DEFINITION OF TERMS

JAIL------A facility operated by a unit of local government for the physical detention or confinement, for a period of one year or less, of persons charged with, or convicted of, criminal offenses.

LOCKUP------ A facility operated by a unit of local government for the physical detention or confinement, for a period of seventy-two hours or less, of persons charged with, or convicted of, criminal offenses.

HOLDING FACILITY------A facility operated by a unit of local government for the temporary physical detention of persons awaiting processing, booking, appearance before a court of competent jurisdiction, or discharge.

CAPACITY-----The bed space presently available.

RECOMMENDED CAPACITY----The bed space that should be available using a formula of fifty-two square feet of cell space per bed.

URGENT------A situation or hazard which presents an immediate threat to the health and safety of inmates or employees, or the potential for escape.

A GENERAL OVERVIEW OF THE STATUS OF LOCAL CONFINEMENT FACILITIES

As enumerated in K.S.A. 75-5228, three major responsibilities devolve upon the Secretary of Corrections as regard performance of the jail inspection function:

- The promulgation of advisory standards relating to the safety and sanitation of confinement and detention facilities;
- 2. The periodic inspection of confinement and detention facilities;
- 3. The presentation of evidence to local officials and judicial personnel that a particular facility within their jurisdiction needs major improvement or should be closed.

Responsibilities attendant to the program include on-site inspection of facilities; involving such basic areas as administration, facility construction, personnel, housekeeping, food service, medical care, emergency procedures, sanitation, safety, counseling, recreation, and programs. The program staff also investigates complaints referred by the Governor, the Attorney General, and others, concerning the operation of facilities and/or the treatment of inmates detained therein.

While not required to do so by statute, departmental staff have responded to the requests of local law enforcement offic als for assistance in training of local jail staff. It is anticipated that increasing attention to those demands will be required.

During calendar year 1978, considerable time was spent by the Jail Inspection staff coordinating and conducting joint inspections of local jail/detention facilities with the State Fire Marshal's Office and the State Department of Health and Environment. The Jail Inspection staff investigated numerous complaints concerning the operations of local jail/detention facilities and the treatment of inmates. Many hours were also devoted to providing technical assistance with respect to the custody, care, and treatment of inmates, including review and comment on plans for the construction and major modification or renovation of local jail/detention facilities. Data related to the inspection of local confinement facilities, the investigation of complaints, and the provision of technical assistance is presented in the succeeding text.

Inspection of Local Confinement Facilities

The Jail Inspection staff inspected a total of 122 operational jail/detention facilities during the calendar year 1978, in the 105 counties.

Of the 136 jail/detention facilities identified, only these 122 were operational, and 14 were either no longer in use, undergoing major renovation, or under new construction.

At the close of the calendar year 1978, there were 84 jails, 21 lockups, and 17 holding facilities operating within the 105 counties. Combined, these facilities confined an average of 8.6 individuals on any given day in 1978. The facilities range in age from 1 year to 92 years, with a mean age of 28.7 years.* Tabulation of average daily confinement by facility type, and distribution of facilities by age group are as follows on the succeeding page.

Tabulation of Average Daily Confinement by Facility Type

91 - 100 years	1	0	0	1

Of the 14 facilities reported by local officials as closed, all were monitored to substantiate that they were, indeed, no longer in use. All closed facilities have made arrangements with neighboring counties for housing of inmates.

The following tabulation reflects the most common deficiencies encountered in the 1978 jail inspection program. The table has been partitioned to selectively accommodate the three priority levels of corrective action recommended.

^{*}Facilities which confine, on average, less than 1 individual per day, and facilities where construction dates are either unknown or unclear, are not included in the above summary.

^{}Average daily confinement. Chart does not reflect facilities with an average of less than 1 individual confined per day.

INVESTIGATION OF COMPLAINTS

A total of 40 complaints related to the operation, staff, policies, procedures, and conditions of local confinement facilities were received by Jail Inspection staff during 1978. Complaints thus received were from a variety of sources, the most common being individual inmates and/or their friends and relatives. Of the 40 complaints received, 36, or 90%, were in letter form; and 4, or 10%, were received by phone. Although complaints covered a vast range of topics and subject areas, four major categories may be employed to describe the general character and substances of each complaint. A quantitative breakdown of complaints via category follows:

- 2. Safety and Security------ 10 or 25.0% (Complaints concerning the safety and security of both persons and personal property.)
- 3. Maintenance of Facility Order------ 4 or 10.0%

 (Complaints related to each facility's enforcement of its disciplinary procedure and maintenance of its daily routines for inmates behavior.)

All complaints were investigated by Jail Inspection staff, and determinations were made as to the validity and/or propriety of each complaint. Because of the number of facilities involved and the inability to locate many complainants for followup, it was often not possible to determine if the recommendations of Jail Inspection staff were followed completely. Nevertheless, an analysis of complaints as to their relative justification follows:

- 1. Fully Warranted Complaint------ 9 or 22.5%

 (Complaints in this category were adjudged totally justified upon investigation; and appropriate recommendations were made to authorities on the local, state, and in some cases, the national level.)

- 4. Required Facilitation of Communication----- 3 or 7.5%

 (Investigations of some complaints merely revealed an apparent lack of mutual understanding. In these cases, Jail Inspection staff attempted to arrange for improved communication between the complainant and the relevant party or parties.)

4. Unfounded----- 16 or 40.0%

(Complaints which, upon investigation, were found to be unsubstantiated, or those which were facially frivolous in nature, are included in this category. Notwithstanding this determination, the complainants were advised in writing of the assessment made, and of the factors involved in arriving at the conclusions drawn.)

Technical Assistance Provided

Numerous meetings were conducted with local law enforcement officials, architects, and criminal justice planners, etc., during 1978. A total of 166 contacts of this nature were made by jail inspection staff during the course of the year. A summary of the type of meetings held between Jail Inspection staff and representatives of various local and state agencies is as follows:

- 5. Meetings with criminal justice planners and architects----- 60
