OFFENDERS ADMITTED TO ADULT CORRECTIONAL INSTITUTIONS
CALENDAR 1978

A total of 1,541 persons -- 1,446 men and 95 women -- were admitted to Wisconsin adult correctional institutions during 1978. Of these, 1,206 men and 88 women were classified as "first admissions," viz., admitted for a new offense or for violating probation. Another 240 men and 7 women, incarcerated for violating parole or aftercare, were classified as "readmissions." The total number of admissions was down 4 percent from 1,605 admissions in 1977.

Admission Status (Table 1)

Of the 1,206 men classified as first admissions, 58.8 percent were not sentenced as probation violators; another 34.9 percent were probation violators, 81.5 percent of whom were admitted with a new sentence. Of the 88 first-admitted women, 59.1 percent were non-violators and 40.9 percent were probation violators. All of the female probation violators were admitted with a new sentence.

Note: First admissions on all tables include 74 men who were admitted as new youthful offender commitments prior to the July 1, 1978 repeal of the Youthful Offender Statute.

Type of Commitment (Table 2)

There were 1,294 first admissions and 247 readmissions in 1978. Regular felony commitments accounted for 99.0 percent of the men's first admissions, 99.2 percent of the men's readmissions, and all of the women's first admissions and readmissions.

Age (Table 3)

The majority of first-admitted men were under the age of 25, with 26.7 percent aged 19 or under and 35.4 percent aged 20 through 24. An additional 17.7 percent fell between the ages of 25 and 29. The 20 through 24 year category was largest for women also, accounting for 42.0 percent of the first admissions. Additionally, 10.2 percent of the women were aged 19 or under, 18.2 percent were 25 through 29, and 10.2 percent were 30 through 34.

More than two-thirds of the readmitted men were aged 20 through 29, with 38.3 percent aged 20 through 24 and 31.3 percent aged 25 through 29. Men 30 through 34 accounted for 15.0 percent of the readmissions. Of the seven women readmitted, four were in the 25 through 29 group and two in the 30 through 34 age group.

Offense (Table 4)

Burglary was the most common offense category for first-admitted and readmitted men, while forgery was the most common offense category for women. Seven types of offense accounted for 79.0 percent of male first admissions, 80.2 percent of male readmissions, and 61.5 percent of female first admissions, as shown below.

OFFENSE	First-Admitted Men	Readmitted Men	First-Admitted Women
Murder (all degrees)	4.1%	2.1%	2.2%
Robbery (armed and unarmed)	15.6	18.4	12.6
Burglary (unarmed)	30.2	35.4	6.8
Theft (including auto theft and receiving stolen property)	16.3	13.4	7.9
Forgery	6.4	6.7	17.2
Drug law violations	6.4	4.2	14.8

Of the seven readmitted women, three were sentenced for forgery and three for assault.

County of Conviction (Table 5)

Milwaukee County accounted for 40 percent of the 1,541 total admissions in 1978 with 635 commitments (520 first admissions and 115 readmissions). There were 83 commitments from Kenosha County (72 first admissions and 11 readmissions) and 71 commitments from Rock County (56 first admissions and 15 readmissions).

Plea and Multiple Sentencing (Table 6)

Guilty pleas were entered by 81.5 percent of the first admissions (80.9 percent of the men and 90.9 percent of the women); 41.5 percent of the total first admissions received a single sentence; 25.0 percent, concurrent sentences, and 5.0 percent, consecutive sentences. Of the 18.5 percent of total first admissions who pleaded not guilty, the majority received single sentences.

All seven readmitted women and 91.6 percent of the readmitted men pleaded guilty; 45.8 percent received a single sentence; 35.6 percent, concurrent sentences, and 10.5 percent, consecutive sentences. Not guilty pleas were entered by 8.1 percent of the total readmissions.

Length of Sentence (Table 7)

Sentences of less than two years were received by 16.1 percent of total first admissions; of two years, less than three, by 20.9 percent; of three years, less than four, by 22.6 percent; of four years, less than six, by 21.2 percent, and of six years, less than life, by 17.3 percent. Excluding life sentences, the average (mean) sentence for women was 34.9 months, compared with 53.2 months for men.

Among readmissions, 7.7 percent received sentences of less than two years; 11.3 percent, two years, less than three; 19.8 percent, three years, less than four; 30.0 percent, four years, less than six, and 30.8 percent, six years, less than life. Excluding life sentences, the average (mean) sentence was 70.0 months for men and 35.4 months for women.

Race (Table 8)

Total first admissions were comprised of 66.1 percent White offenders; including 2.7 percent Whites of Mexican origin, 30.6 percent Black offenders, and 3.3 percent Native Americans. Whites constituted 60.6 percent of the readmissions (including 2.8 percent Whites of Mexican origin), Blacks, 36.6 percent, and Native Americans, 2.8 percent. Comparing male and female first admissions, more White men were admitted (64.3 percent) than White women (51.1 percent), and fewer non-White men were admitted (33.0 percent) than non-White women (46.6 percent). In all non-White categories there were higher percentages of women than men.

Marital Status (Table 9)

Over three-fourths of first-admitted offenders were single (83.5 percent of the men and 83.0 percent of the women). Of the men 67.9 percent had never been married and 14.5 percent were divorced or separated. Of the women, 48.9 percent had never been married and 33.0 percent were divorced or separated. Six of the seven readmitted women and 77.1 percent of the readmitted men were single.

Previous Felony Convictions (Table 10)

Of the first-admitted men, 56.4 percent had no recorded previous felony conviction, 24.7 percent had one past conviction on record, 11.0 percent had two past convictions, and 7.9 percent had three or more. Of the first-admitted women, 89.8 percent had no previous felony convictions.

Previous Penal Experience (Table 11)

Of the first-admitted men, 38.7 percent had previous penal experience; 17.7 percent had spent time in a Wisconsin state correctional institution; 13.8 percent, in a local jail, and 7.2 percent, in other prisons or reformatories. Only 23.8 percent of the first-admitted women had previous penal experience, 13.6 percent of them in a county or city jail.

Juvenile Institution Experience (Table 12)

More than one-fourth (26.1 percent) of the first-admitted men and 17.0 percent of the first-admitted women had previous juvenile institution experience. Most of these (17.1 percent of the men and 13.6 percent of the women) had been housed in Wisconsin juvenile training schools.

Grade Completed (Table 13)

Less than one-third (29.5 percent) of the first-admitted adults had completed high school or post-high school grades. The highest grade completed was ninth for 13.4 percent, tenth for 20.1 percent, and eleventh for 22.2 percent of the first admissions. The percentage of women who completed grade school and high school was slightly higher than that of men.

Achievement Test (Table 14)

Approximately one-fourth of the first admissions (26.0 percent of the men and 27.2 percent of the women) scored at the tenth grade level or above on achievement tests. Test scores between the seventh and ninth grade levels were registered by 30.1 percent of the men and 39.9 percent of the women. Scores at the sixth grade level or below were registered by 25.9 percent of the men and 31.8 percent of the women. Eighteen percent of the men were not tested at the time data were collected.

Intelligence Estimate (Table 15)

Slightly over one-half of the first admissions were tested for an intelligence estimate. About one-third of those tested (33.1 percent of the men and 34.1 percent of the women) were estimated to be of average or normal intelligence. Another 7.5 percent were estimated to be of bright normal intelligence and 10.6 percent to be dull normal. At the time of the data collection 44.3 percent had not been tested.
