ABSTRACT

In an effort to provide the Monroe County community with a concentrated source of information which describes the community with particular emphasis on those areas relating to its criminal justice system, the Pilot City staff has prepared this data supplement on crime in Monroe County. This supplement presents the data used to develop the Pilot City Information Paper, Crime in Monroe County 1960, 1964, 1970-1973. This supplement will be supplied to those who have a need for and request the raw data on reported crime and arrests.

The supplement contains reported crime and arrest data by type of crime for each of the twelve police departments in Monroe County as well as summary tables for Monroe County outside Rochester and for all of Monroe County for the years 1960, 1964, 1970-1973.

The information contained in this paper is drawn from a large number of sources and reflects the cooperation the Pilot City staff received in the preparation of this document. The Federal Bureau of Investigation, the New York State Department of Correctional Services, the New York State Police, and all the local police agencies contributed in some way to the collection of this information. The staff is especially appreciative of the aid and cooperation freely given by the twelve local police departments.

The preparation of this document was supported by Grant 74-NI-02-0002 from the National Institute of Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, United States Department of Justice. Statements or conclusions contained in this paper do not necessarily reflect the concurrence of the Institute.

Use of the Tables

The data presented in tabular form are divided into 57 different crime categories: 25 felonies, 28 misdemeanors, and 4 selected violations. In addition, there are five summary groupings of the categories: "Total Felonies", "Total Misdemeanors", "Total Felonies and Misdemeanors", "Total of Selected Violations" and "Total of All Offenses". The final offense category, Arrest of Persons for Release to Other Agencies for Prosecution, is included to complete the arrest data. There are no data available on the type of alleged crime for these arrests.

There are eight columns for each table. The first four are the report of offenses. Reading from left to right the columns are: "Offenses Known", "Unfounded Offenses", "Actual Offenses", and "Offenses Cleared". The "Offenses Known" category is the number of criminal complaints reported to the police. The "Unfounded Offenses" category is cases where after police investigation it appears that no crime had been committed. The "Actual Offenses" category is derived by subtracting the "Unfounded Offenses" from the "Offenses Known". In comparing and compiling statistics on crime, it is standard procedure to use the "Actual Offenses" category as a data source, rather than "Offenses Known". The final category "Offenses Cleared" is the number of cases within each category that the police successfully cleared, usually by arrest of the alleged offender. The clearance rate is a standard measure of police efficiency in solving crimes. The clearance rate for any offense category is determined by dividing the number of "Offenses Cleared" in the category by the number of "Actual Offenses". It should be kept in mind that there are differences in the fullness of the reporting between different police departments and within the same departments over time, and this may influence the clearance rates by reducing the number of offenses reported in a given category.

The next four columns of the tables is the report of persons arrested. The four columns are, from left to right, "Adult - Males", "Adult - Females", "Juvenile - Males", and "Juvenile - Females".

For the purpose of these tables, juveniles are those persons 15 years of age and younger and adults are those persons 16 years of age and older. The data in this tabular form is not particularly useful for research because the persons arrested for the crimes cleared are all grouped together and then subdivided by age and sex. There is no way to determine the relationship between particular crimes and the persons arrested. For purposes of research in the characteristics of persons arrested, it is advisable to seek from the particular police departments the primary data on persons arrested for each reported offense. Most departments keep a report in tabular form to be used in preparing the state and FBI reporting form, but the tabulation by individual offenses is generally not published.

Offense and arrest data is presented for each of the 12 local police agencies in Monroe County for the years 1960, 1964, and 1970-1973, except that for the Brockport Police Department, the Ogden Police Department, the Webster Police Department, and the Wheatland Police Department data are presented for 1970-1973 only. In addition to the reports on the 12 individual departments, there are three sets of summary tables for the same years. The first set is for all agencies in Monroe County. The second set is for Monroe County Outside Rochester. The third set is for the Town and Village Departments, that is, excluding the Rochester Police Department and the Monroe County Sheriff's Office. The report is compiled using information from the twelve local departments. It does not include offense and arrest information from state or federal police agencies like the New York State Police or the Federal Bureau of Investigation.
