The Attorney-General,
Senator the Honourable Lionel Murphy Q.C.,
Parliament House,
CANBERRA. A.C.T.

The year has seen the largest recruit intake in the Force's history. 127 recruits were accepted into the Recruitment Training Division, and at the time of this Report, 71 are still engaged in their 28 week initial training. The stimulus to recruiting was given by the Attorney-General early in 1973 to meet ever increasing demands on the Force in terms of traffic law enforcement and necessary security measures arising from a greater influx of visiting State, Government and Trade Missions from overseas, and because of incidents abroad.

A disturbing feature, however, has been the effect on personnel of sickness and injury on duty during the year. There was an increased loss of 804 days due to illness alone, which could be partly due to the constant maintenance of security at foreign embassies and excessive overtime demands made on members. The variable rosters worked and the changes in location of duties daily have not resolved a low morale factor which arises from police trained for other wider responsibilities.

There has been a decrease in the number of public demonstrations and the fact that no arrests were made is an indicator of the change in attitude of those who participated.

The normal population growth in the Territory of 8% has reflected itself in a greater police work-load, viz., an increase of 14.71% incidents reported to the Operations Room; an increase of 10.42% persons arrested for offences; 16.64% more breath analysis tests of motor vehicle drivers; more persons charged with driving with a blood alcohol percentage exceeding 0.08%; and an increase of 16.15% in crime reported.

The Force has enjoyed the full co-operation of, and a close working relationship with, other Australian Government Law Enforcement Organisations and State Police Forces in achieving a satisfactory level of law enforcement in the Australian Capital Territory.

R.A. Wilson
Commissioner of Police
GENERAL

The largest occurred on 11 September, 1973, when an estimated 1,800 people demonstrated outside Parliament House in protest against the proposed construction of an International Airport at Galston, N.S.W. Most demonstrations held during the year were peaceful and no arrests were made (18).

The Enquiry Office at Police Headquarters is manned 24 hours a day and a total of 2,483 (2,250) individual enquiries were recorded of which 930 (689) necessitated further Police action.

Watchhouse

A total of 7,903 (7,157) charges were recorded against persons arrested and lodged in the Watchhouse.

Miscellaneous Property

A total of 1,743 (1,212) items of miscellaneous property were taken into Police custody and of this number Police located the owners of 740 (646) items and returned 221 (148) to the finders.

An auction of unclaimed goods was conducted on 1 December 1973, and the sum of $798.20 ($1,112.10)* was realised from the sale of 172 (214) items. A total of $66.96 ($171.10) was paid to consolidated revenue. This amount represented cash handed to Police and unclaimed.

*These figures refer to two auction sales held during 1972/73 -- one sale only was conducted in 1973/74.

Court Exhibits

The Property Officer had custody of 533 (387) items which were subsequently produced as Court exhibits. Of this number 201 (210) items have been returned to the owners and the remaining 332 (177) items are being held in Police custody pending completion of Court proceedings for disposal by auction or destruction.

Hoax Bomb Calls

Police responded to 52 (95) hoax bomb calls which involved Government Offices, Diplomatic Missions, Hospitals, Schools, Commercial Premises and Private Homes. As these calls are treated as genuine until proved otherwise a considerable amount of Police time and Public inconvenience is involved.
One person was apprehended and charged with making mischievous telephone calls.

Search and Rescue Squad

There were three full scale searches in the Brindabella Ranges for lost parties of hikers, one of which, in October 1973, involved an additional 150 searchers comprising Police and civilian volunteers from Bush Search and Rescue Organisations. All searches concluded successfully.

There were a number of successful searches of the Murrumbidgee River for overdue canoeists. It is anticipated that this activity will increase in the future as the River is becoming a popular venue for this sport.

The Squad has also been engaged in searches of rural areas for evidence concerning a murder investigation conducted by Detectives from the A.C.T. and N.S.W. Police.

In addition to regular training exercises, two Senior members attended Rescue Service Instructors' Courses at the Australian Civil Defence School, Mount Macedon, Victoria.

Underwater Recovery Squad

The unit is attached to the Search and Rescue Squad. The current strength is one Sergeant Third Class and four Constables. A further nine Constables have been selected to undergo training.

The unit was engaged in 20 hours of underwater searching, mainly in Lake Burley Griffin, and a further 16 hours of area searching prior to diving. Divers recovered two bodies from Lake Burley Griffin and assisted in the recovery of stolen property valued at approximately $5,000.

Police Citizens' Youth Club

Since the completion of the extensions to its premises early in 1974, there has been a significant increase in Club membership and activities, which now include boxing, wrestling, weight-lifting, judo, karate, Tae-Kwon-Do, soccer, table tennis, gymnastics, keep-fit classes, hobby-crafts, trampoline, dances and other social activities. In addition, the Club has a modern, well appointed coffee lounge which is appreciated by members and parents alike. This 'drop-in' centre, along with its juke box and billiards table is attracting a considerable number of young persons in the 15-18 year old bracket, a group difficult to attract in the past. The present membership is 2000.

The branch at Belconnen, formed in February 1973, and meeting weekly at the Belconnen High School, has successfully completed the aims set down for its first year. The parent Club at Turner has launched a special building fund and it is hoped that the Belconnen Police and Citizens' Youth Club will be operating on an increased scale from its own premises in the not too distant future.

Rural Patrol

The Rural Patrol Officer travelled 27,000 miles during the course of his duties and covered all rural areas within the Australian Capital Territory.
NUMBER 2 (WODEN) DIVISION

Number 2 (Woden) Division is responsible for the general policing of the districts of Woden, Weston, Tuggeranong and Jervis Bay as well as the security of Parliament House and all Diplomatic Missions in Canberra.

Woden Centre Police Station

This Station is open to the public from 7.00 a.m. to 11.00 p.m. daily, and maintains mobile patrols on a 24-hour basis. Two members of the Criminal Investigation Division are attached to the Station.

The following is a record of the matters dealt with at the Woden Centre Police Station:

Embassy Security

Static security patrols are provided by Police on a 24-hour basis at the Embassy of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics; Embassy of the Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia; Embassy of Israel and the Embassy of the Arab Republic of Egypt and the Ambassadors' residences. Mobile patrols provide security for the remainder of the Diplomatic Missions in Canberra.

Parliament House Security

Security measures introduced last year to provide 24-hour security at Parliament House are being maintained. This guard is increased during sessions of Parliament by a Sergeant and nine Constables to provide internal and additional external security for both Houses. These members are directly responsible to the Sergeant-at-Arms and the Usher of the Black Rod.

Cost of Security Precautions

The cost of maintaining security at Parliament House and the Diplomatic Missions in Canberra amounted to $690,273.62.

Jervis Bay

The Jervis Bay Police Station is staffed by a Sergeant Third Class and a Constable.

The Police launch, 'New Bristol' operates from Jervis Bay and has carried out 24 rescues within the waters of Jervis Bay and off the adjacent coastline. Due to the increased demands for sea-rescue operations, two members of the Force, including the Sergeant in Charge of Jervis Bay, are currently attending a Watchkeepers Deck Course with the School of Military Transportation, Transportation Centre, R.A.C.T., Chowder Bay, Mosman, N.S.W. This course covers subjects of general seamanship, chartwork, navigation, ship handling and marine communications and is designed to equip the student with the skills required in watercraft operations.

A motor cyclist from the Traffic Division performs duty in the area to assist the local Police with the heavy influx of tourists during holiday periods. It is anticipated that a motor cyclist will be permanently attached to this Station in the near future.

The activities of the Jervis Bay Police are detailed hereunder:

TRAFFIC DIVISION

The Traffic Division is responsible for the enforcement of the traffic laws of the Australian Capital Territory for providing mobile traffic patrols, accident investigations, Police driver training, safety lectures, the policing of the waters of Lake Burley Griffin, and providing escorts for visiting dignitaries to the Australian Capital Territory.

In addition, the Division is responsible for the management and deployment of the Police vehicle fleet, details of which are in Appendix B. The Division comprises six sections which are:

Mobile Section
This section provides Highway Patrol Constables and motor cyclists. The section has been increased by an addition of 7 motor cyclists bringing the strength to 6 Highway Patrol Constables and 36 motor cyclists.

The system of maintaining patrols upon the arterial roads from 7.00 a.m. to 11.00 p.m. with motor cyclists, and extending to 2.00 a.m. on appropriate days, by the Highway Patrol, has continued. As a consequence there have been 11,891 (12,025) moving violations reported by those Constables. The decrease in breaches reported was due to the temporary deployment of ten Traffic Constables on foreign mission security duties because of international tensions.

Members of this Section also operate the Amphometer and during June 1974, an additional four members were trained in the use of this speed detecting device. Because of shortage of personnel the unit has not been fully employed during the year. However, a total of 2,193 (2,167) traffic violations were reported by this unit.

Accident Investigation Section
This Section is manned by 5 Sergeants, an increase of 1 Sergeant over the previous year, and has a strength of 23 Constables. There are 4 Volkswagen Kombi Vans fitted with rescue equipment to assist in the release of persons trapped in motor vehicles that are damaged. There were a total of 9,165 accidents investigated in the period under review, 14.2% more than the previous period of which 8,024 were investigated by the Squad.

Motor vehicle accident fatalities numbered 32 (30), representing an increase of 6.6%. Arising from the investigation of these fatalities, the following charges were laid:

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The number of persons injured as a result of motor vehicle accidents decreased to 1,121; this being 7.12% below the previous total when 1,207 persons were injured.

Breath Analysis Section
A total of 1,577 (1,346) breath analysis tests were carried out by members of the Section. Following those breath tests, 1,201 (1,069) persons were charged or summoned with having a blood alcohol level at or above 0.08%. 54 (33) persons refused the test and 6 (4) refused to supply a sufficient sample and were charged accordingly. 474 (371) of those persons charged were involved in motor traffic accidents.

A statistical break-down discloses that the average blood alcohol level of the persons charged was 0.166%, and that most persons were apprehended between 9.00 p.m. and 1.00 a.m. Once again, the 20-25 years age group far exceeded others charged under the provisions of the Breathalyser Legislation (see Appendices C to F).

Some difficulties were experienced enforcing the Breathalyser Legislation in the Court. As a consequence, 36 cases were not proceeded with. A number of other cases were prosecuted by using alternative charges. Amendments were made to the Motor Traffic Ordinance during December 1973, which reduced the prosecution problems.

In November 1973, a Breathalyser Course was conducted, which trained 4 additional members, and 2 Northern Territory Police, in the operation of the instrument.

Driver Training
The Section has conducted the following courses:

1. 14 members have completed the motor cycle course of five weeks duration.
2. 87 members completed a standard six day driving course.
3. 2 members completed a fifteen day Advanced Driving Course.

All Highway Patrol drivers and motor cyclists have completed two 2 day refresher courses over the year.

Members of the Section delivered twenty-two lectures on defensive driving techniques to minor traffic offenders, and eight lectures and demonstrations to civilian motor cyclists. The Section has also been responsible for the mechanical checks of all Highway Patrol cars and motor cycles at monthly intervals.

Water Police

Daily mobile patrols of the lake shorelines continued while the Police launches patrolled the lake and river estuaries for a total of 1,533 (1,512) hours.

A total of 148 (167) persons were rescued from the water and 728 (731) craft in distress were assisted. On two occasions, Water Police personnel assisted in the recovery of patients who were missing from "M" Ward at the Hospital. The bodies of two male and one female persons were recovered from the Lake. Also, the body of a newly born baby was recovered from the Kingston Boat Harbour.

In January, the Lake was closed for 17 days owing to pollution from the Queanbeyan Treatment Works. During this time, patrols were increased to ensure that persons did not use the Lake.

Assistance was rendered to the various Departments and Services associated with the supervision and maintenance of Lake Burley Griffin by this Section.

Safety Education Section
The Section aims at safety education in the fields of road traffic and in the home and is directed particularly to school children. It also stresses the role of a Police Force in the community.

Staffed by 1 Sergeant and 4 Constables, including 1 Police Woman, those members have lectured some 64,000 school children and adults over the year, and specifically instructed over 10,800 (9,405) children on bicycle safety at the Children's Traffic Demonstration Centre, Deakin.

School: Visited

Members of the Section have visited all Pre-schools and spoken to the children on the simple rules of road safety. In addition, a programme involving two visits per year to both Government and private Infant and Primary Schools was undertaken.

Visits were made to High Schools upon request from the Headmaster, where suitable arrangements could be made to conform with the school syllabus. It is gratifying to see the interest displayed by staff and pupils on those visits and indicates the importance of expanding this area in the interest of good Police/Public Relations.

Children's Traffic Centre

The Centre commenced operating in May, 1971, and has been successful in promoting bicycle safety and public relations with the Centre and parents. The Centre has received many visitors from interstate and from authorities overseas. Approximately 31,000 children have attended, and that number has been supplemented by groups from various organisations. The Bicycle Safety Campaign was run over a period of three weeks during the Christmas Holidays, in conjunction with the 'Canberra Times' newspaper, and was attended by 1,400 children aged between 8 and 14 years.

Upon request of the Department of Defence (Navy), the Sergeant-in-Charge of the Section has joined Navy ships at their first port of call after prolonged overseas tours of duty. That member has lectured to the ships' companies on aspects of road safety during the final passage to their home port. The lectures covered defensive driving, the effects of alcohol on driving and general revision of road traffic rules because of the Navy's concern regarding serious road accidents and injury to their personnel whilst on leave. Similarly, lectures have been delivered to personnel of the local R.A.A.F. and Naval installations.

A summary of the Section's activities is as follows:

| School Visits: | Pre-School | 69 |

CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION DIVISION

The Criminal Investigation Division is responsible for the investigation of all serious crime in the Territory and the maintenance of criminal records. The Division is divided into the following Sections:

- General Squad; Fraud Squad; Drug Squad; Armed Offenders Squad; Women Police; Scientific Section; Information Section.

Due to increases in the larceny of motor vehicles and larceny of property from motor vehicles, two members of the Division were engaged almost solely in the investigation of these types of offences. Those two members were supplemented during recent months by an additional two members who have been similarly engaged.

During December 1973, organisational changes resulted in the administration of the Scientific and Information Sections being transferred to the Criminal Investigation Division. As a result the Divisional strength increased from 47 to 63 personnel.

Serious Crimes Reported and Investigated

On 4 April 1974, the nude body of Mary Annie Bertram, a resident of Canberra, was located near Sutton, some fifteen miles from Canberra City. In view of the body having been located in the State of New South Wales and having regard to the distinct possibility that the deceased was murdered in the Australian Capital Territory, investigations have been conducted by both New South Wales Detectives and members of this Division. Despite extensive enquiries since the body was located no charges have been laid.

Fraud Squad

The Fraud Squad, consisting of 8 members, conducted approximately 353 fraud investigations. The total value of property associated with such investigations, where arrests have been effected, totalled about $39,300. Valueless cheques received by complainants and investigated by members of this Squad had a face value of about $15,200.

Drug Squad

The Drug Squad consists of a Detective Sergeant and a Constable and is responsible for drug investigation in this Territory. The Squad has a particularly close liaison with the Federal Narcotics Bureau and was responsible for the arrest of 44 persons who were charged with a total of 58 drug offences.

2 persons whose deaths were attributed to drug abuse were investigated and the Squad assisted in enquiries in Cooma and Sydney following the deaths of A.C.T. residents in those areas from similar causes.

Hospitals in the Canberra area have sought assistance of Drug Squad Officers to identify patients who have been admitted suffering from overdoses of drugs.

Members of the Squad are frequently invited to deliver lectures to various organisations on drug dependence.

Armed Offenders Squad

The Armed Offenders Squad has been supplemented by additional members from other Divisions to form a unit specially trained to combat hi-jacking of aircraft and terrorist activities. Periods of training have been undertaken on an average of about two monthly intervals which has resulted in members attaining a high degree of efficiency in the use of sophisticated firearms, and tactical operations.

The Armed Offenders Squad participated in one operation during February, 1974, when armed aboriginals detained four persons in an office at the Department of Aboriginal Affairs, Phillip. The persons responsible for this incident have been charged before a Canberra Court and committed for trial.

Women Police

The Women Police Section was increased in strength by the recruitment of six additional members. The Section now consists of:

- 1 Sergeant Second Class
- 1 Senior Constable (attached to the Information Section)
- 8 Constables
- 4 Probationary Constables (currently undergoing training)

During November, 1973, four members of this Section were transferred to Number 1 (Headquarters) Division to supplement the manpower in that Division. Their duties within that Division have been the manning of the General Enquiry Office, and to replace male members.

The Section is playing an increasing Welfare role in the Community. During the year a total of 504 enquiries of this nature were handled by the Section.

Members of the Women Police are frequently invited to address community groups on juvenile problems and the role of Police Women.

A summary of their activities is set out hereunder:

Scientific Section

This Section comprises 1 Sergeant Third Class and 6 Constables. Members are trained and are qualified in the fields of photography, fingerprints, explosives and examination of crime scenes.

The complete details of the year's activities are contained in Appendix G.

Information Section

Following the Police Commissioners' Conference in 1973 a revised method of recording offences reported, and the number of persons involved, was introduced.
This method standardized the recording procedure in all States.
Approximately 70,000 criminal and traffic enquiries were undertaken and assessed. An additional 2,000 Criminal Record Dockets were added.
Details of crimes reported and persons charged are contained in Appendices J and K.

Missing Persons
There were 250 persons reported missing, 104 males and 146 females. 178 were under the age of 18 years. There are 10 persons still missing, 9 males and 1 female, 3 being under the age of 18 years.

MANAGEMENT SERVICES DIVISION
The Management Services Division is divided into four Sections, viz., Administration, Legal, Licensing and Technical, and is responsible for future planning, placement of personnel, discipline, preparation of Court briefs, adjudication of criminal and traffic offences, service of process, the policing of licensed premises and the technical services of the Force.

Administration Section
This Section is concerned with the future planning for this Force in the areas of manpower and buildings. Negotiations are taking place with the Department of Services and Property to secure premises at Phillip as a storage area and a building in Lonsdale Street, Braddon to house the Traffic Division and so relieve Police Headquarters of its congestion. These negotiations are well advanced and it is anticipated that the Police will occupy both buildings early in the new financial year.
On 2 July, 1973, at the direction of the Attorney-General, 7 police prosecutors were transferred from this Section to the Office of the Deputy Crown Solicitor to assist in prosecuting cases before the Court of Petty Sessions and the Children's Court. Following these transfers the former prosecuting section was restructured and is now known as the Legal Section.

Legal Section
This Section is responsible for the adjudication of all criminal and traffic offences reported by Police as well as the service of all process and the execution of warrants received from the Canberra Court of Petty Sessions and from interstate sources. The Section also contains a Coroner's Officer who is responsible for providing assistance to Police on coronial enquiries and to the Coroner during coronial enquiries.
The Section adjudicated on 13,336 breaches of the Motor Traffic Ordinance, of which 1,033 were the result of motor vehicle collisions. Following adjudication, 11,882 were summoned to appear before the Court, 1,062 were invited to attend lectures at Police Headquarters on defensive driving and general road safety, 122 were issued with official cautions and 'no action' was taken on the remaining 280.
A total of 15,366 summonses were served in the Canberra district including 2,011 received from interstate. In addition the Section served 1,601 summonses to witnesses to attend Court.

Coroner's Officer
The Coroner's Officer assisted Police in the investigation of 174 deaths and 162 fires.

Licensing Section
The number of licences currently in force, compared with those in force as at 30 June, 1973 are as follows:

Special Permits:

A total of 969 applications for special permits were received, an increase of 74 on the previous year. There were no objections lodged to the grant of a Special Permit.

Booth Licences:

There were 112 applications received for the granting of booth licences. One was objected to and this was upheld by the Licensing Court.

Licensed premises in the Australian Capital Territory continue to be of a high standard. There were no objections to any licences lodged by this Section and also there were no objections lodged by other persons; this could be due to recent amendments to the Liquor Ordinance. The increase in Bistro licences is caused by the decision to change the present liquor legislation.

The following licences were granted or renewed during the year, following a character check by this Section:

Character checks were also conducted in relation to twenty-six money lenders' certificates, an increase of nineteen on the previous year, twenty-nine applicants for milk vendors' permits, an increase of two, and numerous enquiries regarding character standing of applicants for licences in other States.

Applications for the following licences were heard and determined by the Court, following a report from this Section:

Technical Services Section

The Technical Services Section carries out the procurement, installation and maintenance duties for radio equipment, breathalysers, amphotometers, test equipment and electronic devices in support of Police activities.

480 various types of equipment were maintained by the Section's 3 Technical Officers and 2 Trainees, who provided diagnosis and rectification of 1,315 recorded unscheduled failures.

Training in communication techniques was provided by the Section for recruit courses, specialist squads and radio operators of the Mobile Communications Unit.

13 police members were trained in the deployment, erection and operation of the unit, and its 7 fixed radio systems, portable transceivers and loudhailer equipment.

Ultra high frequency base stations have been installed to replace systems being phased out in the Force's change to ultra high frequency band of operation. 27 mobile and 20 portable radio units have been purchased to equip vehicles and patrols respectively and are in use on the new system. The equipping of motor cyclists with portable radio units has proven satisfactory, and is being studied by other Police Forces for incorporation in their respective motor cycle fleets.

The radio installations at Jervis Bay were visited and checked 4 times by members of the Section, and on the final visit a refit to the Police launch was carried out. A radio compass navigation aid and a high frequency transceiver were installed and tested. The navigation aid will assist the launch in pinpointing its position at sea and provide homing facilities to radio fitted vessels in distress. The transceiver will... provide communications facilities with N.S.W. and A.C.T. Police, Royal Australian Navy Search and Rescue Units, Volunteer Coastal Patrol, Small Ships and Coastal Radio Stations (Marine Rescue Centre). This unit has been effective in rescue operations involving the launch.

The staffing situation of the Section has remained unchanged, although a Public Service Board review recommended an increase of 2 Technical Officers Grade 2, and 2 Technical Assistants Grade 2 in December 1973.

The complement of the Section will then be as follows:

RECRUITMENT AND TRAINING DIVISION

Recruitment

1,714 enquiries were received in relation to careers with the A.C.T. Police Force. Only 382 applications resulted from these enquiries and 216 applicants failed during the selection process. A breakdown of the 216 unsuccessful applicants is set out hereunder:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Reason</th>
<th>Number</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>

<td>Failed to meet medical requirements</td>

<tr>

<td>58</td>
</tr>
<tr>

<td>112</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

234 applicants were interviewed and a further 26 are awaiting interviews.

Recruit Training

In keeping with modern training techniques, the Recruit Training Programme of the Australian Capital Territory Police Force is constantly updated to meet current community trends. The current training programme is designed so that the functional skills, which are taught by specially selected personnel, are adequately supported by the lecturers outside the Force who are skilled in their various subjects. These subjects include criminology, mental health, family crisis, drug and alcohol abuse, English comprehension, first-aid, Australian Government, public speaking, local geography, public relations, the Australian legal system, court procedure and the history and future development of the National Capital. In addition there are a number of physical activities including unarmed combat, weapon training, physical culture as well as a variety of physical sports.

Lecturers are drawn from the Australian National University, the Australian Institute of Criminology, the Canberra Technical College, the Australian Parliament, training officers from various Australian Government Departments, the Canberra Ambulance Service, the A.C.T. Health Services, Royal Military College, National Capital Development Commission and Lifeline. A recent development has been to invite the Legal Workshop of the A.N.U. Law School to join with police recruits in moot courts and these are now operating successfully under the guidance of a Stipendiary Magistrate.

There were five Recruit Intake Courses during the year, comprising 121 men and 6 women. Of these, 5 recruits did not meet the training requirements, 7 resigned of their own accord. At 30 June 1974, there were 71 Constables in training.

In-Service Training

The Division is responsible for providing a variety of in-service training courses for personnel and these include:

- Accident Investigation Course
- Instructors' Course
- Sergeants' Course
- Investigators' Course
- Motor Cycle and Traffic Law Enforcement Techniques Course
In addition, courses are provided to prepare Police for promotion examinations at all levels up to and including Sergeant First Class.
