ACQUISITION

A Special Study of the Wisconsin Council on Criminal Justice Affirmative Action/Equal Employment Opportunity Program

Introduction

At the May 20, 1980 meeting of the Wisconsin Council on Criminal Justice (WCCJ), members asked staff to report on the effect the Council's Affirmative Action/Equal Employment Opportunity Program (AA/EEO) has had on Wisconsin's criminal justice system. Following are survey results compiled by WCCJ staff.

Methodology

Upon request of WCCJ staff, Wisconsin's Crime Information Bureau cooperated in collecting employment data from state law enforcement agencies (See Attachment #1). Pursuant to the Council's request the following types of data were collected:

- 1. Males Employed
- Females Employed
- Minorities | Employed
- Full-time Employees
- Part-time Employees 5.
- 6. Officers
- 7. Civilians

In surveying courts and corrections agencies we asked for the numbers of professionals and clericals employed instead of officers and civilians. A computer printout was provided by LEAA. All agencies (74) funded from 1979 through July 1, 1980 were mailed the questionnaire2. Attachment #2 is the survey instrument used.

A number of idiosyncrasies accompanied returns from several agencies. For instance, three (3) agencies did not fill out the questionnaire because there is "a new project director" or "some of the questions were not relevant". Seven (7) agencies answered Part I (statistical information) but did not fill out any of Part II.

Caveats

Because baseline data relating to minorities do not exist, the purpose of this study is to develop such statistics for future studies and provide WCCJ with information available to date. At this time no claims can be made regarding the change effect of WCCJ's AA/EEO program upon the Wisconsin criminal justice system's employment status.

lMinority is defined as including Blacks, Hispanics (Spanish-Surname Americans), American Indians and Asian Americans.

&lt;sup>2</sup>These include 'domestic abuse', 'juvenile justice including shelter care', 'statewide projects', etc.

Findings - Part I

In June the Department of Justice, Crime Information Bureau mailed questionnaires to 647 law enforcement agencies throughout Wisconsin; 591 agencies responded. Table I is a summary of the numbers and types of positions in these agencies from 1975 through July 1, 1980.

The data reveal that, over time, the percentage of male officers has remained fairly constant. A small change occurred in the percentage of male civilians which decreased; female civilians increased. The proportion of female officers, although small, has doubled since 1975.

Table II provides law enforcement data for male and female full-time and part-time employees.

TABLE II:

The vast majority of full-time positions in law enforcement agencies are filled by males (86%). The percentage of females employed part-time in 1980 has increased (from 14% full-time to 24%). The majority of the increase (100%) is in civilian positions (from 16% full-time to 33% part-time). Women account for approximately 4% of all sworn officers.

Table III shows minority law enforcement employees as of July 1, 1980.

The data in Table III shows minority personnel account for approximately 4% of all law enforcement employees. As revealed in Table IIIa there are 336 male sworn officers and 40 females working full-time (Total N = 376). Part-time officers are 16 male and 2 female. Male and female civilians working full-time are 47 and 72 (N = 119) with part-time being 10 and 20, respectively. (The City of Milwaukee has a total of 2,286 law enforcement employees of which 210 are minorities. Therefore, 9% of Milwaukee's Police Department is comprised of minorities.)

*A total of 73 of the 591 law enforcement agencies that responded to the survey employ minorities (12%); 56 agencies reported full-time minority officers; ll agencies reported part-time minority officers.

Findings - Part II

Of 74 agencies mailed the WCCJ questionnaire, 33 (45%) responded (See Table IV). Returns were highest by Shelter Care, Domestic Abuse and Corrections projects and lowest in the Courts, Statewide and Juvenile Justice area.

TABLE IV:

Of all full-time employees (N = 2,245), 49% are male and 51% are female (See Table V) with women out-numbered amongst professionals but dominant in the clerical field. Minorities account for 9% of the full-time workers. This figure is the average for all agencies responding. (A closer look at the data shows that three agencies (Urban League of Racine, Wisconsin Correctional Service and Menominee Indian Tribe) accounted for 48% (N = 101) of the minorities employed by responding agencies.) Of the total 211 minorities employed full-time, 75 are professionals and 36 are clericals; 103 are male, 108 female (See Table VI).

Omitting the five (5) larger employing agencies including Racine County and the Division of Corrections as well as the three (3) stated on page 5 we find minority personnel accounting for 2% of the positions in the remaining 28 agencies. Of the 33 responding agencies, 19 (58%) do not employ minorities.

Some reasons account for some findings in this area. Minorities comprise approximately 5% of Wisconsin's population. A vast majority of survey respondents stated that the major reason for low or no minority employment was that there are few if any minorities living in their jurisdictions.

Other projects explain other heavy populations. For instance, Horizon House, Ananda Marga and Dane County Advocates for Battered Women all employ females.

Table VII shows data for part-time employees. A total of 461 employees work part-time in the responding agencies. Females account for 335 (73%) of these positions while 126 are male; 42 are of minority groups (9%).

Part II of the survey instrument asked questions relating to assistance provided by Wisconsin Council on Criminal Justice's Affirmative Action/Equal Employment Opportunity program. Following are the results for these agencies responding:

1. WHEN DID YOU RECEIVE FUNDS FROM THE WISCONSIN COUNCIL ON CRIMINAL JUSTICE (WCCJ)?

A majority of the respondents received financial assistance between 1977 and 1979. The following shows the years in which respondents received WCCJ funds:

Year	N =
1975	5
1976	9
1977	14
1978	23
1979	25
1980	13

2. WERE YOU REQUIRED BY THE WCCJ TO DEVELOP AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY/AFFIRMATIVE ACTION (EO/AA) PLAN:

Yes = 25 No = 3 Don't Know = 2

Four respondents stated that they already had a plan; one said they used their interim county plan.

3. IF YES, HOW HELPFUL WAS THE WCCJ IN ASSISTING YOU TO DEVELOP YOUR EO/AA PLAN?

A. 8 Helpful

B. 5 Somewhat Helpful

C. 4 Very Helpful

D. 3 Not Helpful

Several projects had the following comments:

- Two said this question was not applicable because they already had plans
- One project said they received written instructions and advice through phone calls
- Two projects said they were unaware if technical assistance was provided
- Three projects did not ask for help nor receive it
- One project received help through the WCCJ regional office

8. WHAT IS THE NUMBER OF MINORITIES NOW?

Total Number = 12212

- 9. WHAT WAS THE NUMBER OF WOMEN ON YOUR STAFF BEFORE WCCJ'S TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE? Total Number = 268
- 10. WHAT IS THE NUMBER NOW?

Total Number = 331

11. IF NO DIFFERENCE EXISTS, PLEASE EXPLAIN WHY YOU BELIEVE A CHANGE HAS NOT OCCURRED?

> In addition to "insufficient funds to attract minorities" and "unavailability of minorities" respondents stated that an "AA/EEO plan was in place prior to WCCJ funding". "very little staff turnover", "there is only one staff position".

- 12. PLEASE PROVIDE ANY OTHER INFORMATION ON YOUR EO/AA EFFORTS SINCE RECEIVING WCCJ FUNDS.
  - We're grateful for technical assistance provided
  - There is a County AA/EEO plan which was reviewed by WCCJ in 1979
  - No minority population in area
  - We've worked closely with the City of Madison regarding our AA
  - The development of an AA/EEO plan has had a positive effect on the whole program

Summary and Conclusion

As stated earlier, the purpose of this study was, where possible, to determine changes in hiring practices since the implementation of WCCJ's AA/EEO program. We have learned how many women are sworn officers in Wisconsin law enforcement agencies and determined changes between 1975 and July 1, 1980. We have developed baseline data for minorities employed in Wisconsin criminal justice agencies. Future studies will be able to compare these numbers over time.

What we did not glean from this study was the effect of the AA/EEO program on the employment of women and minorities in criminal justice agencies. Based upon criminal justice agencies responding to our survey our findings are summarized below:

- Women account for 4% of all sworn law enforcement officers
- 12% of Wisconsin's law enforcement agencies employ minorities
- Minority personnel account for 4% of all law enforcement personnel (3% officers; 5% civilians)
- In other criminal justice fields (i.e., courts, corrections), more women are employed than men (51% 49%)
- Women hold ten times the number of clerical jobs than men
- Men out-number women almost 2:1 in professional positions
- Minorities account for 9% of the full-time and part-time workers
- Minority women are employed less in professional positions than minority men
- Women-related projects employ mostly females
- 83% of WCCJ-funded projects were required to submit an AA/EEO Plan
- Most projects reported AA/EEO staff was helpful
- A majority of projects reported technical assistance by AA/EEO staff did not increase
  - Minorities applying for positions
  - Women applying for positions
  - Minorities on oral selection boards
  - Minorities appointed to positions
  - Minorities receiving training
  - Women receiving training
  - Minorities receiving promotions
  - Women being promoted
- Agencies believe technical assistance provided by AA/EEO staff improved personnel policies and procedures but did not increase opportunities for minorities and women nor all employees
- Numbers of minorities and women employed in agencies increased after the time AA/EEO staff provided technical assistance.
- No improvements were made in increasing appointments for minorities because "no minorities applied", "unavailability of minorities", "agency too small".
