FOREWORD

This is the ninth revision of the publication Directory of Public Training Schools Serving Delinquent Children. The Institutions listed are State and local training schools, camps and reception-diagnostic centers reported as serving delinquent children committed by State and Federal courts in the fifty States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

In addition to the list of institutions, this publication carries other identifying material concerning administrative offices and additional programs such as half-way houses and group homes.

The data published herein has been supplied by the States and is as up-to-date as possible. Frequent changes in personnel may occur; however, correspondence directed to the administrative body responsible for the State program would provide the reader with the most current information.

We wish to express our appreciation to all who have cooperated in providing the information included in the compilation.

ROBERT J. GEMIGNANI
Commissioner
Youth Development and Delinquency Prevention
Administration

NOTE: There is no minimum age for commitments to the Illinois Department of Corrections Juvenile Division. The courts may commit boys up to the age of 17 and girls up to the age of 18; but the Department of Corrections Juvenile Division maintains jurisdiction over its wards until they reach 21. Assignment to a given institution or facility is based on type of treatment program available, rather than on age of ward.
