, this limit may be extended for a period not to exceed thirty (30) business days.

38-2-8. Administrative appeals. — Any person denied the right to inspect a record of a public body by the custodian of said record may petition the chief administrative officer of that public body for a review of the determinations made by his/her subordinate. The chief administrative officer shall make a final determination whether or not to allow public inspection within ten (10) business days after the submission of the review petition.

If the application of this chapter to a particular record is held invalid, such decision shall not affect other applications of this chapter.

38-2-13. Records access continuing. — All records initially deemed to be public records which any person may inspect and/or copy under the provisions of this chapter, shall continue to be so deemed whether or not subsequent court action or investigations are held pertaining to the matters contained in said records.

§ 30–4–10. Short title.

This chapter shall be known and cited as the "Freedom of Information Act".

§ 30-4-20. Definitions.

(a) "Public body" means any department of the State, any state board, commission, agency and authority, any public or governmental body or political subdivision of the State, including counties, municipalities, townships, school districts and special purpose districts, or any organization, corporation or agency supported in whole or in part by public funds or expending public funds and includes any quasi-governmental body of the State and its political subdivisions, including, without limitation, such bodies as the South Carolina Public Service Authority and the South Carolina State Ports Authority.

(b) "Person" includes any individual, corporation, partnership, firm, organization or association.

(c) "Public record" includes all books, papers, maps, photographs, cards, tapes, recordings or other documentary materials regardless of physical form or characteristics prepared, owned, used, in the possession of or retained by a public body. Records such as income tax returns, medical records, hospital medical staff reports, scholastic records, adoption records and other records which by law are required to be closed to the public shall not be deemed to be made open to the public under the provisions of this chapter nor shall the definition of public records include those records concerning which the public body, by favorable public vote of three-fourths of the membership taken within fifteen working days after receipt of written request, concludes that the public interest is best served by not disclosing them. Provided, however, nothing herein shall authorize or require the disclosure of records of the Board of Financial Institutions pertaining to applications and surveys for charters and branches of banks and savings and loan associations or surveys and examinations of such institutions required to be made by law.

(d) "Meeting" means the convening of a quorum of the constituent membership of a public body, whether corporal or by means of electronic equipment, to discuss or act upon a matter over which the public body has supervision, control, jurisdiction or advisory power.

(b) The public body may establish and collect fees not to exceed the actual cost of searching for or making copies of records. Such records shall be furnished at the lowest possible cost to the person requesting the records. Records shall be provided in a form that is both convenient and practical for use by the person requesting copies of the records concerned, if it is equally convenient for such public body to provide the records in such form. Documents may be furnished when appropriate without charge or at a reduced charge where the agency determines that wavier or reduction of the fee is in the public interest because furnishing the information can be considered as primarily benefiting the general public. Fees shall not be charged for examination and review to determine if such documents are subject to disclosure. Nothing in this chapter shall prevent the custodian of the public records from charging a reasonable hourly rate for making records available to the public nor requiring a reasonable deposit of such costs prior to searching for or making copies of the records.

(c) Each public body, upon written request for records made under this chapter, shall within fifteen days (excepting Saturdays, Sundays and legal public holidays) of the receipt of any such request notify the person making such request of its determination and the reasons therefor. Such a determination shall constitute the final opinion of the public body as to the public availability of the requested public record.

§ 30-4-40. Matters exempt from disclosure.

(a) The following matters may be exempt from disclosure under the provisions of this chapter:

(1) Trade secrets, which are defined as unpatented, secret, commercially valuable plans, appliances, formulas, or processes, which are used for the making, preparing, compounding, treating or processing of articles or materials which are trade commodities obtained from a person and which are generally recognized as confidential.

(2) Information of a personal nature where the public disclosure thereof would constitute unreasonable invasion of personal privacy, including, but not limited to, information as to gross receipts contained in applications for business licenses.

(3) Records of law enforcement and public safety agencies not otherwise available by law that were compiled in the process of detecting and investigating crime if the disclosure of the information would harm the agency by:

(A) Disclosing identity of informants not otherwise known;

(B) The premature release of information to be used in a prospective law enforcement action;

(C) Disclosing investigatory techniques not otherwise known outside the government;

(D) By endangering the life, health or property of any person.

(4) Matters specifically exempted from disclosure by statute or law.

(5) Documents incidental to proposed contractual arrangements and proposed sale or purchase of property.

(6) Salaries of employees below the level of department head; provided, however, that complete salary schedules showing compensation ranges for each employee classification, including longevity steps, where applicable shall be made available.

(7) Correspondence or work products of legal counsel for a public body and any other material that would violate attorney-client relationships.

(8) Memoranda, correspondence and working papers in the possession of individual members of the General Assembly or their immediate staffs, provided, however, nothing herein shall be construed as limiting or restricting public access to source documents or records, factual data or summaries of factual data, papers, minutes or reports otherwise considered to be public information under the provisions of this chapter and not specifically exempted by any other provisions of this chapter.

(b) If any public record contains material which is not exempt under item (a) of this section, the public body shall separate the exempt and nonexempt material available for examination.

§ 30–4–50. Certain matters declared public information.

ARTICLE 3 - CRIMINAL INFORMATION AND COMMUNICATION

These regulations replace all existing regulations in Article 3, Subarticle I

73-20 Definitions

These definitions shall have the following meaning when used in the discussion of criminal history record information (CHRI) and computerized criminal history (CCH) unless the context denotes otherwise:

A. "Administration of Criminal Justice" means the performance of any activity directly involving the detection, apprehension, detention pretrial release, posttrial release, prosecution, adjudication, correctional supervision, or rehabilitation of accused or convicted persons or criminal offenders, or the collection, storage, and dissemination of criminal history record information.

B. "Criminal Justice Agency" means any governmental agency or subunit which as its principal function performs the administration of criminal justice pursuant to a statute or executive order, and which allocates a substantial part of its annual budget to the administration of criminal justice.

C. "Criminal History Record Information" (CHRI) means records, fingerprint cards, dispositions, and data collected by criminal justice agencies on adult individuals who are at least seventeen years of age consisting of identifiable descriptors and notations of arrests, detentions, indictments, information, or other formal charges, and any dispositions arising therefrom. "Criminal Justice Information System" means a system, including the equipment, facilities, procedures, agreements, and organizations thereof, for the collection, processing, preservation, or dissemination of criminal history record information. The operations of the system may be performed manually or by using electronic computers or other automated data processing equipment.

E. "Dissemination" means any transfer of information, whether orally, in writing, or by electronic means.

F. "Conviction data" means information which shows that an individual has been convicted or found guilty of a crime. When less than one year has elapsed from the date of an arrest, and there is no judicial disposition of the case, the arrest information is treated as conviction data.

H. "Access" means the capability to add, delete, modify or otherwise manipulate information, or to cause such data to be transferred or stored either temporarily or permanently. This would apply to information maintained in either manual or automated form.

I. "Screening" means the process wherein an individual's background is reviewed with special emphasis being placed on determining whether there exists any criminal history record information on that individiual. Screening will include the securing of an individual's fingerprints on the standard FBI fingerprint card, and the submission of this fingerprint card to the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division's Criminal Records Department for further processing.

N. "Disposition" means information which states that a criminal charge contained in a criminal history record has been dealt with by proper judicial authority and that a final disposal of the charge has been made through a finding of guilt or innocence, or that the charge has been dismissed, or that adjudication has been indefinitely postponed. 73-21 Organization, Purpose and Function of Departments

A. The State Law Enforcement Division Criminal Justice Information and Communication System, known as SLED/CJICS, acting as the State's central criminal justice information repository, shall collect, process, and store criminal justice information and records necessary to the operation of the criminal justice information system of the State Law Enforcement Division. The SLED/CJICS is comprised of four departments:

(1) The Computerized Criminal History (CCH) Department has the responsibility for converting manual criminal history record information to computerized data. The mission of the computerized criminal history unit is to serve criminal justice agencies and to assist non-criminal justice agencies throughout the State and nation by providing current criminal history record information. Conversion of existing computerized criminal history will be compatible with established concepts and operating policies of the Federal Bureau of Investigation's National Crime Information Center (NCIC) to enable an accurate exchange of criminal history data. The five segments comprising an offender's Criminal History Record Information are:

(a) identification segment

(b) identification add-on segment

(c) arrest segment

(d) judicial segment

(e) custody/supervision segment

South Carolina offense codes are assigned to each specific charge. The offense codes must meet State and national requirements for the entering of criminal history data.

(2) The Criminal Records Department has the responsibility of collecting, processing and storing all fingerprint cards and dispositions of persons arrested in the State. The Criminal Records Department supervisor will serve as the custodian of records. Fingerprints will be the basis for establishing computerized criminal history. The Criminal Records Department is responsible for the timely processing of all supporting documents for criminal history record information as provided to the SLED/CJICS by other criminal justice agencies. The department is also responsible for handling expungements as required by South Carolina statute. After the processing at SLED is completed, the department is responsible for forwarding the necessary documentation to the FBI Identification Division in Washington, D.C.

The Criminal Records Department will be responsible for entering, editing, and storing all criminal fingerprint card images on the automated fingerprint identification system.

(3) The Data Processing Department has the responsibility of providing the necessary systems and programming support to develop, manage, and modify various computer applications and programs as deemed necessary by the Computerized Criminal History Department, the Criminal Records Department, the Uniform Crime Reporting Department and other criminal justice entities to facilitate the automated processing of various information. This department is further charged with the responsiblity of maintaining computer equipment and associated software to ensure effective and efficient information processing and message switching, and to ensure that adequate levels of security are provided throughout the electronic data processing system. The Data Processing Department is also responsible for the maintenance and operation of the statewide communications network, the computer interface with the Federal Bureau of Investigation's National Crime Information Center, the National Law Enforcement Telecommunication System, the South Carolina Department of Highways and Public Transportation, the South Carolina Automated Fingerprint Identification System, and other automated criminal justice systems.

(4) The Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) Department has the responsibility for processing, analyzing, coding and compiling incident, supplemental, and booking reports received from law enforcement agencies, whether such reports are submitted on paper or by automated means. The Uniform Crime Reporting Department will classify and count incident, supplemental, and booking reports submitted by other agencies according to procedures defined by the International Association of Chiefs of Police Committee on Uniform Crime Reports, the Uniform Crime Records Committee of the National Sheriffs Association, the Uniform Crime Reports Section of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the State Law Enforcement Division. The Uniform Crime Reporting Department will assure through training and quality control measures that all automated incident, supplemental, and arrest data submitted to the State Uniform Crime Reporting program are classified and counted according to these procedures.

B. When practicable, the SLED/CJICS will develop systems which will facilitate the exchange of criminal justice information between criminal justice agencies.

C. The SLED/CJICS will collect, process, maintain, and dissseminate information and records with due regard to the privacy of individuals, and will maintain and disseminate only accurate and complete records.

73-22 Completeness and Accuracy of Records

A. The Criminal Records Department will maintain complete and accurate criminal history record information as submitted by criminal justice agencies.

B. Dispositions will be forwarded to the Criminal Records Department by the appropriate criminal justice agencies as soon after final judicial action as practicable in accordance with procedures established by the South Carolina Office of Court Administration and the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division.

C. The Criminal Records Department will process the dispositions as soon as practicable following their receipt.

D. All criminal justice agencies will query the central criminal history records repository at SLED/CJICS prior to dissemination of any criminal history record information to assure that the most current disposition data are being used. Inquiries will be made prior to any dissemination except in those cases when the central repository at SLED/CJICS is technically incapable of responding within the necessary time period.

E. Criminal history record information will not contain any information known to be in error. To accomplish this end, the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division will institute a process of data collection, entry, storage, and systematic audit that will minimize the possibility of recording and storing inaccurrate information.

73-23 Dissemination of Criminal History Record Information

A. SLED/CJICS will operate and maintain a criminal justice information system which will support the collection, storage, retrieval, and dissemination of criminal history record information, both intrastate and interstate. SLED/CJICS will make available to bona-fide criminal justice agencies, upon request, any information which will aid these agencies in the performance of their official duties, provided that the dissemination of such information will not be a violation of state or federal laws and regulations restricting its use. Dissemination will include conviction and nonconviction data.

B. User agencies will agree to abide by all laws, rules, and regulations concerning collection, storage, retrieval, and dissemination of criminal justice information.

C. All Criminal justice agencies which desire to exchange criminal history record information through the SLED/CJICS will execute a standard user agreement.

D. User agencies agree to indemnify and save harmless SLED/CJICS and its officials and employees from and against any and all claims, demands, actions, suits and proceedings by others, against all liability to others, including but not limited to any liability for damages by reason of or arising out of any false arrest or imprisonment, or any cause of action whatsoever, or against any loss, cost, expense, and damage, resulting therefrom, arising out of or involving any action, inaction, slander or libel on the part of the user agencies in the exercise or enjoyment of this agreement.

E. The SLED/CJICS may disseminate certain criminal history record information to private persons, authorized governmental entities, businesses, and commercial establishments for other than criminal justice purposes if South Carolina statutes specify that such persons or entities are entitled to criminal history record information. The dissemination of criminal history record information will include conviction data, as well as findings of not guilty, nolle prosequi, dismissals, and similar dispositions which show any final disposition of an arrest.

1. Identification of an individiual whose record is to be searched will be based upon name, race, sex, date of birth, and, if available, a social security number. Notation will be made on any disseminated records which are identified solely by these characteristics and not by fingerprint comparison.

(2) Costs

(a) Private persons, authorized governmental entities, businesses, and commercial establishments will be charged a reasonable fee for performing criminal history record searches. The fee will will be established by the State Law Enforcment Division with the advice and approval of the South Carolina Legislature. The South Carolina Law Enforcement Division may change the fee for this service without notice and without amending these rules. The fee will be adjusted to compensate for changes in the cost of processing criminal history record information searches.

(b) Method of Payment

Payment shall be made to the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division as specified by the Division.

(3) All requests for criminal history record information by noncriminal justice agencies shall be made in writing or by personal appearance at the Criminal Records Department.

(4) Persons wishing to determine whether criminal history records naming them are housed by SLED/CJICS may do so by inquiring in person at the Criminal Records Department between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday except legal State holidays. Proper identification will be required of persons making inquiries.

F. No criminal justice agency other than SLED/CJICS will disseminate to private persons, governmental entities, or any private or public entities, except criminal justice agencies, any criminal history record information other than that originated by that criminal justice agency, except where specifically provided for by State statute.

G. Criminal history logs will be maintained by those agencies which indirectly disseminate criminal history record information. The logs will contain the data necessary for contacting agencies or persons to which inaccurate information has been disseminated. Upon finding inaccurate information of a material nature, it is the duty of the criminal justice agency which discovers the inaccuracy to notify all criminal justice agencies or persons known to have received the inaccurate information. The following minimum information concerning the dissemination of criminal history record information will be maintained in the logs in order to provide an aduit trail:

(1) Manual log:

(a) date of dissemination

(b) agency requestor

(c) individual requestor

(d) name of criminal history record subject

SOUTH CAROLINA

73-26 Security

All agencies will provide security for any information which is subject to these regulations. These security principles and standards apply to both manual and automated information system. The standards for both types of systems include access restraints, personnel control, disaster protection, and training.

A. Access restraints to criminal history record information and the area in which it is located will ensure that access to criminal history record information, system facilities, system operating environments, file contents, whether in use or stored in a media library, and system documentation is restricted to authorized agencies and personnel.

(1) Physical locations such as records rooms, computer facilities, computer terminal locations, and rooms where files are kept will have access restraints.

(2) Areas having criminal history records will be secured by physical barriers or attended by agency personnel who will restrict access.

(3) Criminal history record information, when in areas with no access restraints, will be kept in cabinets or desks which can be locked.

(4) All personnel who are allowed access to criminal history record information will be subjected to a criminal history background investigation.

(5) Each criminal justice agency will control access to its criminal history record information and will screen employees and other individuals who may have access to criminal history record information stored within the agency.

B. Criminal justice agencies will have the authority to ensure that appropriate disciplinary action is taken whenever personnel violate security rules.

(1) Personnel control measures apply to the agency's employees, other public employees who work in the computer center, and private employees, if those employees have access to criminal history record information, or use an automated system which can access criminal history record information.

(2) Agencies will ensure that criminal justice agency employees and all personnel having access to criminal history record information are familiar with access and dissemination rules.

C. Criminal justice agencies will develop means to protect both automated and manual systems from natural or man-made disasters. These measures must protect any respository of criminal history record information from unauthorized access, theft, sabotage, fire, flood, wind, or natural or man made disasters.

D. Personnel whose duties require access to criminal history record information will be instructed in all access and security measures and procedures. SLED/CJICS will provide basic training in this area for all criminal justice agencies.

73-27 Expungement of Criminal History Record Information

SLED/CJICS will expunge criminal history record information in accordance with the South Carolina 1976 Code of Laws, as amended. SLED/CJICS will ensure that its manual and automated records are expunged as required, and that the Federal Bureau of Investigation Identification Bureau is notified whenever expungements affect criminal history record information housed at the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

73-28 Audit Procedures

SLED/CJICS will institute audit procedures to ensure that criminal history record information is accurate. SLED/CJICS has the right to suspend services to any user agency which knowingly and willfully violates any federal or state law or regulation pertaining to the use, collection, storage, or dissemination of criminal history record information.

A. Field audits of user agencies will be performed by personnel designated by the Agent in Charge of SLED/CJICS. The Agent in Charge of SLED/CJICS will act as liaison between user agencies and auditors, and will review the findings of audits to determine what assistance, remedies, or other action may be required, or whether a user agency may be re-audited after a period sufficient to correct any deficiences which may have been discovered. Auditors will perform audits in accordance with a schedule approved by the Agent in Charge of SLED/CJICS, and will regularly report their findings and recommendations. In addition to auditing user agencies for compliance with the contents of this chapter and State statutes, the auditors will review the agencies' compliance with all Federal Bureau of Investigation/National Crime Information Center regulations, and federal regulations and statutes governing criminal justice information and communications.

B. Field audits will have two basic components:

(1) A procedural audit will examine the procedures which are necessary for compliance with State and federal statutes and regulations. Auditors will inspect written procedures and manuals, and will interview personnel to evaluate methods of compliance as well as levels of understanding. Sites will be examined to determine levels of access restraint and security. The audit will include, but not be limited to, reviews of record and disposition reporting procedures, dissemination procedures, individuals' right of inspection, and security.

(2) An audit of a user agency's activity logs will examine an agency's activity tracking mechanisms. Dissemination logs and record correction logs for criminal history record information will be examined, as well as site access logs and computer terminal records. The auditor will review logging procedures as well as interview personnel who handle or process records.

C. The regulations also require systematic internal auditing as a means of guaranteeing the completeness and accuracy of computerized criminal history information. The Criminal Records Department and the Computerized Criminal History Department will verify the completeness and accuracy of the data by comparing Criminal History Record Information with the source documents. These source document include the original and subsequent fingerprint cards, arrest reports, disposition reports, court, corrections, probation, and parole records. SLED/CJICS will maintain computer edits that assure the entry of valid data. Records found to contain errors will be forwarded to the Criminal Records Department and, if necessary, to the originating agency for correction. Errors will be corrected as soon as practicable in both the manual and automated files.

The bureau shall continue to maintain and certify the instruments and operating personnel, pursuant to subsection (g) of this section, and furnish expert testimony in support of the use of such instruments when required.

CRIMINAL SENTENCING REFORM ACT OF 1989

40-35-313. Probation — Conditions — Discharge — Expungement from official records. — (a)(1) If any person who has not previously been convicted of a felony or a Class A misdemeanor is found guilty or pleads guilty to a misdemeanor which is punishable by imprisonment or a Class C, D or E felony, the court may, without entering a judgment of guilty and with the consent of such person, defer further proceedings and place him on probation upon such reasonable conditions as it may require and for a period of time not less than the period of the maximum sentence for the misdemeanor with which he is charged, or not more than the period of the maximum sentence of the felony with which he is charged, on condition that the defendant pay, in addition to the payment of ten dollars ($10.00) per month as part payment of expenses incurred by the agency, department, program, group or association in supervising the defendant, any or all additional costs of the defendant's supervision, counseling or treatment in a specified manner, based upon the defendant's ability to pay. Such payment shall be made to the clerk of the court in which proceedings against such defendant were pending, to be sent to the agency, department, program, group or association responsible for the supervision of such defendant, unless such defendant is found to be indigent and without anticipated future funds with which to make such payment. Such clerk of the court collecting such payment is permitted to retain five percent (5%) of the proceeds collected for the handling and receiving of such proceeds as provided above.

(2) The provisions of this subsection relative to the payment of a supervision fee shall not apply to any person subject to the provisions of chapter 28, part 2 of this title. Upon violation of a condition of the probation, the court may enter an adjudication of guilt and proceed as otherwise provided. If, during the period of his probation, such person does not violate any of the conditions of the probation, then upon expiration of such period, the court shall discharge such person and dismiss the proceedings against him. Discharge and dismissal under this subsection is without court adjudication of guilt, but a non-public record thereof is retained by the court solely for the purpose of use by the courts in determining whether or not, in subsequent proceedings, such person qualifies under this subsection, or for the limited purposes provided in subsection (b). Such discharge or dismissal shall not be deemed a conviction for purposes of disqualifications or disabilities imposed by law upon conviction of a crime or for any other purpose, except as provided in subsection (b). Discharge and dismissal under this subsection may occur only once with respect to any person.

(b) Upon the dismissal of such person and discharge of the proceedings against him under subsection (a), such person may apply to the court for an order to expunge from all official records (other than the non-public records to be retained by the court under subsection (a)) all recordation relating to his arrest, indictment or information, trial, finding of guilty, and dismissal and discharge pursuant to this section. Each application shall contain a notation by the clerk evidencing that all court costs are paid in full, prior to the entry of an order of expungement. If the court determines, after hearing, that such person was dismissed and the proceedings against him discharged, it shall enter such order. The effect of such order is to restore such person, in the contemplation of the law, to the status he occupied before such arrest or indictment or information. No person as to whom such order has been entered shall be held thereafter under any provision of any law to be guilty of perjury or otherwise giving a false statement by reason of his failures to recite or acknowledge such arrest, or indictment or information, or trial in response to any inquiry made of him for any purpose, except when the person who has availed himself of the privileges of expungement then assumes the role of plaintiff in a civil action based upon the same transaction or occurrence as the expunged criminal record. In that limited situation, notwithstanding any provision of this section or § 40-32-101(a)(3)-(c)(3) to the contrary, the non-public records are admissible for the following purposes:

(1) A plea of guilty is admissible into evidence in the civil trial as a judicial admission; and

(2) A verdict of guilty by a judge or jury is admissible into evidence in the civil trial as either a public record or is admissible to impeach the truthfulness of the plaintiff. In addition, the non-public records retained by the court, as provided in subsection (a), shall constitute the official record of conviction and are subject to the subpoena power of the courts of civil jurisdiction. [Acts 1989, ch. 591, § 6; 1990, ch. 980, §§ 25, 26.]

1395—1—1—.09 AUTOMATED FINGERPRINT INFORMATION SYSTEM (AFIS)

(1) Arrestee Fingerprints.

(a) All law enforcement agencies, state and local, and any other agency having arrest powers shall fingerprint all persons arrested on all felony cases and any misdemeanor cases which involve charges relating to sex crimes against children. The fingerprint shall be taken upon a form supplied by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and/or the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation, and shall consist of a minimum of two (2) copies. The agency making the arrest shall send the two (2) copies to the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation, one to be entered in its AFIS system and the other to be forwarded to the FBI. In addition, the submitting agency may keep any additional copies which it desires to take for its own files.

(b) Department of Corrections shall furnish to the TBI a copy of the fingerprint of each person committed by final disposition to custody of the Department of Corrections.

(c) As an integral part of the interactive operation of AFIS and TCIS, TBI will establish a criminal history file for each person whose fingerprints are received and entered into the AFIS system and will thereafter, through the operation of all systems, update the criminal history file for new charges and final dispositions.

(d) In order to verify the continuing identification of the person whose identification is originally established by the fingerprints, the Bureau will assign a unique number to each person which will be designated as the state identification number (SID). Final dispositions will be made to the correct file on the basis of that number. Other departments, and specifically the Department of Corrections, are authorized to use the state identification number in any management and control system while performing any duties required by law to be performed by that agency.

(2) Police Applicants. All fingerprints taken by any agency from applicants for police work in those agencies which are governed by the Police Officer Standards laws and rules and regulations shall submit two (2) copies of the fingerprints of each applicant to the TBI for processing through AFIS.

(3) Regulatory Agencies.

(a) State governmental agencies which issue licenses or permits to any person, corporation, partnership, or other entity to engage in an authorized activity affecting the rights, property, or interests of the public or segments thereof, may make written inquiry of the TBI to request criminal history data for the limited purpose of determining if such license or permit should be issued. The written request for such information (if not accompanied by regulation fingerprint cards) must include:

1. complete and correct name of applicant;

2. date of birth;

3. sex;

4. race;

5. Social Security number.

Upon the basis of this information, the criminal history files of TBI will be searched for criminal history information relating to the applicant. Since the data furnished will not be based upon the certainty of fingerprint identification, the possibility of errors and mistakes exist and the Bureau cannot assume responsibility for information furnished pursuant to the requests.

(b) Requests for criminal history records of applicants for a private investigator license must be accompanied by two (2) copies of the fingerprints of the applicants.

Mr. Arzo Carson, Director

Dear Director Carson:

By recent letter, a copy of which is attached, you have requested informal advice concerning release of criminal history files to governmental non-law enforcement agencies, specifically to Commissioner John C. Neff, Commissioner of the Department of Commerce and Insurance.

You have concluded and I concur that there is no authority permitting you to furnish Commissioner Neff with criminal arrest histories or similar confidential records of the T.B.I. Indeed, T.C.A. § 40-15-106(b), (c)(1), and § 40-32-101(b), (c)(1), expressly prohibit release of such confidential records other than to other law enforcement agencies or for audit investigations by the comptroller. Those statutes, which you reference in your letter, expressly make such release a misdemeanor. Additionally, as you are no doubt aware, § 10-7-504 makes your investigative records confidential and not open to inspection by members of the public. They may be disclosed to the public only in compliance with subpoena or order of a court of record. They may be provided to members of the General Assembly upon direction by a duly approved resolution of either house or of a standing or joint committee of either house. Finally, that statute prohibits providing such records to any member of the executive branch except those persons directly involved in an investigation in the T.B.I. itself, and the governor himself. I have also enclosed two prior letters to you which discuss potential problems in release of such information. They specifically discuss our prior discussion that absence of statutory authorization prevents dissemination of criminal history information to other than law enforcement agencies.

I hope that this informal advice has proved helpful. If you should require additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

JENNIFER HEXTON SMALL
Assistant Attorney General

Texas Code Criminal Procedure

CHAPTER FIFTY-FIVE—EXPUNCTION OF CRIMINAL RECORDS

Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1333, ch. 604, which by § 1 amended this Chapter 55, provided in § 3:

"Any law or portion of a law that conflicts with Chapter 55, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, as amended, is repealed to the extent of the conflict."

Article 55.01. Right to expunction

A person who has been arrested for commission of either a felony or misdemeanor is entitled to have all records and files relating to the arrest expunged if each of the following conditions exist:

(1) an indictment or information charging him with commission of a felony has not been presented against him for an offense arising out of the transaction for which he was arrested or, if an indictment or information charging him with commission of a felony was presented, it has been dismissed and the court finds that it was dismissed because the presentment had been made because of mistake, false information, or other similar reason indicating absence of probable cause at the time of the dismissal to believe the person committed the offense or because it was void;

(2) he has been released and the charge, if any, has not resulted in a final conviction and, is no longer pending and there was no court ordered supervision under Article 42.13, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, as amended, nor a conditional discharge under Section 4.12 of the Texas Controlled Substances Act (Article 4476—15, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes); and

(3) he has not been convicted of a felony in the five years preceding the date of the arrest.

Amended by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1333, ch. 604, § 1, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.

Art. 55.02. Procedure for Expunction

Section 1. (a) A person who is entitled to expunction of records and files under this chapter may file an ex parte petition for expunction in a district court for the county in which he was arrested.

(b) The petitioner shall include in the petition a list of all law enforcement agencies, jails or other detention facilities, magistrates, courts, prosecuting attorneys, correctional facilities, central state depositories of criminal records, and other officials or agencies or other entities of this state or of any political subdivision of this state and of all central federal depositories of criminal records that the petitioner has reason to believe have records or files that are subject to expunction.

Sec. 2. The court shall set a hearing on the matter no sooner than thirty days from the filing of the petition and shall give reasonable notice of the hearing to each official or agency or other entity named in the petition by certified mail, return receipt requested, and such entity may be represented by the attorney responsible for providing such agency with legal representation in other matters.

Sec. 3. (a) If the court finds that the petitioner is entitled to expunction of any records and files that are the subject of the petition, it shall enter an order directing expunction and directing any state agency that sent information concerning the arrest to a central federal depository to request such depository to return all records and files subject to the order of expunction. Any petitioner or agency protesting the expunction may appeal the court's decision in the same manner as in other civil cases. When the order of expunction is final, the clerk of the court shall send a certified copy of the order by certified mail, return receipt requested, to each official or agency or other entity of this state or of any political subdivision of this state named in the petition that there is reason to believe has any records or files that are subject to the order. The clerk shall also send a certified copy by certified mail, return receipt requested, of the order to any central federal depository of criminal records that there is reason to believe has any of the records, together with an explanation of the effect of the order and a request that the records in possession of the depository, including any information with respect to the proceeding under this article, be destroyed or returned to the court.

(b) All returned receipts received by the clerk from notices of the hearing and copies of the order shall be maintained in the file on the proceedings under this chapter.

Sec. 4. (a) If the state establishes that the petitioner is still subject to conviction for an offense arising out of the transaction for which he was arrested because the statute of limitations has not run and there is reasonable cause to believe that the state may proceed against him for the offense, the court may provide in its order that the law enforcement agency and the prosecuting attorney responsible for investigating the offense may retain any records and files that are necessary to the investigation.

(b) Unless the petitioner is again arrested for or charged with an offense arising out of the transaction for which he was arrested, the provisions of Articles 55.03 and 55.04 of this code apply to files and records retained under this section.

Sec. 5. (a) On receipt of the order, each official or agency or other entity named in the order shall:

(1) return all records and files that are subject to the expunction order to the court or, if removal is impracticable, obliterate all portions of the record or file that identify the petitioner and notify the court of its action; and

(2) delete from its public records all index references to the records and files that are subject to the expunction order.

(b) The court may give the petitioner all records and files returned to it pursuant to its order.

(c) If an order of expunction is issued under this article, the court records concerning expunction proceedings are not open for inspection by anyone except the petitioner unless the order permits retention of a record under Section 4 of this article and the petitioner is again arrested for or charged with an offense arising out of the transaction for which he was arrested. The clerk of the court issuing the order shall obliterate all public references to the proceeding and maintain the files or other records in an area not open to inspection.

Art. 55.03. Effect of Expunction

After entry of an expunction order:

(1) the release, dissemination, or use of the expunged records and files for any purpose is prohibited;

(2) except as provided in Subdivision 3 of this article, the petitioner may deny the occurrence of the arrest and the existence of the expunction order; and

(3) the petitioner or any other person, when questioned under oath in a criminal proceeding about an arrest for which the records have been expunged, may state only that the matter in question has been expunged.

Amended by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1333, ch. 604, § 1, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.

Art. 55.04. Violation of Expunction Order

Section 1. A person who acquires knowledge of an arrest while an officer or employee of the state or of any agency or other entity of the state or any political subdivision of the state and who knows of an order expunging the records and files relating to that arrest commits an offense if he knowingly releases, disseminates, or otherwise uses the records or files.

Sec. 2. A person who knowingly fails to return or to obliterate identifying portions of a record or file ordered expunged under this chapter commits an offense.

Sec. 3. An offense under this article is a Class B misdemeanor.

Amended by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1333, ch. 604, § 1, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.

Texas Revised Civil Statutes Annotated

Art. 6252–13c. Eligibility of persons with criminal backgrounds for certain occupations, professions, and licenses

Section 1. The definitions contained in the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act (Article 6252–13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) shall apply to this Act.

Sec. 2. This Act shall not apply to the Supreme Court of Texas or to persons licensed or seeking to be licensed under its authority on behalf of the judicial department of government or to any person who seeks to become or is a peace officer as defined in Article 2.12, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965.

Sec. 3. All agencies of this state and its political subdivisions with the duty and responsibility of licensing and regulating members of particular trades, occupations, businesses, vocations, or professions shall have the authority to obtain from the Texas Department of Public Safety or from a local law enforcement agency the record of any conviction of any person applying for or holding a license from the requesting agency.

Sec. 4. (a) A licensing authority may suspend or revoke an existing valid license, disqualify a person from receiving a license, or deny to a person the opportunity to be examined for a license because of a person's conviction of a felony or misdemeanor if the crime directly relates to the duties and responsibilities of the licensed occupation.

(b) In determining whether a criminal conviction directly relates to an occupation, the licensing authority shall consider:

(1) the nature and seriousness of the crime;

(2) the relationship of the crime to the purposes for requiring a license to engage in the occupation;

(3) the extent to which a license might offer an opportunity to engage in further criminal activity of the same type as that in which the person previously had been involved; and

TEXAS

Open Records Act

Art. 6252-17a. Access by public to information in custody of governmental agencies and bodies

Declaration of policy

Section 1. Gentlemen:

Each of you has requested our decision on whether information is excepted from required public disclosure under section 3(a)(8) of the Open Records Act, article 6252-17a, V.T.C.S. This exception is applicable to > records of law enforcement agencies that deal with the detection and investigation of crime and the internal records and > notations of such law enforcement agencies which are maintained for internal use in matters relating to law enforcement.

We have deferred decisions in those cases where an arguable claim was made that the requested information fell within section 3(a)(8), because the constitutionality of this section has been at issue in litigation.

In Houston Chronicle Publishing Company v. City of Houston, 531 S.W.2d 177 (Tex. Civ. App. -- Houston [14th Dist.] 1975, writ ref'd n.r.e. at 19 Tex. Sup. J. 300, May 1, 1976), the court held section 3(a)(8) constitutional, dealt with the scope of the exception in relation to the constitutional right of access to information concerning crime in the community, and decided the applicability of the exception to specific records and information held by the Houston Police Department.

The court gave detailed descriptions of various records sought and held that the police blotter, show-up sheet, and arrest sheet are public records available to the press and public. The court held that the offense report and personal history and arrest record ("rap sheet") are excepted from required public disclosure by section 3(a)(8), but also held that the public and press have a constitutionally protected right to access to information maintained by law enforcement agencies relating to crime and criminal activities and that this right extends affirmatively to the information contained on the first page of the offense report as described in the opinion.

In its per curiam opinion refusing the application for writ of error in this case, the Texas Supreme Court said:

> We agree with the opinion of the court below that neither the Texas Open Records Act nor the United States or Texas Constitutions requires disclosure of the complete records sought by the Houston Chronicle, and we therefore refuse the Chronicle's application for writ of error, no reversible error. Since the City of Houston has not filed an application for writ of error complaining of the court of civil appeals' judgment, it is the > opinion of the majority of the court that we reserve the question as to whether the press and public have a statutory or constitutional right to obtain all of the information which the court of civil appeals has held to be public information. Houston Chronicle Publishing Co. v. City of Houston, 19 Tex. Sup. Ct. J. 300 (May 1, 1976).

While the Supreme Court's opinion indicates that a question remains as to some of the information held to be public by the Court of Civil Appeals, the opinion of the latter court is the most authoritative judicial interpretation of section 3(a)(8) of the Open Records Act available, and this office will follow that interpretation. See Attorney General Opinion H-373 (1974).

Your specific requests for decisions on the applicability of the section 3(a)(8) law enforcement records exception may now be considered in light of this decision.

Mr. Bickley of Dallas and Mr. Perry of Arlington have received requests for information on the names and addresses of burglary victims. This information is available on the first page of offense reports and is public. The requesting parties are entitled to access to these records. However, the city is not obligated to compile or extract this information if it can be made available by giving the requestor access to the records themselves. See Open Records Decision No. 87 (1975).

Mr. Perkins of Sherman has received a request for access to the original reports of driving while intoxicated offenses. The managing editor of the Sherman Democrat seeks access to the original records in order to perform his own compilation of DWI statistics. The form used for such reports is the Texas Department of Public Safety "DWI/DUID Traffic Case Report," form HP-21 (Rev. 1-72). Some of the information on the form is excepted from required public disclosure. This includes the item calling for the criminal record of the driver, the identification of witnesses, the information concerning chemical tests and results thereof, and, on the back of the form, the interview of the suspect.

The city is not required to provide access to those parts of the form containing information excepted from disclosure by section 3(a)(8).

The correspondence on this matter indicates that the requestor wishes to insure the authenticity and accuracy of the information the city has offered to compile. We believe that this problem of the method by which an agency must separate excepted information from public information appearing on the same page is an administrative problem which this office cannot resolve. Perhaps the availability of the desired information from the original blotter, show-up sheet, or arrest sheet will render the matter moot.

Mr. Anderson of Wichita Falls requests our decision concerning a request received by the sheriff from a private corporation asking for information as to "any record your department has on this individual." We understand this to be a request for a personal history and arrest record, or rap sheet, on a named individual. This information is excepted from disclosure by section 3(a)(8). Houston Chronicle Publishing Corp. v. City of Houston, 531 S.W.2d at 187-188.

Mr. Hickey requests our decision on behalf of the City of Bellaire in regard to a request received by the police department for access to the contents of the files concerning the requesting individual. We have said that the Open Records Act is a general public disclosure statute giving any member of the public access to governmental records without reference to his particular circumstances, motive or need. Open Records Decision Nos. 118 (1976), 108 (1975). The only special rights of access given by the Open Records Act are those afforded to governmental employees and to students to their own records. Secs. 3(a)(2); 3(a)(14). The individual here is afforded the same right of access by the Open Records Act that every other member of the public has to records held by the police department. However, we have said that the Open Records Act is but one means of securing information, either publicly or privately, and that the Act does not restrict a right of access based on special interest. Open Records Decision No. 106 (1975). See Attorney General Opinions H-249 (1974); H-231 (1974); Open Records Decision No. 111 (1975); No. 24 (1974); No. 18A at p. 3 (1974). In regard to access by an individual to criminal history record information maintained about him, see 42 U.S.C. § 3771(b); 28 C.F.R. §§ 20.21(g), 20.34.

The only decision we are authorized to make in this instance under section 7 of the Act is that the individual's criminal history record is excepted from required public disclosure by section 3(a)(8) of the Open Records Act. However, we note that the Act does not affect any special federal statutory right which an individual may have to information.

Mr. Ross of El Paso asks our decision on the applicability of section 3(a)(8) to information requested of the Police Department. The request is for photographs, and supplemental witness statements collected in connection with the investigation of an incident wherein a death occurred, apparently by carbon monoxide asphyxiation from a gas heater.

On the basis of the facts presented, it is our understanding that the incident investigated did not lead to any criminal charges being filed. However, the purpose of the investigation and the taking of photographs and statements of witnesses was to determine whether a crime may have occurred.

The information requested here is the type which the court in the Houston Chronicle case held to be excepted from required public disclosure, in that it consists of evidentiary matters. The court said:

> To open such material to the press and public in all cases might endanger the position of the State in criminal prosecutions by the use of such materials to the disadvantage of the prosecution. To have such materials open to the press and public in all cases might reveal the names of informants and pose the threat of intimidation of potential prosecution witnesses. Houston Chronicle Publishing Co. v. City of Houston, 531 S.W.2d at 187.

Police investigations of incidents such as this death by other than natural causes are rarely closed completely, and what initially appears to be an accident may later be found to have involved a criminal act. Cases are not always closed by prosecution or a determination that no crime was involved.

The Open Records Act excepts from required public disclosure records of law enforcement agencies "that deal with the detection and investigation of crime." We do not believe that this exception was intended to be read so narrowly that it only applies to those investigative records which in fact lead to prosecution. We believe that it was also intended to protect other valid interests such as maintaining as confidential the investigative techniques and procedures used in law enforcement and insuring the privacy and safety of witnesses willing to cooperate with law enforcement officers. These interests in non-disclosure remain even though there is no prosecution in a particular case.

It is our decision that the information requested is excepted from required public disclosure by section 3(a)(8).

Mr. Bickley of Dallas has received a request for all records of the City of Dallas and the Dallas Fire Department concerning a specified fire. Mr. Bickley contends that the investigatory records concerning this fire developed and maintained by the Arson Investigation Division of the Dallas Fire Department are excepted from required public disclosure by section 3(a)(8).

The records submitted clearly deal with the detection and investigation of crime. The issue is whether the Arson Investigation Division of the Dallas Fire Department is a "law enforcement agency" witin the meaning of section 3(a)(8). This distinct division of the Dallas Fire Department is made up of peace officers. Code of Criminal Procedure, article 2.12 provides:

> . . . .
> (7) each member of an arson investigating unit of a city, county or the state.

The primary purpose of the arson investigating unit is the detection and investigation of violations of the penal law.

We believe that the Arson Investigation Division of the Dallas Fire Department is a law enforcement agency within the meaning of section 3(a)(8), and that this exception is applicable to certain records held by this Division.

The information submitted with Mr. Bickley's letter includes completed forms designated "Dallas Fire-Department Investigation Fire Report" and "Investigation Report," witness statements and handwritten notes by investigators concerning witnesses' statements and the conduct of the investigation.

Guided by the Court's decision in the Houston Chronicle case that the press and the public have a right of access to information concerning crime in the community and to information relating to activities of law enforcement agencies, we believe that the press and public are entitled to access to information concerning fires in the community, including those involving arson. The Investigation Reports here include the time of the occurrence, the fire department's response, the location of the fire, how and by whom it was reported, a description of the building, estimates of the value of the building and its contents, whether and to what amount the property is insured by whom, and a description of any injuries or deaths that occurred with the name and age of the victim, nature of injury, conveyance and hospital, and date and time of death, as applicable. The investigation report also includes a detailed description of the cause and origin of the fire.

We believe the public is entitled to access to this information contained in the investigation reports.

However, certain portions of the reports include the investigator's opinion and conclusions concerning the names of suspects, the possible motive for an incendiary fire, evidence found, names of witnesses and summaries of their statements, and information concerning the description, background, and possible location of any suspect. We believe that this is the type of information the disclosure of which might impede an ongoing investigation or endanger the position of the State in criminal prosecutions, and as such is excepted from required public disclosure by section 3(a)(8). Of course, if formal charges are filed against a suspect, that information is public and should be disclosed.

Colonel Speir requests our decision on whether a Texas Department of Public Safety "Hit and Run Report" is excepted from public disclosure by section 3(a)(8). The requestor asked for information concerning a specific hit and run accident. The requestor was provided with a copy of the Department's "Texas Peace Officer's Accident Report," which is specifically made public under section 47, article 6701d, V.T.C.S. The requestor's specific request for the "Hit and Run Report" was denied on the ground that it is excepted by section 3(a)(8).

There is much duplication of information in the Accident Report and the front page of the Hit and Run Report. The only unique information in the Hit and Run Report is contained on the second page, and details the investigative steps taken in the particular case. This information on the second page is excepted from required public disclosure under section 3(a)(8) of the Open Records Act. In accordance with the Houston Chronicle decision, the front page of the report is public and should be made available.

Colonel Speir also requests our decision regarding whether a daily list of persons entering and leaving the Executive Mansion kept by the Department of Public Safety officers on duty is excepted from required public disclosure by section 3(a)(8).

The listing requested is compiled during each 24-hour period by the officer on duty on each of three shifts. It includes notations on the entry and exit of persons into and from the Mansion. The report is reviewed by the supervising sergeant and is normally disposed of by him. The Department of Public Safety officers are assigned to duty in the Executive Mansion for the purpose of providing security for the persons and property there. This listing is made in connection with this law enforcement purpose.

In Open Records Decision No. 22A (1974), we said that we believed that information which could assist an individual in simultaneously violating the law and avoiding detection is the type of information intended to be excepted from required public disclosure by section 3(a)(8) as an "internal record and notation maintained for internal use in matters relating to law enforcement." We believe that requiring disclosure of the listing and report involved here would disclose the security practices of the Department of Public Safety and could assist a person in simultaneously violating the law and avoiding detection. We believe that the requested information is excepted from required public disclosure by section 3(a)(8) of the Act.

Open Records Decision No.144

Dear Col. Speir:

You have received a request to provide information from your files concerning convictions of persons since they were pardoned. The requestor supplied a list of approximately 650 names with a Texas Department of Corrections identification number and the date the person was pardoned.

You ask whether this information is excepted from required public disclosure by section 3(a)(8) of the Open Records Act, article 6252-17a, V.T.C.S., which excepts > records of law enforcement agencies that deal with the detection and investigation of crime and the internal records and notations of such law enforcement agencies which are maintained for internal use in matters relating to law enforcement.

The information requested is available from your files or from information exchange systems to which you have access in the form of personal history and arrest records or "rap sheets."

Personal history and arrest records, which may include conviction information, have been held to be excepted from required public disclosure by section 3(a)(8) of the Act.

Houston Chronicle Publishing Co. v. City of Houston, 531 S.W.2d 177, 188 (Tex. Civ. App. -- Houston [14th Dist.] 1975), writ ref'd n.r.e. per curiam, 536 S.W.2d 559 (Tex. Sup. 1976); Open Records Decision No. 127 (1976) at 6.

The requesting party makes clear that the request is only for information concerning convictions, and does not extend to any information concerning arrests not resulting in prosecution or conviction. He notes that the information concerning convictions is public and available in the court records throughout Texas. He states that he is "seeking them from the Department of Public Safety because it is a central point of access for the information."

We have held that the Department of Public Safety may provide criminal history record information to certain state agencies to assist them in their licensing responsibilities, subject to applicable federal law and regulations. Attorney General Opinion H-683 (1975). Current federal regulations do not restrict a law enforcement agency's dissemination of its own conviction information [28 C.F.R. § 20.21(b)(4), as amended (1975); 41 Fed. Reg. 11714, 11715 (March 19, 1976)]; however, dissemination of criminal history record information, including convictions, from Department of Justice criminal history information systems (e.g. N.C.I.C.) is not permitted. 28 C.F.R. §§ 20.30, 20.33 (1975). In our Opinion H-683 we recognized but did not decide the issue of whether the public nature of conviction information when held by the court clerk of a particular court is transformed by virtue of the compilation of it in a centralized and vastly more accessible form. It is not necessary to decide this question here, except to say that even though conviction information may be a matter of public record where the conviction occured, the Open Records Act does not require a law enforcement agency to search its records and notations to disclose that conviction information in response to an inquiry by a member of the public or press.

The information requested is excepted from required public disclosure by section 3(a)(8) of the Act.

Both documents shall be served upon the prosecuting attorney. The court shall then set a date for a hearing and notify the prosecuting attorney for the jurisdiction of the date set for hearing. Persons having relevant information about the petitioner may testify at the hearing. (b) A person who at the time of petition for expungement has two or more convictions for any type of felony offense on his record, not arising out of a single criminal episode, or whose felony criminal record has been previously expunged is not eligible for expungement of any of those offenses regardless of type or degree of offense.

(c) The court shall enter an order to seal all records in the petitioner's case in the custody of that court or in the custody of any other court, agency, or official if the court finds:

(c) any person who has a court order signed by a judge from a Utah court other than a justice of the peace court, or a federal court of competent jurisdiction to the extent that the record deals with a matter in controversy over which the court has jurisdiction after the court has considered the merits of the record request.

(4) A governmental entity may disclose a record classified private, confidential, or protected to another governmental entity, another state, the United States, or a foreign government only as provided by Section 63-2-206.

(5) Before releasing a record classified private, confidential, or protected, the governmental entity shall obtain evidence of the requester's identity.

(6) Nothing in this section prohibits a governmental entity from disclosing a record to persons other than those listed in Subsections (1), (2), and (3) if the governmental entity determines that disclosure is in the public interest.

63-2-203. Fees [Effective April 1, 1992].

(1) A governmental entity may charge a reasonable fee to cover the governmental entity's actual cost of duplicating a record or compiling a record in a form other than that maintained by the governmental entity as follows:

(a) Governmental entities subject to Section 63-38-3 shall establish fees using a cost formula determined by and in conjunction with the Office of Planning and Budget and the Division of Finance.

(b) Political subdivisions shall establish fees by ordinance.

(c) The judiciary shall establish fees by rules of the judicial council.

(2) A governmental entity may fulfill a request without charge when it determines that:

(a) releasing the record primarily benefits the public rather than an individual; or

(b) the individual requesting the record is the subject of the record.

(3) A governmental entity may not charge a fee for:

(a) reviewing a record to determine whether it is subject to disclosure; or

(b) inspecting a record.

(4) All money received by a state agency to cover the actual cost of duplicating a record or compiling a record in a form other than that maintained by the state agency shall be retained by the state agency as a dedicated credit. Those funds shall be used to recover the actual cost and expenses incurred by the state agency in providing the requested record or record series.

(5) This section does not apply to fees established by other statutes.

63-2-204. Requests — Time limit for response and extraordinary circumstances [Effective April 1, 1992].

(1) A person making a request for a record shall furnish the governmental entity with a written request containing his name, mailing address, daytime telephone number, and a description of the records requested that identifies the record with reasonable specificity.

(2) A governmental entity may make rules in accordance with Chapter 46a, Title 63, Utah Administrative Rulemaking Act, specifying where and to whom requests for access shall be directed.

(3) Except as provided in Subsection (4), a governmental entity shall respond to a records request no later than ten business days after receiving the request by:

(a) approving the request and providing the record;

(b) denying the request;

(c) notifying the requester that it does not maintain the record and providing, if known, the name and address of the governmental entity that does maintain the record; or

(d) notifying the requester that because of the extraordinary circumstances listed in Subsection (5), it cannot immediately approve or deny the request, and specifying the earliest time and date when the records will be available.

(4) If a requester demonstrates that he is a member of the news media or that expedited release of the record benefits the public rather than an individual, the governmental entity shall respond to a records request no later than five business days after receiving the request.

(5) The following circumstances constitute "extraordinary circumstances" that allow a governmental entity to delay approval or denial by an additional number of days as specified in Subsection 63-2-204 (6) if the governmental entity determines that due to the extraordinary circumstances it cannot respond within the time limits provided in Subsection (3) or (4):

(a) another governmental entity is using the record, in which case the originating governmental entity shall immediately request that the governmental entity currently in possession return the record;

(b) another governmental entity is using the record as part of an audit and returning the record before the completion of the audit would impair the conduct of the audit;

(c) the request is for a voluminous quantity of records;

(d) the governmental entity is currently processing a large number of records requests;

(e) the request requires the governmental entity to review a large number of records to locate the records requested;

(f) the decision to release a record involves legal issues requiring analysis of statutes, rules, ordinances, regulations, or case law;

(g) separating public information from private, confidential, or protected information requires extensive editing; or

(h) separating public information from private, confidential, or protected information requires computer programming.

(6) If a governmental entity claims that one of the extraordinary circumstances listed in Subsection (5) precludes approval or denial within the time specified in Subsection (3) or (4), the following time limits apply to the extraordinary circumstances:

(a) for claims under Subsection (5)(a), the governmental entity currently in possession of the record shall return the record to the originating entity within five business days of the request for the return unless returning the record would impair the holder's work;

(b) for claims under Subsection (5)(b), the originating governmental entity shall notify the requester when the record is available for inspection and copying;

(c) for claims under Subsections (5)(c), (d), and (e), the governmental entity shall:

(i) disclose the public records that it has located;

(ii) provide the requester with an estimate of the amount of time it will take to finish the search; and

(iii) complete the search and disclose the requested records as soon as reasonably possible;

(d) for claims under Subsection (5)(f), the governmental entity shall either approve or deny the request within five days after the response time designated for the original request has expired;

(e) for claims under Subsection (5)(g), the governmental entity shall fulfill the request within 15 business days from the date of the original request; or

(f) for claims under Subsection (5)(h), the governmental entity shall complete its programming and disclose the requested records as soon as reasonably possible.

(7) If a request for access is submitted to an office of a governmental entity other than that specified by rule in accordance with Subsection (2), the office shall immediately forward the request to the appropriate office. If the request is forwarded immediately, the time limit for response begins when the record is received by the office designated by rule.

(8) If the governmental entity fails to provide the requested records or issue a denial within the specified time period, that failure is considered the equivalent of a determination denying access to the records.

63-2-205. Denials [Effective April 1, 1992].

(1) If the governmental entity denies the request in whole or part, it shall send a notice of denial to the requester's address.

(a) a description of the record or portions of the record to which access was denied, provided that the description does not disclose private, confidential, or protected information;

(b) citations to the provisions of this chapter, another state statute, federal statute, or federal regulation that exempt the record or portions of the record from disclosure, provided that the citations do not disclose private, confidential, or protected information;

(c) a statement that the requester has the right to appeal the denial to the chief administrative officer of the governmental entity and then to either the records committee or district court; and

(d) a brief summary of the appeals process, the time limits for filing an appeal, and the name and business address of the chief administrative officer of the governmental entity.

(3) Unless otherwise required by a court or agency of competent jurisdiction, a governmental entity may not destroy or give up custody of any record to which access was denied until the period in which to bring an appeal has expired or the end of the appeals process, including judicial appeal.

63-2-206. Sharing records [Effective April 1, 1992].

(1) A governmental entity may provide a record series classified private under Section 63-2-302, confidential under Section 63-2-303, or protected under Subsection 63-2-304 (1) or (2) to another governmental entity or government-managed corporation if the requesting governmental entity or government-managed corporation:

(b) certifies that the record or record series will be used for a purpose similar to the purpose for which the information in the record or record series was collected or obtained; and

(c) certifies that the use of the record or record series produces a public benefit that outweighs the individual privacy right that protects the record or record series.

(3) A governmental entity may provide a record or record series classified protected under Subsection 63-2-304 (1) or (2) to another governmental entity if:

(a) the record is necessary to the performance of the governmental entity's duties and functions; or

(b) the record will be used for a purpose similar to the purpose for which the information in the record or record series was collected or obtained.

(4) Notwithstanding Subsection (2), a governmental entity may disclose a record to another state, the United States, or a foreign government for the reasons listed in Subsections (1), (2), and (3) if disclosure is authorized by executive agreement, treaty, federal statute, compact, federal regulation, or state statute.

(5) Before disclosing a record or record series under this section to another governmental entity, another state, the United States, or a foreign government, the originating governmental entity shall:

(a) inform the recipient of the record's classification and the accompanying restrictions on access; and

(b) obtain the recipient's written agreement that it will abide by those restrictions on access unless a statute, federal regulation, or interstate agreement otherwise governs the sharing of the record or record series.

(6) A governmental entity shall provide a private, confidential, or protected record to another governmental entity if the requesting entity:

(a) is entitled by law to inspect the record; or

(b) is required to inspect the record as a condition of participating in a state or federal program or for receiving state or federal funds.

(7) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, if a more specific state statute, federal statute, or federal regulation prohibits or requires sharing information, that statute or federal regulation controls.

(8) The provisions of this section do not apply to:

(a) records held by the Utah State Tax Commission that pertain to any person and that are gathered under authority of Title 59, Revenue and Taxation;

63-2-306. Duty to examine records and make classifications [Effective April 1, 1992].

(1) Beginning April 1, 1992, a governmental entity shall:

(2) A governmental entity is not required to reclassify any record or record series created before April 1, 1992, until:

(a) information is added to the record series; or

(b) a person requests access to the record or to a record within the record series.

(3) A governmental entity may reclassify a record or record series at any time.

The claimant shall then be allowed to provide further support for the claim of business confidentiality.

Title 1
Chapter 5
Public Records

§ 315. Statement of policy

It is the policy of this subchapter to provide for free and open examination of records consistent with Chapter I, Article 6 of the Vermont Constitution. Officers of government are trustees and servants of the people and it is in the public interest to enable any person to review and criticize their decisions even though such examination may cause inconvenience or embarrassment. All people, however, have a right to privacy in their personal and economic pursuits, which ought to be protected unless specific information is needed to review the action of a governmental officer. Consistent with these principles, the general assembly hereby declares that certain public records shall be made available to any person as hereinafter provided. To that end, the provisions of this subchapter shall be liberally construed with the view towards carrying out the above declaration of public policy.—Added 1975, No. 231 (Adj. Sess.).

§ 316. Access to public records and documents

(a) Any person may inspect or copy any public record or document of a public agency, on any day other than a Saturday, Sunday, or a legal holiday, between the hours of nine o'clock and twelve o'clock in the forenoon and between one o'clock and four o'clock in the afternoon; provided, however, if the public agency is not regularly open to the public during those hours, inspection or copying may be made during customary office hours.

(b) If a photocopying machine or other mechanical device maintained for use by a public agency is used by the agency to copy the public record or document requested, the person requesting the copy may be charged the actual cost of providing the copy, which cost may be collected by the public agency. Nothing in this section shall exempt any person from paying fees otherwise established by law for obtaining copies of public records or documents, but if such fee is established for the copy, no additional costs or fees shall be charged.

(c) A public agency having photocopying or other mechanical copying facilities shall utilize those facilities to produce copies. If the public agency does not have such facilities, nothing in this section shall be construed to require the public agency to provide or arrange for photocopying service, to use or permit the use of copying facilities other than its own, to permit operation of its copying facilities by other than its own personnel, to permit removal of the public record by the requesting person for purposes of copying, or to make its own personnel available for making handwritten or typed copies of the public record or document requested.

(d) A public agency may make reasonable rules to prevent disruption of operations, to preserve the security of public records or documents, and to protect them from damage.—Added 1975, No. 231 (Adj. Sess.).

§ 317. Definitions; public agency; public records and documents

(5) records dealing with the detection and investigation of crime, including those maintained on any individual or compiled in the course of a criminal or disciplinary investigation by any police or professional licensing agency; provided, however, records relating to management and direction of a law enforcement agency and records reflecting the initial arrest of a person and the charge shall be public;

(6) a tax return and related documents, correspondence and certain types of substantiating forms which include the same type of information as in the tax return itself filed with or maintained by the Vermont department of taxes or submitted by a person to any public agency in connection with agency business;

(7) personal documents relating to an individual, including information in any files maintained to hire, evaluate, promote or discipline any employee of a public agency, information in any files relating to personal finances, medical or psychological facts concerning any individual or corporation; provided, however, that all information in personnel files of an individual employee of any public agency shall be made available to that individual employee or his designated representative;

struments or data used to administer a license, employment, or academic examination;

(9) trade secrets, including, but not limited to, any formulae, plan, pattern, process, tool, mechanism, compound, procedure, production data, or compilation of information which is not patented, which is known only to certain individuals within a commercial concern, and which gives its user or owner an opportunity to obtain business advantage over competitors who do not know it or use it;

(10) lists of names compiled or obtained by a public agency when disclosure would violate a person's right to privacy or produce public or private gain; provided, however, that this section does not apply to lists which are by law made available to the public, or to lists of professional or occupational licensees;

(11) student records at educational institutions funded wholly or in part by state revenue; provided, however, that such records shall be made available upon request under the provisions of the Federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (P.L. 93–380) and as amended;

(18) Records of the office of internal investigation of the department of public safety, except as provided in section 1923 of Title 20.—Added 1975, No. 231 (Adj. Sess.); amended 1977,

§ 318. Procedure

(a) Upon request the custodian of a public record shall promptly produce the record for inspection, except that:

(1) if the record is in active use or in storage and therefore not available for use at the time the person asks to examine it, the custodian shall so certify this fact in writing to the applicant and set a date and hour within one calendar week of the request when the record will be available for examination;

(2) if the custodian considers the record to be exempt from inspection under the provisions of this subchapter, he shall so certify in writing stating his reasons for denial of access to the record. Such certification shall be made within two business days, unless otherwise provided in division (5) of this subsection. The custodian shall also notify the person of his right to appeal to the head of the agency any adverse determination;

(3) if appealed to the head of the agency, the head of the agency shall make a determination with respect to any appeal within five days, excepting Saturdays, Sundays, and legal public holidays, after the receipt of such appeal. If an appeal of the denial of the request for records is in whole or in part upheld, the agency shall notify the person making such request of the provisions for judicial review of that determination under section 319 of this title;

(4) if a record does not exist, the custodian shall certify in writing that the record does not exist under the name given to him by the applicant or by any other name known to the custodian;

(5) in unusual circumstances as herein specified the time limits prescribed in this subsection may be extended by written notice to the person making such request setting forth the reasons for such extension and the date on which a determination is expected to be dispatched. No such notice shall specify a date that would result in an extension for more than ten working days. As used in this division, "unusual circumstances" means to the extent reasonably necessary to the proper processing of the particular request:

(A) the need to search for and collect the requested records from field facilities or other establishments that are separate from the office processing the request;

(B) the need to search for, collect, and appropriately examine a voluminous amount of separate and distinct records which are demanded in a single request; or

(C) the need for consultation, which shall be conducted with all practicable speed, with another agency having a substantial interest in the determination of the request or among two or more components of the agency having substantial subject matter interest therein, or with the attorney general.

(b) Any person making a request to any agency for records under subsection (a) of this section shall be deemed to have exhausted his administrative remedies with respect to each request if the agency fails to comply within the applicable time limit provisions of this section. Upon any determination by an agency to comply with a request for records, the records shall be made available promptly to the person making such request. Any notification of denial of any request for records under this section shall set forth the names and titles or positions of each person responsible for the denial of such request.—Added 1975, No. 231 (Adj. Sess.).

§ 319. Enforcement

(a) Any person aggrieved by the denial of a request for public records under this subchapter may apply to the superior court in the county in which the complainant resides, or has his personal place of business, or in which the public records are situated, or in the superior court of Washington County, to enjoin the public agency from withholding agency records and to order the production of any agency records improperly withheld from the complainant. In such a case the court shall determine the matter de novo, and may examine the contents of such agency records in camera to determine whether such records or any part thereof shall be withheld under any of the exemptions set forth in section 317 of this title, and the burden is on the agency to sustain its action.

(b) Except as to cases the court considers of greater importance, proceedings before the superior court, as authorized by this section, and appeals therefrom, take precedence on the docket over all cases and shall be assigned for hearing and trial or for argument at the earliest practicable date and expedited in every way.

(c) If the public agency can show the court that exceptional circumstances exist and that the agency is exercising due diligence in responding to the request, the court may retain jurisdiction and allow the agency additional time to complete its review of the records.

(d) The court may assess against the public agency reasonable attorney fees and other litigation costs reasonably incurred in any case under this section in which the complainant has substantially prevailed.—Added 1975, No. 231 (Adj. Sess.).

§ 320. Penalties

(a) Whenever the court orders the production of any public agency records, improperly withheld from the complainant and assesses against the agency reasonable attorney fees and other litigation costs, and the court additionally issues a written finding that the circumstances surrounding the withholding raise questions whether the agency personnel acted arbitrarily or capriciously with respect to the withholding, the department of personnel if applicable to that employee, shall promptly initiate a proceeding to determine whether disciplinary action is warranted against the officer or employee who was primarily responsible for the withholding. The department, after investigation and consideration of the evidence submitted, shall submit its findings and recommendations to the administrative authority of the agency concerned and shall send copies of the findings and recommendations to the officer or employee or his representative. The administrative authority shall take the corrective action that the department recommends.

(b) In the event of noncompliance with the order of the court, the superior court may punish for contempt the responsible employee or official, and in the case of a uniformed service, the responsible member.—Added 1975, No. 231 (Adj. Sess.).

VERMONT

DATE 31 October 1979

TO: All Criminal Justice System Agencies; Office of the Defender General

FROM: Warren M. Cone, Commissioner

SUBJECT: VCIC Regulations

The Department of Public Safety has adopted RULES AND REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE OPERATION OF THE VERMONT CRIMINAL INFORMATION CENTER. (a copy of which is attached to this memo) The regulations were effective 20 October 1979 and form the basic operating guidelines for VCIC as well as contributors to and users of record data maintained within the center.

It is important to note that selected sections of the regulations will not become effective until 31 March 1980. These are (a) Incident Reports; (b) revised arrest reports; and, (c) reports of disposition. This was done to permit finalization of these report formats and to preclude disruption of the present IRS program. Undoubtedly there will be some problems associated with forms during this interim period. Your cooperation during this transitional time frame is essential to the maintenance of the record data at VCIC. The Director of VCIC, Sgt. Billy Chilton, and his staff will be available to answer any questions you may have with regard to implementation of regulatory requirements.

Use of private, party line and phone booth telephone numbers is prohibited. All telephone authorization lists shall be in the form of a request addressed to the Director, on agency letterhead, properly signed by a department head or equivalent authority.

(1) The VCIC may refuse to disseminate criminal history record and nonconviction information if, in the discretion of the Director: the purpose of the request lacks proper justification; the identity of the requestor as an authorized agency or person cannot be satisfactorily established; the proposed use of information requested is inconsistent with or prohibited by these regulations, state or federal law, municipal ordinance, charter, other regulation or executive order; is inconsistent with the provisions of Rule 16, Vermont Rules of Criminal Procedure; is prohibited by court order or rule.

SECTION 7 SECURITY OF COMPUTERIZED CRIMINAL INFORMATION SYSTEMS

7.10 SECURITY CONCEPTS WITH SHARED COMPUTER SYSTEMS. The alternative is a shared system concept with an effective employee screening program and physical plant and software security methods and procedures.

7.20 PERSONNEL SCREENING AND SECURITY. Due to the nature of material contained in a criminal history record information system, it shall be necessary to restrict access to such data, programs and storage devices, to the minimum number of persons required to effectively and efficiently operate and maintain the system. In order to satisfy the security requirements of these regulations, the Commissioner of Budget and Management shall provide to the Commissioner of Public Safety a list of persons having direct or other access to the criminal history record information system, its operational programs and tape or other storage, for the purpose of providing security clearances for these persons.

(a) Should any individual, whose name has been submitted to the Commissioner of Public Safety for clearance, fail to qualify for security clearance as the result of a background investigation conducted by the Department of Public Safety, the Commissioner of Budget and Management shall submit an alternate.

(b) Disqualification shall be on the following basis:

(1) The individual has a criminal history record.

(2) The individual is known to associate regularly and frequently with persons having criminal records.

(c) The Commissioner of Budget and Management and the Commissioner of Public Safety shall jointly maintain an accurate current listing of security clearances issued.

(d) Upon permanent reassignment of persons with a security clearance to an area not involved with criminal data, the security clearance shall become invalid effective with the date of such assignment.

(e) Secure terminal access codes shall be a provision of the criminal records information system software design. Access codes shall be amended immediately upon reassignment, termination or other of VCIC or Data Processing personnel having access to such information.

7.30 SECURITY COOPERATION. The Commissioner of Public Safety and the Commissioner of Budget and Management shall cooperate in the development of an environment of informational and physical security suitable to the specialized requirements of criminal history record information.

7.40 PROGRAM SECURITY. Program safeguards shall be designed to restrict access and detect any breach of security as follows:

(a) Criminal history record data entry and file maintenance shall be restricted to VCIC.

(b) Direct on-line access of criminal history record information shall not normally be possible from any terminal facility except VCIC. The capability to unlock remote terminals to permit direct access shall be controlled at VCIC.

(c) All unauthorized attempts to access criminal history information shall:

(1) Produce an automatic notation of the date of inquiry or access and terminal identification on the criminal history record queried.

(2) Detect and store a record of all unauthorized attempts or penetrations of any criminal history record information system, program or file.

(d) The design and documentation of the security program shall be restricted to the minimum number of employees outside VCIC essential to its operation and maintenance.

7.50 The unauthorized disclosure of criminal history record information by VCIC or other Public Safety employees shall be cause for immediate dismissal. (see section 13.21).

In the event no conviction data is maintained on the data subject, the person making the request shall be furnished at his cost a certification to that effect.

B. Use of criminal history record information disseminated to noncriminal justice agencies under this section shall be limited to the purposes for which it was given and may not be disseminated further.

C. No criminal justice agency or person shall confirm the existence or nonexistence of criminal history record information for employment or licensing inquiries except as provided by law.

D. Criminal justice agencies shall establish procedures to query the Central Criminal Records Exchange prior to dissemination of any criminal history record information on offenses required to be reported to the Central Criminal Records Exchange to assure that the most up-to-date disposition data is being used. Inquiries of the Exchange shall be made prior to any dissemination except in those cases where time is of the essence and the normal response time of the Exchange would exceed the necessary time period. A criminal justice agency to whom a request has been made for the dissemination of criminal history record information that is required to be reported to the Central Criminal Records Exchange may direct the inquirer to the Central Criminal Records Exchange for such dissemination. Dissemination of offenses not required to be reported to the Exchange shall be made by the criminal justice agency maintaining the record as required by § 15.1-135.1.

E. Criminal history information provided to the Commissioner of the Department of Social Services pursuant to subdivision A 12 shall be limited to convictions on file with the Exchange for any offense specified in §§ 63.1-198.1 and 63.1-199. The information provided to the Commissioner shall not be disseminated except as provided in §§ 63.1-198 and 63.1-198.1. (Code 1950, § 19.1-19.2; 1966, c. 669; 1968, c. 537; 1970, c. 118; 1975, c. 495; 1976, c. 771; 1977, c. 626; 1978, c. 350; 1979, c. 480; 1981, c. 207; 1985, c. 360; 1987, cc. 130, 131; 1988, c. 851; 1989, c. 544; 1990, c. 766.)

§ 22.1-296.2. Fingerprinting required.—As a condition of employment, any school board under an urban county executive form of government or in any county having a population in excess of 100,000 which has adopted the county executive form of government and any city having a population in excess of 15,000 which is surrounded by such county having the county executive form of government shall require any individual who accepts a position after July 1, 1989, to submit to fingerprinting and to provide personal descriptive information to be forwarded along with the applicant's fingerprints through the Central Criminal Records Exchange to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for the purpose of obtaining criminal history record information regarding such applicant.

The Central Criminal Records Exchange, upon receipt of an applicant's record or notification that no record exists, shall report to the school board whether or not the applicant has ever been convicted of murder, abduction for immoral purposes as set out in § 18.2-48, sexual assault as set out in Article 7 (§ 18.2-61 et seq.) of Chapter 4 of Title 18.2, failing to secure medical attention for an injured child, pandering as set out in § 18.2-355, crimes against nature involving children as set out in § 18.2-361, taking indecent liberties with children as set out in § 18.2-370 or § 18.2-370.1, neglect of children as set out in § 18.2-371.1, or obscenity offenses as set out in § 18.2-374.1 or § 18.2-379, or an equivalent offense in another state. The Central Criminal Records Exchange shall not disclose information to the school board regarding charges or convictions of any crimes not specified in this section. If an applicant is denied employment because of information appearing on his criminal history record, the school board shall provide a copy of the information obtained from the Central Criminal Records Exchange to the applicant. The information provided to the school board shall not be disseminated except as provided in this section.

§ 19.2-390. Reports to be made by local law-enforcement officers, conservators of the peace and clerks of court; Exchange may receive, etc., material submitted by other agencies. — (a) Every state official or agency having the power to arrest, the sheriffs of counties, the police officials of cities and towns, and any other local law-enforcement officer or conservator of the peace having the power to arrest for a felony shall make a report to the Central Criminal Records Exchange, on forms provided by it, of any arrest on a charge of treason or of any felony or of any offense punishable as a misdemeanor under Title 54, or Class 1 and 2 misdemeanors under Title 18.2, except an arrest for a violation of Article 2, of Chapter 7 of Title 18.2 (§ 18.2-266 et seq.), for violation of Article 2 of Chapter 9 of Title 18.2 (§ 18.2-415), or § 18.2-119 or any similar ordinance of any county, city or town. Such reports shall contain such information as shall be required by the Exchange and shall be accompanied by fingerprints of the individual arrested. Fingerprint cards prepared by a law-enforcement agency for inclusion in a national criminal justice file shall be forwarded to the Exchange for transmittal to the appropriate bureau.

For persons arrested and released on summonses in accordance with § 19.2-74, such report shall not be required until after a conviction is entered and no appeal is noted or if an appeal is noted, the conviction is upheld upon appeal or the person convicted withdraws his appeal. Upon such conviction, the court shall remand the individual to the custody of the office of the chief law-enforcement officer of the county or city, and it shall be the duty of such law-enforcement officer, or his designee who may be the arresting officer, to insure that such report is completed after a determination of guilt. The court shall require the officer to complete the report immediately following his conviction, and the individual shall be discharged from custody forthwith, unless the court has imposed a jail sentence to be served by him.

(b) The clerk of each circuit court and district court shall make a report to the Central Criminal Records Exchange of any dismissal, indefinite postponement or continuance, charge still pending due to mental incompetency, nolle prosequi, acquittal, or conviction of, or failure of a grand jury to return a true bill as to, any person charged with an offense listed in paragraph (a) of this section. In the case of offenses not required to be reported to the Exchange by paragraph (a) of this section, the reports of any of the foregoing dispositions shall be filed by the law-enforcement agency making the arrest with the arrest record required to be maintained by § 15.1-135.1. No such report of conviction in a district court shall be filed unless the period allowed for an appeal has elapsed and no appeal has been perfected. In the event that the records in the office of any clerk show that any conviction has been nullified in any manner, he shall also make a report of that fact, and each clerk of a circuit court, upon receipt of certification thereof from the Supreme Court, shall report to the Exchange, or to the law-enforcement agency making the arrest in the case of offenses not required to be reported to the Exchange, on forms provided by the Exchange, any reversal or other amendment to a prior sentence reported to the Exchange. For each such report made by a clerk of a circuit court, he shall be allowed a fee of fifty cents to be paid from the appropriation for criminal charges.

(c) In addition to those offenses enumerated in paragraph (a) of this section, the Central Criminal Records Exchange may receive, classify and file any other fingerprints and records of arrest or confinement submitted to it by any law-enforcement agency or any correctional institution.

(d) Corrections officials responsible for maintaining correctional status information, as required by the rules and regulations of the Department of Criminal Justice Services, with respect to individuals about whom reports have been made under the provisions of this chapter shall make reports of changes in correctional status information to the Central Criminal Records Exchange.

(e) Officials responsible for reporting disposition of charges, and correctional changes of status of individuals under this section shall adopt procedures reasonably designed at a minimum (i) to insure that such reports are accurately made as soon as feasible by the most expeditious means and in no instance later than thirty days after occurrence of the disposition or correctional change of status; and (ii) to report promptly any correction, deletion, or revision of the information.

(f) Upon receiving a correction, deletion, or revision of information, the Central Criminal Records Exchange shall notify all criminal justice agencies known to have previously received the information.

As used in this section, the term "chief law-enforcement officer" means the chief of police of cities and towns and sheriffs of counties, unless a political subdivision has otherwise designated its chief law-enforcement officer by appropriate resolution or ordinance, in which case the local designation shall be controlling. (Code 1950, § 19.1-19.3; 1966, c. 669; 1968, c. 724; 1970, c. 191; 1971, Ex. Sess., c. 107; 1974, c. 575; 1975, cc. 495, 584; 1976, cc. 336, 572, 771; 1978, cc. 467, 825; 1979, c. 378; 1981, c. 529; 1982, cc. 33, 535.)

§ 19.2-391. Records to be made available to Exchange by state officials and agencies; duplication of records. — Each state official and agency shall make available to the Central Criminal Records Exchange such of their records as are pertinent to its functions and shall cooperate with the Exchange in the development and use of equipment and facilities on a joint basis, where feasible. No state official or agency shall maintain records which are a duplication of the records on deposit in the Central Criminal Records Exchange, except to the extent necessary for efficient internal administration of such agency. (Code 1950, § 19.1-19.4; 1966, c. 669; 1975, c. 495.)

§ 19.2-392. Fingerprints and photographs by police authorities. — All duly constituted police authorities having the power of arrest may take the fingerprints and photographs of any person arrested by them and charged with a felony or with any misdemeanor or arrest for which is to be reported by them to the Central Criminal Records Exchange, or when a person pleads guilty or is found guilty after being summoned in accordance with § 19.2-74. Such authorities shall make such records available to the Central Criminal Records Exchange. Such authorities are authorized to provide, on the request of duly appointed law-enforcement officers, copies of any fingerprint records they may have, and to furnish services and technical advice in connection with the taking, classifying and preserving of fingerprints and fingerprint records. (Code 1950, § 19.1-19.6; 1968, c. 722; 1975, c. 495; 1978, c. 825.)

CHAPTER 23.1.

EXPUNGEMENT OF CRIMINAL RECORDS.

Sec.
19.2-392.1.	Statement of policy.
19.2-392.2.	Expungement of police and court records.
19.2-392.3.	Disclosure of expunged records.
19.2-392.4.	Prohibited practices by employers, educational institutions, agencies, etc., of state and local governments.

§ 19.2-392.1. Statement of policy. — The General Assembly finds that arrest records can be a hindrance to an innocent citizen's ability to obtain employment, an education and to obtain credit. This chapter is intended to protect the innocent persons who are arrested from unwarranted damage which may occur as a result of being arrested. (1977, c. 675.)

§ 19.2-392.2. Expungement of police and court records. — A. If a person is charged with the commission of a crime and

1. Is acquitted, or

2. A nolle prosequi is taken or the charge is otherwise dismissed, he may file a petition setting forth the relevant facts and requesting expungement of the police records and the court records relating to the charge.

B. The petition with a copy of the warrant or indictment if reasonably available shall be filed in the circuit court of the county or city in which the case was disposed of by acquittal or being otherwise dismissed and shall contain, except where not reasonably available, the date of arrest and the name of the arresting agency. Where this information is not reasonably available, the petition shall state the reason for such unavailability. The petition shall further state the specific criminal charge to be expunged, the date of final disposition of the charge as set forth in the petition, the petitioner's date of birth, and the full name used by the petitioner at the time of arrest.

C. A copy of the petition shall be served on the Commonwealth's attorney of the city or county in which the petition is filed. The Commonwealth's attorney may file an objection or answer to the petition within twenty-one days after it is served on him.

D. Hearing by court; granting or denial of expungement. — The court shall conduct a hearing on the petition. If the court finds that the continued existence and possible dissemination of information relating to the arrest of the petitioner causes or may cause circumstances which constitute a manifest injustice to the petitioner, it shall enter an order requiring the expungement of the police and court records relating to the charge. Otherwise, it shall deny the petition.

E. The Commonwealth shall be made party defendant to the proceeding. Any party aggrieved by the decision of the court may appeal, as provided by law in civil cases.

F. Upon the entry of an order of expungement, the clerk of the court shall cause a copy of such order to be forwarded to the Department of Criminal Justice Services, which Department shall, pursuant to rules and regulations adopted pursuant to § 9-190 of this Code, direct the manner by which the appropriate expungement or removal of such records shall be effected.

G. Costs shall be as provided by § 14.1-113, but shall not be recoverable against the Commonwealth. (1977, c. 675; 1983, c. 394.)

§ 19.2-392.3. Disclosure of expunged records. — A. It shall be unlawful for any person having or acquiring access to an expunged court or police record to open or review it or to disclose to another person any information from it without an order from the court which ordered the record expunged.

B. Upon a verified petition filed by the Commonwealth's attorney alleging that the record is needed by a law-enforcement agency for purposes of employment application as an employee of a law-enforcement agency or for a pending criminal investigation and that the investigation will be jeopardized or that life or property will be endangered without immediate access to the record, the court may enter an ex parte order, without notice to the person, permitting such access. An ex parte order may permit a review of the record, but may not permit a copy to be made of it.

C. Any person who willfully violates this section is guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor. (1977, c. 675; 1978, c. 713.)

§ 19.2-392.4. Prohibited practices by employers, educational institutions, agencies, etc., of state and local governments. — A. An employer or educational institution shall not, in any application, interview, or otherwise, require an applicant for employment or admission to disclose information concerning any arrest or criminal charge against him that has been expunged. An applicant need not, in answer to any question concerning any arrest or criminal charge that has not resulted in a conviction, include a reference to or information concerning arrests or charges that have been expunged.

B. Agencies, officials, and employees of the state and local governments shall not, in any application, interview, or otherwise, require an applicant for a license, permit, registration, or governmental service to disclose information concerning any arrest or criminal charge against him that has been expunged. An applicant need not, in answer to any question concerning any arrest or criminal charge that has not resulted in a conviction, include a reference to or information concerning charges that have been expunged. Such an application may not be denied solely because of the applicant's refusal to disclose information concerning any arrest or criminal charge against him that has been expunged.

C. A person who willfully violates this section is guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor for each violation. (1977, c. 675.)

§ 18.2-308.2:2. Criminal history record information check required for the transfer of certain firearms. — A. Any person purchasing from a dealer a firearm as herein defined shall consent in writing, on a form to be provided by the Department of State Police, to have the dealer obtain criminal history record information.

B. 1. No dealer shall sell, rent, trade or transfer from his inventory any such firearm to any other person who is a resident of Virginia until he has (i) obtained written consent as specified in subsection A, and provided the Department of State Police with the name, birth date, gender, race, and social security and/or any other identification number and (ii) requested and received criminal history record information by a telephone call to the State Police. Upon receipt of the request for a criminal history record information check, the State Police shall (i) review its criminal history record information to determine if the buyer or transferee is prohibited from possessing or transporting a firearm by state or federal law, (ii) inform the dealer if its record indicates that the buyer or transferee is so prohibited, and (iii) provide the dealer with a unique reference number for that inquiry.

2. The State Police shall provide its response to the requesting dealer during the dealer's call, or by return call without delay. If the criminal history record information check indicates the prospective purchaser or transferee has a criminal record or has been acquitted by reason of insanity and committed to the custody of the Commissioner of Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Substance Abuse Services, the State Police shall have until the end of the dealer's next business day to advise the dealer if its records indicate the buyer or transferee is prohibited from possessing or transporting a firearm by state or federal law. If not so advised by the end of the dealer's next business day, a dealer who has fulfilled the requirements of subdivision B 1 of this subsection may immediately complete the sale or transfer and shall not be deemed in violation of this section with respect to such sale or transfer. In case of electronic failure or other circumstances beyond the control of the State Police, the dealer shall be advised immediately of the reason for such delay and be given an estimate of the length of such delay. After such notification, the State Police shall, as soon as possible but in no event later than the end of the dealer's next business day, inform the requesting dealer if its records indicate the buyer or transferee is prohibited from possessing or transporting a firearm by state or federal law. A dealer who fulfills the requirements of subdivision B 1 of this subsection and is told by the State Police that a response will not be available by the end of the dealer's next business day may immediately complete the sale or transfer and shall not be deemed in violation of this section with respect to such sale or transfer.

3. Except as required by subsection D of § 9-192, the State Police shall not maintain records longer than thirty days from any dealer's request for a criminal history record information check pertaining to a buyer or transferee who is not found to be prohibited from possessing and transporting a firearm under state or federal law. However, the log on requests made may be maintained for a period of twelve months.

4. Within twenty-four hours following the sale or transfer of any firearm, the dealer shall mail or deliver the written consent form required by subsection A to the Department of State Police. The State Police shall immediately initiate a search of all available criminal history record information to determine if the purchaser is prohibited from possessing or transporting a firearm under state or federal law. If the search discloses information indicating that the buyer or transferee is so prohibited from possessing or transporting a firearm, the State Police shall inform the chief law-enforcement officer in the jurisdiction where the sale or transfer occurred and the dealer without delay.

C. No dealer shall sell, rent, trade or transfer from his inventory any firearm to any person who is not a resident of Virginia unless he has first obtained from the Department of State Police a report indicating that a search of all available criminal history record information has not disclosed that the person is prohibited from possessing or transporting a firearm under state or federal law. The dealer shall obtain the required report by mailing or delivering the written consent form required under subsection A to the State Police within twenty-four hours of its execution. If the dealer has complied with the provisions of this subsection and has not received the required report from the State Police within ten days from the date the written consent form was mailed to the Department of State Police, he shall not be deemed in violation of this section for thereafter completing the sale or transfer.

D. Nothing herein shall prevent a resident of this Commonwealth, at his option, from buying, renting or receiving a firearm from a dealer by obtaining a criminal history record information check through the dealer as provided in subsection C.

E. If any buyer or transferee is denied the right to purchase a firearm under this section, he may exercise his right of access to and review and correction of criminal history record information under § 9-192 or institute a civil action as provided in § 9-194, provided any such action is initiated within thirty days of such denial.

F. Any dealer who willfully and intentionally requests, obtains, or seeks to obtain criminal history record information under false pretenses, or who willfully and intentionally disseminates or seeks to disseminate criminal history record information except as authorized in this section shall be guilty of a Class 2 misdemeanor.

G. For purposes of this section:

"Antique handgun or pistol" means any handgun or pistol, including those with a matchlock, flintlock, percussion cap, or similar type of ignition system, manufactured in or before 1898 and any replica of such a handgun or pistol if such replica (i) is not designed or redesigned for using rimfire or conventional center-fire fixed ammunition or (ii) uses rimfire or conventional center-fire fixed ammunition which is no longer manufactured in the United States and which is not readily available in the ordinary channels of commercial trade.

"Dealer" means any person licensed as a dealer pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 921 et seq.

"Firearm" means any (i) handgun or pistol having a barrel length of less than five inches which expels a projectile by action of an explosion or (ii) semi-automatic center-fire rifle or pistol which expels a projectile by action of an explosion and is provided by the manufacturer with a magazine which will hold more than twenty rounds of ammunition or designed by the manufacturer to accommodate a silencer or bayonet or equipped with a bipod, flash suppresser or folding stock.

H. The Department of Criminal Justice Services shall promulgate regulations to ensure the identity, confidentiality and security of all records and data provided by the Department of State Police pursuant to this section.

I. The provisions of this section shall not apply to (i) transactions between persons who are licensed as firearms importers or collectors, manufacturers or dealers pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 921 et seq., (ii) purchases by or sales to any law-enforcement officer or agent of the United States, Commonwealth or any local government, (iii) antique hand guns or pistols or (iv) transactions in any county, city or town that has a local ordinance adopted prior to January 1, 1987, governing the purchase, possession, transfer, ownership, conveyance or transportation of firearms which is more stringent than this section.

J. All licensed firearms dealers shall collect a fee of two dollars for every transaction for which a criminal history record information check is required pursuant to this section, except that a fee of five dollars shall be collected for every transaction involving an out-of-state resident. Such fee shall be transmitted to the Department of State Police on the twentieth day of the month following the sale for deposit in a special fund for use by the State Police to offset the cost of conducting criminal history record information checks under the provisions of this section.

K. Any person willfully and intentionally making a materially false statement on the consent form required in subsection B or C shall be guilty of a Class 5 felony.

L. Except as provided in § 18.2-308.2:1, any dealer who willfully and intentionally sells, rents, trades or transfers a firearm in violation of this section shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor. (1989, c. 745; 1990, cc. 594, 692.)

General Provisions.

§ 9-167. Department created. — On and after July one, nineteen hundred eighty-two, the Criminal Justice Services Commission, the Division of Justice and Crime Prevention and the Council on Criminal Justice are abolished and there is hereby created a Department of Criminal Justice Services in the executive department. (1981, c. 632.)

§ 9-168. Board established; Committee on Training established; appointment; terms; vacancies; members not disqualified from holding other offices; designation of chairman; expenses; meetings; reports. — A. There is hereby created the Criminal Justice Services Board. The Board shall be composed of twenty-one members as set out below. Five members of the Board shall be as follows: the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Virginia, or his designee; the Attorney General of Virginia, or his designee; the Superintendent of the Department of State Police; the Director of the Department of Corrections; and the Executive Secretary of the Supreme Court of Virginia. In those instances in which the Executive Secretary of the Supreme Court of Virginia, the Superintendent of the Department of State Police, or the Director of the Department of Corrections will be unavoidably absent from a board meeting, he may appoint a member of his staff to represent him at the meeting. Twelve members shall be appointed by the Governor from among residents of this Commonwealth who are representative of the broad categories of State and local governments, criminal justice systems, and law-enforcement agencies, including but not limited to, police officials, sheriffs, Commonwealth's attorneys, defense counsel, the judiciary, correctional and rehabilitative activities, and other locally elected and appointed administrative and legislative officials, provided that among these twelve members there shall be two sheriffs representing the Virginia State Sheriffs Association selected from among names submitted by the Association; two representatives of the Chiefs of Police Association selected from among names submitted by the Association; one Commonwealth's Attorney selected from among names submitted by the Association for Commonwealth's Attorneys; one person who is a mayor, city or town manager, or member of a city or town council representing the Virginia Municipal League selected from among names submitted by the League; and one person who is a county executive, manager, or member of a county board of supervisors representing the Virginia Association of Counties selected from among names submitted by the Association. The additional four members of the Board shall be members of the General Assembly appointed by the chairmen of legislative committees as follows: one member of the Appropriations Committee of the House of Delegates; one member of the Committee on Finance of the Senate; one member of the Committee for Courts of Justice of the House of Delegates, and one member of the Committee for Courts of Justice of the Senate. The legislative members shall serve for the terms for which they were elected and shall serve as ex officio members without a vote.

B. There is further created a permanent Committee on Training under the Board which shall be the policy-making body responsible to the Board for effecting the provisions of subsections 2 through 11 of § 9-170 herein. The Committee on Training shall be composed of eleven members of the Board as follows: the Superintendent of the Department of State Police; the Director of the Department of Corrections; the Executive Secretary of the Supreme Court of Virginia; the two sheriffs representing the Virginia State Sheriffs Association; the two representatives of the Chiefs of Police Association; the Commonwealth's Attorney representing the Association for Commonwealth's Attorneys; the representative of the Virginia Municipal League; the representative of the Virginia Association of Counties; and one member designated by the Chairman of the Board from among the other appointments made by the Governor. The Committee on Training shall annually elect its chairman from among its members.

C. The members of the Board appointed by the Governor shall serve for terms of four years, provided that no member shall serve beyond the time when he holds the office or employment by reason of which he was initially eligible for appointment. Notwithstanding anything in this chapter to the contrary, the terms of members initially appointed to the Board by the Governor upon its establishment shall be: six for three years and six for four years. The Governor, at the time of appointment, shall designate which of the terms are respectively for three and four years. Any vacancy on the Board shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment, but for the unexpired term.

D. The Governor shall appoint a chairman of the Board, and the Board shall designate one or more vice-chairmen from among its members, who shall serve at the pleasure of the Board.

E. Notwithstanding any provision of any statute, ordinance, local law, or charter provision to the contrary, membership on the Board shall not disqualify any member from holding any other public office or employment, or cause the forfeiture thereof.

F. Members of the Board shall be entitled to receive reimbursement for any actual expenses incurred as a necessary incident to such service and to receive such compensation as is provided in § 2.1-20.3.

H. The Board shall report annually to the Governor and General Assembly on its activities, and may make such other reports as it deems advisable.

I. The Board may adopt bylaws for its operation. (1981, c. 632.)

§ 9-169. Definitions. — The following words, whenever used in this chapter, or in Chapter 23 (§ 19.2-387 et seq.) of Title 19.2 of this Code, shall have the following meanings, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Administration of criminal justice" means performance of any activity directly involving the detection, apprehension, detention, pretrial release, post-trial release, prosecution, adjudication, correctional supervision, or rehabilitation of accused persons or criminal offenders or the collection, storage, and dissemination of criminal history record information.

2. "Board" means the Criminal Justice Services Board.

H. "Public records" shall mean all written books, papers, letters, documents, photographs, tapes, microfiche, microfilm, photostats, sound recordings, maps, other documentary materials or information in any recording medium regardless of physical form or characteristics, including data processing devices and computers, made or received in pursuance of law or in connection with the transaction of public business by any agency of the State government or its political subdivisions.

Nonrecord materials, meaning reference books and exhibit materials made or acquired and preserved solely for reference use or exhibition purposes, extra copies of documents preserved only for convenience or reference, and stocks of publications, shall not be included within the definition of public records as used in this chapter.

I. "Archival records" shall mean records of continuing and enduring value useful to the citizens of the Commonwealth and necessary to the administrative functions of public agencies in the conduct of those services and activities mandated by law. In appraisal of public records deemed archival, the terms "administrative," "legal," "fiscal," and "historical" shall be defined as:

1. "Administrative value": Records shall be deemed of administrative value if they have utility in the operation of an agency.

§ 42.1-78. Confidentiality safeguarded. — Any records made confidential by law shall be so treated. Records which by law are required to be closed to the public shall not be deemed to be made open to the public under the provisions of this chapter and no provision of this chapter shall be construed to authorize or require the opening of any records ordered to be sealed by a court. (1976, c. 746; 1979, c. 110.)

§ 42.1-79. Records management function vested in Board; State Library to be official custodian; State Archivist. — The archival and records management function shall be vested in the State Library Board. The State Library shall be the official custodian and trustee for the State of all public records of whatever kind which are transferred to it from any public office of the State or any political subdivision thereof.

The State Library Board shall name a State Archivist who shall perform such functions as the State Library Board assigns. (1976, c. 746.)

§ 42.1-80. State Public Records Advisory Committee created; members; chairman and vice-chairman; compensation. — There is hereby created a State Public Records Advisory Committee. The Committee shall consist of ten members. The Committee membership shall include the Secretary of Administration and Finance, the State Librarian, the State Health Commissioner, the State Highway and Transportation Commissioner, the Director of the Division of Automated Data Processing, the Auditor of Public Accounts, the Executive Secretary of the Supreme Court, or their designated representatives and three members to be appointed by the Governor from the State at large. The gubernatorial appointments shall include two clerks of Those members appointed by the Governor shall remain members of the Committee for a term coincident with that of the Governor making the appointment, or until their successors shall be appointed and qualified. The Committee shall elect annually from its membership a chairman and vice-chairman. Members of the Committee shall receive no compensation for their services but shall be paid their reasonable and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties. (1976, c. 746; 1977, c. 501.)

§ 42.1-81. Powers and responsibilities of Committee. — The Committee shall have responsibility for proposing to the State Library Board rules, regulations and standards, not inconsistent with law, for the purpose of establishing uniform guidelines for the management and preservation of public records throughout the State. The Committee shall have the power to appoint such subcommittees and advisory bodies as it deems advisable. The Committee shall be assisted in the execution of its responsibilities by the State Librarian. (1976, c. 746.)

§ 42.1-82. Duties and powers of Library Board. — The State Library Board shall with the advice of the Committee:

A. Issue regulations designed to facilitate the creation, preservation, storage, filing, microfilming, management and destruction of public records by all agencies. Such regulations shall establish procedures for records management containing recommendations for the retention, disposal or other disposition of public records; procedures for the physical destruction or other disposition of public records proposed for disposal; and standards for the reproduction of records by photocopy or microphotography processes with the view to the disposal of the original records. Such standards shall relate to the quality of film used, preparation of the records for filming, proper identification of the records so that any individual document or series of documents can be located on the film with reasonable facility and that the copies contain all significant record detail, to the end that the photographic or microphotographic copies shall be of archival quality.

B. Issue regulations specifying permissible qualities of paper, ink and other materials to be used by agencies for public record purposes. The Board shall determine the specifications for and shall select and make available to all agencies lists of approved papers, photographic materials, ink, typewriter ribbons, carbon papers, stamping pads or other writing devices for different classes of public records, and only those approved may be purchased for use in the making of such records, except that these regulations and specifications shall not apply to clerks of courts of record.

C. Provide assistance to agencies in determining what records no longer have administrative, legal, fiscal or historical value and should be destroyed or disposed of in another manner. Each public official having in his custody official records shall assist the Board in the preparation of an inventory of all public records in his custody and in preparing a suggested schedule for retention and disposition of such records. No land or personal property book shall be destroyed without having first offered it to the State Library for preservation.

All records created prior to the Constitution of nineteen hundred two that are declared archival may be transferred to the archives. (1976, c. 746; 1977, c. 501; 1981, c. 637.)

§ 42.1-83. Program for inventorying, scheduling, microfilming records; records of counties and cities; storage of records. — The State Library Board shall formulate and execute a program to inventory, schedule, and microfilm official records of counties and cities which it determines have permanent value and to provide safe storage for microfilm copies of such records, and to give advice and assistance to local officials in their programs for creating, preserving, filing and making available public records in their custody.

Any original records shall be either stored in the State Library or in the locality at the decision of the local officials responsible for maintaining public records. Any original records shall be returned to the locality upon the written demand of the local officials responsible for maintaining local public records. Microfilm shall be stored in the State Library but the use thereof shall be subject to the control of the local officials responsible for maintaining local public records. (1972, c. 555; 1976, c. 746.)

§ 42.1-84. Same; records of agencies and subdivisions not covered under § 42.1-83. — The State Library Board may formulate and execute a program of inventorying, repairing, and microfilming for security purposes the public records of the agencies and subdivisions not covered under the program established under § 42.1-83 which it determines have permanent value, and of providing safe storage of microfilm copies of such records. (1976, c. 746.)

§ 42.1-85. Duties of State Librarian; agencies to cooperate. — The State Librarian shall administer a records management program for the application of efficient and economical management methods to the creation, utilization, maintenance, retention, preservation, and disposal of public records consistent with rules, regulations or standards promulgated by the State Library Board, including operations of a records center or centers. It shall be the duty of the State Librarian to establish procedures and techniques for the effective management of public records, to make continuing surveys of paper work operations, and to recommend improvements in current records management practices, including the use of space, equipment, and supplies employed in creating, maintaining and servicing records.

It shall be the duty of any agency with public records to cooperate with the State Librarian in conducting surveys and to establish and maintain an active, continuing program for the economical and efficient management of the records of such agency. (1976, c. 746.)

§ 42.1-86. Program to select and preserve important records; availability to public; security copies. — In cooperation with the head of each agency, the State Librarian shall establish and maintain a program for the selection and preservation of public records considered essential to the operation of government and for the protection of the rights and interests of persons. He shall provide for preserving, classifying, arranging and indexing so that such records are made available to the public and shall make or cause to be made security copies or designate as security copies existing copies of such essential public records. Security copies shall be of archival quality and such copies made by photographic, photostatic, microfilm, microcard, miniature photographic, or other process which accurately reproduces and forms a durable medium and shall have the same force and effect for all purposes as the original record and shall be as admissible in evidence as the original record whether the original record is in existence or not. Such security copies shall be preserved in such place and manner of safekeeping as prescribed by the State Library Board and provided by the Governor. Those public records deemed unnecessary for the transaction of the business of any agency, yet deemed to be of administrative, legal, fiscal or historical value, may be transferred with the consent of the State Librarian to the custody of the State Library. No agency shall destroy, discard, sell or give away public records without first offering them to the State Library for preservation. (1976, c. 746; 1980, c. 365.)

§ 42.1-87. Where records kept; duties of agencies; repair, etc., of record books; agency heads not divested of certain authority. — Custodians of public records shall keep them in fireproof safes, vaults or in rooms designed to ensure proper preservation and in such arrangement as to be easily accessible. Current public records should be kept in the buildings in which they are ordinarily used. It shall be the duty of each agency to cooperate with the State Library in complying with rules and regulations promulgated by the Board. Each agency shall establish and maintain an active and continuing program for the economic and efficient management of records.

Record books should be copied or repaired, renovated or rebound if worn, mutilated, damaged or difficult to read. Whenever the public records of any public official are in need of repair, restoration or rebinding, a judge of the court of record or the head of such agency or political subdivision of the State may authorize that the records in need of repair be removed from the building or office in which such records are ordinarily kept, for the length of time necessary to repair, restore or rebind them, provided such restoration and rebinding preserves the records without loss or damage to them. Any public official who causes a record book to be copied shall attest it and shall certify an oath that it is an accurate copy of the original book. The copy shall then have the force of the original.

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to divest agency heads of the authority to determine the nature and form of the records required in the administration of their several departments or to compel the removal of records deemed necessary by them in the performance of their statutory duty. (1976, c. 746.)

§ 42.1-88. Custodians to deliver all records at expiration of term; penalty for noncompliance. — Any custodian of any public records shall, at the expiration of his term of office, appointment or employment, deliver to his successor, or, if there be none, to the State Library, all books, writings, letters, documents, public records, or other information, recorded on any medium kept or received by him in the transaction of his official business; and any such person who shall refuse or neglect for a period of ten days after a request is made in writing by the successor or State Librarian to deliver the public records as herein required shall be guilty of a Class 3 misdemeanor. (1976, c. 746.)

§ 42.1-89. Petition and court order for return of public records not in authorized possession. — The State Librarian or his designated representative such as the State Archivist or any public official who is the custodian of public records in the possession of a person or agency not authorized by the custodian or by law to possess such public records shall petition the circuit court in the city or county in which the person holding such records resides or in which the materials in issue, or any part thereof, are located for the return of such records. The court shall order such public records be delivered to the petitioner upon finding that the materials in issue are public records and that such public records are in the possession of a person not authorized by the custodian of the public records or by law to possess such public records. If the order of delivery does not receive compliance, the plaintiff shall request that the court enforce such order through its contempt power and procedures. (1975, c. 180; 1976, c. 746.)

§ 42.1-90. Seizure of public records not in authorized possession. — A. At any time after the filing of the petition set out in § 42.1-89 or contemporaneous with such filing, the person seeking the return of the public records may by ex parte petition request the judge or the court in which the action was filed to issue an order directed at the sheriff or other proper officer, as the case may be, commanding him to seize the materials which are the subject of the action and deliver the same to the court under the circumstances hereinafter set forth.

B. The judge aforesaid shall issue an order of seizure upon receipt of an affidavit from the petitioner which alleges that the material at issue may be sold, secreted, removed out of this State or otherwise disposed of so as not to be forthcoming to answer the final judgment of the court respecting the same; or that such property may be destroyed or materially damaged or injured if permitted to remain out of the petitioner's possession.

C. The aforementioned order of seizure shall issue without notice to the respondent and without the posting of any bond or other security by the petitioner. (1975, c. 180; 1976, c. 746.)

§ 42.1-91. Development of disaster plan. — The State Library shall develop a plan to ensure preservation of public records in the event of disaster or emergency as defined in § 44-146.16. This plan shall be coordinated with the Office of Emergency Services and copies shall be distributed to all agency heads. The personnel of the Library shall be responsible for coordinating emergency recovery operations when public records are affected. (1981, c. 637.)

VIRGINIA FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT.

Sec.
2.1-340. Short title.
2.1-340.1. Policy of chapter.
2.1-341. Definitions.
2.1-341.1. Notice of chapter.
2.1-342. Official records to be open to inspection; procedure for requesting records and responding to request; charges; exceptions to application of chapter.
2.1-343. Meetings to be public except as otherwise provided; minutes; information as to time and place.
2.1-344. Executive or closed meetings.
2.1-345. Agencies to which chapter inapplicable.
2.1-346. Proceedings for enforcement of chapter.
2.1-346.1. Violations and penalties.

§ 2.1-340. Short title. — This chapter may be cited as "The Virginia Freedom of Information Act." (1968, c. 479.)

§ 2.1-340.1. Policy of chapter. — By enacting this chapter the General Assembly ensures the people of this Commonwealth ready access to records in the custody of public officials and free entry to meetings of public bodies wherein the business of the people is being conducted. Committees or subcommittees of public bodies created to perform delegated functions of a public body or to advise a public body shall also conduct their meetings and business pursuant to this chapter. The affairs of government are not intended to be conducted in an atmosphere of secrecy since at all times the public is to be the beneficiary of any action taken at any level of government. Unless the public body specifically elects to exercise an exemption provided by this chapter or any other statute, every meeting shall be open to the public and all reports, documents and other material shall be available for disclosure upon request.

This chapter shall be liberally construed to promote an increased awareness by all persons of governmental activities and afford every opportunity to citizens to witness the operations of government. Any exception or exemption from applicability shall be narrowly construed in order that no thing which should be public may be hidden from any person.

Any ordinance adopted by a local governing body which conflicts with the provisions of this chapter shall be void. (1976, c. 467; 1989, c. 358.)

§ 2.1-341. Definitions. — The following terms, whenever used or referred to in this chapter, shall have the following meanings, unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context:

"Executive meeting" or "closed meeting" means a meeting from which the public is excluded.

"Meeting" or "meetings" means the meetings including work sessions, when sitting physically, or through telephonic or video equipment pursuant to § 2.1-343.1, as a body or entity, or as an informal assemblage of as many as three members or [illegible] less than three, of the constituent membership, wherever held, with or without minutes being taken, whether or not votes are cast, of any legislative body, authority, board, bureau, commission, district or agency of the Commonwealth or of any political subdivision of the Commonwealth, including cities, towns and counties; municipal councils, governing bodies of counties, school boards and planning commissions; boards of visitors of state institutions of higher education; and other organizations, corporations or agencies in the Commonwealth, supported wholly or principally by public funds. The notice provisions of this chapter shall not apply to the said informal meetings or gatherings of the members of the General Assembly. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to make unlawful the gathering or attendance of two or more members of a body or entity at any place or function where no part of the purpose of such gathering or attendance is the discussion or transaction of any public business, and such gathering or attendance was not called or prearranged with any purpose of discussing or transacting any business of the body or entity. The gathering of employees of a public body shall not be deemed a "meeting" subject to the provisions of this chapter.

No meeting shall be conducted through telephonic, video, electronic or other communication means where the members are not physically assembled to discuss or transact public business, except as provided in § 2.1-343.1 or as may specifically be provided in Title 54.1 for the summary suspension of professional licenses.

"Official records" means all written or printed books, papers, letters, documents, maps and tapes, photographs, films, sound recordings, reports or other material, regardless of physical form or characteristics, prepared, owned, or in the possession of a public body or any employee or officer of a public body in the transaction of public business.

"Open meeting" or "public meeting" means a meeting at which the public may be present.

"Public body" means any of the groups, agencies or organizations enumerated in the definition of "meeting" as provided in this section, including any committees or subcommittees of the public body created to perform delegated functions of the public body or to advise the public body.

"Scholastic records" means those records, files, documents, and other materials containing information about a student and maintained by a public body which is an educational agency or institution or by a person acting for such agency or institution, but, for the purpose of access by a student, does not include (i) financial records of a parent or guardian nor (ii) records of instructional, supervisory, and administrative personnel and educational personnel ancillary thereto, which are in the sole possession of the maker thereof and which are not accessible or revealed to any other person except a substitute. (1968, c. 479; 1970, c. 456; 1974, c. 332; 1975, c. 307; 1977, c. 677; 1978, cc. 573, 826; 1979, cc. 369, 687; 1980, c. 754; 1984, c. 252; 1989, c. 358.)

§ 2.1-342. Official records to be open to inspection; procedure for requesting records and responding to request; charges; exceptions to application of chapter. — A. Except as otherwise specifically provided by law, all official records shall be open to inspection and copying by any citizens of this Commonwealth during the regular office hours of the custodian of such records. Access to such records shall not be denied to citizens of this Commonwealth, representatives of newspapers and magazines with circulation in this Commonwealth, and representatives of radio and television stations broadcasting in or into this Commonwealth. The custodian of such records shall take all necessary precautions for their preservation and safekeeping. Any public body covered under the provisions of this chapter shall make an initial response to citizens requesting records open to inspection within five work days after the receipt of the request by the public body which is the custodian of the requested records. Such citizen request shall designate the requested records with reasonable specificity. A specific reference to this chapter by the requesting citizen in his records request shall not be necessary to invoke the time limits for response by the public body. The response by the public body within such five work days shall be one of the following responses:

1. The requested records shall be provided to the requesting citizen.

2. If the public body determines that an exemption applies to all of the requested records, it may refuse to release such records and provide to the requesting citizen a written explanation as to why the records are not available with the explanation making specific reference to the applicable Code sections which make the requested records exempt.

3. If the public body determines that an exemption applies to a portion of the requested records, it may delete or excise that portion of the records to which an exemption applies, disclose the remainder of the requested records and provide to the requesting citizen a written explanation as to why these portions of the record are not available to the requesting citizen with the explanation making specific reference to the applicable Code sections which make that portion of the requested records exempt. Any reasonably segregatable portion of an official record shall be provided to any person requesting the record after the deletion of the exempt portion.

4. If the public body determines that it is practically impossible to provide the requested records or to determine whether they are available within the five-work-day period, the public body shall so inform the requesting citizen and shall have an additional seven work days in which to provide one of the three preceeding responses.

Nothing in this section shall prohibit any public body from petitioning the appropriate circuit court for additional time to respond to a request for records when the request is for an extraordinary volume of records and a response by the public body within the time required by this chapter will prevent the public body from meeting its operational responsibilities. Before proceeding with this petition, however, the public body shall make reasonable efforts to reach an agreement with the requestor concerning the production of the records requested.

The public body may make reasonable charges for the copying, search time and computer time expended in the supplying of such records; however, such charges shall not exceed the actual cost to the public body in supplying such records, except that the public body may charge, on a pro rata per acre basis, for the cost of creating topographical maps developed by the public body, for such maps or portions thereof, which encompass a contiguous area greater than fifty acres. Such charges for the supplying of requested records shall be estimated in advance at the request of the citizen. The public body may require the advance payment of charges which are subject to advance determination.

In any case where a public body determines in advance that search and copying charges for producing the requested documents are likely to exceed $200, the public body may, before continuing to process the request, require the citizen requesting the information to agree to payment of an amount not to exceed the advance determination by five percent. The period within which the public body must respond under this section shall be tolled for the amount of time that elapses between notice of the advance determination and the response of the citizen requesting the information.

Official records maintained by a public body on a computer or other electronic data processing system which are available to the public under the provisions of this chapter shall be made reasonably accessible to the public at reasonable cost.

Public bodies shall not be required to create or prepare a particular requested record if it does not already exist. Public bodies may, but shall not be required to, abstract or summarize information from official records or convert an official record available in one form into another form at the request of the citizen.

Failure to make any response to a request for records shall be a violation of this chapter and deemed a denial of the request.

B. The following records are excluded from the provisions of this chapter but may be disclosed by the custodian in his discretion, except where such disclosure is prohibited by law:

1. Memoranda, correspondence, evidence and complaints related to criminal investigations; reports submitted to the state and local police, to investigators authorized pursuant to § 53.1-16 and to the campus police departments of public institutions of higher education as established by Chapter 17 (§ 23-232 et seq.) of Title 23 in confidence; portions of records of local government crime commissions that would identify individuals providing information about crimes or criminal activities under a promise of anonymity; and all records of persons imprisoned in penal institutions in this Commonwealth provided such records relate to the imprisonment. Information in the custody of law-enforcement officials relative to the identity of any individual other than a juvenile who is arrested and charged, and the status of the charge or arrest, shall not be excluded from the provisions of this chapter.

2. Confidential records of all investigations of applications for licensees and all licenses made by or submitted to the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board or the State Lottery Department.

3. State income, business, and estate tax returns, personal property tax returns, scholastic records and personnel records containing information concerning identifiable individuals, except that such access shall not be denied to the person who is the subject thereof, and medical and mental records, except that such records can be personally reviewed by the subject person or a physician of the subject person's choice; however, the subject person's mental records may not be personally reviewed by such person when the subject person's treating physician has made a part of such person's records a written statement that in his opinion a review of such records by the subject person would be injurious to the subject person's physical or mental health or well-being.

Where the person who is the subject of medical records is confined in a state or local correctional facility, the administrator or chief medical officer of such facility may assert such confined person's right of access to the medical records if the administrator or chief medical officer has reasonable cause to believe that such confined person has an infectious disease or other medical condition from which other persons so confined need to be protected. Medical records shall be reviewed only and shall not be copied by such administrator or chief medical officer. The information in the medical records of a person so confined shall continue to be confidential and shall not be disclosed to any person except the subject by the administrator or chief medical officer of the facility or except as provided by law.

For the purposes of this chapter such statistical summaries of incidents and statistical data concerning patient abuse as may be compiled by the Commissioner of the Department of Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Substance Abuse Services shall be open to inspection and releasable as provided in subsection A of this section. No such summaries or data shall include any patient identifying information. Where the person who is the subject of scholastic or medical and mental records is under the age of eighteen, his right of access may be asserted only by his guardian or his parent, including a noncustodial parent, unless such parent's parental rights have been terminated or a court of competent jurisdiction has restricted or denied such access. In instances where the person who is the subject thereof is an emancipated minor or a student in a state-supported institution of higher education such right of access may be asserted by the subject person.

4. Memoranda, working papers and correspondence held or requested by members of the General Assembly or by the office of the Governor or Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General or the mayor or other chief executive officer of any political subdivision of the Commonwealth or the president or other chief executive officer of any state-supported institutions of higher education.

5. Written opinions of the city, county and town attorneys of the cities, counties and towns in the Commonwealth and any other writing protected by the attorney-client privilege.

6. Memoranda, working papers and records compiled specifically for use in litigation or as a part of an active administrative investigation concerning a matter which is properly the subject of an executive or closed meeting under § 2.1-344 and material furnished in confidence with respect thereto.

7. Confidential letters and statements of recommendation placed in the records of educational agencies or institutions respecting (i) admission to any educational agency or institution, (ii) an application for employment, or (iii) receipt of an honor or honorary recognition.

8. Library records which can be used to identify both (i) any library patron who has borrowed material from a library and (ii) the material such patron borrowed.

9. Any test or examination used, administered or prepared by any public body for purposes of evaluation of (i) any student or any student's performance, (ii) any employee or employment seeker's qualifications or aptitude for employment, retention, or promotion, or (iii) qualifications for any license or certificate issued by any public body.

As used in this subdivision 9, "test or examination" shall include (i) any scoring key for any such test or examination, and (ii) any other document which would jeopardize the security of such test or examination. Nothing contained in this subdivision 9 shall prohibit the release of test scores or results as provided by law, or limit access to individual records as is provided by law. However, the subject of such employment tests shall be entitled to review and inspect all documents relative to his performance on such employment tests.

When, in the reasonable opinion of such public body, any such test or examination no longer has any potential for future use, and the security of future tests or examinations will not be jeopardized, such test or examination shall be made available to the public. However, minimum competency tests administered to public school children shall be made available to the public contemporaneously with statewide release of the scores of those taking such tests, but in no event shall such tests be made available to the public later than six months after the administration of such tests.

10. Applications for admission to examinations or for licensure and scoring records maintained by the Department of Health Professions or any board in that department on individual licensees or applicants. Notice including the time, date and place of each meeting shall be furnished to any citizen of this Commonwealth who requests such information. Requests to be notified on a continual basis shall be made at least once a year in writing and include name, address, zip code and organization of the requestor. Notice, reasonable under the circumstance, of special or emergency meetings shall be given contemporaneously with the notice provided members of the public body conducting the meeting.

Any person may photograph, film, record or otherwise reproduce any portion of a meeting required to be open. The public body conducting the meeting may adopt rules governing the placement and use of equipment necessary for broadcasting, photographing, filming or recording a meeting to prevent interference with the proceedings.

Voting by secret or written ballot in an open meeting shall be a violation of this chapter.

Minutes shall be recorded at all public meetings. However, minutes shall not be required to be taken at deliberations of (i) standing and other committees of the General Assembly, (ii) legislative interim study commissions and committees, including the Virginia Code Commission, (iii) study committees or commissions appointed by the Governor, or (iv) study commissions or study committees, or any other committees or subcommittees appointed by the governing bodies or school boards of counties, cities and towns, except where the membership of any such commission, committee or subcommittee includes a majority of the governing body of the county, city or town or school board. (1968, c. 479; 1973, c. 461; 1976, c. 467; 1977, c. 677; 1982, c. 333; 1989, c. 358.)

§ 2.1-343.1. Electronic communication meetings prohibited; exception, experimental program. — A. It is a violation of this chapter for any political subdivision or any governing body, authority, board, bureau, commission, district or agency of local government to conduct a meeting wherein the public business is discussed or transacted through telephonic, video, electronic or other communication means where the members are not physically assembled.

B. Public bodies of the Commonwealth, as provided in the definition of "meeting" in § 2.1-341, but excluding any political subdivision or any governing body, authority, board, bureau, commission, district or agency of local government, may conduct any meeting, except executive or closed meetings held pursuant to § 2.1-344, wherein the public business is discussed or transacted through telephonic or video means. For the purposes of subsections B through G of this section, "public body" shall mean any state legislative body, authority, board, bureau, commission, district or agency of the Commonwealth and shall exclude those of local governments.

Meetings conducted through telephonic or video means shall be on an experimental basis commencing on July 1, 1989, and ending on June 30, 1991. The Director of the Department of Information Technology shall submit an evaluation of the effectiveness of meetings by telephonic or video means by public bodies of the Commonwealth prior to January 1, 1992, to the Governor and the General Assembly.

C. Notice of any meetings held pursuant to this section shall be provided at least thirty days in advance of the date scheduled for the meeting. The notice shall include the date, time, place and purpose for the meeting and shall identify the location or locations for the meeting. All locations for the meeting shall be made accessible to the public. All persons attending the meeting at any of the meeting locations shall be afforded the same opportunity to address the public body as persons attending the primary or central location. Any interruption in the telephonic or video broadcast of the meeting shall result in the suspension of action at the meeting until repairs are made and public access restored.

Thirty-day notice shall not be required for telephonic or video meetings continued to address an emergency situation as provided in subsection F of this section or to conclude the agenda of a telephonic or video meeting of the public body for which the proper notice has been given, when the date, time, place and purpose of the continued meeting are set during the meeting prior to adjournment.

The public body shall provide the Director of the Department of Information Technology with notice of all public meetings held through telephonic or video means pursuant to this section.

D. An agenda and materials which will be distributed to members of the public body and which have been made available to the staff of the public body in sufficient time for duplication and forwarding to all location sites where public access will be provided shall be made available to the public at the time of the meeting. Minutes of all meetings held by telephonic or video means shall be recorded as required by § 2.1-343. Votes taken during any meeting conducted through telephonic or video means shall be recorded by name in roll-call fashion and included in the minutes. In addition, the public body shall make an audio recording of the meeting, if a telephonic medium is used, or an audio/visual recording, if the meeting is held by video means. The recording shall be preserved by the public body for a period of three years following the date of the meeting and shall be available to the public.

E. No more than twenty-five percent of all meetings held annually by a public body, including meetings of any ad hoc or standing committees, may be held by telephonic or video means. Any public body which meets by telephonic or video means shall file with the Director of the Department of Information Technology by July 1 of each year a statement identifying the total number of meetings held during the preceding fiscal year, the dates on which the meetings were held and the number and purpose of those conducted through telephonic or video means.

F. Notwithstanding the limitations imposed by subsection E of this section, a public body may meet by telephonic or video means as often as needed if an emergency exists and the public body is unable to meet in regular session. As used in this subsection "emergency" means an unforeseen circumstance rendering the [illegible] requirements of this section, or by § 2.1-343 of this chapter, impossible or impracticable and which circumstance requires immediate action. Public bodies conducting emergency meetings through telephonic or video means shall comply with the provisions of subsection D requiring minutes, recordation and preservation of the audio or audio/visual recording of the meeting. The basis for the emergency shall be stated in the minutes.

G. The provisions of this section establish a two-year experimental program designed to evaluate the effectiveness of meetings by telephonic or video means by public bodies of the Commonwealth. Meetings by telephonic or video means shall be prohibited on and after July 1, 1991, unless the provisions of this section pertaining to the termination of this experimental program are amended and reenacted by the General Assembly. (1984, c. 252; 1989, c. 358.)

§ 2.1-344. Executive or closed meetings. — A. Public bodies are not required to conduct executive or closed meetings. However, should a public body determine that an executive or closed meeting is desirable, such meeting shall be held only for the following purposes:

1. Discussion or consideration of or interviews of prospective candidates for employment, assignment, appointment, promotion, performance, demotion, salaries, disciplining or resignation of specific public officers, appointees or employees of any public body, and evaluation of performance of departments or schools of state institutions of higher education where such matters regarding such specific individuals might be affected by such evaluation. Any teacher shall be permitted to be present during an executive session or closed meeting in which there is a discussion or consideration of a disciplinary matter which involves the teacher and some student or students and the student or students involved in the matter are present, provided the teacher makes a written request to be present to the presiding officer of the appropriate board.

2. Discussion or consideration of admission or disciplinary matters concerning any student or students of any state institution of higher education or any state school system. However, any such student and legal counsel and, if the student is a minor, the student's parents or legal guardians, shall be permitted to be present during the taking of testimony or presentation of evidence at an executive or closed meeting, if such student, parents or guardians so request in writing and such request is submitted to the presiding officer of the appropriate board.

3. Discussion or consideration of the condition, acquisition or use of real property for public purpose, or of the disposition of publicly held property, or of plans for the future of a state institution of higher education which could affect the value of property owned or desirable for ownership by such institution.

4. The protection of the privacy of individuals in personal matters not related to public business.

5. Discussion concerning a prospective business or industry where no previous announcement has been made of the business' or industry's interest in locating in the community.

6. The investing of public funds where competition or bargaining is involved, where if made public initially the financial interest of the governmental unit would be adversely affected.

7. Consultation with legal counsel and briefings by staff members, consultants or attorneys, pertaining to actual or probable litigation, or other specific legal matters requiring the provision of legal advice by counsel.

8. In the case of boards of visitors of state institutions of higher education, discussion or consideration of matters relating to gifts, bequests and fundraising activities, and grants and contracts for services or work to be performed by such institution. However, the terms and conditions of any such gifts, bequests, grants and contracts made by a foreign government, a foreign legal entity or a foreign person and accepted by a state institution of higher education shall be subject to public disclosure upon written request to the appropriate board of visitors. For the purpose of this subdivision, (i) "foreign government" means any government other than the United States government or the government of a state or a political subdivision thereof; (ii) "foreign legal entity" means any legal entity created under the laws of the United States or of any state thereof if a majority of the ownership of the stock of such legal entity is owned by foreign governments or foreign persons or if a majority of the membership of any such entity is composed of foreign persons or foreign legal entities, or any legal entity created under the laws of a foreign government; and (iii) "foreign person" means any individual who is not a citizen or national of the United States or a trust territory or protectorate thereof.

9. In the case of the boards of trustees of the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts and the Science Museum of Virginia, discussion or consideration of matters relating to specific gifts, bequests, and grants.

10. Discussion or consideration of honorary degrees or special awards.

11. Discussion or consideration of tests or examinations or other documents excluded from this chapter pursuant to § 2.1-342 B 9.

12. Discussion, consideration or review by the appropriate House or Senate committees of possible disciplinary action against a member arising out of the possible inadequacy of the disclosure statement filed by the member, provided the member may request in writing that the committee meeting not be conducted in executive session.

13. Discussion of strategy with respect to the negotiation of a siting agreement or to consider the terms, conditions, and provisions of a siting agreement if the governing body in open meeting finds that an open meeting will have a detrimental effect upon the negotiating position of the governing body or the establishment of the terms, conditions and provisions of the siting agreement, or both. All discussions with the applicant or its representatives may be conducted in a closed meeting or executive session.

14. Discussion by the Governor and any economic advisory board reviewing forecasts of economic activity and estimating general and nongeneral fund revenues.

15. Discussion or consideration of medical and mental records excluded from this chapter pursuant to § 2.1-342 B 3, and those portions of disciplinary proceedings by any regulatory board within the Department of Commerce or Department of Health Professions conducted pursuant to § 9-6.14:11 or § 9-6.14:12 during which the board deliberates to reach a decision.

16. Discussion, consideration or review of State Lottery Department matters related to proprietary lottery game information and studies or investigations exempted from disclosure under subdivisions 37 and 38 of subsection B of § 2.1-342.

17. Those portions of meetings by local government crime commissions where the identity of, or information tending to identify, individuals providing information about crimes or criminal activities under a promise of anonymity is discussed or disclosed.

B. No resolution, ordinance, rule, contract, regulation or motion adopted, passed or agreed to in an executive or closed meeting shall become effective unless the public body, following the meeting, reconvenes in open meeting and takes a vote of the membership on such resolution, ordinance, rule, contract, regulation or motion which shall have its substance reasonably identified in the open meeting. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the board of directors of any authority created pursuant to the Industrial Development and Revenue Bond Act (§ 15.1-1373 et seq.), or any public body empowered to issue industrial revenue bonds by general or special law, to identify a business or industry to which subdivision A 5 of this section applies. However, such business or industry must be identified as a matter of public record at least thirty days prior to the actual date of the board's authorization of the sale or issuance of such bonds.

C. Public officers improperly selected due to the failure of the public body to comply with the other provisions of this section shall be de facto officers and, as such, their official actions are valid until they obtain notice of the legal defect in their election.

D. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the holding of conferences between two or more public bodies, or their representatives, but these conferences shall be subject to the same regulations for holding executive or closed sessions as are applicable to any other public body. (1968, c. 479; 1970, c. 456; 1973, c. 461; 1974, c. 332; 1976, cc. 467, 709; 1979, cc. 369, 684; 1980, cc. 221, 475, 476, 754; 1981, cc. 35, 471; 1982, cc. 497, 516; 1984, cc. 473, 513; 1985, c. 277; 1988, c. 891; 1989, cc. 56, 358, 478.)

§ 2.1-344.1. Call of closed or executive meetings; certification of proceedings. — A. No meetings shall become an executive or closed meeting unless the public body proposing to convene such meeting shall have taken an affirmative recorded vote in open session to that effect, by motion stating specifically the purpose or purposes which are to be the subject of the meeting, and reasonably identifying the substance of the matters to be discussed. A statement shall be included in the minutes of the open meeting which shall make specific reference to the applicable exemption or exemptions from open meeting requirements provided in subsection A of § 2.1-344 or in § 2.1-345, and the matters contained in such motion shall be set forth in those minutes. A general reference to the provisions of this chapter or authorized exemptions from open meeting requirements shall not be sufficient to satisfy the requirements for an executive or closed meeting.

B. The notice provisions of this chapter shall not apply to executive or closed meetings of any public body held solely for the purpose of interviewing candidates for the position of chief administrative officer. Prior to any such executive or closed meeting for the purpose of interviewing candidates the public body shall announce in an open meeting that such executive or closed meeting shall be held at a disclosed or undisclosed location within fifteen days thereafter.

C. The public body holding an executive or closed meeting shall restrict its consideration of matters during the closed portions only to those purposes specifically exempted from the provisions of this chapter.

D. At the conclusion of any executive or closed meeting convened hereunder, the public body holding such meeting shall reconvene in open session immediately thereafter and shall take a roll call or other recorded vote to be included in the minutes of that body, certifying that to the best of the member's knowledge (i) only public business matters lawfully exempted from open meeting requirements under this chapter, and (ii) only such public business matters as were identified in the motion by which the executive or closed meeting was convened were heard, discussed or considered in the meeting by the public body. Any member of the public body who believes that there was a departure from the requirements of subdivisions (i) and (ii) above, shall so state prior to the vote, indicating the substance of the departure that, in his judgment, has taken place. The statement shall be recorded in the minutes of the public body.

E. Failure of the certification required by subsection D, above, to receive the affirmative vote of a majority of the members of the public body present during a closed or executive session shall not affect the validity or confidentiality of such meeting with respect to matters considered therein in compliance with the provisions of this chapter. The recorded vote and any statement made in connection therewith, shall upon proper authentication, constitute evidence in any proceeding brought to enforce this chapter.

F. A public body may permit nonmembers to attend an executive or closed meeting if such persons are deemed necessary or if their presence will reasonably aid the public body in its consideration of a topic which is a subject of the meeting.

G. Except as specifically authorized by law, in no event may any public body take action on matters discussed in any executive or closed meeting, except at a public meeting for which notice was given as required by § 2.1-343.

H. Minutes may be taken during executive or closed sessions of a public body, but shall not be required. Such minutes shall not be subject to mandatory public disclosure. (1989, c. 358.)

§ 2.1-345. Public bodies to which chapter inapplicable. — The provisions of this chapter shall not be applicable to the Virginia Parole Board, petit juries, grand juries, and the Virginia State Crime Commission. (1968, c. 479; 1971, Ex. Sess., c. 1; 1973, c. 461; 1974, c. 332; 1977, c. 677; 1979, c. 369; 1989, c. 358.)

§ 2.1-346. Proceedings for enforcement of chapter. — Any person, including the Commonwealth's attorney acting in his official or individual capacity, denied the rights and privileges conferred by this chapter may proceed to enforce such rights and privileges by filing a petition for mandamus or injunction, supported by an affidavit showing good cause, addressed to the court of record of the county or city from which the public body has been elected or appointed to serve and in which such rights and privileges were so denied. Failure by any person to request and receive notice of the time and place of meetings as provided in § 2.1-343 shall not preclude any person from enforcing his or her rights and privileges conferred by this chapter.

Any petition alleging denial of rights and privileges conferred by this chapter by a board, bureau, commission, authority, district or agency of the state government or by a standing or other committee of the General Assembly, shall be addressed to the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond. A petition for mandamus or injunction under this chapter shall be heard within seven days of the date when the same is made; provided, if the petition is made outside of the regular terms of the circuit court of a county which is included in a judicial circuit with another county or counties, the hearing on the petition shall be given precedence on the docket of such court over all cases which are not otherwise given precedence by law. The petition shall allege with reasonable specificity the circumstances of the denial of the rights and privileges conferred by this chapter. A single instance of denial of the rights and privileges conferred by this chapter shall be sufficient to invoke the remedies granted herein. If the court finds the denial to be in violation of the provisions of this chapter, the petitioner shall be entitled to recover reasonable costs and attorney's fees from the public body if the petitioner substantially prevails on the merits of the case, unless special circumstances would make an award unjust. In making this determination, a court may consider, among other things, the reliance of a public body on an opinion of the Attorney General or a decision of a court that substantially supports the public body's position. The court may also impose appropriate sanctions in favor of the public body as provided in § 8.01-271.1. (1968, c. 479; 1976, c. 709; 1978, c. 826; 1989, c. 358.)

§ 2.1-346.1. Violations and penalties. — In a proceeding commenced against members of public bodies under § 2.1-346 for a violation of §§ 2.1-342, 2.1-343, 2.1-343.1, 2.1-344 or § 2.1-344.1, the court, if it finds that a violation was willfully and knowingly made, shall impose upon such member in his individual capacity, whether a writ of mandamus or injunctive relief is awarded or not, a civil penalty of not less than $25 nor more than $1,000, which amount shall be paid into the State Literary Fund. (1976, c. 467; 1978, c. 826; 1984, c. 252; 1989, c. 358.)

2.1-384. Systems to which chapter inapplicable.
2.1-384.1. Exception for State retirement systems.
2.1-385. Disclosure of social security number.
2.1-386. Injunctive relief.

§ 2.1-377. Short title. — This chapter may be cited as the "Privacy Protection Act of 1976." (1976, c. 597.)

§ 2.1-378. Findings; purpose of chapter. — A. The General Assembly finds:

1. That an individual's privacy is directly affected by the extensive collection, maintenance, use and dissemination of personal information;

2. That the increasing use of computers and sophisticated information technology has greatly magnified the harm that can occur from these practices;

3. That an individual's opportunities to secure employment, insurance, credit and his right to due process, and other legal protections are endangered by the misuse of certain of these personal information systems; and

4. That in order to preserve the rights guaranteed a citizen in a free society, legislation is necessary to establish procedures to govern information systems containing records on individuals.

B. The purpose of this chapter is to ensure safeguards for personal privacy by record-keeping agencies of the Commonwealth and her political subdivisions by adherence to the following principles of information practice:

1. There should be no personal information system whose existence is secret.

2. Information should not be collected unless the need for it has been clearly established in advance.

3. Information should be appropriate and relevant to the purpose for which it has been collected.

4. Information should not be obtained by fraudulent or unfair means.

5. Information should not be used unless it is accurate and current.

6. There should be a prescribed procedure for an individual to learn the purpose for which information has been recorded and particulars about its use and dissemination.

7. There should be a clearly prescribed and uncomplicated procedure for an individual to correct, erase or amend inaccurate, obsolete or irrelevant information.

8. Any agency holding personal information should assure its reliability and take precautions to prevent its misuse.

9. There should be a clearly prescribed procedure to prevent personal information collected for one purpose from being used for another purpose.
10. The Commonwealth or any agency or political subdivision thereof should not collect personal information except as explicitly or implicitly authorized by law. (1976, c. 597.)

§ 2.1-379. Definitions. — As used in this chapter:
1. The term "information system" means the total components and operations of a record-keeping process, whether automated or manual, containing personal information and the name, personal number, or other identifying particulars of a data subject.
2. The term "personal information" means all information that describes, locates or indexes anything about an individual including his real or personal property holdings derived from tax returns, and his education, financial transactions, medical history, ancestry, religion, political ideology, criminal or employment record, or that affords a basis for inferring personal characteristics, such as finger and voice prints, photographs, or things done by or to such individual; and the record of his presence, registration, or membership in an organization or activity, or admission to an institution. The term does not include routine information maintained for the purpose of internal office administration whose use could not be such as to affect adversely any data subject nor does the term include real estate assessment information.
3. The term "data subject" means an individual about whom personal information is indexed or may be located under his name, personal number, or other identifiable particulars, in an information system.
4. The term "disseminate" means to release, transfer, or otherwise communicate information orally, in writing, or by electronic means.
5. The term "purge" means to obliterate information completely from the transient, permanent, or archival records of an organization.
6. The term "agency" means any agency, authority, board, department, division, commission, institution, bureau, or like governmental entity of the Commonwealth or of any unit of local government including counties, cities, towns and regional governments and the departments and including any entity, whether public or private, with which any of the foregoing has entered into a contractual relationship for the operation of a system of personal information to accomplish an agency function. Any such entity included in this definition by reason of a contractual relationship shall only be deemed an agency as relates to services performed pursuant to that contractual relationship, provided that if any such entity is a consumer reporting agency, it shall be deemed to have satisfied all of the requirements of this chapter if it fully complies with the requirements of the Federal Fair Credit Reporting Act as applicable to services performed pursuant to such contractual relationship. (1976, c. 597; 1983, c. 372.)

§ 2.1-380. Administration of systems including personal information.

Chapter does not render personal information confidential. Indeed, the act does not generally prohibit the dissemination of information. Instead, it requires certain procedural steps to be taken in the collection, maintenance, use, and dissemination of such data. Hinderliter v. Humphries, — Va. —, 297 S.E.2d 684 (1982).

Burden is on plaintiff to establish lack of necessity or improper purpose for dissemination. Hinderliter v. Humphries, — Va. —, 297 S.E.2d 684 (1982).

Since public officials presumed to obey the law. — There is a presumption that public officials will obey the law, and there is nothing in this chapter that reverses such presumption or imposes the ultimate burden of proof on defendants sued under it. Consequently, the presumption stands until rebutted by contrary evidence. Hinderliter v. Humphries, — Va. —, 297 S.E.2d 684 (1982).

§ 2.1-380.1. Administration of systems including personal information; military recruiters to have access to student information, school buildings, etc. — If a public school board or public institution of higher education provides access to its buildings and grounds and the student information directory to persons or groups which make students aware of occupational or educational options, the board or institution shall provide access on the same basis to official recruiting representatives of the military forces of the Commonwealth and the United States for the purpose of informing students of educational and career opportunities available in the military. (1981, c. 377.)

§ 2.1-381. Same; dissemination of reports. — Any agency maintaining an information system that disseminates statistical reports or research findings based on personal information drawn from its system, or from other systems shall:

1. Make available to any data subject or group, without revealing trade secrets, methodology and materials necessary to validate statistical analysis, and

2. Make no materials available for independent analysis without guarantees that no personal information will be used in any way that might prejudice judgments about any data subject. (1976, c. 597.)

§ 2.1-382. Rights of data subjects. — A. Any agency maintaining personal information shall:

1. Inform an individual who is asked to supply personal information about himself whether he is legally required, or may refuse, to supply the information requested, and also of any specific consequences which are known to the agency of providing or not providing such information.

2. Give notice to a data subject of the possible dissemination of part or all of this information to another agency, nongovernmental organization or system not having regular access authority, and indicate the use for which it is intended, and the specific consequences for the individual, which are known to the agency, of providing or not providing such information, however documented permission for dissemination in the hands of such other agency or organization will satisfy this requirement. Such notice may be given on applications or other data collection forms prepared by data subjects.

3. Upon request and proper identification of any data subject, or of his authorized agent, grant such subject or agent the right to inspect, in a form comprehensible to such individual or agent:

(a) All personal information about that data subject except as provided in § 2.1-342 (b)(3).

(b) The nature of the sources of the information.

(c) The names of recipients, other than those with regular access authority, of personal information about the data subject including the identity of all persons and organizations involved and their relationship to the system when not having regular access authority.

4. Comply with the following minimum conditions of disclosure to data subjects:

(a) An agency shall make disclosures to data subjects required under this chapter, during normal business hours.

(b) The disclosures to data subjects required under this chapter shall be made (i) in person, if he appears in person and furnishes proper identification, (ii) by mail, if he has made a written request, with proper identification. Copies of the documents containing the personal information sought by a data subject shall be furnished to him or his representative at reasonable standard charges for document search and duplication.

(c) The data subject shall be permitted to be accompanied by a person or persons of his choosing, who shall furnish reasonable identification. An agency may require the data subject to furnish a written statement granting permission to the organization to discuss the individual's file in such person's presence.

5. If the data subject gives notice that he wishes to challenge, correct, or explain information about him in the information system, the following minimum procedures shall be followed:

(a) The agency maintaining the information system shall investigate, and record the current status of that personal information.

(b) If, after such investigation, such information is found to be incomplete, inaccurate, not pertinent, not timely nor necessary to be retained, it shall be promptly corrected or purged.

(c) If the investigation does not resolve the dispute, the data subject may file a statement of not more than 200 words setting forth his position.

(d) Whenever a statement of dispute is filed, the organization maintaining the information system shall supply any previous recipient with a copy of the statement and, in any subsequent dissemination or use of the information in question, clearly note that it is disputed and supply the statement of the data subject along with the information.

(e) The agency maintaining the information system shall clearly and conspicuously disclose to the data subject his rights to make such a request.

(f) Following any correction or purging of personal information the agency shall furnish to past recipients notification that the item has been purged or corrected whose receipt shall be acknowledged.

B. Nothing in this section or found elsewhere in this chapter shall be construed so as to require an agency to disseminate any recommendation or letter of reference from or to a third party which is a part of the personnel file of any data subject nor to disseminate any test or examination used, administered or prepared by any public body for purposes of evaluation of (i) any student or any student's performance, (ii) any seeker's qualifications or aptitude for employment, retention, or promotion, (iii) qualifications for any license or certificate issued by any public body.

As used in this subsection, "test or examination" shall include (i) any scoring key for any such test or examination, and (ii) any other document which would jeopardize the security of such test or examination. Nothing contained in this subsection shall prohibit the release of test scores or results as provided by law, or to limit access to individual records as is provided by law, however, the subject of such employment tests shall be entitled to review and inspect all documents relative to his performance on such employment tests.

When, in the reasonable opinion of such public body, any such test or examination no longer has any potential for future use, and the security of future tests or examinations will not be jeopardized, such test or examination shall be made available to the public. Minimum competency tests administered to public school children shall be made available to the public contemporaneously with statewide release of the scores of those taking such tests, but in no event shall such tests be made available to the public later than six months after the administration of such tests.

C. Neither any provision of this chapter nor any provision of Chapter 21 (§ 2.1-340 et seq.) of this title shall be construed as denying public access to records of the position, job classification, official salary or rate of pay of, and to records of the allowances or reimbursements for expenses paid to any public officer, official or employee at any level of state, local or regional government in this Commonwealth whatsoever. The provisions of this subsection shall not apply to records of the official salaries or rates of pay of public employees whose annual rate of pay is $10,000 or less.

D. Nothing in this section or in this chapter shall be construed to require an agency to disseminate information derived from tax returns in violation of §§ 2.1-342 and 58-46 of this Code. (1976, c. 597; 1978, c. 810; 1979, cc. 683, 688, 689; 1983, c. 372.)

§ 2.1-383. Agencies to report concerning systems operated or developed; publication of information. — Every agency shall make report of the existence of any information system which it operates or develops which will include a description of the nature of the data in the system and purpose for which it is used. An inventory listing or similar display of such information shall be made available for inspection by the general public in the office of the head of each agency. Copies of such information shall be provided upon request and a fee shall be charged for the same sufficient to cover the reasonable costs of reproduction. (1976, c. 597; 1977, c. 279; 1979, c. 683.)

§ 2.1-384. Systems to which chapter inapplicable. — The provisions of this chapter shall not be applicable to personal information systems:

1. Maintained by any court of this Commonwealth;
2. Which may exist in publications of general circulation;
3. Contained in the Criminal Justice Information System as defined in §§ 9-184 through 9-196;

8. Maintained by the Virginia Port Authority as provided in § 62.1-134.1 or § 62.1-132.4; and

9. Maintained by the Virginia Division of Tourism in connection with or as a result of the promotion of travel or tourism in the Commonwealth, in which case names and addresses of persons requesting information on those subjects may be disseminated upon written request to a person engaged in the business of providing travel services or distributing travel information, provided the Virginia Division of Tourism is reasonably assured that the use of such information will be so limited. (1976, c. 597; 1979, c. 685; 1980, c. 752; 1981, cc. 461, 464, 504, 589; 1982, c. 225; 1983, c. 289.)

§ 2.1-385. Disclosure of social security number. — On or after July one, nineteen hundred seventy-seven, it shall be unlawful for any agency to require an individual to disclose or furnish his social security account number not previously disclosed or furnished, for any purpose in connection with any activity, or to refuse any service, privilege or right to an individual wholly or partly because such individual does not disclose or furnish such number, unless the disclosure or furnishing of such number is specifically required by federal or State law. (1976, c. 597.)

§ 2.1-386. 2.1. APPLICABILITY.

These regulations govern originals and copies of manual or automated criminal history record information which are used, collected, stored, or disseminated by state or local criminal justice agencies or other agencies receiving criminal history record information in the Commonwealth. The regulations also set forth the required procedures that ensure the proper processing of the expungement of criminal history record information. The provisions of these regulations apply to the following groups, agencies and individuals:

A. State and local criminal justice agencies and subunits of these agencies in the Commonwealth;

B. The United States Government or the government of another state or its political subdivisions which exchange such information with criminal justice agencies in the Commonwealth, but only to the extent of that exchange;

C. Noncriminal justice agencies or individuals who are eligible under the provisions of Section 19.2-389 of the Code of Virginia to receive limited criminal history record information.

D. The provisions of these regulations do not apply to :

1. original or copied records of entry, such as police blotters, maintained by a criminal justice agency on a chronological basis and permitted to be made public, but only if such records are not indexed or accessible by name;

2.2. COLLECTION.

A. RESPONSIBILITY.

Responsibility for collecting and updating criminal history record information rests with:

1. State officials and criminal justice agencies having the power to arrest, detain, or hold convicted persons in correctional facilities;
2. Sheriffs of cities or counties;
3. Police officials of cities, counties and towns;

6. Other criminal justice agencies or agencies having criminal justice responsibilities which generate criminal history record information.

B. REPORTABLE OFFENSES.

The above officials and their representatives are required to submit to the Central Criminal Records Exchange, on forms provided by the Central Criminal Records Exchange, a report on every arrest they complete for:

1. Treason;
2. Felonies or offenses punishable as a misdemeanor under Title 54.1 of the Code of Virginia;

Chapter 9 of Title 18.2, or 18.2-119; or violation of any similar ordinance of a county, city or town.)

In addition to those offenses enumerated above, the Central Criminal Records Exchange may receive, classify and file any other fingerprints and records of arrest or confinement submitted to it by any law-enforcement agency or correctional institution.

The chief of police, sheriff, or criminal justice agency head is responsible for establishing a system to ensure that arrest forms are completed and submitted in a timely and accurate fashion.

C. TIMELINESS OF SUBMISSION.

1. ARRESTS: Arrest reports for all offenses noted above, except as provided in this section, and a fingerprint card for the arrested individual shall be forwarded to the Central Criminal Records Exchange in accordance with the time limits specified by the Department of State Police. A copy of the Central Criminal Records Exchange arrest form shall also be sent to the local court (a copy of the form is provided for the courts) at the same time.

The link between the arrest report and the fingerprint card shall be established according to Central Criminal Records Exchange requirements. Arrests that occur simultaneously for multiple offenses need only be accompanied by one fingerprint card.

2. NONCONVICTIONS:

For arrests except as noted in subdivision 3.a below, the clerk of each circuit and district court shall notify the Central Criminal Records Exchange of the final action on a case. This notification must always be made no more than 30 days from the date the order is entered by the presiding judge.

3. CONVICTIONS:

a. For persons arrested and released on summonses under Section 19.2-74 of the Code of Virginia, the chief law-enforcement officer or his designee who may be the arresting officer, shall furnish fingerprint cards and a completed copy of the Central Criminal Records Exchange form, to the Central Criminal Records Exchange. The form shall be completed immediately upon conviction unless an appeal is noted. In the case of an appeal, officials responsible for reporting the disposition of charges shall report the conviction within 30 days after final action of the case.

b. For arrests except as noted in subdivision 3.a. above, the clerk of each circuit and district court shall notify the Central Criminal Records Exchange of the final action on a case. This notification must always be made no more than 30 days after occurence of the disposition.

4. FINAL DISPOSITION: State correctional officials shall submit to the Central Criminal Records Exchange the release status of an inmate of the state correctional system within 20 days of the release.

D. UPDATING AND ACCURACY.

Arresting officers and court clerks noted above are responsible for notifying the Central Criminal Records Exchange in a timely fashion, and always within 30 days, of changes or errors and necessary corrections in arrests, convictions, or other dispositions, concerning arrests and dispositions that the criminal justice agency originated. In the case of correctional status or release information, correctional officials are responsible for notifying the Central Criminal Records Exchange within the same time limits of updates or changes in correctional status information. Forms for updating and correcting information are provided by the Central Criminal Records Exchange.

Each criminal justice agency is required to supply timely corrections of criminal history record information the agency has provided to a criminal justice or noncriminal justice agency for a period of two years after the date of dissemination.

E. LOCALLY MAINTAINED AND NON-REPORTABLE OFFENSES.

Criminal history record information generated by a criminal justice agency and maintained in a locally used and maintained file, including criminal history record information on offenses not required to be reported to the Central Criminal Records Exchange but maintained in local files, as well as criminal history record information maintained by the Central Criminal Records Exchange, shall adhere to the standards of collection, timeliness, updating and accuracy as required by these regulations. Arrests shall be noted and convictions or adjudications recorded within 30 days of court action or the elapse of time to appeal.

2.3. DISSEMINATION.

A. AUTHORIZATION

No criminal justice agency or individual shall confirm or deny the existence or non-existence of a criminal history record to persons or agencies that would not be eligible to receive the information. No dissemination of a criminal history record is to be made to a noncriminal justice agency or individual if an interval of one year has elapsed from the date of arrest and no disposition of the charge has been recorded and no active prosecution of the charge is pending.

Criminal history record information or portions of an individual's record both maintained and used by criminal justice agencies and eligible recipients, maintained either at the Central Criminal Records Exchange, or by the originating criminal justice agency, or both, shall only be disseminated as provided by Section 19.2-389 of the Code of Virginia.

Upon receipt of a request for criminal history record information, by personal contact, mail, or electronic means from an agency or individual claiming to be authorized to obtain such information, the person responding to the request shall determine whether the requesting agency or individual is authorized to receive criminal history record information.

Criminal justice agencies shall determine what positions in their agency require regular access to criminal history record information as part of their job responsibilities. These positions will be exempt from the dissemination rules below. Use of criminal history record information by a member of a criminal justice agency not occupying a position authorized to receive criminal history record information, or for a purpose or activity other than one for which the person is authorized to receive criminal history record information, will be considered a dissemination and shall meet the provisions of this section. If the user of criminal history record information does not meet the procedures in subsection B., the use of the information will be considered an unauthorized dissemination.

The release of criminal history record information to an individual or entity not included in Section 19.2-389 of the Code of Virginia is unlawful and unauthorized. An individual or criminal justice agency that releases criminal history record information to a party which does not clearly belong to one of the categories of agencies and individuals authorized to receive the information as outlined in Section 19.2-389 of the Code is subject to being denied access to state and national criminal history record information on a temporary or permanent basis and to the administrative sanctions described in Section 2.8 of these regulations. Unlawful dissemination contrary to the provisions of these regulations is also a Class 2 misdemeanor (See Section 9-195 of the Code of Virginia).

B. PROCEDURES FOR RESPONDING TO REQUESTS.

A criminal justice agency disseminating criminal history record information shall adhere to the procedures set forth below:

1. ALLOWABLE RESPONSES TO REQUESTS.

Local and regional criminal justice agencies may respond to requests for criminal history record information in two ways:

a. For offenses required to be reported to the Central Criminal Records Exchange (CCRE), they may refer the requester to the Central Criminal Records Exchange, which will directly provide the requester with the information, or shall themselves query the Central Criminal Records Exchange to obtain the most accurate and complete information available and provide the information to the requester. (See Section 19.2-389 of the Code of Virginia.)

It should be noted that the Code of Virginia provides an exception to the above mentioned procedure for responding to information requests. The local law-enforcement agency may directly provide criminal history record information to the requester without making an inquiry to the Central Criminal Records Exchange or referring the requester to the Central Criminal Records Exchange if time is of the essence and the normal response time of the Exchange would exceed the necessary time period. (See Section 19.2-389 of the Code of Virginia.) Under circumstances where an inquiry to the Exchange is not made, the record provided by the local law-enforcement agency should be accompanied by an appropriate disclaimer indicating that the record may not be complete.

b. For nonreportable offenses (those offenses not reported to the Central Criminal Records Exchange), the law-enforcement agency shall provide the information requested, following the dissemination procedures as required by the regulations below.

2. PRIOR TO DISSEMINATION.

Prior to disseminating criminal history record information a criminal justice agency shall:

a. VERIFY REQUESTER IDENTITY.

(1) INDIVIDUAL REQUESTER:

For an individual requesting his own record and not known to the person responding to the request, the individual shall provide proper identification, to include at least two of the following, one of which must be a photo identification: (i) a valid passport, (ii) drivers' license with photo, (iii) social security card, (iv) birth certificate, or (v) military identification, if there is more than one name match. Fingerprints or other additional information shall be required if the disseminating criminal justice agency deems it appropriate or necessary to ensure a match of the record and the requesting subject.

(2) CRIMINAL JUSTICE AGENCIES:

For personnel of criminal justice agencies requesting a record, the requester shall provide valid agency identification unless the disseminator recognizes the requesting individual as having previously been authorized to receive the information for the same purpose.

(3) NONCRIMINAL JUSTICE AGENCIES OR INDIVIDUALS:

For an individual requesting the record of another, as in the case of an attorney requesting the record of his client, the individual shall provide a sworn written request from the record subject naming the requester as a recipient, as provided in Section 19.2-389(A) of the Code of Virginia. Identification of the attorney or individual shall also be required unless the attorney or individual is known to the official responding to the request.

b. VERIFY RECORD SUBJECT IDENTITY.

Because serious harm could come from the matching of criminal history record information to the wrong individual, verification procedures shall be carefully managed, particularly when dissemination will be to noncriminal justice recipients. The following verification methods are the only acceptable methods:

(1) INDIVIDUAL REQUESTERS: The verification requirements for individuals requesting their own records and for individual requesters with sworn requests from the subject of the information shall be the same as the requirements for noncriminal justice agencies as described below. Only when information supplied and information in the Central Criminal Records Exchange or local files satisfactorily match shall information be disseminated.

(2) CRIMINAL JUSTICE AGENCIES: Criminal history record information which reasonably corresponds to the name, aliases, and physical identity of the subject can be disseminated to a legitimate requester when time is of the essence or if criminal justice interests will be best served by the dissemination. This includes the dissemination of records with similar but not identical name spellings, similar physical characteristics, and similar but not identical aliases. When criminal history record information

s obtained in this manner and results in an apparent match between the identity of the subject and the record, the criminal history record should be verified using fingerprint identification prior to prosecution, adjudication or sentencing of the record subject. If a criminal justice agency does not have the capability to classify fingerprints, it may submit them by mail to the Central Criminal Records Exchange.

(3) NONCRIMINAL JUSTICE AGENCIES: Full name, date of birth, race, and sex of the record subject, must be provided by the requester for a criminal history record to be disseminated. Fingerprint identification may be required prior to dissemination if there is any doubt as to the match. If a criminal justice agency does not have the capability to classify fingerprints, it may submit them by mail to the Central Criminal Records Exchange. Information supplied by the requester and available through the Central Criminal Records Exchange (or in the local files where the request is for criminal history record information maintained only locally) must match to the satisfaction of the disseminator, or the dissemination shall not be made.

c. NOTIFY REQUESTER OF COSTS AND RESTRICTIONS.

The official responsible for aiding the requester shall notify the requester of the costs involved and of restrictions generally imposed on use of the data, or be reasonably assured that the requester is familiar with the costs and restrictions, prior to beginning the search for the requested criminal history record information, and shall obtain the consent of the requester to pay any charges associated with the dissemination.

3. LOCATING AND DISSEMINATING INFORMATION REQUESTED.

Once a request for a criminal history record has been made, and the responsible official is satisfied as to the legitimacy of the request and the identity of the subject and has informed the requester of costs and restrictions, the responsible official conducting the search for the record shall supply the information after querying the Central Criminal Records Exchange. However, if time is of the essence, or the offenses in a criminal history record are not required to be reported to Central Criminal Records Exchange, the responsible official may directly supply the information (Section 19.2-389 of the Code of Virginia).

4. INSTRUCTIONS REGARDING DISSEMINATION TO REQUESTERS.

The disseminated record must be accompanied by one of the three following messages in printed form, whichever matches the category of the requester:

a. RECORD SUBJECTS:

Record subjects have a right to receive and disseminate their own criminal history record information, subject to these regulations and Section 19.2-389(11) of the Code of Virginia. If a record subject or his attorney complies with the requirements of these sections, he shall be given the requested criminal history record information. However, if an agency or individual receives a record from the record subject, that agency or individual shall not further disseminate the record. The following printed message shall accompany the criminal history record information disseminated to a record subject:

"UNAUTHORIZED DISSEMINATION WILL SUBJECT THE DISSEMINATOR TO CRIMINAL AND CIVIL PENALTIES."

b. CRIMINAL JUSTICE AGENCIES:

The following printed message shall accompany the criminal history record information disseminated to a criminal justice agency:

"UNAUTHORIZED DISSEMINATION WILL SUBJECT THE DISSEMINATOR TO CRIMINAL AND CIVIL PENALTIES."

c. NONCRIMINAL JUSTICE AGENCIES AND INDIVIDUALS OTHER THAN RECORD SUBJECTS:

Even with the sworn consent of the record subject, only criminal history record information that is conviction data shall be disseminated to a noncriminal justice agency or individual in compliance with the existing laws and shall not be disseminated further. The following printed message shall accompany the criminal history record information disseminated to an individual or a noncriminal justice agency receiving criminal history record information:

"UNAUTHORIZED DISSEMINATION WILL SUBJECT THE DISSEMINATOR TO CRIMINAL AND CIVIL PENALTIES."

5. MAINTAINING A DISSEMINATION LOG.

A record of any dissemination shall be maintained at the disseminating criminal justice agency or shall be accessible electronically for a period of at least two years from the date of the dissemination.

The dissemination log must list all requests for criminal history record information. The log may be automated or manual.

Records will include the following information on each dissemination:

a. Date of inquiry;

b. Requesting agency name and address;

c. Identifying name and number (either FBI or state identification number of record subject, or notification of "no record found");

d. Name of requester within the agency requesting criminal history record information; and

e. Name of disseminator (officer or civilian who provides the criminal history record information to the requester).

6. REPORTING UNAUTHORIZED DISSEMINATIONS.

While individual criminal justice agencies are not expected to audit agencies who receive criminal history record information that they provide, in order to identify unauthorized releases, they shall notify the Department of any violations observed of the above dissemination regulations. The Department will investigate and respond to the violation in a manner deemed appropriate by the Department.

A criminal justice agency which knowingly fails to report a violation may be subject to immediate audit of its entire dissemination log to ensure that disseminations are being appropriately managed.

7. INTERSTATE DISSEMINATION.

Interstate dissemination of criminal history record information shall be subject to the procedures described herein. Dissemination to an agency outside of the Commonwealth shall be carried out in compliance with Virginia law and these regulations, as if the agency were within the jurisdiction of the Commonwealth.

8. FEES.

Criminal justice agencies may charge a reasonable fee for search and copying time expended when dissemination of criminal history record information is requested by a noncriminal justice agency or individual. The criminal justice agency shall post the schedule of fees to be charged, and shall obtain approval from the requester to pay such costs prior to initiating the search.

2.4. ACCESS AND REVIEW.

A. WHO CAN REVIEW.

An individual or his attorney, upon providing proper identification and in the case of an attorney representing a client, with a sworn written request from the record subject, shall have the right to inspect criminal history record information being maintained on that individual by the Central Criminal Records Exchange or other criminal justice agencies. Completing a request form may be required by the Central Criminal Records Exchange or the local criminal justice agency.

B. REVIEW AT LOCAL LAW-ENFORCEMENT AGENCY OR CENTRAL CRIMINAL RECORDS EXCHANGE.

An individual or his attorney may review the individual's criminal history record arising from arrests for felonies and Class 1 and 2 misdemeanors maintained in the Central Criminal Records Exchange by applying at any law-enforcement agency having terminal capabilities on the Virginia Criminal Information Network or to the Central Criminal Records Exchange of the Virginia Department of State Police, during normal working hours. An individual or his attorney may review the individual's criminal history record regarding offenses not required to be reported to the Central Criminal Records Exchange at the arresting law-enforcement agency. The law-enforcement agency to which the request is directed shall inform the individual or his attorney of the procedures associated with the review.

Individuals shall be provided at cost, one copy of their record. If no record can be found, a statement shall be furnished to this effect.

C. TIMELINESS AND COMPLETENESS.

An individual requesting his own record shall be advised when the record will be available. In no case shall the time between request and availability of the record exceed one week, except where fingerprint identification is required; then it shall not exceed 30 days. Criminal justice agencies should seek to provide the record as soon as reasonably possible unless there are questions of identification.

The criminal justice agency locating an individual's criminal history record information shall examine its own files and shall contact the Central Criminal Records Exchange for the most up-to-date criminal history record information, and supply both to the requester.

D. ASSISTANCE.

The criminal justice agency to which the request is directed shall provide reasonable assistance to the individual or his attorney to help understand the record.

The official releasing the record shall also inform the individual of his right to challenge the record.

2.5. CHALLENGE.

Individuals who desire to challenge their own criminal history record information must complete documentation provided by the criminal justice agency maintaining the record and forward it to the Central Criminal Records Exchange or the criminal justice agency maintaining the record. A duplicate copy of the form and the challenged record may be furnished to the individual initiating the challenge or review. The individual's record concerning arrests for felonies and Class 1 and 2 misdemeanors may be challenged at the Central Criminal Records Exchange or the criminal justice agency maintaining the record. For offenses not required to be reported to the Exchange, the challenge shall be made at the arresting law-enforcement agency or the criminal justice agency maintaining the records.

A. RECORDS MAINTAINED BY THE CENTRAL CRIMINAL RECORDS EXCHANGE.

1. MESSAGE FLAGS.

If the challenge is made of a record maintained by the Central Criminal Records Exchange, both the manual and the automated record shall be flagged with the message "CHALLENGED RECORD". A challenged record shall carry this message when disseminated while under challenge.

2. REVIEW AT EXCHANGE.

The Central Criminal Records Exchange shall compare the information contained in the repository files as reviewed by the individual with the original arrest or disposition form. If no error is located, the Central Criminal Records Exchange shall forward a copy of the challenge form, a copy of the Central Criminal Records Exchange record and other relevant information to the criminal justice agency or agencies which the Central Criminal Records Exchange records indicate as having originated the information under challenge, and shall request them to examine the relevant files to determine the validity of the challenge.

3. EXAMINATION.

The criminal justice agency or agencies responsible for originating the challenged record shall conduct an examination of their source data, the contents of the challenge, and information supplied by the Central Criminal Records Exchange for discrepancies or errors, and shall advise the Central Criminal Records Exchange of the results of the examination.

4. CORRECTION.

If any modification of a Central Criminal Records Exchange record is required, the Exchange shall modify the record and shall then notify the criminal justice agency in which the record was originally reviewed of its action, and supply it and other agencies involved in the review with a copy of the corrected record.

5. NOTIFICATION BY CENTRAL CRIMINAL RECORDS EXCHANGE.

The Central Criminal Records Exchange shall also provide notification of the correction to all recipients of the record within the last 24 months.

6. NOTIFICATION BY OTHER CRIMINAL JUSTICE AGENCIES.

Criminal justice agencies which have disseminated an erroneous or incomplete record shall in turn notify agencies which have received the disseminated record or portion of the record in the last two years from the date of the Central Criminal Records Exchange modification of the record. Notification shall consist of sending a copy of the original record, and corrections made, to the recipients of the erroneous record noted in the dissemination log for the two-year period prior to the date of correction by the Central Criminal Records Exchange. (See Section 9-192(C) of the Code of Virginia.) The criminal justice agency in which the review and challenge occurred shall notify the individual or his attorney of the action of the Central Criminal Records Exchange.

7. APPEAL.

The record subject or his attorney, upon being told of the results of his record review, shall also be informed of his right to review and appeal those results.

B. RECORDS MAINTAINED BY A CRIMINAL JUSTICE AGENCY OTHER THAN THE CENTRAL CRIMINAL RECORDS EXCHANGE.

1. MESSAGE FLAGS.

If a challenge is made of a record maintained by a criminal justice agency, both the manual and the automated record shall be flagged with the message "CHALLENGED RECORD". A disseminated record shall contain this message while under challenge.

2. EXAMINATION AND CORRECTION AGENCY.

If the challenged record pertains to the criminal justice agency's arrest information, the arresting agency shall examine the relevant files to determine the validity of the challenge. If the review demonstrates that modification is in order, the modification shall be completed and the erroneous information destroyed. If the challenged record pertains to disposition information, the arresting agency shall compare contents of the challenge with information originally supplied by the Clerk of the Court.

3. REVIEW BY CLERK OF COURT.

If no error is found in the criminal justice agency's records, the arresting agency shall forward the challenge to the Clerk of the Court that submitted the original disposition. The Clerk of the Court shall examine the court records pursuant to the challenge and shall, in turn, notify the arresting agency of its findings. The arresting agency shall then proceed as described in Subsection B.2. of this section.

4. NOTIFICATION.

The criminal justice agency in which the challenge occurred shall notify the individual or his attorney of the action taken, and shall notify the Central Criminal Records Exchange and other criminal justice agencies receiving the erroneous information of the necessary corrections if required, as well as the noncriminal justice agencies to which it has distributed the information in the last 24 months, as noted in its dissemination log.

5. CORRECTION.

The Central Criminal Records Exchange will correct its records, and notify agencies who received erroneous information within the past 24 months. The agencies will be requested to correct their files and to notify agencies which have the disseminated information, as provided in subsection A.6. of this section.

6. APPEAL.

The record subject or his attorney, upon receiving the results of the record review, shall be informed of the right to review and appeal.

C. ADMINISTRATIVE REVIEW OF CHALLENGE RESULTS.

1. REVIEW BY CRIMINAL JUSTICE AGENCY HEAD.

After the aforementioned review and challenge concerning a record either in the Central Criminal Records Exchange or another criminal justice agency, the individual or his attorney may, within 30 days, request in writing that the agency head of the criminal justice agency in which the challenge was made, review the challenge if the individual is not satisfied with the results of the review and challenge.

2. THIRTY-DAY REVIEW.

The criminal justice agency head or his designated official shall review the challenge by reviewing the action taken by the agency, the Central Criminal Records Exchange, and other criminal justice agencies, and shall notify the individual or his attorney in writing of the decision within 30 days of the receipt of the written request to review the challenge. The criminal justice agency head shall also notify the individual of the option to request an administrative appeal through the Department within 30 days of the postmarked date of the notification of the decision. This notification of the appeal shall include the address of the Department of Criminal Justice Services.

3. CORRECTION AND NOTIFICATION.

If required, correction and notification shall follow the procedures outlined in subsections A and B of this section.

4. NOTIFICATION OF THE DEPARTMENT.

A copy of the notice required in Subsection C.2. of this section shall be forwarded to the Department by the criminal justice agency at the same time it is provided to the individual.

D. ADMINISTRATIVE APPEAL.

1. DEPARTMENTAL ASSESSMENT.

The individual or his attorney challenging his record, within 30 days of the postmark of his notification of the decision of the administrative review, may request that the Director of the Department of Criminal Justice Services review the challenge and conduct an informal hearing. The Director may designate a hearing officer for this purpose.

2. DETERMINATION OF MERITS OF CASE.

The Director or his designee shall contact the criminal justice agencies involved and request any and all information needed. Criminal justice agencies shall supply the information requested in a timely manner, to allow the Department to respond to the individual within 30 days. The Director will then rule on the merits of a hearing and notify the individual or his attorney that such hearing will or will not be held.

3. HEARING.

The hearing, if held, shall be conducted within 30 days of the receipt of the request, and the decision of the hearing officer communicated to the individual or his attorney within 30 days of the hearing.

4. FINDING.

If the Director or the hearing officer determines that correction and modification of the records is required, correction of the record and notification of all involved parties, shall proceed according to the procedures outlined in subsections A and B of this section.

5. REMOVAL OF A CHALLENGE DESIGNATION.

When records and relevant action taken by the criminal justice agencies involved are deemed to be correct, the Department shall notify the affected criminal justice agencies to remove the challenge designation from their files.

E. DEPARTMENT NOTIFICATION FOLLOWING CORRECTIONS.

For audit purposes, the Central Criminal Records Exchange shall annually forward the names and addresses of the agencies which originated erroneous record information or received erroneous information from the Exchange in that year to the Department of Criminal Justice Services.

The Department shall ensure at its next audit that all records in originating and recipient agencies have been corrected as required and that all erroneous information is destroyed.

2.6. EXPUNGEMENT AND SEALING.

A. RESPONSIBILITY OF THE DIRECTOR.

The expungement of a criminal history record or portion thereof is only permitted on the basis of a court order. Upon receipt of a court order, petition and other supporting documents for the expungement of a criminal history record, the Director of the Department, pursuant to Section 19.2-392.2 of the Code of Virginia, shall by letter with an enclosed copy of the order, direct the Central Criminal Records Exchange and those agencies and individuals known to maintain or to have obtained such a record, to remove the electronic or manual record or portion thereof from its repository and place it in a physically sealed, separate file. The file shall be properly indexed to allow for later retrieval of the record if required by court order, and the record shall be labeled with the following designation: "EXPUNGED RECORD TO BE UNSEALED ONLY BY COURT ORDER."

B. RESPONSIBILITY OF AGENCIES WITH A RECORD TO BE EXPUNGED.

The record named in the Department's letter shall be removed from normal access. The expunged information shall be sealed but remain available, as the courts may call for its reopening at a later date. (See Section 19.2-392.3 of the Code of Virginia.) Access to the record shall be possible only through a name index of expunged records maintained either with the expunged records or in a manner that will allow subsequent retrieval of the expunged record as may be required by the court or as part of the Department's audit procedures. Should the name index make reference to the expunged record, it shall be apart from normally accessed files.

C. PROCEDURE FOR EXPUNGEMENT AND SEALING OF HARD COPY RECORDS.

1. The expungement and sealing of hard copy original records of entry (arrest forms) is accomplished by physically removing them from a file, and filing them in a physically secure location elsewhere, apart from normally accessed files. This file should be used only for expunged records and should be accessible only to the manager of records.

2. If the information to be expunged is included among other information that has not been expunged on the same form or piece of paper, the expunged information shall be obliterated on the original or the original shall be retyped eliminating the expunged information. The expunged information shall then be placed in the file for expunged records, in its original or copied form, and shall be accessible only to the manager of records.

3. If the expunged information is located on a criminal history record provided by the Central Criminal Records Exchange (i.e. "RAP sheet"), the criminal history record information shall be destroyed, and a new copy, not containing the expunged data, shall be obtained when necessary.

D. PROCEDURE FOR EXPUNGING AUTOMATED RECORDS.

Should the record to be expunged be maintained in an automated system, the Central Criminal Records Exchange or the agency known to possess such a record shall copy the automated record onto an off-line medium such as tape, disk or hard copy printouts. The expunged record, regardless of the type of medium on which it is maintained, shall then be kept in a file used for expunged records and sealed from normal use, accessible only to the manager of records. No notification that expunged data exists shall be left in the normally accessed files.

E. DEPARTMENT TO BE NOTIFIED FOLLOWING EXPUNGEMENT.

Upon receipt of a request from the Department to expunge and seal a record, the affected agency or agencies shall perform the steps above, and notify the Department of their action in writing within 120 days of their receipt of the request.

F. EXPUNGEMENT ORDER NOT RECEIVED BY DEPARTMENT.

Should a court ordered expungement be directed to a criminal justice agency other than the Department, the directed criminal justice agency shall comply as outlined herein and advise the Director without delay of such order. The Director shall, upon receipt of such notification, obtain a copy of the order from the appropriate circuit court.

2.7. AUDIT.

The Department shall annually conduct an audit of a random representative sample of state and local criminal justice agencies to ensure and verify adherence to these regulations and to ensure that criminal history records are accurate and complete.

The audits may include, but will not be limited to: (i) examination of record accuracy, (ii) completeness, (iii) timely submission of information, (iv) evidence of dissemination limitations and adequate dissemination logs, (v) security provisions, (vi) evidence of notification of the individual's right of access and challenge, (vii) appropriate handling of record challenges, (viii) timely modification of erroneous records, (ix) evidence of timely notifications of required changes, and (x) appropriate notifications of the Department as required.

2.8. ADMINISTRATIVE SANCTIONS.

Discovery of violations or failure to comply with these regulations in whole or in part will occasion the following sanctions. Additional criminal penalties and other sanctions may be invoked as provided in Section 2.3. should the violation involve an unauthorized dissemination.

A. LAW-ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES.

1. Should a law-enforcement agency fail to comply with these regulations, a letter will be forwarded by the Department to either the chief of police or sheriff, citing the problem and notifying the police department or the sheriff's department that the matter will be referred to the chief official of the locality or commonwealth's attorney, respectively, if a satisfactory result is not forthcoming. The criminal justice agency shall have 10 working days to respond with a letter describing how the situation was remedied or explaining why there is no need to do so.

2. Should there be no satisfactory response after the 10 working day period, the matter will be referred to the offices of the city, county or town manager or the local commonwealth's attorney requesting resolution of the matter within 30 days.

3. If 30 days have passed and the matter fails to be resolved to the satisfaction of the Department, the matter will be referred to the Criminal Justice Services Board and the Office of the Attorney General for action.

B. COURTS.

1. Should a court or officer of the court fail to comply with these regulations, a letter will be forwarded by the Department to the court, citing the problem and notifying the court clerk that the matter will be referred to the chief judge of the locality and the local commonwealth's attorney if a satisfactory result is not forthcoming. The court shall have 10 working days to respond with a letter describing how the situation was remedied or explaining why there is no need to do so.

2. Should there be no satisfactory response after the 10 working day period, the matter will be referred to the chief judge requesting resolution of the matter within 30 days. The Executive Secretary of the Supreme Court of Virginia will also be notified.

3. If 30 days have passed and the matter fails to be resolved to the satisfaction of the Department, the matter will be referred to the Criminal Justice Services Board and the Chief Justice of Virginia.

PART III

CRIMINAL HISTORY RECORD INFORMATION SECURITY.

3.1 APPLICABILITY.

These regulations are applicable to criminal justice information systems operated within the Commonwealth of Virginia. These regulations on security are not applicable to court records or other records expressly excluded by Section 9-184 (B) of the Code of Virginia.

These regulations establish a minimum set of security standards which shall apply to any manual or automated record keeping system which collects, stores, processes, or disseminates criminal history record information.

Where individuals or noncriminal justice agencies are authorized to have direct access to criminal history record information pursuant to a specific agreement with a criminal justice agency to provide services required for the administration of criminal justice, the service support agreement will embody the restrictions on dissemination and the security requirements contained in these regulations and the Code of Virginia.

3.2. RESPONSIBILITIES.

In addition to those responsibilities mandated by state and federal laws, the Department of State Police shall have the responsibility for the implementation of these regulations in regard to the operation of the Central Criminal Records Exchange.

The implementation of these regulations, except as set forth in the above paragraph, shall be the responsibility of the criminal justice agency as designated and authorized by the county or municipality in cases of political subdivisions. Nothing in these regulations shall be deemed to affect in any way the exercise of responsibility conferred on counties and municipalities of the state under Title 15.1 of the Code of Virginia. The determination of the suitability of the actual procedures instituted by the criminal justice agency will be the subject of study in any audit by the Department, mandated by Section 9-186 of the Code of Virginia.

3.3. PHYSICAL ACCESS.

Access to areas in which criminal history record information is collected, stored, processed or disseminated shall be limited to authorized persons. Control of access shall be ensured through the use of locks, guards or other appropriate means. Authorized personnel shall be clearly identified.

Procedures shall be established to detect an unauthorized attempt or access. Furthermore, a procedure shall be established to be followed in those cases in which an attempt or unauthorized access is detected. Such procedures shall become part of the orientation of employees working in criminal history record information area(s) and shall be reviewed periodically to ensure their effectiveness.

Criminal justice agencies shall provide direct access to criminal history record information only to authorized officers or employees of a criminal justice agency and, as necessary, to other authorized personnel essential to the proper operation of the criminal history record information system.

Each criminal justice agencies shall institute, where computer processing is not utilized, procedures to ensure that an individual or agency authorized to have direct access is responsible for: (i) the physical security of criminal history record information under its control or in its custody, and (ii) the protection of this information from unauthorized access, disclosure or dissemination.

Procedures shall be instituted to protect any central repository of criminal history record information from unauthorized access, theft, sabotage, fire, flood, wind or other natural or man-made disasters.

For criminal justice agencies that have their criminal history files automated, it is highly recommended that "backup" copies of criminal history information be maintained, preferably off-site. Further, for larger criminal justice agencies having automated systems, it is recommended that the criminal justice agencies develop a disaster recovery plan. The plan should be available for inspection and review by the Department.

System specifications and documentation shall be carefully controlled to prevent unauthorized access and dissemination.

3.4. PERSONNEL.

In accordance with applicable laws, ordinances, and regulations, the criminal justice agency shall:

A. Screen and have the right to reject for employment, based on good cause, personnel to be authorized to have direct access to criminal history record information;

B. Have the right to initiate or cause to be initiated administrative action leading to the transfer or removal of personnel authorized to have direct access to this information where these personnel violate the provisions of the regulations or other security requirements established for the collection, storage, or dissemination of criminal history record information; and

C. Ensure that employees working with or having access to criminal history record information shall be made familiar with the substance and intent of these regulations. Designated employees shall be briefed on their roles and responsibilities in protecting the information resources in the criminal justice agency. Special procedures connected with security shall be reviewed periodically to ensure their relevance and continuing effectiveness.

3.5. TELECOMMUNICATIONS.

In those systems where terminal access of criminal history record information is permitted, terminal devices must be secure. Terminal devices capable of receiving or transmitting criminal history record information shall be attended during periods of operation. In cases in which the terminal is unattended, the device shall, through security means, be made inoperable.

Telecommunications facilities used in connection with the terminal shall also be secured. The terminal device shall be identified on a hardware basis to the host computer. In addition, appropriate identification of the terminal operator may be required. Equipment associated with the terminal device shall be reasonably protected from possible tampering or tapping. In cases in which a computer system provides terminal access to criminal history record information, the use of dial-up lines shall be prohibited to access criminal history record information.

3.6. COMPUTER OPERATIONS.

Where computerized data processing is employed, effective and technologically advanced software and hardware design shall be instituted to prevent unauthorized access to this information.

Computer operations, whether dedicated or shared, which support criminal justice information systems shall operate in accordance with procedures developed or approved by the participating criminal justice agencies.

Criminal history record information shall be stored by the computer in a manner that cannot be modified, destroyed, accessed, changed, purged or overlaid in any fashion by noncriminal justice terminals.

Operational programs shall be used that will prohibit inquiry, record updates, or destruction of records, from terminals other than criminal justice system terminals which are so designated.

The destruction of records shall be limited to designated terminals under the direct control of the criminal justice agency responsible for creating or storing the criminal history record information.

Operational programs shall be used to detect and log all unauthorized attempts to penetrate criminal history record information systems, programs or files.

Programs designed for the purpose of prohibiting unauthorized inquiries, unauthorized record updates, unauthorized destruction of records, or for the detection and logging of unauthorized attempts to penetrate criminal history record information systems shall be known only to the criminal justice agency employees responsible for criminal history record information system control or individuals and agencies which pursuant to a specific agreement with the criminal justice agency to provide security programs. The program(s) shall be kept under maximum security conditions.

Criminal justice agencies having automated criminal history record files should designate a system administrator to maintain and control authorized user accounts, system management, and the implementation of security measures.

The criminal justice agency shall have the right to audit, monitor, and inspect procedures established pursuant to these rules and regulations.

GENERAL.

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 18.2-308.2:2 of the Code of Virginia, criminal history record information checks are required prior to the sale, rental, trade or transfer of certain firearms. A criminal history record information check shall be requested by licensed dealers from the Department of State Police to determine the legal eligibility of a prospective purchaser to possess or transport certain firearms under state or federal law. The Department of Criminal Justice Services hereby promulgates the following regulations governing these criminal history record information checks as required under Section 18.2-308.2:2(H) of the Code of Virginia. The purpose of these regulations is to ensure that criminal history record information checks are conducted in a manner which ensures the integrity of criminal history record information, guarantees individual rights to privacy, and supports the needs of law enforcement, while allowing nearly instantaneous sales of firearms to the law abiding public.

§ 1.1. DEFINITIONS.

The following words and terms, when used in these regulations, shall have the following meaning unless the context clearly dictates otherwise:

"Antique handgun or pistol" means any handgun or pistol, including those with a matchlock, flintlock, percussion cap, or similar type of ignition system, manufactured in or before 1893, and any replica of such a handgun or pistol, provided such replica: (i) is not designed or redesigned for using rimfire or conventional centerfire fixed ammunition or; (ii) uses rimfire or conventional centerfire fixed ammunition which is no longer manufactured in the United States and which is not readily available in the ordinary channels of commercial trade.

"Criminal History Record Information" means records and data collected by criminal justice agencies on adult individuals, consisting of notations of arrests, detentions, indictments, informations, or other formal charges and any disposition arising therefrom.

"Criminal History Record Information Check" (also "criminal history record check" and "record check") means a review of a potential purchaser's criminal history record information, to be conducted by the Department of State Police at the initiation of a dealer in order to establish a prospective purchaser's eligibility to possess or transport a firearm, as defined herein, under state or federal law.

"Dealer" means any person licensed as a dealer pursuant to 18 U.S.C. Section 921 et seq.

REGULATIONS.

§ 2.1. APPLICABILITY OF REGULATIONS CONCERNING CRIMINAL HISTORY RECORD CHECKS FOR FIREARM PURCHASE.

A. These regulations apply to:

1. All licensed dealers in firearms;

2. The Department of State Police.

B. These regulations shall not apply to:

1. Transactions between persons who are licensed as firearms importers or collectors, manufacturers or dealers pursuant to 18 U.S.C. Section 921 et seq.;

2. Purchases by or sale to any law enforcement officer or agent of the United States, Commonwealth or any local government;

3. Antique handguns or pistols; or

4. Transactions in any county, city or town that has a local ordinance adopted prior to January 1, 1987, governing the purchase, possession, transfer, ownership, conveyance or transportation of firearms which is more stringent than Section 18.2-308.2:2 of the Code of Virginia.

§ 2.2. RESPONSIBILITIES OF DEALERS.

It shall be the responsibility of dealers that transfer firearms in Virginia to comply with the following:

A. Register with the Department and obtain from the Department a Dealer Identification Number (DIN) and the toll-free telephone number to participate in the criminal history record check program.

B. Prior to transferring any firearm, determine if the firearm is a "firearm" as defined in these regulations and Section 18.2-308.2:2 of the Code of Virginia.

C. Complete the VFTR form.

D. Request a criminal history record information check prior to the transfer of any such firearm.

E. Maintain required forms and records according to the procedures outlined in these regulations.

F. Deny the transfer of a firearm if advised by the Department of State Police that the prospective purchaser is ineligible to possess such a firearm and the Department disapproved the transfer of a firearm to the prospective purchaser.

G. Allow the Department of Criminal Justice Services access to all forms and records required by these regulations.

§ 2.3. RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE POLICE.

A. The Department of State Police shall operate a telephone and mail response system to provide dealers in firearms (as defined herein) with information on the legal eligibility of prospective purchasers to possess or transport firearms covered under these regulations. This information shall be released only to authorized dealers. Prior to the release of the information, the identity of the dealer and the prospective purchaser should be reasonably established.

B. In no case shall the Department release to any dealer actual criminal history record information as defined herein. The dealer shall only receive from the Department a statement of the Department's approval or disapproval of the transfer, and an approval code number, if applicable, unique to the transaction. A statement of approval or disapproval shall be based on the Department's review of the prospective purchaser's criminal history record information and restrictions on the transfer of firearms to felons enumerated in Section 18.2-308.2 of the Code of Virginia or federal law. This statement shall take one of the following two statuses: (i) approval with an approval code number, (ii) disapproval with no approval code number.

C. The Department shall provide to dealers a supply of VFTR forms, a DIN, and a toll-free number to allow access to the telephone criminal history record check system available for approval of firearms purchases by Virginia residents.

D. The Department shall supply all dealers in the Commonwealth with VFTR forms in a manner which allows the Department to use the forms to identify dealers and monitor dealers' use of the system to avoid illegal access to criminal history records and other Department information systems.

E. The Department shall hire and train such personnel as are necessary to administer criminal history record information checks, insure the security and privacy of criminal histories used in such records checks, and monitor the record check system.

F. Allow the Department of Criminal Justice Services access to all forms and records required by these regulations.

A. GENERAL PROCEDURES.

1. If any firearm which a prospective purchaser intends to obtain in transfer is a firearm as defined herein, the dealer shall request that the Department of State Police conduct a criminal history record check on the purchaser. The dealer may obtain the required record check from the Department for purchasers who are residents of Virginia by telephoning the Department, using the provided toll-free number, and requesting the record check. For purchasers who are out-of-state residents, the dealer may only request the record check from the Department by mail or delivery. However, Virginia residents may, if they elect, request the dealer to obtain a record check by mail. The initial required steps of completion of the VFTR, obtaining consent of the purchaser, determining residency and verifying identity are common to both telephone and mail methods of obtaining the record check.

2. The dealer shall request a criminal history record check and obtain the prospective purchaser's signature on the consent portion of the form for each new transfer of a firearm or firearms to a given purchaser. One record check is sufficient for any number of firearms in a given transfer, but once a transaction has been completed, no transfer to the same purchaser shall proceed without a new records check.

3. A criminal history record check shall be conducted prior to the actual transfer of a firearm.

B. COMPLETING SECTION A OF THE VIRGINIA FIREARMS TRANSACTION RECORD: OBTAINING CONSENT FOR A CRIMINAL HISTORY RECORD INFORMATION CHECK FOR FIREARMS PURCHASE.

As a condition of any sale, the dealer shall advise the prospective purchaser to legibly complete and sign Section A of a VFTR form.

1. The dealer shall require the prospective purchaser to complete Section A of the VFTR form in the prospective purchaser's own handwriting, and without the dealer's assistance. The purchaser shall answer the questions listed and shall complete the items that establish residency and describe identity, including name, sex, height, weight, race, date of birth and place of birth.

2. If the prospective purchaser cannot read or write, Section A of the VFTR form may be completed by any person other than the dealer or any employee of the dealer according to the procedures specified on the reverse side of the VFTR form.

3. The dealer shall also obtain the prospective purchaser's signature or, if he cannot read or write, his mark, following the consent paragraph at the bottom of Section A, which shall certify that the information supplied by the purchaser in Section A is true and correct.

C. COMPLETING SECTION B OF THE VIRGINIA FIREARMS TRANSACTION RECORD: ESTABLISHING PURCHASER IDENTITY AND RESIDENCY AND DEALER IDENTITY.

Prior to making a request for a criminal history record information check, the dealer shall complete all of Section B of the VFTR form for which the dealer is responsible. Information recorded on the VFTR form shall be sufficient to: (i) reasonably establish a prospective purchaser's identity and determine the residency of the prospective purchaser; and (ii) identify the dealer.

1. IDENTIFY PROSPECTIVE PURCHASER AND DETERMINE RESIDENCY.

a. The dealer shall determine residency and verify the prospective purchaser's identity as required in Section B of the VFTR, by requiring at least two forms of identification. Only the forms of identification listed below shall be acceptable forms of identification. At least one of the following forms of identification shall include a recent photograph of the prospective purchaser. Accordingly, the dealer shall require the prospective purchaser to furnish one form of identification that contains a recent photograph of the prospective purchaser and at least one other form of identification included in the list below:

(1) a valid and current Virginia driver's license or photo identification card provided by the Virginia Department of Motor Vehicles or another state's issuing authority;
(2) a military identification card;
(3) an immigration card;
(4) an employment identification card, provided the card shows at least the prospective purchaser's name and place of employment;
(5) a passport;
(6) a voter registration card;

(7) evidence of paid personal property tax or real estate taxes;
(3) a current automobile registration;
(9) a hunting or fishing license;
(10) a social security card; or
(11) other identification allowed as evidence of residency by Part 178.124 of Title 27, Code of Federal Regulations, and ATF Ruling 79-7.

b. The dealer will ensure that the forms of identification support the listing of the identifying characteristics and the resident's address as supplied by the prospective purchaser in Section A.

c. If the dealer discovers any unexplained discrepancy between the two forms of identification (different birth dates, different names), the dealer shall not request a criminal history record check until the prospective purchaser can be adequately identified with two acceptable forms of identification as required.

d. The dealer shall name and identify on the VFTR form the documents used to verify the prospective purchaser's identity and residence, and shall record all pertinent identifying numbers on the VFTR form.

e. While the dealer is required to collect sufficient information to establish the prospective purchaser's identity and residency from the documents listed above, in no case is the dealer authorized to collect more information on the prospective purchaser than is reasonably required to establish identity and state of residence.

2. IDENTIFY DEALER. The dealer or his employee shall note on Section B of the form:

a. the dealer's or employee's signature;
b. his position title (owner, employee);
c. the trade or corporate name and business address; and
d. the dealer's federal firearms license number.

§ 2.5. PROCEDURES FOR REQUESTING A CRIMINAL HISTORY RECORD INFORMATION CHECK BY TELEPHONE (VIRGINIA RESIDENTS ONLY).

A. Once the prospective purchaser has completed Section A of the VFTR form and the dealer has completed the necessary portions of the VFTR form and determined that the prospective purchaser is a resident of Virginia, the dealer shall call the Department of State Police and request a criminal history record information check by telephone for the firearm transfer. The dealer shall use the toll-free number provided by the Department of State Police. However, no provision of these regulations shall prohibit a Virginia resident from obtaining a written record check through the dealer for any firearm transfer.

B. The dealer shall identify himself to the Department by providing his DIN and the printed number on the upper right-hand corner of the VFTR form prepared by the prospective purchaser.

C. The dealer shall allow the Department to verify this identifying information. The Department of State Police may disapprove a firearm purchase if the Department determines that the identifying information supplied by the dealer is incomplete, incomprehensible or in error, raises a reasonable doubt as to the origin of the call, or is otherwise unusable.

D. The dealer shall then supply to the Department over the telephone all identifying data on the prospective purchaser which is recorded on Section A of the VFTR, in the order requested by the Department. This information shall be transmitted to the Department in a discrete and confidential manner, assuring to the extent possible that the identifying data is not overheard by other persons in the dealer's place of business. If the dealer cannot provide sufficient information to allow the Department to conduct a criminal history record check, the Department will not accept the request on the basis of insufficient information to conduct a check. The Department may adopt procedures to appropriately address such occurrences.

E. The Department of State Police will respond to the dealer's request for a criminal history record check by consulting the criminal history record information indexes and files, during the dealer's call. In the event of electronic failure or other difficulties, the Department shall immediately advise the dealer of the reason for such delay and provide to the dealer an estimate of the length of such delay.

F. If no evidence of a criminal record or other information is found that would preclude the purchaser from possessing or transporting a firearm under state or federal law, the Department will immediately notify the dealer that the transfer may proceed, and will provide the dealer with a unique approval code number, which the dealer shall enter in a clear, visible, and convenient manner on the original of the VFTR form.

G. If the initial search discloses that the prospective purchaser may not be eligible to possess a firearm, the Department will notify the dealer that a further check must be completed before the end of the dealer's next business day, to determine if the prospective purchaser has a criminal record that makes him ineligible to possess or transport a firearm under state or federal law. This statement of ineligibility shall then be communicated by the dealer to the prospective purchaser in a discrete and confidential manner, recognizing the individual's rights to the privacy of this information.

H. In any circumstance in which the Department must return the dealer's telephone call, whether due to electronic or other failure or in order to allow a further search, the dealer shall await the Department's call and make no transfer of a firearm to the individual whose record is being checked until:

1. The dealer receives notification of approval of the transfer by telephone from the Department; or

2. The Department fails to disapprove the transaction of the prospective purchaser before the end of the next business day.

3. Exception: If the Department knows at the time of the dealer's telephone call that it will not be able to respond to the request by the end of the dealer's next business day, it will so notify the dealer. Upon receiving notification, the dealer shall note in a clear and visible manner on the VFTR that the Department was unable to respond. The dealer may in such cases complete the transfer immediately after his telephone call.

I. In the event that the Department is unable to immediately respond to the dealers' request for a criminal history record check and the prospective purchaser is also unable to await the Department's response to the dealer's request and the Department ultimately approves of the transfer, the dealer may transfer any firearm or firearms, as listed on the VFTR form that initiated the request for a record check, to the prospective purchaser, after the receipt of the approval of the transfer from the Department. The actual transfer of the firearm shall be accomplished in a timely manner. A second record check shall not be required provided that the actual transfer of the firearm occurs within a time period specified by the Department.

J. If the dealer is notified by the Department that the prospective purchaser is not eligible to possess or transport a firearm or firearms under state or federal law, and the transfer is disapproved, and if he is so notified before the end of the next business day after his accepted telephone request, the dealer shall not complete the transfer.

K. Within 24 hours of any transfer of a firearm covered by these regulations to a resident of Virginia on the basis of a telephone inquiry, the dealer shall send by mail or shall deliver to the Department the appropriate copies of the VFTR other than the original, with Sections A and B properly completed. No information on the type, caliber, serial number, or characteristics of the firearms transferred shall be noted on the copies of the VFTR submitted to the Department, but the forms shall otherwise be complete. The dealer shall note the date of mailing on the form, or shall have the form date stamped or receive a dated receipt if the dealer delivers the form.

L. AFTER SALE CHECK.

1. Following the receipt of the required copies of a completed VFTR form recording a transfer to a Virginia resident, the Department shall immediately initiate a search of all data bases in order to verify that the purchaser was eligible to possess or transport the firearm(s) under state or federal law.

2. If the search discloses that the purchaser is ineligible to possess or transport a firearm, the Department shall inform the chief law-enforcement officer in the jurisdiction where the transfer occurred and the dealer of the purchaser's ineligibility without delay. The Department shall mark "disapproved" on a copy of the VFTR submitted by the dealer after the transfer and return the form by mail to the dealer.

§ 2.6. PROCEDURES FOR REQUESTING A CRIMINAL HISTORY RECORD CHECK BY MAIL (REQUIRED FOR ALL NON-VIRGINIA RESIDENTS).

A. All transfers of firearms to non-Virginia residents require a written request for a record check. For non-Virginia residents, a criminal history record check for firearm transfer cannot be conducted by telephone. However, at the request of a Virginia resident, a dealer may request a record check by mail for any firearm transfer. In either case, the dealer shall follow the procedures as set forth below.

B. If a prospective purchaser is not a resident of Virginia or cannot supply sufficient information to establish or verify residency, the dealer shall obtain a record check by mailing or delivering a completed VFTR form to the Department.

C. The dealer shall mail or deliver to the Department the appropriate copies of the completed VFTR form according to procedures established by the Department (which shall not describe, list, or note the actual firearms to be transferred) within 24 hours of the prospective purchaser's signing and dating of the consent paragraph in Section A of the VFTR form. This shall be evidenced by the dealer's notation of the mailing date on the VFTR, if mailed, or the date stamp of the Department on the VFTR form or a receipt provided to the deliverer, if delivered. The original of the completed VFTR form shall be retained at the dealer's place of business.

D. The Department will initiate a search only upon receipt of the appropriate copies of the VFTR form at Department headquarters. The Department may challenge and refuse to accept any VFTR form if there is an unreasonable, extended time period between the date of the mailing and the date of the receipt of the copies of the form at the Department.

E. Following its search of Virginia and national criminal history record indexes and files, the Department will return to the dealer a copy of the VFTR form, marked "approved," or "not approved". When a dealer receives approval, he may transfer any firearm or firearms, as listed on the VFTR form that initiated the request for a record check, to the prospective purchaser, after his receipt of the approval. The actual transfer of the firearm shall be accomplished in a timely manner. A second record check shall not be required provided that the actual transfer of the firearm occurs within a time period specified by the Department. If the transfer is disapproved, he is not authorized to transfer any firearm to the prospective purchaser.

F. In the case of written requests for a criminal history record check, initiated by the submission of VFTR forms, the dealer shall wait up to 10 days after the mailing date (noted on the form) or delivery date stamp (if not mailed) of the request for written approval from the Department, prior to transferring a firearm as defined herein.

G. However, if 10 days elapse from the date the VFTR form was mailed (as noted on the VFTR form) or delivered to the Department of State Police (as indicated by the date stamped by the Department), and the Department has not responded to the request initiated by the form by approving or disapproving the transaction proposed, the dealer may complete the transfer to the prospective purchaser on his next business day, after the tenth day, or thereafter, and not be in violation of the law or these regulations. After completion of the transfer in this case, as in all cases, any new or further transfer of firearms not listed on the VFTR form that initiated the request for a records check to the same purchaser will require a new criminal history records check.

§ 2.7. PROPER USE OF THE COMPONENTS OF THE CRIMINAL HISTORY RECORD CHECK SYSTEM: FORMS, RECORDS, TOLL-FREE TELEPHONE NUMBER AND DIN.

A. The VFTR forms will be provided to the dealer by the Department. VFTR forms shall not be transferred from one dealer to another. All VFTR forms partially completed, torn, defaced or otherwise rendered unusable shall be marked "VOID" and disposed of in a manner which will not allow their reuse. All unused forms shall remain the property of the Department of State Police and shall be returned to the Department in the event that a dealer ceases to engage in the transfer of firearms in a manner which is regulated by the Department of Criminal Justice Services.

B. The dealer will retain the original of the VFTR form for his own files.

C. The dealer shall keep all blank and completed VFTR originals, and all returned copies in a secure area, which will restrict access to the information contained on the VFTR forms to authorized employees only.

D. The Department shall retain a copy of all VFTR forms received from dealers according to the procedures outlined below.

REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE PRIVACY AND SECURITY OF CRIMINAL HISTORY RECORD INFORMATION CHECKS FOR FIREARM PURCHASE

a. APPROVED TRANSFERS: Thirty days after the Department has notified the dealer of an approved transfer, the Department shall destroy the VFTR form still in its possession and all identifiable information collected pertaining to a prospective purchaser.

b. DISAPPROVED TRANSFERS: VFTR forms recording a transfer that was not approved shall be maintained by the Department in a separate file, maintained by name of the prospective purchaser.

(1) The information contained in these forms shall be used by the Department for legitimate law enforcement purposes only, and shall be governed by existing regulations concerning the privacy and security of criminal history record information.

(2) The Department may maintain any other printouts or reports with these copies of the VFTR form, provided they are treated as criminal history record information.

E. The Department of State Police shall maintain a running log of all requests for criminal history record information checks for firearms transfer, which shall include the following:

1. DIN and name of requester;
2. Dealer's Transaction Number;
3. Approval Code Number, if sale is approved;
4. Date of telephone request or mailing or delivery date of mail request;
5. Notation of type of record request - either telephone or mail request;
6. Approved or Not Approved status; and
7. Date of clearance from Department file through mailing of VFTR form to the dealer or other final action.

F. A log shall be retained at the Department on each request which leads to approvals of firearm transfers for 12 months from the date of each request.

G. Requests which lead to disapprovals shall be maintained by the Department on a log for a period of two years from the date the request was accepted by the Department for processing.

H. The Department shall monitor and distribute all VFTR forms in an appropriate manner to ensure their proper control and use. This includes designing, redesigning, numbering, distributing, tracking, and processing all VFTR forms.

I. No dealer shall provide his DIN or the toll-free number to another party for any reason.

J. The DIN's and the toll-free number may be changed periodically to ensure that these numbers are not improperly used by unauthorized dealers or unauthorized parties.

§ 2.8. AUDITS.

A. The Department of State Police shall continuously observe compliance with requirements regarding VFTR form completion, notification of the Department of State Police following firearm transfers, forms management and storage, and confidentiality and proper use of the DIN and the toll-free telephone number for Virginia resident telephone record checks.

B. The Department of State Police shall notify the Department of Criminal Justice Services if a dealer has used or may have used the criminal history record information check system improperly in a manner that may jeopardize the confidentiality and security of criminal history record information systems.

C. Upon such notification, the Department of Criminal Justice Services shall audit the dealership in question and recommend corrective action without delay.

1. Pending the outcome of an audit, the Department may invalidate a particular DIN to ensure the continuous integrity of the criminal history record information. Prior to such invalidation, the Department shall notify the dealer orally, telephonically or in writing of the reasons for such invalidation and allow the dealer the opportunity to respond. The Department shall also notify the Department of Criminal Justice Services when a DIN has been invalidated.

2. Should the results of an audit reveal that the provisions of these regulations have not been violated, the Department of Criminal Justice Services shall advise the Department to immediately reinstate the invalidated DIN.

3. Should the results of an audit reveal minor violations of the provisions of these regulations, the Department of Criminal Justice Services may notify the Department to monitor all future requests of the dealer for criminal history record checks for a period not to exceed ninety days. In the event that the DIN of the dealer has been invalidated, the Department of Criminal Justice Services shall also notify the Department to reinstate the invalidated DIN. Any additional violations that may occur during this time period shall be reported to the Department of Criminal Justice Services. Occurrences of additional violations shall invoke the provisions of these regulations for the handling of major or repeated violations, as outlined below, and may result in a subsequent audit of the dealer.

4. Should the results of an audit reveal major or repeated violations of the provisions of these regulations, the Department of Criminal Justice Services shall advise the Department to invalidate the DIN if not invalidated previously and that the invalidated DIN should not be reinstated until the dealer submits a written request to the Department of Criminal Justice Services for reinstatement of the DIN. The request shall demonstrate to the reasonable satisfaction of the Department of Criminal Justice Services that corrective action has been taken by the dealer to comply with the provisions of these regulations.

5. Should the results of an audit reveal that the privacy and security of criminal history record information has been compromised, the Department of Criminal Justice Services shall send written notification to the dealer, the office of the local commonwealth's attorney and the Department.

D. The Department of Criminal Justice Services shall annually audit the Department of State Police to ensure the following:

1. That records, VFTR's and other materials, except for the maintenance of the log as outlined above, on purchasers found to be eligible to possess or transport firearms (approved) are being routinely destroyed 30 days from the notification, mailing or delivery date of the accepted request for a records check; and

2. That VFTR's and other materials gathered on persons found to be ineligible to purchase a firearm (disapproved) are governed by the regulations for criminal history record information.

3. That logs recording the approvals and disapprovals of firearm transfers are being correctly maintained according to the provisions of these regulations.

If the court finds the offender meets the tests prescribed in subsection (2) of this section, the court may clear the record of conviction by: (a) Permitting the offender to withdraw the offender's plea of guilty and to enter a plea of not guilty; or (b) if the offender has been convicted after a plea of not guilty, by the court setting aside the verdict of guilty; and (c) by the court dismissing the information or indictment against the offender.

(2) An offender may not have the record of conviction cleared if: (a) There are any criminal charges against the offender pending in any court of this state or another state, or in any federal court; (b) the offense was a violent offense as defined in RCW 9.94A.030; (c) the offense was a crime against persons as defined in RCW 43.43.830; (d) the offender has been convicted of a new crime in this state, another state, or federal court since the date of the offender's discharge under RCW 9.94A-.220; (e) the offense is a class B felony and less than ten years have passed since the date the applicant was discharged under RCW 9.94A.220; and (f) the offense was a class C felony and less than five years have passed since the date the applicant was discharged under RCW 9.94A.220.

(3) Once the court vacates a record of conviction under subsection (1) of this section, the fact that the offender has been convicted of the offense shall not be included in the offender's criminal history for purposes of determining a sentence in any subsequent conviction, and the offender shall be released from all penalties and disabilities resulting from the offense. For all purposes, including responding to questions on employment applications, an offender whose conviction has been vacated may state that the offender has never been convicted of that crime. Nothing in this section affects or prevents the use of an offender's prior conviction in a later criminal prosecution. [1987 c 486 § 7; 1981 c 137 § 23.]

10.97.020 Short title

This chapter may be cited as the Washington State Criminal Records Privacy Act.

Added by Laws 1977, Ex.Sess., ch. 314, § 2.

10.97.030 Definitions. For purposes of this chapter, definitions of terms in this section shall apply.

(1) "Criminal history record information" means information contained in records collected by criminal justice agencies, other than courts, on individuals, consisting of identifiable descriptions and notations of arrests, detentions, indictments, informations, or other formal criminal charges, and any disposition arising therefrom, including sentences, correctional supervision, and release. The term includes information contained in records maintained by or obtained from criminal justice agencies, other than courts, which records provide individual identification of a person together with any portion of the individual's record of involvement in the criminal justice system as an alleged or convicted offender, except:

(a) Posters, announcements, or lists for identifying or apprehending fugitives or wanted persons;

(b) Original records of entry maintained by criminal justice agencies to the extent that such records are compiled and maintained chronologically and are accessible only on a chronological basis;

(c) Court indices and records of public judicial proceedings, court decisions, and opinions, and information disclosed during public judicial proceedings;

(d) Records of traffic violations which are not punishable by a maximum term of imprisonment of more than ninety days;

(e) Records of any traffic offenses as maintained by the department of licensing for the purpose of regulating the issuance, suspension, revocation, or renewal of drivers' or other operators' licenses and pursuant to RCW 46.52.130 as now existing or hereafter amended;

(f) Records of any aviation violations or offenses as maintained by the department of transportation for the purpose of regulating pilots or other aviation operators, and pursuant to RCW 47.68.330 as now existing or hereafter amended;

(g) Announcements of executive clemency.

(2) "Nonconviction data" consists of all criminal history record information relating to an incident which has not led to a conviction or other disposition adverse to the subject, and for which proceedings are no longer actively pending. There shall be a rebuttable presumption that proceedings are no longer actively pending if more than one year has elapsed since arrest, citation, or service of warrant and no disposition has been entered.

(3) "Conviction record" means criminal history record information relating to an incident which has led to a conviction or other disposition adverse to the subject.

No criminal justice agency shall disseminate criminal history record information which shall include information concerning a felony or gross misdemeanor without first making inquiry of the identification section of the Washington state patrol for the purpose of obtaining the most current and complete information available, unless one or more of the following circumstances exists:

Added by Laws 1979, Ex.Sess., ch. 36, § 6.

10.97.060 Deletion of certain information, conditions

Criminal history record information which consists of nonconviction data only shall be subject to deletion from criminal justice agency files which are available and generally searched for the purpose of responding to inquiries concerning the criminal history of a named or otherwise identified individual when two years or longer have elapsed since the record became nonconviction data as a result of the entry of a disposition favorable to the defendant, or upon the passage of three years from the date of arrest or issuance of a citation or warrant for an offense for which a conviction was not obtained unless the defendant is a fugitive, or the case is under active prosecution according to a current certification made by the prosecuting attorney.

Such criminal history record information consisting of non-conviction data shall be deleted upon the request of the person who is the subject of the record: Provided, however, That the criminal justice agency maintaining the data may, at its option, refuse to make the deletion if:

(1) The disposition was a deferred prosecution or similar diversion of the alleged offender;

(2) The person who is the subject of the record has had a prior conviction for a felony or gross misdemeanor;

(3) The individual who is the subject of the record has been arrested for or charged with another crime during the intervening period.

Such disclosure may be made without regard to whether the suspected offender is an adult or a juvenile, whether charges have or have not been filed, or a prosecuting authority has declined to file a charge or a charge has been dismissed.

(2) The disclosure by a criminal justice agency of investigative information pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall not establish a duty to disclose any additional information concerning the same incident or make any subsequent disclosure of investigative information, except to the extent an additional disclosure is compelled by legal process.

Added by Laws 1977, Ex.Sess., ch. 314, § 7.

10.97.080 Inspection of information by subject — Limitations — Rules governing — Challenge of records and correction of information — Dissemination of corrected information

The individual's right to access and review of criminal history record information shall not extend to data contained in intelligence, investigative, or other related files, and shall not be construed to include any information other than that defined as criminal history record information by this chapter.

Every criminal justice agency shall adopt rules and make available forms to facilitate the inspection and review of criminal history record information by the subjects thereof, which rules may include requirements for identification, the establishment of reasonable periods of time to be allowed an individual to examine the record, and for assistance by an individual's counsel, interpreter, or other appropriate persons.

No person shall be allowed to retain or mechanically reproduce any nonconviction data except for the purpose of challenge or correction when the person who is the subject of the record asserts the belief in writing that the information regarding such person is inaccurate or incomplete. The provisions of chapter 42.17 RCW shall not be construed to require or authorize copying of nonconviction data for any other purpose.

The Washington state patrol shall establish rules for the challenge of records which an individual declares to be inaccurate or incomplete, and for the resolution of any disputes between individuals and criminal justice agencies pertaining to he accuracy and completeness of criminal history record information. The Washington state patrol shall also adopt rules for the correction of criminal history record information and the dissemination of corrected information to agencies and persons to whom inaccurate or incomplete information was previously disseminated. Such rules may establish time limitations of not less than ninety days upon the requirement for disseminating corrected information.

Any person may maintain an action to enjoin a continuance of any act or acts in violation of any of the provisions of this chapter, and if injured thereby, for the recovery of damages and for the recovery of reasonable attorneys' fees. If, in such action, the court shall find that the defendant is violating or has violated any of the provisions of this chapter, it shall enjoin the defendant from a continuance thereof, and it shall not be necessary that actual damages to the plaintiff be alleged or proved. In addition to such injunctive relief, the plaintiff in said action shall be entitled to recover from the defendant the amount of the actual damages, if any, sustained by him if actual damages to the plaintiff are alleged and proved. In any suit brought to enjoin a violation of this chapter, the prevailing party may be awarded reasonable attorneys' fees, including fees incurred upon appeal. Commencement, pendency, or conclusion of a civil action for injunction or damages shall not affect the liability of a person or agency to criminal prosecution for a violation of this chapter.

Any criminal prosecution shall not affect the right of any person to bring a civil action as authorized by this chapter or otherwise authorized by law.

Written capacity to act on behalf of the victim may be required by the agency. Chapter 446-30 WAC
DISPOSITION OF VEHICLES SEIZED FOR ALTERED VEHICLE IDENTIFICATION NUMBERS--HEARINGS

WASHINGTON

446-30-020 Definitions.
446-30-030 Hearing officer.
446-30-040 Procedure.
446-30-050 Burden of proof.
446-30-060 Record.
446-30-070 Appeal.

WAC 446-30-010 Purpose. The purpose of this regulation is to provide administrative rules and standards for hearings conducted pursuant to chapter 124, Laws of 1974 1st ex. sess. (RCW 9.54.030(3)) relating to the disposition of motor vehicles, motorcycles, motor-driven cycles, trailers, vessels, motorboats, or component parts thereof impounded by the Washington state patrol.

[Order II, § 446-30-010, filed 11/22/74.]

WAC 446-30-020 Definitions. (1) The term "aggregate value" of an article or articles whose ownership is in question shall be the current market value of the article as determined by procedures set out in WAC 446-30-040(2) as of the time of the proposed disposition.

(2) The term "interested party" or "party in interest" is defined as a party claiming ownership or a right to possession of the article involved.

(3) The term "article" shall encompass the plural "articles" and includes motor vehicles, motorcycles, motor-driven cycles, trailers, vessels, motorboats, or component parts thereof.

[Order II, § 446-30-020, filed 11/22/74.]

WAC 446-30-030 Hearing officer. The hearing shall be conducted by a person appointed by the chief of the Washington state patrol. The hearing shall be conducted at a place within the state designated by the hearing officer who shall consider the convenience of the witnesses involved in the hearing, and the convenience of the parties in interest. The hearing officer, after having heard evidence submitted to him and having conducted a hearing in accordance with this chapter and chapter 446-08 WAC, shall decide whether a party in interest has presented a claim of ownership or right to possession of the article involved sufficient to award possession of the article to the party. If so, he shall order the article released to such party.

[Order II, § 446-30-030, filed 11/22/74.]

WAC 446-30-040 Procedure. Insofar as it is applicable, (1) Chapter 446-08 WAC, shall govern hearing procedure, and the service of notice of the hearing upon the person who held possession or custody of the article when it was impounded, and upon any other person who, prior to final disposition, notifies Headquarters, Washington state patrol, in writing of a claim of ownership or lawful right to possession thereof.

(2) In accordance with chapter 124, Laws of 1974 1st ex. sess. (RCW 9.54.030(3)), any person claiming ownership or right of possession hereunder may remove the matter to a court of competent jurisdiction if the aggregate value of the article involved is one hundred dollars or more. If the article involved is a component part or parts of a vehicle, then the right to remove the matter to a court of competent jurisdiction shall be conditioned on the component part or parts having an aggregate value

(d) In the event the fishing boat with respect to which an exemption is claimed is of a type used in the waters of Puget Sound or the Columbia River and the tributaries thereof, and is not practical for use in deep sea fishing, sellers should collect the retail sales tax upon all sales of such boats and component parts thereof and upon charges made for the repair of the same.

(e) It is a gross misdemeanor for a buyer to make a false certificate of exemption for the purpose of avoiding the tax.

(5) USE TAX.

(a) The use tax does not apply upon the use of watercraft or component parts thereof.

(b) The use tax does apply upon the actual use within this state of all other types of tangible personal property purchased at retail and upon which the sales tax has not been paid (see WAC 458-20-178) except on diesel fuel as noted below.

(6) DIESEL FUEL.

(a) The law provides for sales and use tax exemptions on diesel fuel for both commercial passenger fishing (charter boats for sport fishing) and commercial deep sea fishing operations.

(b) Neither retail sales nor use tax applies with respect to sales or use of diesel fuel in the operation of watercraft in commercial deep sea fishing operations or commercial passenger fishing operations by persons who are regularly engaged in the business of such operations outside the territorial waters (three-mile limit) of this state. For purposes of this exemption a person is not regularly engaged in either business if the person has gross receipts from the extra territorial operations of less than five thousand dollars a year. For persons involved in both commercial deep sea fishing operations and commercial passenger fishing operations, the receipts from both shall be added together to determine eligibility for this exemption.

(c) This exemption is plenary in scope and it is not required that all of the diesel fuel purchased be used outside of the territorial waters of this state. If a person qualifies for the exemptions by virtue of operating a deep sea fishing vessel, and has the requisite amount of gross receipts from that activity, all diesel fuel purchases and uses by such person for such vessel are tax exempt.

(d) DIESEL FUEL EXEMPTION CERTIFICATES REQUIRED. Persons selling diesel fuel to such persons are required to obtain from the purchaser a certificate evidencing the exempt nature of the transaction. This certificate must identify the purchaser by name and address, and by the registered name and number of the watercraft with respect to which the purchase is made. It must contain a statement to the effect that the diesel fuel is for use by a person who is engaged in commercial deep sea fishing and/or commercial passenger fishing operations who has annual gross receipts therefrom of at least five thousand dollars. Blanket certificates covering all diesel fuel purchases for specified watercraft may be used, where appropriate. A seller of diesel fuel who accepts such a certificate in good faith shall not be liable for sales tax on the diesel fuel sold. Certificates must be retained by the sellers in their permanent records as evidence of the exempt nature of diesel sales to eligible buyers. It is a gross misdemeanor for a buyer to make a false certificate of exemption for the purpose of avoiding the tax.

(e) The certificate should be in substantially the following form:

DIESEL FUEL EXEMPTION CERTIFICATE

I HEREBY CERTIFY that diesel fuel which I will purchase from (name of dealer) will be used in the operation of a watercraft which is used in commercial deep sea or commercial passenger fishing operations outside the territorial waters of the state of Washington; that the registered name and number of the watercraft to which said purchase applies is (registered vessel name and number); that the owner(s) of said vessel has gross income, based on federal income tax returns, of not less than five thousand dollars a year from such extra territorial fishing operations; and that said sales are entitled to exemption under the provisions of chapter 494, Laws of 1987.

PROPOSED RULES
STATE PATROL
[Filed January 19, 1988]

Notice is hereby given in accordance with the provisions of RCW 34.04.025, that the Washington State Patrol intends to adopt, amend, or repeal rules concerning Washington State Patrol criminal records, implementing chapter 486, Laws of 1987, codified as RCW 43.43.838; that the agency will at 1:30 p.m., Friday, February 26, 1988, in the DSHS Auditorium, Office Building #2, 12th and Adams Streets, Olympia, Washington, conduct a public hearing on the proposed rules.

The formal decision regarding adoption, amendment, or repeal of the rules will take place on March 17, 1988.

The authority under which these rules are proposed is section 5, chapter 486, Laws of 1987, codified as RCW 43.43.838(5).

The specific statute these rules are intended to implement is RCW 43.43.838.

Interested persons may submit data, views, or arguments to this agency in writing to be received by this agency before February 26, 1988.

Dated: January 19, 1988

Chief

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

Title: Criminal records; Employment—Conviction records; Child and adult abuse information.

Authority: Section 5, chapter 486, Laws of 1987, codified as RCW 43.43.838, allows the Washington State Patrol to establish fees and adopt rules and forms to provide transcripts of conviction records of certain crimes against persons, of disciplinary board final decisions, and of civil adjudications. The transcripts may be provided to certain businesses and organizations; the State Board of Education; and the Department of Social and Health Services for specified purposes upon written request. These rules conform with the State Criminal Records Privacy Act (chapter 10.97 RCW).

Summary: Adoption of these rules will establish procedures for obtaining certain types of criminal conviction records, disciplinary board final decisions, and civil adjudications. These record checks are to be used only for making an initial employment or engagement decision. The intent of the legislation is to give employers considering the hiring of employees who work with children or developmentally disabled persons adequate information to prevent child and adult abuse.

Agency Personnel Responsible for Drafting: Sergeant James F. Dickerman, Washington State Patrol, Fiscal Office, General Administration Building, AX-12, Olympia, Washington 98504-0612, phone 753-6550; Implementation and Enforcement: Lieutenant Herb E. Howe, Washington State Patrol, Identification Section, P.O. Box 2527, QE-02, Olympia, Washington 98507-2527, phone 753-6827.

Agency Comments: Passage of chapter 486, Laws of 1987, gives employers, for the first time, a prescreening tool to use when considering the hiring of employees who will work with children and developmentally disabled persons. Similar legislation has been enacted by other states and provides a method to reduce abuse of children and developmentally disabled persons.

Government: Second Substitute Senate Bill 5063, chapter 486, Laws of 1987, enacted by the legislature of the state of Washington.

Small Business Economic Impact: Adoption of this act will have a minimal economic impact upon private business in our state. The record checks are optional, with a $10 fee being charged to private business for each request. Nonprofit organizations, school districts, and educational service districts are exempt from this fee. The only mandatory record check is by the State Board of Education upon initial application for certification. This mandatory record check is at the applicant's expense.

Request for criminal history record information forms and optional applicant fingerprint cards are provided at no cost by the State Patrol. The employer is required to provide a copy of the record check to the prospective employee (minimal cost of photocopying and mailing is estimated at 50 cents per applicant). The act allows dissemination of this information to businesses or organizations licensed in this state, any agency of the state, or other governmental entity, that educates, trains, treats, supervises, or provides recreation to developmentally disabled persons or children under 16 years of age, including school districts and educational service districts. Record checks are for initial employment decisions only; an identification certificate is issued by the State Patrol to an applicant who has no record. Possession of such identification shall satisfy future background check requirements for the applicant.

A benefit that may be derived in time by the employer is a reduction in liability insurance costs, if the insurer does not experience a claim related to child abuse due to consistent and conscientious prescreening of prospective employees. Of even greater importance is that persons convicted of crimes against persons may be identified through this check prior to employment, thereby preventing other persons from being abused.

In conclusion, this act does not have an adverse economic impact on business. The increased public safety benefits that may be provided to young persons or developmentally disabled adults in the state of Washington far outweigh the minimal costs associated with implementing this type of record check.

AMENDATORY SECTION (Amending Order 80-2, filed 7/1/80)

WAC 446-20-020 DEFINITIONS. (1) The definitions in RCW 10.97.030 shall apply to these regulations.

(2) "Nonconviction data" has the meaning set forth in RCW 10.97.030(2), but shall not include dismissals following a period of probation, or suspension, or deferral of sentence.

(3) "The administration of criminal justice" has the meaning set forth in RCW 10.97.030(6), but does not include crime prevention activities (if that is the sole function of the program or agency) or criminal defense activities.

(4) The definitions as enumerated in chapter 486, Laws of 1987, "AN ACT Relating to child and adult abuse information", shall apply whenever applicable in these regulations.

NEW SECTION

WAC 446-20-285 EMPLOYMENT—CONVICTION RECORDS; CHILD AND ADULT ABUSE INFORMATION. After January 1, 1988, certain child and adult abuse conviction information will be furnished by the state patrol upon the submission of a written request of any applicant, business or organization, the state board of education, or the department of social and health services. This information will consist of the following:

(1) Certain convictions of crimes against persons;

(2) Department of licensing disciplinary board final decisions of specific findings of physical or sexual abuse or exploitation of a child; and

(3) Civil adjudications of child abuse.

This information will be furnished, consistent with the provisions of chapter 486, Laws of 1987, on an approved Request for Criminal History Information form available from the Washington State Patrol, P. O. Box 2527, Olympia, Washington, 98507-2527. Legible reproductions of this form will be allowable.

The state patrol shall also furnish any similar records maintained by the Federal Bureau of Investigation or records in custody of the National Crime Information Center, if available, subject to their policies and procedures regarding such dissemination.

(a) For positive identification, the Request for Criminal History Information form may be accompanied by fingerprint cards of a type specified by the Washington state patrol identification section, and shall contain a certification by the applicant: the business or organization; the state board of education; or the department of social and health services, that the information is being requested and will be used only for the purposes as enumerated in chapter 486, Laws of 1987.

(b) The business or organization making such request shall not make an inquiry to the Washington state patrol or an equivalent inquiry to a federal law enforcement agency unless the business or organization has notified the applicant who has been offered a position as an employee or volunteer that an inquiry may be made.

(c) In the absence of fingerprint cards, the applicant may provide a right thumb fingerprint impression in the area provided on the Request for Criminal History Information form. In the event of a possible match, where the applicant's name and date of birth as submitted varies from that of the record contained by the identification section, the right thumb fingerprint impression will be used for identification verification purposes only. An exact name and date of birth match will be required for dissemination of conviction information in the absence of a fingerprint card or thumbprint impression for positive identification or verification of record.

(d) After processing a properly completed Request for Criminal History Information form, if the conviction record, disciplinary board final decision, adjudication record, or equivalent response from a federal law enforcement agency shows no evidence of crimes against persons, an identification declaring the showing of no evidence shall be issued to the applicant by the state patrol within fourteen calendar days of receipt of the request. Possession of such identification shall satisfy future background check requirements for the applicant.

(e) The business or organization shall notify the applicant of the state patrol's response within ten calendar days after receipt by the business or organization. The employer shall provide a copy of the response to the applicant and shall notify the applicant of such availability.

(f) The business or organization shall be immune from civil liability for failure to request background information on a prospective employee or volunteer unless the failure to do so constitutes gross negligence.

CHAPTER 29B.

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION.

ARTICLE 1.

Sec.
29B-1-1. Declaration of policy.
29B-1-2. Definitions.
29B-1-3. Inspection and copying.
29B-1-4. Exemptions.
29B-1-5. Enforcement.

§ 29B-1-1. Declaration of policy.

Pursuant to the fundamental philosophy of the American constitutional form of representative government which holds to the principle that government is the servant of the people, and not the master of them, it is hereby declared to be the public policy of the State of West Virginia that all persons are, unless otherwise expressly provided by law, entitled to full and complete information regarding the affairs of government and the official acts of those who represent them as public officials and employees. The people, in delegating authority, do not give their public servants the right to decide what is good for the people to know and what is not good for them to know. The people insist on remaining informed so that they may retain control over the instruments of government they have created. To that end, the provisions of this article shall be liberally construed with the view of carrying out the above declaration of public policy. (1977, c. 147.)

§ 29B-1-2. Definitions.

As used in this article:

(1) "Custodian" means the elected or appointed official charged with administering a public body.

(2) "Person" includes any natural person, corporation, partnership, firm or association.

(3) "Public body" means every state officer, agency, department, including the executive, legislative and judicial departments, division, bureau, board and commission; every county and city governing body, school district, special district, municipal corporation, and any board, department, commission, council or agency thereof; and any other body which is created by state or local authority or which is primarily funded by the state or local authority.

(4) "Public record" includes any writing containing information relating to the conduct of the public's business, prepared, owned and retained by a public body.

(5) "Writing" includes any books, papers, maps, photographs, cards, tapes, recordings or other documentary materials regardless of physical form or characteristics. (1977, c. 147.)

§ 29B-1-3. Inspection and copying.

(1) Every person has a right to inspect or copy any public record of a public body in this State, except as otherwise expressly provided by section four [§ 29B-1-4] of this article.

(2) A request to inspect or copy any public record of a public body shall be made directly to the custodian of such public record.

(3) The custodian of any public records, unless otherwise expressly provided by statute, shall furnish proper and reasonable opportunities for inspection and examination of the records in his office and reasonable facilities for making memoranda or abstracts therefrom, during the usual business hours, to all persons having occasion to make examination of them. The custodian of the records may make reasonable rules and regulations necessary for the protection of the records and to prevent interference with the regular discharge of his duties.

(4) All requests for information must state with reasonable specificity the information sought. The custodian, upon demand for records made under this statute, shall as soon as is practicable but within a maximum of five days not including Saturdays, Sundays or legal holidays.

(a) Furnish copies of the requested information;

(b) Advise the person making the request of the time and place at which he may inspect and copy the materials; or

(c) Deny the request stating in writing the reasons for such denial.

Such a denial shall indicate that the responsibility of the custodian of any public records or public body to produce the requested records or documents is at an end, and shall afford the person requesting them the opportunity to institute proceedings for injunctive or declaratory relief in the circuit court in the county where the public record is kept.

(5) The public body may establish fees reasonably calculated to reimburse it for its actual cost in making reproductions of such records. (1977, c. 147.)

§ 29B-1-4. Exemptions.

The following categories of information are specifically exempt from disclosure under the provisions of this article:

(1) Trade secrets, as used in this section, which may include, but are not limited to, any formula, plan pattern, process, tool, mechanism, compound, procedure, production data, or compilation of information which is not patented which is known only to certain individuals within a commercial concern who are using it to fabricate, produce or compound an article or trade or a service or to locate minerals or other substances, having commercial value, and which gives its users an opportunity to obtain business advantage over competitors;

(2) Information of a personal nature such as that kept in a personal, medical or similar file, if the public disclosure thereof would constitute an unreasonable invasion of privacy, unless the public interest by clear and convincing evidence requires disclosure in the particular instance: Provided, that nothing in this article shall be construed as precluding an individual from inspecting or copying his own personal, medical or similar file;

(3) Test questions, scoring keys and other examination data used to administer a licensing examination, examination for employment or academic examination;

(4) Records of law-enforcement agencies that deal with the detection and investigation of crime and the internal records and notations of such law-enforcement agencies which are maintained for internal use in matters relating to law enforcement;

(5) Information specifically exempted from disclosure by statute;

(6) Records, archives, documents or manuscripts describing the location of undeveloped historic, prehistoric, archaeological, paleontological and battlefield sites or constituting gifts to any public body upon which the donor has attached restrictions on usage or the handling of which could irreparably damage such record, archive, document or manuscript;

(7) Information contained in or related to examination, operating or condition reports prepared by, or on behalf of, or for the use of any agency responsible for the regulation or supervision of financial institutions, except those reports which are by law required to be published in newspapers; and

(8) Internal memoranda or letters received or prepared by any public body. (1977, c. 147.)

§ 29B-1-5. Enforcement.

(1) Any person denied the right to inspect the public record of a public body may institute proceedings for injunctive or declaratory relief in the circuit court in the county where the public record is kept.

(2) In any suit filed under subsection one of this section, the court has jurisdiction to enjoin the custodian or public body from withholding records and to order the production of any records improperly withheld from the person seeking disclosure. The court shall determine the matter de novo and the burden is on the public body to sustain its action. The court, on its own motion, may view the documents in controversy in camera before reaching a decision. Any custodian of any public records of the public body found to be in noncompliance with the order of the court to produce the documents or disclose the information sought, may be punished as being in contempt of court.

(3) Except as to causes the court considers of greater importance, proceedings arising under subsection one of this section shall be assigned for hearing and trial at the earliest practicable date. (1977, c. 147.)

§ 29B-1-6. Violation of article; penalties.

Any custodian of any public records who shall willfully violate the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail for not more than ten days, or, in the discretion of the court, by both such fine and imprisonment. (1977, c. 147.)

Further, providing persons with such information is declared to be an essential function of a representative government and an integral part of the routine duties of officers and employes whose responsibility it is to provide such information. To that end, ss. 19.32 to 19.37 shall be construed in every instance with a presumption of complete public access, consistent with the conduct of governmental business. "Record" does not include drafts, notes, preliminary computations and like materials prepared for the originator's personal use or prepared by the originator in the name of a person for whom the originator is working; materials which are purely the personal property of the custodian and have no relation to his or her office; materials to which access is limited by copyright, patent or bequest; and published materials in the possession of an authority other than a public library which are available for sale, or which are available for inspection at a public library.

(3) "Requester" means any person who requests inspection or copies of a record.

Each authority shall provide the name of the legal custodian and a description of the nature of his or her duties under this subchapter to all employes of the authority entrusted with records subject to the legal custodian's supervision.

(5) Notwithstanding sub. (4), if an authority specified in sub. (4) or the members of such an authority are appointed by another authority, the appointing authority may designate a legal custodian for records of the authority or members of the authority appointed by the appointing authority, except that if such an authority is attached for administrative purposes to another authority, the authority performing administrative duties shall designate the legal custodian for the authority for whom administrative duties are performed.

(6) The legal custodian of records maintained in a publicly owned or leased building or the authority appointing the legal custodian shall designate one or more deputies to act as legal custodian of such records in his or her absence or as otherwise required to respond to requests as provided in s. 19.35 (4). This subsection does not apply to members of the legislature or to members of any local governmental body.

(7) The designation of a legal custodian does not affect the powers and duties of an authority under this subchapter.

(8) No elected official of a legislative body has a duty to act as or designate a legal custodian under sub. (4) for the records of any committee of the body unless the official is the highest ranking officer or chief administrative officer of the committee or is designated the legal custodian of the committee's records by rule or by law.

19.34 Procedural information (1) Each authority shall adopt, prominently display and make available for inspection and copying at its offices, for the guidance of the public, a notice containing a description of its organization and the established times and places at which, the legal custodian under s. 19.33 from whom, and the methods whereby, the public may obtain information and access to records in its custody, make requests for records, or obtain copies of records, and the costs thereof. This subsection does not apply to members of the legislature or to members of any local governmental body.

(2) (a) Each authority which maintains regular office hours at the location where records in the custody of the authority are kept shall permit access to the records of the authority at all times during those office hours, unless otherwise specifically authorized by law.

(b) Each authority which does not maintain regular office hours at the location where records in the custody of the authority are kept shall:

1. Permit access to its records upon at least 48 hours' written or oral notice of intent to inspect or copy a record; or

2. Establish a period of at least 2 consecutive hours per week during which access to the records of the authority is permitted. In such case, the authority may require 24 hours' advance written or oral notice of intent to inspect or copy a record.

(c) An authority imposing a notice requirement under par. (b) shall include a statement of the requirement in its notice under sub. (1), if the authority is required to adopt a notice under that subsection.

(d) If a record of an authority is occasionally taken to a location other than the location where records of the authority are regularly kept, and the record may be inspected at the place at which records of the authority are regularly kept upon one business day's notice, the authority or legal custodian of the record need not provide access to the record at the occasional location.

19.35 Access to records; fees. (1) RIGHT TO INSPECTION. (a) Except as otherwise provided by law, any requester has a right to inspect any record. Substantive common law principles construing the right to inspect, copy or receive copies of records shall remain in effect. The exemptions to the requirement of a governmental body to meet in open session under s. 19.85 are indicative of public policy, but may be used as grounds for denying public access to a record only if the authority or legal custodian under s. 19.33 makes a specific demonstration that there is a need to restrict public access at the time that the request to inspect or copy the record is made.

(b) Except as otherwise provided by law, any requester has a right to inspect a record and to make or receive a copy of a record which appears in written form. If a requester requests a copy of the record, the authority having custody of the record may, at its option, permit the requester to photocopy the record or provide the requester with a copy substantially as readable as the original.

(c) Except as otherwise provided by law, any requester has a right to receive from an authority having custody of a record which is in the form of a comprehensible audio tape recording a copy of the tape recording substantially as audible as the original. The authority may instead provide a transcript of the recording to the requester if he or she requests.

(d) Except as otherwise provided by law, any requester has a right to receive from an authority having custody of a record which is in the form of a video tape recording a copy of the tape recording substantially as good as the original.

(e) Except as otherwise provided by law, any requester has a right to receive from an authority having custody of a record which is not in a readily comprehensible form a copy of the information contained in the record assembled and reduced to written form on paper.

(f) Except as otherwise provided by law, any requester has a right to inspect any record not specified in pars. (b) to (e) the form of which does not permit copying. If a requester requests permission to photograph the record, the authority having custody of the record may permit the requester to photograph the record. If a requester requests that a photograph of the record be provided, the authority shall provide a good quality photograph of the record.

(g) Paragraphs (a) to (c), (e) and (f) do not apply to a record which has been or will be promptly published with copies offered for sale or distribution.

(h) A request under pars. (a) to (f) is deemed sufficient if it reasonably describes the requested record or the information requested. However, a request for a record without a reasonable limitation as to subject matter or length of time represented by the record does not constitute a sufficient request. A request may be made orally, but a request must be in writing before an action to enforce the request is commenced under s. 19.37.

(i) Except as authorized under this paragraph, no request under pars. (a) to (f) may be refused because the person making the request is unwilling to be identified or to state the purpose of the request. Except as authorized under this paragraph, no request under pars. (a) to (f) may be refused because the request is received by mail, unless prepayment of a fee is required under sub. (3) (f). A requester may be required to show acceptable identification whenever the requested record is kept at a private residence or whenever security reasons or federal law or regulations so require.

(j) Notwithstanding pars. (a) to (f), a requester shall comply with any regulations or restrictions upon access to or use of information which are specifically prescribed by law.

(k) Notwithstanding pars. (a), (b) and (f), a legal custodian may impose reasonable restrictions on the manner of access to an original record if the record is irreplaceable or easily damaged.

(L) Except as necessary to comply with pars. (c) to (e) or s. 19.36 (6), this subsection does not require an authority to create a new record by extracting information from existing records and compiling the information in a new format.

(2) FACILITIES. The authority shall provide any person who is authorized to inspect or copy a record under sub. (1) (a), (b) or (f) with facilities comparable to those used by its employes to inspect, copy and abstract the record during established office hours. An authority is not required by this subsection to purchase or lease photocopying, duplicating, photographic or other equipment or to provide a separate room for the inspection, copying or abstracting of records.

(3) FEES. (a) An authority may impose a fee upon the requester of a copy of a record which may not exceed the actual, necessary and direct cost of reproduction and transcription of the record, unless a fee is otherwise specifically established or authorized to be established by law.

(b) An authority may impose a fee upon the requester of a copy of a record for the actual, necessary and direct cost of photographing and photographic processing if the authority provides a photograph of a record, the form of which does not permit copying.

(c) Except as otherwise provided by law or as authorized to be prescribed by law, an authority may impose a fee upon a requester for locating a record, not exceeding the actual, necessary and direct cost of location, if the cost is $50 or more.

(d) An authority may impose a fee upon a requester for the actual, necessary and direct cost of mailing or shipping of any copy or photograph of a record which is mailed or shipped to the requester.

(e) An authority may provide copies of a record without charge or at a reduced charge where the authority determines that waiver or reduction of the fee is in the public interest.

(f) An authority may require prepayment by a requester of any fee or fees imposed under this subsection if the total amount exceeds $5.

(4) TIME FOR COMPLIANCE AND PROCEDURES. (a) Each authority, upon request for any record, shall, as soon as practicable and without delay, either fill the request or notify the requester of the authority's determination to deny the request in whole or in part and the reasons therefor.

(b) If a request is made orally, the authority may deny the request orally unless a demand for a written statement of the reasons denying the request is made by the requester within 5 business days of the oral denial. If an authority denies a written request in whole or in part, the requester shall receive from the authority a written statement of the reasons for denying the written request. Every written denial of a request by an authority shall inform the requester that if the request for the record was made in writing, then the determination is subject to review upon petition for a writ of mandamus under s. 19.37 (1) or upon application to the attorney general or a district attorney.

(5) RECORD DESTRUCTION. No authority may destroy any record at any time after the receipt of a request for inspection or copying of the record under sub. (1) until after the request is granted or until at least 60 days after the date that the request is denied. If an action is commenced under s. 19.37, the requested record may not be destroyed until after the order of the court in relation to such record is issued and the deadline for appealing that order has passed, or, if appealed, until after the order of the court hearing the appeal is issued. If the court orders the production of any record and the order is not appealed, the requested record may not be destroyed until after the request for inspection or copying is granted.

(6) ELECTED OFFICIAL RESPONSIBILITIES. No elected official is responsible for the record of any other elected official unless he or she has possession of the record of that other official.

19.36 Limitations upon access and withholding. (1) APPLICATION OF OTHER LAWS. Any record which is specifically exempted from disclosure by state or federal law or authorized to be exempted from disclosure by state law is exempt from disclosure under s. 19.35 (1), except that any portion of that record which contains public information is open to public inspection as provided in sub. (6).

(2) LAW ENFORCEMENT RECORDS. Except as otherwise provided by law, whenever federal law or regulations require or as a condition to receipt of aids by this state require that any record relating to investigative information obtained for law enforcement purposes be withheld from public access, then that information is exempt from disclosure under s. 19.35 (1).

(3) CONTRACTORS' RECORDS. Each authority shall make available for inspection and copying under s. 19.35 (1) any record produced or collected under a contract entered into by the authority with a person other than an authority to the same extent as if the record were maintained by the authority.

(4) COMPUTER PROGRAMS AND DATA. A computer program, as defined in s. 16.97 (4) (c), is not subject to examination or copying under s. 19.35 (1), but the material used as input for a computer program or the material produced as a product of the computer program is subject to the right of examination and copying, except as otherwise provided in s. 19.35 or this section.

(5) TRADE SECRETS. An authority may withhold access to any record or portion of a record containing information qualifying as a common law trade secret.

(6) SEPARATION OF INFORMATION. If a record contains information that may be made public and information that may not be made public, the authority having custody of the record shall provide the information that may be made public and delete the information that may not be made public from the record before release.

19.37 Enforcement and penalties (1) MANDAMUS. If an authority withholds a record or a part of a record or delays granting access to a record or part of a record after a written request for disclosure is made, the requester may pursue either, or both, of the alternatives under pars. (a) and (b).

(a) The requester may bring an action for a writ of mandamus asking a court to order release of the record. The court may permit the parties or their attorneys to have access to the requested record under restrictions or protective orders as the court deems appropriate.

(b) The requester may, in writing, request the district attorney of the county where the record is found, or request the attorney general, to bring an action for a writ of mandamus asking a court to order release of the record to the requester. The district attorney or attorney general may bring such an action.

(2) COSTS, FEES AND DAMAGES. The court shall award reasonable attorney fees, damages of not less than $100, and other actual costs to the requester if the requester prevails in whole or in substantial part in any action filed under sub. (1). Costs and fees shall be paid by the authority affected or the unit of government of which it is a part, or by the unit of government by which the legal custodian under s. 19.33 is employed and may not become a personal liability of any public official.

(3) PUNITIVE DAMAGES. If a court finds that an authority or legal custodian under s. 19.33 has arbitrarily and capriciously denied or delayed response to a request or charged excessive fees, the court may award punitive damages to the requester.

(4) PENALTY. Any authority which or legal custodian under s. 19.33 who arbitrarily and capriciously denies or delays response to a request or charges excessive fees may be required to forfeit not more than $1,000. Forfeitures under this section shall be enforced by action on behalf of the state by the attorney general or by the district attorney of any county where a violation occurs. In actions brought by the attorney general, the court shall award any forfeiture recovered together with reasonable costs to the state; and in actions brought by the district attorney, the court shall award any forfeiture recovered together with reasonable costs to the county.
