FOREWORD

The court reorganization movement in North Carolina began in the mid nineteen-fifties and culminated in the adoption of constitutional amendments in 1962 and 1965 and the enactment of the "Judicial Department Act of 1965." Yet, North Carolina's unified judicial system is still relatively young. The year 1978 marks only the third year during which all divisions of the General Court of Justice have operated in each of the State's 100 counties. The Judicial Department consists of an Appellate Division composed of the Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals (which has been fully operational since 1968), a Superior Court Division and a District Court Division. The system is unified for purposes of jurisdiction, operation and administration. All of the officers and personnel of the Judicial Department are employees of the State.

There are now 7 justices of the Supreme Court, 9 judges of the Court of Appeals, 49 full-time Superior Court judges, 112 District Court judges, 30 district attorneys and 112 assistant district attorneys, 3 public defenders and 11 assistant public defenders (serving in the 12th, 18th and 28th judicial districts), 100 clerks of the superior court, approximately 520 magistrates, approximately 200 juvenile counselors (serving in 29 judicial districts), 76 court reporters, and over 1,100 supporting personnel (primarily assistants, deputies, secretarial and clerical personnel in the offices of clerks of the superior court).

The Administrative Officer of the Courts is required to "submit an annual report on the work of the Judicial Department" to the Chief Justice and the members of the General Assembly. This Annual Report is based upon data supplied by the clerks of superior court on a monthly and quarterly basis. The data contained herein can most appropriately be used in making yearto-year comparisons for the entire system and in comparing the performance of different counties and judicial districts. The data is also the beginning point for independent analysis of the performance of the courts of each county and judicial district. Although caution should be used in generalizing about the performance of the entire General Court of Justice, this report does evaluate the status of the criminal and civil dockets of the Superior and District Court divisions. These evaluations are carefully grounded on the available data base, but they derive from quantitative rather than qualitative data and are based upon totals for groups of counties rather than a thoroughgoing analysis of each county.

As explained in the foreword to the 1971 and 1972 Annual Reports most of the comparative analysis for those years was based upon the data from the 83 counties where the court structure was constant throughout the period of comparison. Some of the bar graphs were based solely on a comparison of these 83 counties. This year the distinction between "Group I" and "Group II" counties has been eliminated, since all 100 counties have been under the new structure for three full years. All commentary, tables and graphs are based upon data from all 100 counties. Although Superior Court graphs permit a five year comparison, District Court graphs will thus permit only a three year comparison.

Although there are a number of statistical indicators that may be used in evaluating court performance, there is no single barometer that gives a weighted average of all factors. The more obvious factors to weigh in making year-to-year comparisons and relative rankings between counties and judicial districts are filings, dispositions, and the number of cases pending at the end of the year. Other useful measures are the pending ratios (the relation that the number of cases pending at year's end bears to the number of cases disposed of during the year) and the rate of disposition (the percentage of the year's filings which were disposed of during the year). Low pending ratios and high rates of disposition are positive measures.

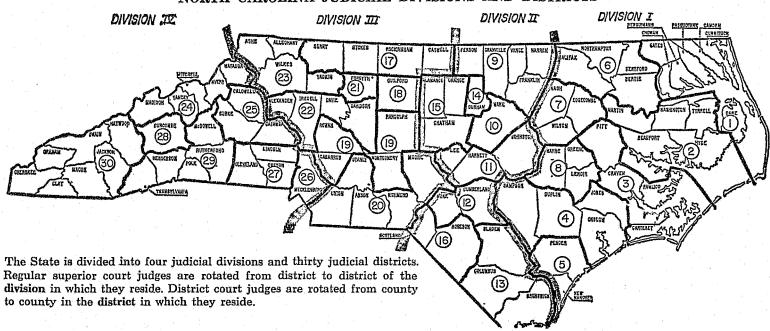

The statistics contained herein are case flow statistics and none are "backlog" or "delay" statistics. This report uses "cases pending" as one unit of analysis, but the term "backlog" will not be found herein and it is inaccurate to apply that term to the cases which are properly described as "pending." A case which is pending may be two days or two years old. "Backlog" may be tentatively defined as those cases which have been pending disposition longer than an agreed upon standard of time for the average case of the same type in the same court. A "delayed" case would be any case which exceeded the agreed upon standard time-frame and such cases could also be described as "backlogged." Even if an agreed upon standard time-frame with supporting data was available, such data could only properly be used (as is the case with the data which is available) as a starting point for analysis.

In any case, the Administrative Office does not now routinely collect data on the length of time required for the disposition of particular cases. However, this office commissioned a special study of cases filed in the Superior Court Criminal Division in 1971. The results of that study were published in December of 1973. Although the data for that study is somewhat outdated (there have been marked improvements in the performance of the Criminal Division of the Superior Court in both 1972 and 1973), it is valuable in that it makes available numerous types of data that have not been available in the past. Moreover, it makes a useful analytical contribution to the causes of docket congestion and delay. Copies of Delay in The Superior Courts of North Carolina and an Assessment of Its Causes may be obtained from the Administrative Office.

Whatever the unit of analysis, whether "cases pending," "delayed cases," or "pending ratios," a number of questions must be asked once the raw data is available. At what point in time is the data stated? Cases pending, for example, are stated as of December 31, 1973; are they generally higher during a holiday season? What effect do the customs and practices of the local bar have upon courtroom and trial delays? What are the policies of the court, the bar, and district attorneys with respect to continuances? Is there a well thought out system for the calendaring of cases? Are pre-trial release procedures working effectively? Is the waiver procedure for motor vehicle cases fully utilized? Are continuances caused by court congestion or are they sought after by the parties? What effect do sentencing practices have upon the rate of criminal appeals between the District and Superior Courts? How much court was held in the district and how often? (In some counties there are no more than two weeks of Superior Court each year.) What are the geographical dimensions of the judicial district? Are seats of court distant from one another, requiring a great deal of travel time by court officials? Are there sufficient courtrooms available when needed? Are the courtrooms located and designed so as to permit efficient dispatch of the court's business? How many cases counted as "pending" are essentially "dead" cases and will ultimately be not prossed or dismissed? (It may in fact be customary strategy to file a civil action knowing at the time that the case will never be tried; similarly, it may be good strategy for the district attorney not to not pros a case, although knowing that it will never be tried.) What is the extent of plea bargaining in the district? What is the settlement rate in the district? Has there been illness among court officials? Are there adequate investigatory resources? Are law enforcement and expert witnesses available when needed? The above list is not exhaustive but is illustrative of the types of questions that must be explored in analyzing the statistical data for each county and district.

The purpose of this foreword has not been to denigrate the statistical data reported herein, but to stress the subtlety and complexity of the variables which they reflect. All quantitative data must be read with care and this is especially true of court statistics. Too great a reliance on numbers alone gives credence to the concept of "mass justice." Court officials know that justice is administered to individuals.

NORTH CAROLINA JUDICIAL DIVISIONS AND DISTRICTS

THE APPELLATE DIVISION

THE SUPREME COURT

One hundred and forty-six opinions were filed by the Supreme Court in 1973. Full opinions were rendered in 136 cases and 10 opinions were per curiam. Of the total, 94 were criminal and 52 were civil cases. Sixty-nine percent (65 opinions) of the criminal appeals were affirmed and 35% (18 opinions) of the civil appeals were affirmed. In the remaining cases, the Supreme Court modified the decision from which the appeal was taken. As reported in the North Carolina Reports, the court disposed of 235 petitions for certiorari, 2 motions to dismiss, 2 motions to rehear, and 1 motion to withdraw.

THE SUPERIOR COURT DIVISION

The performance of the superior court division of the General Court of Justice is adequately summarized in the sections on civil and criminal dockets which follow. Only a few items deserve highlighting in terms of the combined civil and criminal dockets. Total filings increased by 4.8% and dispositions increased by 2.2%. The number of cases pending at the end of the year decreased by 6.0%. The number of days of court scheduled increased by 4.1% and was followed by an increase of 2.9% in the number of days of court actually held. For all 100 counties the percentage of court utilization remained about the same, dropping by less than 1%. Significantly, the total number of cases pending is the lowest since court reorganization began in 1966.

It is especially encouraging to note that the pending ratio for the criminal division dropped from 50.9 in 1971 to 40.5 in 1972, and to 32.3 this year. It is discouraging to note that the ratio for the civil division rose from 131.3 in 1972 to 154.6 in 1973. Extrapolating these ratios, it may be estimated that it would require less than 4 months for the court to dispose of its pending criminal cases and over one year and six months to dispose of its civil cases.

SUPERIOR COURT CIVIL DOCKETS

Although delay in the disposition of criminal cases and the resulting congestion that occurs has received considerable public attention in recent years, the problem of delay and congestion in the civil division of the superior court has been virtually ignored. As indicated in this space last year, there is room for much improvement in the disposition of superior court civil cases.

For the first time in the last seven years, the number of cases filed has exceeded the number of cases disposed of and the number of cases pending at the end of the year has shown an increase from the prior year. As has always been the case, the pending ratio for this division is higher than for any other division of the General Court of Justice. The 1972 ratio was 131.3, indicating that it would require approximately one year and four months for the superior court to dispose of all cases pending. Significantly, the 1973 ratio has increased to 154.6 which indicates that it would require over one year and six months to dispose of all civil cases pending.

Most performance indicators are not favorable when compared to 1972. Filings increased from 8,249 to 8,490 or 2.9%; dispositions decreased from 8,871 to 7,897 or 11.0%; and the number of cases pending at the end of the year increased from 11,617 to 12,210 or 5.1%. The rate of disposition dropped from 108.8% to 93.0%. There was improvement in court availability and utilization, the number of days scheduled increasing by 1.6% and the number of days held increasing by 4.3%. The percentage of court utilization increased from 73.3% to 74.9%.

Among all 100 counties, the 10 counties with the largest civil dockets accounted for 48.5% of the total pending cases. Sixty-eight counties had 100 or fewer cases pending and only 4 counties had more than 500 pending.

SUPERIOR COURT CRIMINAL DOCKETS

Nineteen hundred and seventy-two does appear to have been a "turn around" year for the criminal division of the superior court. The favorable results reported in this space last year have continued into 1973 and it is hoped that a trend is being established which will result in further reductions in the number of criminal cases pending at year-end. While 1973 filings did increase by 5.1%, dispositions similarly increased by 5.0%. Most significantly, the number of cases pending at the end of the year decreased by 13.7% compared to a decrease of 9.9% in 1972 and increases of 28.3% in 1971 and 32.3% in 1970. The rate of disposition (the percentage of filings which were disposed of) exceeded 100% for only the second time since 1965. The rate of disposition for this year was 105.4%, compared to 104.7% in 1972, 89.3% in 1971, and 89.8% in 1970. Moreover, the pending ratio dropped from 40.5 in 1972 to 32.3 in 1973 indicating (all other things being equal) that the estimated amount of time for the court to dispose of all criminal cases pending has been reduced from less than 5 months to less than 4 months. This trend is more encouraging when it is remembered that the pending ratio in 1971 was 50.9, suggesting that more than 6 months would have been required to dispose of all criminal cases pending.

The number of days of superior court scheduled increased by 5.6% and there was a modest increase in the number of days actually held, 2.2%.

There is no single variable that can explain this continued improvement in superior court criminal dockets, but one factor deserves mention. The impact of appeals from the district court for trial de novo in the superior court was discussed in this space last year. It was indicated that any minor change in the number of cases being appealed from the district court (a high volume court) has a significant impact upon the superior court (a low volume court). The number of cases being appealed to the superior court has been further reduced in 1973, dropping from 20,899 to 20,268 or 3.0%. The 20,268 cases which were appealed constitute 5.3% of the total number of cases tried in the district court and amount to 47.8% of total superior court filings. The comparable percentages for 1972 were 5.5% and 51.9%. This marks the first year since the district court has been operating in all 100 counties of the State that misdemeanors have constituted less than one-half of superior court filings.

As was indicated in this space last year, the statistics demonstrate that the longer the district court is in operation, the lower the rate of appeals and the smaller the proportion of superior court filings which are appealed cases. For the 83 counties where the district court has been in operation for five or more years, the appeal rate from the district court is 4.8% and appeals constitute 44.9% of district court filings. This is in marked contrast to the 17 counties which entered the system in December of 1970 where the appeal rate is 8.5% and appeals constitute 62.1% of superior court filings. It is hoped that the number of cases being appealed in these counties will be reduced in 1974.

The 10 counties with the largest criminal dockets accounted for 38.3% of the total cases pending at the end of the year. Fifty-four counties had 100 or fewer cases pending at the end of the year, and only 4 counties had more than 500 cases pending.

In the order named, Wake, Guilford, Mecklenburg, Cumberland and Forsyth had the largest number of cases filed in 1973. Among the counties that exceeded the statewide average for filings, the following counties had the largest percentage increases in filings between 1972 and 1973: Chowan (106.4%), Nash (59.2%), Caldwell (34.5%), Robeson (30.3%), and Alamance (25.3%).

Wake County disposed of the most cases in 1973, followed in order by Guilford, Forsyth, Cumberland, and Mecklenburg. Among the counties that exceeded the statewide average for dispositions, the following counties made the most significant increases over 1972: Johnston (119.8%), Alamance (76.9%), Union (52.0%), Caldwell (51.6%), and Carteret (51.1%).

The highest number of jury trials, 243, was held in Wake in 1973; Mecklenburg held 227, Guilford held 193, Gaston held 171, and Durham held 161. As would be expected, Mecklenburg led the State in the number of days of criminal court held (442), followed by Wake (396), Guilford (255), Buncombe (220), and Cumberland (207).

The 1971 Annual Report utilized pending ratios as a barometer of court performance for the first time. As already indicated, the pending ratio for 1973 is 32.3, suggesting that it would require less than 4 months to dispose of all cases pending. The pending ratio, of course, varies from county to county, and it is useful to apply that test to each county. The table at page 33 lists the 10 counties with the highest pending ratios.

THE DISTRICT COURT DIVISION

The district court has now been operational in all 100 counties for three full years. It has operated in 83 counties for 5 years and in 22 counties for 7 years. The total of civil and criminal filings increased by 4.4% and total dispositions increased by 3.0%. The total number of cases pending increased by 12.0%. These figures appear to reflect normal growth trends for this high-volume court. Much of this increase is attributable to the civil dockets where filings increased by 15.2% affecting an increase of 22.8% in the number of civil cases pending. There has been no significant change from last year in the ratio between criminal cases pending at the end of the year and dispositions for the year. The ratio for criminal cases is 8.7 indicating that it would require about one month for the district court to dispose of its criminal docket. The ratio for civil cases increased from 28.3 to 33.5, the estimated time needed to dispose of all civil cases increasing from three and one-half months to four months.

The total number of days of district court held in 1973 increased by 2.2% over 1972, the number of civil days increasing from  $5,404\frac{1}{2}$  to  $5,728\frac{1}{2}$  and the number of criminal days increasing from  $10,852\frac{1}{2}$  to  $10,893\frac{1}{2}$ . Upon assignment by the Chief Justice, district judges held  $334\frac{1}{2}$  days of court in judicial districts other than their own, up from 248 such days in 1972.

The tables relating to juvenile proceedings are found on pages 66 and 74. The number of new cases opened (children before the court for the first time) increased from 13,341 to 14,514 or 8.8%. The number of adjudicatory hearings increased from 23,796 to 25,818 or 8.5%. The composition of the caseload varies little from year to year: delinquency accounted for 62.1%, undisciplined for 22.4%, dependency for 6.7% and neglect for 8.8%. The bulk of delinquency charges were for misdemeanors (64.4%), 20.6% were for felonies, 14.7% were for violations of probation, and .3% were for capital felonies. The number of undisciplined charges which were for truancy dropped from 46.1% to 36.7%.

DISTRICT COURT CIVIL DOCKETS

Civil filings increased by 15.2% but dispositions increased by only 5.9%, resulting in an increase of 22.8% in the number of cases pending at the end of the year. The rate of disposition was 94.1% (fewer cases were disposed of than were filed).

Among all 100 counties, the 10 counties with the largest civil dockets accounted for 49.5% of the total civil cases pending. Fifty-three counties had 300 or fewer cases pending at the end of the year and 13 counties had more than 1,000 pending. As stated above, the ratio of pending cases to the year's dispositions is 33.5, indicating that the docket could be disposed of in about four months.

Of the 171,368 cases filed in 1973, 64.9% were small claims, 13.5% were domestic cases, and 21.6% were regular civil actions in which a hearing before a district court judge was requested. Of the 161,342 cases which were disposed of, 19.6% were handled by a judge without a jury, a jury was impaneled in 1.3% of the cases, magistrates disposed of 63.6%, and the remaining 15.5% were disposed of by other means.

When the plaintiff so requests, claims for $300 or less are subject to assignment to a magistrate. Magistrates continue to dispose of almost all of these small claims. In 1973, magistrates disposed of 92.1% of such claims.

DISTRICT COURT CRIMINAL DOCKETS

Criminal filings were up from 1,000,893 in 1972 to 1,028,532 in 1973, an increase of 2.8%. Dispositions increased from 998,389 to 1,023,310 up 2.5%. The number of cases pending at the end of the year increased by 5,222 to 88,632, up 6.3%.

For the first time, both filings and dispositions in the criminal division have exceeded one million cases. Twenty-one of the 100 counties had more than 1,000 cases pending at the end of the year and 41 counties had 300 or fewer pending. The 10 counties with the largest criminal dockets accounted for 51.6% of the total number of criminal cases pending. The rate of disposition was 99.5%.

From year to year, the percentage breakdown for the types of cases handled and the manner of dispositions remains fairly constant. In 1973, 64.4% (662,545) of all criminal cases filed were for violations of the traffic laws. Other criminal offenses made up the remaining 35.6% (365,987). Only 9.5% of the cases disposed of were contested, requiring a full-fledged trial before a district court judge. A judge or magistrate disposed of 27.6% upon a plea of guilty or nolo contendere, and 45.1% were disposed of by a written appearance waiving trial and pleading guilty before a magistrate or clerk. Preliminary hearings constituted 1.9% of the criminal docket and the remaining 15.9% of total dispositions were terminated by other means.

Since mid-1971 the uniform traffic ticket and complaint has been in use by all law enforcement officials; the ticket contains detailed instructions on the use of the waiver procedure. In 1970, 63.0% of motor vehicle cases were disposed of by waiver; in 1971, 65.7%; in 1972, 69.4%; and in 1973, 69.6%. There are still a few counties where this procedure is still not fully utilized; greater use of the waiver in those counties would tend to alleviate some courtroom congestion and delay.

All statistical measures continue to indicate more than satisfactory performance by the criminal district court. As already indicated, the ratio of criminal cases pending at the end of the year to dispositions for the year is 8.7. This ratio indicates that it would require about one month for the court to dispose of its criminal docket.

* The data in all columns but the last indicates the total number of offenses alleged to have been committed and conditions alleged to have existed during the year. This data does not indicate the actual number of children before the court, since one petition may include several offenses or conditions and more than one petition may have been filed against a child during the year.

The last column, entitled "Children Before Court for First Time," is included here for convenience of format, but it is not otherwise related to the data in the other columns. This column does indicates the actual number of children in all categories or jurisdiction who were before the court for the first time during 1973.

This table indicates the total number of adjudicatory hearings held in each category of juvenile jurisdiction during the year. Juvenile petitions may be dismissed either for failure to prove that the child is delinquent, undisciplined, dependent or neglected or, if he is found to be so, because the child is not in need of the care, protection or discipline of the State. All cases dismissed for either of these reasons are counted in the "dismissed" column; all other cases are counted in the "retained" column.

In some counties, the percent of cases disposed of exceeds one hundred percent because cases pending January 1, 1973 are not included in the "filed" column. The figures in both the "filed" and "disposed of" columns are for the calendar year 1973. Some of the cases filed in 1973 will not be disposed of until 1974 and some of the cases disposed of in 1973 were filed in 1972. Assuming a fairly constant rate of filing and disposition, the percentages are relatively accurate. These two tables are combined for convenience of format; they are not otherwise related.

* All days of court at each seat were not necessarily held by a judge assigned to the designated judicial district. In 1973 District Court Judges held a total of 334½ days of court in judicial districts other than their own. A day of court is defined as at least a two hour session before lunch and at least a two hour session after lunch. Judicial hospitalization, juvenile and domestic relations cases are counted as civil court.

Total Receipts	$29,714,049.97

Of the total Judicial Department receipts, $9,527,870.95 or 32.1% went into the State General Fund. The balance was distributed to the Law Enforcement Officers Benefit and Retirement Fund (7.8%) and the counties (57.2%) and municipalities (2.9%) of the State.

Receipts deposited in the State General Fund amounted to 32.9% of the State's expenditures for the Judicial Department. Total State receipts (General Fund and LEOB&RF) equaled 40.1% of Judicial Department expenditures.

The table which follows shows a breakdown of the fees for each county and the municipalities within each county.

REPRESENTATION OF INDIGENTS

Private counsel are appointed to represent indigent defendants in 27 of the State's judicial districts. In the 12th, 18th, and 28th judicial districts (Cumberland, Hoke, Guilford, and Buncombe Counties) indigents are normally represented by the public defender's office. The public defender's office of the 28th judicial district is not included in this report since it was not established until July of 1973. The costs of this program rose from $1,962,719.59 in the 1971-72 fiscal year to $2,624,378.41 in the 1972-73 fiscal year, an increase of 33.7%. The program constituted 8.8% of total Judicial Department expenditures in 1972-73. The cost of the program in 1972-73 is summarized as follows:

Assigned Counsel in Criminal Cases Assigned Counsel in Juvenile Cases
Total		$ 2,279,868.73
Public Defender's Office in
12th Judicial District	110,617.53
Public Defender's Office in
18th Judicial District	119,421.26
Total		230,038.79
Transcripts, Records and Briefs		112,915.89
Expert Witness Fees		1,555.00
TOTAL		$ 2,624,378.41

The table at the end of this section compares the assigned counsel program in 1971-72 and 1972-73. The number of cases assigned rose from 11,278 to 16,304 or 44.6% and expenditures rose from $1,655,837 to $2,279,869 or 37.7%. Of the 16,304 assignments in 1972-73, 2,123 or 13% were in juvenile proceedings.

Court appearances represent only a portion of the activity of the public defenders, but the numbers do reflect the high level of activity in both of these offices:

Court Appearances

District Court	12th District 644	18th District 1.221
Superior Court	454	493
Appellate Courts	14	58

The total cost of providing counsel to indigents in the two districts with public defenders was as follows:

Public Defender	12th District $110,618 19,296	18th District $119,421 14,735
	$129,914	$134,156

It is instructive to compare these costs with the cost of the assigned counsel in other urban areas: 10th District (Wake) $155,234; 14th District (Durham) $128,523; 21st District (Forsyth) $107,979; and 26th District (Mecklenburg) $254,207.

When private counsel or the public defender is assigned to represent an indigent, the court sets the money value of services rendered and enters judgment against the defendant for such amount. Receipts from payments on these judgments rose from $57,624.79 in 1971-72 to $86,104.84 in 1972-73. Receipts in 1972-73 amounted to 3.3% of the total cost of the indigent defendant program.
