A MESSAGE FROM THE POLICE CHIEF

It is with a great deal of pride that I present the 1981 Annual Report of the Phoenix Police Department. 1981 was a year filled with accomplishments. For the first time in several years, crime declined in Phoenix. The decrease in crime is, in part, the result of increased community awareness of, and involvement in, crime prevention programs. Programs such as Block Watch, Silent Witness, Crime Stop and Neighborhood Team Policing which rely heavily on community involvement, give testimony to the community's willingness to actively cooperate with law enforcement officers to prevent crime.

Civilianization, new advances in technology, and other productivity improvements have been implemented in a continual effort to maximize the quality of service provided to the citizens of Phoenix for their ever stretching tax dollar. We have been and are continuing to test new methods of deployment, such as 4-10, to provide more efficient and cost-effective manpower distribution in response to service needs.

The following report will acquaint you with the detailed accomplishments of the Phoenix Police Department over the past year.

HISTORY

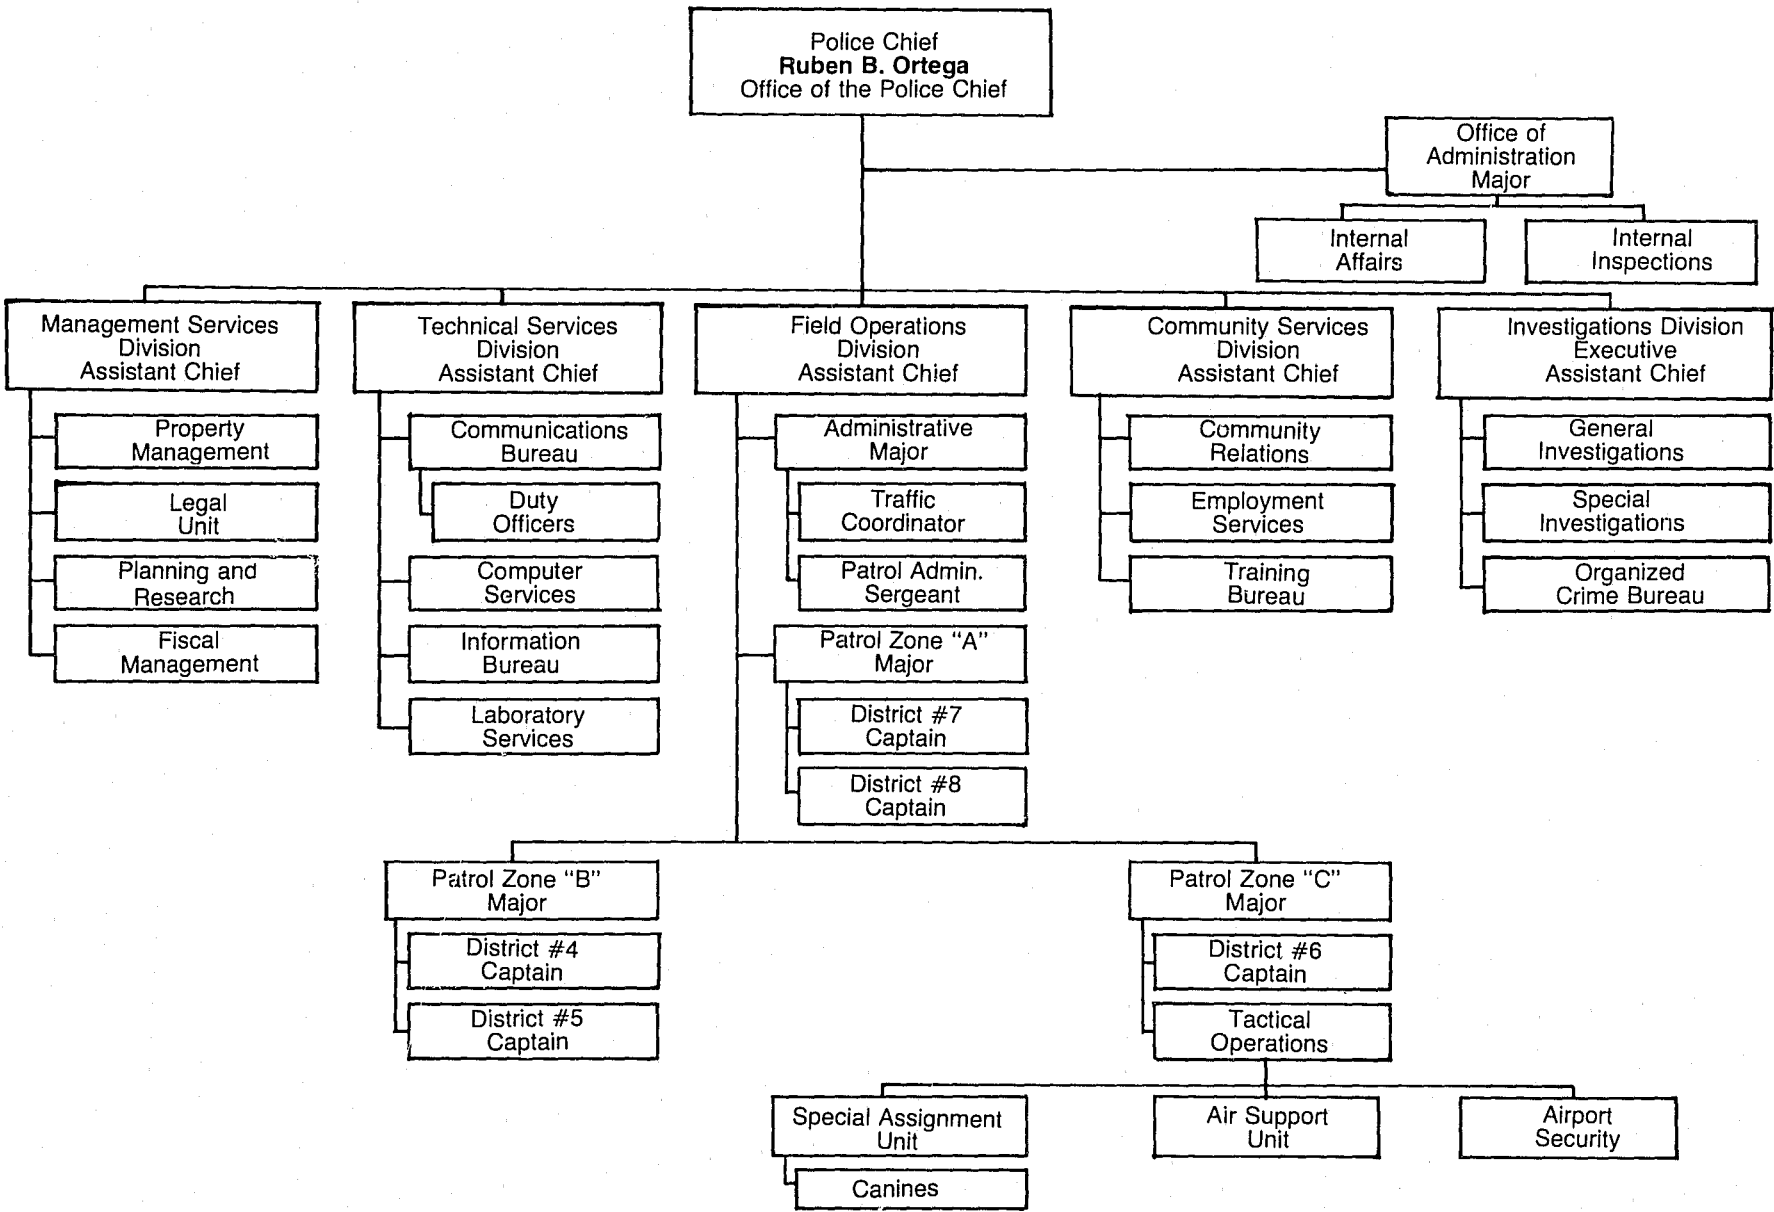

Phoenix, capital of the State of Arizona, derives its name from the legendary Phoenix bird, which lived for 500 years, perished in the flames of a funeral pyre and rose from the ashes youthful and strong to begin life again. So it is with Phoenix, the city, which was built on the remains of an ancient Hohokam Indian settlement and is today the ninth largest city in the United States. Phoenix has grown from a population of 65,000 and an area of ten square miles in 1940, to today's thriving metropolis of 807,316 people living in an area that encompasses 330.8 square miles.

This growth has resulted in an increase in demand for police services and a corresponding increase in Police Department strength from 173 employees in 1940, to 2,243 authorized employees (sworn and civilian) in 1981.

DISTRICT 4
South Mountain Station
Area: 84 Square Miles
Population: 102,486

Team Policing was implemented in District 4 on November 2, 1981. Team Policing gave patrol teams the opportunity to establish special details such as the South Central Avenue Walking Detail. The long-term goal of the detail is to enhance community trust by increasing positive personal contacts between members of the business community and police officers.

District 4 officers, in cooperation with community members, established the "South Phoenix Children's Fund." Both officers and community members gathered aluminum cans for resale. The profits from this program were used to purchase bicycles, toys and recreational equipment for needy children in the community.

During 1981, District 4's Crime Prevention Unit recovered $644,505 worth of stolen property and the district detectives recovered $990,714 worth of property, a total of $1,635,219.

DISTRICT 5

Sky Harbor Station
Area: 25 Square Miles
Population: 76,066

1981 was a year of innovation and transformation for District 5. The district was completely reorganized with the simultaneous implementation of both Team Policing and the 4-10 Program in July. Under the new programs, "on the street" manpower was increased by approximately 30% during peak hours of demands for service. As a result, response time has decreased and the district is a safer place to live and do business.

District 5 employs an aggressive Crime Resistance Unit. Crime resistance programs are presented by numerous team members within each geographic team area with great success.

KPNX-TV, Channel 12, and the Crime Resistance Unit of District 5 film weekly messages that are used six times a week during local newscasts. The segment is called, "It's Your Law Too."

During 1981, District 5 personnel answered 141,284 calls, made 15,382 arrests, investigated 6,444 accidents, wrote 53,359 traffic citations and 12,370 parking tickets, recovered 841 stolen vehicles, and trained 32 police Recruits.

DISTRICT 6

Union Hills Station
Area: 148 Square Miles
Population: 276,251

District 6 personnel have the responsibility for providing police services to the citizens of Phoenix who live north of Glendale Avenue. This area is one of the most rapidly expanding in terms of population.

In mid July, 1981, the Civilian Accident Investigator program was implemented in the district. Initially four civilian accident investigators were assigned. In the next few months, two additional investigators were assigned. During the past five months, the investigators have taken 36% of the district's accidents. This has allowed the patrol officers an additional 1,351 man hours to handle criminal matters.

The district's Call-Back program, initiated in 1980, has continued successfully, handling 16% of the district's calls for service. The district detectives have cleared 16% of the cases assigned. Burglaries are down 17%, thefts are down 13%, and traffic accidents down 2%.

DISTRICT 7
Squaw Peak Station
Area: 50 Square Miles
Population: 165,747

During the second year of Team Policing in District 7, citizen involvement and officer participation was emphasized. District officers, in conjunction with the Community Assist League, hosted a successful crime prevention conference at the Arizona Biltmore Hotel.

District 7 officers pioneered the "McGruff, Take A Bite Out Of Crime" campaign and it is now being utilized throughout all patrol districts to carry crime prevention techniques to the community.

The Community Assist League staff maintain a neighborhood hotline and also schedule Block Watch and other crime prevention programs for District 7.

DISTRICT 8
Maryvale Station
Area: 61 Square Miles
Population: 166,133

District 8 personnel have the responsibility for providing Neighborhood Team Policing to the west side of Phoenix.

District 8 vehicles were all equipped with mobile data terminals which have direct lines to the CAPRI, CAD, and DPS computer systems. Through the Department of Public Safety, officers can access ACIC and NCIC. Voice communication on the 800 radio frequency has been substantially reduced and there has been a considerable increase in warrant arrests.

District Community Service officers were assigned to the four high schools in Maryvale. The increased liaison with the schools in individual team areas provided assistance in reducing absenteeism, dropout rates, and violent campus situations. Officers also provided Police Assisting Youth In school programs in classrooms, workshops on gang identification and related problem solutions to faculties, community organizations, and parent-teacher groups.

During August, 1980, District 8 implemented a six-month experimental, voluntary physical fitness program. The main objective was to provide officers with a program that will systematically increase the functional fitness areas and maintain a moderate to low level of body fat.
