CUYAHOGA COUNTY SHERIFF'S DEPARTMENT

1973 ANNUAL REPORT

For the Cuyahoga County Sheriff's Department, the year of 1973 was a year of action. The formative years of 1969, 1970, 1971, and 1972 saw this department emerging from a loosely knit, hodge-podge organization into a more definitive, professionalized unit.

Most of the programs initiated in our preceding years became fruitful in 1973 and were reflected in the productivity of each division. While we still have a long way to go; i.e., microfiche, microfilm, and computerization, using all of the manual techniques available we have updated our department, literally bringing it from the 19th to the 20th century in the short span of 5 years.

As is noted in the subsequent pages, each division has an outstanding record to relate to you the public, our employers. While our Improvements and Programs as projected for this past year were not all we desired, they were the result of a hard struggle for the dollars necessary for implementation.

The Training and Inspection Division is to be commended for the yeoman job they accomplished in attempting to stem the tide of our trained personnel leaving for more lucrative positions on other Police Departments. We hope that by restructuring the pay grades we will be able to give substantial increases and alleviate this situation in 1974.

The Detective Bureau, hampered by a shortage of manpower, relates an enviable record in the amount of capiases cleared as opposed to those received. This was done while still lending their expertise to other Cuyahoga County Law Enforcement agencies requesting assistance.

Our Sheriff's Police Division, charged with the security and protection of the Courts as well as the movement of all prisoners, submits an annual report that reflects their progressive upgrading. A report that cannot put into words, or figures, the moments of anxiety in a courtroom during a trial when the very air is charged with tenseness. Countless hours of overtime are consumed when a jury must be protected during their late night deliberations.

The Purchasing/Payroll Division, one of the less glamorous divisions, BUT in reality the backbone and mainstay of the Sheriff's Department, has also done an admirable job in this past year. A year that saw them completing their assigned task of obtaining the food and supplies so necessary for the operation of the County Jail during times when we had definite shortages and truckers' strikes.

The Civil Division handles all the paper process generated by the Justice System. A system that added additional judges and increased their paper process by 20% over the previous year. The Sheriff's Civil Division managed to keep abreast of the increase, serving the 20% additional process without the additional funding of extra personnel. This Division handled $13.6 million in land sales during 1973, an increase of $1.4 million over the preceding year!

The Special Services and Community Activities Division, although very active in past years, assumed even more responsibilities in 1973. Along with the other duties, this Division established a Departmental Blood Bank which has already proven to be invaluable to date. Also, much research was done and data collected on Drug Abuse and the proposed Cuyahoga County Justice Center.

The Inmate Process & Records Division is charged with the initiating, handling, and filing of all criminal process. The files that they maintain are invaluable to all county law enforcement agencies. They have truly become the central repository for criminal records in Cuyahoga County. This Division, through LEAA grant funds, should be the recipient of new mechanized files, all records microfilmed and its own computerization during the year of 1974. The system, known as SIS (Sheriff's Information System), will make available all the criminal files to those agencies entitled to this information. It will interface with the State of Ohio (LEADS) and the NCIC (National Crime Information Center) in Washington, D. C.

The largest division in the Sheriff's Department is the Security Division. This division has the duty of handling all persons charged with a criminal offense, whether released on bail or remanded to the County Jail. The history of the Security Division is accurately told in the cold hard facts of their attached reports.

They reflect that we have not had a successful jail break during the preceding year! A record that has not been equaled in many years. This can be directly attributed to alertness and supervision, as well as the sophisticated detection equipment installed in the County Jail during the Sheriff's tenure in office.

While the figures reflect that we 'booked' 611 MORE prisoners into the County Jail in 1973 than were 'booked' in the year 1972, they also show that we 'released' 1,198 LESS!

One of the Security Division's reports show that we have a declining jail population, that the monthly averages for 1972 totaled 6,309 while 1973 monthly averages totaled 6,037 - A NET DECREASE OF 772 INMATES.

The many innovative programs geared to the rehabilitation of sentenced as well as pre-trial inmates are listed in the subsequent reporting of this division. While the results of these new programs cannot be evaluated at this time, it is hoped that the future will indicate a slow-down in recidivism.

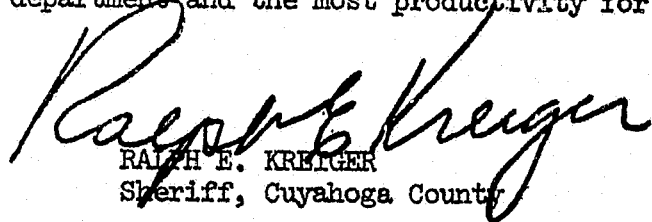

Your Sheriff, at the outset of his first term, declared an 'open door' policy as to the public viewing the Cuyahoga County Jail. This policy reaped its reward in the passage of a Bond Issue for a new Corrections Center. An aware public is a concerned public. This is indicated in the number of visitors who toured the County Jail.

We had, as did many Institutions across the United States, problems with Inmate unrest in the year 1972 BUT significantly the one item that the Inmates did not complain about in the Cuyahoga County Jail was FOOD. The meals served in 1973 were wholesome and nutritious. A fact that speaks well of the Food Section of the Security Division.

The Chaplain's report is very informative and reflective of yet another service provided to the Inmates of the County Jail. A service deemed so vital that their salaries are being funded by an anonymous benefactor residing in Cuyahoga County.

In summary, while it may appear that we have 'plateaued' in our new programs for the year 1973, more correctly we have just begun to analyze our past performances, take a correct bearing on our goals, and plan our future programs for the needs of the department and the most productivity for the taxpayers dollars.

SHERIFF'S POLICE UNIT

The following constitutes a synopsis of the functions of the Sheriff's Police Unit for the Fiscal Year of 1973.

The Sheriff's Police Unit consists of forty one (41) Officers. This includes one (1) Lieutenant, one (1) Sergeant, and one (1) female Deputy. The primary responsibilities for this unit are courtroom security, Institutional transportation, Metro-General Hospital, Probate transportation and Suburban transportation.

It is the practice of the Sheriff's Police Unit to assign a minimum of four (4) men to Special Duty with the Detective Bureau on a permanent basis.

It was necessary to operate below minimum strength during most of 1973 which accounted for most of the overtime accumulated by this unit.

In summary, it is the opinion of this officer that with the new reorganization of several units within the department, working within our allotted manpower allocations of forty five (45) men, and a more efficient scheduling procedure, this will eliminate excessive overtime.

Respectfully submitted,
Lt. Ricardo Brown

SPECIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY ACTIVITIES DIVISION

Since its inception, the division has attempted to involve department personnel in many necessary programs and activities. While the primary function of this division has been one of assistance, it has in many areas been a hub of services demanded of a staff limited in numbers.

The printing of numerous forms; their classification design and cataloging in the year 1973 served the entire Cuyahoga County Sheriff's Department. A total expenditure of 556 reams of paper yielded approximately 280,000 printed impressions. Measured in dollars and cents, this total printing bill would probably exceed $6,000. But, in emergency availability, this printing service has averted many problems in the Jail Division, Records, Civil Division and the Administrative Offices.

Blood Bank: One of the most personal services to department members and their families, the Blood Bank formation was attempted on several occasions and its beginning was finalized in 1973 by a desperate need of innocent children at the Burns Institute of Cincinnati, Ohio. The volunteer response was so great that a surplus bank was formed and a reserve total of 120 pints of blood for emergency needs of members of the bank and their families was established. The Special Services Division has also participated in obtaining rare and less common types of blood on several lifesaving situations.

News Releases: In the interest of public inquiry of factual news items from a very active department dealing with a variety of subjects ranging from attempted jail breaks to police functions and administrative activities have been released in a fair manner to all phases of the news media on a 24 hour basis.

Research: Several vital issues of an ongoing nature have faced law enforcement in general and specifically the Cuyahoga County Sheriff's Department. Among the many were the issues of Drug Abuse and the Justice Center.

Drug Abuse is not only a problem facing jail authorities and police departments, but also an alarmed community who has constantly besieged the Sheriff's Department for information and assistance in what many communities feel is a hopeless situation. Information in this sensitive area had to be based on medical resources, legal aspects, United Nations Rules and Regulations and surveys of every type. Misinformed experts have unknowingly promulgated drug abuse and created an aura of surrender.

The Justice Center - an unpopular subject with established powers deals with decades of human misery not measured in dollars but dictated by the needs of a County aware of not only the problems of persons charged with crimes but also the citizen victim who is most often forgotten.

Research in this vital area was not only gleaned from volumes of books written on the subject but by many hours of contact with other Sheriff's Departments, Bureau of Prisons, and other County agencies involved in similar structures.

Speaker's Bureau: It has been the Sheriff's wish that each employee share in the moral responsibility of protecting the general public from the elements of apathy as it relates to the subject of crime. While this can be done somewhat through general law enforcement, another important tool is the Cuyahoga County Sheriff's Department Speaker's Bureau.

This Bureau, operated on a volunteer basis, has been responsible for disseminating to not only the general public but also interested groups involved in education.

Pistol Packing Santa's Helpers: Each year the Deputies of Cuyahoga County retrieve the non-deliverable letters addressed to Santa Claus, read them, and determine by need the distribution of toys ranging from bicycles to roller skates. These gifts paid for by Deputy contributions and private groups are then distributed on Christmas Eve.

In 1973, 150 needy children received toys. These children because of economic circumstances would not have received any Christmas joy had it not been for the Deputies of the Cuyahoga County Sheriff's Department.

As of this writing, figures are not available on how many inmates attended the offered services, although the Chaplins Office estimates an average of 12 inmates attending each Service. This would leave an estimated total of 3,120 inmates attending the Services of their faith.

REPORT OF THE CHAPLAINS FOR THE YEAR 1973

During the past year, Chaplain David S. Witwer has spent four days of each week in Cuyahoga County Jail and he can point to definite accomplishments. The inmates no longer look upon him as an outsider, but as one of them, dedicated to help with compassion and concern. Word has gotten around that the Chaplains can be trusted and that they can be of help in many different ways. They are not just "preachers".

It is true that the majority of inmates in the jail do not want to be saved "from their sins", but rather saved "with them". Chaplain Witwer is certain this holds true of many on the outside of prison walls.

Chaplain Arnold Elfers is in the jail on Thursdays when Chaplain Witwer works in St. Vincent Charity Hospital and Huron Road Hospital. Together they evaluate inmates and offer compensatory services. Chaplain Elfers frequently finds inmates in the jail that he has worked with in previous years in the Detention Home.

All services are provided on the premise that their lives will take a new direction and that they will "see the light", and want to follow it. Chaplain Witwer does not feel that any changes can take place in their lives unless they can be "changed on the inside", and want the new spiritual dimension. Even for those who are not willing to change just yet, the Church is at work bearing witness to the truth. These seeds may take root years from now and eventually bear fruit. When a man straightens himself out with God on the inside, the outside works just have to fall into the right place. As Dr. Jung states in his classic book on spiritual life, "In all my years of practice as a psychiatrist, I cannot remember a single instance of a person regaining his mental health without first straightening out his relation to his God."

The following list enumerates the most common services which the Chaplains provide for the inmates:

1. Counseling is the most important function. Regardless of their request, Chaplain Witwer will usually try to help them think through their relationship with their creator. Goals and objectives for making a full life is more important than making a living. The Church is here bearing witness.
2. Communication to wife, mother, sweetheart, boss, attorney, parole officer is the most common request. The inmate is permitted one call per week and if the person he is trying to call is out, he must wait for another week. Then the Chaplain reports back.
3. Dispersment of clothing. Since last March 16th, 103 persons have been supplied with clothing. Most of these persons received a complete suit or a matching coat with contrasting color. Many of these men came in during the summer in shirt sleeves or even shorts. Others come from Municipal Court clothed in a paper suit if their charge happens to be in realm of drug abuse. A prominent Cleveland clothing manufacturer has made these gifts possible.

4. Arrangements for worship services. Every Tuesday evening at 6:00 P.M., every Sunday at 8:00 A.M. and Mass is provided at 9:00 A.M. Sunday with interfaith service following. Ministers from several congregations participate.
5. Dispensing of religious literature and magazines. Some secular magazines such as Reader's Digest and National Geographic are also given out. We are most happy to give out a limited number of new bibles called "The Way". These bibles retail for $5.95 each. The "Scripture Mission Press" has donated 50 of these new bibles. There is a great demand for these. We also have many "King James" editions, many of which were donated by the Gideons.
6. Assistance in rehabilitation. Many calls and interviews have been held to restore family unity and harmony, or to maintain it. These who have no place to go are given recommendations to various institutions on a temporary basis until they can get on their feet.
7. Three bible study groups have been formed. This is repeated as often as we can get persons interested.
8. Arrangements for Christmas Service. Exceptions were made for Christmas services so that about 100 persons were permitted to come to each of five services arranged. Otherwise, only about fifteen persons are permitted to congregate in Church because of security. Many off duty Deputies donated their time to make these services possible.

THE CUYAHOGA COUNTY JAIL CORRECTIONAL SERVICES PROJECT

The Cuyahoga County Jail Correctional Services Project was created by Sheriff Ralph E. Kreiger in conjunction with the County Commissioners and Mrs. Gwen Baskett to assist the inmates, their families and the community. The program is designed to derive a more comprehensive and cooperative understanding between the inmates and the community from which he or she came. The program was started early in mid 1973.

Description of Services

The typical person in a local jail arrives in a state of emotional shock, economically destitute, or at odds with his family. The individual may be a drug user, problem drinker, or suffering from a health problem or in need of legal services.

More often than not, studies have indicated that the above pressures or problems cause the individual to have difficulties adjusting to the prison environment. It is at this point that we want to offer Social Services to the individual, attempting to give him or her some ideas about the system and services that are available to them, and attempting to alleviate crisis situations.

To develop a comprehensive and effective social and correctional service delivery system that will be able to classify and place inmates according to security regulations, their physical, psychological and social service needs.

It is believed that such a program, along with the crisis intervention program will alleviate some of the jail's present difficulties.

Being an advocate for the inmate. This will consist of guidance and counseling of personal problems, emotional, family problems, and crisis situations. Examples:

- Social Service Agencies
- Contacting Landlords
- Creditors
- Lawyers
- Families

This service will be provided within the institution and outside depending upon the status of the inmate or the individual.

Providing welfare services. The eligibility for welfare and other social services will be determined by the guidelines of the Cuyahoga County Welfare Department.

To provide the necessary medical information centered around the health of the newly arrived inmate's physical condition.

Public Library, Basic Education and Vocation Rehabilitation Programs. Since the majority of the inmates are of the age twenty-six and under, effort will be made to encourage them to utilize the improved "Library Service". This is five half days per week from two half days per week. The Librarian will attempt to assess his or her educational needs according to their capability.

It is also hoped that within the new Justice Center a basic educational section will be implemented to provide the following services:

- (a) Remedial education, speech therapy, preparation for G.E.D. testing, etc.
- (b) A vocational rehabilitation program, to provide for the inmates who will be incarcerated for thirty days or more, who meet the requirements of the State Dept. of Vocational Rehabilitation. Example:

Films and discussion programs on different topics of interest, job skills, work habits, etc.

Recreational Services. Implementation of the present recreational services on a daily basis, helping to eliminate a great deal of the inmate's excessive energy and aggressions. To develop constructive leisure time habits, to provide opportunities for certain skills development and individual motivation.

Future Goals of The Program

The future of the Inmate Crisis Program has several goals:

1. Offering realistic Counseling and Social Services to the inmates and their families, hopefully this will be a part of his (her) rehabilitation.
2. Making referrals for vocational training, employment agencies. Continued personal or family counseling or psychiatric out patient referrals to local mental hospitals for better emotional, psychological and mental health adjustment.
3. Hopefully, many inmates will take advantage of the Adult Education Program and receive their high school diploma equivalent and be able to become better financially and stably employed and constructively independent.
4. To make better and more concerned citizens of the community with respect for themselves, the law, others property and their moral, religious principles and beliefs and to develop a better value system.

5. The new Justice Center will provide new opportunities for many more programs. New innovations will be unlimited due to better facilities, larger Social Services Staff, and more jail personnel, better and faster community action from professionals such as attorneys and other referral agencies.
6. Research is a goal for the future. Looking into certain programs of other penal institutions that may be adopted to the needs and setting of the present jail and particularly the new Justice Center.
 - (a) Checking institutions that have present programs.
 - (b) Checking with the Social Services Departments of certain colleges and universities. Criminal Rehabilitation Research Program of the Ohio State University. They have a several phase research program to obtain research information from each criminal involved in the program. Some inmates from Cuyahoga County Jail have been used in their program. A few psychological tests have been given in the jail for their evaluation.
 - (c) Long term statistical reports and reviews at the County Jail may provide valuable information that may be applicable for the future. Some information may be available by the time the new Justice Center opens. The Human Designs Lab of Case Western Reserve University has begun to become an active participant.
 - (d) Review of films may provide certain information and innovations to provide better services to inmates and their families by the Social Services Department.
 - (e) Other possible ideas, suggestions, recommendations by Board Committee and other concerned persons and agencies.
 - (f) Helping to motivate the inmate to short and long term goals that will become more helpful to his (her) life's success.

Goals of The Educational Program

1. To help the inmate further develop the essentials which will help him achieve self development.
2. To acquire the basic skills necessary to function in a materialistic society.
3. To re-emphasize the idea of self learning and meaning of freedom.
4. To develop a systematic method which will enable inmates to progress at his own pace and measure his own progress.
5. To increase motivation within each student.

6. Challenge inmates to look at their present practices, evaluate results and make changes that can lead to more satisfying lives.

Other Concerned Agencies

The Library and Educational Programs have become a very important part of the services to the inmates.

On July 2, 1973, an agreement was signed between the Board of County Commissioners of Cuyahoga County and the Cleveland Public Library in which the County engaged the Library to provide books and a Librarian for the program. The Library's role in the program is to expand the weekly service that it has provided since 1934; namely, providing a Librarian to visit inmates in their cellblocks and circulate to them books and periodicals for recreation and study. Hospital and Institutions Department of Outreach Services is the department of the Library responsible for carrying out its project goals. Three staff members are involved.

The expansion goals of the library program to be paid from the project funds are:

1. Increase the book stock available for loan to inmates, especially in such areas as ethnic literature, self-study for job improvement and for passing high school equivalency exams, philosophy, religion, etc.
2. Add in-depth reference service to the book circulation service -- with special emphasis on legal reference. These included the materials specified in the grant agreement:

Schneider's Ohio Criminal Code
Ohio Criminal Law and Practice
Ohio Court Rules

The experience of the Library in the Jail Project has proved that there is definite inmate interest in and need for a dynamic library program. A bank of information is being accumulated on the kinds of legal questions asked by inmates and on the law materials best suited to provide the answers from the viewpoint of content, readability and cost. Frustrations and problems encountered are valuable; even if they cannot be solved in the present facility, they illuminate pitfalls to be avoided in the future quarters at the Justice Center. The immediate aim, however, is to continue attempts to provide the best possible service in the present jail.

No requests have been made for the services of the County Welfare Department by the inmates up to this time.

Summary Resume

The Jail Crisis Project is now basically meeting the needs of the inmates. Problem areas are being dealt with so as to prevent blocking the program or causing any further slump and relieving Deputies of these responsibilities and easing tension between the Jail Staff and the inmate.

Present plans are to increase staff and expand the Library and Educational Program. The Board Committee plans to meet more frequently and work on problem areas to help derive a more comprehensive in-depth service program to the inmates and their families.

Major Andrew Crawford of the Sheriff's Department has been named the new Project Coordinating Supervisor.

Col. Al Brockhurst
