THE FEDERAL CRIME INSURANCE PROGRAM

Questions and Answers

1. Q. What is the purpose of the Federal Crime Insurance Program?
A. The program was established under Title VI of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1970 which authorizes the Federal Government, as an insurer, to provide crime insurance at an affordable price in any State which after August 1, 1971, has a critical crime insurance availability problem and does not have an appropriate State program to provide a solution. The program became effective on August 1, 1971. Reduced rates were made applicable to policies issued after August 1, 1972.
 2. Q. In which States is the program available?
A. In Connecticut, Illinois, Kansas, Maryland, Massachusetts, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee, and the District of Columbia.
 3. Q. Who is responsible for operation of the program?
A. The Secretary of HUD has delegated administration of the program to the Federal Insurance Administrator in the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (451 Seventh Street, S. W., Washington, D. C. 20410). Acting for the Secretary, the Federal Insurance Administrator conducts a continuing nationwide review of the market availability situation. In those States in which he concludes that a critical problem exists which is not being resolved at the State level, the Federal Insurance Administrator provides insurance against losses due to burglary and robbery through licensed property insurance agents and brokers and private insurance companies acting as servicing companies for the Federal Insurance Administration.
- . Will the program be expanded to additional States?
 - . If the Federal Insurance Administrator finds a critical problem of availability in additional States which is not being resolved at the State level, he will designate such additional States as eligible for the purchase of crime insurance. Since the program began, Tennessee, New Jersey, and Kansas have been added on August 1, 1972, February 15, 1973, and April 1, 1973, respectively.

5. Q. Who can buy Federal crime insurance?

A. A property owner or tenant or businessman within an eligible State or the District of Columbia may apply for crime insurance by (a) signing an application, and (b) paying a 6-month premium installment due at time of application. To be eligible for burglary insurance coverage, his premises must meet the protective device requirements of the program referred to in Questions 15-19 below. Such requirements do not apply to commercial insurance against robbery only.

6. Q. Where does a property owner or tenant obtain an application form?

- A. (a) Burglary and larceny incident thereto, which means the stealing of property from within a premises which has been forcibly entered by means which leave physical marks of such forcible entry at the place of entry.
- (b) Robbery, which means the stealing of personal property from the insured in his presence and with his knowledge both inside the premises and outside the premises. The term robbery includes observed theft.
- (c) Damage to the premises committed during the course of a burglary or robbery, or attempted burglary or robbery.
- (d) In the case of the residential insurance policy, the burglary of an enclosed locked storage compartment of an automobile, i.e., the trunk compartment.
- (e) In the case of commercial insurance against burglary, the theft from a night depository and burglary of a safe, subject to a $5,000 limit on claims with respect to safes of less than insurance Class E quality.

8. Q. Will a burglary claim be paid if there are no visible marks of forcible entry at the place of entry?

A. The Federal crime insurance policies do not cover mere disappearance of property. There must be signs of an entry by force evidenced by visible marks upon or physical damage to the exterior of the premises at the place of such entry.

A. Residential insurance coverage may be purchased in amounts up to $10,000. Commercial insurance may be purchased in amounts up to $15,000. Such limits apply on a per-occurrence basis.

10. Q. Can an applicant choose the peril he wants to be insured against?

A. The residential insurance policy is a combination burglary and robbery package policy that is not sold in separate parts. However, a commercial applicant can purchase robbery insurance only or burglary insurance only or combinations of both. A policy that protects against robbery only costs 60% of the cost of a package burglary and robbery policy. A policy that protects against burglary only costs 50% of the package policy rate. Robbery and burglary coverage purchased in a combination of different amounts costs the sum of the rates for the separate parts.

11. Q. What kind of personal property is covered?

A. The residential policy insures against loss of all personal property including jewelry, after application of the $75 deductible. However, loss of money is covered only up to $100. The commercial policy can insure against burglary and larceny of merchandise, furniture, fixtures and equipment and against stealing of money, securities, and merchandise by safe burglary and against robbery of money, securities, merchandise, fixtures and equipment.

12. Q. Are claims payments subject to deductibles?

A. (a) Claims under the residential policy are subject to a deductible of $75 or 5% of the gross amount of the loss, whichever is greater.

(b) Claims under the commercial policy are subject to minimum deductibles which vary according to the annual gross receipts of the insured, as shown in the following table, or to 5% of the gross amount of the loss, whichever is greater:

Gross receipts	Deductible
Less than $25,000	$ 50
$25,000 - $49,999	75
$50,000 - $99,999	100
$100,000 - $299,999	150
$300,000 or over	200

The deductible for nonprofit or public property risks is $100 or 5% of the gross amount of the loss, whichever is greater.

13. Q. How does a property owner or tenant report claims for losses?

A. Losses which exceed the applicable deductible should be reported to the agent or broker through whom the application was submitted, or directly to the servicing company designated for the State in which the premises are located. A sworn proof of loss statement must be submitted.

14. Q. Will policies be cancelled or not renewed if insureds submit claims?

A. No. The Federal Crime Insurance Program was established to make crime insurance more readily available in areas where people have been unable to buy or retain crime insurance. Federal crime insurance therefore will not be denied to any eligible insured because of the frequency or amount of his claims.

However, the making of a false statement in the application or in connection with the submission of a claim will result in refusal of coverage or cancellation and the denial of claims. Intentionally false statements may also result in criminal prosecution.

15. Q. What protective devices are required on a residential property such as a home or apartment before it is eligible for Federal crime insurance?

A. For a residential property to be eligible for Federal crime insurance, its exterior doors, other than sliding doors, must be equipped with either a dead bolt, or a self-locking dead latch. Dead bolts or self-latching dead latches must have a throw of at least 1/2 inch or be equipped with interlocking bolts and striker. (The term "dead bolt" refers to the fact that the bolt cannot be made to retract except by turning a knob or key. The term "throw" refers to the distance which the bolt or latch protrudes from the body of the lock when the bolt or latch is in a locked position.)

All sliding doors and windows opening onto stairways, porches, platforms or other areas affording easy access to the premises, must also be equipped with some type of locking device. See page 9 of this bulletin for illustrations of residential locking device requirements.

16. Q. Will claims be paid if a residential premises does not have the required locking devices.
- A. Unprotected residences are not eligible for Federal crime insurance and a claim cannot be paid if a residential premises does not meet the protective device requirements.
17. Q. How can a residential applicant know whether his house or apartment meets the protective device requirements?
- A. The residential requirements are listed on the residential application form and illustrations of the locking devices are shown on page 9 of this bulletin. By comparing the locks on his exterior doors and windows to those shown in the pictures, the applicant can quickly verify whether his house or apartment meets the requirements. In addition, any property insurance agent or broker or the servicing company can explain the residential requirements.
18. Q. What protective devices are required on a commercial property before it is eligible for Federal crime insurance?
- A. For a commercial property to be eligible for Federal crime insurance against burglary, its doorways or doors and accessible openings must be adequately protected during nonbusiness hours. The commercial requirements, which are more extensive than those for residential properties, vary by types of business. They are listed on the commercial application form. Illustrations of the locking devices referred to above are shown on page 10 of this bulletin.
19. Q. How can a commercial applicant know whether his property meets the protective device requirements?
- A. Effective July 1, 1973, the servicing company will make a physical inspection of the premises of every new applicant who applies for a commercial policy which includes burglary coverage. Such policies will be issued only after the inspection has confirmed that the premises meets the protective device requirements. If the property does not meet the requirements, the inspector will tell the applicant what he needs to do in order to comply. After a commercial premises has been inspected and a policy issued, claims for losses will be paid provided the insured has not removed or altered the protective devices previously approved by the inspector.
