Administrator for his help in compiling data.

Judicial Council Executive Secretary

INTRODUCTION

The North Dakota Judicial Council was established as an arm of the judicial branch of State Government in 1927. Present statutory language governing the Judicial Council is found in Chapter 27-15 of the North Dakota Century Code.

The Council is composed of the following members:

1. All judges of the supreme court, district courts, and county courts of increased jurisdiction in the state;
2. The attorney general;
3. The dean of the school of law of the university;
4. Five members of the bar who are engaged in the practice of law who are chosen by the executive committee of the state bar association;
5. All retired judges of the supreme and district courts of the state.

In general, the Judicial Council is given the duty to make a continuous study of the judicial system of the state to the end that procedure may be simplified, business expedited and justice better administered. The members of the Council serve without compensation, but are allowed necessary expenses which are incurred in the discharge of their duties. The Chief Justice of the North Dakota Supreme Court serves as Chairman of the Judicial Council.

There are two regular meetings of the Judicial Council held each year and the chairman may call special meetings from time to time.

The Judicial Council employs an executive secretary to assist in its duties. Through the Council, the executive secretary is empowered to gather and publish statistical data concerning the courts, judges and officers thereof; to make recommendations to the Council for improvement of the judicial system; hold public hearings on behalf of the Council; and in general to lend any assistance to the Council in its efforts to improve the State's judicial system.

In 1971, the Judicial Council received a two-year grant from the North Dakota Combined Law Enforcement Council to employ a full-time Judicial Council Executive Secretary-Court Administrator. On October 1, 1971, the Chief Justice, Alvin C. Strutz, appointed Mr. Calvin N. Rolfson to fill that position, which appointment was confirmed by the Judicial Council at its October 1971 meeting. Mr. Rolfson serves both in the capacity of Judicial Council Executive Secretary and as State Court Administrator for the North Dakota Supreme Court.

Also in 1971, the Supreme Court, through a grant from the Highway Safety Act of 1966 (Public Law 89-564), administered by the North Dakota State Highway Department, employed an Assistant State Court Administrator with a municipal court and traffic court portfolio. On December 1, 1971, Mr. Howard A. Olson was appointed by Chief Justice Strutz to fill that position.

The present members of the North Dakota Judicial Council (as of December 31, 1974) are shown on later pages. There are presently 46 members on the Council.

The following pages of this report contain various charts, graphs, tables and the like, and represent judicial activity during the last half of calendar year 1974. The statistics portrayed herein do not necessarily indicate judicial accomplishments, nor are they intended to show the amount of work a particular judge has done, but how much he has to do, the status of his docket, and the amount of workload that is placed upon him and his court. With this information, certain trends can be determined in order to assist the Supreme Court in its judicial supervisory capacity and in its desire to see that justice in North Dakota is fairly and expeditiously administered.

The expenses of all other members of the council shall be audited and paid from the state bar fund in the same manner as other claims against such fund are paid except that in the matter of mileage expenses, the retired judges who are members of the council shall be paid such only for travel within the state.

A STATISTICAL OVERVIEW OF SELECTED
NORTH DAKOTA DISTRICT COURTS

Since the North Dakota judicial system provides a very necessary and vital service to our state and its people, it is important to assess, from time to time, the adequacy of the number of judges and support personnel to meet the needs of any given area and assure efficient and expeditious handling of cases. For this reason the following charts and graphs have been compiled on case load activity of district courts in North Dakota. Selected years, over the last decade, have been used with activity levels divided into three categories, namely, civil cases, criminal cases and juvenile proceedings. Following the graphs in the above categories are additional graphs illustrating the percentage of filed cases decided during the reporting period to show the degree to which case-load has changed and to give the reader an opportunity to review how expeditiously the cases are being decided.

These graphs are not intended to indicate how hard the District Judges in one judicial district are working compared to other districts. This data is merely supplied as one uniform measurement of workload.

The following comments will address current and future problems in the first and fourth judicial districts relative to case load, cases decided, and demographic changes in the last decade. Later publications will focus on statistics from other judicial districts.

FIRST JUDICIAL DISTRICT

The first judicial district encompasses the counties of Barnes, Cass, Grand Forks, Griggs, Nelson, Steele and Traill. Since 1960 the population has increased by 22,400 with the greatest impact in Cass and Grand Forks counties. 1985 population projections suggest an increase in the twin cities of Fargo, North Dakota-Moorhead, Minnesota of 49% to 142,100. The increase for Grand Forks is anticipated at 27% to 61,900. As the population increases it follows that the level of litigation will increase on a proportionate basis.¹

¹"Recent Trends/Future Prospects-A Look at Upper Midwest Population Changes," by Neil C. Gustafson, Associate Director, Upper Midwest Council, Federal Reserve Bank Building, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

A review of the following data from selected years of the North Dakota Judicial Council Statistical Compilation and Report shows changes in the number of filings by case categories of civil, criminal and juvenile; and also the percentage increase from the earlier selected reporting period. The bar graph following the data on cases shows the filed number and percentage of cases decided for the same reporting period. The reader should note that the percentage of cases decided has generally decreased. This decrease in percentage of cases decided can be attributed to a host of reasons. Primarily, however, the data shows an ever-increasing backlog of judicial matters in the first district.

FOURTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT

The fourth judicial district encompasses the counties of Burleigh, Eddy, Foster, Kidder, McLean, Sheridan, Stutsman, and Wells. From 1960 until 1973 the district population has remained the same. However, this can be expected to change markedly by 1985. Projections suggest a 46% increase for Bismarck-Mandan to 70,600 people. Projections for Jamestown show an increase of 29% to 21,300 people.² The increases do not take into consideration potential impact resulting from development of Coal Gasification, and increased electrical generating plant construction north and west of Bismarck-Mandan. Secondly, as the State Capitol and State Penitentiary are located in this district, the vast majority of litigation concerning state agencies flows through the district court in this district.

A review of the bar graphs show an increase in case filings for the last ten years with a stable population base for all categories. As in the case of the first judicial district the percentage of cases decided has been declining suggesting a build up of pending cases.
