A New Orleans judge has ordered a court reporter to spend seven days in Parish Prison for failing to turn in transcripts of court proceedings on time.

Justice Dixon named outstanding alumnus by Tulane's law school. State Supreme Court Chief Justice John A. Dixon, formerly of Shreveport, has been named outstanding alumnus of the year by Tulane University School of Law.

Judicial Council Reorganization Committee Appointed. Combe, Jr., immediate past president of the Association, has been appointed to chair a special committee to study the court's reorganization.

Citizen's seminar on crime planned. Donald G. Bollinger, secretary of the Louisiana Department of Public Safety, will speak at the Citizen's Forum on Crime and Injustice scheduled here for Nov. 16. Also speaking will be former U.S. Attorney Don Beckner.

Court Reporter Pool in Full Scale Operation. During the 1981 session, the Louisiana Legislature appropriated funds for the creation of a pool of court reporters to be supervised by the Louisiana Supreme Court. The pool is designed to assist overburdened court reporters who have fallen behind in the production of transcripts of appealed cases.

Court of Appeal Judges Serve on Supreme Court. Six Court of Appeal judges have already served on the Louisiana Supreme Court to hear criminal cases. Before the Courts of Appeal judges were familiarized themselves with appellate procedure.

No compromise seen on law clerks bill. The Louisiana Supreme Court has appointed Paul B. Landry Jr. of Port Allen, La., as its law clerk for the 1981-82 term. Landry served temporarily as a district judge here before working in a civil section in 1980.

Murret Heads National Court Administrators Group. Eugene J. Murret, judicial administrator for the Louisiana Supreme Court, will be chairman of the Conference of State Court Administrators for 1981-82.

To the Members of the Supreme Court of Louisiana
 To the Members of the Board of Governors of the Louisiana State Bar Association

Sirs:

This is the "complete detailed report" which the Judicial Council is required to make to the Supreme Court and the Board of Governors of the Bar Association. The statistical report demonstrates a year of increased activity at every level of the judiciary.

Included in this report is a detailed summary of the Judicial Council, the Judicial Administrator, the Louisiana Law Library, the Judiciary Commission and the Judicial College.

We enter the year 1982 as we entered 1981, with hope of gaining greater participation from judges in planning for the future improvement of the judicial system of the State of Louisiana. For that purpose, this report of the past year's work is submitted.

Sincerely,

 John A. Dixon, Jr.

THE JUDICIAL COUNCIL

New judgeships; new committees; legislation for court personnel; incorporation of the Judicial Planning Committee (JPC); a joint legislative committee to study court financing; and a proposed plan for its own reorganization were the result of the recommendations and actions of the Louisiana Judicial Council in 1981.

Six new judgeships are created . . .

Following the recommendations of the Judicial Council, the 1981 Louisiana State Legislature created six new judgeships: one each for the 22nd. Judicial District (St. Tammany and Washington Parishes); the 16th. Judicial District (Iberia, St. Martin and St. Mary Parishes); the 29th. Judicial District (St. Charles and St. John Parishes); and two for the 24th. Judicial District (Jefferson Parish). The Legislature split the 20th. Judicial District (E. and W. Feliciana) creating the 40th. Judicial District to be composed of West Feliciana Parish. One new judgeship was created for the 40th. Judicial District. The split was subject to referendum by the people of the district and was defeated in West Feliciana Parish. However, at the special session of the Legislature, an additional judgeship was created for the 20th. Judicial District.

All recommendations of the council relative to new judgeships were made after investigation by the office of the Judicial Administrator and evaluation by the Committee to Evaluate Requests for New Judgeships, chaired by Judge Thomas Tanner.

Council Committee appointed . . . Joint Legislative Study Committee formed . . .

In other action, the Council approved a motion to appoint a study committee to develop a policy on the creation of Parish Courts. Judge Hillary Crain was appointed Chairman of the committee. It is expected that the committee will issue a report in 1982.

Noting that local government and local court funds are not adequate to support the operations of the district courts (which are really state courts, and not local courts), the Judicial Council passed a proposal that a joint legislative study committee be created to study the financing of the state's courts. This committee meets prior to the next regular session of the legislature.

The Council approved a request that Clerks of the Courts of Appeal be paid from court funds rather than have their salaries fixed by the Legislature. This was not introduced during the legislative session. A request to seek funding from the legislature for a law clerk and traffic referee for Jefferson Juvenile Court was approved by the Council but was not successful in Baton Rouge. The traffic referee proposal passed the Legislature but was vetoed by the Governor and the proposed funding for the law clerk was defeated in the Legislature. Both have been funded on a local basis since 1974.

Other Judicial council action . . .

The Judicial Planning Committee which has been designated as a special committee of the Judicial Council has revitalized some of its subcommittees and discontinued others.

Judicial Council reorganization committee reports . . .

The Judicial Council accepted the report of the Committee to Study and Make Recommendations with Respect to A Reorganization of the Judicial Council, chaired by Mr. John Combe, Jr. In summary the committee recommended as follows: 1) The size of the Judicial Council be reduced from 17 to 11 members. 2) The new Council should consist of the Chief Justice, one other member of the Supreme Court, one Court of Appeal judge, 2 District Court judges, 1 City Court judge, 1 Juvenile Court judge, 2 lawyers and 2 laymen - the judges to be elected by their courts or associations, the lawyers by the Bar Association with the recommendation that one lawyer be from a parish with a population of over 100,000 and the two laymen be selected by the Chief Justice from nominees submitted by the Louisiana Press Association, the Council for a Better Louisiana, the Public Affairs Research Council and the League of Women Voters. 3) The Chief Justice shall act as Chairman of the Judicial Council. 4) The new Council shall make active use of broad based ad hoc subcommittees. 5) A special advisory committee to the Judicial Council shall be formed consisting of one member of the House of Representatives, one member of the Senate, a representative of the District Attorneys Association, a representative of the Clerks of Court Association, the Attorney General or his representative and a representative of the Sheriff's Association and that this committee meet with the Judicial Council at least twice a year. 6) Request of the Legislature appropriation of funds for the Council's increased activities.

On behalf of the Louisiana District Judges Association, Judge Richard Gauthier, President of the Association, filed a dissenting report stating that it was a serious mistake to remove the legislators from the Judicial Council and urging that the legislators be retained on the Council.

The Council will consider the reports and determine its course of action during 1982.

The Judicial Council of the Supreme Court of Louisiana was established in 1950 and received its first funding by the state legislature in 1954. Its task is to evaluate and monitor the operations and procedures of the judicial system of the state. In this capacity, it serves as a clearinghouse for ideas for simplifying and expediting judicial procedures and/or correcting shortcomings in the system.

Transfer of criminal appellate jurisdiction nears . . . no reduction in Supreme Court work load seen before 1984 . . .

July 1, 1982, marks the official transfer of criminal appellate jurisdiction from the Supreme Court to the Courts of Appeal. However, the transition will not be instantaneous. Cases in which the order of appeal was granted prior to July 1 will be lodged in the Supreme Court; cases in which the order of appeal is granted after July 1 will be lodged in the Courts of Appeal.

Given the time required for the preparation of transcripts and records for criminal appeals, it is anticipated that filings of criminal appeals in the Supreme Court will not diminish for quite sometime. Because of the Supreme Court's anticipated pending case load on June 30 and based upon projections for filings in the next two years, staff analysis indicated that the actual overall work load of the Supreme Court will not diminish noticeably until mid 1984.

Court of Appeal reporting system (CARS) tracks appeals . . .

CARS tracks appeals from the filing of the motion for appeal until the appeal is decided in the court of appeal. Once a month, the chief judges and clerks of the courts of appeal receive a year-to-date report on their court's workload. This report lists: number of appeals pending in the circuits; number of appeals granted in the circuit and the parishes where these appeals were granted; number lodged in the circuit and average time span from granting of motion for appeal to lodging of appeal; number of appeals disposed of before argument; number of appeals disposed of after argument and average time span from lodging of appeal to disposition in courts of appeal; number of appeals granted in the circuit but neither lodged nor disposed of before lodging (i.e., pipeline cases); number of delinquent appeals in the circuit (i.e., appeals whose return date has passed and which have not received an extended return date), case names and numbers of these appeals, court reporters responsible, and return dates of these appeals.

At this time, we are developing plans to incorporate into CARS the criminal caseload of the courts of appeal once the transfer of jurisdiction has occurred.

Court Reporter Pool in full operation . . .

The Court Reporter Pool supervised by the Supreme Court now consists of court reporters hired in cities spread across the state (Shreveport, Alexandria, Trout, Lafayette, and metropolitan New Orleans). The size of the court reporter pool has been increased gradually as patterns of need for their services has emerged.

The Judicial Administrator's Office uses CARS data to track appeals to the Courts of Appeal from the filing of the notice of appeal to the filing of the appeal in the circuit court. Similarly, the Office collects data from the Supreme Court records to track criminal appeals from the filing of the notice of appeal to the filing of the appeal in the Supreme Court. In both civil and criminal cases, the Office keeps track of where the appeal is coming from and who the court reporter is who is responsible for producing the transcripts. The above data allows us to pinpoint those reporters who are overloaded, those appeals which are delinquent, and to take remedial steps.

During 1981, 84 assignments were made of personnel from the court reporter pool. These assignments ranged from one day to six months. The majority of assignments were made in response to calls from judges whose court reporters has become overworked and were falling behind in the production of their transcripts. However, in some cases, this office took the initiative by calling court reporters who were seriously behind, and offered assistance. After an assignment, the court requesting the assignment is sent an evaluation sheet. To date, the evaluations of the performance of pool court reporters have been excellent.

For more information about the court reporter pool and to request the assignment of a court reporter, call the Chief Deputy Judicial Administrator, Dr. Hugh M. Collins, at 504/568-5747.

Supreme Court automation activities . . .

In 1981, the Louisiana Supreme Court took a step forward in automation and court technology. Writs and appeals heard by the Justices of the Court are now prepared on word processing equipment. The Clerk of the Louisiana Supreme Court is in the process of computerizing his entire records intake procedure and all functions associated with his records management systems. The Judicial Administrator's Office is redesigning its records and statistical systems relative to the work of the Courts of Appeal and the City and Parish Courts. Also, enhancements to the Courts of Appeal system (CARS) to include criminal jurisdiction are currently being made. The financial system operated by the Judicial Administrator's Office is being redesigned to incorporate present needs not handled by the current system.

Louisiana Court Administrators form association . . .

For the first time, the Court Administrators of Louisiana have joined together to form an organization. The group, consisting of 23 members statewide met three times during 1981. The Louisiana Court Administrators Association, as it is named, formulated a statement of purpose and elected a permanent Chairman.

The purpose of the Association is to encourage communication among the court administrators and to afford a forum for continued education.

Robert Tyler, Court Administrator of the 22nd Judicial District Court was elected Chairman and Deputy Judicial Administrator Paulette Holahan, who served as temporary Chairman prior to Tyler's election, will serve as secretary.

STATE BUDGET Fiscal Year 1981 - 1982

The Judicial Planning Committee

JPC Merges with judicial council . . .

The Judicial Planning Committee of the Louisiana Supreme Court, chaired by Associate Justice James L. Dennis, has merged with the Judicial Council of the Supreme Court and is now a special committee of the Council.

Its first task in this new circumstance was to lend staff assistance to the appointed committee, chaired by New Orleans Attorney John Combe, Jr., to make recommendations for the reorganization of the Council itself. This committee completed its work. The report was duly submitted to the Judicial Council and is presently under consideration by that group.

JPC takes inventory . . . retains some committees, discontinues others, forms new ones . . .

In addition to this activity, the JPC took inventory of its own functions and subcommittees determining what the Committee should properly retain and what might better be relinquished to the Council as a whole or be discontinued altogether.

In evaluating its own operations, the JPC used criteria based largely on the results of its annual Problem and Needs Survey of the judges and clerks of the state.

Noting that the ongoing need for adequate funding for equipment, facilities and personnel and a growing concern on the part of the judiciary for the deterioration of the public's opinion of the courts (this coincides with a concern for jury selection and management) emerged from the survey as major priorities, JPC made the following changes in its composition.

It was determined that the Funding and Facilities Subcommittee should continue. Increased funding for the courts will be sought and a joint committee of the Legislature will undertake a study of court financing as a result of the report and study already conducted by the Funding and Facilities Subcommittee which is chaired by Judge Guy Humphries.

The committee turned its attention to two subcommittees which had been created because of the JPC's participation in the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA) program, the Steering and the Priorities Subcommittees. It was agreed that the Steering Subcommittee would continue to review applications for $2.5 which had been appropriated by the state for The Louisiana Commission on Law Enforcement (LCLE). It was agreed, however, that the Priorities Subcommittee now serves no function and it was discontinued.

Next, the JPC considered the function of the Public Information Subcommittee. It was decided that the Delay Reduction Subcommittee and the Public Information Subcommittee should be merged to form a new subcommittee called Courts/Community Relations. This subcommittee will have three charges. First, to continue the work of the Public Information Subcommittee. Second, to develop jury management demonstration projects and third, to identify those problems which were causing the public to lose respect for the courts. Bogalusa attorney Richard Knight was appointed Chairman of this subcommittee.

Considering the enormous advances in technology and the trend toward computerization, it was determined that the Science and Technology Committee will be retained and enlarged. Judge Hillary Crain is Chairman.

When considering the Juvenile Facilities Subcommittee, the JPC was forced to acknowledge that while the lack of juvenile facilities in the state was an extremely important problem, it was one that more properly and realistically was within the purview of the executive branch of the government and the committee voted to abolish this subcommittee. A Juvenile Courts Subcommittee was established. Judge Sal Mule will serve as chairman. It was also decided to discontinue the Sentencing Subcommittee. However, requests will be made of the Judicial College that its board consider holding seminars on sentencing.

Long range planning subcommittee plans major initiative in the area of appellate caseload . . .

Judge Patrick M. Schott, Chairman of the Long-Range Planning Subcommittee--which will be retained--reported that the subcommittee plans a major initiative in the area of appellate caseload and recommended that the Court Reporting Subcommittee be combined with the Long-Range Planning Subcommittee. It was also noted that the Long-Range Planning Subcommittee is still studying the pros and cons of merit selection of judges.

The JPC staff will participate in the study of the staffing levels needed by the Supreme Court following the transfer of criminal appellate jurisdiction (effective July 1, 1982).

Still active and with a history of outstanding success as a catalyst causing needed planning for and changes in the court system of the state the JPC has become a part of the Judicial Council.

LOUISIANA JUDICIAL COLLEGE 1981 ANNUAL REPORT

Continuing Judicial education has been the focus of the Louisiana Judicial College throughout 1981. Seminars and meetings sponsored by the College were designed for the Louisiana judiciary and related judicial staff.

A seminar on comparative negligence held in Baton Rouge early in the year included on the faculty New Orleans attorney Samuel Gainsburgh; David W. Robertson, a former Baker and Botts Professor of Law at the University of Texas Law School and Professors H. Alston Johnson, III and Frank L. Maraist of the LSU Law Center Faculty.

The Louisiana Judicial College also co-sponsored, with the Judicial College, the Annual Spring and Fall meetings of the Louisiana Juvenile Court Judges Association, the Louisiana City Court Judges Association, the Louisiana Conference of Court of Appeal Judges and the Louisiana District Judges Association.

Another meeting offered solely by the Judicial College was the Law Clerks Seminar. Held annually for clerks of the Louisiana Courts of Appeal, the meeting was opened for the first time to clerks of the Louisiana District Courts.

In addition to seminars and meetings, the Judicial College is in the process of revising the Louisiana Judges' Bench Book. In consultation with Professors Cheney C. Joseph and P. Raymond Lamonica, the members of the Bench Book Advisory Committee, chaired by Judge Hillary J. Crain, approved revisions which will be included in the next printing of the Jury Instruction and Criminal Proceedings volumes. Printing and distribution of these revisions is scheduled for 1982.

The Bench Book Project was originally funded under a grant from the Louisiana Commission on Law Enforcement (LCLE), but is presently funded totally by state funds through the Judicial College budget.

Research on Rules of Evidence for publication of an Evidence Manual was also begun with funding from a small LCLE grant. Funding was insufficient to complete the task and efforts will be made to revive the project in the next fiscal year.

Professor Francis C. Sullivan, the first Executive Director of the Louisiana Judicial College, resigned this position on June 30, 1981. Professor Sullivan, who is a full-time faculty member of the LSU Law Center, is currently serving at the University of San Diego Law School as a Distinguished Professor of Law for the 1981-82 academic year.

Succeeding Prof. Sullivan as Executive Director of the College is Professor Winston R. Day, also a full-time faculty member at the LSU Law Center.

Professor Day served as the Dean of the Law School from 1978 to 1980, during its transition to separate campus status as the LSU Law Center.

As is always the case, the Judicial College ended the year by beginning work on seminars and meetings for the coming year.

The report was prepared by Nancy Miller, Louisiana Judicial College Staff.

THE BOARD OF GOVERNORS OF THE LOUISIANA JUDICIAL COLLEGE

The Judges serving on the board are:

Justice Harry T. Lemmon, New Orleans, Louisiana, Chairman
Honorable E. L. Guidry, Jr., St. Martinville, Louisiana
Honorable C. William Roberts, Baton Rouge, Louisiana

THE JUDICIARY COMMISSION OF LOUISIANA 1981 ANNUAL REPORT

Forty-eight matters were referred to the Commission during the year, and sixteen were pending at the beginning of the year. Of those sixty-four matters, thirteen are pending as of the close of 1981. The other fifty-one were either closed without action or otherwise resolved to the satisfaction of the Commission. Twelve formal investigations were ordered and conducted. Two formal hearings were held, one of which resulted in a voluntary resignation from office at the start of the hearing, and the other of which resulted in a recommendation to the Supreme Court which ordered a 90-day suspension without pay. In the latter case, prior to the scheduled date of a contempt hearing for alleged violations of the suspension order, the judge voluntarily resigned.

The Judiciary Commission, was created by constitutional amendment adopted November 5, 1968. By that amendment (Article IX, Section 4, Constitution of 1921), the Commission was composed of seven members—four judges, two attorneys, and one lay citizen. The Judicial Administrator was the Chief Executive Officer.

That Article provided that "a justice or judge may be removed from office or retired involuntarily for willful misconduct relating to his official duty or willful or persistent failure to perform his duty, or habitual intemperance, or for conviction, while in office, of a felony". It also provided that "a justice or judge may be retired involuntarily for disability that seriously interferes with the performance of his duties and that is, or is likely to become, of a permanent character".

Article V, Section 25, Constitution of 1974, continues the Judiciary Commission as a constitutional body with the same purposes and procedures but with changes in membership and additional disciplinary powers. The membership is now nine persons: three judges appointed by the Supreme Court; three attorneys appointed by the Conference of Court of Appeal Judges; and three lay persons appointed by the Louisiana District Judges Association.

The Judicial Administrator remains the Chief Executive Officer, however, this is now provided for by Supreme Court rule under the court's authority to make rules implementing the constitutional provision.

The powers of the Commission now include to recommend, in addition to removal and involuntary retirement, censure, and suspensions with or without salary. Additional causes for disciplinary action are: persistent and public conduct prejudicial to the administration of justice that brings the judicial office into desrepute, and conduct while in office which would constitute a felony. All other matters originally provided remain the same.

Actions are pursued as a result of a complaint or on the Commission's own motion, by investigation, adversary hearings and recommendation to the Supreme Court. All Commission proceedings, evidence and documents filed with the Commission, are confidential. Proceedings before the Supreme Court on recommendations of the Commission are not confidential.

Editor's Note: Complaints may be made to the officer of the Chief Executive Officer of the Commission, Eugene J. Murret, 109 Supreme Court Building, New Orleans, Louisiana 70112, Tel: (504) 568-5741.

LAW LIBRARY OF LOUISIANA

A report by Carol Billings, Head Librarian

1981 was a year of significant change for the Law Library of Louisiana. Miss Harriet Lemann, who served the library faithfully for ten years, retired at the end of March. The Supreme Court and the library staff feted her with a reception in the Conference Room, attended by more than 100 friends, colleagues and family members. On April 1, Carol Billings, who had held the positions of cataloger and then reference librarian since 1976, became the new director. Patsy Brautigam was chosen from a large field of applicants to take over the reference and documents librarian's responsibilities.

Mrs. Brautigam exemplifies the law library's attitude toward service. Although we exist first and foremost to answer the legal research needs of the Supreme Court of Louisiana, we are also eager to assist every judge, attorney and private citizen who comes to us or calls us for information. We do not confine our research within the walls of our own library. It is common practice for us to call city, state and federal agencies to track down publications and clarify information. We often refer our patrons to another appropriate library in the city or borrow books or microfilm on interlibrary loan for them to use. If we were to place a motto over the library's entrance, it could appropriately be, "Nothing is too much trouble."

Perhaps the most exciting development for the library during 1981 was our initiation into the computer age. In March the library's computer terminal was installed to enable us to use the OCLC automated cataloging system as part of the Southeastern Library Network (SOLINET). After a short training period, Sarah Churney, our cataloging librarian, and her assistant, D. D. Thompson, began to use the automated system exclusively, to provide the information necessary to catalog books and periodicals, as well as to produce cards for the library's card catalog.

The system has proven to be very efficient. About 95% of materials to be cataloged were found in the computer data base, which consists of cataloging records input by over 1800 member libraries. Besides processing all new materials, we have been able to catalog about 600 older titles which were part of a long-standing backlog. These included many of the state reports and treaties and almost all of a large number of periodicals that had never been fully cataloged. In the first nine months of operation 885 titles have been cataloged using the system. The system has also worked well in obtaining books, which our patrons need, from other libraries, a function provided by the OCLC interlibrary loan network. If the book or journal requested is not in our collection, we are able to find out which libraries in the network own the title and ask to borrow a copy, all via the computer terminal.

Computers are very much on the minds of law librarians these days. In June Director Carol Billings attended a week-long institute concerned with computer applications for law libraries sponsored by the American Association of Law Libraries at the University of Virginia Law School. Sessions at the association's convention in Washington also concentrated heavily upon the new technology. In the new year the library hopes to initiate a computerized legal research service for Louisiana's district judges. Our budget request proposes the addition to our staff of an attorney/librarian who would receive telephone requests from the judges and then carry out the research using a Westlaw computer terminal and the library's collection.

Another major accomplishment of 1981 was that we found out how large our collection really is. Two young students worked during the summer to count the entire collection. The grand total was 103,000 volumes in paper and an additional 3,000 equivalent volumes in microfilm. Since completion of the inventory, more than 1,000 additional volumes have been added. In July we began recording the number of books and periodicals received each day so that monthly and annual statistics can be compiled. These should be most helpful in the future in the preparation of budget requests, projections of growth, and estimates of space requirements.

The single most notable acquisition by the library this year was the British Statutes in Force. Compiled between 1972 and 1980, this monumental loose-leaf set contains the actual text of each statute, many of which are centuries old, in a code arrangement. Regular supplementation will keep the work current. The library also received on a depository basis approximately 200 different titles published by the Government Printing Office that are important to legal research. During 1981 Congressional hearings were added and, the collection of bills and resolutions grew significantly.

Early fall was budget-preparation time, and once again, in an attempt to bring the library's staff's salaries in line with others in the Supreme Court and with law librarians in other states, the director submitted a systematic salary plan based on defined ranges for each staff position. A survey of eleven other state law libraries which operate under such plans provided the groundwork for the proposal. Implementation of the plan would correct an unsatisfactory situation of long standing.

Finally, during 1981 the library staff began the practice of writing a brief column for each Louisiana Judicial Newsletter about various aspects of our collection and service—interesting acquisitions, "oldies but goodies," technological innovations, etc. We look forward to continuing through this medium of communication to inform the Louisiana judiciary of our assets and needs in order to serve them better.

STATISICAL APPENDIX

INTRODUCTION TO STATISTICAL SECTION

The statistical information in this section was compiled from data submitted to the Judicial Administrator's Office by the various courts of Louisiana during calendar year 1981.

During the last ten years, total filings in the Supreme Court have increased by 205%. In 1981, a record 3,555 matters were filed, an increase of 6% over 1980. In 1980, a record 661 appeals were filed. In 1981, 817 appeals were filed surpassing the 1980 total by 24%. A similar growth in the number of writs filed has caused the court's workload to rise to 508 filings per justice in 1981.

In the Louisiana Courts of Appeal, total filings were 3,469, an increase of 45% during the last decade. During 1981, 2,426 appeals were filed, an increase of 9 appeals over the 1980 filings. There were 452 writs filed during 1981, a decrease of 4 writs from the level of 1980.

The past decade has witnessed a 109% increase in filings in the District Courts of Louisiana. The 1981 filings were 283,475 greater than the filings in 1972. While 79% of this growth resulted from increased criminal filings, there has also been a significant increase in civil filings from 97,970 in 1972 to 157,977 in 1981. Total 1981 filings were 14% higher than the 1980 filings and represent a record workload for the district courts. In addition to the increase in filings, the courts continued to experience a dramatic increase in the number of jury trials. During 1981, there were 689 civil jury trials and 1,073 criminal jury trials in the district courts.

In 1981, filings in Louisiana City and Parish Courts continued to grow. The 1981 filings were 3% greater than in 1980 and 37% greater than 1975. As in past years, the bulk of these filings (467,506) were traffic related. However, the city and parish courts also received a total of 240,999 filings in the area of civil cases, juvenile cases and criminal (non traffic) cases.
